Are We Wolves Or Men?

The Convention platforms, both Republican and Democratic, will soon reveal to us the wonderful benefits we may win by voting right. And with the nominations accomplished, the spellbinders will spread out over the land to fill us in on the details.

As you listen to what the Candidates may be prepared to do for the education of the young and the health of the old, for the farmer, for the "working man" and for those who are allergic to work, we hope you will be reminded of the old Eskimo trick as related by Charles R. Sligh, Jr., executive vice president of NAM in a recent speech.

To protect themselves against marauding wolf packs, he said, the Eskimos imbed the handles or razor sharp knives in the ice and smear the blades with seal blood. Thus attracted, the wolves lick the blades eagerly, cut their tongues, and are overjoyed at "the seemingly inexhaustible supply of nourishing blood they can lick off the knives." They keep licking until they drop from the loss of their own blood, and promptly freeze to death.

Mr. Sligh pointed out that we are in no position to sneer at the wolves, since we have been falling for the same trick for a long time. Too many of us are ready, willing and anxious to vote for the candidate who promises to "empty the Federal treasury at our feet," whereas we should know there is nothing there but the tax money we, ourselves, put in. "These taxes," he said, "are our blood, and we cannot be nourished by it, any more than those wolves can thrive on their own blood."

But we have bought this kind of trick on many past election days. Today, the Minnesota farmer is taxed to subsidize the electric bills of a plumber in Knoxville. The Knoxville plumber is taxed to subsidize the Minnesota farmer. We are all being taxed to subsidize each other, trying through the Federal process, to nourish ourselves with our own blood.

Obviously, we shall have to become less silly, and less wolfish before we can expect the caliber of leadership the nation so desperately needs and the quality of statesmanship that can give us speeding reforms.

Vote hungry candidates will be willing to listen to pleas for Government economy and tax reforms once we make it clear that we are onto the knife-trick they have been practicing on us anemic taxpayers. Let's make it plain to our representatives and all who are running for office, as this campaign gathers momentum, that we realize we can't live on our own blood.

KILL THE KILLER

There's a killer loose, and if we don't nail him quickly, we may never get him. The killer is the tuberculosis germ. We have the weapons—modern drugs. We must use them now or we may not have another chance.

Why the rush? Drugs that fight disease when they're first used fail to work after a while because the germs develop defensive tactics. If that happens with the TB germ before the thousands of people with active disease are found and treated, we shall have lost our opportunity to wipe out this dread disease. Remember that TB is infectious. One person who has it can give it to many others, who in turn infect still more people.

The TB problem is so crucial right now that the U. S. Public Health Service and the National Tuberculosis Association held a conference at Arden House in Harriman, New York, to find ways of dealing with it. They recommended an all-out country-wide community effort to find all people with active TB and treat them with modern drugs until they are no longer infectious. You may be called upon to help. Don't hesitate. TB is everybody's problem.

Meeting The Boss

Spokesmen for retail trade enterprises are fond of saying that the consumer is king. That isn't just a felicitous phrase, it's one of the hard and escapable facts of retail life in this intensely competitive world of ours.

If you don't believe that, an article in the Saturday evening Post of June 4 will prove enlightening. It's by the president of the nation's third largest supermarket chain, an outfit that operates some 1400 large modern stores. He writes: "Within the last few months I have acquired an important new job. I ring doorbells and talk to housewives. This is, I believe, one of the most vital things I have ever done, although I am 60 years old, have had almost thirty years experience in my business, and I am president of a company that will this year enjoy sales of almost $2,000,000,000."

Why does the top man in a huge organization ring doorbells? The answer is found in another paragraph of the article: "I should have taken up doorbell ringing long before I did. It is one of the best ways I know to meet my real boss, ring her doorbell and talk to her. She is the American housewife. The nearly $2,000,000,000 we receive in a year is her money. If she doesn't like me or my associates or our stores and products, she can and will destroy us."

THE AMERICAN WAY

That's Different!

It's no trouble at all for consumers to destroy a store, no matter how big. All they have to do is to walk past its door and take their trade to a competitor in the next street or the next town. Successful retailers, in all branches of the business, know that and never forget it.

Eastern Star No. 655

Mrs. Nell Renfroe was installed as worthy matron of Burkburnett Chapter No. 655, OES during impressive open installation ceremonies held June 3rd at the Masonic Temple.

Other officers installed were Charles Skidmore, worthy patron; Nellie B. Richards, associate matron; Marion Carlton, associate patron; Pauline Morine, secretary; Jessie D. Jones, treasurer; Vera Engel, conductress; Marguerite Peters, associate conductress; Magdaline Carlton, chaplain; Milbrey Lou Morris, marshal; Lilly Tyler, organist; Bertha Skidmore, Adah; Wanda Roberts, Ruth; Louise Magee, Esther; Estelle Mize, Martha; Mildred Taylor, Electra; Ruby Garner, Warder; and Billie Magee, sentinel.

Mrs. Lilly Tyler, retiring worthy matron, welcomed the visitors and introduced the installing officer for the evening, Mr. J. J. Renfroe served as installing officer and his assistants were Mesdames Edith Eidson, installing marshal; Mabel Johnson, installing chaplain; and Gladys Carswell, installing organist.

The Bible was presented at the Altar by Ruby Renfroe, escorted by Lavell Renfroe and Charles Skidmore, Jr.

Mrs. Renfroe presented her theme as "Love and Service" in her brief and interesting address, after which she and Mr. Skidmore introduced their families.

Past officer jewels were presented to Mrs. Lilly Tyler by her husband, Gerald, and to Mr. Billie Magee by his father, Mr. Otis Magee.

The worthy matron presented gifts to the installing officers and to Ruby and Lavell Renfroe, and to Charles Skidmore, Jr.

Miss Ruby Renfroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Renfroe, presented a piano solo. The meeting closed with benediction by Mr. Robert W. Morine.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion by Mrs. Nellie B. Richards. An archway was formed in the East by an array of jade and white glads, and a basket of pink roses completed the decorations in the East.

Refreshments were served in the lodge dining room by Mesdames Elsie Crosley and Bessie Scruggs. Miss Ruby Renfroe presided at the punch bowl. Arrangements of pink sweetheart roses and candles were centered on the refreshment tables.

FOR and AGAINST COMMUNIST PERVERSION OF CHRISTMAS

The leaders of atheistic communism try to take advantage of the good will towards men atmosphere of the Christmas season for their subversive purposes. One of these purposes is to get fellow conspirators out of jail. They urge their followers and sympathizers to send "amnesty" Christmas cards to communist conspirators who are in jail for their plotting against American freedom. Communists call them "political prisoners."

During 1955 the communists succeeded in getting forty-six so-called "notables" to sign a "Christmas amnesty plea" to President Eisenhower in behalf of sixteen communists conspiracy leaders who were in prison for their activities against the American people. Among the noted sympathizers who signed this plea were Roland H. Bainton, Henry Steele Commager, Henry Hitt Crane, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Nineteen of the forty-six signers were ministers of the Gospel. This number represented forty-one per cent of the total who signed this communist petition.

The petition asserted that the communist conspirators were convicted in a "cold war" period and that recently there had been a "noticeable trend to reaffirm the basic democratic traditions of our country", obviously meaning the increasingly successful communist assault against our security system. What a perversion of Christmas! Have the signers of this petition ever sent an amnesty appeal to the Kremlin or to Red China on behalf of the tortured victims of their prisons and slave labor camps, which include a number of Americans?

At the same time of this amnesty appeal two Protestant missionaries, Dr. and Mrs. Homer Bradshaw had to be supported across the Red China border to Hong Kong. They were ravaged by malnutrition and the effects of beri-beri disease as a result of their treatment at the hands of the atheistic communist tyrants and Mr. Bradshaw could hardly walk. Mrs. Bradshaw's mind had been seriously affected by communist mistreatment.

Wouldn't it have been much more in keeping with the observance of Christ's birthday to appeal for the suffering Christians who are being tortured by the communists than to appeal for the release from comfortable American prisons of communist conspirators? As soon as they get a release these enemies of American freedom would go right back to the job of working to place us all under communist slavery. Remember that the communist war against America goes on in every area of American life.

A Service Of The Thor Research Center For Better Farm Living

QUESTION: We're anxious to eliminate the opening and closing of our cattle gate by installing a cattle guard. What kind would you recommend?

ANSWER: A simple method of construction for a cattle guard is to weld lengths of old 2-inch pipe across H-beams. The length of the cattle guard should be at least 6 feet. If it is necessary to make it longer than 10 feet, we recommend making the guard in two sections for easier lifting, with a 1 1/2-inch pipe slipped through the inside of two sections to hold them together. Lifting is essential, of course, in cleaning out the cattle guard. The H-beams should be placed 2 to 3 feet apart and you'll need three to five beams, depending on length of the guard.

Two-inch pipes welded across H-beams make effective cattle guard.

The base for the cattle guard can be recessed cement blocks. Lay them in the ground side by side at right angles to the pipe and H-beams so the blocks will not collapse from weight on the guard. Then place the beams on the blocks.

QUESTION: What causes fogging in a barn on cold days and mugginess on warm days? I can't seem to get rid of this condition in my barn.

ANSWER: Such a problem usually stems from lack of sufficient ventilation, a condition which normally can be improved by installing exhaust fans or a ventilating system. Only by maintaining the right temperature and moisture conditions in the barn can fogging or mugginess—unhealthy conditions for livestock as well as for humans—be eliminated. Barn ventilators in most cases can be self-installed if you have the proper workshop tools.

(Send questions about farm and home projects, maintenance, and repair to the Thor Research Center, Marengo, Ill. You'll receive an answer by letter and some questions will be used in these columns.)

Texas Timber Topics

This is the first in a series of weekly informational articles on the use of wood in Texas. A different subject of practical interest to the homeowner, hobbyist or layman will be discussed each week.

Wood is a very useful and common material. We all use it every day. What causes wood to swell and shrink? Do you know why paint cracks and peels from wood siding? What should we do about termites? Why do wooden floors squeak? What do lumber grades mean? The articles will explain these and many things you have always wanted to know about wood.

CAPT. WELDON F. WRIGHT ATTENDS ARMY CHAPLAINS RETREAT IN GERMANY

Army Chaplain (Capt.) Weldon F. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wright, Burkburnett, recently attended the annual Army European Protestant Chaplains' Retreat in Berchtesgaden, Germany. Chaplains from Germany, France, Italy and North Africa took part in the five day program of lectures, conferences and services.

Wright, a chaplain with the 507th U. S. Army Security Agency group in Heilbronn, entered the Army in 1957 and arrived overseas in February, 1958. He is a 1950 graduate of Baylor University in Waco. His wife, Dorothy is with him in Germany.

Report From Ralph Yarborough

The decision of Fidel Castro to enter into economic agreements with Russia, and his continuing hostile and insulting manner in wringing up Cuban resentment against America made it mandatory that we approve President Eisenhower's request for discretionary powers to alter the Cuban Sugar quota.

Possibility that we will have to alter the Cuban sugar quota does not grow as an act of economic reprisal against the Cuban people, who we have long regarded and still regard and treat as good neighbors. But events of Castro's own making are driving us to a position where we cannot afford to be reliant on Cuban supply for too large a share of our sugar.

When I say that as a nation & a people we have befriended Cuba and have gone to extreme to use her sugar, many Texas farmers know what I'm talking about. As a matter of fact, at considerable injustice to some Texas and other American farmers, the Administration has limited American farmers' sugar production to only 27% of the American market, while allowing Cuba and other friendly nations large shares of our sugar quota.

Report From

For example, farmers of many counties of the Texas Panhandle and Upper South Plains area can produce excellent beet sugar crops and it will bring more money, about $100 to $150 per acre, than most other crops. Yet Texas farmers are allotted only 1800 acres for sugar beet production despite the fact that they have many times requested additional acreage allotments.

Ironically, instead of being permitted to raise more sugar for the tables of America, a commodity which can be used, they are left with land on which they raise wheat or grain sorghums, grains already in fantastic surplus.

With this situation confronting us, I strongly urge the Administration to take firm steps to allocate more of the American sugar quota to the American farmer and to establish new quotas which will not to a substantial degree leave supply of this vital commodity in America to the whim of an unsound, slanderous, double-dealing tyrant.

Mr. and Mrs. James Metz and Mrs. Jodie Metz visited in Houston for two weeks recently Mrs. Jodie Metz remained there for a longer visit with a daughter.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Wonder is growing in Washington as to whether or not Congress, due to take remedial action, has not permitted the U. S. State Department to grow into a Frankenstein monster.

The State Department was most instrumental in getting pushed through in 1953 the so-called Status of Forces Treaty. This provides wherever American servicemen are stationed, they are subject to local laws.

C. W. Harder they are subject to local laws.

As a result, hundreds of American servicemen now languish in foreign jails, after convictions by foreign courts, and are existing on foreign diets, foreign standards of sanitation.

And these servicemen, denied any recourse due U. S. citizens under the Constitution, are for a large part drafted men who never sought foreign service.

Senator Richard Russell, and others in Congress, are waging a determined battle to get this infamous treaty repealed. Naturally, State Dept. is opposing such a move.

But there seems to be little, if any area, left in U. S. life into which the State Dept. does not interfere. Recently California was prepared to execute a convict named Chessman.

There is perhaps no question this Chessman was a bad actor.

And it is important to bear in mind that the United States Supreme Court on several occasions found no flaw in the state procedure, and also found no reason for the Federal government to intervene.

Yet, an official of the U. S. State Department took it upon himself to represent to the Governor of California that national foreign policy would suffer a blow unless the governor granted a reprieve.

Here is an example of the influence of the State Department being used to interfere in a state matter on behalf of a three-time loser. And it is this same State Dept. that still has not been able to get all American prisoners taken in Korea released.

Yet, when it comes to saving the skin of a notorious criminal under state jurisdiction, the State Dept. hesitates not to get embroiled.

The issue here is not whether Chessman should have been executed for crimes. This issue pales into insignificance when contrasted with the fact the U. S. State Dept. is now seeking to influence local state prison operations.

And it is this same State Dept. which has damaged so much independent manufacturing in this nation by forcing down, or indeed, practically destroying, the U. S. Protective Tariffs, and it is this same State Dept. that has thrown billions away in foreign giveaways.

Or as one observer put it, "It's getting more and more to look like THE STATE." Undoubtedly there will be a drive in Congress to clip its wings.

Comment from the Capital —

DOES AMERICA WANT HOFFA-LAWS?

by Vant Neff

Is Congress representing American citizens these days, or is our chief law-making body destined to be dominated by the interests of a determined and very powerful labor leader who answers to no one?

It's a natural question today. Mr. James Hoffa, President of the powerful Teamsters' Union, has just sent his lieutenants a political memorandum, with instructions for immediate action. It includes a "purge list" of Congressmen who "must go."

This raises another, far more important question. In how many of these United States, and the states' Congressional districts, is Mr. Hoffa entitled to decide who shall represent all the citizens and voters?

Here is what Mr. Hoffa's "list" is based on: Sidney Zagri, heading the Teamsters' new multi-million-dollar political-action Department of Legislation and Political Education, supplied Hoffa with the dates of primary elections in each state, each Representative's voting position both on the original Landrum-Griffith labor-reform bill, and their voting record on the final weaker bill — as well as the number of Teamsters' officers in each Congressman's district. Lastly, the information tells the percentage by which each House member won in 1958.

With such facts, it was easy for Mr. Hoffa to see at a glance which members of Congress were voting as the Teamsters' top command desired or disapproved. And the Hoffa memorandum makes it clear that pro-labor means pro-Hoffa. As for the purge list — there are 96, and Hoffa's orders are definite — they must "go."

This type of "purge" is a brutal, vindictive pressure-play that has been tried from time to time by many men in influential positions. It nearly always comes from one whose accumulated power has removed him in a subtle, often sinister way, from the basic traditions of the country and its citizens. A President, a famous and beloved figure, once tried to "purge" the Supreme Court. He failed. Has the time now arrived when a man with notorious underworld associates, blatantly degenerated to his own very special, sometimes shady, interests and powers, can succeed where an infinitely greater man could not?

Added to the fundamental insolence and outrage of the "purge list" itself, is the scope of Mr. Hoffa's instructions to his lieutenants. He outlines a positive program, naming names — too many to give here — and provides instructions for either support or defeat. His instructions to the local leaders are massive and impudent — only a single state, he feels, is today immune from his program. This state is South Carolina, and Mr. Hoffa says of this state — "no possibilities — solid Dixiecrat bloc." The word "possibilities" used in this connection describes clearly Mr. Hoffa's intensely personal approach to these Congressmen elected by all the American people.

The Hoffa memorandum ends with the names of fifteen Congressmen who must get unlimited Teamster support. Mr. Hoffa tells his local men to act directly — these Congressmen are, it seems, "hard-core Congressmen (who) should be contacted by the local union leadership in their districts . . . to assure them of Teamster all-out support."

Here we have the ultimate in blatant, don't-give-a-damn-for-anyone political pressure by a powerful, rich labor Baron who feels he answers to no one.

This raises two questions in the average American citizen's mind. First: just where does such a labor-leader come off? And second: If these chosen, blindly-pro-labor Congressmen are assured of Hoffa's complete support, and it helps elect them, then who can assure the rest of us that we don't face a future where every law that governs us is to be flatly and exclusively pro-labor — in fact, nothing but a Hoffa-law?

Big Race On At Missile Sites In Oklahoma

As tense as a missile countdown is the race now going on between construction crews at Atlas CBM sites, Number 1 and 2. Lone Wolf and Snyder, Okla. Both crews are vying to see who will be first to push their shafting work to a depth of 180 feet, the required depth for the hole where a concrete silo will be placed to house the Atlas.

Both shafts had plunged downward to the halfway mark on Monday, May 9th. Site 1 had stayed number one on the progress chart until recently. Rain and obstacles in the way of shafting at Site 1 have aided Site 2 in catching up. Both shafting projects are still on schedule and expected to be completed by early July.

Major Baswell said that work is on schedule at all of the 12 missile sites.

Shafting at Site 3, Cache was at the 40 foot mark on Monday, and at Site 4, Frederick, 20 ft. A open cut excavation at Site

5, Fargo, Tex., is underway with dewatering work being done. Open cut excavation is expected to be completed at Site 6, Creta, and Site 11, Manitou, this week. Monday it was 65% completed at Site 7, Hollis, and 15% completed at Site 8, Mangum.

Sites 9, 10 and 12, (Willow, Hobart and Granite) are being fenced and the grounds and buildings prepared for construction buildings.

Meanwhile, Lt. Col. Ullin L. Hudson, Chief of the Altus Field Office, Air Force Ballistic Missile, described the work on the sites as very satisfactory. He said that the USAF Representatives have been working closely with the Army Engineers, helping interpret and clarify the missile silo designs, and monitoring the construction progress.

In addition to Col Hudsons office and the Army Engineers, a number of other agencies are now settled at Altus AFB and involved in the Atlas missile project.

Lt. Col. Lynn P. Smith heads the Air Material Command Missile Field Office which will be responsible for administering the contracts of Convair and other contractors.

Maj. C. V. Chapman, Assistant Air Force Regional Civil Engineer, Dallas, is at Altus to monitor the expenditure of funds.

To represent Altus AFB in the Atlas project, Brig. Gen. Howard W. Moore, 816th Air Division Commander, has appointed Col. Leo C. Brooks as the missile support coordinator.

Morrison-Knudson Co. and Hardeman and Associates, prime contractors on the project, have moved their permanent offices with about 40 people to the base. They are located west of the Liquid Oxygen plant.

Col. Hudson said that all of these agencies meet once each week to review the problems and progress of the construction.

Outside of the Atlas project, Col. Hudson revealed that the Air Force will spend upwards of $90,000 in improving the defense access roads leading to the 12 launching sites. The work will be done by the Oklahoma Department of Highways.

He said that heavy equipment missile and fuel transport trailers will be moved over the roads.

MONEY

Dollars, dimes, nickels, pennies... imagine the fine things these coins will buy. A cute new hat for that special anniversary, or curtains for the boys' room, perhaps a new tire for the car, even the down payment on that washing machine which has been sorely needed.

In another case, these same coins might be the exact amount for the fare back home to visit loved ones we have so longed to see. They might buy food for a hungry family. Start a forgotten man on the road to rehabilitation. Buy medicine... or a toy for a sick child. Or be the means to heat a cold and lonely house.

And yet, whatever their shiny value might be; whatever wonderful worldly possessions they may buy or how much temporal good they might do... these coins, as money, are absolutely worthless toward buying the one thing most important to man. Only through God can we all have the bountiful riches of eternal life... begin today, this very minute, making plans to go to His House. Be in your church tomorrow.

© 1959 Colman Adv. Serv., P. O. Box 4897, Dallas, Texas

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

PVT. WILLIAM M. GRAY AT FORT SILL, OKLA. FOR ADVANCED TRAINING

Army Pvt. William M. Gray, son of Monroe Gray, Berry St. Burkburnett, is receiving eight weeks of advanced individual training at the Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla. The training is scheduled to end July 22nd.

Gray is being trained to service and maintain the 105 millimeter howitzer, a light field artillery weapon.

He entered the Army last March and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. The 20 year old soldier is a 1958 graduate of Burkburnett High School.

Before entering the Army he was employed by the Sloan Oil Co.

Mrs. Wanda Enloe and girls have returned home from a visit with friends in Alice, Texas.

Miss Burkburnett Entries Wanted Before July 10th

The Modern Study club is continuing its search for talented and beautiful young ladies to participate in the second annual Miss Burkburnett Pageant.

This local pageant is a preliminary elimination leading to the Miss Texas Pageant and Miss America Pageant, and the winner of the second annual Miss Burkburnett Pageant will receive a partially expense paid trip to the Miss Texas Pageant in July, 1961.

All entrants in the Pageant must be between the ages of 16-28, must never have been married and must have been a resident of Burkburnett for three months, in addition to displaying their talents in a three minute routine.

The entries deadline, July 10, is drawing near. If you know a qualified young lady, suggest her to the entries committee. Chairman of the entries committee is Mrs. Martin Wright at 569-3623.

News From The County Agent

Texas far outranked other states in cash receipts from farm marketing of cotton, rice and grain sorghum in 1959, reports B. T. Haws, county agent.

Cotton was the leading income source for Texas Farmers as it brought in one-third of the total agricultural receipts. Although Texas grain sorghum accounted for over half of the total U. S. production, it accounted for only 10% of the State's farm income.

In other rankings, Texas was second in receipts from cattle and calves, 4th in sheep and lambs and peanuts and 5th in flaxseed. Even though Texas retained its top spot for number of cattle and calves on hand, Iowa ranked first in total cash receipts.

The date of the Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show is January 27th thru Feb. 5th.

Gov. Price Daniel by proclamation has designated the week of July 24th to 30th as Farm Safety week in Texas. He urges rural residents and organizations to make safety their number one project for the months ahead.

Increased mechanization marked the Texas Cotton harvest in 1950-1960. Machine stripping and picking accounted for 44% of the State's upland harvest last year--up from 35% for a year earlier.

Broiler condemnations at the processing plant are expensive to the producer. B. T. Haws, county agent says condemnation at the nation's processing plants are taking an estimated $22 to $25 million annually out of the producer's pocket. Since Texas is a major broiler producing state, he says these losses are of prime importance.

A successful fly control program for the farm should include sanitation as well as the use of chemicals. Breeding and collecting places should be eliminated or made unattractive to flies and the use of chemicals should include starting and keeping a spray schedule going as long as it is needed. Local county extension agents can provide information on fly control programs.

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council urges all Texans to be doubly careful now with cigarettes and fires. Pastures are dry and grass fires are on the increase. All available forage is needed for livestock feed.

Hot Weather Versus Overweight—From the number of re-requests for calorie counters, extra pounds must be going on. Those pounds may add up to added discomfort during the hot weather months ahead.

There is no safe way to get rid of excess weight overnight. Thelma Wirges, county HD agent reminds us that there are some important factors to consider in starting a weight reducing campaign.

First check with your doctor before starting any plan to lose weight. Many factors play a part in whether a person should reduce and how fast he should lose weight.

Studies have shown that the most effective weight reduction diets are low calorie, high protein and low carbohydrate. However, a variety and balance of essential foods is still needed by the body.

Nutritionists point out also that it's easier for a person to stay on a reducing diet which includes a variety of foods as well as foods which are familiar to the individual.

A good breakfast is always important, even in a reducing diet. Each day's food intake should include two to three cups of milk (may be skim milk), one or more servings of meat, fish or poultry, one egg (or at least 4 or 5 a week), 2 servings of vegetables (one dark green or yellow), 2 or 3 servings of fruit including one citrus, at least one tablespoon of butter and 2 or 3 servings of bread or cereal.

If you are really concerned about losing weight, get a calorie chart and start counting your calories. Remember that you can reduce the number of calories amazingly by omitting rich desserts, like pie, cake and doughnuts.

Any weight watchers in your family? If so, you the cook, can be a big help by planning and preparing foods to cut calories.

Here are some suggestions offered by your county HD agent. Use non-fat dry milk solids for cooking. Reconstituted dry milk solids heated and combined with vegetable liquors are good in soups.

Keep desserts simple. Serve fresh fruits or canned and frozen fruits packed in water or juice, not syrup.

Roast or oven or pan broil meats, poultry and fish instead of frying in fat. Avoid "bread-ing" and use of egg batters on foods. Trim extra fat from the meat.

Serve salad materials plain or use low calorie seasonings or salad dressings. These can be made with tomato juice, herbs and lemon juice or vinegar.

Prepare food without added fat, sugar or flour whenever possible.

Tempt appetites with herbs &

spices instead of rich seasonings, sauces and gravies.

Serve low calorie items for nibbling or appetizers. Try celery, cabbage wedges, carrot sticks or other low calorie vegetables or fruits.

Avoid high fat foods such as cream, butter, gravies, sauces, nuts, potato chips, oil, pastries, rich salad dressing, sweet foods, such as cakes and cookies, rich puddings, candies, fountain drinks and sundaes, carbonated drinks and alcoholic beverages; and starchy foods such as macaroni, dry peas and beans.

Mrs. E. A. Moore and members of the county foods and nutrition committee are planning work to be completed on foods and nutrition in 1961. If you would like to see special information presented or have specific information contact Mrs. Moore or your county HD agent, Thelma Wirges. This committee not only plans work for Wichita County HD clubs, but work for all interested homemakers.
