Up To Date With The Atom

The Edison Electric Institute has published an excellent booklet, bringing the story of the development of electric power from the atom up to date.

First of all, the atom promises mankind a great supply of a new kind of fuel which can be used to make electricity. But this does not mean as some people seem to believe, that power will ultimately become free or virtually so. Last year, of each dollar the electric consumer spent for service, only 15.9 cents went for fuel. By way of comparison 23.2 went for taxes. So, even if atomic fuel cost absolutely nothing, the reduction in the average electric bill would be comparatively minor.

Moreover, one of the major problems is to make atomic power economically competitive. As of now, it is much more expensive than power produced from conventional fuels. Thus, the booklet says that for many years atomic power will be in the development stage and will furnish only a small percentage of the nation's total generating capacity. Fortunately for us, there is no urgent hurry—we have more than enough supplies of the conventional fuels to meet any conceivable demand for power.

Finally, the booklet makes it clear that the utility industry has a big, practical and productive plan for the atom. As of last May, electric companies were participating in 16 atomic power plants, which are either in operation or in various stages of planning, development and construction. They will have a combined capacity of 1,500,000 kilowatts, and will require company expenditure of some $570 million. Private enterprise is vitally concerned with atoms for peace.

The Collar And The Leash

Last November Michael DiSalle sailed into the office of Governor of Ohio propelled by the energies or organized labor leaders and their sympathizers. Now, less than a year later, labor is blasting the man it used to boost.

The governor's offense against labor was that he backed a 20 percent increase in workmen's compensation benefits, while the labor chiefs demanded a 24 percent hike. And he proposed a mild bill to control labor rackets—a bill even softer than the proposals the AFL-CIO has accepted on the national scene.

For this the Ohio AFL-CIO charged that he "took the nose of the injured worker and rubbed it in the dirt." Protested DiSalle: "All our platform pledges have been met. The labor leadership seems to be totally unreasonable.

There's a lesson in this for political candidates. While labor's huge war chests for campaigns and its army of precinct workers may seem attractive, the price of this support comes high and the labor bosses demand full payment — and then some.

Those who seek public office should not be surprised to learn that when they put on the labor bosses' collar they most likely will find there is a leash attached to it.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CANTON, N. C. ENTERPRISE "Now, women are found in every responsible financial position of trust. From the penny pinching housewife to the woman president of a bank, they are recognized for their good business sense. And the men don't seem to mind anymore that members of the fair sex have taken over these positions of trust. It is all part of the struggle of woman to gain an equal place with her counter-part in society."

OMAHA, NEB., PUBLIC LEDGER: "Federal aid to education is on the prowl again—bigger and bolder than ever. H. R. 22—reported out by the House Education and Labor Committee calls for $4.5 billion of tax money in Federal grants over the next four years. These funds would be used for school construction and for teachers' salaries. But after four years, what? 'Human Events,' in reporting on the measure, notes that the bill fails to include, however, any provision for ending the program—so, like price supports, the grants would probably continue on and on."

BOONTON, N. J. TIMES-BULLETIN: "Unfortunately, we still have too many youngsters who are not protected—it seems incredible to me that a parent would not take that interest in a child," asserted United States Surgeon General Leroy Burney in urging parents to have their children inoculated with the salk vaccine. "He added that results of the Salk polio vaccine have been dramatic and miraculous—protecting about 80 percent of those vaccinated against poliomyelitis."

FALLON, NEV., EAGLE-STANDARD: "Although jokes are being poked at it, it appears that the custom of the American coffee break has become a time honored habit, as much as part of modern fringe benefits as hospitalization and vacations."

THE AMERICAN WAY

Punished Capital

Shall The People Govern?

The President went to the crux of the labor legislation problem when, in a nationally broadcast speech he said: "In the basic sense, the issue is this: Shall the people govern?"

The President also said: "It is my earnest hope that Congress will be fully responsible to an overwhelming national demand." If Congress fails in this, it will amount to dereliction of duty of the most dangerous kind.

The President cited specific examples of labor violence, and of the use of "blackmail" picketing designed to force workers who did not want to join a union, to join. Of such practices, he said: "I want that sort of thing stopped. So does America."

Goons and thugs have been used to enforce union demands. Gangsters have slipped into official union positions. Union treasurers have been looted. Free speech and free elections have been denied the rank and file. The secondary boycott and blackmail picketing can and often are used to dictate union terms on an "or else" basis.

The President said it all in four words: "Shall the people govern?"

National expenditure for research and development has reached $10 billion a year. Two-thirds of it is spent by private industry.

News From The County Agent

There has been a large amount of premature shedding of pecans in Texas this season. This has been particularly true during the month of August. There are many conditions that will cause pecans to shed from the tree. A few of the more common causes are listed below:

Late generation pecan nut casebearer (feeding in the shuck after shell hardens). Hickory shuck work (injury to shuck). Feeding injury of pecan weevil. Inadequate supply of available moisture. Lack of available nutrition elements, partialdefoliation of the pecan tree by the black pecan aphid. Heavy scab infection on leaves and shuck, as well as other leaf spot disease.

Any condition that reduces the normal activity of the pecan leaf and or shuck can cause the nuts on the tree to fall prematurely. The stress period for the pecan tree in the development of the nut is in the late summer and early fall. Unfavorable conditions at this time invariably result in trouble.

Many growers are concerned about their pecans being full of water in early August. It is not normal for the nut to contain a large amount of liquid during this period and this condition is not responsible for the heavy shedding of pecans.

B. T. Haws, county agent, calls attention to the importance of choosing and planting the small grain varieties that are recommended for your area. This is particularly true, he says, in view of the disease problems that continually plague the small grain farmer. New varieties are being developed from time to time and the plant breeders are constantly breeding and testing varieties for resistance to new races of rust and smut.

Soil testing is a tool you can use on your farm to help determine the level of fertility in your soil. The recommendations which you will receive from the soil testing laboratory, based on the analysis of the soil samples you submit, will give the amount of fertilizer needed for the most profitable crop or pasture production.

The most important mistake to correct are those you feel you can get away with, especially on the highway.

Few people spurn a gentle attitude until they get into a car.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Texas will have a virtual "government on wheels" for the last part of this month as 31 state agencies pick up their filing cabinets and move into the new State Office Building.

This is the second new headquarters building to be completed this year. First to be occupied was the new Texas Employment Commission building, completed only a few weeks ago.

Transferring into the new State Office building undoubtedly will be the biggest move of state agencies since horse drawn dray wagons moved the government into the present Capitol building in 1888.

First to move will be a host of commissions, boards and divisions which have been in rented quarters scattered over Austin.

Later, probably October or November, another big move will take the Supreme Court, Court of Criminal Appeals, Attorney General's Department and Supreme Court Library out of the Capitol into the new State Courts building. Third state building to be completed this year.

It has been the dream for some time of the Supreme Court's elderly Chief Justice John E. Hickman to stay on the job until the day he could preside in the new Courts Building.

Built of granite similar to that in the Capitol, but with modern styling, the new buildings are to the north of the Capitol. Combined cost of the two buildings is some $7,000,000.

With all the happiness over the prospect of splendid new quarters, there are some regrets. Many employees are worrying about where they will park their cars once all the scattered agencies move into one building.

Supreme Court jurists feel a touch of sadness at leaving behind the historic walnut bench, inscribed with the Latin phrase, "As God was to our Forefathers, so may He be unto us." It has been in use practically since the memory of man. Replacement is a handsome marble piece which the judges compare to a soda fountain.

Progress and Property—

A tingle of excitement, fear and hope runs through landowners and business people when they learn that a new super highway is to come through their area.

Some residents fret over the prospect of losing the old home place. Others dream of wild profits. Businessmen worry whether the motorists will be able to get to their places. As more and more expressways pierce the countryside, the State Highway Dept. is making every effort to explain the procedures for acquiring highway right of way.

Samples from recent official Department statements:

1. Although its first responsibility is to the public, the taxpayers and millions of highway users, the Highway Department tries to create a minimum of private injury or inconvenience.

2. When private lands are needed for public roads, the law guarantees adequate compensation to the owner. Independent professional appraisers are hired, and an approved value figure determined.

3. Once the approved value is settled on, the Department negotiator can't horse trade with the landowner. This might reward the greedy and tough minded at the expense of the timid or public spirited person. But a dissatisfied owner can have the matter settled in court.

4. When part of a piece of property is taken and the rest left isolated or of little value, the state will make payment for the loss of value.

5. Owners will be given ample time to move buildings to another site or find new buildings.

6. If an owner with a GI mortgage has to sell, the Veterans Administration will restore his GI loan privileges for getting a new piece of property.

7. An owner who sells property for more than he paid for it will not have to pay income tax on the profit, providing he uses the money to buy similar property within a year.

8. Controlled access highways cannot have entrance and exit for every piece of property along the way. Real estate developers are urged by the Department to contact the local planning engineer before making any commitment based on access to the through lanes of a controlled access road.

Water Fight Due—

State Board of Water Engineers has scheduled a hearing for Aug. 31st on the City of Houston's controversial bid for Trinity River water.

Houston seeks permission to build two reservoirs near the mouth of the Trinity, one near Livingston and one near Wallisville, and divert more than a billion gallons daily.

Trinity River Authority and a number of upstream cities—Dallas, Ft. Worth, Huntsville, etc., are protesting that Houston is trying to grab the water supply from the whole river.

Slow Up For Holiday—

With Texas' 1959 traffic deaths running six percent higher than last year, Gov. Price Daniel issued an urgent safety plea to Labor Day motorists.

He called on law enforcement agencies, civic organizations, safety councils and "most important of all, drivers, to help in this most important of all Texas efforts, the saving of human lives."

Department of Public Safety reported traffic deaths for the first half of 1959 at 1,097, compared to 1,032 for the same period in '58.

Don't Disturb Crash Wreckage Military Planes

Individuals arriving at the scene of a military aircraft accident are cautioned by the United States Air Force not to remove or re-locate any part of the wreckage unless this action helps save a life.

Sheppard Air Force Base officials this week called attention to this policy to residents of this area.

The Air Force said there have been instance in the past where parts of wreckage vital to accident investigations were removed. This prevented adequate investigation to determine cause of the accident and prevent additional ones in the future. It is possible that success or failure of an entire weapon system could be at stake due to such carelessness by persons at the scene of the accidents.

The Air Force has been able to consistently reduce its major aircraft accident rate through expeditious work of aircraft accident investigation officers who arrive at the scene of accidents as rapidly as possible. Their on-the-scene investigation and subsequent work by appointed investigation boards are essential to good accident prevention. The remaining parts and pieces in a major accident hold the key to their success.

The Air Force feels sure the public will cooperate once it understands the facts and the serious consequence of removing parts for souvenirs or for other reasons.

Thousands of Texas drivers run into trouble every year, hundreds of them never walk away from it.

Experience Run Drivers Report on NBC Radio MONITOR Weekends

A Final Demonstration Climaxing Ford's 3 Years and 3 Million Miles of Research and Development on the New Ford Falcon... EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A.

A fleet of Falcons is going to undergo a final exhausting test... over every single mile of numbered U.S. Federal Highway... along a crisscross route that will include the ups and downs of two major mountain ranges, the challenges of every type of roadway and thruway, main street and boulevard.

TODAY...10 P.M. THE NEW-SIZE FORD STARTS ON ITS WAY TO YOU!

The Falcon, the New-Size Ford, already is the most thoroughly tested and proven new car in history. Today this new Ford Falcon starts EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A., over every mile of numbered U.S. highway

This is not a test run in the ordinary sense of the word. For in its 3 years of development and over 3 million miles of proving, the Falcon has already passed and repassed every kind of test that could be devised.

It's been dust-tested, heat-tested, and endurance-tested on the test track at Kingman, Arizona. Wind-tested and rain-tested in the 300 mph wind tunnel at the University of Maryland. Shock-tested, curve-tested, brake-tested, noise-tested, paint-tested, stability-tested, service-tested... everything-tested on Ford's own proving grounds. The Falcon has already proved to engineers that it takes anything they can dish out.

Now, Experience Run, U.S.A. will show you what the Falcon can do over your kind of roads.

How many miles to the gallon? Records will be kept of every drop of gas used. Better gas mileage? The Falcon will average up to 30 miles per gallon!

On October 8, the New-size Ford will be at your Ford Dealer's... for you to experience. See your Ford Dealer today for more information on the Ford Falcon.

It's The Law In Texas

Thousands of school children are now trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which require a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at speed "which is prudent, not exceeding 10 miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when meeting a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger or increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the highway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center lines when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the roadway.

Charles Boyd, Alden Smith and Jerry VanLoh left Sunday for Red River, N. M. and Colorado Springs, Colo., where they will camp out for a week. The boys are all Burk Burnett High School graduates and are now attending college. Boyd and Smith are attending Texas A and M and VanLoh, the University of Texas.
