War Declared On Grass and Weeds As City Prepares for Annual Rodeo

War on unsightly grass and weeds is the order of the day as Burkburnett prepares to welcome visitors to the fourteenth annual Boom Town Rodeo.

City crews began Monday cutting grass in alleys and along street rights-of-way. But, these areas are not the only offenders. Some vacant lots, especially those on street intersection corners, are not only unattractive, but create a traffic hazard by obstructing approaching vehicles.

Of course, home owners are going all out in tidying up their own premises. An arrangement is trying to be worked out whereby vacant lots can be cleaned up too.

In some neighborhoods, home owners are teaming together and cleaning up vacant lots on their block.

Deadline for Parade Entries Monday, June 8

Wendell Goins, Rodeo parade chairman, has been working on his parade line-up for weeks. Letters have been written, telephone calls made and personal visits made to determine just who is going to be in the parade and what they will enter.

Wendell requests us to announce that Monday, June 8 is the deadline for reporting to him what entries will be made in the parade. It takes a lot of hard work to organize a parade the size Burkburnett always has and this information is necessary in order that the procession line can be balanced as to floats, horses, commercial and industrial entries, etc.

Wendell will appreciate your letting him know what your entry is, so he can set it up properly on his schedule.

Wright Patman Blasts Give-Away of Bonds to Banks

When Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fleming moved to Burkburnett, their former Congressman, Wright Patman, kept them on his mailing list to receive his regular reports from Washington. Part of the release for June 4, follows:

Bond Give-Away Bill

Congress seems certain to pass the bill to give away—to the private banks—about $15 billion in old U. S. bonds now stored in the vaults of the Federal Reserve banks, but not canceled. This bill has passed the Senate, and has little opposition in the House. The bankers are lobbying to obtain this windfall and the public is not objecting, mostly because the public doesn't know about the legislation. I am finding, though, that the academic journals have not been silent. Last year when the proposal was first made, the plan was to give the banks $9.8 billion, and Alvin H. Hansen, a Harvard professor and well known monetary expert, wrote:

The bankers are, in effect, asking Congress to hand them on a silver platter $9.8 billion of earning assets in place of an equivalent amount of unearning cash assets which they are now required to hold as reserves.

This legislation was begun by the American Bankers Association, which is most interested in benefits for big bankers, especially New York and Chicago. Professor Hansen wrote:

It is evident that only a very small part of the windfall would accrue to the smaller so-called country banks which hold about 38 percent of the total assets of member banks. The proposal, if enacted into law would conspicuously favor the large banks.

Register Now For Red Cross Swim Classes June 15-29

Rodeo Discussed At Monday Noon C-C Luncheon

Discussion of plans for the approaching Rodeo, June 16, 17 and 18, took up most of the business time Monday noon at the Chamber of Commerce monthly luncheon. Thirty-five attended the meeting, presided over by C. B. Wampler. Marjorie Hofacket, secretary, read minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved.

Announcement was made that a public relations training course would be held July 20-24.

A suggestion was made that all home owners and business men clean up their premises in preparation for welcoming visitors to the annual rodeo.

Floyd Marten, general chairman of all rodeo committees, made a progress report in which he stated that all committees were working but much work remains to be done before opening date.

Rodeo booster trip, under Jack Mathis, will be made Friday, June 12.

Results for the Parade Queen contest will be made known Saturday, June 12th. Rodeo Queen will be announced Monday, June 15, at 9 a. m.

Merchants were urged to decorate their store windows in a western theme, and talk and boost the rodeo to every one they come in contact with.

In a short directors meeting following the luncheon, the group went on record as favoring opening up 1st St. across the railroad.

Mrs. C. I. Jennings Dies In Corpus

Word was received in Burkburnett of the death of Mrs. C. I. Jennings, 49, of Corpus Christi. Mrs. Jennings, the former Katie Knauth, had been in ill health for quite some time.

Mrs. Jennings was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Knauth of this area, and graduated from the Burkburnett schools. She was a registered nurse.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in Corpus Christi.

Burk Garden Club Concluded Year With Vernon Tour

Burkburnett Garden club concluded their years activities Wednesday, May 27th with a tour of the Hughie Rose Gardens and a luncheon at the Canton Cafe in Vernon. Members of the club and their guests met at the home of Mrs. Walter Riley for refreshments, then left in a group for the tour. They were met in Vernon by Mrs. Geo. Beavers, a past president of the Vernon club, who led the group by the lovely grounds of Secretary of Treasurer, Robert Anderson, Mr. Snell and the beautiful old Southern home of the Lockets.

At high noon in the private dining room of the Canton Cafe, a delicious luncheon was served.

A short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Walter Riley. Mrs. Glen Bear concluded the years program with a lecture on new roses of 1958-59, named by the American Rose Growers society.

The new president, Mrs. A. R. Bunstine closed the years work with a prayer.

Thirteen members and five guests attended. Mrs. Carl Morrison had as her guest, her sister Mrs. Earl Tardy of Lawton; Mrs. Al Lohofener had Mrs. Ralph White and Mrs. J. C. Adams had Mrs. George Beavers of Vernon and Mrs. E. E. Clack and Chloe Wiggins of Burk.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. M. C. Ring Tuesday night were the Nazarene preacher, Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Sanders and Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Jack Green of Wichita Falls.

Plans Complete For Booster Trip Friday, June 12

Burkburnett's Booster trip caravan, ballyhooping the fourteenth annual Boom Town Rodeo, June 16-18, will be headed by a Queen, two queen candidates and a genuine Western Cowboy band.

The group of boosters will pull out from in front of the Chamber of Commerce office promptly at 8 a. m., Friday, June 12. At the head of the procession will be Deputy Sheriff Willis Bartley, followed by S.A.F.B. rodeo queen, and two queen candidates from Burkburnett. Next in line will be Jack Frost and his Western Band to furnish entertainment at each stop. Also on the entertaining program will be Carolyn Clement and her partner.

First stop of the group will be in Electra. Then the route goes to Iowa Park and Wichita Falls, arriving at the county seat city at 9:49. Officials from the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce and the City will meet the Burk group and escort them down town for a twenty-five minute entertaining program.

From Wichita Falls the Boosters will pay visits to Henrietta, Petrolia, Byers, Texas, then across the river to Oklahoma. There stops will be made in Waurika, Temple, Walters, (arriving at 1:05 and time out for lunch), Chattanooga, Grandfield, Devol and on back into Burk at approximately 4 o'clock.

Queens and queen candidates will be riding in beautiful new convertibles. Each local car dealer plans to have two other new cars in the line-up, for other dignitaries. There will be station wagons equipped with sound, and numerous autos.

Jack Mathis, chairman of the Booster gang, would like to see as many cars make the trip as possible. Take the day off, decorate the old buggy and fall in line with the rodeo boosters. The caravan will move at 40 miles per hour out on the highway. All drivers are urged to drive with caution and make it a happy, goodwill party.

Wrong Direction

The tools of industry—Machinery, buildings, and all kinds of other necessary equipment—wear out in time and must be replaced. In recognition of this, the income tax laws provide for depreciation reserves. This simply means, for instance, that if the life of a $10,000 machine is 10 years, the owner is allowed to lay aside, tax free, $1,000 a year. Then, theoretically, at the end of the 10 years he has enough money to buy a replacement.

This concept used to work well. But it doesn't now. Under the tax laws, depreciation must be taken on the original purchase price of the property involved—not its replacement price. And that, after years of inflation, is as different as night and day.

Equipment which cost $10,000 ten years ago cost $20,000 or more now. But depreciation allows for the accumulation of only the original sum. The balance must be made up out of profits. And inasmuch as federal income taxes alone take more than half of the profits earned by a business of any size, the magnitude of the problem becomes obvious.

What it all adds up to is that pre-inflation tax laws in an inflationary age prevent tool replacement. This means that they prevent much industrial expansion and betterment. This means, in turn, that they prevent new employment, new opportunity, and the production of new, better and less costly products that otherwise would come to market.

It has been observed that "in our modern world, as goes a nation's tools, so goes the nation." The tax laws are seeing to it that we go in the wrong direction.

What Farmers Want

Farm Journal, the leading magazine in its field, has polled its readers to find out just what kind of a government farm plan they really want.

The results will come as a big surprise to those who think farmers as a whole want more and more government aids, controls and supports.

Here's how the vote adds up: 55% want total abandonment of supports and controls, and a return to the free market; 15% favor supports on an emergency basis only; 8% want adjustment supports which would permit a gradual return to normal markets over a period of time. In sum, therefore, 78% favor plans calling either for no support or for less support.

By contrast, only 14% say they want high price supports, of 90% to 100% of parity, and only 8% favor the production payment plan.

The percentages were pretty much the same in all sections of the country. Among the different commodities, farmers specializing in poultry, beef or fruit and vegetables are the most inclined to get rid of supports. Wheat and grain producers are least disposed to do this—but, even so, close to half of them consider it the thing to do.

Farm Journal has done the country a real service—and the hope is that the lesson learned will find its reflection in future policy. Farmers, like the rest of us, know past programs have been monumental failures, and that billions have gone down the drain with no return. And farmers want to stand of their own feet.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MARION IOWA, SENTINEL: "One of the trends in newspaper work that is regarded with growing fear is the tendency of government officials to deny the public information. This goes from the township to the national level. Newspapers, radio and TV stations are fighting this with everything at their command. The most flagrant cases are in Washington where bureaucrats decide what the American people are entitled to know. Newspapers have no quarrel with suppression of news concerning national safety. But this is carried far into other fields. There is only one basis on which to go. The public is entitled to every fact about governmental operation, outside of national safety."

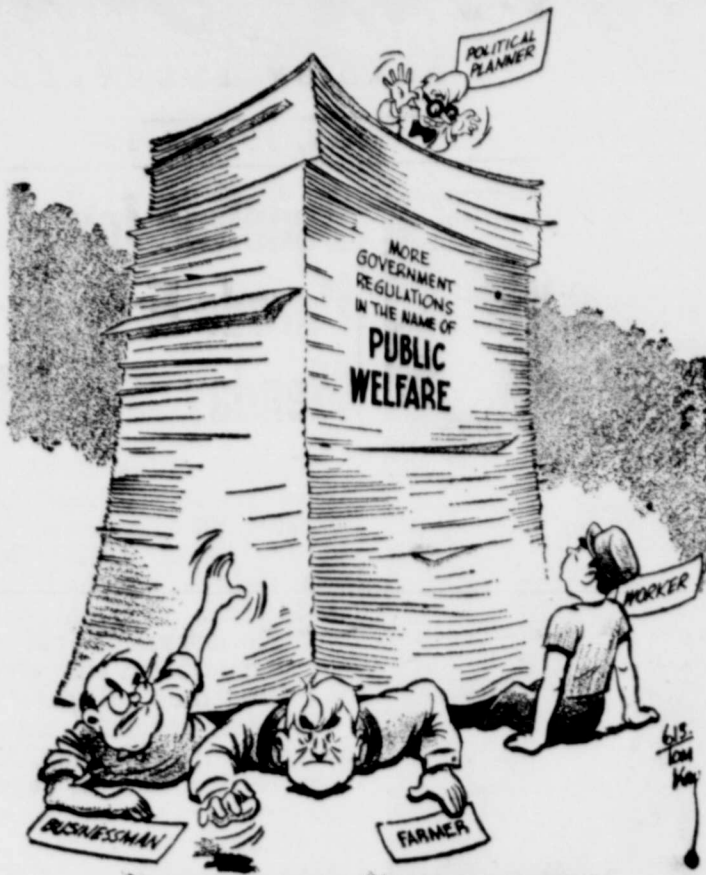

OSWEGO, KANS., INDEPENDENT: "History tells us that every nation and people who look for security instead of opportunity decays and rots. All advancement comes through discovery of new ideals. In a half century we have discovered and developed thousands of ideas in flying and other ideas of transportation to nuclear energy and over-coming of space by atomic power. Let us pray that we never become a nation of drones or victims of socialism."

SCOTLAND NECK, N. C., COMMONWEALTH: "The great trouble with the political system of the United States is that too many folks are too lazy or too uninformed, or too selfish to acquaint themselves with political procedures, the needs of their cities, counties, states and nation to do something about it. They had rather sit on the sidelines and sneer, but they in effect are exhibiting themselves as perfect examples of poor citizenship."

Big Business and Small Profits

In the minds of many people, the terms "big business" and "big profits" are virtually synonymous. If this were always the case, it certainly would make the businesses concerned happy & contented, if no one else. But in our competitive society it isn't.

Meat packing is a good example. It's a big business, which supplies the 170 million people of this country with the cuts and kinds of meat they want whenever they want them, and provides farmers and ranchers with a day-in-day-out cash market for their livestock. It handles huge quantities of meat animals, and huge quantities of money pass through its hands. And that phrase, "pass through its hands", is truly factual in this case. Very little of the money sticks.

The best earning year the industry has had in recent decades was 1947—and its profits amounted to one and one-half cents on each dollar of sales. Since then, it hasn't even come close to that. In 1957 and 1958, for instance, its dollar net earnings were not much more than half of the 1947 figure.

Leaders of the industry are concerned about their poor earnings showing. Efforts are being made to do better through improvements in livestock procurement, selling techniques and so on. Maybe these efforts will succeed and maybe they won't. But one thing is sure—big business or no big business, the buyers of meat will pay a mighty small profit to the packers who make it available.

Polio Victim Gets Diploma Last Week

One of the unusual aspects of commencement at Burkburnett High school last week was the graduation of Aubrey Rariden, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Rariden of S. Ave. D.

Aubrey, who suffered an attack of polio when 11 years of age, has studied under difficulty during most of his school life. He received his early education in McAlester, Okla., moving to Burkburnett in 1955. An inter-communication system enabled him to complete his freshman year, although most of that time he was in a body cast.

He has had surgery eight times on his limbs, arms and back and has had both bone and muscle transplants. He spent 12 to 15 months on his back in a body cast during his sophomore year. He was able to spend all of the past year in the school rooms in his wheel chair. He has been an honor student most of his school life.

At the graduation exercises he was given two special awards, one for school spirit and one for social studies.

One of his proudest accomplishments was being able to pass his driver's test, receiving his license in February. He enjoys driving a specially-equipped car.

Aubrey plans to attend Midwestern University this fall and major in pre-law.

His father is a civil service employe at Sheppard Air Force Base. The Raridens have one other son.

Mrs. R. L. Broyles and children have returned to their home in St. Louis, Mo., following a few days visit here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Broyles and Joby.

Wilbarger-Wichita SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Stubble mulching is a year-round way of managing crop residue and stubble to leave residues of previous crop on soil surface until seeding time. According to Soil Conservation Service technicians.

Soil Conservation District Co-operators have found the practice to be an effective control of wind and water erosion. Left on the surface, the plant residue keep water from compacting the soil and from detaching soil particles. Amounts of residue on the soil surface that are necessary for protection varies with the soil but disc type plows cover about one half of the stubble at each plowing. Plows with 32" sweeps or larger only covers about 10% of residue. Conservationist point out.

To control weeds and conserve moisture, farmers usually want to plow three or four inches deep most of the time. But a deeper cultivation is necessary and it should be done at first or second plowing.

Ralph Swinford District Supervisor in Friberg-Cooper Community has made plans to use 42" sweeps with rolling coulters Dan Flippen will stubble mulch more than 200 acres.

Wheat on Albert Brockreide farm of Electra will make good wheat following good stubble mulching.

WANT IT... then WANT ADS are for you!

Black spot and powdery mildew are the most common leaf diseases of roses in Texas, says Thelma Wirges, county HD agent. She advises the use of control measures, dusting or spraying.

Black spots, she says, is the disease which causes the large roundish black spots with irregular or frayed margins on the soft twigs and leaves. It will soon be making its appearance. One of the best preventative treatments is the use of sulfur copper dust mixture. 90 parts of sulfur and 10 parts of copper, applied weekly except during hot, dry weather. Applications made during such weather may cause burning.

During wet weather, the rose plants should be thoroughly dusted or sprayed. If the disease becomes established, Miss Wirges recommends a weekly spraying with certain captan, maneb or zineb. Both sides of the leaves should be coated with the spray material. Spraying will give better results than dusting.

Powdery mildew causes a white powdery coating on the leaves, buds and young stems of the rose plant. The sulfur copper mixture is recommended for early control and as a preventative treatment because it is cheaper than other chemicals. However, Miss Wirges warns, if powdery mildew becomes established, then weekly spraying with karathane or mildex are suggested.

If both diseases become established, a combination of chemicals may be used. In general the yellow and white varieties are more susceptible to these diseases. Radiance and Red Radiance varieties are resistant to both.

News From The Congress

Recently the House acted upon the appropriation for the Department of Agriculture. While there can be no real question but what our present agricultural program needs to be changed in many respects, in fact, probably completely reworked, there is a great deal of misunderstanding about the program, & about the use for which the fund appropriated are used.

Many implications recently in the press leave the impression that all of the money spent by the Department of Agriculture goes directly into a farm subsidy program. The truth of the matter is that a great number of activities are carried on by the Dept. of Agriculture for the benefit of the public generally and should not be charged to the farmer or to those engaged in farming exclusively.

In the first place the department is the largest regulatory body in the Federal Government. It administers over fifty different laws, many of which protect the consumer, such as ensuring clean, healthy meat and poultry through Federal inspection, and the grading of meat products. Second, all of the farm commodity export program is handled through the Department. Third, millions of dollars in the form of loans are made annually through the Farmers Home Administration and the REA. This money is all in the form of loans and the rate of repayment has been very high.

The Department also conducts an extensive market research program which has developed new handling methods of farm produce and has provided the technique of reducing food handling costs, all of which are of primary benefit to the consuming public and about 22 million dollars a year is spent on the eradication of brucellosis which is primarily a program to protect the health of the public.

The Department of Agriculture also disposes, through sales to friendly foreign countries, of a substantial part of our agricultural surpluses. Up to now they have sold 7 1-2 Billion dollars worth. It also administers the School Lunch Program and the program which provides dairy products to veterans in Armed Forces hospitals. In addition, the Department also handles soil and water conservation work which is one of the most vital and important program to those of us living in the Southwest. The simple point is that even though there is a need for substantial revision in our agricultural program, much of the expenditures that are allegedly charged up to the farmer never reach him but are spent on programs for public benefit.

Chiggers Can Be Controlled Now

The chiggers in your lawn and the ticks that your pets bring into the yard need to be tolerated no longer, says county agent, B. T. Haws. Most homeowners have at least one of these problems at sometime during the year. Both pests create a problem in recreational areas, especially where wild animals are present to serve as hosts for the ticks, he said.

One application of a practical and safe insecticidal control is now available for use in controlling them. For ticks use 10 percent DDT, 10 percent chlordane or 2 percent dieldrin dust at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds, or 20% toxaphene dust at the rate of 10 to 15 pounds per acre where vegetation is sparse. Increase the dosage in heavy vegetation. If sprays are used, follow manufacturer's direction for mixing. Apply at the rate of 15 to 25 gallons per acre to lawns and 50 gallons per acre to heavy vegetation.

For chiggers apply dusts or sprays of chlordane, toxaphene or lindane to grass and ground litter where chiggers are present. An emulsion spray usually gives the best results. Follow the manufacturer's direction for mixing sprays. For small areas, use a compressed air or snap-sack spray and apply 21-2 to 3 quarts per 1,000 square feet. If dusts are used, apply 5% chlordane at 40 to 50 pounds per acre or 20% toxaphene at 10 to 15 pounds per acre.

The man who knows value goes Olds!

More and more medium-priced car buyers who want the most for their money are joining the swing to Olds. Why? Because they figure up all the extra quality features and conveniences Olds has as standard equipment. They carefully consider the economy of the Rocket Engine... the low-cost maintenance of an Olds... its higher resale value. But most of all they ask themselves,

"Is this the kind of car my family and I will be proud to own... one that will give us the full measure of fun and comfort we want... is this the car whose style will stay in style?"

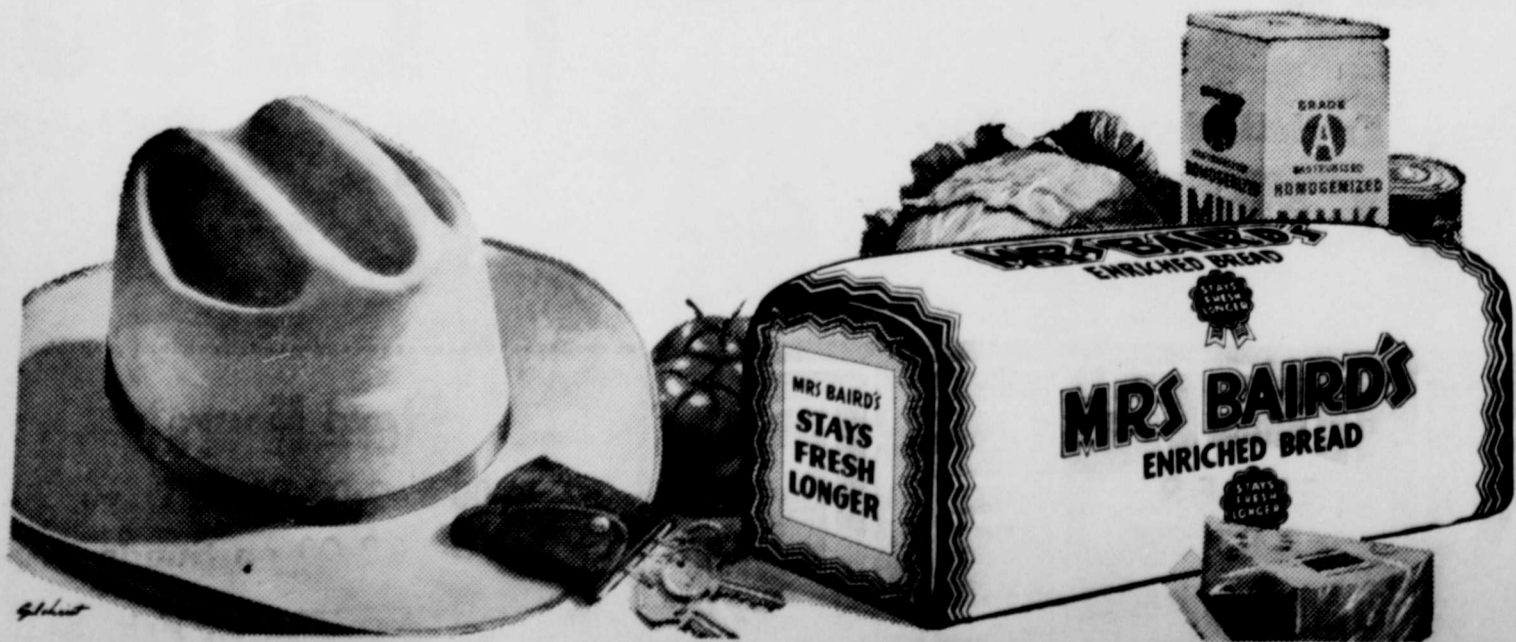

The overwhelming "yes" can be found in the zooming sales success of the '59 Oldsmobile. See your Oldsmobile dealer today... Value-Rate the Rocket!

CHEVY BESTS

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevy's ahead of its field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES . . . In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NAS-CAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not: Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN . . . Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE . . . Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY . . . No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM . . . Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.† make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST

ENGINE . . . Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE . . . You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Make sure you get the most for your money—see your local authorized Chevrolet dealer!
