WORLD UNDERSTANDING

By DARLA GORBET

(One of 5 essays accepted by the Rotary club as winners of the essay contest.)

The more than two billion people in the world differ from one another in race, religion, language, customs and national loyalty. These differences have long kept peoples apart and caused them to distrust one another. Such distrust, based upon the failure of peoples to know and understand one another, often leads to war. Actually, underneath all the apparent differences among peoples, there are no basic differences. Men of all races have the same wants, fears, hopes, appetites, general ability and intelligence and artistic sense. All comparative studies of peoples tend to show that the feelings and capacities of all great groups of mankind are alike. Education and culture are factors that create differences in ability to cope with the environment. But members of the human race are very much the same in all parts of the earth. And all men have the same problems of survival and advancement.

In spite of the common needs of all people, it is difficult to get nations to act together for the good of all. In part this is because most people find it most difficult to think in terms other than their own nation. It is true also because of differing cultures. The cultures of people is its distinctive way of living. Any culture is made up of a great number of beliefs, traditions, customs, traits and attainments. Most nations have things in their culture which make them different from other cultures. For instance, the culture of the United States and Canada is different in many respects from the cultures of Spain, Portugal and Argentina. The culture of Japan is different from that of Great Britain or Germany. Contacts among cultures have always supplied likely causes of war. In the present world messages flash almost instantly between distant places and a person can fly to any spot on earth within a few hours. Such quick and easy contact between cultures greatly multiplies the chances of friction. But it also brings people together and gives them opportunities to understand each other.

EIGHT CHILDREN AND THREE ADULTS BITTEN BY DOGS IN PAST TWO MONTHS

Three adults and eight children of Burkburnett have been bitten by dogs within the past two months. Three of these were bitten last week. Brent Spires, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Spires, 522 Hilltop; Terry Beaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Beavers, Jr., 524 North Hilltop, and Sally Jo Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Mann, 507 Shannon. The dog that bit the Spires and Beavers' youngsters was located. The dog that bit Sally Jo Mann had not been located Tuesday night. This dog was described as a small Beagle, dark brown (or black) and white, and wore a small collar.

In most cases the owners are very cooperative once the dog has been located. They are glad to pen the dog for observation. In other cases, however, the dog owners have been very uncooperative, seemingly not interested in whether the dog has rabies, or who he may have bitten. One owner, when contacted, remarked that he was not about to pen his dog, and further, "There is no law to make me keep my dog up."

The Wichita County Health Unit and doctors were contacted in order to get detailed information concerning rabies, immunization, and symptoms of rabies. The following information obtained is given here as a public service.

Rabies (Hydrophobia)
Symptoms of rabies do not show in the animal until the later stage of the disease. There are two kinds of rabies: One is the "dumb" type, so-called because of the symptoms. The animal acquires a peculiar stare, his voice changes, and his mouth muscles become paralyzed. The dog literally starves to death.

The other type of rabies is called "Furious Type," because of vicious characteristics. He will snap at any moving object, and slobbers or foams at the mouth.

It must be remembered that these symptoms appear in the last stage of the disease. The animal can be normal in every way in the first stage, but will still pass the disease to other animals or to human beings that he may bite.

The dog that has bit a person must be penned up for two weeks. It is important that the dog not be killed or harmed. The symptoms will appear within two weeks. If the animal has rabies, he will die within the two weeks at which time the health authorities will send its head to the laboratories in Austin for analyzing.

Rabies In Humans
Rabies in humans, once the symptoms appear, is 100% fatal. No cure has been found. Death from rabies is described as a lingering and most horrible, torturing death.

If the animal is found to have rabies within two weeks after biting a person, immunization against rabies can then be started to prevent the rabies development.

Immunization
Immunization for rabies is very painful. It consists of 14 inoculations. Sometimes there are harmful results from the inoculations, such as lock-jaw, paralysis, and even death.

From information gleaned from reliable sources, the immunization gives the victim a chance, where otherwise there is no chance after rabies have taken hold.

From this information it is understandable that police personnel and other thinking citizens will go all out to locate a dog that has bitten someone.

Contrast this with a recent case in Burkburnett where the description of the dog was published in this paper, and broadcasted over the air. When the time limit before starting the rabies shots was almost up, the dog was located on the school grounds by a student. It was found to be a family pet, yet the family had never reported having a dog fitting the description given. This family, however, did not mind having the dog penned up when contacted.

Or, the more recent case mentioned in the beginning where the owners would not cooperate in penning the animal for observation.

What To Do

When you hear or read a description of a dog that has bitten someone, and the description fits or resembles your dog, pen or fasten the animal and notify the police department immediately for identification. The dog is not to be harmed. If the dog is identified as the one that bit the person, the dog must be kept penned for observation for two weeks.

Parents are asked to instruct their children to keep away from stray dogs. Teach the child to remember to get a good description of the dog in case he is bitten. Wash the wound thoroughly with soap and water and contact your physician. Report the case to the police department immediately so they can assist in locating the dog.

All dog owners are asked to get their dogs vaccinated for rabies immediately, and then once each year. City ordinance requiring vaccination of all dogs goes into effect July 1st, but for the health and safety of all citizens, owners are urged to get their dogs vaccinated immediately. You will be issued a vaccination receipt, and a tag for the dog.

City Passes Ordinance Against Street Litter

The Board of Commissioners in its meeting April 10th passed an Ordinance prohibiting the placing of dirt, rubbish or other litter in the streets.

The city has experienced considerable difficulty in persons throwing their grass cuttings, dirt from lots being graded, rocks and other litter in the streets, city officials explained. Worse offenders have been those grading off lots and pushing dirt into the streets, officials stated. Some builders have also been negligent by placing lumber and debris in the street.

The ordinance, issued as an amendment to the garbage and trash ordinance, provides for a fine of not more than $200 for each violation, with each day a separate offense.

Sewer Tie-Ins Coming In Slowly

Citizens were reminded today by Clovis Mann, City Manager, that May 1st is the deadline for sewer tie-ins without having to pay a tapping fee. After May 1st a $10 tapping fee will be charged for each tie-in. This is in addition to the plumbing permit fee.

Only about half the residences have connected to the sewer, Mann reported. There were 2479 sewer connections on March 31st, however there were 2479 water meters in use. This is actually about 490 sewer connections above the figure for March, 1960, Mann stated.

Unless tie-ins pickup considerably, it will be necessary for the city to require all remaining citizens to tie on by a specified date. This will be necessary in order to meet the bond debt requirements, Mann stated.

Bulldogs Dazzle Indians

The Burkburnett Bulldogs opened defense of their 9-AA baseball crown here April 11th, by rocking the luckless Nocona Indians, 12-1.

The Bulldogs won the district honors last season with 7 wins and 1 loss. So far this year the Nocona game is the only win in four games. However, it has been the only conference game.

Despite the high winds and blowing dust, they still managed to retain some semblance of a ball game. The 'Dogs only got four hits but they were walked 11 times. This, coupled with 3 errors, opened the way for the 12 runs.

Leading hitters for the 'Dogs were Don Overton with 2 hits for 3 times at bat, and Barney Fudge and Johnny Morren, each with 1 for 2.

Rickey Taylor and Don Overton teamed up as pitchers to

Fly Kites Safely

The summer will come soon and with it kite flying season. So some "flight instructions" issued by Central Louisiana Electric Co., Inc. to "Kid Kite Pilots" who will soon be racing across fields towing their "paper aircraft" into "the wild blue yonder" are very much in point now.

Here they are:

1. Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail.
2. Don't use tinsel string wire, or any twine with metal in it.
3. Don't fly a kite in the rain.
4. Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite.
5. Don't fly a kite over TV or radio aerials.
6. Don't fly a kite near electric or power lines.
7. Don't run across streets or highways while flying kites.
8. Don't touch fallen electric wires.

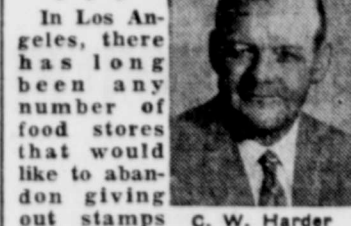

Grass Roots Opinion

ALMA, MICH., RECORD: "When we talk about how our prestige has slipped abroad, let's not forget the thousands who are risking their lives to escape Communism for freedom. When we talk about the military and scientific achievements of the Russians let's not overlook the fact that we have put more 'shoots' into orbit than any other nation and that we are sufficiently prepared to defend ourselves against any and all enemies. When we talk about unemployment and sagging business let's put in a word or two for the record number of employed and the high national income."

POCOMOKE, MD., DEMOCRAT: "We aren't against social security or properly regulated unemployment benefits, but we believe the working man and person who has saved his money to invest in business, are already carrying as much of a 'benefits' load as they are able."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

There is being quite a war fought between those who would like to stamp out the economic cancer of the times, trading stamps, and the big stamp issuing companies which know they have a very good thing going for them.

In Los Angeles, there has long been a number of food stores that would like to abandon giving out stamps. C. W. Harder with purchases, and presumably they have discussed this among themselves.

But the major trading stamp companies have apparently also heard about this matter, with the result U. S. Justice Dept. has been looking askance at merchants talking to one another about this matter.

So far in Washington, Justice Dept. theory appears to be that giving trading stamps is one way of competing price-wise, thus any agreement to eliminate trading stamps is in restraint of trade.

This, of course, is a theory this is subject to review.

Retailers pay good cash for these stamps, and give them out to the customers usually at the rate of 2% on the purchases of the customer. He makes nothing on the stamps.

Neither does the consumer make anything on the stamps. The money the retailer paid out for stamps has to come from some place, so in a market where everybody is giving stamps, the price of merchandise is merely marked up to cover the cost of the stamps.

Thus, the housewife who redeems her stamps doesn't really get much. She is in effect, cashing in the money she has already deposited with the stamp-giving retailer in the form of higher prices she paid, to obtain merchandise on which the stamp company makes a profit. As a matter of fact, if she had the equivalent amount in cash, instead of in stamps which forces her to deal with one outfit, she could undoubtedly make much better deals on merchandise.

Of course, the stamp companies not only make money on the forced sale of merchandise through them, but they also reap as pure profit the many, many stamps that are lost, forgotten about, destroyed, or otherwise never redeemed.

Thus, while Justice Dept. is technically correct in frowning on grocers talking together to eliminate stamps it would also appear that trading stamps themselves are in restraint of trade.

Thus it would seem quite logical for Justice Dept. to either demand, or if it does not have the legal power to do so now, to ask Congress for the power, to demand that every retailer offering stamps also be required to give the cash in lieu of stamps.

Thus, the consumer could accumulate the cash, if she so desired, and when sufficient was accumulated, use it to buy merchandise of her choice at the place she chooses to buy it. As it stands now, when she gets stamps, she is actually getting back her own money, but forced to spend it in one specified place. This, of course, is really restraint of trade.

Stop Downgrading Our Schools

Supporters of federal intervention in public school education are downgrading the achievements of American teachers, school boards and communities in building the finest education systems the world has ever known.

That is the view of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. It supports it by pointing out that there are more classrooms, more teachers, a lower pupil-teacher ratio, lower pupil-classroom ratio, and a higher level of education in this country than ever before in history.

Statistically, the story goes like this: In the last 10 years the number of public school pupils increased 48%, while the number of classrooms jumped 60% and the number of teachers 51%. Teacher's salaries rose 72%, to an average of $5,389 a year. Money spent per pupil boomed from $224 a year to $390.

On top of that, American communities approved the highest volume of school bond issues in history during 1960.

All this has been done without federal intervention, federal dictation—or the federal control that would inevitably follow federal subsidy of local schools.

Social Security News

If you received social security benefits and earned over $1200 in 1960, you must file a report on your 1960 earnings by April 17th, unless you were 72 or older during all of 1960.

This report, according to Erton F. Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls Social Security office, is the way the Social Security Administration checks to see that you have received all benefits due you for 1960. For example, even though you earned more than $1200 during 1960, you can receive a payment for any month in which you neither earned more than $100 in wages nor were active in your own business. Although your total earnings for the year may have been as much as $2080, you may still be able to get some benefits because of the 1960 changes in the social security law.

The April 17th report will enable you to receive any benefits still due you for 1960, Tate said. These reports also enable the Social Security Administration to make a prompt adjustment in case you have received too many checks during the year and thus avoid what might be a hardship later.

Tate added that, because of the 1960 change in law, you are also asked to estimate your 1961 earnings when you file your report. The Social Security Administration can then tell in advance how many benefit checks you should receive during 1961, based on your estimated earnings. It is important to make as accurate an estimate as you can concerning 1961 earnings, then any necessary adjustments can be made after you submit your report on 1961 earnings.

Tate invites area residents who have questions about their earnings and the filing of a report on 1960 earnings to contact his office.

THE COUNTRY EDITOR

R. D. Laney

A young fellow editing a newspaper in a town with a population of about 5,000 inhabitants, refers to himself as a "Country Editor." Far be it for me to try to disillusion his feeling in this respect. He claims that a lot of city folks don't know any better than to believe that "country" means unpolished, naive, unsophisticated or to be open about it all, a trifle unwashed. But he said that "country" to him had an entirely different set of definitions that made him happy to live and walk under that title.

I will have to admit that country towns are dull in some ways. There are no traffic jams, no violent sirens, and less crushing taxes. The inhabitants put up with these shortages without complaint. It does not annoy them to let their children walk to school instead of playing taxi all day long, or shelling out the bus fares. They forego the thrill of teaching the kids how to dodge six lanes of bumper to bumper traffic on their bikes.

But being one who has resided the greater part of his life in country towns, it is my experience that those people can count their blessings and dream their dreams. Perhaps it is because they are Americans, a truly restless people and can be happy even though their blessings and their dreams are country things.

And this calls to my mind an incident which took place in the early 1900's, while I was employed in a small west Texas town as a printer. The editor and owner of the newspaper on which I was employed, bore the distinction of being a "country Editor" in fact, and not in fiction. He wrote 'em as he saw 'em and backed up with whatever force necessary to preserve the integrity of his paper.

Quoting from his paper, the following editorial described the incident of which I made reference to in the above paragraph:

"Last Saturday evening while the editor of the Democrat was writing a letter on the typewriter one B. H. (alals Red) Landerdale, a socialist, sneaked into the Democrat office and as the editor turned to see who it was, he whaled away, hitting the said editor in the right eye and before we could get out of the chair he gave us a couple more whallops in the face and scratched the back of our neck. After the editor got out of his chair, Landerdale changed his tactics from one aggressive to the offensive and did not from the time he came in until the editor knocked him out of the door backwards, say one word. After he was assisted out of the door he backed off and told us he was mad about a reply the Democrat made to an article published over two months ago in which the editor had given him the short and ugly word, to which the editor entered a plea of guilty and offered as a mitigating circumstance that he was still backing up the aforesaid reply and the sentiments expressed therein. Landerdale went home and got his shirt patched." — Breckenridge Democrat.

This editorial brought quick reprisals from the editor's enemies and life for me became a nightmare of fear and apprehension with many exchanges of pleasantries that would almost wreck the printing plant and would often lay the combatant up for several days on such occasions.

Those were the days when the short and ugly word was met with effective retaliation by the recipient. The present code of procedure now being that if a man calls you a liar, to sue him for damages, that is unless you think that he can prove it on you, in which case you reply to your opponent that he is another one, thus making the verbal combat a draw.

The strenuous life of the combatants was very entertaining to the spectators, but hard on old clothes, printing shop equipment and the pocket books of those who took part in such practices. And finally in desperation I took my departure for more pleasant fields of endeavor and which were more adapted to my age and sense of well being.

But it was with sorrow and reluctance that I parted with a man endowed with a spirit of fair play and the moral and physical courage to back up his sentiments, no matter what the cost, and one so worthy of the name, "Country Editor."

Keep Oil Off Hooks

Never use oil on hooks or store hooks in containers with oil rags. The oil is hard to clean from the hook, and an oily hook will cause live bait to die quickly.

Freshening Up Plugs

In a round of particularly fast fishing with fish that have sharp teeth, your plugs may become quite battle scarred. Carry along small bottles of model airplane paint to touch them up. The paint will dry in a matter of seconds.

Use Dull Colored Sinks

New sinks fresh out of the tackle store often have a shine or glitter. Put them out in the weather a few days so the shine will be lost. A shiny sinker can lead to a fish striking at the sinker rather than the bait or lure.

Modern Study Club Met April 17 With Mrs. Don Pemberton

The Modern Study club met in the home of Mrs. Donald Pemberton, April 17th. The President, Mrs. Darrell Nichols reported on the Santa Rosa District convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs which was held in Wichita Falls on April 12 and 13th. This convention was attended by seven of the club members, Mesdames, Billy E. Askins, Bill Browning, Darrell Nichols, Donald Pemberton, Bill Reasoner, Vernon Dude Smith and Martin Wright.

Mrs. Nichols reported that the club had received the following awards: 1st for Yearbook in Jr. Div.; 1st in International Affairs, Jr. Div.; Overall 1st award in Fine Arts; 1st in Home Life Division, Award for contributing $5.00 to Care; Award for being 100% subscriber to Texas Clubwoman; 1st in Education Dept.; 1st in International Affairs Dept.; and 1st for Overall report from a Junior club.

Mrs. Bill Reasoner, member of the club was endorsed by the Santa Rosa District to run for State Junior Director. She was cited for her outstanding work in Federation. Letters are being sent this week by the club to other Junior clubs throughout the State asking for their support of her. The club voted to send Mrs. Reasoner as their delegate to the State Convention in Midland, May 1st, 2nd, and 3rd.

Three members of the club Mesdames Vernon Dude Smith, Bill Browning and Bill Reasoner modeled in the Vogue Sewing contest at the Texas Day Luncheon of the convention.

Roll call was answered by members giving "First Aid Hints. Mrs. Johnny Crane gave the monthly federation report.

Misses Mitzi Mills, Pam Duke and Cathy Potter from the Burk Burnett Teenettes club met with the club and Miss Mills gave the program on Aims and Objectives of the Burk Burnett Teenettes, formerly the Blue Angels Nursing club. She told of the many activities the club has engaged in this year and how beneficial their projects and programs have been not only to the individual members but also their community.

Miss Pam Duke then reported that the Burk Burnett Student Council in conjunction with other organizations were endeavoring to obtain funds to sponsor a foreign exchange student. She asked the support of the Modern Study club to help make this possible. The club discussed this as a project and decided it would certainly be a worthy project for the club and community. Plans are being made along these lines. It was suggested that if any other organization would like to contribute to this cause they might contact Mr. Silkwood, Principal of the High School, for further information.

The program given by Miss Mills and the fellowship with the members of the Burk Burnett Teenettes was most rewarding. It was the consensus of the membership that this group of young women were certainly making a place for themselves in their community by their outstanding civic work.

Plans were then made for the Mother's Day dinner to be held at the Chicken Shack in Wichita Falls on May 5th. This is an annual dinner honoring the mothers of the club members. Also plans were made for the installation dinner to be held in the home of Mrs. Bill Reasoner on May 15th.

Metal spoons should be cleaned at home with non-abrasive cleansers. But if you should need to polish a spoon while fishing, do this: Shred a cigarette and wet the tobacco. Rub the wet tobacco on the spoon with your fingers, and soon the bright shine will return.

A Service Of The Thor Research Center For Better Farm Living

You'll have much more peace of mind when working from ladders if you'll take a few minutes each year to check your ladders and make sure they are in safe condition.

It's surprising how many people risk their lives on step and extension ladders which experienced carpenters, who use ladders virtually every working day, wouldn't go near. You should make a periodic check of your ladder steps or rungs and the supporting frames to catch any dangerous deterioration before it is too late.

Ladder rungs can be reinforced with wood or metal.

As added precaution with steps and rungs, before they have had time to become loose or weak, it frequently is advisable to reinforce the ladder with wood or metal. This can be done with wood by nailing a support board to the inside of the ladder frame, after wedging the board between two rungs or steps...

A reader recently wrote us about the value of painting ladders to protect the wood and give longer life. We do not advise painting because it covers defects and can prevent detection of any signs of cracking. For those who like a protective finish on the ladders, we suggest that clear varnish or wood preservative, or other transparent finish, be used so condition of the wood will be visible.

(If you have any questions about do-it-yourself problems, send them to the Thor Research Center, Marengo, Ill. They will be answered by individual letter and in this column.)

Lions Give Check for Marriage License

History of Kid Base-Ball

People in town have asked where this program started and where does the money come from to support this program. Several years ago, the mayor, then H. D. Smith, met with a group of men from the respective organizations, namely, Lions Club, Rotary Club, American Legion, Chamber of Commerce and City and started the program as a recreational training. Two years ago a league was formed, president, Rev. Leroy Meyer, and John Musick, secy. Last year Glenn Lynskey and Jerry Thomas held the office, who all have done wonderful jobs building the program to the present level. John Rogers and Douglas Svien did a wonderful job in the building of the Pee Wee Park. Two parks are now on city property and one on school lease property. The money is raised for the program through donations and the button sales. The sponsor furnished the T-shirts and the other equipment needed for the game to continue. The program cost between $7.50 to $10.50 per boy depending on their age, the older they are, the more it cost. What the sponsor puts in is money that he does not get back, the manager puts in long hours because he loves the boys and what the program stands for and the umpires get paid only the coffee money because he loves the game. The boys are interested in the game and may be a good prospect to replace Yoggi Bear or Stan Musial. All that work in this program are always happy to see a lot of supporters on the sidelines at each game as that is a good way to show us that they are supporting the program 100%. Next meeting of Kid baseball is Friday, April 14th at 7:30 p. m. at First National Bank building. The budget will be presented to the group and plans for the coming season will be made.

This year will be tougher than 1960—it has twice as many Fridays the 13th.

The right food daily can give you better health and more pep and vitality. It can improve your attitude, appearance and even help you to stay younger longer, according to Mrs. E. A. Moore, chairman of the Wichita County sub committee on foods and nutrition.

Check now to see how you and other family members rate. A leaflet, written by foods and nutrition specialists, provides an easy check list for rating your daily diet and eating habits. Entitled "Are you a Good Eater," the leaflet lists the more important food elements needed by the body and then gives good sources for each. Encourage all family members to rate their eating habits. Get copies of the leaflet from your local county HD agent's office, 305 Federal Bldg.

The foods and Nutrition committee will soon be meeting to plan another years work on foods. The committee will plan an educational program for all Wichita County Homemakers. Their plans will include County HD clubs, but is not limited to this group. If any homemaker will send requests the committee will be glad to consider them, in their planning. Requests may be sent to Mrs. Moore or to Thelma Wirges, County HD agent.

In considering food requests Mrs. Moore and her committee find that many homemakers feel that expensive foods are good foods. According to the committee, price doesn't determine a good food buy. Food must have relatively high nutritive value or it isn't a bargain at any price. Careful planning and selection will make your food buys real bargains. Shopping lists developed from balanced menus will save shopping time and money by giving you real nutritive value for your money.

Good meals everyday, a bulletin written by extension foods and nutrition specialists, gives suggestions for planning buying and preparing meals.

Straightening Out Line

If the boat trip home from the fishing grounds is a long one, part of the time can be put to good use by trolling the line free behind the boat. Use no hooks, sinkers or leaders. Just peel all the line off the reel spool and troll it behind the boat for 10 to 15 minutes. This free trolling will remove dirt from the line. Also it will take out twists and kinks acquired in the day's fishing.

Keep Tackle Box In Shade

Keep your tackle box in the shade on extremely hot days. Prolonged exposure to heat can cause a plastic tackle box to warp. The interior of a metal tackle box can get extremely hot, and plastic lures stored within often will warp enough to spoil their action.

Why is the Ford Galaxie head and shoulders above all the imitators?

'61 Ford Galaxie, like all Fords, is available with the Thunderbird 292 V-8 engine that was the low-price V-8 class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run—averaging 21.3 miles per gallon.

Because it's beautifully built to take care of itself

Frankly, we're tickled to see so many other cars trying to latch on to the styling trend started by Galaxie. But they can't copy that Thunderbird roofline—any more than they can match Galaxie's Thunderbird luxury and handling. What's more, Galaxie is the fine car built to cut your operating costs—by being beautifully built to take care of itself! For example, you can go 30,000 miles without a lubrication. And when you compare price, you find that Galaxie costs several hundred dollars less than some cars that give you less. Challenging statement? We're here to prove it—today.

Here's how the '61 Ford takes care of itself:
Lubricates itself—You go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications (which cost only about $4.00 and take about 20 minutes).
Cleans its own oil—You go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-flow oil filter (which filters better through fibers).
Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves—automatically.
Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminum to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially promoted to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.
Takes care of its own finish—Just wash and clean Ford's new Diamond Lustre Finish and it will continue to gleam like new. It never needs waxing.
