Six Burkburnett men attended a tour of Tillman County cattle feed lots on Tuesday, February 26. The cattle feeding industry has developed considerably in this Oklahoma County and boasts the Coake and Quam Feedyards at Frederick with a capacity feeding operation approaching 10,000 head.

Group leader for the Burkburnett delegation was Gad Garland. The tour's itinerary included a visit to Gordon Cougar's farm, five miles north of Davidson, Oklahoma. Mr. Cougar welcomed the entire visiting congregation (approximately fifty) with a cup of hot coffee and rolls while he explained his feedlot operation.

After the Cougar farm, the group visited the Coake and Quam Feedyards where Johnny Quam gave a complete tour and answered numerous questions about the feedlot operation. Mr. Quam passed out mimeographed information sheets to the group.

Following the Coake and Quam feedyards, the group drove to Don and Jim Scheiner's Farm, three miles north of the Hollister Corner, nine miles from Frederick. A dutch treat was catered by Underwoods of Lawton.

Edgar Luther Hamm then hosted the delegation on his farm three miles east of the Schreiner's farm. His feedlot is under construction and the group was able to get a first hand view of a new cattle feeding lot layout.

Attending the feedlot tour from Burkburnett were: Gad Garland, Jerry Thomas, Brack Preston, J. C. Hinkle, J. B. Riley Jr., and Web Sharp.

The chairman of the International Affairs Committee, Mrs. Burns introduced the speaker for the day, Mrs. O. C. Egdorf, who has traveled extensively in India, the country of which she spoke. She said this is a very complex country because of its great area and dense population and might be likened to a "riddle wrapped in mystery inside an enigma."

She spoke at length of their religious customs which are mostly Moslem and Hindu. Among the most sacred of objects are the cows and the Ganges River. They might be considered the most religious people in the world. They have also recently received their political independence and are in a struggle to sustain this. Because of their illiteracy and many devastating diseases this will be a hard fight. A Hindu Benediction — "May there be welfare for all people; May rulers follow the righteous path to protect the world; May they always be good to cows and Brahmas. May the entire universe be happy."

Mrs. Egdorf showed many interesting pictures and displayed native materials and art. Approximately seventy-five members and guests attended.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

The need for the public school never changes, but times and conditions may change or require to be changed methods and practices of public education. This is inherent with anything that grows, for growth is the result of change.

Our Texas public schools were created 109 years ago. In 1854 the first law was passed establishing the public school.

It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have intelligent understanding of the important functions of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer of the problem of citizenship in the years ahead.

Yes, "bring me men to match my mountains." That is the need of our times and must come from the public schools—schools that are strong in virtues required for building strong men and women.

We can be assured of this and do our part in understanding and helping the public schools to fulfill their great obligation to our times by being a participant in the annual Public Schools Week, March 4 through March 8, 1963. Schools will hold open house; accept their hospitality, and you will enjoy the experience of going back to school—if but for a day.

HOME TO ROOST

Of late, there has been a sharp rise in unemployment among the teenagers. The reason seems to have been a puzzle to a Deputy Assistant Labor Secretary who deals with the problem.

It would be an oversimplification to blame the situation on any one cause. But a major cause, certainly, has been Labor Department regulations of more than a year's standing limiting to 10 percent of a retail store's total work force the number of teenagers that can be employed at less than the statutory minimum wage—a wage which

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Washington is chucking over the discomfiture of the Federal Trade Commission. A university professor has taken what to the bureaucratic mind is the most reasonable stand possible in recommending that more practical businessmen be placed in key positions in a bureau.

This heresy is contained in the preliminary report on FTC operations by Prof. Carl A. Auerbach, of the University of Minnesota Law School. C. W. Harder He was appointed staff director of a committee to study the operations of the administrative branches of government.

Prof. Auerbach has recommended that fewer lawyers be in top spots in the FTC, and in their places, that actual businessmen be appointed. FTC officials are working day and night to suppress this draft.

Very bluntly, the report states that the FTC is not getting the job done its members are paid to do. In addition, it states that the members of this bureaucracy are spending entirely too much time "policing" advertising instead of cleaning up the market place.

For some time, the enlarged FTC staff has been most busily engaged in analyzing advertising, probably because anybody can sit in an easy chair and pontificate on advertising. At the same time, according to the report on mergers released by the House Small Business Committee, the National Federation of Independent Business headed by Rep. Wright Patman, discrimination and preferential treatment in market place has hit all time high.

Recently in the Boston Federal Court of Appeals the FTC was slapped down in one of the cases it employed to make headlines. It took action against a shaving soap advertised on TV as effective in shaving sandpaper.

Of course, the commercial was quite silly as it can be assumed shaving soap is bought to shave beards, not sandpaper. But inasmuch as sandpaper does not photograph well, in making the commercial a simulated sandpaper, or what is known on stage and TV as a "prop" was used. This could not be done, the FTC ruled.

The court held otherwise, on the basis that deception is only concerned with what is seen on the screen, not what means are employed to achieve an effect to make up for deficiencies in photographic processes.

If the FTC had gotten way with this edict, it would have led to a whole series of rulings.

Of course, it is generally considered that attacks on advertising are merely a feint. The real objective is government control of all communication.

Recently there was the interesting development known as government "news management" followed by career assassination by news "leaks."

Thus, it is quite refreshing for a university professor to recommend FTC get busy solving evils existing in monopolistic trends and quit trying to be advertising experts.

In September of 1961 the American Retail Federation's Task Force on Full-Time Students wrote this to the Department: "The proposal that a number of full time students who may be employed at any one time be limited to 10 percent of the work force, is unnecessarily restrictive and discriminatory. It discriminates against smaller establishments with a total work force of 25 or 30 who may wish to employ five or six full time students on week ends or for special events. It also discriminates against the larger establishments who have customarily employed a greater number of full-time students to meet seasonal peaks at Christmas and Easter, for example. Such a limit (10 percent) would not increase regular full-time job opportunities. It would decrease the opportunities for employment for the full-time students."

So the chickens are coming home to roost. And another word, more recently spoken by the American Retail Federation, is in order: "It is hard for us to understand how, on the one hand, Congress passed a multi-million dollar bill to train an idle work force, and on the other hand restricts the employment of that same work force."

Car Inspection Deadline Near

With the deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, only 36 per cent of the vehicles in Wichita County have been inspected," Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said this week.

Unless the number of inspections is increased appreciably soon, long waiting lines will be forming at inspection stations when the April 15 deadline approaches. "The authorized inspection stations are ready and capable of handling the inspection of Texas registered vehicles without delay if owners will not wait until just a few days before the deadline," Johnson said.

"Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas, that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 will be operating in violation of the law," he said.

Captain Johnson called attention to the fact that since the beginning of the inspection program, vehicles having a defect that was a causative factor in fatal accidents decreased from 13 per cent to 4 per cent. "The purpose of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident and, by removing the link, prevent the accident," he pointed out.

HOME

in inner or outer space by ALICE CARTER

What a wonderful land we live in!

In the past 12-month period citizens of this country sponsored space flights, raked leaves, authored Pulitzer prize winning papers, had babies, solved international problems, and ate 500 million gallons of ice cream.

At the moment, it's the ice cream that interests me. A consumption total for last year was made available by Bob Beverlin, president of Armored Plastics Co., Toledo, Ohio. Further, Beverlin pointed out, the figure hasn't changed much in the last few years.

Since I'm always quicker to nod than say no when offered dessert, Beverlin found a receptive ear when talking of newly developed fiberglass ice cream makers now available to housewives.

The ice cream freezers, identifiable by a faint fiber pattern visible in the tub, won't leak or crack. Available by writing to the Alaska Freezer Co., Winchester, Mass., or the J. E. Porter Corporation of Ottawa, Ill., the freezers will provide the kind of fun for a family that a lot of us knew years ago. Remember when mothers made ice cream with prototype wooden models of this new product?

A serious student of ice cream's history, Beverlin offered these bits of information: • Once a rare delicacy, restricted to the tables of royalty, ice cream — according to the Department of Agriculture — now is classified as a food.

• Nero Claudius Caesar, Roman emperor (54-68 A. D.), is credited with the first recorded use of an ice cream like substance. Snow, with fruit juice and flavoring added, was his dish.

• England's Charles I (1600-1649) tried to keep his formula for ice cream a secret. He paid a chef large sums of money to guard the recipe. Finally the king killed his cook, and, presumably, the secret was out.

• George Washington had two ice cream freezers in his Mount Vernon, Virginia, home.

• The first hand-crank portable freezer was invented by a Nancy Johnson in 1846.

• Ice cream cones were first introduced at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, in St. Louis, Mo., in 1904.

Natural Duck Blind

For the duck hunter who is lucky enough to have a regular shooting pond of his own, a little summer preparation will pay off handsomely. If he has the forethought to stick willow buds in the mud around the pond the spring before duck season opens, the buds will have grown big enough to afford him and his friends excellent natural cover for shooting.

FOR RESULTS — ADVERTISE

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THERE is something about public office that makes men and women careless about spending other people's money. According to Congressman George A. Goodling, Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze sent a 520-word telegram urging support of the President's medicare proposal to each member of the House of Representatives at a total cost of $3,562. This message was transmitted only a few blocks. It could have been done by mechanical typewriters or memorandum at 1 or 2 per cent of the above figure.

Congressman Goodling calls attention to the fact that this action was furthermore "a direct violation of the United States code which prohibits the use of appropriated funds by Departments of the Executive branch for influencing legislation."

A recent press dispatch of a $50 million palace being built for President tubman of Liberia and of elaborate gold-plated furnishings having been ordered for it. Another told of $3 million spent to purchase a yacht for Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia. Much of our foreign aid money finds its way into such extravaganzas.

A Swiss banker recently reported that after the hand-outs our government makes to a legion of foreign countries, the funds come flooding into Switzerland from the political bosses there of for safe keeping in their numbered accounts.

For the past five years public power enthusiasts have instituted a series of visits to Russia by public officials to inspect Communist power installations. The latest of these was the recent jaunt by Secretary Udall accompanied by TVA and Bonneville personnel. The most efficient power plants are in our own country. In 1945 we out-produced the Soviet Union to the extent of 225 billion kilowatt hours and in 1953 we out-produced the Communists by 491 billion kilowatt hours. Nevertheless, these expensive jaunts, paid for by the American taxpayer and usually resulting in glowing reports describing electrical production in Communist Russia, are being continued for the gratification of the jaunters and at the expense of the people.

New Features Ease Cooking Chores

1. Automatic meat thermometer. 2. Oven door removable to clean. 3. Large built-in double ovens. 4. Heating elements adjust to pan size. 5. On and off oven timers. 6. Automatic oven rotisserie.

The new electric ranges cook rings around the rest. With their automatic timers and heat controls that are simple to use, their fast heat, and built-in cleanliness, they make cooking more fun and less fuss.

Since the various electric ranges have different special features, it's a good idea for the homemaker to shop carefully for the model that's just right for her and her family.

Here are some of the features to look for:

1. Automatic meat probes eliminate guesswork in cooking, tell you when the roast is done. Set the control to the temperature you want, insert the probe into center of meat, away from bone, gristle, or fat. When meat's done, a buzzer will sound, or on some models, heat is automatically turned low to keep meat at serving temperature without further cooking. A roast can be kept rare and juicy for hours.

2. Among the many easy-cleaning features of the new electric ranges are oven doors that lift off to be washed in the sink. Other oven doors drop down vertically to make cleaning the oven easier.

3. Double ovens give twice the convenience, double the capacity of single ovens. Complete insulation makes cooking cooler, keeps heat inside oven. Windowed doors and interior lights let you see what's cooking.

4. Some surface cooking elements adjust heat to a 4-, 6-, or 8-inch area at the push of a button, for use with any size pot or pan. These units also maintain pre-selected temperatures from a low simmer to a high boil by cycling the heat on and off during cooking.

5. Two-part oven timers turn roasts on and off even when you're away from the house. One timer is set for start of cooking, the other for stop. A complete oven meal prepared in advance and left in the oven can be ready to serve at the time you set-cooked automatically while you're out.

6. Automatic rotisseries cook meat up to one-third faster than roasting. Meat turned automatically to taste in its own juices comes out juicy and tender inside with a crisp outside. Electric rotisseries can hold a roast or turkey big enough to serve a large crowd of people.

News From The County Agent

Haws, county agent, says changes have been made which could affect a farmer's decision on whether or not to participate.

He lists these significant changes. A direct price support payment of 18 cents per bushel on corn, 14 cents on barley and 29 cents per 100 weight on grain sorghum has been added.

ing farmers on the normal yield of their seeded acreage. For the first time, a farmer receives this payment even if he feeds his grain. Secondly, rates of payment on diverted acres have been reduced to 20 percent of the value on all or any part of the second 20 percent diverted.

Thirdly, price support loans will be available to participating farmers on total yield this year instead of only normal yield as in the past. Fourthly, the grazing period for diverted acres has been set in advance.

The change in compliance regulations makes it all the more important for a feed grain producer to make his decision before March 22 since he can change his intentions until that date.

Texas 4-H Club members are taking to the horse club program like 'ducks-to-water.' Currently, reports B. T. Haws, county agent, 4-H horse clubs are active in at least half of the state's counties.

Because of this upsurge of interest in riding horses and a growing number of requests for subject matter information, Roy Snyder and other members of the animal husbandry and other departments of Texas A & M College are busy trying to serve these needs. In addition to subject matter, the first statewide 4-H horse and pony show is scheduled for August 22 and 23 at Texas A & M College. Snyder says all county agricultural agents in Texas now have the rules and general information covering the operation of the show.

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH -- MILLIONS LEAVE THEM THERE

"I DON'T SEE ANYTHING" THERE IS ONLY ONE WAY TO SEE THROUGH A CAMERA. Did you ever try to look through a camera from the front side? Yes, most of us have... out of curiosity... but we would not even consider trying to take a picture in such a manner. There are many though, who go through life never giving themselves a chance to really see God. In order to see God, one must look at him through faith. Attend church regularly, seek God where others can help direct you in your search for God.

Canoe Anchor

Another way to make a non-scratch anchor for a canoe or aluminum boat is to buy the biggest rubber ball you can find and cut a hole in it the size of a half dollar. Thread the ends of a wire loop deep into the ball. Fill the ball with concrete. The wire ends will hold the loop and you tie your line to it.

THE COLOR CORNER

BY ANNETTE TAYLOR

How's Your C. Q.?

Self-quizzes are still fun — and we have a colorful new one for you to take. It's literally colorful since it's about color. Ask yourself these questions, glance over the answers and then see if your C.Q. (Color Quotient) doesn't go up a notch or two.

1. How can you arrange your linen closet so sheets for each room are immediately identifiable?
2. What do you do with colored sheets if the matching pillowcases wear out first?
3. Do you wash colored bed-linens before or after the white wash?
4. Are colored table linens proper for a formal dinner?
5. What would you do if you had a blue tablecloth, but no matching napkins?

ANSWERS:

1. Take a lead from leading hotels and color-key each room. Now that vat dyed sheets are so readily available, re-stock your linen closet by color. For instance: master bedroom, a pale yellow; boy's room rugged blue; girl's room, floral or striped; and guest room, flower-bordered sheets. Not only does it make for efficiency, but a pretty view every time you open the linen closet door. This hint will really help a bride shopping for her first linens (through she would doubtless need only master bedroom and guest room).

2. If you find yourself with a set of colored sheets lacking matching pillowcases — be brave and get floral patterned pillowcases. For instance, if you have yellow sheets, team them up with yellow floral cases. Just as pretty and more varied than a monotone color scheme.
3. You can wash colored linens with the white wash. Good grades of colored linens are colorfast with high quality vat dyes. These sheets will take rugged family or commercial laundry treatment — including bleach. So forget about separating whites from colored bed-linens as long as you get colorfast sheets.
4. With the possible exception of a state dinner for a visiting monarch, you can be formal at dinner with colored table linens — and a lot more colorful. Your best china and silver will gleam even brighter against a backdrop of a colorful, colorfast tablecloth. For instance: royal blue does marvelous things for white china — and with a red centerpiece you could have color enough to feed the soul as well as the palate of your guest.
5. If you find yourself with a deep pink tablecloth and no matching napkins — combine colors. For example, use shell pink napkins with a deep pink cloth. Combinations work well with other colors — such as brown with orange or yellow napkins; clear blue with soft green.

Permanence

"As long as wood is dry, it is a permanent material."

This condition, prescribed by the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory, can be readily fulfilled when a few simple precautions are observed:

1. Specify lumber that's properly seasoned. For most uses, such as framing, siding and paneling, the dry condition induced by seasoning assures permanence.

2. If lumber is used close to ground or under conditions of constant, severe weather exposure, it should be pressure treated with chemical preservatives. Modern chemicals are toxic to termites.

All grades of Southern Pine in items such as paneling, siding, framing and sheathing, are properly dried and pre-shrunk before being surfaced to final size.

Phoney Minnows

Live minnows can't be used in many lakes so what will get the big ones? The phony plastic minnows that aquarium shops sell is the answer. Hook 'em through the back just like the live variety and figure a way to give them some slight motion way down below where the cookie crumbles.

be Tuesday, March 5 from 10:00 —12:00 in the Wichita Falls Texas Electric Auditorium.

Other session in the work shop series include: "Laundry Equipment," "Laundry Aids and Pre-treating Clothes" and "Dry Cleaning." Dates for these sessions will be announced at the first meeting.

Mrs. George Wyatt, chairman of the Wichita County Program Building Subcommittee on Clothing will preside at the meeting. The clothing subcommittee plans and helps conduct all home demonstration activities in the field of clothing. Other members of the subcommittee are: Mrs. Emil Flusche, Mrs. J. A. Fouts, Mrs. J. C. Cheney, Mrs. M. F. Feltman and Mrs. Lem Park. Miss Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent, works with the subcommittee.

Clara-Fairview Community Met Friday, February 15

The Clara-Fairview Community met February 15th at the Community Center with President Elmer Klinkerman presiding over the business meeting. Mrs. E. J. Simons gave the devotional. Mrs. Newt Crane read the minutes which were approved.

Mr. Sharp, our guest speaker was from the P. C. A. in Wichita Falls. He gave us a very interesting program on "Credit".

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Simons were hostess for the evening. Those enjoying delicious refreshments were the following: Messrs and Mesdames J. Roderick, E. W. Roderick, Newt Crane, E. J. Simons, Larry and Gary Roderick, Mr. James Ludeke, Raymond Schroeder, Claude Adams, Elmer Klinkerman, and B. T. Haws.

There will be a "Box Supper" March 8th for the entire community. The proceeds will go toward the remodeling of the Community House. The Box Supper will begin at 7:00 p. m. at the Community House. Be there and enjoy the fellowship with each other. Bring the entire family and bring a sack lunch for the children.

Oriental Eating

Want to impress your dinner guests without spending all day in the kitchen? Then, translate the usual steak-and-potatoes menu into exotic sukiyaki and rice. Always prepared before the eyes of diners in Japan, sukiyaki can be cooked in an electric skillet at the table for an extra bit of showmanship. Or make your main dish chop suey or chow mein. Whichever you choose, serve it with hot fluffy rice, and a mandarin orange and lettuce salad tossed with dressing.

Keep the guests happy while you put finishing touches on the meal by letting them nibble Japanese Kabobs—made with that American convenience, refrigerated biscuits. They're best served warm but you can bake them ahead of time, let guests reheat them over a hibachi.

Japanese Kabob Appetizers: Prepare a marinade by combining 1/4 cup cider vinegar, 1/2 cup soy sauce, 2 teaspoons granulated sugar and 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger in a small bowl. Trim tops from 10 green onions. Soak onions and 2 (7-oz.) cans drained and deveined jumbo shrimp in marinade for 30 minutes. Drain. Pre-heat oven to 450°. Cut 1 can refrigerated biscuits into quarters and dip in marinade. Alternate on 4-inch wooden skewers: 4 biscuit quarters, 2 shrimp and 1 onion. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake for 6 to 8 minutes. Remove from oven and brush with remaining marinade. Makes 10 kabobs.

Thor Research Center

Even if you live far from an industrial "target" area, a nuclear bomb blast would have almost an immediate effect. The dangers of possible "fall-out" would be multiplied by disruption of many services and complicated by a stream of evacuees from bombed areas.

The struggle for survival within a target area after an attack would be even greater.

The handyman can put his power tools to work now on "Project Stay Alive" by building an emergency food and equipment cupboard. To the distant rural resident, it offers a useful reserve supply. To the urban area survivor, it might mean the difference between life and starvation.

Emergency food cupboard is very important today.

The basement seems the likely place for such a cupboard, except in areas of flood danger. The survival center could be built in the often unused area under a stairway.

The center should have enough shelf-space for a seven-day supply of such foods as powdered and evaporated milk; dehydrated and canned juices, fruits, vegetables, soups and meats; jars of cheese and peanut butter; ready-to-eat cereals and crackers; instant tea, coffee or cocoa, and bottled or canned beverages.

You may also wish to include storage space for blankets, clothing, tents, flashlights, first aid and other emergency equipment. In many countries, someone is serving as a civil defense officer who can advise you on building and locating your emergency storage cupboard. A fully enclosed supply center, constructed of waterproof and fireproof materials, would appear the most desirable. Keep some of your reserves packed in knapsacks or other carriers for quick removal in case evacuation is necessary.

We met February 20, 1963 at the home of our Den Mother, Mrs. Florence Gann.

Ronald Gann led us in an opening ceremony and in the Pledge of Allegiance. We had the ceremonies outside because of the warm weather. We then practiced on our den skills. We are taking an imaginary trip around the U. S. A. with all the dens taking a section of the country. We then went outside and posed for pictures for our Den Mother.

Mrs. Will Teal Was Hostess For Friendship Class Social

The Friendship Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Will Teal Thursday, February 21, with Group Three as co-hostesses.

The class opened the meeting by singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer." This was followed by a prayer by Mrs. E. R. Burns.

Mrs. Teal, president, presided over the business session. Mrs. B. F. Hewell read the minutes; Mrs. C. R. Chambers gave the secretary's report; and group captains made reports. Mrs. Jimmy Johnson offered a special prayer for the sick of the community.

The class voted to contribute to the fund that is being sponsored by the Men's Bible Class to buy new cushions for the auditorium of the church.

Mrs. Earl Van Deren, program chairman, called on Mrs. A. B. Short for the devotional. Mrs. Short, using the theme, "Lord Teach Us," as the subject of her meditations, brought out many thoughts about Christ as the Master Teacher. She drew illustrations from Bunyan's "Pilgrim Progress" and other stories.

The class enjoyed a Bible quiz and a quiz on stewardship—both directed by Mrs. Van Deren.

A delicious refreshment plate was served to the following members, Meses. Preston Johnson, J. B. Ady, E. R. Burns, Agnes Boyd, Hubert Butts, C. R. Chambers, U. V. Combs, Lee Garner, B. F. Hewell, Bob Hinkle, J. D. Kennedy, R. U. Kent, W. C. Skipworth, R. P. Thaxton, Jim Turner, Earl Van Deren, J. H. Whately; Meses Addie Dickson and Ella Billingslea, service members, Meses. H. A. Goodwin, U. B. Short, Jimmy Johnson and the hostess, Mrs. Will Teal.

Farm Facts

The 1962 honey crop set a new record and it was produced by fewer colonies of bees, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. There were some 5,480,000 colonies, about 1% fewer colonies than were on hand in 1961.

Honey production, estimated at 274,814,000 pounds for 1962, was slightly more than the previous record crop in 1961 and 12% more than the 1956-60 average output.

Production per colony averaged 50.1 pounds, compared with 49.7 for 1961 and with an average of 45.5 pounds for the 1956-60 period.

The 10 leading honey-producing states in 1962 (in order of production) were: California, Minnesota, Florida, Texas, Wisconsin, Ohio, New York, Iowa, Indiana, and Illinois. These states accounted for 57% of the crop.

California had a good flow of honey from orange, safflower, and buckwheat crops. In Florida an excellent nectar flow was produced from citrus and tupelo blossoms. A very good yield was obtained from alfalfa, goldenrod, and basswood in western New York. Domestic consumption of honey averages about 20 million gallons a year.

ernment expert of the Agricultural Department. I asked him what caused the difference in the size and color of these snapdragon blossoms. He said that the care which they received from my gardener made some difference; but that fundamentally it was a question of inheritance.

We agreed that the different stalks of the snapdragons might be compared with young people going to school. For some time while at school they may not show their different tendencies. However, one child may be smarter than another, just as one stalk appears to grow more than another. He stated that life is basic, whether in the tiny snapdragon seed, or in the "seed" entering the mother's womb and fertilized by the father. The basic elements, whether of a plant or of a human being, are known as DNA and RNA, which are abbreviations for the life-giving chemicals.

What About DNA and RNA?
I then asked this agricultural expert if the law of inheritance applies equally to snapdragons and high school graduates seeking further education, and he replied that the same laws of inheritance do apply. This probably means that a large percentage of young people should not go to college, as in such cases it is a waste of good time. Applying the DNA and RNA forces to college work is very important. Assuming that too many young people go to college anyway, they should give specific consideration to what line of education they are adapted for. This is very largely neglected today both by the colleges and by the parents.

What About Government Scholarships?

I believe in scholarships to help deserving young people who know what they are fitted for and who are earnestly seeking that goal, whether it is science, medicine, law or some trade. I do not object to carpenters, electricians, or bricklayers getting the high wages they do. Admiral Rickover, who forced the Navy to become interested in atomic submarines, is reported to have said that educational experts and good teachers should be paid more than most Congressmen now serving in Washington.

He claims that education of young people is now "topsy-turvy" and that our voters should recognize this sad fact. Certainly, scholarships are now given out too freely. The young person's aptitudes should be considered carefully and the scholarships should be given only for the education of the student in the direction for which he or she is fitted.

Scholarships and Politics

Unless the above scholarship policy is followed, Government aid to education may do more harm than good. This applies to the building of fancy schools, and government aid to colleges. There are too many "brass hats" amongst college professors, as there are in the Navy and Army.

This scholarship program would not rule out higher education for children whose parents are anxious to have their youngsters get college diplomas, irrespective of their adaptability. They could still be sent to private schools and colleges to graduate and go into some business or profession for which they are not fitted. This is done today; and should always be possible.

Instinct and Experience

Two final questions for us all to consider are these: (1) For our children, does success depend more on education or upon natural instinct and experience? (2) Are they naturally lazy or are they ambitious?

One final thought: Parents can take out insurance which will greatly help their children get the equivalent of a scholarship whether or not the college or the government gives one.
