GRASS ROOTS OPINION

RIVERTON, WYO., RANGER: "The desire to govern themselves still burn in the hearts of the Indian people. A few weeks ago the general membership of the Arapahoe Tribe voted to reject a proposal that the federal government take over law enforcement on the Wind River Indian Reservation. The Arapahoes said they wanted to pay for their own law enforcement costs. They in effect rejected the idea that all that which springs from Washington is better than that which has local roots. They turned their backs on the idea that if it comes from Washington, it's free."

OCEAN GROVE, N. J., TIMES: "Uncle Sam is rapidly preparing to crack down on taxpayers who neglect to report dividends. Wives are wailing because they don't want their husbands to know that they have savings, and The New York Times quotes Manhattan Tax Director Charles Church as saying, Solomon-like, 'If it's a choice of arguing with your husband or arguing with the Tax Collector, you had better argue with us.'"

AZTEC, N. M., INDEPENDENT-REVIEW: "The family household in the old days was a busy, happy place with the big kids taking care of the little kids, mother was kept busy in the kitchen, cooking, ironing, sewing and peeling and cooking vegetables out of the garden or cellar and chopping off a chicken's head and picking it. The old man worked twelve hours a day for three bucks to keep the household going. For some reason in those days folks were paying their bills, the divorce courts had no business, folks were not suing each other for an easy buck and no one was having a nervous breakdown, and nobody knew what a tranquilizer was. Isn't it odd how they lived?"

DENVER, COLO., HERALD-DISPATCH: "What would happen if this nation turned her microscope away from study the selfish, the lazy, the crafty and the confused, and focused them instead on the industrious, the able, the honest and the morally strong?"

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

On several occasions on nationwide polls conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business, the nation's independent business proprietors have requested a sharp curtailment of the foreign give aways which have plagued the American taxpayer.

Fortcoming debates in Congress over continuation of foreign give aways are bound to be interesting, because the solvency of the nation is now at stake.

The gold reserves of the United States are now down to less than $16 billion, the lowest since 1939. Part of this supply is by law required to back the American currency, but if foreign creditors decided to cash in their dollar holdings now, it will take the entire pot and more. Already this year over a billion dollars has been stripped away from the supply.

It is quite easy to understand why there has been $100 billion thrown around in foreign nations in give aways. The huge American corporations, seeking cheaper labor, and a more favorable tax structure, have taken billions of dollars and invested in facilities abroad. In addition, tariff cutting has cost billions of dollars to pay for cheap foreign imports.

So far, the only measure taken to prevent the flight of gold from these shores has been a reduction from $500 to $100 on the amount of duty free souvenirs tourists can bring back from abroad. This is National Federation of Independent Business somewhat tantamount to trying to bail out the Atlantic Ocean with a tablespoon.

This is not the first time that there has been a gold exodus from the United States. In the early 1930's the nation was rapidly losing gold, causing panic.

The remedy applied then was to raise the price U.S. would pay for gold from $20.67 per ounce to the present $35 per ounce. This move encouraged everybody to sell gold to U.S.

Of course, this then made the American dollar worth about 57%. This in turn reduced value of insurance policies, bonds, other items such as annuities.

But the affect of this was somewhat minimized because the nation was at bottom of greatest depression in history when prices were low, wages were low, as well as both public and private indebtedness.

Today, these factors are in the reverse. While perhaps no one can accurately foresee what would happen if the gold price was hoisted further, it would seem logical to assume that this would set off an inflationary spiral which would ruin all currencies resulting in the complete economic chaos communists would welcome.

Therefore, there seems to be only one logical solution to one of the gravest crisis to ever face the American Republic.

That would be to end all foreign give aways, cut taxes to encourage investment capital to stay in America, and take a realistic viewpoint on tariffs to stop the vast flow of American dollars overseas.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THE U.S. Departments of Labor and Health, Education, and Welfare have allocated just under $300,000 for five new training projects in Texas where 96 persons are being retrained. That amounts to more than $3,000 per trainee. Each of these persons could be sent through four years of high school, or be given two years in college, for a lesser sum.

Dr. Kershner

J. K. Kennedy took office in January, 1961. During the next two years unemployment dropped 713,000. The present administration would like to have us prod no farther, but a deeper investigation reveals that during the same period of time, the Kennedy Administration has added 125,141 persons to the federal civilian payroll and drafted another 192,900 into the armed forces; 850,000 were added to the payroll of the state and city governments. This totals 1,007,141, and sixth grade arithmetic would tell us that there are nearly 300,000 more persons out of jobs in the private tax producing sector of our economy than there were when Kennedy became President.

In 1935 the cost of the federal, state and local welfare programs was 6.49 billion dollars. Fifteen years later—1950—it had risen to just over 25 billion dollars. Ten years later—1960—it had reached the gigantic figure of $1.89 billion dollars. If it continues rising at the rate of the last decade, by the end of the century the welfare program will be costing far more than the entire national income today.

In 1958 the Grace Line sold two vessels to a Greek concern and transferred ten ship engineers to new ships without the loss of a day's work. Nevertheless a New York Supreme Court justice awarded the ten engineers severance pay totaling $200,000. That looks to me very much like legalized plunder. Robbery or theft might be better words.

Representative Arthur Younger gives a good example of the rate of bureaucratic growth. The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation had 15 employees and spent $28,000 in 1962. The following year the budget was $1,100,000 and the number of employees was 95. For the next year the Bureau had requested $2,462,000 and 215 employees.

Howard Kershner's Commentaries, Inc., New York 19, N. Y.

Grandmother always cultivated herbs in her garden. They served not only as seasoning and medicinal ingredients, but as insect repellants as well. Parsley plants grown among roses kept away rose beetles. Basil repelled flies and mosquitoes, garlic and chive kept aphids from lettuce and peas, and tansy planted near cabbages kept them free from cutworms.

Don't forget that cranberries are a taste treat all year long. Ocean Spray sends this suggestion for a mid-summer surprise: Fill a pre-baked pie shell with ice cream, top with a generous layer of cranberry sauce and freeze the dessert until ready to serve. Delicious!

Eating a bird-sized breakfast—or skipping the meal—is a poor way to control your weight. It's a good idea to get a fourth to a third of your daily calories at breakfast.

Speaking of breakfast, here's something different for that meal: scrambled eggs with tomatoes. To serve six, beat together six eggs and a cupful of canned tomatoes. Season and cook in a little fat over low heat until as firm as you like.

Meatless menu planning becomes less of a chore if you take advantage of the superb dehydrated sauces at your supermarket. Schilling's tuna casserole sauce adds new zest to a seafood favorite and transforms fresh or frozen vegetables into a delicious garden casserole. Recipes are on the package.

We're grateful to our favorite neighbor for introducing us to Ready-Jell, a gelatin dessert available in 16 flavors. It's marketed only through clubs and service groups who sell it as a fund-raising project. If your organization is interested, you can get further information from Ready-Jell, Troy, New York.

Food spoilage in a well-filled, well-insulated home freezer does not begin until several days after the power goes off—depending on the size of the freezer. If it's four cubic feet, the period is three days; if 12 to 36 feet, five days.

If the frozen pizza you buy sometimes tastes a little stale, it may be that it wasn't packaged in an airtight container. To overcome this complaint, some manufacturers—Ron's Pizza of Reynoldsburg, Ohio, is a notable example—are switching to Saran Wrap to keep their product fresher.

Every diet should contain milk every day to provide calcium for bones and teeth, but cheese and ice cream serve as partial substitutes. A one-inch cube of cheddar cheese is the equivalent in calcium content to two-thirds cup of milk, and one-half cup of ice cream equals a quarter-cup of milk.

The packers of Golden Grain popcorn remind us that unused portions of popcorn should be stored in a tightly sealed jar and refrigerated to prevent moisture loss and to assure fluffy, full-kernal popping.

FOR CRYING OUT LOUD!

The amateur gardener, who loved to experiment with plants, sat locked in his room. He refused to take any food all day, and his wife finally insisted on being let in.

"You must tell me what's on your mind," she said, firmly. "You've been her brooding all day, and I must know what's wrong."

The gardener sighed heavily. "It's just that one of my pet experiments didn't turn out the way I expected. Remember the time I crossed a potato with an onion?"

 "Yes, yes," coaxed the anxious wife. "What happened?"
 The gardener shook his head sadly.
 "No good," he murmured, sinking his head to his hands. "All I got was a potato with watery eyes."

What we call "creative work" ought not to be called work at all, because it isn't. I imagine that Thomas Edison never did a day's work in his last fifty years.—Stephen Leacock.

Randlett Baptist Revival To Be August 11 To 18

Dr. M. J. Lee, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Guyman, Oklahoma, will be the evangelist for revival services in the Randlett Baptist Church. Services will be at 8:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. daily August 11 through 18.

Dr. Lee is also president of the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma and also has been on the program for the Oklahoma Baptist Pastors Conference for the past several years. He has been pastor at Guyman for 12 years. During that time the Sunday School has doubled in size and missions gifts alone in 1962 were more than the entire church budget in 1950. He has conducted meetings in Alaska and 27 states in America. Song services will be under the direction of the Randlett pastor, Rev. Roy Clayton. Playing the two church pianos will be Paula Goode and Judy Clayton. Prayer services are in progress this week.

All friends of the Randlett Baptist Church are urged to attend.

News From The County Agent

Stockmen in many sections of the state with grazed out pastures are turning to supplemental pastures including drouth stunted plants of the sorghum family. B. T. Haws, county agent, points out that some danger of poisoning exists when these plants are grazed.

The danger is from prussic acid, he explains. Prussic acid is the breakdown product of a glucoside normally present in some young, actively growing plants. It does not occur in a plant unless the growth is stopped by moisture stress or frost. Moisture stress may result from inadequate soil moisture or from excess moisture loss due to high temperatures and low relative humidity.

Haws says all members of the sorghum family, including Johnsongrass and Sudan, produce the glucoside under favorable levels of fertility and that this group of plants is the most dangerous of commonly grazed forages. The more luxuriant the plant growth, the more likely it will be dangerous when wilted.

If moisture stress is from depleted soil moisture, the plants may remain toxic for long periods, he says. If hot, dry winds cause the stress, the plants may be toxic only during the periods when evaporative losses exceed the plant's ability to pick up moisture from the soil. To illustrate, hungry animals turned into a field during the hot afternoon might be poisoned, but if turned in early in the morning, might fill up and quit grazing during the period of the day when the forage would be toxic.

Younger plants have a higher glucoside content than plants nearing maturity; therefore, if wilted would be more toxic. Haws suggests grazing a few animals on field in question early in the morning and under close watch for an hour. If no trouble occurs, it should be safe to turn in the herd. But, if any animal shows a tendency to become restless and breathe fast, get them out in a hurry. Death or recovery usually happens within an hour or two. Drenching with a syrup or sugar solution slows the release of prussic acid in the rumen, but a veterinarian should be called immediately for further treatment, he says.

Is it your belief that farm and ranch production expenses are continuing to rise, if so, you are correct.

Farm and ranch production expenses which have risen every year since 1953 continue their upward trend in 1963. Generally, higher prices for purchased items and increased inputs of some of the more important production factors will probably combine to increase the production expenses about one-half billion dollars above the 1962 level. Generally speaking, expenditures were expected to increase for purchased feed above the 1962 level. This is brought about by both an increase in animal units to be fed and feeding prices. Prices paid by farmers and ranchers the earlier part of the year were slightly higher than a year earlier.

The net ranch income on Southwest cattle ranches increased about 1% in 1962. The average was $8,237. But when a charge is made for capital, the returns per hour to operator and family labor were less than a year earlier.

Prices received by cattle ranches advanced 5% in 1962, but prices paid also increased by about 3%.

Total cash expenditures continue to increase as ranchers replace worn out machinery and vehicles, and repair and improve buildings and fences. Non-farm source items that ranchers bought cost more in 1962 than a year earlier. Replacement animals for the breeding herd also advanced in price.

Young horsemen from all parts of Texas will converge on Texas A&M College August 22-23 for the first annual State 4-H Horse Show, says B. T. Haws, county agent.

Inspiration for the show was the increasing interest in the horse program which now boasts 4-H Horse Clubs in half the counties of the state.

To enter the show, boys and girls must be actively participating members of the 4-H Club and they or their immediate family must own the horse. Contestants must be at least nine years of age and not have passed 21 before January 1, 1963. Each participant may enter only one horse and the 4-H Horse Clubs may enter one contestant for each ten members in the club.

Halter classes for the show will include those for registered mares of any breed, grade mares under 14 hands, grade geldings over 14 hands, registered geldings of any breed, grade geldings under 14 hands, grade geldings 14 hands and over, and Shetland pony, gelding and mares. However, no stallions will be allowed in the show, explains Mr. Haws. The six performance classes will be western pleasure, reining, flag racing, pole bending, barrel racing, and keyhole racing, he adds.

Eleven members of the Wichita County 4-H Junior Horse Club will attend the state show.

for the Days AHEAD

Even now trees are being felled, cords of wood cut, in preparation for cold winter days which are sure to come. Woodcutters are preparing for the days ahead, to bring comfort against the cold.

To prepare for our future "cold days," periods of sadness, times of bereavement, and times when we are tempest tossed, begin now to attend church regularly and let God, His Church, and His people help you to meet any situation in life.

"Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the father of mercies, and the God of all comfort; who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God." 2 Cor. 1:3, 4.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

"U.S. Savings Bonds have helped the American people to become a nation of savers," says Mr. M. MONROE KIMBREL, President, American Bankers Association.

"In their contribution to America's economic and military strength, Savings Bonds have had an important part in preserving a way of life which rewards individual initiative and makes possible the kind of progress typified in our own observance of this Centennial year.

"But in addition to this role in the national economy, Savings Bonds have made it easy for tens of millions of Americans to save for the important things in their lives. And Savings Bonds have helped the American people to become strong through savings in all forms.

"These are the reasons why bankers everywhere are proud of their part in the Savings Bonds Program and why the American Bankers Association pledges its continued support."

ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Urges We Prepare For Changes

Before my late wife suddenly passed away as the result of an unexpected heart attack, we had been talking about the great changes we had noticed in only the past few years.

Changes in Travel

At the time he learned of my wife's death, my grandson Roger Webber was eating lunch in Paris. He hopped on a jet plane and in seven hours was at my side in Boston. It seems that some of the airlines run specials from Paris to Boston every day. This is common knowledge; but we forget the many different lines of business affected thereby.

Railroad Strike

I have no fear of a railroad strike; but what one could mean to every supermarket and household is unimaginable. In three days the shelves of most supermarkets would be bare. We would be completely in the hands of the Teamsters Union and their president, James Hoffa.

Other Labor Unions

As companies and their stockholders continue to combine into larger units, the wageworkers are sure to do the same. Hence, to avoid a dictatorship in this country, the laws designed to prevent and break up monopolies must be amended to include labor unions. This is something for which the President's brother — Robert Kennedy, the Attorney General — should be responsible.

Building Construction

With the possible exception of old-fashioned hotels in our large cities, the day of the hotels are slowly coming to an end. At present they are being changed over into apartments. But they will gradually be torn down and their sites used for the building of motels of one or two stories.

What will come after the "motel," I do not know; but some new changes will follow. With the increase in superhighways and supermarkets, more people are living in the suburbs and the motels are merging into motel apartments. In fact, I visualize these bordering the main highways between cities on land which is now barren, or else taking the place of small farms lining a block away from the main highways.

The typical frame houses now being built in most suburbs will be torn down. Zoning laws will be enacted to prevent the building of such single wooden houses.

Land Near Ocean

As I have heretofore emphasized, land between a superhighway and the ocean or near to large lakes or rivers will continue to become more valuable. For many hundreds of years there will be a surplus of ordinary land, but the supply of land bordering navigable waters will constantly become scarcer and more in demand. Don't put all your money into stocks and bonds. Well-located land and well-behaved "kids" will become the best investments, whatever our form of government.

Prepare for Changes

I think it was President Franklin Roosevelt who stated, "The only thing we can count on as permanent is CHANGE." Hence this is my thought this week: The form of schools and colleges will completely change. Many patients, clients, and customers now with independent doctors, lawyers, and "Indian Chiefs" will become socialistic. Taxes will be higher, but the average householder will get more for his money.

It will be harder to live on inherited money. The old saying, "The rich get richer and the poor get poorer," will be revised. Our children and grandchildren will prosper according to what they contribute in honest labor to the general welfare of all.

Weekly Report

ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Buying Household Needs

Not for quite a long time have I discussed the best time of year to buy foods, fuels, and other household necessities. Yet, there is a best time to buy each item, and you may save considerable money if you know when it is, particularly if you are responsible for a large, healthy family.

Importance of Freezing Units

The biggest part of the family budget goes for food, so that should get the most attention. Food expenditures for the average family heavily emphasize meat. Of course, you cannot get really big savings unless you have a freezer of considerable capacity — so I heartily recommend your buying one if you have not yet done so. Otherwise, you can rent a unit in a public freezing storehouse, although that is not so cheap in the long run nor so convenient as it is to have your own. An emergency generator is probably a good idea, too, to protect your food in the event of a power failure.

First, let us take a look at seasonal trends in meat and poultry prices. The best time to buy is usually during November and December when marketings of hogs, cattle, and chickens are seasonally very heavy. The big influx of supplies at this time forces price concessions at retail counters. However, if you want the finest grades of heavy steer beef, I advise you to wait until late winter or even early spring. The best cuts can usually be bought then at the lowest prices. Watch for "Wholesale" Prices

In the past few years there has been an increase in "discount outlets" where you can buy meat and poultry at any time of the year considerably below the retail level. Practically every large city or community has at least one such dealer. Cuts of pork, lamb, and beef are packaged in marked plastic containers so that you can easily see what you have in your freezer. Poultry sections can also be bought packaged separately, and they are clearly labeled.

Along with the sale of freezing units today, there are often food-buying programs that will arrange to keep your freezer stocked at prices well below the prevailing retail rate. Some of these systems are genuine cost-savers, especially if your family is large; but be careful not to get tied up with a fly-by-night outfit if you go in for such a program. Personally, under most conditions I would prefer to do my own buying, taking advantage of seasonal bargains.

Dairy Products and Eggs

The heaviest laying season for hens is still March, April, and May. This means that egg prices are at their seasonal low point usually during the spring. Readers should also note that spring eggs are the most successfully stored.

Prices of dairy products generally are closely related to the milk flow, which reaches its seasonal high about June. If you are interested in storing dairy products, the best buys in butter can normally be expected in June or July. Cheese buying opportunities are delayed because of the long curing period; November seems about the best time for this commodity.

Fuels and Miscellaneous Items

In fuels, seasonal factors also play an important part in terms of prices. If you are heating with coal, you will save money by taking advantage of summer reductions. Heating oils and kerosene are usually cheapest during the summer because of mounting refiners' stocks, low demand, and intensive competition. Gasoline prices generally dip lowest in mid-winter.

Jot down the best seasonal buying time for a few other items: Canned peas, June; canned corn, July; canned tomatoes, August; canned salmon, usually August and September; dry beans, November and December; potatoes, late fall; rice and flour, August and September; lard, December; citrus fruits, January or early February; furniture, during February sales; furs, August; and soft goods, at January "white sales." But most important of all: Study the advertisements in your local newspapers. I wish every high school would have a compulsory course on "Studying Newspaper Ads."

CLEAN POTS

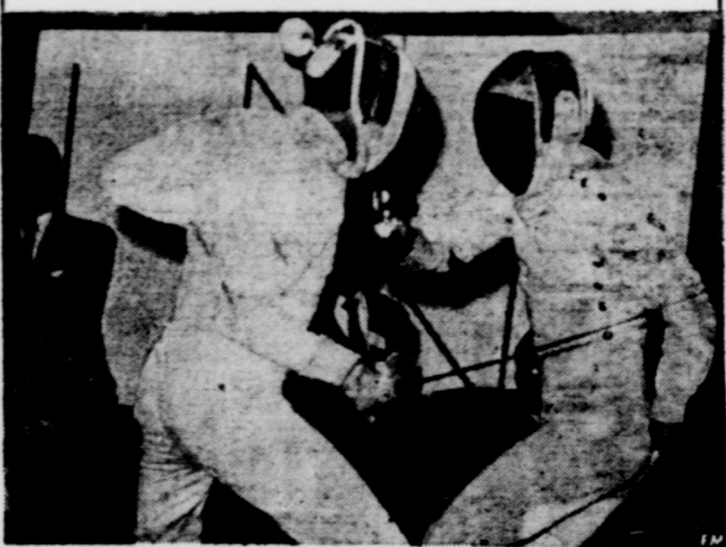

First lesson a Boy Scout learns is to cover the bottoms of his pot with soap so soot from open fire washes off easily. The more modern way is to wrap pot bottoms with aluminum foil. When it comes time to go, throw the foil away. A light wire holds top of foil in place.

SCRAPE FOR SQUIRRELS

Here's a way to put smart old squirrels in the bag next fall. Just take a long stick and starting at the ground, scrape the bark of the tree they're in. Sooner or later as you work the stick upward, the squirrel will peek out to investigate this new, strange sounding, possibly dangerous creature.

A New Yorker named Walter Hunt invented the safety pin in just a few hours one day in 1846, reports World Book Encyclopedia, when he twisted a piece of wire into the familiar shape still used today. The people of Italy, however, are believed to have used similar devices as long as 2,000 B. C.

TOP U. S. FENCING PRIZES AWARDED IN NEW YORK

Bruno Torti (left), American representative for Martini & Rossi, presents M & R Challenge leading trophies to Wladimiro Calarese of Italy (center), the sabre victor and Witold Wojda of Poland, the foil winner. Bill Hoskyns of England (not shown) won the epee event.

NEW YORK . . . An Englishman, a Pole and an Italian emerged winners of the prized Martini & Rossi trophies for epee, foil and sabre during the recent International Fencing Matches held at the New York Athletic Club.

Wladimiro Calarese, diminutive sabre star from Italy, came away with the top prize as he won the Martini & Rossi sabre trophy. This specially designed trophy is recognized as one of the three most coveted individual sabre awards in international competition.

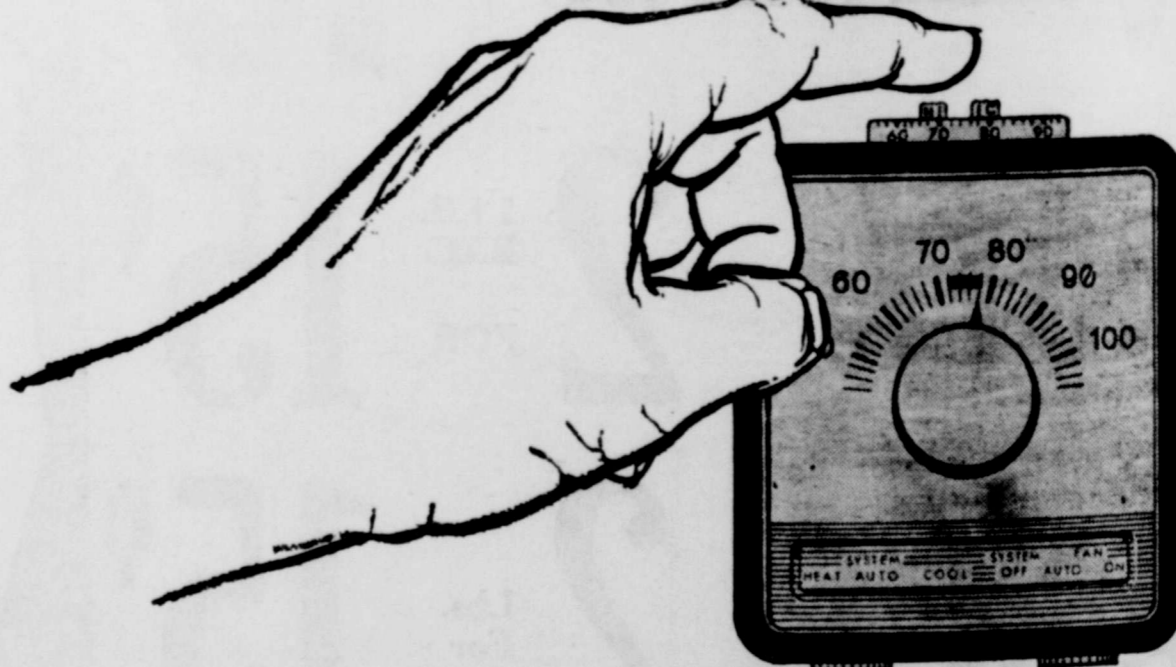

The matches, which each year comprise the principal fencing event in the United States, drew a field of nearly 100 fencers. This included an American contingent of over 85 and entrants from Canada, France, Germany, Hungary and Mexico, in addition to the three countries represented in the winners' circle.

Bill Hoskyns was the Englishman who walked off with the trophy in the epee competition. Witold Wojda of Poland was the foil winner. Wojda was one of several Iron Curtain country fencers to participate.

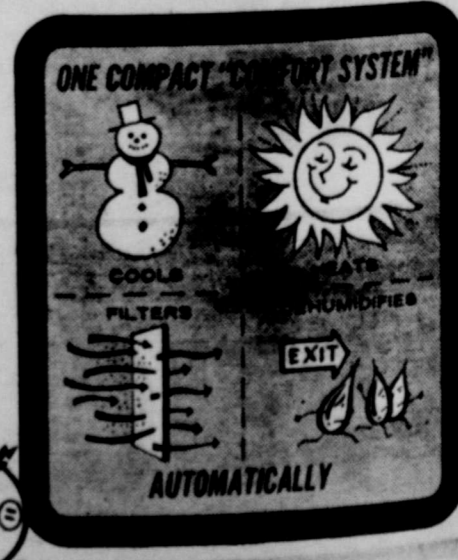

Two reigning world champions also were in the field, but fell short in their try for trophies. They were the Hungarian tandem of Dr. Istvan Kausz and Zoltan Horvath, victors respectively in the epee and sabre at the world games at Buenos Aires last year.

All you do is set the thermostat once — from that moment on the heat pump does the rest, heating or cooling, whichever is necessary to maintain the temperature you select, regardless of outside weather changes. Thousands of Texas homes and businesses already use the automatic all-electric heat pump for year 'round indoor climate control. And now it's available on our low rate for electric home heating. A QUEEN'S MEMORY BOOK

Of the thousands of co-eds who visit New York annually, few leave happier than Karen Lynn Sorenson, second from right, a Junior at the University of Arizona. Karen was just elected as the new National College Queen. Here she is shown receiving her first place award in the moving picture taking event from J. C. Landen, marketing director of Revere Wallensak. Joanne Vissa of Quincy Junior College and Patricia May Brill of Florida State University, left to right, were runners up in the event.

Karen didn't do quite as well in the 3M sponsored "Scotch" Wrapsody, but it obviously wasn't from lack of effort. A former Arizona Mardi Gras Queen, Karen is majoring in Interior Design. She also does volunteer work with orphan children and in pediatrics at a local hospital.

Magazine Tells New Method For Rooting Plant Cuttings

The lost art of "slipping," or making cuttings of a favorite plant, can be revived through a system perfected by a Mentor, Ohio horticulturist, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

An article in the current issue of the magazine reports that Lewis F. Lipp, horticulturist at the Holden Arboretum, has perfected a method of rooting cuttings that will work "even for the poor gawk who is all thumbs, not one of them green."

Basically, the method consists of planting the cuttings in a box, watering them, then putting a tentlike plastic covering over them to keep the moisture in. The cuttings may be left in a warm place all winter and by spring they will be rooted.

Equipment includes a greenhouse flat — a shallow wooden box measuring 12 x 18 inches or 16 x 22 inches, 4 inches deep — filled with a mixture of 75% German peat moss and 25% granular Styrofoam and covered with cheesecloth supported by three heavy wire hoops, bent to resemble the hoops on a covered wagon. A sheet of polyethylene plastic is used to wrap the entire flat to check the loss of moisture.

Slips 3 to 6 inches long can be cut in August or September from new wood that has matured, and prepared as follows: Strip the lower leaves so that only three or four remain near the top; slit the lower end of each stem for two inches by drawing a sharp knife down the side to expose the thin, soft, slippery layer (cambium) that lies just under the bark. Dip the stems in hormone powder, then insert them in the flat at an angle, pushing them down until the leaves are near the surface. Firm the peat moss mixture

Better Health Through Knowledge Medical
PETIT MAL — GRAND MAL
Q. Is petit mal a chronic condition? Is there any connection between petit mal and grand mal?
A. Petit mal and grand mal are different forms of epilepsy. Both may occur in the same patient, but one does not necessarily lead to the other. Epilepsy of either type is a chronic condition which can be controlled but for which there is no cure.
DOUCHING
Q. Should unmarried women take douches and if so, how often? Also, should they use tampons?
A. Unless there is some medical reason for doing so, regular douching is unnecessary. Many women have the mistaken idea that douching is essential to cleanliness when in fact, the healthy vagina does not require frequent mechanical cleansing. The internal type of absorbent tampons is satisfactory for women — married or single — who prefer this type.

Long Lost Dog Returns Home
By KATRICIA COCHRAN
For ten months Mandy was lost. Now she's home again. What the big black Labrador Retriever did during that period, where she went, what she saw and who fed her will probably forever remain a mystery. The fact she survived and eventually was returned home is one of the miracles which occasionally turn up in the canine world. Mandy's owners are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tibbets of Burkburnett. In September 1962, because they had a bred Poodle bitch which was fighting with Mandy, the Lab was given to some farm friends at Devol, Oklahoma. Two weeks later she disappeared. Was she trying to get home to Burkburnett? Only Mandy knows. The Tibbets, grieving over the apparent loss of the canine and, meanwhile, having had the Poodle spayed, appealed to the Humane Society's Animal Shelter to contact them if a Lab was ever left there. So one day last week when Stanley Woods of Holiday brought in a Lab that had wandered up to his home, Mrs. Tibbets was notified. When she drove up to the Shelter on the Iowa Park Road and saw the big black Lab in a kennel, Mrs. Tibbets immediately took Mandy home. And she was overjoyed at the sight of her mistle. Labs look pretty much like you say? How could Mandy betts be sure the canine was Mandy? Well, it seems that Mandy and her mistress had been an obedience training team for a year or so ago and upon meeting at the Showman Tibbets put the Lab to the commands and the Tibbets'!

It's less than forty miles from Devol to Burkburnett and it certainly wouldn't have taken ten months for Mandy to have traversed the miles. Where has she been? Well-fed and in fairly good shape, Mandy had been in the care of a farmer on the farm. Home again in Burkburnett, Mandy was enthusiastically greeted by the Poodle and family's Siamese cat who had jumped up on the dog's return. "Mandy is not leaving me," said Mrs. Tibbets. It could only happen to a dog. Week end visitors to home of Mr. and Mrs. Tibbets are Mr. and Mrs. Nix were retired. Mr. Tibbets is retired. Mrs. Tibbets is retired. Mrs. Tibbets retired in 1963 following a tour of duty in the U. S. Air Force on assignment in Goose Bay, Labrador. Tibbets are former residents of Burkburnett. They have two sons, Ronnie and Donnie, and two daughters, who are now young students at Oklahoma State University.
