We Should Know Finland Better

Despite the fact that most Americans know little or nothing about modern-day Finland, we all know that they are unique in paying their debts. Thus, Americans were prepared to throw their hats in the air for President Urho Kekkonen who now visits us—and without his hand out.

Finland's Chief Executive follows his official visit with President Kennedy at the White House with a call on former-President Herbert Hoover, whom the Finnish people regard as their savior—from the famine that threatened all four million of them at the close of World War I.

This visit recalls, that, in arranging the initial emergency loan of 10,000 tons of food from Denmark, Mr. Hoover said he was sure this could be advanced against Finland's foreign assets. But the Finns replied, "We will pay. Our people will work and pay." That they have done so on this loan and their portion of the $100 million later appropriated by Congress for the relief of the Baltic states is now history.

Less known is the fact that Mr. Hoover is credited with persuading Western European nations to recognize Finland's hard-won independence from Russia in 1919.

That, after resettling nearly one-tenth of its entire population which fled from territory lost to Russia in military action in 1940 and 1944, Finland shouldered reparations amounting to more than half a billion dollars—and had paid up in 1952.

And that, more recently, President Kekkonen told off Khrushchev to his fact that "... even if the whole of the rest of Europe becomes Communist, Finland will remain a traditional Scandinavian democracy".

In his tour of the U. S. the Finnish President seeks to correct our mistaken notions about his country and to make clear that its major determination is to rein-

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Although the Congress reluctantly renewed foreign give-away spending for another year, there are strong indications that if the vote had been delayed until now, the whole sorry mess might have been eliminated.

Probably there have been few things that have hit Congressmen as hard as the action taken in their recent Belgrade meeting of the 24 so-called "neutral" nations.

For they established without a doubt that they are extremely neutral against the United States.

With a callous disregard of morality, Russia had started resumption of nuclear testing in the atmosphere. No one yet knows what damage there can be to human life resulting from radioactive debris floating around in the air. Scientists of repute warn it could be quite serious; in fact they are more inclined to believe it represents danger than not. And obviously, the Russians don't lack in scientific brains.

Yet despite this weight of informed opinion, the Russians, like mad dogs, resumed exploding in the atmosphere, and it is a certainty that if such pollution damages, it will not distinguish between the peoples of the committed West, and the peoples of the "neutral" nations.

© National Federation of Independent Business

But despite this fact, in their Belgrade meeting the leaders of these "neutral" nations were very chary of saying anything unkind about the Kremlin, more than critical about the United States.

To make their stand even more startling, these nations in the past few years have received over $8 billion from American taxpayers in foreign give-away programs.

The two leaders of this "neutral" bloc, Tito's communist Yugoslavia, and India, have almost evenly divided between them $4 billion.

Voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, the nation's independent business people have consistently opposed this scheme of seeking to win friends by submitting to blackmail.

The cumulative wisdom of this viewpoint seems now well established by course of events.

In fact, the recipient of some of the American starry-eyed give-away programs appear to go far out of their way, and far beyond logic, to be critical of the United States.

When Russian actions forced the U. S. to resume underground testing, which does not pollute the atmosphere, the head of the government of India came up with a nifty.

He disregarded Russian pollution of the atmosphere, but said the U. S. was doing worse because it was "disturbing Mother Earth." This is what $2 billion bought.

force its independence by enlarging and diversifying its industries, and by strengthening its trade ties with customers in the Western world, Africa and South America. Our own role in this program, as he sees it, will be to provide Finland with the modern tools these industries need. And not on the cuff, but COD.

Texas Safety Association

Each winter brings its toll of deaths and serious accidents from carbon monoxide, a potential killer gas loosed into every home when fire is used for cooking or to dull the chill edge of weather.

State Health Department records show that for each of the past four years the lethal mixture has killed an average of 28 Texans in mishaps at home, in automobiles, and industrial plants and public buildings.

So insidious is the gas that by the time a victim is aware that he is being poisoned, he may be only a few seconds away from unconsciousness when he will be unable to help himself.

Health and safety officials at all levels unanimously urge that extreme precautions be taken to safeguard against carbon monoxide, particularly during winter months when windows are closed in homes and automobiles.

Says Dr. J. E. Peavy, Texas commissioner of health: "Prevention is the key word when dealing with carbon monoxide."

The burning of any fuel containing carbon can produce carbon monoxide if there isn't enough air for the fuel to burn completely. This is true of solid fuels such as coal and coke and wood. It is true of liquid fuels such as oil, gasoline and kerosene. It is true of gaseous fuels such as natural, butane or propane gases.

Basic precautions everyone should take to minimize dangers of accidental carbon monoxide poisoning should include a thorough inspection of gas-burning appliances in homes, office and industrial buildings. The inspection should be made by a specialist in gas-burning equipment.

Safety experts consider it to be a fundamental rule that a

Burk Burnett Bulldogs complete control of the game here Friday night, as they defeated the Nocona Indians 50-6, in a District 9-AA football game.

Fullback Melvin Lindley scored the way scoring on a 60-yard scamper, which was never in doubt.

In the second quarter, Harry Simpson scored from 25 yards out. The score was 14-0.

A 26-yard pass from Lindley to end Pete Mason converted the first and third downs.

In the second half, Curtis Moore intercepted an Indian pass and dashed 93 yards for a touchdown.

to tally. Fullback Jerry Barry ran over the conversion.

Opening the second half, Nocona fumbled the kickoff on their own 40, and on the third play from scrimmage, Burk's Dale Lewis passed to end Johnny Koller for 40 yards and another TD.

Reserves were beginning to see action when Fullback Butch Keep went 33 yards along the sidelines for another Bulldog score.

Nocona's score came after a sustained drive of 60 yards, with Billy Tuggle scoring from one yard out.

Burk wrapped up the scoring during the last minute with a 25-yard field goal by Lindley.

Defensive standouts in the losing Indian cause were Robert Culwell, tackle, and Ricky Spencer, right end. Tuggle and Larry Sewell handled most of the Nocona offensive chores.

Curtis Moore showed for the Bulldogs on defense and plenty of reserves saw action in the second half.

An all-new Ford...
Galaxie and Falcon

Some cars have new names... this name will have a new car!

The name is familiar—the Ford Fairlane 500. The car itself is totally new—so new you'll see nothing else like it this year. It is one of Ford's milestone designs—and will be as influential in its way as the first mass-produced car (a Ford Model T), the first popular station wagon (a Ford Wagon), the first four-passenger luxury car (a Ford Thunderbird), the world's most successful compact (a Ford Falcon).

Right between Galaxie and Falcon in size and in price, the 1962 Ford Fairlane 500 is just the right car for just about everybody; you have never been able to buy anything so right before.

Big in room, ride and performance, it is still priced under most compacts. It nurses a nickel as though it never expected to see another. It moves like a rabbit on roller skates.

New unitized body a foot shorter outside... full-size inside

Ford engineers have changed the proportions of the automobile: a completely new unitized body gives you more room inside with less bulk outside. A foot shorter than previous Fairlans, the new Fairlane 500 is pleasantly parkable, delightfully driveable, easily garageable. At the same time it packs into its neat and nifty 197 inches as much passenger room as you had in some of the biggest Fords ever built.

Twice-a-year maintenance Service is reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, twice a year on the rest. You go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. You don't have to touch the engine coolant-antifreeze for two years—or 50,000 miles—at a time. Brakes adjust themselves.

All-new economy Eight from world's V-8 leader

The hand that honed the Thunderbird—and sped the Falcon to all-time Economy Run honors—turned to a new problem here, the world's first economy V-8. Made possible by new Ford foundry methods, the new Challenger V-8 is as strong as iron—and a lot lighter than iron's ever been before. As lively as you'd like... thrifter than you'd expect a V-8 to be... it's a natural powerplant for America's first eat-your-cake-and-have-it-car.

For those who want even greater thrift, there's a new Fairlane Six. Its economy would be gratifying in a smaller car. In a car this size it's a downright delight.

Preview America's newest car now

As part of Preview Run U.S.A., new Fairlane 500's are riding the nation's highways and main streets right now. Watch for them. See what thousands have already seen—and raved about. Take a turn at the wheel—and perhaps do a little raving yourself.

We think you'll agree: this all-new Ford is just right for just about everybody. No matter how many new cars you've looked at, you haven't seen anything like this one. It will be at your Ford Dealer's next week. If you miss it now, be sure to see it then.

JUST RIGHT FOR JUST ABOUT EVERYBODY!

GARDENING FOR BEAUTY AND PLEASURE

MRS. ROY MAGERS

A series of articles on "Gardening for Beauty and Pleasure" by Mrs. Roy Magers, will be a weekly feature in the Burkburnett Star. Mrs. Magers, whose home address is on Shannon Road, is chairman for the Wichita Falls Garden Club.

Mrs. Magers is one of three accredited flower show judges in Burkburnett. She has been very active in Burkburnett and Wichita Falls in various club activities for several years. Among her many club activities she has devoted a considerable amount of time and effort to the Garden clubs. Her articles on "Gardening for Beauty and Pleasure" are of an informative nature, backed by experience and knowledge of the work.

Peonies dominate the garden in bloom, but despite the large size of the blossoms they have refinement, delicacy and great charm.

The plants grow larger and more significant with passing years, so never divide the plant. The roots do best when not disturbed.

Peonies need sun, at least part of the day. And when growth starts in the spring, superphosphate must be dug into the soil, but away from the eyes. This feeding makes for sturdy stems and encourages bloom, and should be applied about February.

This Friday night they journey to Iowa Park for the final game of the season. This should be one of the best games of the year. Iowa Park, no matter how weak or strong, always plays their hardest game against Burkburnett.

Dig a hole two feet square, one foot deep, cover the bottom with bone meal (no manure), add sandy loam, place root and work in more loam. Water until hole is full, then fill to level of ground with soil.

Nov. 1, dig a shallow trench one foot from stem, putting one and one-half cups of bone meal to each plant.

Repeat in February and again after blooming. With the February application, add one-half cup superphosphate to stiffen stems of blooms.

Liquid manure added as buds appear will help color and general beauty. Give them plenty of water but provide good drainage, as they don't like wet feet.

Always buy peony tubers with three to five eyes and only early blooming varieties. Here they must bloom before hot weather. The colder winter is the finer the blooms will be. They must have cold weather to grow. Never place tubers deeper in the ground than two inches of soil over the tiny pink eyes. Some nurseries now hold peony tubers in freezers at 40 degrees so they can be planted in the spring, but most gardeners get best results from planting in September or October.

The following varieties do well in the Burkburnett Area:

White—Festiva, La Cygne.
Pink—Mous, Jules Elie, Sarah Bernhardt.
Red—Felix Crousse, Inspector Lavergne, Officinalis Rubra.

Mikado is a lovely single Japanese peony.

Burk Highway Gets Go Ahead From State Highway Commission

$2,380,000 Is Appropriated To Start Job

By LAURA T. DOING
The district highway office in Wichita Falls has been commissioned by Texas State Highway Commissioner, D. C. Greer to proceed immediately with plans for construction of the 12-mile Burkburnett leg of Red River Valley Expressway.

Henry Grace, chairman of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce highway committee and leader of the Wichita County delegation to Austin for a hearing before the State Highway Commission, last week, was notified of this action Friday by Greer.

L. B. Dean, district highway engineer, said his office had been notified that an appropriation of $2,380,000 had been authorized by the state commission for the "grading and structures for Highways 277-281 from Wichita Falls to Red River."

Dean said his office will go to work immediately on plans for the four-lane freeway from the Iowa Park clover leaf north of Wichita Falls to Red River.

The district engineer said work included in the $2,380,000 program could cover grading, bridges and overpasses and added that "paving should follow immediately."

He said contracts for the grading and structures are expected to be let in late spring or early summer.

Word of the approval for start of work on the Burkburnett leg of the expressway was greeted in Wichita Falls Friday by chamber workers and county commissioners as a "gratifying reaction to the visit of this group to Austin last week."

In Austin October 26, the Wichita County group requested the Texas Highway Commission to provide more funds than originally scheduled for continuation of Red River Valley Expressway work.

The Wichitians pointed out that, according to present schedules of funds, completion of the expressway would require some 17 years and urged the state commissioners to give consideration to increasing allocations to speed the highway completion dates.

The 12-mile Burkburnett expressway leg was cited by the Wichitians in Austin as the priority project.

To Oklahoma City
Start of the construction of the freeway connecting Wichita Falls to Burkburnett will mean assurance of a "super highway system" between this city and Oklahoma City.

Work is expected to start "any time" on construction of a new Red River bridge at Burkburnett since awarding of the $1,020,000 contract to Cummins Construction Co., Enid, Okla., last week.

The existing bridge will remain to provide one-way traffic with the new structure one-way also.

At the same time plans are being completed for the Texas stretch of highway from Wichita Falls the new bridge and for the bridge construction, Oklahoma officials announced Friday a contract for sale of $56.5 million in bonds to finance a toll road from Oklahoma City to Texas near the Red River and work on the road is expected to start within a month.

Long Struggle
The bond sale climaxes an eight-year struggle to finance the 84.6 mile turnpike which will run southeast from Oklahoma City via Chickasha to Lawton then south to the Red River boundary near Burkburnett.

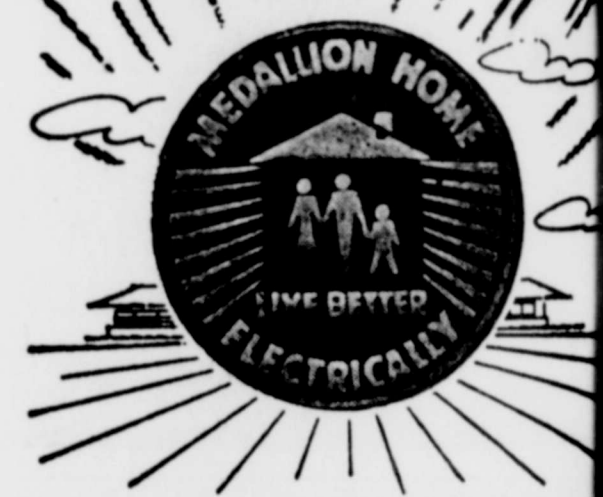

"Upon completion of these three projects, a four-lane highway will connect Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City," Dean said Friday.

The Red River bridge is being constructed as a joint project between Texas and Oklahoma Highway Departments.

Dean said the Iowa Park expressway leg is expected to be opened for travel next week.

HOME DEMOS. CLUBS MAKE TOUR

Wichita County Home Demonstration Clubs made a tour, this past week, to homes of five Wichita County homemakers who show the results of excellent planning as demonstrators. Homes visited were Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. Claude Taylor, Mrs. J. L. Graham, Mrs. C. H. Arnold and Mrs. Bill Lalk.

The demonstrators showed improved storage, upholstery work, yard improvement and plans, new homes, kitchen improvement and drapery construction.

Mrs. Ray Strawn displayed draperies made while sewing as a home improvement leader. The county home demonstration agent gave training to 12 leaders in constructing custom made draperies. This training was in the form of a workshop, where each leader made a small drapery, as instructions and demonstrations were given. The leaders later taught 42 other homemakers to make draperies. Since the training 22 homemakers have made draperies for their homes. By using truly custom made, tailored draperies, with the professional look, a homemaker can save hundreds of dollars.

Mrs. W. O. Wall from the Homemakers Club constructed the draperies for an exhibit you may have seen at the fair, or in a store window. Her workmanship was excellent and the exhibit gives very clear step-by-step construction methods. Most any homemaker can take her own shell, follow the steps and have lovely draperies.

WORKING WITH WOOD

WOOD FINISHES
 Many folks prefer to finish wood in its natural appearance and color. In most cases, natural wood finishes have been primarily used indoors. These uses include furniture, flooring, paneling, cabinets and doors. However, in recent years the beauty of natural finished wood has been recognized for outdoor use.

Prolonged exposure to light has a tendency to darken all natural finishes or woods that have been bleached. Such darkening may be noted by examining the wall behind a picture that has hung for some time on light-colored paneling. This darkening may be minimized through the incorporation of an ultra-violet light absorber in the finish.

Specialized wood finishes are available for almost all requirements. There are plastic coatings which will resist scratching, crayon marks, water stains and alcohol. Some coatings are capable of withstanding steam and acids, while others render wood insect and decay resistant, germ proof, or fire retardant.

GARDENING FOR BEAUTY AND PLEASURE

MRS. ROY MAGERS

A series of articles on "Gardening for Beauty and Pleasure" by Mrs. Roy Magers, will be a weekly feature in the Burk Burnett Star. Mrs. Magers, whose home address is on Shannon Road, is chairman of the Wichita Falls Garden Club.

Mrs. Magers is one of three accredited flower show judges in Burk Burnett. She has been very active in Burk Burnett and Wichita Falls in various club activities for several years. Among her many club activities she has devoted a considerable amount of time and effort to the Garden clubs. Her articles on "Gardening for Beauty and Pleasure are of an informative nature, backed by experience and knowledge of the work.

Soon our chrysanthemums will be in full bloom and you will be exhibiting them in flower shows.

A careful observation of the "Handbook for Flower Shows" will disclose a greater number of "Scales of Points" for judging chrysanthemums than for any other garden-grown flower. These various scales are necessary because of the numerous bloom classifications based upon type and arrangement of the florets.

Every person who grows and exhibits chrysanthemums should study the 10 scales in the Handbook in order to learn what the standard of perfection is for each type grown.

The National Chrysanthemum Society has set up standards of excellence for the exhibitors of chrysanthemums in order that they may know that qualities the bloom, or exhibit, should possess, and that the judges may have the advantage of standards that will be uniformly used.

Scale of points are valuable to both the judges and the exhibitors since they show not only what items are considered, but also tell where the emphasis is placed. In studying these scales one needs to understand the meaning of many of the terms used and to know just what the judges look for under each item. The following will be helpful:

1. Color—Clear, bright, not spotted or faded.
2. Form—Shape of bloom for particular type. It should be symmetrical and have a regularity of floret arrangement.
3. Substance—Firmness and evenness of texture; petals thinning toward end. Substance is the lasting quality which makes the specimen sturdy instead of limp. It is the indication of poor or good culture habits.
4. Fullness—Proper number of florets for the variety.
5. Freshness—All florets fresh to the tips; that is, not withering even on tips of petals. Bloom at peak of perfection, neither too green nor too old. In many scales this item is listed as condition.
6. Size—Full size for variety. In order to judge size it is necessary to know the bloom classification with the standard size of each.
7. Stem and Foliage—These two items are generally considered together on all scales. Stem should be straight, sturdy, not limber. Length should be in proportion to size of bloom; thickness should be adequate to hold bloom erect. Foliage should be fresh, clean, free from insect damage and other blemishes. It should have good substance, be thick and firm and good color. Absence of foliage may disqualify an entry.
8. Spray—A stem with blossoms from a single terminal cluster of buds. The lead bloom of a spray should be at least as high as any of the laterals.
9. Florets—Two types of florets make up the bloom of the chrysanthemum: ray florets and disk florets. The ray florets are commonly called petals and vary greatly in form. Some are flat; some are long and tubular, as in the quill variety; some are tubular for a portion of their length, then flatten out, as in the spoon variety.

The disk florets are generally short and compact and form the center of the bloom.

10. Grown Disbudded—To disbud means to remove excess buds so as to leave only one bud to the stem. This is done to increase the size of the blossom. Of course, the spray type is never disbudded. Buds should be removed early and carefully so as not to scar the stem. Most specimen blooms are disbudded.

No other flower offers a great strong stem to hold a big flower.

Double Late (Peony-Flowered, Organe Triumph; late variety, orange with gold rim. Favors sheltered area and partial shade.)

Narcissi
Trumpet, William the Silent and Unsurpassable; both high yellows.

Tazetta, Early Splendor; white around a deep orange cup, large flowers, up to eight blooms on each stem.

Crocus
Peter Pan; white, many large flowers.

Hyacinth
Amethyst; fragrant, lilac color, bears profusely. Early fall spraying is recommended to control magnolia scale and euonymus scale.

A Malathion spray is an effective control of the sap-sucking magnolia scale. The spray should be applied on a mild day. The female magnolia scale is large and round and white. The best time to spray is after the females have shriveled or have dropped from the tree.

Euonymus scale attacks ground covers, including many valuable vines and shrub varieties. Pachysandra and bittersweet are susceptible. Spray with a combination of DDT and malathion.

A SHAMEFUL RECORD

This country set a new record in destructive fires last year.

The National Fire Protection Association reports that more than $1,544,000.00 worth of property went up in smoke during 1960. This is the first time in history that the U. S. fire losses have reached and exceeded the $1.5 billion mark.

With 11,350 Americans killed by fire during the year, 1960 added up to the worst on record.

The unprecedented destruction of life and property occurred in almost 2,124,000 fires.

Principal causes of fire, according to the NFPA, were careless smoking, defective heating and cooking equipment, electrical defects and mishandled flammable liquids.

Q—Which kind of fallout causes the most concern?

A—Iodine-131 and strontium-90. Both can cause cancer, the former of the thyroid, the latter large-scale nuclear testing in the atmosphere?

A—It's possible, eventually.

The county-wide civil defense exercises held Saturday at the Sheriff's Posse's Rodeo grounds on FM Road 369 served many worthwhile purposes. It certainly proved that all county CD units, plus other organizations and even private firms that would be involved in case of a real disaster, can work together with a great degree of efficiency in coping with the emergency.

Saturday's exercise was of great magnitude, involving several hundred people. All of them fulfilled their responsibility. We certainly commend John Lemley, County CD director, and his staff, in the leadership and direction they gave in carrying out the exercise.

News From The County Agent

Are you planning on building or remodeling your farm buildings or corrals soon? If so, it would pay you to look over the catalog of buildings and equipment plans at the office of your County Extension Agents. The plans and publications, listed are free to the farm and ranch people of Texas.

The catalog lists plans available for barns of all types, corrals, feeding racks, troughs, fences, cattle guards and many other items needed on a farm or ranch. Also listed are plans for homemade labor saving devices and equipment.

Why not drop by your Extension Agent's office and pick out the plan or plans you need? Just ask to see the Catalog of Building and Equipment Plans.

County Agent B. T. Haws reminds stockmen that now is a good time to complete the stockpiling of winter feed reserves and to delay brush control by the individual tree treatment method until trees and brush are fully dormant or two to three weeks following frost.

If cotton root rot robbed you of profits from your cotton crop you might be interested in these points:

1. Grow non-susceptible crops in a three year rotation with cotton.
2. Plow 6-10 inches deep ahead of cotton. This should be early.
3. Prepare a good seed bed, completed at least a month before planting.
4. Plant cotton early as weather conditions and regulations permit.
5. Use early season insect control.

This program worked this year at the McGregor Station and very likely it will work for you.

Save tax money: Be aware of every possible advantage that the income tax laws provide. Whether you prepare your own income tax return or hire someone else to do it for you is not the point. It is to your advantage to know just what deductions are allowed, including those deductions of a personal nature.

Farm and ranch families in Wichita County will have the opportunity to hear the latest information on income tax management from qualified speakers in Valley Farm Community House on Monday, November 6th, beginning at 7:30 p. m. The program has been arranged by your local County Extension Agents, B. T. Haws and Thelma Wirges. Mr. Jack E. Jenkins, Area Farm Management Specialist of A. & M. College, from Denton, will assist the agent's in conducting the meeting.

B. T. Haws and Thelma Wirges say, "The time for filing income tax returns is not far off. Only by knowing the details of items of expense that are deductible can you be sure of paying only the amount of tax that is required. One overlooked item of $25 of expense that is deductible could cost you $5 more. Small items of expense can quickly amount to $25 and if you do not know all of the expense items that are allowed, you might easily overlook tax saving opportunities."

Mr. Jenkins will point out the kinds of records that are adequate for accurate income tax reporting.

Social Security benefits and regulations will also be discussed. The methods you use in managing your operation will greatly influence the amount of tax you must pay and the benefits you will be entitled to receive.

Cotton growers have found that an easy and cheap way of adding humus to their fields and increasing its water holding capacity is by returning cotton burs and gin trash to the soil. B. T. Haws, County Agent, says that development of labor saving equipment for the loading and spreading of the burs has done much to stimulate their use for this purpose.

Haws says that use of the burs provides additional humus and improves the physical condition of the soil as well as increasing the water holding capacity. Not only is the method of application an easy one, but it is also economical. Ginners like the method also for it reduces the nuisance of burning gin trash and permits a saving in construction costs. Ginners feel that improving the cotton land will give them a chance to gin more cotton from the same land. Fire and smoke hazard is also eliminated.

What color hay do you have for your cows? If it's any color but green, you'll be losing money when you feed it. Cows will eat yellow or brown hay, but they won't pay as much in return as they would for green hay.

Here is how hay color affects the pocketbook of the person feeding it. The greener the hay the higher the quality. Quality hay contains several essential nutrients, including protein. Protein supplements such as range cubes, cottonseed cake or protein blocks can be quite expensive, but if high quality hay is available most of this expense can be cut out.

There are several things to remember about hay, whether the feeder buys it or produces it, says B. T. Haws. Hay crops that are allowed to grow and produce seed makes inferior hay. The best food is found in the leaves, and the more mature they are the less food they contain. A yellow or brown colored hay may have about 4 per cent protein, but the same crop properly harvested, cured and stored might have as much as 20 per cent protein — the same amount as many range cubes. It would take only 4 pounds of 20 per cent hay to meet the daily protein requirement of a beef cow, but it would take 20 pounds of the 4 per cent hay.

Tonnage per acre is also very important, but more effort should be made to improve the feeding value of what is produced. In some cases the food value is so low the cow loses rather than gains energy by eating the hay. These cows lose weight unless a supplement is fed. If the necessary food was in the hay in the first place, this additional cost could be avoided, points out the county agent.

Ventilation in your poultry house is very important for full production, says B. T. Haws, county agent. The wide range of temperatures during Texas winters makes it necessary for the poultryman to have an easily adjustable ventilation system so that near constant temperatures can be maintained inside the laying house.

Abrupt changes in the weather affects production to a certain extent and the general rule is—the effect is adverse.

It doesn't take many of these changes for the worse to put you in the position of playing "catch-up" with your creditors. Don't let this happen to you, this winter. Keep your vents cracked enough to allow free circulation of fresh air, but take care to see that there are no direct drafts on your hens. Haws suggests that you use the water as an indicator to decide when and how much to close your vents. Don't let the water freeze.

Mrs. Paul Browning will return to her home in Los Angeles, California, Saturday following an extended visit here with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Butler Westerfield of Waco visited friends in Burkurnett last week.

FIFTH GRADE CLASS NEWS

By Rozella VanReenan

Ten weeks of school are now gone. We have been very busy reviewing old things and learning many new things. We are trying to improve our study habits and our writing. We write on imaginary line writing paper to learn the proper height and spacing of our letters.

In science we had a unit on plants and animals. Each one of us selected a group of animals and made a poster, illustrating the group and its characteristics. We examined insects that were brought to school, so that we could learn the parts of them better. Flowers were also studied to learn the parts and the work of each.

In English we are learning the various steps to take in writing a report. The steps are to take notes, make an outline, and then write a report from the outline.

We have started division by two place numbers and found out that it was as simple as one-place division.

Our teacher has worked with us in learning to figure out how to pronounce new words. One of the best ways is to divide the word into syllables and then say them together.

Every Thursday we write sentences using spelling words that the teacher calls out to us. In this way we learn how to spell words in sentences, and not memorizing only a list of words.

4-H Cooking Group Met Tuesday Evening

Tuesday Evening at 7:30 p. m. the 4-H Cooking Group met at the home of Mrs. Gerald Savage. We discussed the freezing and canning of different foods. We also planned the cooking meetings for the next few months. The next meeting will be November 20th.

By Cris Kostam

We are learning how to multiply by four in arithmetic. We also are learning how to spell hard words in spelling and we try to make 100 two times straight and then we don't have to write a third time. In English we are learning about paragraphs and how to write them correctly on paper. Everyday after the noon recess, Mrs. Olson reads one or two chapters out of a book called Farmer Boy by Laura Ingalls Wilder. We are going to read all eight of her books. We have reading and we write in a Skilltext book. In Health we are learning about teeth and how they grow. In Geography we are learning about the Great Northern Forest and how they built the Alaska Highway. We learn about how Indian trappers catch fur-bearing animals in the Great Northern Forest.

Texas Farm Bureau Annual Convention November 12-15

One of the highlights of the 28th Annual Convention of the Texas Farm Bureau, November 12-15 in Galveston will be the crowning of the 1961 TFB Queen in a coronation ceremony climaxing the annual contest finals. Selection of the queen Monday, November 13th, will culminate a long search for beauty all over the state.

Out of the hundreds of original contestants in over 100 counties participating in the contest, 13 finalists have been selected—one from each TFB district in the state. The meticulous selection process begins with contests conducted by county Farm Bureaus during the summer months, followed by district eliminations early in the fall and culminating in the convention finals.

The crown carries with it a $500 expense account for the winner and her matron escort to attend the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation in December in Chicago, along with the Texas delegation.

Mrs. Florence Patton To Receive Award at Baptist Convention

A veteran 67-year old news reporter who says she has had printers ink in her veins for more than 50 years was named Wednesday winner of the annual Texas Baptist press award.

Mrs. Florence Patton, church editor for the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, will receive the award at the annual Baptist General Convention of Texas, meeting in Austin November 7-9th, 1961.

She is the first woman ever to receive the annual Baptist award.

Selected by a nine-member Texas Baptist relations advisory committee for "outstanding contributions to Christianity through journalism." Mrs. Patton will be awarded a lapel watch and an award certificate by Convention President James H. Landes of Wichita Falls.

The veteran news reporter was nominated to receive the award by Corpus Christi Baptist leaders, who praised her reporting of Baptist news in the Caller-Times.

A native of Wellington, Kansas, Mrs. Patton got her start in newspaper work when she was 14 years old. While in high school she worked in the summer at a Wellington paper setting hand type.

For more than 22 years Mrs. Patton was a reporter for the Wichita Evening Eagle in Wichita, Kansas, covering nearly every news beat on the paper except sports and society.

She said one of the greatest compliments ever paid to her came during this period when Marcellus Murdock, publisher of the Wichita Eagle, introduced her at a large meeting as "one of my boys."

In 1951 she resigned from the Wichita Eagle staff, and because of a heart condition, came to Corpus Christi. Her son, Harold Patton, daughter, Sophia Marie Patton, both live in Corpus Christi. Her other son, Hugh H. Patton, lives in Denver, Colo.

for a Better Tomorrow

Working, learning to sew ... Now, something simple is being prepared and soon her own dresses, and in the future, clothing for her own family. Training is important in the lives of our children.

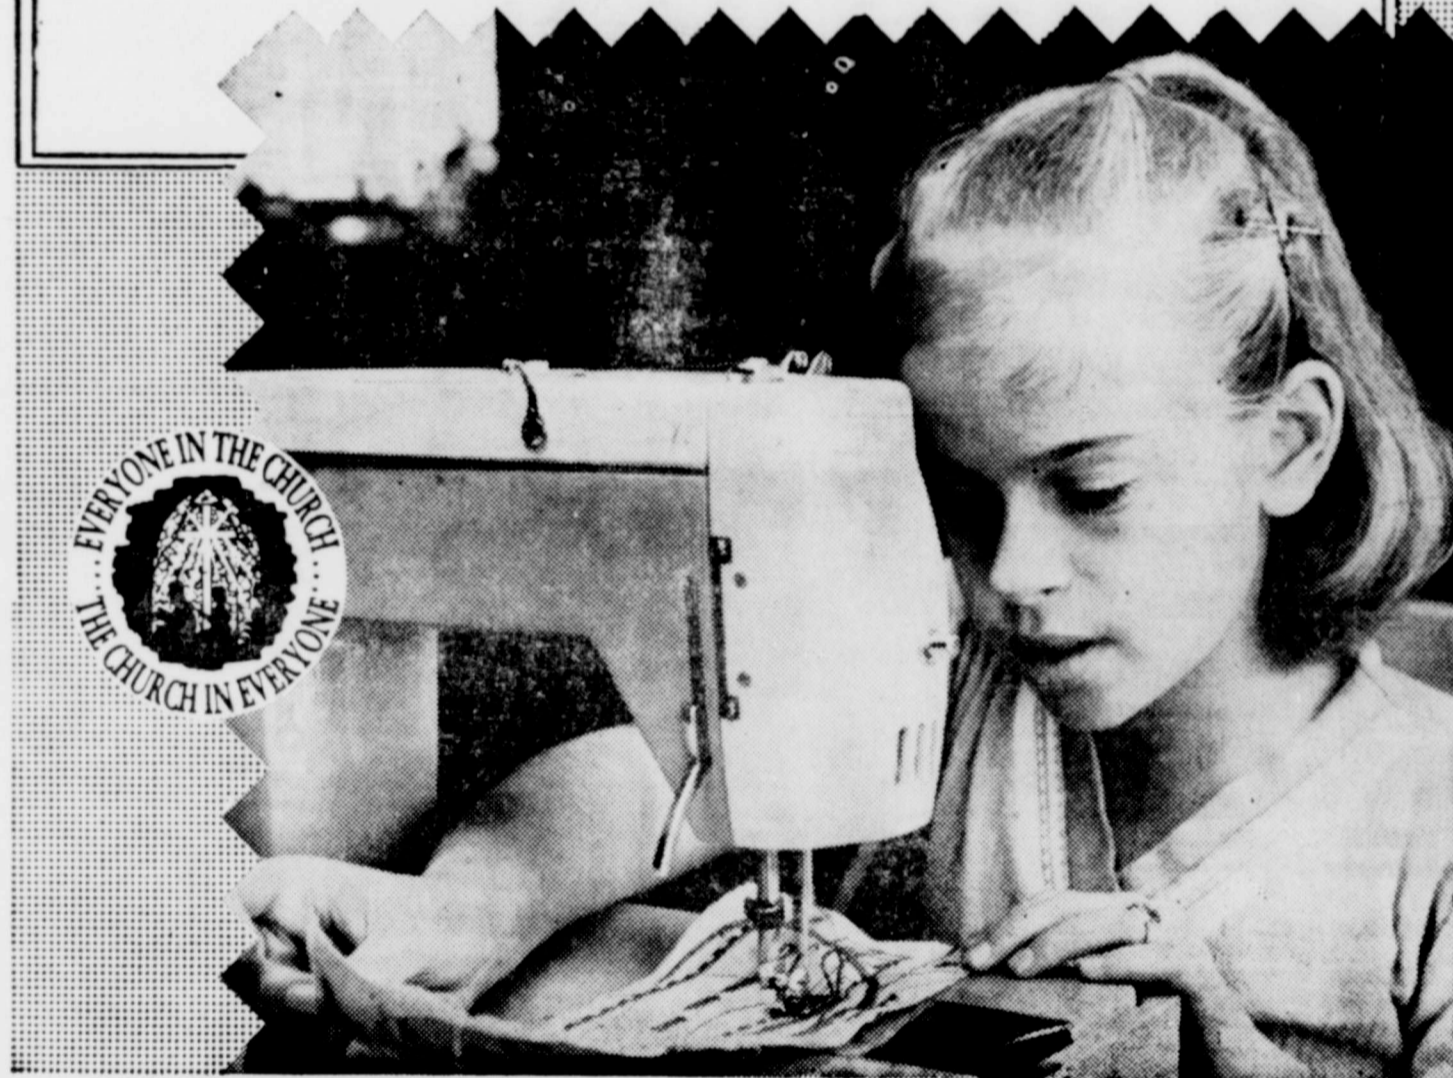

Spiritual training is a must in the lives of our young ones.

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Take your children to church Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

WEDDING CEREMONY OF THE BURKBURNETT COUPLE

First Baptist Church of Burk Burnett was the setting for the wedding ceremony of the Burk Burnett couple on Wednesday evening, Nov. 8.

The bride, Mrs. Jane Winford and the groom, Mr. Wayne Spillers, Rev. W. C. Spillers officiating.

Mrs. Winford of Lindsay, Okla., is the mother of the bride and the groom is the son of Mrs. Alta Spillers of Burk Burnett.

The wedding ceremony was held in the church with tall baskets of chrysanthemums and candelabra held by the bridesmaids. Linked white rope decorated the aisle posts.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Vernon Spillers and Mrs. Leroy Spillers.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, Mr. Howell of Burk Burnett. She wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace with chapel train. The fitted bodice with scalloped sabrina neckline was trimmed in sequins, and long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. Her handkerchief type veil was held by a crown of pearls, and she carried a white orchid accented with streamers tied in love knots atop a white Bible.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Betty Ann Hewitt, of Ada, Okla., who wore a dress of light brown taffeta with fitted bodice, sabrina neckline, elbow-length sleeves and full skirt. Her nosegay was bronze chrysanthemums with yellow and gold streamers. Her bridesmaids were Misses Rebecca Ann and Kathryn Jan Pollan, sisters of the bride, of Lindsay, Okla. They wore dresses of gold taffeta identical to that of the maid of honor.

Candlelighters were Sammy Mark Hughes and Joe Burl Hughes of Davidson, Okla. Debbie Hewitt of Frederick was flower girl, and Dale Hughes of Davidson was ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Monty Allen of Hard-Simmons University, Abilene. Ushers and groomsmen were Ray Ady, David Jacobi and Joe Thompson, all of Wichita Falls, and Mike Hoffman of Dallas.

The bride graduated from Lindsay High School where she was active in the musical circles and was art editor for the school annual. She is a member of the Burk Burnett First Baptist Church and teaches in the junior department Sunday schools. She is now employed by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce.

The groom graduated from Burk Burnett High School and Draughon's Business College with a degree in accounting. He was president of the Student Council at Draughon's. He is a member of the First Baptist Church and is superintendent in the junior department. Spillers is employed with Levi Straus of Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Neal Howell, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were hostesses for a reception in the church parlor following the wedding. The table was covered with a biege lace cloth over yellow and was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Silver candlesticks holding white tapers flanked the cake. Mrs. Jay Gresham served cake and Miss Sharon Stevens served punch. Mrs. Bruendl presided at the bride's book.

A rehearsal dinner was held in the Mary Martha Room at the First Baptist Church Friday night with Mmes. Joe Hughes, Floyd Hughes, Charlie Hughes and Harold Hewitt as hostesses.

The couple will reside in Burk Burnett.
