April Is Cancer Control Month

Designation of April as control month by Gov. John Connally has opened the 1963 Crusade Against Cancer. The educational and raising drive by more than a thousand Texas volunteers will aim at reaching every family during the month. An official proclamation, Gov. Connally noted that one of the twenty-three cancer patients who were diagnosed for the first time in 1963 could be saved through present scientific knowledge and medical skill, through diagnosis. One of three presently being saved. He also pointed out the need for a greater intensity of research, education, and broad programs of research, education, and service, he said, "significant gains are being made in the fight to bring final victory over cancer. Every such gain durably benefits our family economy, and our...

Janlee Church Theme 'Take Time for God' April 21-28, 1963

We live in busy days. It seems as though we never have time to do all that needs to be done in a day. Always it seems that we must let things go undone and this causes tenseness and pressure in our lives. There must come a time for us to "Take Time for God." This is what we hope you will do during the week of April 21-28. During this week of special emphasis we will be having services each morning at 10:00 and each evening at 7:30. There will be inspirational singing and evangelistic preaching in each and every service. Our theme for the week will be "Take Time For God." We hope you will do this very thing and plan from now until then to be in every service at Janlee Baptist Church.

"Let's Go Fishing" WITH CATFISH PEPPER

Burkburnett Star-News Field and Stream Editor

"HELLO MOM," "HELLO POP,"

Wonderful words — aren't they? Yes, every parent loves to hear the phone, and hear a greeting. This is not however, in an ever increasing number of instances, calls show that more and more calls home are late at night or in the wee hours of the morning. Such calls generally come from the police station, county jail, or some such place. The call is for help — or a friendly chatter. If you tell your Junior or Sis that you are home, you are home. Jesse James, Wyatt Earp, Bonnie Parker, and a thousand other names are now being used by those who are late at night or in the wee hours of the morning. You can even get the name of the person being called. My guess is, you should show a picture of your TV personalities to the men such as Doc Holliday, Masterson, etc., to your own — professional name — professional name — and the name of the person being called.

'n reel is a much more appropriate gift for a child than an air rifle or a pair of cap pistols. With a rod 'n reel, he can be taught to cast for accuracy and distance — what a blow to the glass industry this might be. Just wonder how many window panes this would save over the nation in just one year? Yes, if Ole Catfish had anything to do with it. Skish would be introduced in our schools as a competitive sport. Then did you ever stop to think that when you buy Junior a car, it has to be inspected for safety? Then Junior must pass a rather stiff test (both in knowledge of traffic laws as well as driving ability) before obtaining a license. Yet until he reaches the age of 17, he doesn't even have to obtain a license, even say what type firearm he plans on using or prove any knowledge of game laws, in order to hunt. To me, a firearm in the hands of a person with no experience is much more dangerous than is an automobile. As of late, the fish have been very agreeable in taking just about anything that I care to offer them. That is anything other than surface plugs. Just can't figure what I am doing wrong. It has to be on my part, because the fish have always been willing to go for surface plugs before this time of year. Will let you know if and when this situation is corrected.

While fishing for crappie a few days ago, I caught a couple of very nice channel cat on minnows. One of these cat fish was caught in water not more than twelve inches deep. Seems rather early for cat fish to be in shallow water, but there this one was. A friend of mine was telling me of an unsportsman like situation that he was confronted with. He was fishing from the dam of the Iowa Park City Lake and doing quite well with the crappie. Two parties in boats were able to see his action. Instead of landing their boats and duplicating the methods of my friend these two boats anchored right where the boat fisherman was casting out. These situations are becoming more and more, too, frequent. Please show some respect for the other angler and we will all have a better feeling toward our fellow man. Now for a tip to you bass anglers. Have you ever tired casting into the wind instead of with it, or have you casted toward the sun instead of away from it. These two little changes may make a large difference on your stringer. Try them sometime. Getting about time for some cat fish talk — be back later.

PS—Wednesday, April 10 was the day. Yep, finally got that top-water action. They were hitting short, but managed to land three nice bass. Really believe, if the wind had continued blowing, the action would have been real good about sundown. Barometer was very low, too, 29.61 inches. Anyway the report is in.

Obstacles To Trade

What is one of the most serious obstacles to the growth of Free World trade?
Anthony F. Arpaia, former Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission and now Vice President-International Services, REA Express, provides an answer. It is, he says, outdated, unnecessary and repetitious documentation requirements.
To quote him directly, "Trade, like blood in the arteries, should flow freely. A curtain of red tape, consisting of man-made regulations of long duration, conceived in an era when trade was relatively unimportant to one's daily living and nations were satisfied to be self sufficient economically, is a major factor that now hinders the interchange of goods in international commerce."
Mr. Arpaia speaks with authority. REA Express has made outstanding progress in developing new, simplified and vastly efficient methods of moving goods to and from the countries of the Free World. But neither it nor any other private enterprise has any control over governmental red tape.

Mr. Arpaia urges cooperative action by U. S. governmental and business concerns with foreign trade interests to streamline "the burdensome techniques and requirements of such entering and clearing ships and planes at seaports and airports, and the clearing and documentation of individual shipments after the vessel or plane has been cleared." This would be a real shot in the arm to importers and exporters, both here and abroad—and the workers and consumers of all affected nations would benefit.

Poisons In The Home

The American Medical Association reports that accidental poisonings, mostly in the home, have become one of the major causes of accidents in America, particularly to small children. And, it adds, no wonder—a quarter of a million products used in the home and in industry are potentially hazardous.

The products aren't to blame—they serve wanted,

Comment from the Capital —

$10 BILLION FIASCO

by Vant Neff

How much do you know about Latin America? If you're like most of us, the answer is not a great deal. Yet, we ought to. A lot of our tax money is going south of the border for the Alianza para el Progreso — the Alliance for Progress.

The Alliance is a big, ambitious, foreign aid program for Latin America, advocated by President Kennedy well over a year ago. It's a ten year project with a minimum cost earmarked at $100 billion.

Cuba has caused the Administration great concern since 1961 when the President took office. Castro heads the first Communist government in the World not helped to power by the Red Army.

How can we keep the rest of Latin America from joining this parade to the Kremlin? The designers of the Alliance feel that money can do it. Money for new jobs, new plants and factories, mechanized farms, modern schools, low cost housing, super-highways and the like. Advocates of the Alliance are sure that when these projects take hold, Latin American republics will emerge as strong, aggressive democracies, well able to resist Red subversion.

Some of the more enthusiastic backers of the Alliance, call it a Marshall Plan for Latin America. However, when you compare Europe after World War II with the banana and coffee republics south of us, there's a world of difference.

Europe had a good balance of industry and agriculture before the war. When the fighting was over, Marshall Plan money and tools planted new crops, rebuilt the bombed-out plants and factories. The Europeans plowed their profits into new industries and markets. Today, in little more than ten years, Europe is more prosperous than in pre-World War II days. Will pouring money into Latin America win the same results in ten years? Let's look at what we have to work with.

Most Latin Americans are farmers with little or no modern equipment to make money at it. Plants and factories are scarce; most of them developed and operated by foreign capital. Only 4% of the land is being farmed. Half of the people can't read or write.

Much of the climate is tropical. This leaves Latin Americans with little ambition to get up and go.

Only one man in four thousand is a trained technician or a professional engineer. In our country, we have a skilled professional for every 180 people. Latin American countries are one crop countries for the most part. They sell coffee or sugar or bananas abroad. Prices of these crops have been falling in world markets. But the prices of the tools and machinery that Latin Americans need to modernize have been rising.

Farmers and laborers make about ten cents an hour. The annual income is only $270 a year. With the population rising faster than anywhere else in the world, annual income shrinks day by day.

We have pledged $10 billion to pull Latin Americans up by their bootstraps. Private investors, here and abroad, are asked to furnish an additional $10 billion. Latin Americans, themselves, supposedly will put up the rest — $80 billion.

Where is this $80 billion coming from? We can't expect the farmers and laborers of Latin America to put much aside for investment. Not with an annual income of $270.

How about rich Latin Americans? No help from this quarter. They have been investing their billions abroad for years. Investments at home are too uncertain. Governments are too unstable. Currencies fluctuate too much.

What about the private investors? Are they backing the Alliance? Not so you can notice. Only $236 million out of a needed $600 million has been invested by private capital in Latin America in the last two years.

We seem to be the only ones that the Latin Americans can count on. In the past year, we have furnished Latin American countries with $1,116,000,000 — $116,000,000 over our annual pledge.

Has there been any progress? Not according to Teodoro Moscoso, director of the Alliance. In fact, there's been so little accomplished that Moscoso ordered his office staff not to celebrate the first anniversary of the Alliance.

At present the Alliance for Progress is turning into a $10 billion fiasco. We are providing practically all the funds to make the plan work, but there has been no progress.

What's the solution? Frankly, your reporter doesn't know. We want to help the Latin Americans as much as we can, and we certainly don't want to see any more Latin American republics turn to Communism.

But before we spend another billion to get no progress, the Administration had better come up with a better plan for Latin Americans than the Alliance.

useful and essential purposes. The fault lies in the way they are handled.

The AMA offers a set of simple rules to prevent poisoning in the home. Here they are: Keep all drugs, poisonous substances and household chemicals out of reach of children. Do not transfer poisonous substances to unlabeled containers. Never re-use containers of chemical substances. Do not leave discarded medicines where children or pets might get at them. Never tell children you are giving them candy when you actually are giving them medicine. Read the labels before using chemical products. Never give or take medicines in the dark.

Another important stricture is that speed is essential to stop absorption of a poison. If possible, one person should begin first aid while another calls a physician. And the poison container with its label and remaining contents should be saved and given to the physician or the hospital.

The final point is that prevention is much easier than treatment. Take a look around your home for potential hazards and correct them—today.

Grass Roots Opinion

WYNNE, ARK., PROGRESS: "The people who still believe American taxpayers' billions can buy us friends would do well to consider the example of God. He gives us everything, even life itself, but even He is not universally loved and respected.

Discusses Speculating in "Seeds"

Earlier stated, I believe the two industries which have the greatest future are electronics and synthetics.

its seed laboratories for over 100 years. This company has made slow but continual progress in improving the quality of certain vegetable seeds.

I do not expect anything spectacular of the stock of any seed company for some years to come. They all are what the stock brokers call "sleepers." Those who are seriously interested in the above should subscribe to the Seed Trade News, published by Joseph C. Gregory, Editor, 222 W. Adam Street, Chicago 6, Illinois.

Make Your Own Tests
Go to a hardware store and buy a 35-cent paper envelope of onion, mustard, carrot, petunia, or snapdragon seed — which is what I play with. Empty the paper envelopes into separate saucers and — even with microscope, and the help of the bees — see if you can tell the difference between these five seeds.

Yet, given the same soil, the same water, and the same sunshine, one of these seeds will grow an onion or a carrot, while another will grow a beautiful snapdragon. But this is not all — when two snapdragon seeds are planted, one may produce a beautiful blue flower and another a beautiful red flower. I have ten colors in my garden. But note the following: Each tiny seed is full of revolving atoms.

What of the Future?

Biologists are now using animals to make experiments as to the effect of radiation and certain chemicals on the chromosomes that determine our heredity. I understand that the Atomic Energy Commission is using seeds of vegetables to study the same effects. When their results are released, the laboratories of the important seed companies may discover how some of their seeds will develop entirely different vegetables or fruits and many valuable vegetables and flowers.

On March 20, 1963 we met with our Den Mother, Mrs. Florence Gann in her home. For our opening ceremony we sang a song about an Eskimo out on a Walrus hunt. After roll call we went on a hike in the country. We enjoyed looking for signs of Spring. We also looked for pop bottles on our hike. Janice Youth Council Meet Sunday Night

The Youth Council of the Janice Baptist Church met Sunday night after the Worship Service. Many plans were made for the Spring and Summer youth activities.

April 12-13 is the date of the Youth Retreat for our Young Peoples Department. The two-day retreat will be held at Quantan Park Camp in the Wichita Mountains. Phillip Watson, a senior at Howard-Payne, will be the retreat pastor.

Four cottage prayer meetings will be conducted by and for the youth April 18. We will be praying for our coming revival which begins April 21. Afterward the prayer meeting we will go on a Treasure Hunt, winding up at the church for volleyball and refreshments.

Friday night, April 19, is Youth Night at our revival. Since it is also Confederate Memorial Day the "Rebels" are going to try to out-number the "Yanks." After the services they will units for a trip around the world on a "magic carpet" in honor of World Missions Week.

The Way Associational Youth Rally will be May 4 in Holliday. The BSU at Midwestern will present the program and conduct the fellowship. The Janice Youth were given the Attendance Banner at the April rally; if they don't intend to lose it until June, Rally rules are that a church may keep the banner only three months at a time.

The Youth will sponsor the Vacation Bible School parade on May 11.

Plans for the Summer include Family Recreation Night on Friday, RA, GA, and YWA camps; a Daywood Picnic; Teenage Youth Revival; and Backyard Training Courses.

Highway Patrol Investigated 17 Rural Accidents In March
The Highway Patrol investigated 17 rural accidents in Wichita County during the month of March according to Sergeant E. L. Stroud, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for nine persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,897.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Wichita County from January through March of 1963 shows a total 31 crashes resulting in one person killed, 24 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $26,422.00.

Each year, with the coming of April, it seems natural for motorists to want to get back out on the highway and enjoy the invigorating atmosphere and colorful countryside. Many of these motorists are apt to forget that increased violations of traffic laws play a vital role in the annual traffic accident toll.

The motorists should realize that highway travel multiplies by leaps and bounds in April. The Sergeant stated, "What better time than April to remind motorists, pedestrians, and all street and highway users about the importance of knowing and obeying traffic laws."

Rummage Sale
A RUMMAGE SALE will be held Saturday, April 20th beginning at 7:30 a. m. on Ave. B at the side of Boyd Bros. Dept. Store. The Rummage Sale is sponsored by Theta Epsilon Sorority. 32-11C

DRUGS AND DRIVING

Q. Do drugs, especially tranquilizers, affect driving ability?

A. Various drugs which act on the nervous system can affect the performance of everyday acts such as driving a car or operating a power tool. This would include tranquilizers, sedatives, emetics, etc. Most tranquilizers do not seriously impair performance. However, the amount of drug taken must also be considered, with larger doses producing more pronounced effects. In addition, some individuals who take medication may have a tendency to become drowsy after sleep. Although there have been no known instances of an accident, a point might be reached where such effects on driving ability would be noted.

TOO TALL

Q. I am 14 and have developed about 14 most girls my age. However, I am somewhat taller than my friends and this has no worried. Is there anything I can do to slow growing?

A. Doctors have ways of retarding growth in some cases but you are probably over-concerned. After the menarche (onset of menstruation) most girls (about 85 per cent) grow less than 4 inches in height. Doctors don't know how the other 15 per cent fail to respond to the braking of growth in a similar fashion. In any case, you have much more than an over-developed not growing much taller.

We package prescriptions in safe, efficient containers that protect the medicine against possible harmful effects of light, air or moisture.

KID BASEBALL

Burkburnett's Kid Baseball League will hold an Umpire's Clinic beginning next Monday evening, April 22nd at 8 p. m. in the Burkburnett Youth Center, announced R. C. (Bob) Case, chief umpire of the newly reorganized Kid Baseball League.

The Clinic will be conducted by Doug Sween who has had numerous years experience with similar youth baseball leagues.

Purpose of the Umpire Clinic is to train approximately twenty-five men in fundamentals of officiating and orientate the prospective officials with this year's Kid Baseball rules.

This year's Kid Baseball program will be worked so that umpires will be scheduled to officiate no more than two a week, and preferably night a week. League officials stressed the importance using only qualified men as officials throughout the season.

In the past, spectators have been asked to help officiate which sometimes caused problems due to lack of knowledge with local rules.

Those persons interested in volunteering their services to the Kid Baseball League as umpires are requested to contact Bob Case, 600 Forest St., Burkburnett, Phone 569-1150.

Urges those individuals planning officiating this season please plan to attend this important Umpire Clinic.

Husbands take each day comes, but their wives hope tomorrow will be different.

Information On Wheat Referendum

Editor's Note: Second in a series on the forthcoming National Wheat Referendum by Bob Crocker, Wichita County ASCS Office Manager.

By BOB CROCKER

Any thinking farmer will agree that we cannot continue to operate a program based on the old 1938 minimum acreage allotment of 55 million acres. The ever-lasting per-acre yields have utterly destroyed the theory of that figure, and continuing to use it as a basis for a modern grain program would result in accelerated chaos. Farmers would literally become buried under their own surpluses.

Accepting that Secretary Freeman and the Congress, in the proposed 1964 program want to adjust the allotment to a more realistic ratio of yield to acreage.

Let's see what has happened over the years in respect to yields.

Wichita County farmers, for example, produced an average per-acre yield of 17.4 bushels of wheat for the period 1952 through 1961. Yet in the five year period from 1958 through 1962 they made an average of about 20.4 bushels.

It was the same nationally. Average per acre yields in the period 1934 through 1938 was only 12.4 bushels. This formed the basis for the 1938 Agricultural Adjustment Act under which we're still operating.

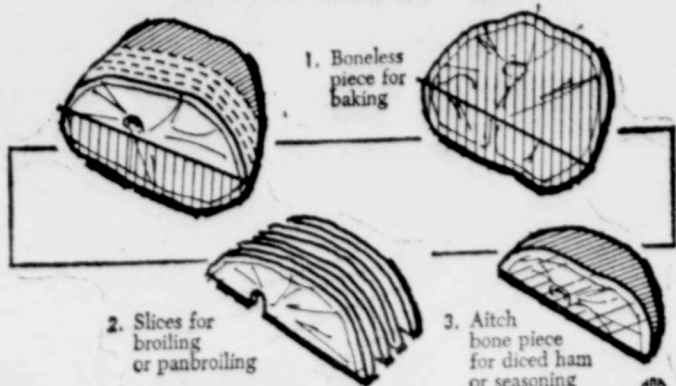

Yet per-acre yields progressively increased, thanks to the development of new fertilizers, insecticides etc. In 1948-1952, they jumped to 16.7 bushels. In 1953, the average was 17.3. In 1958, it spiraled to 27.5 bushels.

Is there any wonder that with using the same old minimum acreage allotment, and with these phenomenal increases in per-acre yields, the surplus supply of wheat should continue to pile up in the warehouses?

There are good reasons, over and beyond the new fertilizers and insecticides, why yields in-

Plan A "Three-Meal" Ham

SMOKED HAM, BULL HEAD

Ham is a year-round favorite in many homes, but it is especially popular during the spring months. Its low cost per serving portion means good food value with budget savings. Aside from its thrifty nature, ham is the featured star of an endless variety of tempting meals. With a little advance planning, you can have the ham cut in meal portions and serve each part in a different manner. For example, a few top slices can be cut from a whole or half ham and reserved for broiling. The rest of the ham can be baked in the traditional manner. Since you are preparing and serving smaller quantities, the "pre-cut" plan is also a good way to eliminate left-overs.

The diagram above shows one way of cutting a half ham for three separate meals. Simply wrap cuts in the refrigerator until time of use. This quality plastic food wrap clings snugly and molds itself to the meat contours, preventing loss of flavor and quality.

Meat from the aitch bone piece can be used for hearty ham loaves, casseroles, omelets, or creamed dishes, such as Ham A La King Deluxe.

Ham A La King Deluxe

| 1 small green pepper, minced | 1 cup milk |
| 1/2 lb. sliced fresh mushrooms or 2-4 oz. cans, drained | 1 cup cream |
| 2 tablespoons butter | 2 lightly beaten egg yolks |
| 2 tablespoons flour | 2 cups diced cooked ham |
| 3 tablespoons butter | 1/2 cup diced pimiento |
| | 1 teaspoon lemon juice |
| | 2 tablespoons sherry |
| | Salt and pepper to taste |

Cook green pepper and mushrooms in butter until soft but not brown. Make cream sauce by blending flour and butter in top of double boiler; gradually add milk and cream. Cook over direct heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Mix a little sauce with egg yolks, then combine with rest of sauce. Place top of double boiler over boiling water. Add rest of ingredients and stir until sauce reaches right consistency and is hot. Serve on toast points or patty shells. Makes 6 servings.

creased as they did. For one thing, better land devoted to grains. Machinery and equipment improved and became more efficient.

But whatever the reasons, this is the chief fallacy in the farm program as now set up, and fallacy the Secretary and the Congress aim to eliminate in the 1964 program.

And how do they hope to eliminate it?

Well, first, neither the government nor the farmers have any quarrel with increased per-acre yields. Higher yields are good; to be encouraged, rather than discouraged.

But something must be done to correct the glaring error in the program, brought about by the increased yields. This new program seeks to do by setting the allotment at between 49 to 50 million acres.

Farmer's gross income from wheat from the adjusted acreage will not decline, while surplus stocks will be reduced. This will eliminate much of the criticism leveled at farmers by consumers who naturally are alarmed at the ever-mounting, and ever-more-expensive surpluses in the warehouses.

The reduction in acreage will have other good effects. It will help bring the surplus to the desired 600 million to 700 mil-

NOTICE

Grass and Weed Burning Permits

Due to the city employee's being off duty from 5:00 p. m. Friday until 8:00 a. m. Monday except for standby emergency duty, no permits for burning will be issued for the weekends.

Only the fireman is on duty during the week end and this will decrease the protection at this time.

The co-operation of the citizens in compliance with the trash burning ordinance has truly been appreciated.

CITY MANAGER

SIDE STEP

Young Tommy told his father that when he grew up he wanted to drive a big Army tank. "Well, son," said his dad, "if that's what you want to do, I certainly won't stand in your way."

Next to succeeding yourself, there is no gratification equal to sharing in the success of somebody you like, be it husband, wife, daughter, son, fraternity brother, bartender, or United States Senator.

lion bushel carry-over, thus eliminating the depressing factor in the market. It will have good soil conservation consequences, since land not in grain can be gradually restored to productivity through application of cover crops etc.

Moreover, world wheat markets, within the range of International Wheat Agreement, will remain stable.

These are good effects that are highly desirable.

Be that as it may, a continuation of the old allotment setup could only mean more surpluses and a continued deterioration in markets.

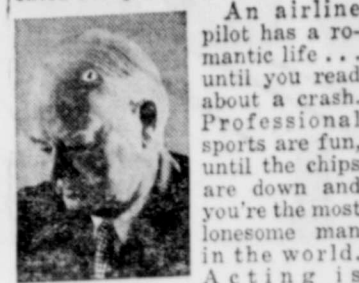

These are some of the things the Wichita County farmer must think about when he goes to the polls in May.

HE ADVERTISED

Grass Is Greener On Boys' Clubs Side Of The Fence

In today's swift moving, highly complex world, many of us have moments when we look with envy on other, seemingly less complicated occupations.

An airline pilot has a romantic life... until you read about a crash. Professional sports are fun, until the chips are down and you're the most lonesome man in the world. Acting is heard one scene 50 times. Trial lawyers lead an exciting life, until the jury votes against them in a murder trial. Teachers have easy hours, until you watch them working nights on examination papers and preparing tomorrow's lessons.

And so it goes. Someone said it all years ago with the observation that "the grass is always greener on the other side of the fence."

An almost classic example of such thinking exists concerning the management and operation of Boys' Clubs. At first blush, this seems a simple, uncomplicated and rewarding occupation. In fact, however, only the last description is accurate.

This is a rewarding occupation—a very rewarding one. But, simple and uncomplicated it is not. Today, in more than 400 communities, many thousands of trained and dedicated people spend most of their time and energy, plus a great deal of money, operating some 625 Boys' Clubs of America for well over 600,000 deserving boys.

At these Clubs, which are operated by full-time, paid, professional youth workers, boys are given a chance to participate in a wide variety of character-building activities. "We try to offer boys experience in everything from marbles to music, from science to swimming and from camping to cooking," is how one Boys' Clubs official describes it.

Some indication of the size and scope of these Clubs can be gained from a review of statistics. For example: Operating budgets of the Clubs total nearly $20,000,000. Replacement value of Boys' Club buildings and camp facilities is over $130,000,000. Last year, more than $10,000,000 was spent for new Boys' Club buildings, for alterations, additions and camps.

At the local level, Boys' Clubs are enthusiastically supported by professional, service, civic, industrial, labor and fraternal leaders. They are part of an estimated 100,000 volunteers who work with some 6,000 professional Boys' Club staff members.

Nationally, the Boys' Clubs of America organization is headed by former president Herbert Hoover, who for more than 30 years has actively directed the national guidance organization. Serving with Mr. Hoover on the national board of directors are some 125 nationally prominent men who give generously of their time, talents and efforts to build "Future Nite Decency."

Working directly under Mr. Hoover is A. L. Cole, general manager of the Reader's Digest, whose dynamic leadership has played a major role in the movement's growth and development. John M. Gleason, an internationally known authority on youth problems, serves as national director and heads a professional staff with headquarters in New York City and seven regional offices.

J. M. Gleason

Under the guidance of these men, the Boys' Clubs movement has gained wide recognition as today's fastest growing and most effective youth organization. It's Juvenile Delinquency program is an efficient antidote to juvenile delinquency. Statistics prove that when a Boys' Club opens, delinquency statistics drop sharply.

Faced with such facts, it seems unimportant to determine whether or not "the grass is greener." The future is bright—for millions of deserving boys.

Rogers of First Church in Park will direct the evening services. Services will be held each week at 7:30. There will be worship services Tuesday through Friday beginning at 9:30. Plan now to attend worship services and receive the blessings. Dr. Earl Allen, a studious man with paramount abilities in many positions of leadership as a young pastor in metropolitan city. Sound foundations were laid for his ministry when he was licensed to preach at the age of twelve and ordained at eighteen. This young beginning led

Necessity Is the Mother of Invention

DO YOU EVER WONDER what inspired an invention that sweeps the world? Usually, the more useful an item, the less thought we give it. . . . One of the more unusual "inspirations" was the ample girth of Mr. Whitcomb Judson, which interfered with his fastening his shoes. As a result, he invented the first zipper, with a pull string to zip up his shoes. Little did he know, fashion's most important closure.

Since then, the zipper has passed through many stages. Mme. Schiaparelli, famous Parisienne designer, was the first couturier to use the slide fastener, and started the zipper off to its present popularity.

Today, Talon has given fashion its own perfect zipper, so lightweight it is dubbed Zephyr. Made of continuous nylon coils, this wonderful new zipper is delicate and flexible enough for sheer chiffons, strong enough for bulky tweeds, and almost as invisible as a seam. One of its major virtues is the ease with which it pulls itself free of a jam . . . with a bend, a zip down and a zip up! Zephyr gives life-long service through hard wear, laundering and dry cleaning. When it comes to pressing or ironing, always close zipper and set iron at synthetic or steam. If a higher temperature is needed, cover zipper area with press cloth.

Mr. Judson would enjoy the popularity of his invention, particularly with the woman who sews. He would, no doubt, find it easy to cast an eye over his midriff to approve the perfect fit Zephyr gives today's fashions.

Inducements to Young Tourists

Farm and ranch girls and boys of Texas, belonging to 4-H and F.F.A. Clubs, high school classes, Boy Scouts and other organizations who plan sight-seeing trips to the Lower Rio Grande Valley this Spring and Summer, will get free guide service and a free meeting hall at McAllen.

Some McAllen motels have agreed to cut their rates more than half for the young groups. By walking three blocks across the McAllen bridge over the Rio Grande, they can make a round trip to Reynosa, Mexico for thirteen cents. The Texas youths can go from McAllen to South Padre Island for a swim in the Gulf of Mexico, in a drive of about an hour and a half.
