Half-Inch Rain Helped Wheat

A half-inch of rain early Wednesday morning was welcomed by farmers and ranchers over a large area of North Texas and Southern Oklahoma. The amount of rain varied from one-half inch to close to one inch.

Wheat, which had received only a few tenths rain since it was planted last fall, has responded well to the Wednesday shower. In some areas, early wheat appears to have thrown in the towel. Some of the later wheat gives promise of a fair return—IF everything goes well between now and harvest.

Every dollar helps to advance the American Cancer Society towards its goal of victory over this grim disease. You can fight cancer, too, by making sure every member of your family has an annual health checkup. Guard your family. Fight cancer with a checkup and a check!"

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

APRIL is a time of meaning for all of us—of hope for those who have cancer—of gratitude for those who have been cured—of sober foresight for those whom cancer may strike.

APRIL is a time of concern, of concentrated concern, for we must always be concerned about a disease—that strikes in two out of every three homes—that kills 4,000 children every year, between one and 14—that kills 255,000 Americans every year, 75,000 of them needlessly.

APRIL is a time for opening the mind and saving those wasted lives—for discarding superstitions about cancer, and unreasoning fears—for learning the facts, including the Seven Danger Signals—for finding courage, borne of hope and knowledge, to act in time.

APRIL is a time to act—to make that date for a health checkup—to guard your family and to give yourself maximum protection, should cancer strike.

APRIL is a time to join the Cancer Crusade—to support the educational program that is saving lives—to provide every dedicated and talented scientist with the tools to find the answers to cancer and save lives forever after.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

WICHITA, KANSAS, THE DEMOCRAT: "One explanation advanced for the mushrooming growth of governmental expenditures is that such are required because of the tremendous rate of growth of population. The Tax Foundation, Inc., recently came forth with findings which pretty well belie the explanation. In the past 20 years, says the Foundation, U. S. population has increased by some 33 percent, but the cost of government, federal, state and local, has increased almost 600 percent."

LEAVENWORTH, WASHINGTON, ECHO: Some people have made an art of being slow to pick up the check. You've really got to hand it to them."

BOSTON, MASS., JEWISH ADVOCATE: "President Eisenhower, in a noteworthy civil rights program presented to the Congress, called for the adoption of legislation that would increase the power of the FBI in the bombings of synagogues, churches and schools. His proposal would make it a Federal offense to flee from one state to another to avoid detention or prosecution arising from such bombings. This legislation is badly needed, because as the President pointed out, though state authorities have been diligent in dealing with these crimes under local laws, Federal assistance, bringing to bear all the fine paragonalia and expert personnel of the FBI, can be a great supplementary force for local authorities."

STANLEY, WISCONSIN, REPUBLICAN: "Here is how Abraham Lincoln described the free enterprise system in his first annual message to Congress, in 1861:

"The prudent, penniless beginner labors for wages a while, saves a surplus with which to buy tools or land for himself, then labors on his own account another while and at length hires another beginner to help him.

"This is the just and generous and prosperous system which opens the way to all, gives hope to all and consequently energy and progress and improvement of conditions to all."

Depletion And Depreciation

Another attack is underway against the percentage depletion allowance which has long been given oil producers—but not refiners, transporters or other elements within the industry. The allowance is 27 1/2% and amounts to a credit against federal income tax.

This allowance, it should be noted, was established by Congress only after many other devices had been tried and proven unworkable. It is defined by the Internal Revenue Service in these words: "Depletion is to the owner of an economic interest in mineral deposits, what depreciation is to the owner of a depreciable asset." In short, it helps to compensate for the fact that oil wells wear out and must be replaced—at heavy cost and great financial risk.

What has been the practical effect of depletion? A top official of a leading oil company says: "Percentage depletion provides a steady incentive that maintains our crude oil reserves and productive capacity at high levels and at a reasonable price for crude. Production has been increased to meet growing demand, while prices for crude oil and refined products have remained generally lower than they would have been without percentage depletion."

Depletion, in sum, has been a major element in making it possible to provide us with almost unbelievably large supplies of oil products, even while maintaining huge reserves for the future. If we want to change this situation, and risk a major oil shortage, getting rid of depletion would be a sure way to go about it.

Heavy, Heavy Over Our Head

After more than two years of congressional investigation and exposure, the peril of corrupt and excessive labor union power still hangs over the head of America.

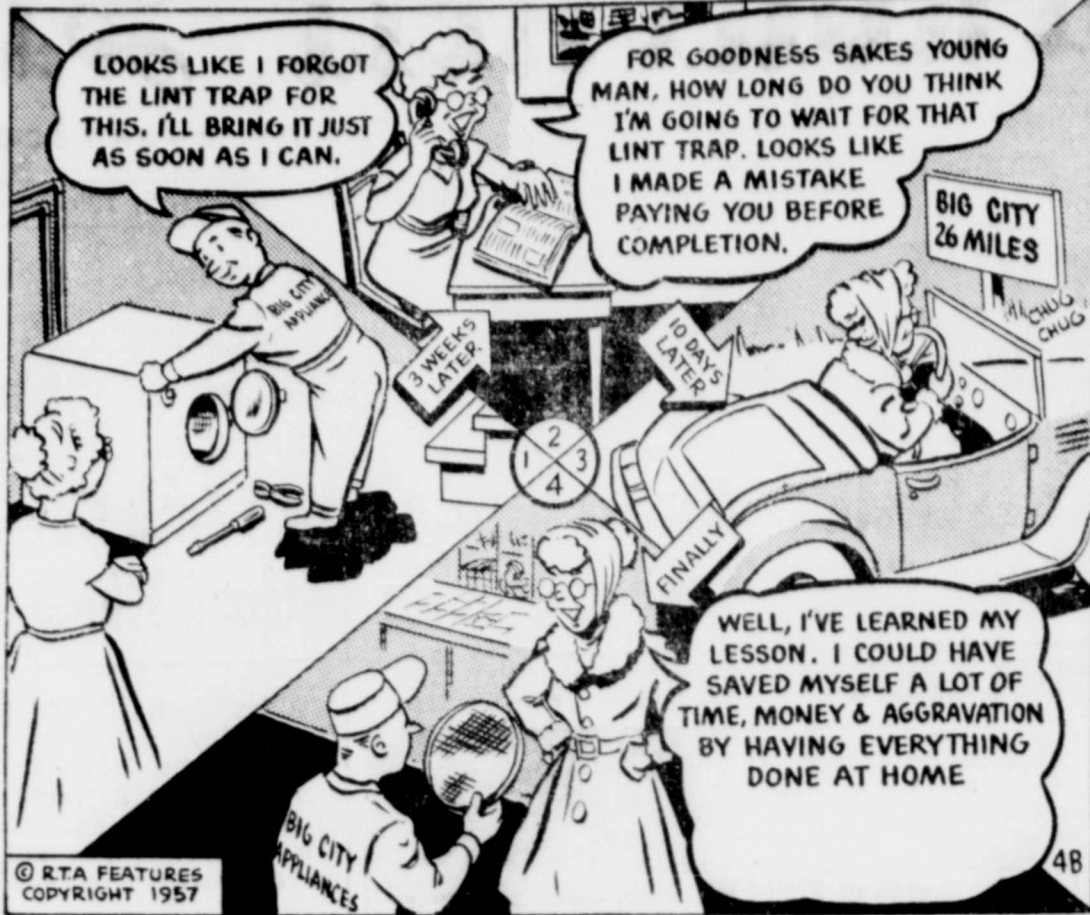

When is Congress going to do something about it? and what? Several labor bills are before Congress now. Most of them, if not all, are too weak to do what needs to be done. No labor law will be adequate which allows unions to force free Americans into compulsory union membership; to deny members a free voice in running their union; to spend union dues without members consent for political activities aimed at forcing the views of union leaders on the whole United States. No law will be adequate as long as it permits unions to use the secondary boycott against employers, or to hold power to cripple the nation by closing down entire industries.

Misuse of union power endangers three groups—union members, business and the public. Congress should refuse to accept any labor legislation which offers less than full and equal protection for all three groups.

Farm Surplus Answer

The widely publicized programs for dealing with the agricultural surplus problem are generally political programs. No matter how greatly they may differ in their provisions, they invariably involve the spending of billions of tax money.

A good many variants of such programs have been tried. All, it can be fairly said, have been flat failures. The surpluses and the cost of subsidizing those surpluses have reached stupefying proportions.

Yet there is a sensible, non-political way in which the American farmer can greatly help to reduce the surpluses, and a number of agricultural experts have advocated it. It lies in expanded livestock production. Homer Davison, president of the American Meat Institute, puts the case in these clear words: "An expanding animal agriculture is the best way to attack so called commodity over-production. If 10 percent of the farm land currently producing food and fibre crops were diverted to raising meat animals or producing feed for livestock, we would reduce our surplus enough to bring production into balance with consumption."

Then Mr. Davison made an additional important point: "The perishable nature of meat makes it a commodity which defies controlled production. The free market price is probably the only practical instrument that can be used successfully to balance production with consumption and be fair to both producer and consumer."

To this can be added the fact that people like meat, are consuming more of it, and will consume still more in the future if it is available. The case for an expanding animal agriculture is an overwhelming one.

News From The Congress

Everyone who lives along the Red River has no doubt, long realized that there are millions of acre feet of water flowing into the Gulf unused each year. One of the main reasons for this lack of utilization is the quality of water that is found in the Red River and its tributaries. The recent great drought clearly demonstrated that when we need water the most, its quality is at its worst. The Wichita River System is a classic example of the quality of water that goes into the Red River. In the upper reaches of the Wichita River, water of excellent quality is found. As the Wichita moves toward the Red River through areas of salt springs and salt water seepage, its chloride content increases sharply and is far above acceptable standards as it reaches Lake Kemp. Below Lake Kemp and Diversion Lake, the Wichita River picks up additional chloride before it reaches the City of Wichita Falls. Practically all of the mineral pollution of Lake Kemp is from natural sources. By the time the Wichita reaches the Red River, it is contaminated to the point that it dumps over 1100 tons of salt each day into the waters of the Red River.

The Public Health Service has initiated an investigation of the causes, extent, and possible control measures that can be taken to prevent this kind of pollution of our water supply. This project began unpretentiously and unnoticed; however, it is now apparent that it is no ordinary or routine investigation of the pollution of our interstate streams, but may, by finding a way to control the quality of water in our streams, offer an answer to one of our most vexing problems.

The week the world famous cherry blossoms are in full bloom, it is expected that nearly a million tourists will visit Washington to see them.

Mr. Luke Grace and family of Wichita Falls were Washington visitors this week. Miss Besty Ferguson of Seymour, who is attending Stephens College in Missouri, also visited here this week.

Many a failure can be attributed to the fact that a man keeps too big an account with bad luck in his mental bookkeeping.

YOU ARE INVITED

TO THE PEOPLE OF BURKBURNETT:

Thank you for the vote of confidence as expressed by a good majority of the voters Tuesday in approving the agreement for the purchase of the City light plant and electric system and approval of the franchise. We shall always endeavor to handle our affairs in a manner which will justify your vote of confidence.

We pledge our full co-operation to city officials in working out all matters in connection with sale of the plant. In the meantime, our organization of experienced and trained men will draw plans to eliminate unnecessary poles, lines and guy wires, and to meld the two systems into one efficient and dependable system. We shall start immediately to make plans for the modern street lights in the residential areas and to build the new 69,000 kilowatt high voltage transmission line into Burkburnett from the big North Wichita Falls sub-station, including the new sub-station on the Burkburnett end on the line. Other important matters will be given immediate study so that the program may be carried out in the minimum of time.

Final closing of the transaction cannot be made immediately. It will take place as soon as the city's fiscal agents, the First Southwest Corporation of Dallas, can repurchase, and the city can cancel, the outstanding revenue bonds on the city's electric system and water system. The bonds are a mortgage on both systems. Only the electric system is to be deeded to the company; the city retains full ownership of the water system.

Thanks to our many friends and supporters. We hope that in time our performance as a public servant, and as a citizen, will be such as to earn the approval and respect of those who opposed sale of the plant to our company.

On "how to do it," the Speaker made these suggestions and observations:

A bill is needed which will include a broad array of selective taxes, including, but not confined to, selective sales taxes. A general sales tax is out. Lawmakers will and should, keep their promise not to pass one.

Broad taxation would include upping levies in areas suggested by the governor, natural gas, liquor, cigarettes, corporations, but at a lower rate than suggested by the governor. In addition, many new items would be added, in keeping with the spread thin, hurt little principle.

Piece meal taxation is unfair, inadequate to the present challenge. State government should not reward political favorites. New taxes should be spread across as much of the Texas economy as possible.

Likewise on appropriations, if college professors and state employees get a raise, public school teachers should too.

Carr's speech was regarded as public announcement that he is taking the reins of leadership to get a tax program passed.

Gov. Price Daniel's comment on Carr's statement was in the vein of why didn't you say so before? Daniel said, "I am in agreement with much of it and only wish it had been made 30 days earlier."

House Taxation Committee chairman V. L. Ramsey of Beckville named a five man committee to write a tax bill and have it ready early next week.

Given the task are Reps. Wesley Roberts of Lamesa, H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, Joe Burkett of Kerrville, Ben Atty of Dallas and Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth.

Abandoned Property Bill

Governor's abandoned property bill has been reported favorably by the House Tax committee, but sponsors claim it has been "guttled" by committee action. As originally proposed the bill would have allowed the state to take over bank accounts and money and property held by banks, insurance companies, oil and gas companies, etc., if unclaimed for seven years.

As amended, the measure cut out all holdings except bank accounts and upped the waiting period to 20 years.

Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, sponsor, said this would take away 60 per cent of the revenue raising possibilities.

Texas In 1980

Creation of a vast "government center" that would cover most of an area seven blocks long and four blocks wide is the aim of the Capitol Hill Master plan. Legislators, whose assent will be needed to make the dream a reality, got a preview of the 20 year plan from architects and Building Commission members.

Governor Daniel said the $37,000,000 project could be financed with no new taxes. Income, he said, would come from the Confederate pension Fund, funds of state agencies now paying rent for privately owned buildings and funds now available to the Building Commission.

Recommended steps for 1960-61 are buying up several more blocks of land and remodeling the Capitol to provide offices for House members.

Party Registration Fight—A watered down party registration bill is in line for House consideration after approval of the Elections Committee.

Original proposal by Rep. Jamie Clements of Crockett would have required that a voter state his party preference & have it stamped on his poll tax at time of purchase. Thereafter, the carrier of a "Republican receipt" could not vote in a democratic primary and vice versa.

Attorney Gen. Will Wilson ruled this unconstitutional. He said it set up requirements for voting not authorized in the constitution.

As amended, the measure provides that a voter would have his receipt stamped when he voted in a primary or participated in party conventions. This would prevent his participating in the convention of a different party until he bought a new poll tax.

Liberal Democrats, particularly DOT spokesmen, were very dissatisfied even called the attorney general's opinion dead wrong.

Help For Busses

In this two car in every garage age, public transportation companies say they have fallen into hard times and need tax relief. A bill to lower the license fees on motor busses to a rate equal to trucks of the same weight has Senate Transportation Committee approval. It is sponsored by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas.

City transit companies are asking to be relieved of motor fuel taxes. Rep. Warren C. Cowan of Ft. Worth is sponsoring a measure to do this. Transit companies are caught in a cost squeeze, say supporters, that makes it hard to continue serving working people at reasonable rates. San Antonio transit lines had to give up, were taken over by city government.

Sunday Sale Ban

Senate has given final approval to a measure that would prohibit selling, buying or trading motor vehicles on Sunday.

Exempted would be persons who observe some day other than Sunday as the Sabbath, such as Seventh Day Adventists.

Bill had lively opposition from several senators whose argument was that it would "restrict competition in the name of Christianity."

News From The County Agent

The Wichita Valley DHIA Association ranked first in the State in average pounds of milk which was 940 pounds and tied for first place in the State in average pounds of fat which was 33 lbs. There are 27 DHIA Associations in Texas with a total of 20,215 cows.

The Tri-County Dairy show will be held at the 4-H Barn in Wichita Falls, Tuesday, April 28th. Mr. Jimmy Davis, Dairy Husbandman from A-M College will judge the show. This will be a one day Dairy Show and will be open to all dairy farmers as well as 4-H and FFA boys and girls. Ribbons and prize money will be awarded.

Start fly control early. Eliminate breeding places by keeping manure hauled to the fields and by providing good drainage.

Cows grazing on rank clover pasture are subject to bloat. Feeding hay before turning cows to pasture will help prevent this condition. It will also insure an adequate intake of feed nutrients and of dry matter and will aid in the more efficient utilization of all feed stuffs.

Yellow dwarf, a virus disease of oats, barley and wheat, has hit many fields, mostly oats, in central, north central and to a lesser degree in the rolling plains areas of Texas. Under some conditions the disease has been called red leaf. Infected oat plants have a characteristic salmon-pink to red color and the plants are dwarfed. The degree of dwarfing says B. T. Haws, county agent, depends upon the stage of growth reached by the plant at the time of infection.

Everyone is looking for investments that pay big dividends. Complete farm records are about the best investment a farmer can make, says B. T. Haws, county agent. Records need not be complicated. A simple record, if it is complete will save you money and time.

Good records can eliminate a lot of headache at income tax time, and are the best background for farm planning and operation analysis a farmer or rancher can get. Haws continues.

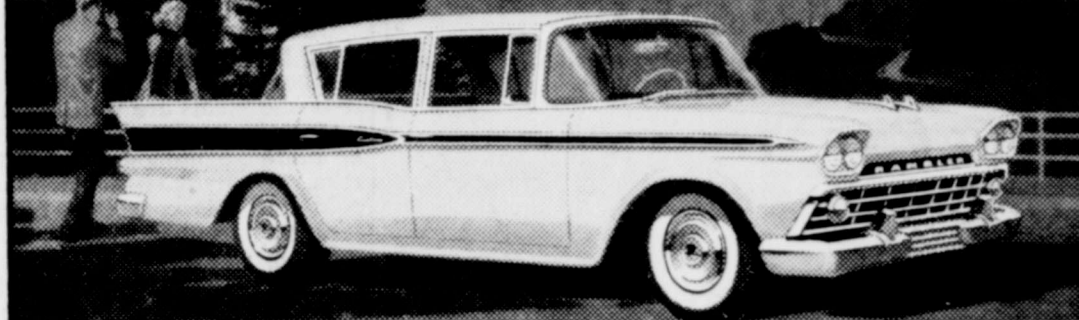

There are other uses for records and among them is the help that good records can give in obtaining credit and setting up a loan program. A banker is usually a little more lenient with his money if the borrower has kept a satisfactory record of his past operations.

THESE CHANGING TIMES

When do you stop and think how your neighborhood and standards of living have changed in a few years in Burkburnett? Many of you have two automobiles, two TV sets, boats, time saving appliances in their homes. Why? You now travel more, entertain more, enjoy more, and have more comforts and conveniences in your homes than ever before.

These changes have taken place in the Burkburnett telephone needs. No longer is one telephone, adequate, adequate telephone service, but very many plus several additional outlets are necessary for complete telephone service. In the modern Burkburnett and other cities, telephones are essential service in the eating, living, and sleeping rooms—and in color, too!

Ling! It's Kitchen Telephone Time

You might say that Spring and color just go together. Lawns are getting greener, trees and flowering plants are blooming, and soon there'll be color all over the place.

It's also a time for housecleaning and remodeling at our house where we always have a professional on hand. Whether it's housecleaning or remodeling—both—why not add an extra touch of color to your home? Mine did recently!

My wife was having a new counter-top installed in the kitchen and called to tell him what a professional painter was doing.

He said he wouldn't let the carpenter steal his job. My friend called the telephone company and had a white wall phone for the kitchen.

SO MANY COLORS!

My wife made the big announcement at dinner, my wife said he was worried about his choice of color. "So many colors," he explained, "I wasn't sure of myself. They had red, green, beige..."

White goes best with the new counter-top," his wife said, "just what I needed to perk up the kitchen."

The moral of this story is if you want to be a hero, get a touch of color by ordering a kitchen telephone. A kitchen telephone in color will help you in the room, help her get things done, and let you be a hero. Call the telephone company today.

Hey, Mr. Fisherman! If you like to try out the new, see a huge expanse of water, and rough it a bit at the same time, we know the very spot for you. It is Falcon Lake, fifty miles south of Laredo. Here a lake some 30 miles long and about five mile wide straddles the International boundary line between the United States and Mexico. Falcon is a primitive lake, with every respect. This lake was created when the International Boundary commission built a dam across the Rio Grande. International boundary monuments were placed down the middle of the lake so that the boundary between the two countries might be well marked. Brush, which consisted of mesquite, cats claw, huisache and cactus was left in the bottom of the lake. Two towns were moved from the banks of the river to higher ground, but many of the old buildings remain standing. Today the old town of Zapata is almost completely inundated, while old Guerrero on the Mexican side stands about half out of water. Some of the rock walls have tumbled down and these old buildings now afford wonderful habitat for big bass. At first it was feared there would be no bass in the lake. Commercial fishermen hit it heavy and hauled out thousands of pounds of rough fish. Then suddenly there was an explosion of bass, both blacks and whites. Last year they were barely keepers. This year plenty of them run from 2 to 4 pounds and quite a few six and eight pound lunkers are being taken. Also, many young bass are hooked. Sometimes you get one that isn't as big as lure it hits. This is direct evidence that there are at least two spawns a year in this, the southernmost Texas lake. At that rate it will continue to be a hot fishing spot despite the heavy pressure. Up until now most of the big bass have been caught on three types of lures — Jiggin' Eels, Hawk Extractors and Bombers. However, the time is here when the bass will begin hitting top water lures. With a few days of warm weather, and provided there are no disturbing floods, the next 30 days will produce some terrific catches. There is a perfect highway to Falcon Lake. The two towns where accommodations can be had are Zapata and Falcon Heights. Neither of these towns however, can begin to take care of the heavy influx of fishermen. Sportsmen are going there by airplane, automobile & bus. Motor accommodations in the towns are very limited. If you plan to make a trip to Falcon Lake, you'd better begin right now to make your reservations. And it is almost impossible to get in on a weekend even with a month's advance notice. There also is a scarcity of boats. Many fishermen take their own boats and motors, and it's a wise procedure unless you want to fish from the banks. Frankly, it is a lake for big motors. Unfortunately, access is very limited. Some of the planners didn't use a recreational yardstick in measuring its value. Also, when the State Highway department built bridges across arms of the lake, it failed to do enough bulldozer work in making launching ramps alongside the bridges. Although there is plenty of fishing water on the United States side, approximately two-thirds of the lake is in Mexico. A thirty day Mexican license costs only 80 cents, however. One good thing in favor of Lake Falcon is that prices haven't gone sky high as yet. Room rent and meals are well in line. This time next year there will be more accommodations at the lake. So many fishermen will go there this year that capital is certain to move into and provide ample facilities. It will be interesting to watch the results for a few years. Chances are very good that Falcon Lake will produce bass equal to Florida and in numbers beyond the fondest dream of the ordinary fisherman. Covers For Treble Hooks— Ever try to untangle a jumbled up mess of fishing lures? Fun isn't it? Man, there's nothing more disgusting. And that's not all. Its almost impossible to separate even a few lures without barb-marking the finger a few times. Then too, if you're ever stuck a treble hook lure in your pocket, and later on tried to remove it, oh boy! Anyway, Jack Braniff is your friend in need. Jack, who works at Mercy Hospital in Pleasanton, has come up with a simple solution that makes one wonder why he hadn't thought of it himself years ago. Jack has invented an aluminum, triangular shaped cap that fits snugly over the treble hook. You squeeze the aluminum cap just enough to make it fit over the hook and there you are. He calls them Jak-ettes. And he points out that they not only eliminate the messy tackle box and make lures safe to carry in the pocket, but they also clean, sharpen and straighten the hooks. Equally as important, they protect children from injury.

Texas - Still First In Farm Production

Texas may have been eclipsed in size by Alaska and we don't have the coconut palms and Hula Dancers of Hawaii, but we can still boast of a vast number of notable "Firsts" in farm production. Despite droughts, Boll weevils, pink bollworms, a host of other insects, and not even to mention governmental order plagues the Lone Star State is unchallenged as the leading producer of cotton, raising nearly 33% of the nation's supply; in grain sorghums, with a whopping 44% of all grown in the country; in mohair production, clipping 95% of the nation's goats, to mention a few. Neither do Texas farmers hang back in vegetables for the fresh market. In 1958, Texas led the nation in production of beets, winter cabbage, winter carrots, early fall carrots, winter cauliflower, spring onion, dew melons, early spring onions, summer onions, spinach and watermelons. If that isn't enough, we also rank first in producing cattle, rice, sorghum forage, hay and wool. So the next time some damn-yankee tries to needle us Texans about "being cut down to size," here are a few figures to confound him with: Just tell him Texas with 4,350,000 bales of cotton produced last year is ahead of its nearest competitor (California by 2,750,000 bales. Point out that our 1958 crop of 273,066,000 bushels of sorghum grain more than doubles Kansas' 128,964,000 bu. and Kansas was by far the second producer. Tell him Texas is also ahead with 11,938,000 cwt. of rice, 1,499,000 tons of sorghum forage and 15 million tons of other hays. You might also mention that Alaskan reindeer and other strange forms of livestock just can't compete when one out of every eight head of cattle makes its home on a Texas range. Just for good measure, we've also got more sheep, lambs, horses and mules than any of the other 49 states. These are just a few more of the things that make Texas what is always has been and always will be—The undisputed Champ among States.

If the Defendants or their attorneys shall at any time before this sale file with the Sheriff, or other officer in whose hands this Order of Sale shall be placed, a written request that the property described therein shall be divided and sold in less tracts than the whole, together with a description of said subdivisions, then such officer shall sell the land in such subdivisions as the Defendants may request, and in such case shall only sell as many subdivisions as near as may be to satisfy this judgment, interest and costs; and it is further ordered by the Court that the net proceeds of any sale made hereunder by a party other than the party who is a party to and who belongs to and who all such taxing units have been found to be against such property and in proportion to the amounts of their liens as hereinbefore set forth, but any excess proceeds of sale over and above the amount necessary to pay taxes due, delinquent suit and sale and charges against the same, shall be paid to the party legally entitled to the same.

And it is further ordered, Adjudged, and Decreed, that the owner of such property, one having an interest in their heirs, assigns, representatives, or two (2) years from the filing for record of the purchaser's deed and after, have the said property as by law.
The officer executing this Order of Sale shall conveyance to the said party of said sale, upon the terms of the sale in the time and as provided for by law, and execute this writ of its terms and the law.
Herein Fail Notice of law, and date of this writ, with a copy of this writ, with a copy of the judgment thereon, shall have executed the same.

LET'S JOIN HANDS TO BUILD A BETTER BURKBURNETT

Now that the light plant election is over the majority has spoken, in a democratic way all forget the past and join hands to build a bigger Burk Burnett. I favored sale of a light plant because I sincerely felt that it was best for our city.

We need the city-wide sewer system. We need other things. But most of all we need help among our citizenship.

I ask all of our people to forget the past and work together. Big plans for future development Sheppard Air Force Base provide Burk Burnett a wonderful opportunity to grow. I'll join with all of those who want to help.

Would you like to help your local social security office reduce the length of time necessary to process applications for retirement benefits? According to Erton F. Tate, manager of the social security district office in Wichita Falls, people making application for their retirement benefit can speed up the handling of their applications if they bring along the papers necessary to establish their right to benefits. These papers should include their social security card proof of their age and proof of recent earnings.

Mr. Tate explained that your most recent W-2 form furnished by your employer, or your last income tax return along with your schedule C or Schedule F and the cancelled check showing payment of the self employment social security tax, if you are self employed, will suffice for proof of recent earnings. Mr. Tate added that a birth certificate is not necessary for proof of age but that any old document giving your date of birth, an old family Bible, or an old insurance policy might possibly be all that is needed for proof of age.

Mr. Tate cautioned that no one should delay filing a claim because he or she does not have one or more of the documents necessary to establish right to benefits. The people at the local office at 432 Federal Bldg., Wichita Falls, will be very happy to give assistance to anyone in securing these proofs. Mr. Tate concluded.

Have you ever bought a lovely garment or piece of fabric that looked sad after the first laundering?
Much of the success or failure in laundering synthetic fibers lies in following directions given by manufacturers, your county HD agent reminds you. Read the label carefully before buying if you want to be sure you can laundry the fabric at home. Follow directions given. Your label may say something like this:
Handwash. Specific directions may be given. In this case the fabric cannot be handled carelessly or washed in a tub with strong soap and very hot water. Wash at home or in commercial laundry.

If you would like more information contact one of the Wichita County HD committee members: Gail Mitchell, Mitchell, Rappaport, Stimpson.

News From The County Agent
The first week after hatching is the most critical time in a chick's life. Since dead chicks return no profit, it is very important to take every step to make living conditions in the brooder as ideal as possible, advises B. T. Haws, county agent. The first step is to buy high-quality chicks from a reputable hatchery, Haws said. Have the brooder set up and regulated when they arrive and you're off to a good start. The brooder, all watering and feeding utensils, and the inside walls of the house should have been cleaned and scrubbed with a solution that will kill external parasites, he explained. The brooder thermostat should be cleaned and adjusted so it will operate within a three to five degree range. About 10 square inches of floor space per chick should be allowed under the hoover and the temperature should be set according to the brooder manufacturer's recommendations. Haws pointed out that feed and water should be easily available to the chicks. One inch of feeder space per chick and a broad base fountain of watering per 100 chicks is sufficient. The lip of the feeders should be no more than two inches above the floor and for the first week or so they should be kept full so the chicks can eat easily. A draft guard around the brooder will lower fuel costs and keep chicks from wandering away from the hover. The guard should be 1 to 1 1/2 feet high and should be located about 4 feet from the brooder. Litter should be kept free of dust and mold, Haws advises. It should be about 3 inches deep. Wood shavings, peanut hulls, ground corn cobs and candlerite are four common materials. Observance of these few simple rules, he said, can mean a higher livability and more profit in the long run. Make keeping your feet on the ground a habit and you'll never have far to fall. I. O. O. F. LODGE. BURKBURNETT, TEXAS. Meets at I. O. O. F. LODGE Every Tuesday Night, 7:30 p. m. Visitors Welcome W. It's The Law In Texas
Many Texans have the mistaken impression that their homestead cannot be seized and sold for delinquent taxes. In many cases, this idea has led to considerable grief and monetary loss which could have been avoided. A homestead should be rendered to tax assessors like any other property, and taxes assessed against should be paid as faithfully as those of any other taxable property. The deadline for rendering property for taxation is April 1, so far as most city taxing agencies are concerned. The last date for rendering real and personal property for state and county taxes is April 30th. State taxes are collected by the County Tax Collector. Under the Texas Constitution, each family is entitled to claim one piece of real property as their homestead. This claim must be established by an affidavit filed with the county tax assessor on or before April 30, each and every year. This affidavit must be filed by the owner himself. A lending agency cannot do so, even though it may actually pay the annual taxes thereon from a fund created by the owner's monthly installments. When the homestead affidavit is properly filed, the owner becomes entitled to an exemption of State taxes up to the value of $3,000 or 200 acres in the case of farm lands. This is an exemption from payment, not a complete exemption from rendition and assessment. There is no similar exemption with reference to city taxes, or to county taxes, except in certain counties levying a special 30 cent farm-to-market and lateral road tax. The homestead claimed for tax purposes need not be the property which is actually occupied by the owner as his residence. When the homestead affidavit is not filed by April 30th, the taxpayer loses his right to the $3,000 or 200 acres exemption, and consequently becomes liable for more taxes than he would otherwise be required to pay. Property taxes are assessed against the person who is the record owner of each piece of real and personal property on the first day of January of each year. Individuals purchasing property during the year should make sure that the taxes for all previous years have been paid. Otherwise, the purchaser may be forced to pay hundreds of dollars in delinquent taxes to protect his property. Unpaid taxes create a lien against the property which can be enforced regardless of change of ownership. One should also keep in mind to make some arrangement for the previous owner to pay his pro-rata share of taxes for the current year. Otherwise, the buyer may find it necessary to pay the entire taxes for that year. When taxes are not paid by the deadline prescribed for the particular taxing unit (City, county, state or district), monetary penalties and interest are added from month to month. In addition, the property becomes subject to seizure and sale to satisfy the tax lien. This lien applies to all property, whether homestead or not. A great many people never worry about the future until it becomes a part of the past. Courtesy costs nothing, yet it buys things that are priceless.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

Readers, aware of the fact that the nationwide membership of the National Federation of Independent Business has on several occasions gone on record as opposing any extension of the reciprocal trade treaty set-up, have written to ask comments on the recently adjourned Congress action in extending this system for a record four years. It is a matter of record that Congress did extend this act for four years, the longest term ever given this act. C. W. Harder, which has so often been used by the State Dept. to smash U. A. protective tariffs. Yet, as so often happens in the reporting of events in the big daily press, the facts of the matter have been glossed over, if not ignored. In passing this act, Congress reserved to itself the right to over rule by a two-thirds vote of both houses, to set aside a State Dept. rejection of a recommendation by the Tariff Commission. This Congress has served notice that it once again intends to exercise its traditional role in setting tariffs, and a role which is specifically granted Congress by the U. S. Constitution. Actually, there is considerable doubt that Congress would have granted any extension of the reciprocal trade treaty act except for certain maneuver's of this nation's "friends and allies" abroad are engaging in. In a very short time it is expected at long last the Western powers will set up what is known as the European Common Market which will virtually eliminate tariffs in a large area of the continent of Europe. But at the same time, these "friends and allies" of the U. S. will set up a common tariff wall against American products. Thus, a big international brawling is in the making. So Congress, in order to provide the machinery for fast dealing to prevent U. S. goods from being barred from the European market, extended the Reciprocal Trade Treaty Act. Whether or not this will work, no one knows at this time. But it now seems certain that Congress has gone on record that it will watch the action on the tariff front with a critical eye, and that at any time it may upset the customary slap happy State Dept. negotiations on tariff matters. Actually, the constant cutting of tariffs has done more to hurt American independent enterprise than the big firms, like General Motors who set up subsidiaries abroad to manufacture cheap products and bring them into the U. S. to sell in competition with their own productive capacities in Detroit. By working both sides of the street, such big firms have not been hurt by the juggling of tariffs. But small independent firms, lacking the resources to set up plants abroad where labor is cheap have been hurt. Thus, Congress has served notice that it intends to keep a close eye on the situation, because employment abroad does not provide jobs for Americans. And it is significant that for the first time in over 20 years Congress has announced it intends to get into the tariff act again. Thus, some interesting times lie ahead.

Fort Worth Market

Hogs were about steady with the close of last week and sows were weaker. Good choice hogs sold from $16.50 to $17, a few selected No. 1 and No. 2 hogs of 200 to 230 pounds at $17.25 to $17.50. Some heavies of 160 pounds and up sold from $15 to $16.50. Sows cashed at $13 to $14, a few $14.50. Fat steers, fed yearlings and heifers and fat calves opened slow but were generally fully steady as a clearance was effected. Cows, bulls and stocker and feeder classes of cattle and calves cleared readily at firm prices from the start. Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $26 to $29.50, and some 1,019 pound steers from McClung Land and Cattle Company, Cleburne, at $29.50 and some club steers from the Motley County 4-H Club youths sold mainly at $29, a few out at $27 to $29. Some 3 or 4 loads of cattle from the Spur Experiment Station sold at $27.50 with a half load at $28.50. Medium and lower grade steers and yearlings cashed in the $18 to $25 bracket. Fat cows cleared at $18 to $21, with some heiferish and mixed heifers and very young cows to $22. Cannons and cutters drew $12 to $19. On March 31st, Jan Brown was hostess as the Cherry Bluebirds gathered for a picnic and hike. On April 7th we held a regular meeting in the hut and started making pin cushions. We enjoyed a trip to the drug store for an ice cream treat. We are happy to welcome Kathy Reasoner as a new member. Sylvia McDonald Reporter
