C-C Luncheon Stressed Cleanup Of Entire City

Main theme of the Monday Chamber of Commerce business luncheon stressed an all out effort on the part of every property owner to declare war on all weeds and grass on their premises. C. B. Wampler, president of the C-C, pointed out the fact that unusually damp weather for this time of the year had caused weeds and grass to get out of hand in many areas. He suggested that if each one would clean up around his property, the efforts would cause neighbors to do the same.

Solon Would Alter Supreme Court

From United States Rep. Overton Brooks of Shreveport has come the suggestion that the present Supreme Court be abolished and a new tribunal of 17 members composed of experienced judges, each to serve only for three years, be established. Brooks asserted a belief that the present court is the creation of politicians & unrepresentative of the temper of the people. Large area of the country, he said, are without a justice on the highest court of the land who is representative of their point of view.

It was inevitable in these contentious times, that the proposal be made to curb or alter the Supreme Court.

More important than the integration decision of the Supreme Court has been its ruling on matters relating to international security and interpretation of enactments of Congress. To many sober citizens, the high court has appeared to be arrogating to itself the legislative right to make law whereas its true function is to interpret the law. Rep. Brooks' proposal may get nowhere but it will serve to focus public attention on the functionings of the court and to make the public more observant of the weight and impact of its decisions.

Instrument Of Policy

International air transport is an instrument of national policy as well as a tool of commerce and travel. It is one of the means by which nations build power and prestige.

The Soviets know this full well, as William H. Hessler, foreign editor of the Cincinnati, Ohio, Inquirer, shows in an article appearing in United States Naval Institute Proceedings. Aeroflot, the Soviet civil Airlines, has expanded at a remarkable pace. It is reaching out farther and farther into Europe, Asia, the Middle East. And it is no longer the primitive system it used to be. Its new planes are big, highspeed jets, capable of providing service anywhere.

Mr. Hessler writes: "What the Russians have done in civil air transport, they have done solely by their own efforts, and very rapidly. How can they? The answer is mainly found in the fact Aeroflot doesn't have to make a profit. It doesn't have to break even. It doesn't have to sell securities to the public to finance itself. Its an arm of the Soviet government, just as the Soviet Navy.

By contrast, the American international airlines are self-supporting, taxpaying private enterprises. That is the way we want to keep them. But the unfortunate fact is that certain bilateral agreements made by our government with others have worked out to the severe disadvantage of our down lines. The consequence is that in many instances, these lines do not get a fair share of the international air traffic moving in and out of this country.

This problem is more than an economic problem. Foreign policy and U. S. influence the world around, are bound up in it.

The Man At The Lathe

There has probably been more discussion of the inflation problem than of anything else except the international situation. Much of the discussion has been informed and wise. But almost all of it suffers from a big weakness. It is carried on in statistical terms, billions, tens of billions and hundreds of billions of dollars, that only a tiny, specially educated minority of the people can even begin to comprehend. In other words, it just doesn't come down to life and living as we understand it.

President Eisenhower realizes this. Some time ago he spoke, extemporaneously to a group of magazine editors. His subject was saving the dollar. And in the course of his remarks he said: "Today, think of the man at the lathe, the drill press, who is earning money which he is putting away in his pension with his company or into an insurance policy. If we today cannot assure him that forty years from now he is going to be able to have a good living left, then I say, sooner or later, he will quit buying insurance policies; he will not have any confidence in the government bond; and he will not think very much of his pension."

Later on, the President added that, if we have more and more inflation, "it won't be the rich that will be suffering. Instead it will be all those millions who with their hands and brains typewriters, shovels, and all the rest, are producing the wealth of the United States."

Inflation destroys material values, as everyone knows. But infinitely more important is the destruction of human values.

Grass Roots Opinion

TERRE HAUTE, IND., TRIBUNE: "There were troubling echoes of the Stanley Yankus case in the news that some New Mexico and Colorado farmers leased state land at a nominal price and then rented it to the federal soil bank program at a huge profit. Yankus, it will be recalled, is the Michigan poultryman

To A "T"

A new bill is in the legislative works which sets new precedents in the area of federal regulation over wages and hours. And one thing is sure—if it becomes law, we'll have a new wave of price inflation.

Retail trade has always been exempt from the wage-hour law one good reason being that retailing is a local business, in which a unit of the largest chain system must compete purely on the local level, and so should be regulated by the states, if at all. The new bill, however, would apply the federal minimum wage to all retailers doing an annual volume in excess of $750,000. And it would also apply the wage to any retailer doing less than $750,000 but who is in competition with anybody affecting interstate commerce.

That means that the proposed law would cover almost every main street in the country. No less an authority than AFL-CIO President George Meany said that he could think of no retail establishment "which was not engaged in competition with another retail establishment affecting commerce."

If the American people want more inflation, and if they also want a further destruction of state and local rights this bill should suit them to a "T".

whose battle with the government over penalties for growing too much wheat led him to sell out and head for Australia. The two incidents may not seem related, but they are. The relationship springs from the fact that both reveal flaws in the agriculture program.

ALBERT LEE, MINN., THE EVENING TRIBUNE: "Six New York hospitals have been struck by their service workers, members of the Retail Drug Employees Union, and some of them have been surrounded by as many as 200 pickets. Now the 700 laundry drivers of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union (AFL-CIO) have been ordered by their local not to deliver fresh linens to the stricken hospitals. The unions are striking for recognition, although the law specifically exempts hospitals from obligations to recognize unions. They are striking for higher pay, although the hospitals involved all lose money—over $4 million last year and are non-profit and charitable institutions."

Lt. Edwin Draper Graduate of Wolters Rotary Wing School

1st Lt. Edwin L. Draper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Draper, 702 Reagan St. Burkburnett was a graduating member of class 59-09 of the officers rotary wing qualification course at the U. S. Army Primary Helicopter School, Camp Wolters, Tex.

Harry Mitchell, chief electronic development engineer for Bell Helicopter Corporation in Ft. Worth, was guest speaker at the class graduation dinner held Thursday night, July 30th in the Camp Wolters Officers Club.

Col. John L. Inskeep, commanding officer of Camp Wolters and commandant of the helicopter school, awarded diplomas to the officer graduates.

The officer rotary wing qualification course is a ten week course designed to train commissioned fixed wing Army aviators in rotary wing flying techniques and to familiarize them with the tactical employment of observation rotary wing aircraft.

News From The County Agent

Fire Guards should be constructed or reworked to lessen the danger of range grass fires. Cured grass and hot dry weather always increase range fire potential. Let the livestock and wildlife graze the forage. The rancher has no market for burned grass ashes.

Deferred Rotation Grazing gives ranges a rest at times during the summer. A good grazing system pays off.

Temporary Summer Pastures should be grazed so native grass will not be over used. If there is plenty of native grass, put the summer pasture in bales. A rancher has never lost money when he has a good supply of feed on hand.

Senate debate on the tax bill was enlivened by the arrival of

Call JO 9-2191 — For Printing

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

With the bottleneck broken on a tax bill for regular spending, legislators began to look down the road.

Rep. Murray Watson of Mart proposed a resolution that pointed up the lawmakers' uneasiness about having more rough decisions before the year is out.

Watson's resolution called on Gov. Price Daniel to say immediately whether he would call another special session to raise money for the Hale-Aikin school improvement program.

Hale-Aikin proposals, which include an $800 a year salary boost to teachers, would cost an estimated $120,000,000 a year. There have been repeated rumors that the governor will recall the Legislature next fall to enact Hale-Aikin. Also floating around is the rumor that a 1c per gallon hike in the gasoline tax is being "saved" for that purpose.

Watson charged, "I think there has been a definite deal made with the Texas State Teachers Association. Somebody else should know what's going on here instead of just the governor and the teachers' lobby."

Gov. Price Daniel's supporters called this unfair. They declared that the governor like everyone else, couldn't tell how it would be until after the dust settled from the fracas over raising money for the basic budget.

AT LAST—

When the Legislature finally voted on the new $185,000,000 tax bill, it voted it out in a big way. Tally was 29 to 2 in the Senate and 115 to 24 in the House. This is well over the required two-thirds to make the bill effective immediately on the governor's signing.

House, which had been hamstringing for seven months on the tax issue, came unstrung so suddenly it surprised the bill's advocates. Voting ended good naturedly with "yea" votes recruited in the atmosphere of an old fashioned revival meeting.

Most talked about feature of the new bill is a severance beneficiary tax of 1.5 percent on natural gas. It was the first time the Senate had approved this tax. Many House members had said they wouldn't vote for any bill that didn't include it. It will bring in an estimated $15 to $18,000,000 over two years if not ruled unconstitutional.

Three-fourths or more of the bill's revenue will come from selective sales taxes. Newcomers are a 3 percent tax on jewelry and furs, a 3% tax on hotel and motel room rentals, 3% on boats, motors, cameras, air conditioners, 25% on tobacco products other than cigarettes.

Taxes on cigarettes will go up 3 cents a pack; liquor and wine, 20%; motor vehicle sales from 1.1 to 1.5%.

Utility gross receipts will go up 20% and the corporation franchise tax will go up by 75 cents per $1,000 capital for one year, 50 cents per $1,000 thereafter.

LADIES DAY—

City Buses Lose Out—

Another cause, apparently lost for this year, is that of exempting city bus system from the state gasoline tax.

Rural area senators, led by Sen. Wardlaw Lane of Center, voted it down.

City spokesmen say the buses needed by low income people cannot stay in the black unless they get tax relief. San Antonio's transit system went to the wall, was taken over by the city.

Senator Lane made a scathing attack on "taking care of Highland Park" (a swank Dallas suburb) when the state is having a hard time finding money "to pay the old age pensioners."

BEAUTY CONTESTANT

Cindy Bryant will be a contestant in the Miss Burkburnett Pageant. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bryant of 325 Burk Haven. Cindy is a junior student at Burkburnett High School where she is on the Student Council and is active in sports. The First National Bank will sponsor Cindy in the Pageant.

Daniel Opposes Federal Tax—

Gov. Daniel asked the National Governors Conference to join him in opposing an increase in the federal tax on gasoline.

Congress is considering President Eisenhower's recommended 1.5 cent per gallon increase to pump new life into the federal highway building program.

Gov. Daniel charged the federal government would have plenty of money for the highway program if it would quit using gasoline tax money for

Visit S-S Office Before Retiring

Retirement might be defined as "an extended vacation without pay." The point is: when you retire, your paycheck will stop. Naturally, your chief concern then is when will you receive that first social security check.

You can speed up the delivery of that first check by visiting your social security office two or three months before you plan to retire. By doing so, you can find out exactly when you should file your claim and what documents you will need to present.

By having everything you need with you when you file, your claim will be processed without undue delay and you can be sure that the postman will be at your door bell ahead of the "wolfe."

Remember, if you are planning to retire, visit your local social security office and inquire before you retire.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Leeds and daughter, Katherine of San Leandro, Calif., Mrs. Grace Sanders of San Leandro, Mrs. Elmo Reed of Hayward, Calif., William Pannell, Jr., of Norton, Va., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones and son Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Penick all of Randlett, Okla.

Many Children Driving to School Create Critical Traffic Problems

It wasn't too long ago that kids walked or, if they were lucky, rode a bike to school each day. Some of our parents even rode horseback to school.

Those days, the distance most children had to cover was at least a mile, often more, and regardless of the weather.

Those days are gone forever. Many students still walk to school, but increasing numbers drive.

The problem of schools in by-gone days was to get enough racks for students' bicycles. Today, high schools often must build parking lots to hold the mass of motor vehicles their students arrive in.

If schools don't construct parking lots, students have to leave their cars around the school building, thereby creating a traffic hazard for motorists and pedestrians.

The motor vehicle, then, can be quite a headache to schools.

Nearly six million teenagers, many of them students, drive cars. They make up about 1 out of 14 of the nation's 80 million licensed drivers.

A teenage driver is involved in 1 out of 10 fatal auto accidents. Main faults of teens according to the National Safety Council: a tendency to speed.

"Lots of teenagers drive to school today the Council said. And, unfortunately, young people too often get an urge to show off around their friends."

The result? More accidents involving teenagers.

Solution to the problem?

One way to bring down the accident toll among young drivers is for every student to take driver education, the Council said. It urged adherence to this driving code:

1. Be proud of your driving. Do your part to prove teenagers can be the best drivers on the road.
2. Smooth driving is the mark of a pro. Don't make jackrabbit starts, squealing turns and fast stops.
3. Be courteous at the wheel. Give the other fellow a break.
4. Don't try to get ahead of the other driver or to even the score if he's inconsiderate.
5. Speed is a killer. Adjust it to road, weather and traffic conditions.
6. Keep both hands on the wheel and your eyes on the road.
7. Obey the law. Stop at stop signs.

8. Keep your car in top condition. Give special attention to tires, lights and brakes.
9. Don't be a bumper chaser. Keep a safe distance between you and the car ahead.

ABOUT THAT By RALPH TEE

SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

of thrift, the bankers, gone into huge advertising campaigns to encourage people to buy more and more "on the cuff."

There are perhaps some who will argue this is merely putting the independent merchants on a par insofar as granting credit is concerned, with their huge competitors. On the other hand, it may be working in the long run to their disadvantage.

Because, if this plan works to the fullest extent, a few big banks will not only take over control of all retailing, but in addition, the plan will result in greater concentration of banking resources into a few hands.

As the battle between the giant banks in the West is now being waged, through newspaper advertising, through direct mail, every effort is being made to get people to take out that particular bank's credit card. Obviously, if a person holds a credit card from a bank, it is quite likely that his account will also be transferred to that bank.

Thus, there is being sown in the West not only the seeds of more inflationary buying, but also further massive competition for the independent banks.

But over and beyond that, it is quite a commentary on the times that banks are urging people, at least psychologically, to "spend it before you get it."

Thus, while the Federal Reserve Board makes it difficult for legitimate independent business to borrow money for legitimate reasons, huge banks are embarking on a contrary course.

With their "Diner's Club" type of credit cards, they are urging people to splurge.

Of course, 18% annual interest is quite an attraction.

Army Offers Young Musicians Career In Texas-Okla. Bands

The United States Army offers young musicians a choice of assignment to a band in Texas or Oklahoma, with schooling in Washington, D. C. and an opportunity for career advancement.

This multi-benefit program is offered to fill requirements for over 100 Army musicians in the two state area. There are openings for all band instrumentalsexcept drummers.

Accepted applicants will receive schooling of 20 weeks duration with the Army Element,
U. S. Naval School of Music,
Washington, D. C. a Department of Defense unified activity.

Major H. H. Copeland, Deputy Army Special Services Officer and staff Band Officer, Fourth United States Army, explained that the schooling is conducted in a scholarly, musical atmosphere comparable to the best musical conservatories in the world.

Assignment benefits insure that a young man may enlist for a band of his choice in Texas or Oklahoma. "Choice, not Chance" assignments in Texas are available at Fort Sam Houston, Fort Hood and Fort Bliss.
In Oklahoma, positions are available at Fort Sill.

Career opportunities for outstanding musicians consist of advancement through progressive schooling, such as the five-month Bandmaster Course. Maj.

Copeland stated this course has been analyzed by nationally-known instrumental educators who found the five month course teaches as much practical bandleading as the average student receives during a normal four year college or university course.

In addition to normal United States Army enlistment requirements, auditions are scheduled to determine an applicant's qualifications for an Army band. The major said that young men who have successfully played with a high school band, normally pass the audition without difficulty.

tact M-Sgt. Drue McBride, at

WHY DO WITHOUT A LITTLE LUXURY
LIKE THIS...
LET ALONE
THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!

greater roominess
Automobile Manufacturers Association records carry the facts on this. In a Chevy sedan, for example, you've got more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars! And Chevy's front seat hip room spreads up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

bigger savings
Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide took the first two places in their class. Winning mileage: 22.38 m.p.g. And that, friends, took top honors for Chevy from every full-sized car!

full coil ride
You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's easygoing smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need grease.

award-winning engines
The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet! Chevy wins for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines... for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness." And you can choose among eight V8's and the Six that won the Mobilgas Economy Run for its class.

fresh styling POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling..." You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class.

bigger brakes
Bigger, yes, and built with bonded linings for as much as 66% longer life. And how's this for proof that Chevy's a real stopper: in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds, Chevrolet outstopped both of the "other two" time after time.
