JOHN D. ROGERS BALL PARK BUILT THIS SUMMER

John D. Rogers Ball Park is a credit to any town, regardless of size. It is located at the end of West 4th Street, on property belonging to Doug Svien, a Sgt. at Sheppard Air Force Base. Surrounding the park is plenty of parking space for spectators. Everything is just as complete as any big time ball park. Permanent type seats have been provided for behind the wire protection net. The boys have concrete dugouts, just like the National leaguers. Posts have been erected to provide lights for night playing. The outfield fence is made of 3/4 plywood, with signs 'n everything.

This park is a dream come true for the men who worked on it practically all the summer. They wanted to provide a good and safe place for the youngsters to play and the results show they did just that.

Many men worked on the project, some a few hours, some many hours. Some contributed a considerable amount of both money and work. It would be impossible to get that many men together for a picture, since they work all hours around the clock at their regular jobs. However, we are glad to list the following workers and contributors:

John Rogers, Tom Shields, John Musick, Joe Parsons, J. L. Ragan, Robert Reagan, Russell Duvall, Raymond Scruggs, Floyd Coppenbarger, Walt Bohner, Bud Bohner, Vic VanLoh, Glen Lynskey, Neal Kreidler, J. J. Renfro, Wayne Landrum, A. W. Willeford, C. J. Lippard, Byron Key, Arlis Key, Wayne Bowles, Carl Taylor, Clark Gresham, City Street Manager, Leonard Svien, J. D. Dillbeck, Roy Mitchell, O. E. Melton, Buddy Byars, Finis Wright, Doug Broyles, Mike Hrazdil, Leroy Meyer, C. Simmons, Charles Griffith, W. E. Parrack, Walter West, Douglas Svien, W. E. Goins, Henry Connell, Robert Beaver, James Bohner, J. A. Durham, Dink Hudson.

Burk To Play Haskell Eleven Here Fri. Night

The Bulldogs will be seeking their second victory of the season here Friday night when they play Haskell. They won their first game last Friday, defeating the Iowa Park Hawks 20 to 12.

Sports writers are giving the Bulldogs one or two touchdowns the favorites. Haskell always fields a strong team. In the past they have upset the favorites many times. It won't be a run-away for either side. Come out for a real good game.

Bake Sale

There will be a bake sale of pies and cakes Saturday in front of Herring's Hardware and The Famous Dept. Store to help support Little League Football.

Grapefruit are so-called because they sometimes grow in clusters.

Let's Support Kid Football

Last Friday night we saw the Bulldogs upset the Iowa Park Hawks. Next Monday night at 8 P. M., we hope to see it happen again when our local Midget football team plays Iowa Park eleven at the High School stadium.

At present the Little League Football Club has five kid football teams operating. They are divided into 3 age groups and sizes. There are two teams weighing up to 75 pounds. They are the Hawks, sponsored by Herring's Hardware and Burk Insurance Agency and coached by Joe Dodson and C. W. Prough. ## Youth Center Needs Our Contributions

The life of the Burkburnett Youth Center is depending upon your contribution of time, talents and money. Money must be raised for indebtedness, for building repairs and additional operation expenses if we are to continue this fine civic project.

The center needs, chairs, folding tables, magazines and books, bookcases, table games and such games as indoor horseshoes and quoits, pictures and lamps. A contribution of time of just one hour from each interested adult is an urgent need.

This coming week, a letter asking your donation will be sent to the homes of this community, by the Youth Center Board of Directors through the students in our school system. Every citizen will be contacted with this letter. Won't you please respond generously that our town may continue to have this fine place of supervised recreation for the youth of this area?

Nothing To Gain — Everything To Lose

M. T. Phelps, the distinguished Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona, has written to President Eisenhower charging him with "a flagrant breach of your duty to the people" in inviting Nikita Khrushchev to be their guest. He notes that "sovereignty still resides in the people" and that "their wishes should have been considered before you subjected them to the humiliation of your action entails."

The letter continues: "I most humbly petition you to recall and reverse your decision. If, however, such decision must be executed, may I suggest that you set aside September 17th as the date for your conquering hero and mass executioner to cross the threshold of the White House as the honored guest of the President of the United States—I suggested this day, Mr. President, because, as you know, it will mark the 172nd anniversary of the signing of the greatest and most profound document in the history of civilization."

"I further recommend," writes Justice Phelps, "that if this event is permitted to occur, that he American flag, under which you so splendidly directed our soldiers against the enemy upon the battlefields of Europe, be lowered to half-mast in recognition of the humility and shame your action brings to our citizens who still mourn the loss of loved ones who died in vain to protect our liberties and in recognition of the stigma under which they must live in the eyes of all Christian nations it was not your fault that fruits of victory were so extravagantly showered upon an enemy more cruel and dangerous than the one you fought and vanquished. But by your action now, you give it your blessing and you cast a shadow of doubt in the minds of our Allies and in the minds of our people that you really intend to defend West Berlin against Russian aggression."

Being a practical man as well as a scholar and patriot, Justice Phelps observes: "I am not naive enough to believe that this letter will be seen by you so I am authorizing its publication and am submitting it to my home paper and to others for publication."

We earnestly hope that these papers obliged His Honor—and that they added a line: "Bonn, London and Paris Papers, please copy."

Confusing Signs

It's strange that a country that is spending billions mapping trips to the moon should not be able to provide motorists with adequate signs to guide them through our towns and cities.

Anyone who drives soon discovers the signs that are supposed to direct him frequently are confusing, hard to find, can't be seen at night, or are missing entirely. The result is delay, frustration and, too often, needless additions to the accident toll.

A simple guide to traffic signs that will do their jobs is found in a manual on uniform devices that has been developed, after lengthy tests, by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads with the help of the country's top traffic experts. It has been available, with periodic revisions, for more than 20 years. Yet today only eight states claim to follow the accepted national sign standards and the variations are so numerous that 'uniformity' in signs is a myth.

If all jurisdictions—state, county and local—can be induced to make their signs conform to the national standards, we will have traffic signs that are clear, correctly placed, visible at night as well as in daylight, and that look the same and mean the same, wherever they are.

All motorists and public officials should be anxious to eliminate this confusion of the highways. The public official who is not might well be put in some obscure corner and made to spend his time mapping routes to the moon. Then he should be made to follow them.

This Ripple Could Be A Wave

There's no doubt the current steel dispute presents a complicated picture. But one thing is sure. The issue of inflation is certainly not a "hoax" as Steelworkers' President David J. McDonald would like us to believe.

Since 1940, inflation has cut our dollar in half. Its vicious effect has been felt by everyone from steeljack to farmer. No one knows better than the latter how prices have risen on tractors, trucks, wire fence and all the other farm essentials.

Once again Mr. McDonald is attempting to force an inflationary wage increase on the steel companies. If he succeeds the companies will be forced to raise prices to meet the increased costs. If the settlement is non-inflationary, steel prices will hold firm for the rest of this year, says two of our leading steel companies.

But even if there were little or no increase in steel prices an inflationary wage boost could mean higher living costs to everyone. This is because of the so called "ripple" effect. For example, back in 1957 when steel prices were raised to meet higher employ-

GROWTH BRINGS CHANGES

Steady growth in residential population, such as Burkburnett has experienced in the past few years, brings a number of important changes to a community. For example, new people in a community mean more housing, more services to be provided, and relocation of shopping centers and schools. Translating this into telephone service, growth means more cable and distribution wire to provide service to new customers and more dial central office equipment. And, in Burkburnett's case, extended area service with Wichita Falls will be available in the spring of 1960.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE

Continual growth in residential housing development brings relocation of shopping centers, stores, and construction of new schools. Burkburnett now is at this stage of development with a new high school in the planning stage and businesses moving along the Wichita Highway. With the completion of the new Expressway to Wichita Falls, further growth and development will occur along the Expressway route. We at Southwestern Bell are already planning future telephone service needs of Burkburnett customers, just as today we are constantly trying to give you more and better telephone service for your needs.

Pick The Room — Then The Color

The other day, I was reading over a study made by the telephone company which showed that the kitchen and bedroom were the most popular locations for extension telephones.

It doesn't surprise me because a good number of our customers here in Burkburnett have ordered telephones for those particular rooms in their homes. But perhaps you'll like additional phones in other rooms—the workshop, maybe, or the family room. All you have to do is pick the room where you want an extension, and then call the business office.

We'll be happy to help you select the color that fits the room—and within a few days you'll have a color extension to brighten your home and help you get more out of life.

THE OLD "COLLEGE TRY"

In the coming months, Saturday afternoons on college campuses will mean lively football games with teams giving it the old "college try".

But Sunday afternoon—minus the excitement of the winning touchdown—can be lonely for sons or daughters away at college.

There's an easy remedy for this, however. Just ask them to make the old "college try" at remembering to call you collect every other Sunday.

Who knows? They may even surprise you some Sunday by paying for the call themselves with the dollar or two they've saved from allowance or an extra job they've picked up at college.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Fina to Bring Pro Football Telecasts in Fall

Professional football fans in this area will be able to see the Cleveland Browns in their bid for Eastern Division supremacy in the National Football League this fall, according to an announcement by American Petrofina, co-sponsors of the telecasts.

The first game of the series to be seen in this area will be Sunday, Oct. 6th when the Browns meet the Cardinals in a live telecast originating in Chicago. Game time is 1:00 p. m. Central Standard Time. All subsequent games will also be played on Sunday afternoons.

The Browns are picked by most experts to fight it out with the New York Giants for the Eastern Division honors again this year. The two clubs finished in a tie for first place in 1958 with the Browns losing to the Giants in the play-off game.

The Browns games will be seen in this area on Channel 3, KFDX-TV.

News From The County Agent

The drop in hog prices emphasizes the need for swine producers to speed up their shift to meat type hogs. Even with lower prices, B. T. Haws, county agent says that producers of more desirable types in many instances are getting market premiums for their animals.

The success or failure of mechanical harvesting of cotton is dependent upon the defoliation job. B. T. Haws, county agent says a good job of defoliation in favorable weather enables a producer to harvest just as high quality cotton as by hand pulling. Some of the cotton in the Wichita Falls area will be harvested by machine this year.

Arsenic Acid and penta are the commonly used defoliant and both have their advantages and limitations. Arsenic acid is applied at the rate of 1-2 to 2 quarts per acre mixed in about 8 gallons of water. This material is toxic to man and animal and is very corrosive. For these reasons, precautions must be taken to protect the applicators and the equipment. Cost of this material runs about $1.75 per acre.

The recommended rate for penta is 2 quarts in 7 to 8 gallons of diesel or kerosene per acre. It is non-poisonous and has no corrosive action. However, Haws adds, its caustic and may cause burning around the nose, ears and lips of the operator. Since it is mixed with diesel or kerosene, the cost goes up to about $3.00 per acre.

The addition of 2-4-D to the defoliate aids in the control of regrowth, in the event of rain between defoliation and harvest. The addition of one pint of 2-4-D per acre costs about 75c. It is good only to control regrowth and should not be used where the seed will be saved for planting purposes. Those who do use 2-4-D should do so only if they are thoroughly familiar with the material. Once 2-4-D is used in a machine, cautions Haws, it cannot be washed out.

Met's Soprano Performs at Arab Festival

The five-week International Festival at Baalbeck, Lebanon got off to a spectacular start July 25 with three performances at the Temple of Bacchus by the Italian "I Musici" chamber group. The famed group is scheduled to perform again later in August as accompanists of the Met's Rosalind Elias.

Following the musical program, the French theatrical group "Theatre Montparnasse-Gaston Bathy" will take over for several presentations under the floodlights at the Temple of Bacchus.

A program of Ballet, the Festival's major innovation this year, will follow the French players group. Four performances by the Ballets Rambert of London are scheduled in the majestic court of the Temple of Jupiter.

This year's Festival will end with four nights of Lebanese folklore dances and songs, hailed during the past two seasons as an "unqualified success".

2,000,000 Ride School Buses

Texas' largest transportation system is now in full swing — the State's fleet of more than 8,000 school buses. Furthermore for the next nine months, these buses will carry the bulk of nearly 2,000,000 pupils to and from school each week day.

It is truly a Texas-size task to transport all these pupils—it is an even greater task to transport them safely. No one will deny the school bus driver has a tremendous responsibility.

But says the Texas Safety Association, motorists are also charged with the safety of our school bus riding pupils.

Sec. 104. Overtaking And Passing School Bus:

a. The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus, which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children.

b. Every bus used for the transportation of school children shall bear upon the front and rear thereon a plainly visible sign containing the words "school bus" in letters not less than eight inches in height.

c. The driver of a vehicle upon a highway with separate roadways need not stop upon meeting or passing a school bus which is on a different roadway or when upon a controlled access highway and the school bus is stopped in a loading zone which is a part of or adjacent to such highway and where pedestrians are not permitted to cross the roadway.

Long Time, No Pay
 Legislative employees will have to wait until Nov. 4th to get their next pay check.

In its last special session the Legislature approved a $330,000 fund transfer for these between sessions expenses by voice vote. But all bills not passed by a two-thirds record vote cannot take effect until 90 days after the session ends. Hence, the November date for this action.

Legislature also appropriated $1,000,000 for legislative expenses, but this was vetoed by the governor. He said he felt they could get along on the $330,000.

Arrangements were being made for some 20 House and Senate employees, who've missed two pay days now, to get low interest loans from loan companies.

Attention, All Boat Owners—State Highway Department has announced that registration and licensing of boats under the new water safety act will begin next month.

Boat owners will have until March 1, 1960 to get their certificates and identification numbers.

Forms now are being printed and will be distributed to boat dealers, county offices, Highway Department Offices and other public offices.

Cost of the licenses will vary with the size of the craft. Here is the scale: Boats under 16 ft. in length, $1. 16 to 26 ft, $15; 26 to 40 ft, $10; 40 ft or more, $12.50.

Boats, regardless of length, if equipped with a 10 hp motor or less, will be exempt from the tax as well as the numbering provision of the law.

The Highway Department will deal only with the registration phase of the new law and not with safety enforcement.

Comment from the Capital —
THE PRESIDENT ATTACKS
"A NATIONAL DISGRACE"
 by Vant Neff

President Eisenhower, who rarely speaks to the nation and then only on matters of utmost importance, denounced the "gangsters and crooks in labor unions who are making a mockery of American justice." In a masterful talk that put the finger on the corrupt elements who are thumbing their noses at our democratic way of life, the President called for a reform law — "a law to protect the American people from the gangsters, racketeers and other corrupt elements who have invaded the labor-management field."

In well-aimed words that had the powerful force of bullets, he demanded a law to meet the kind of "racketeering, corruption and abusive power" that have been endlessly disclosed by the Senate Investigating Committee hearings by Senator McClellan. He went further than that and named a bill now before Congress which he would like to see enacted into law — the Landrum-Griffin Bill which he described as a "good start toward a real labor reform law."

The President, like millions of other indignant Americans who are horrified by the gangsterism in our labor unions, made it crystal clear that our great concern is not with the vast body of union members but with the few corrupt officials and their agents in the unions who are making the American labor movement an adjunct of gangsterism. "We know," he said, "that the vast numbers of employers and union officials are honest, and deplore corruption as much as you and I deplore it. But, any corrupt minority is too large."

The Landrum-Griffin Bill is specifically aimed at that corrupt minority. It does three things that should have been done long ago, and must be done now if our government is to remain one that is "by the people and for the people." It would bar blackmail picketing, a common form of coercion that denies employees as well as employers of a very basic American right — the right of free choice. It would outlaw the "secondary boycott," a sinister form of racketeering which, though indirect, is as outrageous as any tactic used by Al Capone. And it would make it possible for all unions, small and large, to conduct their affairs in a manner that is undeniably just.

The President has spoken and shown the nation exactly how to go about ridding the labor unions of hoodlums and crooks and restoring law and order throughout the land. Now it is up to all American citizens who value their form of government to speak up and demand that Congress take quick action in passing the Landrum-Griffin Bill, and thus making it impossible for a Hoffa to say of the Congress and the government, "To hell with them."

As usually, there will be charges from labor leaders that this legislation favors big business. Apart from the fact that there is no bigger business than the labor unions of this country, that kind of talk is without foundation. No honest labor leader need fear the Landrum-Griffin Bill, any more than honest citizens need fear laws against larceny or murder. What Landrum-Griffin does favor is the kind of decency which the racketeers don't want but which every fair-minded American must want for the sake of our nation's self-respect.

The top twirling honors in the state is shared by old Burk Burnett performer, Miss Linda Wood and her partner, Miss Judy Bristow of Wichita Falls, who placed at the Texas state contest conducted August 29th by the National Baton Twirling Association. The two hold only first place trophies for the state title bringing their sixth award. The summer series of contests including a one in Socorro, New Mexico. Miss Wood, daughter of Mrs. Harold Wood, also received awards in the State Championships in Monette, Mo. and was daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bristow, who successfully defended her title of Junior Champion at Kilgore College.

Why it was made with the permission of the Government of the United Arab Republic, sponsored by the United States Products Inc. to make flashbulbs. Sylvia Covello on the photo.

The Sphinx and the caravan of riders moving diagonally toward the foreground between the Sphinx and Pyramid.

The Pyramid (450 feet from base to peak), stands higher than a forty story building. It covers nearly 13 acres. Each of its four sides at the base is equivalent to 2 1/2 football fields.

Joe Covello, exhibitor in international photographic exhibitions and New York photo-journalist, operated nine cameras to make this picture standing on a tower slightly more than one-fourth of a mile from the base of the Pyramid.

Joe himself was both the object of amateur and professional photographers who were among the 2,500 spectators gathered to watch the world's seventh wonder become the world's most spectacular photograph.

A Service Of The Thor Research Center For Better Farm Living

The problem of which comes first, the garage or the driveway, perplexed one of our readers who planned to do this project himself. "It seemed to me the best thing to do would be to pour the drive and foundation together, then build the garage, but my neighbor says don't pour the driveway until the garage is built. Will it really make any difference?"

Usually the garage construction should be completed, and the concrete floor and apron laid, before starting the driveway. By doing these jobs first, equipment can be moved right up to the construction site without damaging the driveway, something a fully-loaded truck might do to a concrete driveway.

Old tire casings pad fence corners and protect cattle.

A few suggestions regarding the construction: If fill is needed under the garage floor slab, fill sand or gravel is the best material to use. Ordinary soil will settle away from the slab, causing cracking because it compacts gradually. Elevate the garage enough to provide a gentle slope of the driveway, thus preventing water accumulation near or in the garage.

Another reader sends in a suggestion we think is good enough to pass along. It seems his cattle were occasionally suffering injuries from bumping against sharp fence corners until he hit upon the following solution:

Nail two or three short sections of old tire casings (about a quarter of an automobile tire, for instance) around the corners of the fence, and you'll have an excellent cattle protector. We might add that you'll find old tire sections good bumpers for the corners of carts and hayracks to prevent damage to them or farm buildings from possible bumps.

(Any questions on home or farm projects should be sent to the Thor Research Center, Marengo, Ill. They will be answered by individual letter or in this column.)

MOTOR MAIDS

Car Costs A Factor At Tax Time

By Martha Johnson, Dodge Safety Consultant

WHETHER we like it or not, the time for filing income tax returns is here again. Car owners should remember that certain auto expenses, as outlined here, are deductible.

BUSINESS USE. People who use their cars exclusively for work may deduct the full cost of upkeep, including gasoline, oil, repairs, garage rent, insurance and depreciation.

But if a car is used for both work and pleasure, only the percentage of business use may be claimed. The expense of driving a car to and from work is NOT deductible.

PERSONAL USE. If you plan to itemize your deductions on the long form (Form 1040) you may claim:

- License tags and annual car registration fees.
- State gasoline taxes.
- State or local taxes on the total purchase price of a car bought during 1958. Federal excise taxes on new cars are NOT deductible.
- Interest on auto loans. If you are financing your car on the installment plan, you may deduct the interest portion on your contract.
- Casualty and theft losses not compensated for by insurance. You may claim any loss resulting from an accident not caused by your willful negligence. Car damage from fire, lightning, storms, hail or flood also is deductible.

But remember, tax or no tax, your biggest saving comes from driving safely.

TRUCKS THAT DO THE NEXT BEST THING TO PAVING EVERY ROAD IN AMERICA!

Imagine a truck ride so smooth and cushioned that fragile loads can travel the worst "wash-board" roads with ease. Imagine a truck ride that virtually eliminates shimmy and wheel fight, cuts side sway on curves, makes steering far steadier and easier, keeps drivers far fresher. Imagine a truck ride that permits higher safe cruising speeds, more trips per day with all kinds of cargo over every type of road surface. Imagine a ride that keeps up to 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration from ever reaching the driver and cargo, a design that sharply reduces twisting and fatigue forces on chassis, cabs and bodies, that keeps trucks young for extra thousands of miles. / Soon you won't have to just imagine such a ride. You can try it for yourself in the trucks that do the next best thing to paving every road in America—new Chevrolet trucks for 1960. You'll see what happens when Chevy's truck engineers design a whole new line of trucks around a whole new kind of torsion-spring suspension. These trucks are new from the ride on up—with wonderfully roomier cabs, brawnier frames, style that's fresh as sixty and more! Don't decide on any new truck till you see the newest of all.

MOTOR MAIDS

Bragging Drivers Cause Accidents

By Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

Do you have to show off the power of your new car? Do you have to demonstrate your skill in making time through traffic?

The National Safety Council warns that this kind of "YOU" causes accidents.

You may be an experienced driver, but if you have the competitive urge to pass cars when you're not in a hurry—then you're asking for trouble.

If you have to beat everyone away from the light, and insist on keeping the other fellow in his lane—you are in danger of becoming a traffic statistic.

The over-confident driver causes many accidents. He gets a sudden feeling of power when he takes the wheel. This power-complex leads him to take chances. And, when you take chances, you frequently don't win.

Try to remember that the other driver pays highway taxes too. It's his road as much as it's yours.

The other driver has just as much right to the road as you have. Don't try to compete with—just try to live with him.

Give him part of your share of the road, and be safe.

Outdoors In Texas

Hang around a bunch of Texas fishermen long enough and you'll hear them talk about when the lake turns over.

Invariably they will tell you that "that is the time for the best catches."

They will explain to you that the lake turns over in the spring and fall because of changes in air temperature, and corresponding changes in water temperature. "Heat rises, you know and when the water at the top of the lake becomes colder than the water at the bottom, the layers of water just naturally change positions."

Actually, what happens is not quite as simple as all that. To begin with there are not always two or more layers of cold and warm water.

In the winter and early spring water circulates at all levels of the lake. Temperature is the same at nearly all depths. Wind and wave action keep the water moving. This situation continues as long as air temperatures are low and there is a fair amount of wind. The big change begins to occur, usually in the late spring or early summer.

Actually, there is no "turn-over" of the lake's water. What happens is the formation of an upper layer of warmer water (epilimnion) and a lower layer (hypolimnion), divided by a thin layer (thermocline), in which there is a sharp change of temperature.

As summer heat increases, the thermocline goes deeper. In other words the top layer of warm water becomes thicker as the sun warms the water to greater depths.

Stagnation occurs in the bottom layer when it loses its oxygen, due to lack of contact with the air. Gases then form, with the decay of fish that die and sink to the bottom.

There being no circulation, these gases remain in the hypolimnion. By late summer this bottom layer is full of poisonous gases and is almost completely lacking in oxygen. No fish can live there. Hence the fisherman doesn't want to work his bait at the bottom of a very deep lake in late summer.

Sometimes fish do venture into the bottom layer. They will do so only because they are pursuing food; chased by predators; or out of pure obstinacy. When this happens the fish are poisoned by the gas or suffocate by lack of oxygen or both. Then they rise to the surface quickly.

Sometimes they are found on or near the top, still fresh, but bloated and with eyes bulging because their swim bladders expanded with the sudden rise.

Fisherman take large numbers of such fish in nets. Usually they declare that their appearance on top was caused by the lake "turning over." But you now know the real reason.

It is also said by those fishing in late summer or early fall, that an unpleasant odor on the lake is caused by its "turning over." Again, this is not so. The odor comes when gases from the bottom are released through the tail races of dams.

At these periods the epilimnion may extend down to 60 feet. Texas scientists have shown by tests exactly what you would expect, the longer and hotter the summer, the thicker the top layer of warm water.

Being a fisherman, you will be guided accordingly. You may not want to fish as deep as 60 feet, but you are safe to conclude that fishing just above the thermocline will be productive.

It is important to repeat that if you are fishing below the thermocline you are not going to catch anything.

Okay then, how do you find the thermocline? There are several ways. First, ask your local game warden. He may know. Or when you go to the dock, ask the operator if he can tell you how deep the successful fisherman have been working their lures. Or ask your buddy, who caught fish there yesterday. Or use your thermometer.

The Thermometer method may be a little trouble, but it will assure you that you have the right depth. Find the level where there is an abrupt change from warm to cool temperature. Then fish above that depth.

Silver Extractor—

That's the name Dave Hawk has given his newest addition to the Extractor family. It's a buck-tailed jig with a noise producing spinner that's designed to attract the fish.

Dave started experimenting with various colored bodies and tails on the extractor lure, early in March. One color combination, a silver head with a silver grey rubber tail proved to be the most successful. It now in production as the Silver Extractor.

The Fred Arbogast Co. of Akron Ohio is producing the silver grey rubber tail for Dave on a one year exclusive basis.

Humble to Broadcast Football Game Every Sat. After

The most comprehensive coverage of the Southwest will be broadcast and telecast this season by Humble Oil and Refining Co.

The Humble coverage includes live telecasting of a major college football game each Saturday afternoon, 89 radio broadcasts and 11 telecasts of videotape recordings of Southwest Conference games.

Humble will co-sponsor the National Broadcasting Company's live telecasts of football games as permitted by the NCAA, and will sponsor three live telecasts of Southwest Conference games, a total of 13. All games played by seven Southwest Conference members, Texas Western University, The University of New Mexico, Arizona State University and the University of Arizona will be broadcast over the radio.

Announcers and broadcast supervisors will travel thousands of miles to the site of each game to bring the on-the-scene descriptions. One announcer will even travel to Honolulu where he will describe the University of Hawaii-Arizona State University game to fans some 3,000 miles away in the Grand Canyon State.

More than 180 radio and TV stations will be used to cover over a hundred urban and rural areas in cities and towns in the Southwest. The leased lines, coaxial cable, microwave and overseas broadcasting systems required would be enough to stretch two-thirds of the way to the moon.

To originate football broadcasts, Humble has a staff of 23 top notch announcers, many with years of experience. Kern Tips of Houston, head of the staff, has been describing games for 24 years; Ves Box and Eddie Barker of Dallas and Dave Russell of Beaumont have been on the circuit more than ten years. These announcers are thoroughly trained to give good accounts of the games. Each year they attend a seminar conducted by Tips and a Southwest Conference football coach. At
