SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT AT JANLEE TEENTIME JULY 11TH

Monday through Thursday the activities will begin at 6:30 p. m. and include dramatics, singing, Bible discussion on different phases of teen life, films on dating, recreation, career conferences, refreshments and the special features.

Friday evening at 7:30 a youth revival begins with James Jeffrey as the evangelist and Jerry Baxter directing the music. There will be an early Saturday morning breakfast followed by bowling. After the Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening services there will be a fellowship for the youth.

"It's Different Now" has been recorded by such groups as the Statesman Quartet, as well as by Rev. Beatty. Rev. Beatty records for Friddell Records, and has out a single record of "It's Different Now," with "I Praise the Lord," along with an LP Album called "Songs of Inspiration."

So great was the response at the last Youth Rally, where Rev. Beatty sang at Iowa Park, that he was asked to come to the rally here in Burk. One can be assured of a spiritual, pentecostal service this coming Monday night, and everyone is cordially invited to come out and enjoy the service.

THIS WOULD BE A SWITCH

"My paramount object in this struggle," wrote Abraham Lincoln to Horace Greeley on August 22, 1862, "is to save the Union, and is not either to save or destroy slavery. If I could save the Union without freeing any slave, I would do it; and if I could do it by freeing all the slaves, I would do it; and if I could save it by freeing some and leaving others alone, I would also do that."

A century later we are confronted with the spectacle of the President of the U. S. proposing to Congress a sort of secession-in-reverse—by which the Union could withdraw from any state considered delinquent in its observance of an encyclopedic Civil Rights Acts of 1963 all funds allocated to the state under Federal spending programs. Carried to its ultimate, at the whim of bureaucrats appointed by Washington, such a concept must contemplate expulsion of a state—or states—from the union.

Such a prospect, when viewed against the background of President Lincoln's pre-occupation with national unity makes the specific civil rights proposals of President Kennedy of secondary importance. It also elevates from a suspicion to a reasonable supposition the increasingly-mentioned possibility that the Administration's eagerness for paternalistic spending programs cloaks the lust for unassailable power at the state level as well as the federal.

Whatever the effect of this glimpse at autocracy on the President's manifold recommendations for social reform, it should provide a warning to every Senator and every Representative to examine with special care every proposal to do for the individual or the community what it can better do for itself. And it should remind every thoughtful lawmaker of the historic high cost of bread and circuses—in terms of human freedom and national survival.

In concluding his civil rights message, President Kennedy said: "In this year of the Emancipation centennial, justice requires us to insure the blessings of liberty for all Americans and their prosperity—not merely for reasons of economic efficiency, world diplomacy and domestic tranquility—but, above all, because it is right."

This, we applaud and endorse. But not government-by-gauleiter, as threatened.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The average working person during 1963 will work 2 hours and 21 minutes out of each 8 hour day to pay Federal, state and local taxes.

The same average worker will only work 1 hour and 24 minutes out of each 8 hour day to supply housing and housing operation.

Thus, a roof over the head costs less than half the cost of taxes.

Of course, the great gulf in these comparisons is that the average worker is supporting more than one roof. Sen. Robert Byrd of W. Va., on the committee that administers civil affairs in Washington, D.C. picked 236 district welfare cases at random and found about 60% of these cases did not deserve welfare payments in the first place.

And the bitter fact remains that every taxpayer is not only burdened with the welfare load, but also with the salaries and expenses of almost 10,000,000 people employed by federal, state and local government.

While the major attention is focused on the costs of federal government, it is a fact that state and local governmental costs are contributing mightily to the cost of existence.

As the situation now stands, in ten years federal spending on non-defense items has jumped from approximately $23 1/2 billion to $63 1/2 billion, and at the same time state and local spending has jumped from $22 billion to $49 billion.

The nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, feel strongly that a reduction in income tax rates is essential to preserve a free economy, and to provide more employment.

Yet, the nation's independent business proprietors have also voted strongly in favor of cutting government expenses to offset, at least in part, a tax cut.

As shown by the above figures, there is plenty of water to be wrung out of governmental spending to provide sizeable tax cuts.

On the other hand, reflection on these figures cause wonder if the water must be wrung out of the federal budget alone, or whether at the same time local governments all through the land should be forced to cut back on their expenditures.

Today, the public debt of the federal government is over $100 billion more than the combined public debt of all the free nations of the world combined, yet these nations receive billions of U.S. dollars in foreign give away funds.

Thus, perhaps Castro is not the greatest concern of every American.

Perhaps of far greater concern is the actual solvency of the nation.

C. W. Harder

Janet Bunstine Receives Scholarship To Oklahoma State University

Miss Janet Bunstine, a student at Middletown Township High School, of Red Bank, New Jersey, has been awarded a partial four year college scholarship by the Veterans Administration. She will pursue a liberal arts program at Oklahoma State University.

Miss Bunstine has been active in the Girl's Athletic Association, the Children's Theatre production and the Chemistry Club. She is also a member of the National Honor Society.

Janet is the daughter of Sergeant and Mrs. B. B. Christenberry of Red Bank. Her father was 1st Lt. Harold Jack Bunstine of Burkburnett who was killed during World War II in France in 1945.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bunstine of Burkburnett.

News From The County Agent

A dairy shortcourse will be held at Arlington State College on July 10 and 11 for dairy farmers of this area. A real good program has been planned and should be of interest to all dairy farmers. The program each day will start at 10:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. The meeting will be held in the Student Union Building.

The District Boys 4H Camp will be held at Buffalo Gap on July 23 and 24. Fourteen 4-H boys from Wichita County will attend the camp along with several adult leaders. Sonny Bentley will be the chairman of the District Camp.

Chiggers is a problem on a number of our lawns in the county. To control chiggers you may spray or dust with one of the following insecticides; diel-drin, lindane, toxaphene or dust with 10% chlordane, 1% lindane, sulphur, or 10% toxaphene.

Fleahopper and thrip are the two main cotton insects found in the cotton fields at present time. We are finding some boll worm eggs and boll weevils. Farmers are urged to make weekly cotton insect checks.

To control bag worms which is a problem on arbor vitas you may spray or dust with lead arsenate, malathion, sevin, toxaphene or dust with 4% malathion, 5% sevin or 10% toxaphene.

Farm mortgages recorded in 48 states during 1962 amounted to $3.5 billion, 16 percent more than in 1961. The number of farm mortgages recorded was up 2 per cent and the average size of loan was up 13 percent.

Total farm debt has continued to increase since 1946. Total farm debt at the beginning of 1963 was 6 percent larger than at the beginning of 1962.

At the close of 1963, total farm debt in the United States will be higher than at the beginning of 1963, but the increase in farm real estate values may be sufficient to add further to the aggregate equities of farm operators.

Pecans should be plentiful once again this fall following a disappointing crop in 1962, says B. T. Haws, county agent.

Several factors were to blame for the scanty 79,000,000 pounds produced in Texas last year. But he predicts that the 1963 yield will again be as large as was the 1961 crop when 240,000,000 pounds were grown.

"The crop looks very promising this year," says the county agent. "Shoots are heavily loaded with clusters and many clusters have 4 to 8 pecans in them."

Below average populations of nut casebearers is another reason he gives for the bright pecan crop outlook. These pests have been more effectively controlled due to better spraying programs and better chemicals. Malathion and Sevin were widely used last year and give good control of casebearers.

It is common knowledge that the number of people on Texas farms and ranches is declining. But it is less commonly known that many of the people leaving the country are not leaving the agricultural industry.

Today nearly 40 percent of all Texans derive their income wholly or in part from farming and ranching or connected businesses, says B. T. Haws, county agent. These businesses supply the production needs of farmers and process and distribute agriculture products, he adds.

Many agricultural processes that were once handled on the farm are now performed by these businesses and likewise much labor that was once needed on the farm is used by them. As one example, farmers today purchase most of their power in the form of gasoline and machinery instead of raising animals and feeding them, says Haws. Therefore, workers that supply these production needs perform a service for the farmer and are partially dependent on him for their living. About 96 percent of the agricultural production in Texas must pass through the business firms of the state before reaching the final consumer, he points out.

NO RUST ARROWHEADS

Try this neat trick to stop arrowheads from rusting along the edge just sharpened. Rub down solidly with a child's crayon. Get a dull green if hunting, bright yellow or red if target. Wax of crayon will hold off the rust for a surprising long time.

KEEP THIS UNDER YOUR HAT

Fishing in waters where reaching down for cigarettes, a light, your knife, fishing license etc. poses problems and the only solution leaves you half naked, do what surf fishermen (and Navy sailors) do: Keep essentials tucked in your hat.

HOW FAST CAN YOU GO IN A COFFIN?

Next time you are tempted to step on it, ask yourself this question! Last year, 40,000 died on our highways. In 3 out of 10 fatal accidents, drivers were speeding. Obey speed limits. Drive safely.

is seldom indeed that this largemouth is ever seen. He takes to the branches or submerged trees and racks up another lure on the many limbs. . . . At last accounts he was still indulging in his favorite hobby — collecting moment-
"Lunker No. 2 is certainly as powerful, if not more so. He resides about midway along a steep, ledgy bank in the immediate vicinity of a deep drop-off.
"When I contacted him he zipped off the line (totally un-mindful of the hard-set drag on the reel) until he reached his sanctuary . . . a sunken tree of better than average size.
"This bass is a master at breaking off lures, and he has the strength to reach his citadel no matter how far away he may be at the time he feels the hook.
"Unless he dies of old age he will continue to raise the hackle of those who know his whereabouts every time they make a cast in his domain.
"The largest bass ever taken from the impoundment was a 13 lb. 4 oz. largemouth caught by Marvin Bushong in April, 1961. According to the scale reading, this lunger was going into its ninth year of life, indicating it had been around a full eight years, or thereabouts. Which meant that it took on weight at approximately 1 1/2 pounds annually. Another 11-9 bass . . . bloomed into obesity at the rate of almost 2 pounds per year. The impoundment is almost 11 years old. So there should be some largemouth bass weighing 17 pounds or more . . . in that lake, and still others larger that were river bass of seven pounds or better when the reservoir was created . . .
"So little wonder there's talk of legendary bass in Bull Shoals. It seems to be fully justified.
"Every time I approach a spot where I have come out second in battle with lunkers too big to handle I make the cast almost in fear of the possible outcome. That's what you call respect for what is waiting at the end of the line."
Sam makes it sound tempting, doesn't he?

The Ultimate in Satisfaction

When we were children, the ultimate in satisfaction was an ice cream cone, a nickel's worth of candy, a handful of homemade cookies. But now that we are grown-up, God's spirit has shown us there are more important things in life than satisfying our appetites. There is a higher plane of living—that of loving and serving God and one's neighbor. God wants us to respond to His love by showing this same kind of love to others. The church is the place to center your mature living. Attend church this Sunday.

"When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things." I Cor. 13:11.

WALTER W. BABSON

Explodes the Population Negro Explosions

Not arguing with the bureau as to how our population has increased. This is carefully in several beginning with page of the "1963 World Almanac" which book I have referred to in a previous February 21, 1963. Figures show that there has been a real population "explosion" in the United States.

Fantastic new $300,000 Log Flume ride at Six Flags unveiled Tuesday, lives up to all advance expectations. Named the Aserradero it is the only one of its kind in the world. The faces of the passengers aboard this eight foot hollowed out log reflect the thrilling climax down a 44-foot incline at speeds exceeding 10 feet per second into a trough filled with swirling rapids.

What the Birth Rate Shows
 There is a little decline in the birth rate during a war. This applies to our country and to every country. But immediately following the war, nine months or more after the soldiers get home, there is a heavy increase in births. These show up clearly in about sixteen years, when the babies have grown up enough to be seeking jobs. Sixteen to seventeen years after the end of World War II brings us up pretty close to the present — at least to 1961-1962. I once asked Thomas A. Edison who was the world's greatest inventor and he replied: "The inventor of compound interest." This applies to births of babies as well as to money. This should also apply to jobs, but in reverse. This question of jobs is especially interesting — and very upsetting — to graduates from schools and colleges at present, for a number of reasons. Let me explain:

Women at Work
 The last war forced industry to accept women as employees. Not only did industry find women capable workers but the women enjoyed for the first time having their own money and being able to do such things as taking trips and buying autos, refrigerators, radios, etc., which their husbands used to tell them they could not afford.

Up to the time of the war, advertising was directed to the men; but it was soon learned that better results came from directing advertising to the women. This started in the magazines that women read, then spread to the daily and weekly newspapers and finally to radio and television. My own feeling is that this trend is well under way and will continue to grow for some years to come. I have great faith in the power of advertising, especially newspaper advertising.

The Negro Explosion
 Now we can discuss a real explosion — as witness today what Negroes are doing in certain large cities. Comparatively speaking, there are no more Negroes today in proportion to the entire population than there ever have been. The explosion which we are hearing so much about today is due to the following facts:

Men are no longer needed for digging in roadbuilding work, or even in building construction. Picks and shovels have practically gone out of business. The machine age in general, rather than automation, is responsible for most of the unemployment amongst the Negroes and unskilled and poorly educated Whites. Work on roads, water and sewage systems, and other municipal improvements — as well as farm work — that was formerly done by common labor is now done by machinery.

What Is the Answer
 The Negro problem will not be solved by mob demonstrations. No community can give the Negroes the jobs for which so many of them are presently fitted. It will take time to train them to fill jobs that are now held mainly by Whites.

The problem will not be solved either by speeches such as that which Walter W. Heller, economic adviser, gave in Kansas City recently. He told his audience that he believes every family having a cash income of less than $3,000 a year should be classified in the "poverty" group. This would amount to around 20% of the country's families. It seems to me that it should be frankly recognized that the "pick and shovel era" is long since over and that we are in a new era of super machines . . . which these young people could be taught to operate, but this means increased taxation for municipal and state improvements. For a while the government may be compelled to supplement the family income of these people to get them out of the "poverty class" which Mr. Heller is talking about. But I believe education and training may be the real answer. Perhaps inflation may help to solve the matter, but it is possible that those of us who now have jobs may need to be taxed to help those who cannot find jobs.

Up A Tree
 One group of coon hunters advise that a hammer and a bunch of big nails will put them up any tree a coon can climb. Drive them in alternate sides like telephone pole climbing bars. Incidentally the weight of those items would be considerable if carried in your pocket, you'll never notice them if carried in a small back pack.

A CORAL GATEWAY TO THE SUN:

Neither time nor tide can mar this couple's concentration as they solve the problems of the world from a tiny beach in Bermuda. The secluded, sandy cove can be "discovered" by wading along the shoreline and through the coral gateway. Neither time nor tide? That's really only partially correct. Should the tide sneak up, this couple might find themselves floating through the coral opening and headed for the United States . . . an invigorating swim of some 700 miles.

Friendly Homemakers Club Met Wednesday, June 26

Members of the Friendly Homemakers Club heard Wednesday in clear, concise terms, the menace world Communism presents to our way of life. The program, "Undo it Yourself," was divided in three parts with Mrs. Carl Sutherland, Mrs. Tommy Reese and Mrs. J. G. Cheney serving as speakers. Program Chairman for the day was Mrs. Tommy Reese. The program outlined followed by the Women's Department of the National Association of Manufacturers. The Friendly Homemakers Club is among some 2,500 other women groups across the nation studying communism this month. Those on the program discussed the definition and ideology of Communism, its history, the Russian Revolution, the state of world Communism today, and what individual citizens, especially women can do about this menace. One thing each can do is study about Communism and teach their children the menace Communism presents not only to the world, but to our nation. A discussion period followed the program which was held at Mrs. Carl Sutherland's. Plans were completed for the Clubs Family Night, July 4th at the City Park. Those present were Mesdames Haskel Draper, Charles Lanig, Earnest Masters, Tommy Reese, J. G. Cheney, Oscar McBride, and hostess, Mrs. Carl Sutherland. The next meeting after summer vacations will be September 11th at the home of Mrs. J. G. Cheney. Mrs. Oscar McBride is president of the club.

SUN-BATHING
Q. Should older people indulge in sun-bathing?
A. Repeated deep tanning isn't good for the skin—young or old. A little sun is all right, even for the elderly, but the not-so-young skin is thin and fragile and subject to a variety of troubles—including skin cancer. Baking in the sun doesn't help matters. The long-term effects of exposure to the sun show up in outdoor workers such as farmers and sailors. Their skin, especially on the back of the neck, often looks like tanned leather. Girls who try for that mahogany glow by the end of the summer might take special note of the results of "cooking" the skin to a golden brown.

COSTLY SUNGLASSES
Q. Are expensive tinted lenses better than ordinary sunglasses?
A. Probably not. Studies among lifeguards indicate that ordinary sunglasses sold in drug stores serve the purpose about as well as many of the more expensive glasses.

It's The Law In Texas

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE EXPRESSES BASIC RELIEF
What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body. The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 187 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life. The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following: "He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people." "He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers." "He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries." "He was refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good." "He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: . . . For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses. . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; . . . For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever." Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles. In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia where the Declaration of Independence had been signed years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances a government which was to perpetuate the fundamental liberties mentioned in the preamble of our earlier document: "We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, and the pursuit of happiness." "That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their powers from the consent of the governed. . . . Some five years later, the first ten amendments to the Constitution were adopted in time, specifically detailing basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

David Beatty Speaks To Large Crowd At Church of God

Rev. David Beatty of Chandler, Oklahoma brought a stirring message in song and sermon, Monday night, at the Iowa Park District Fellowship Rally, hosted by the Burk Burnett Church of God, speaking to a more than capacity crowd, which also saw Vernon take home the Fellowship Banner.

Mileage played a big part in Vernon's point tabulation. Vernon's total was 1,125 points, Iowa Park, Burk Burnett, and Electra followed in that order, although Burk Burnett had the greatest number present, 99.

Special songs were presented by Miss Brenda Fox of Electra; the Burk Youth Choir, and the Battle family of Iowa Park.

Rev. Beatty opened his portion of the service by singing some of the songs he has on record including, "It's Different Now," "I Praise the Lord," "Inside the Gate," and "Feeling Fine." He then brought a brief, but inspiring message.

Some interesting and enlightening facts about the Rev. Beatty's background follow.

He is a native of Ferriday, Louisiana, and he was converted as a teenager. Since his family was poor, he never owned a piano nor had the chance to take music. However, with a lot of hard work and God's help, he developed his own individual style of playing, singing, and song writing. His cousin, Jerry Lee Lewis, is a noted piano player and singer in the popular field, and David has had many offers to pursue that course also, but he has remained steadfast in his determination to devote his talent to God's work.

A graduate of Lee College, Cleveland, Tennessee, Rev. Beatty holds a BA in Biblical Education, is a Minister in the Church of God, and serves as the State Youth Director of Oklahoma. He is married, his wife, Jo Ann, and their small son, Phillip, traveling with him to most of the rallies and services he attends. His wife is the tenor for the Harmonettes, the background group on his records. He has his own record label, Friddell Records, and has been recording for four years.

The Church of God is indeed fortunate to have such a dynamic young man, dedicated as he is, to help carry on the work of the church.

The next youth rally will be August 12, at Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Adams had as their guests over the week end her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Layless and two little daughters from North Dakota.

SELF-DEFEATING TAX RATES

The doctrine of "soaking the rich" may have a popular appeal—but as a revenue producer it is pretty much of a flop.

Henry Hazlitt tells the story in a recent issue of Newsweek. He writes: "The basic 20 percent rate yields 85 percent of the entire revenue from our personal income tax. Our whole progression up to 91 percent yields only 15 percent. And all the progressive rates above 50 percent yield less than 1 percent of total revenues."

The significance of this should be clear. Super tax rates do little to finance the government. Yet these rates deprive people in the higher income brackets of money that otherwise would be used for investment, for the building of new plants and facilities of every kind, and for creating jobs. The exorbitant rates, therefore, are self-defeating.

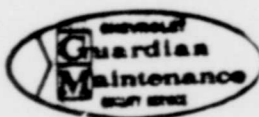

It can be added that the increased tax revenue that would come from increased investment—if coupled with governmental prudence—would in time make possible tax cuts in all the brackets, right down to the bottom, without creating appalling deficits at the same time.

Another word from Mr. Hazlitt is in order: "Perhaps the most serious harm done by progressive taxation is not merely that it reduces incentives, production, investment, and growth, but that, by fostering the illusion that 'the rich' are paying the bill, it contributes to the enormous growth in government expenditure."

BEACON LIGHT

One wonder—hopefully, if the action of American wheat farmers in voting down the proposed new system of government controls of an almost brutally rigorous nature may be the beacon light of a new kind of thinking on the part of American farmers as a whole, and particularly the smaller, family type farmers. More specifically, one wonders if legions of them are not thinking, seriously of the virtues of ultimately returning on a gradual and orderly basis, to free market farming in which supply and demand, not a law or a bureaucrat, do the deciding. If so, they have excellent examples to look to. Meat

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Down in Texas they sometimes smoke the raccoon out of the bushes. And that is what Rep. Wright Patman from Lone Star state seeks to do with a bill he has introduced in Congress known as H. R. 3826.

C. W. Harder

The nation's independent businessmen voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have gone on record by a majority of 61% favoring this bill.

Briefly the measure would require any manufacturer to announce to all his trade any special deal, discount, or promotion allowance he has made to any single customer within five days of making such a deal, and permit all customers to obtain the same deal.

One of the big problems in enforcement of the present anti-trust laws arises when some huge retailing complex tells manufacturer that unless he makes them some sort of a special deal, he will have to seek a competitor's line.

Now of course, the huge retailer knows that it cannot accept a special deal unless it is being made available to all.

So the manufacturer is also compelled to write them a letter stating the offer is available to all on an equal basis. This letter is carefully tucked into huge retailer's files.

Thus, if the Federal Trade Commission should get wind of the deal, the huge retailer merely shrugs his shoulders and says, "there ain't nobody here but us chickens, boss, and we just suppose that the manufacturer let the other folks in competition to us know that such deals are going on."

Of course, the manufacturer does not inform the other customers that Customer X blackballed them out of many thousands of dollars to help celebrate their birthday, the wedding anniversary of the chairman of the board, or any of the many other pretenses used to slug the manufacturer. Of course, if some other customer knows the exact deal given and asks about it, the manufacturer is bound to give it to him, but who can ferret out under-the-counter deals.

Most manufacturers do not like the present system of extortion used by big retailing complexes on them. Yet, in most instances they are powerless to do anything about it. They can, of course, stand on principle, and go bankrupt.

But the measure by Rep. Patman would restore honesty in the marketplace and end the "untouchable" type of black-jacking that has been going on. For if the huge retailer knows that any deal has to be announced to the rest of the supplier's customers, he is no longer interested in deals.

For after all, the only reason a huge retailing complex wants a lower price is to be able to undercut independent competition.

Passage of the Patman measure would probably also end, discount house problem, as discount house operations cannot exist without special considerations from the suppliers.

is outstanding. The livestock producers of this country have had their ups and downs, their booms and busts. Recently there have been price troubles, due in major part to very heavy supplies or beef on the hoof. But, good times or bad times, the producers, and all the other elements within the great and complex meat industry, have done much more than ask for government controls and regulations—they've actively and vociferously opposed them. They know that the one who pays the bill, government or individual, is the one who calls the tune to which they must dance. The meat industry prefers freedom, self-reliance, self responsibility—and the chance to work out its problems as they come along.

And the colossal mess the past farm programs of the government have created certainly should steel them in that attitude—as well as the rest of the nation's farmers, consumers and taxpayers.

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance

Q. Is it possible to buy a life insurance policy on my 20-year-old son, who is in college, that would give him a small amount of term insurance now at lowest possible cost and could be changed a few years later into a larger permanent policy?

A. Some life insurance companies offer policies similar to the one you describe. There are also a number of other plans suited especially for young people like your son. You should get the advice of a life insurance agent on the best way to set up a long-range life insurance program for your son. An important consideration is whether, instead of starting him off with a term policy, it might be better right now to take advantage of the very low premium rates for permanent insurance at his age. For example, a straight life policy for $5,000 at age 20 costs only about $63 a year. It would give him life long protection and the premium would never increase. With a permanent policy, many life companies will include a special guarantee that he can buy additional insurance at regular intervals in the future, regardless of whether his health may deteriorate. The cost of this provision is quite small, and it is seldom available with a term policy.

Q. I want to take a six-month leave of absence from my job. Will I be covered by my group life insurance while I'm gone?

A. You will continue to be covered as long as your employer continues to pay premiums for you. He is usually allowed to do this for employees during a temporary break in service (due to a leave of absence, lay-off, sickness or other reasons) as long as his basis for doing it does not involve additional risk. For example, there would be great extra risk if he did it only for employees who are ill, and not those furloughed for other reasons. If your group insurance is interrupted, you can convert it to an individual policy within 31 days after you stop working.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

The Plastic Eel
If you haven't fished for black bass with the plastic eel or the live worm, you oughta try about the best method of baiting the big ones. Let's see how to bait up.

Anglers who use the floating worm prefer to use a slit-shot two or three feet above the hook. Since the weight lays on the bottom, this method of rigging the lure allows the worm to float, life-like, a foot or so off the bottom.

Important thing to remember in this type of fishing is patience. Work the worm very very slowly. When you feel a tug on the line, DON'T set the hook. Wait until the fish stops running with the bait.

He will take off four, five or ten feet, maybe fifteen; then stop and turn the worm over in his mouth preparatory to swallowing it. That's when you set the hook—and set it hard.

If you set the hook too soon you stand a good chance of jerking it right out of his mouth. And nothing is more disappointing to any fisherman than losing a lunker.

In Texas it seems that the fishermen who use the artificial

This Trip Was Necessary Tall Tower Travels to Texas

Humble Oil & Refining Company moved this steel tower, tall as a 20-story building, from New England to Texas to take part in the company's continuing, $6 million-a-year campaign for clean air and height also made the long trip.

They were dismantled at Everett, Mass., near Boston, and transported more than 1,600 miles, to be reassembled near Houston, at the Baytown refinery of Humble, the nation's largest oil refiner and marketer. Replacing a shorter tower and stack, the new equipment will result in more efficient dispersal of vapors, high above the ground, if an emergency requires the venting of vapors with fingernail clippers than with a knife.

Keep a pair of nail clippers in your tackle box. They take up very little space and sure do come in handy.

Boating Safety

When a boat is moving in the same direction as the waves it is "following the seas."

Nearly everyone has heard this expression used. But not all boaters know how to "follow the waves" with safety and comfort.

When waves travel along the water's surface their speed varies. The larger the wave, the faster it moves.

When waves are small a boat can straddle the crests of two or more and easily speed over them. But when hull and wave lengths are about the same, you have to deal with each wave separately.

If you've ever been caught in a storm, when the waves are high, you know what we mean.

One soon learns that if you go a trifle slower than large waves, they will overtake you, one by one. And if at that speed your boat tends to "settle by the stern," your chance of taking water over the transom is very real.

So, for safety's sake it's better to go a little faster than the waves, gradually overtaking them.

That way there's less chance worm, or the jig and eel, are the anglers who pull the big bass off the bottom.

You really oughta try it!

Hook Size Important

A lure manufacturer says that his experiments have convinced him that the size of the hook used on an artificial lure has a great deal to do with the size and quantity of bass caught.

He contends that a No. 6 hook will catch more bass than a No. 4 hook will catch larger fish.

Another lure maker argues against changing the hooks. He maintains that the hook that comes with the lure, as installed by the factory, is the right hook for that lure. It is chosen because it gives that particular lure proper action and balance.

Keeping Nylon Knots Tied

One of the biggest disappointments a fisherman can experience is to lose a big bass because a knot came untied.

You can help prevent this, if you use nylon line, by burning the end of the line with a match or cigarette lighter.

The burning nylon line will form a small ball on its tip. When this ball cools it hardens firmly. Then if the knot is tied too loosely the ball on the end will prevent the line from slipping through the knot.

One of the new disposable Butane Lighters, now on the market for cigarette smokers, makes a handy addition to the tackle box for this purpose. It fits neatly in a tackle box tray. Big advantage is its very small flame which concentrates on a small area despite blowing winds. However, its "life" is not very long, although it is supposed to light 1,000 times.

HAIR OILINESS
Q. What is the cause of excessive oiliness of the hair?
A. Some people have dry scalps, some oily scalps, and some inbetween. When the "normal" scalp more or less suddenly becomes too active in producing oil, a change of shampoo may be called for. Some medicated shampoos tend to make the scalp oily. Switch to a different brand of shampoo and see if that helps.

NYLON
Q. My skin breaks out every time I wear nylon stockings or underclothing. How can this "allergy" be overcome?
A. So far as is known, there is no really effective way to desensitize against nylon. Just avoid wearing nylon clothing.

VITAMIN K—VEINS
Q. Would taking vitamin K fade out these little broken veins that have become very unwelcome guests on my legs?
A. Taking vitamin K would probably do little good. About the only way to dismiss these unwelcome "guests" is to inject each vein with a destructive chemical solution. Unfortunately, the departing guest often leaves a ghost—a thin white line where the vein resided. The cosmetic result may not be entirely satisfactory.

Labeled for PROTECTION

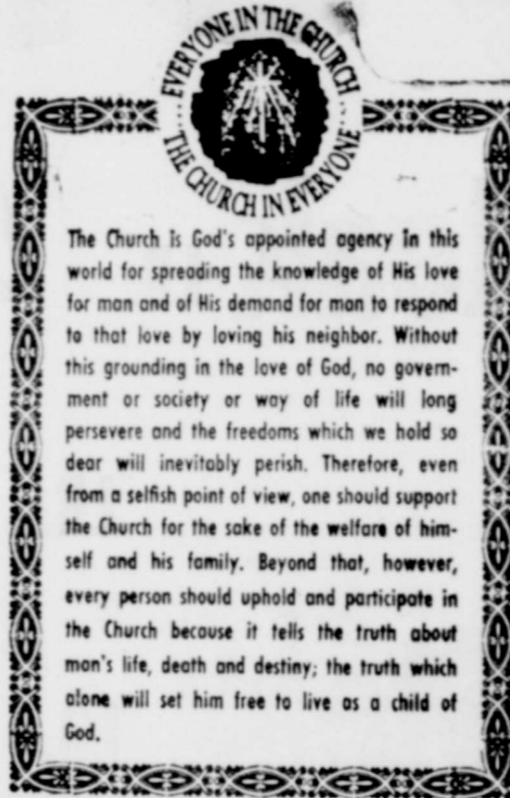

Some medicines may be taken internally; others are for external use only; therefore labels caution us as to their proper use. These precautions are for our own protection and good.

All things in life are not so clearly marked as to their proper use. The Bible is our source and guide, our label.

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

Psalm 119, 105

ATTEND CHURCH, STUDY GOD'S WORD

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Youth Led Revival At Janlee Baptist Church, July 12-14th

JAMES N. JEFFREY
 Evangelist

JERRY BAXTER
 Singer

The Janlee Baptist Church will be holding a Youth-led Week of revival beginning Friday, July 12th and ending Sunday evening, July 14th. James Jeffrey, evangelist, will be the evangelist. Jerry Baxter, Pampa, will be the music director. The week will be held each evening at 7:30. Although the youth-led is for the youth, so make plans now to attend each evening. Jeffrey is well-known in the sports world. He letter-ship of Christian Athletes. He has been with the Fidelity Union Life Insurance Company for eleven years, has been married twelve years and has four children, three boys and a girl. He is a very popular speaker at youth meetings as well as a popular entertainer, juggling and performing magic tricks. Jerry Baxter, a graduate of Pampa High School, is a twenty-year-old Junior at Baylor University where he is majoring in Music Education. He has worked in three City-wide gospel meetings and has held many revivals including seven through the Division of Student Work in Dallas. He sang with the Baylor Choir at the Southern Baptist Convention in San Francisco last year. This revival will end a week of inspiration and fun for teenagers. The Teentime schedule begins Monday, July 8th at 6:30 p. m. and will end after fellowship Sunday evening, July 14th. The theme for Teentime is "The Challenge of the Cross." Programs throughout the week will discuss how the modern teenager can accept that challenge in his social life, in his home life, in his school life, and in his future life. These discussions will be led by the pastor, Rev. Travis McMinn. The Teentime Players, directed by Maxine Bronson, will present a Dramatic Call to Worship at the beginning of each evening's activities. A film on dating and falling in love will be shown each evening. There will be singing, recreation and refreshments (ice cream floats, watermelon, home made ice cream and cookies) to name a few. An interesting part of the activities will be the career conferences. Some of the leaders are Bob McCreary, KNIN Disc Jockey; Walter Riley, winner of the Dale Carnegie state leadership award; Darrell Grice, Educational Director at Lamar Baptist Church; and James Pearson, Curriculum Director at Burk High School. There will be a special feature each night. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Shaw will bring a musical program. He is the A Capella Choir Director at WFHS. We will have a Hootenanny on Tuesday night. It'll be even better than on TV. Everybody will get into the act. Paul Trammel, a student at MU who spent last summer in Africa as a missionary will show slides of the people and countryside. You girls will be interested in finding out what the African women use in place of hair spray. On Thursday, there will be a real treat as Miss Lawton and Miss Burk Burnett entertain. Just for laughs we have invited Miss Podunk Center to entertain also. All teenagers are invited to attend every session of Teentime. You will enjoy every minute of it.

Let's Go Fishin'
 BY BOB BREWSTER

FIND 'EM, THEN FISH
 Fishin's easy. Finding fish is the tricky part. This observation will take on more importance during the summer months as many thousands of vacationing fishermen try their luck on strange waters. How successfully the obstacle of finding fish is surmounted often determines the trip's success. To make your job of exploring the depths easier and quicker, Mercury outdoor fishing experts outline several methods that will be helpful. Your best bet, they say, is to hire a guide or enlist the aid of a friend who knows the waters. If he cannot be with you each day, utilize his time in showing you a variety of "hot spots." Fish each only briefly, then move to another suggested location. The knowledge thus gained will be invaluable on succeeding days. When exploring alone, keep your outboard running. You'll have to cover a lot of territory in order to pinpoint the places favored by local anglers with years of experience. You can either troll or drift slowly while casting shoreline stretches and points of land that appear promising. The old trick of moving in reverse cuts speed to a minimum, allowing you to maneuver easily with one hand and cast with the other. It also permits you to maintain position in a wind. Always ask plenty of questions... at gas stations, tackle stores, marinas. Resort operators, whose businesses often depend upon fishing success of guests are usually top sources. Take the Mercury folks' advice: Remember that prospecting precedes the catching. Map your strategy accordingly, and you'll be able to spend more time fishing where the catching is good.

And Away You Go...

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner. And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain. But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it. Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no antifreeze or water for you to add. Ever. All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!
