BURKBURNETT, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1963

HE MAKES STANLEY FAMILY HOMELESS FOR SECOND TIME

BY BETTY BOYD
Special News Staff Writer

The second time in nine years that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanley and two daughters, Kathy, 9, and Judy Lee, 13, of Burk Burnett, have been homeless by fire.

Stanley was preparing for a four storage tanks Thursday in Burk Burnett, the Stanley home at 203 Street, Burk Burnett, also in flames.

Stanley was preparing for a dinner about 11:00 Thursday when she turned on the gas. She said that she went to investigate, thinking perhaps her husband was through the living room, and gasoline spouting from the pipe at the refiner.

Stanley's husband came and told her to get out of the house. After turning on the gas burners, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley got in their car and drove to a neighbors, they called the fire department.

Stanley is remembering that a Chihuahua, was still in the house, Sanley rushed to the car and hurried to find the place beginning to burn but he found that the little dog was howling at the door. He picked up the dog and animal and had the front door when the explosion occurred.

Stanley, standing in the doorway, saw him in the doorway, but he was only

1964 Fairlane Offers More Than Ever Before

From a full range of Indianapolis-proved engines to action-keyed new styling, the 1964 Fairlane offers more than ever a full measure of performance and economy in a family-sized package.

"Fresh styling for 1964 may give some the impression that the Fairlane has become a bigger car," said Donald N. Frey, Ford Division assistant general manager. "Actually, it retains its original size — about equal to the 1956 full-sized outside and comparable to the 1959 Ford inside."

The dynamic new lines of the 1964 Fairlane are complemented by a selection of five engines, three of which are of the same basic design as the V-8 which powered the Lotus cars to second and seventh place finishes in the 1963 Indianapolis 500-mile Memorial Day Classic.

"Combined with five transmissions for 1964, they offer a full-time performance and economy choices designed to meet the requirements of nearly any driver," Mr. Frey said. Included in the lineup are 170- and 200-cubic-inch six-cylinder engines and 260- and 289-cubic-inch V-8's. Transmissions available with designated engines include three-speed manual, the Fordomatic two-speed automatic, overdrive, four-speed all-synchromesh manual floor shift, and a new Dual Range Cruise-O-Matic automatic.

The 1964 Fairlane model lineup includes 2- and 4-door sedans and a 4-door Ranch Wagon in the Fairlane Series. The Fairlane 500 series includes 2- and 4-door sedans, a 2-door hardtop, a 2-door sports coupe, and a 4-door Custom Ranch Wagon.

Mr. Frey said "the benefits of our society belong to those who suffer from such disabilities, and the mental and physical should be encouraged to participate in the active life of their communities."

BULLDOGS TO PLAY THE RIDER RAIDERS AT MU STADIUM SAT. NIGHT AT 8:00 P. M.

What could be one of the really big battles of the year is shaping up this week, and Saturday night at 8:00 p. m. in Midwestern University Stadium at Wichita Falls, two local titans of the gridiron clash head-on as the Burk Burnett Bulldogs go after the red hot Rider Raiders.

Both teams are riding the crest of a two-game victory wave, with Riders' record looking a little more impressive. The Raiders have yet to be scored on, blanking the scrappy little Hirschi Huskies, 24-0, and dropping the noted Quannah Indians, 16-0. However, Quannah had once been beaten by Stamford, and the Raiders outweighed the Huskies 28 pounds per man. But taking nothing away from Rider, they are big, tough and mobile.

Teh Bulldogs' victory skien includes a 7-6 count over rugged Bonham and a 15-6 win over the fast, aerial minded Haskell Indians. As everyone knows, the Bulldogs are big in the line, but Rider could match them.

The Raiders have come up with a surprise this season, a 180-pound sophomore sensation, Bub Derrinwater. Derrinwater has been the "hoss" on offense, picking up 273 yards in two games. Wichita Falls observers say the big left-half's running is reminiscent of former Coyote fullback great, Larry Shields. So, the youngster could develop into a top back for seasons to come. Roger Wallace pulls the strings on the 177-pound average backfield. Halfback Gary Barrier and fullback James Vanderslice, both 180, round out the hunners. Big men on the line are center Dickie Hander, tackle Terry Webster, tackle Tommy Binek, and end Tommy Hughes. Binek is biggest, weight wise, at 205.

Derrinwater, Wallace and Barrier can all throw the ball, so the Rider attack should show some variety.

Henry Bauch kept the Bulldogs in the game last week with 101 yards in 19 carries, two touchdowns, and a conversion. However, good defensive work held the score down and saved the day.

The Bulldog-Raider clash could be the start of something big, a friendly rivalry for seasons to come. Close neighbors who play each other usually develop some sort of traditional rivalry. Both teams are big and strong, both can move the ball, and both have rock hard defense. So, as the song says, "Somethin's Gotta Give."

We'll go on the hunch that Rider will give first and we'll pick the Bulldogs by a very close margin — possibly a conversion.

Howard Services Were Wednesday

Services were held Wednesday at 2:00 p. m. here for Chester V. Howard, former resident of Burk Burnett. He died Friday in Southeastern Hospital in Cape Girardeau, Missouri. He was 59.

Funeral was held in First Methodist Church with Rev. Carrol Copeland, pastor, and Eugene Gilmore, minister of the Burk Burnett Church of Christ, officiating. Burial was in Burk Burnett Cemetery under direction of Owens & Brumley Funeral Home.

Born December 3, 1903, in Mt. Vernon, Illinois, Howard had lived in Burk Burnett for more than 40 years before moving to Lutesville, Missouri, about two years ago. He married the former Miss Ruth Garland here on January 9, 1927.

Howard was a sales representative for United Farm Agency in Lutesville, a member of the Lions Club and the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife; three sons, Donald Howard of Dallas, Barry Howard of the U. S. Army in Korea, and C. V. Howard Jr., of Lutesville; three daughters, Colleen Howard of Fort Worth; Mrs. June Young of Randlett, Oklahoma; Mrs. Kenya Roon of Corpus Christi; one sister, Mrs. Ethel Cooper of Mt. Vernon, and eight grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Magers have just returned from Grand Canyon and Phoenix, Arizona, where they attended a business meeting and convention of the Great Southern Life Insurance Company. All expenses were paid by the company.

Remarks From Your Fire Marshall

We, the volunteer Fire Department from Burk Burnett wish to express our sympathy to Mr. J. D. Riddle and Mr. Leo Foster and their families for the great misfortune they have had and we want them to know each and every one of us are hoping and praying for their quick recovery. If there is any way in which we can be of help, please call on any or all of us.

Speaking of the "Home Town Folks," I still insist that Burk Burnett has the best volunteer fire department of any town its size and place. These men do not stop to consider their own interests when they are needed, they are on the job morning, noon or night and stay as long as they are needed. They are not equipped with the asbestos suits which prevent many serious burns and that is all the more reason our city should be proud of them.

They say that only three things are responsible for fires, heat, fuel and oxygen, so as fire prevention week is nearing, let every man, woman and child keep these things in mind and remove all fire hazards before they become fires. I suggest that we check our hot-water heaters and the closets and spaces which contain them and remove any oily clothes or rags or paper or other things which might ignite causing a fire. It is a good idea to check your gasoline cans, making sure they are the approved kind, and do not forget your electrical wiring including any extension cords that might be too small to carry the load placed on them.

Our hats are off to the brave, efficient firemen from Sheppard Field, who so ably came to our rescue the past week. "Thanks Men." If I can be of any help to you, please call me at the City Hall.

Chevrolet Adds New Chevelle To Big Lineup

Chevrolet — virtually certain of setting an all-time sales mark in 1963 — intends to continue this success in 1964 by offering the widest choice of automobiles in its history. Introduced in Chevrolet dealerships on Thursday, September 26, will be 43 new models in five distinct sizes. This is ten more models than Chevrolet offered for 1963 and the greatest number the division has ever offered in a single year.

Included will be the industry's only all-new car for 1964 — the Chevelle. This much discussed combination of beauty, quality, performance and distinction is sized between the regular Chevrolet and Chevy II.

All Chevrolet's five lines of 1964 cars have styling and engineering improvements which — teamed with the increase in models and options — allow the customer to tailor a car to his particular requirements as never before.

"Car buyers today like diversity," Semon E. Knudsen, Chevrolet general manager, declares. "They like to be able to choose cars from a wide selection of sizes, styles and performance characteristics."

"We expect the broad diversity in our 1964 cars to win the customer votes needed to continue Chevrolet's traditional industry leadership."

REGULAR CHEVROLETS — Extensive new styling is evident in the regular Chevrolet line, again stressing the big car luxury which has made it so popular.

CHEVELLE — Chevrolet's new automobile line for 1964 embodies a distinctive styling and will be offered in 11 models in three series — the top-of-the-line Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300.

Quality and vehicle width are stressed in the front end design which makes use of dual headlights and horizontal grille bars. Side treatment is clean and a peak line which carries throughout the car gives a look of length.

Coronation Service Scheduled Sept. 29 At Randlett Baptist

Coronation Services will be held at the Randlett Baptist Church Sunday, September 29 at 8:00 p. m. in the church sanctuary. Girl's Auxiliary candidates for Forward Steps will be presented. Included will be two queens and one queen with septre. Mrs. John Baber and Mrs. Robert Goode are counselors.

The public is invited to attend.

The lending agency that I listen to on my radio says it will lend me money for the bills 'I'd like to pay' which seems to indicate that I have a choice in dealing with my creditors.

Mr. M. S. Siddiqi, Financial Advisor for the Pakistan Defense Department, will be the featured speaker during the regular meeting of Burk Burnett Optimist Club in Town Hall on Thursday, September 26th at 7:00 p. m. This position is comparable with Robert S. McNamara's job as Secretary of Defense for the United States of America. Mr. Siddiqi is currently undergoing comptroller training at Sheppard Air Force Base.

Optimist President Ken Blankinship announced five new Optimist members resulted from a recent membership drive. They are Dr. J. A. Davey, Glen Madl, Elmer Klinkerman, T. C. Hampton and Tommy Christopher.

Last Thursday, Jimmy Davis of Wolfe Ford Company, presented a program outlining this year's national Punt, Pass and Kick Competition that is conducted on a local level with local prizes. He asked if the club would again help with the production of the local competition. The club assured Wolfe Ford Company that it could count on the full support of the Optimist Club of Burk Burnett. Optimist, Ronnie Mullins will direct the contest for the second straight year.

Civic minded men of Burk Burnett who would like to join an organization dedicated to youth work and the enjoyment of fellowship are invited to visit any Thursday evening. Please call Ken Blankinship and he will arrange for an Optimist to give you a lift to the meeting.

Lutheran Hour Begins 31st Year September 22nd

The Lutheran Hour, world-wide radio ministry of Grace Lutheran Church of Burk Burnett, 3rd and Avenue E, and associated congregations, last Sunday began another year of bringing Christ to the nations. On September 22nd it opened its 31st broadcasting season, Rev. Phil Oten reports. It is heard here every Sunday at 12:30 p. m. over KNIN.

The Lutheran Hour speaker is Dr. Oswald Hoffman, who joined the program staff full-time in July after serving for eight years on a part-time basis. He recently returned from a spiritual life mission to U. S. Air Force base in Japan, the Philippines, and Hawaii.

His topic for the 31st season opening broadcast was "No Exclusions." He told listeners around the world, "If there are exclusions anywhere in the Christian Church today, it is not Christ's fault. . . . Regardless of sex, class, station, nation, education, or race, to Him every person — all in need of the grace of God, none more fit to receive it than another."

Almost without exception, wherever Christian missionaries go in the world today, The Lutheran Hour, or Bringing Christ to the Nations, the motto by which the broadcast is known in many places, has been there before them, opening doors, trail-blazing the way.

Currently broadcast in 43 languages it is heard in more than 120 lands by an estimated 50 million persons each week. It is produced by the Lutheran Laymen's League, 137,000 member affiliate of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, producers of TV's "This Is the Life."

The same spiritual blessings offered on these programs are offered each Sunday at Grace Lutheran Church in services at 10:30 a. m. and in Sunday School and Bible classes at 9:15 a. m. The public is always invited.

Big Success — Lots of Fun That is the remarks that were heard from everyone who attended the Big Square Dance that was held at the Legion Hall last Saturday night.

The local dancers sponsored this 1963-1964 season kick-off dance as a pre-season dance to offer all local square dancers a chance to hear the caller, Cecil Curtis in action.

More than 100 dancers and spectators attended the dance. Visitors from many of the area clubs were present.

The new club being formed has a bright future if Saturday's dance was any indication of the activity in the future.

Scots Beauty To Reign At National Raisin Festival

Sophia Bain Ayre, 22-year-old brown-haired beauty from Dumbarton, Scotland, will be winging her way soon toward a cherished dream — a visit to California.

She won her trip and the honor of appearing as the Scottish Raisin Queen at the annual National Raisin Festival by besting hundreds of other Scots girls in a contest based upon beauty, personality and talent.

At the Festival, held in Dinuba, Calif., September 28-29, she'll ride on a float especially designed for her in the Saturday morning Raisinland Parade and will have a bagpipe band as escort.

In Scotland, Sophia is a lady policeman, serving as constable on the police force of Helensburgh. In her spare time, she is an amateur actress and singer. She's a typical Scots lass in her special likes, which she lists as porridge and bagpipes and California raisins.

The Raisin Festival, now in its 52nd year and one of the largest food celebrations in the nation, features all sorts of raisin foods, from raisin bread to raisin-burgers and raisin ice cream. The crowds of more than 50,000 spectators also will enjoy such events as sky diving competitions, a championship cricket match, a sports car auto-cross, an art show, folk dancing and a children's raisin collage contest.

Each meeting this year member will bring a program on a candidate or a political party. This will culminate the end of our club year.

J. B. Riley, Jr., gave the program on the Democratic Party, its history and ideals. Refreshments were served to the following members: Mesdames Ralph B. Shier, Jr., Buddy Byam, Henderson, Russell Kelley, Koller Floyd Marston, McCullough, B. H. Preston, Gene Robertson, J. B. Preston, Jr., Bob Sprague, Finis T. Hill Vincent, and the hostess, Mrs. C. D. Landrum.

The door prize was won by Mrs. B. H. Alexander, Jr. The next meeting will be held Thursday, October 3rd at the home of Mrs. Ellis McCullough.

Humble commenced its coverage of college football in 1934. Three Rice University games were broadcast there as a public service.

Following the meeting, the club members will have a coffee hour.

1964 Ford Offers 16 New Models To The Public

Total performance in a completely restyled package, with three distinctive new roof lines and a roomier interior, keynote the Ford for 1964.
 "All 16 models in the 1964 Ford lineup — including the uniquely styled 4-door hardtop models — are designed to combine an exterior look of greater luxury with still more of the luxury engineering features that have made the 1964 Ford our best seller," said E. F. Laux, Ford Division general marketing manager.
 Mr. Laux said the vehicle has been redesigned inside as well to reduce the front compartment tunnel size by one-third and to increase headroom and seat height over 1963 by as much as an inch.
 "Fords are up in sales 28 per cent over a year ago and account for better than one out of every two cars we sell," Mr. Laux pointed out. "We believe we are proving that buyers of low-priced cars respond to the extra value we call 'total performance.' The 1964 Ford line expresses our conviction that more car for the money — in terms of total performance — is the key to sales leadership in the hotly competitive low-

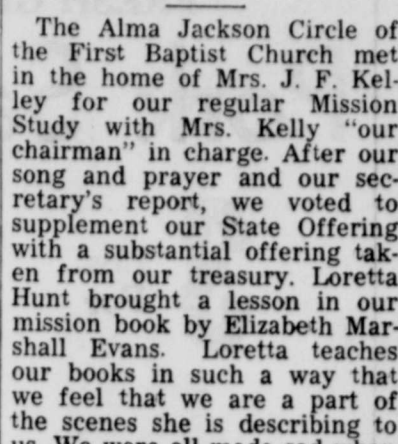

Alma Jackson Circle Met With Mrs. Kelly

The Alma Jackson Circle of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. J. F. Kelley for our regular Mission Study with Mrs. Kelly "our chairman" in charge. After our song and prayer and our secretary's report, we voted to supplement our State Offering with a substantial offering taken from our treasury. Loretta Hunt brought a lesson in our mission book by Elizabeth Marshall Evans. Loretta teaches our books in such a way that we feel that we are a part of the scenes she is describing to us. We were all made sad when told of the death of Mr. Kelly's brother.
 Mrs. Kelly had prepared lovely tables were we observed our annual dinner. Everyone brought covered dishes and a lovely dinner was enjoyed by all of us.
 Those present were Mesdames, Marilyn Ferrel, Lena Houser, Bessie McKnight, Loretta Hunt, Mitty Miller, Lola Thorpe, Ruby Garner, Mrs. Simmons, Leta Manning, Cordie Lawrence, Vera Reed, Dora Whitley, Ruth Beldon, Agnes Boyd and our hostess, Mary Kelly.
 In 1963 Humble football broadcasts and telecasts will be carried by approximately 135 radio stations covering urban and rural areas in well over 100 cities and towns throughout Texas.

American Families Flock To Riviera

More and more American tourists are flying to Nice which, after Paris, has become the second most popular travel destination in France. A sea resort long frequented by royalty and movie stars, today the Cote d'Azur is readily accessible to families from all over the United States.
 The Riviera's variety of holiday pleasures appeal to American families. The best of many worlds enchants those who seek scenic and historic wonders, sports in the sun, elegant nightlife, museums, as well as pottery, perfume and craft centers.
 French families from Paris and elsewhere in France return year after year to the Riviera, taking their children along. Budget-conscious, like most travelers, they often stay at smaller hotels or "pensions" where rates are reasonable, meals are served with less formality, and children are more than welcome. A practical tip for U.S. traveling families: Ask for a child's bed in your double room. It's an accepted custom and costs but a few additional francs.
 A timesaver for those traveling with children is the direct Air France service, New York-Paris-Nice, without change of plane. Flying time aboard the French airline's intercontinental jets is eight hours and five minutes.
 Comprehensive information about the French Riviera is gathered in a 44-page illustrated booklet entitled "You on the Riviera," and is available without charge at all Air France offices throughout the United States and Canada.

SAFETY TIPS

From The American Medical Association
Preventing Accidents

Millions of Americans take to the fields and forests to hunt everything from cottontail rabbits to Canada geese. At least 200 of these hunters are brought back dead. At least 200 are killed in accidents involving guns. Back of almost every hunting accident is one cause, carelessness. Today's Health, magazine of the American Medical Association, offers basic pointers that will help you both to return unharmed from your hunting and to avoid bagging a fellow hunter.

What you're firing at when you pull the trigger. Be sure that the rustle in the brush actually is a deer and not another hunter.

Never climb through or over a fence with a loaded gun. Unload the gun, then reload after you have crossed.

Never shoot at a flat, hard surface. Ricocheting bullets can wound at long distances. Always look down the barrel of your gun to see whether it's pointed at you.

You can't tell by looking down the barrel anyway, because there's always the chance of an accident. Always carry a gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble. Be sure the safety is on until you're ready to shoot.

Always keep guns away from children. Never leave a weapon unattended without first unloading the guns and ammunition out of the reach of children.

Always keep guns carried in to camp. Keep guns cased until you get to the hunting area. Always be sure the barrel is clear of obstructions, such as mud.

Always keep guns and guns definitely unloaded. Avoid drinking while carrying a loaded gun. Always treat a gun with respect. Never point it at a person. It might go off.

Right Roofing Resists Storms, Repels Rain

A vicious windstorm has blown itself out and the skies have emptied their last bucket of rain, some homes stand unscathed, while others are seriously damaged. Why?

It may be a miracle, but more likely it was foresight on the part of the home owners.

Houses that suffer the least damage from wind and rain usually are those with wind-resistant roofs. If the roof holds, the interior of a house is protected from the torrential rains that usually follow hurricanes and windstorms, causing a major part of the costly damage.

Wind-resistant asphalt shingles are either self-sealing or interlocking. The former have a factory-applied adhesive that bonds them firmly to shingles below; the latter have slits or tabs to make a tight joint with adjoining shingles.

After touring Texas coastal areas struck by Hurricane Carla in 1961, Norvel F. Favela, president of the Houston chapter of the National Association of Residential Appraisers, commented, "One valuable lesson was learned - that wind-resistant asphalt shingling can stand the action of high winds. A check of roofs after the hurricane proved that these shingles held through with little or no damage." Bert C. Heath, chief architect for the Houston FHA office, said, "We learned a great deal from the hurricane. It was a test of how shingles react to high winds. I am convinced that asphalt shingles that are nailed and sealed down will stand the winds we get here."

The Inevitable

The aftermath of the featherbedding issue in the railroad-union dispute will be felt long after the controversy is settled.

The prolonged threat of a strike causes railroad shippers to place more and more of their freight business with other modes of transportation. The mere threat of work stoppage causes this and experience shows that a substantial percentage of the traffic never returns to the rails. Thus jobs are lost.

It is obvious as the nose on your face that the determination of the rail unions to force the hiring of employees for whom there is no longer any need will drive business away from the rail lines and reduce jobs throughout the whole railroad industry.

Evidence is mounting that public good will toward the brotherhood is steadily declining. This is natural, because if featherbedding can be forced on the railroads, the same tactics can be applied to other industries that seek to reduce costs to the consumer by adopting more modern methods of production. In the meantime the public pays in many ways.

As the Portland, Oregon, Journal says: "We doubt that other unions would be affected by a nationwide rail strike are happy about the position of the brotherhoods. It may be that the continuing loss of friends will bring them to the point of more gracefully accepting the inevitable." The inevitable in this case is recognition of the fact that you can't forever collect pay for an unneeded job.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

EMPORIA, KANS., GAZETTE: "We hate to pour Goldwater on the Democrats just as they are getting warmed up, but talk is getting out of hand. President Kennedy's 'task forces,' study groups and committees have come up with some alarming proposals. One of the most alarming called for a government-owned television network similar to the British Broadcasting Company, but we doubt, if even the most liberal of Kennedy's staff took this suggestion seriously."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

It is a matter of record that over 80% of the nations' independent business proprietors, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, want a reduction in federal spending to accompany a tax cut.

So immediately, there arises the question, "where can expenses be cut?"

While of course the most drastic leak is the foreign give away programs which have already costover $100 billion and which are being attacked by men like Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, there are thousands upon thousands of leaks from the U. S. Treasury.

It would probably take a finely printed book several feet thick to list all these leaks, but Rep. Homer Abele of Ohio recently reported on a few.

For example, the Federal government, which means the taxpayer, is shelling out $17,500 for a study on alcohol preference in rats.

This could be real big. For centuries mankind has really not known if rats prefer bourbon, scotch, brandy, rum, or some other beverage. And perhaps out of this study will come definitive proof as to just how dry a martini rats really prefer. And who knows that this study is being made in the nick of time, before dissatisfied rats of the nation unite in a mass protest.

© National Federation of Independent Business

Then Rep. Abele points to an item of $16,800 being spent on termite social behaviour.

Already this will astound some taxpayers who have never realized that termites have any social manners, especially when eating up buildings.

Then he also found an expense of $29,300 being spent for a study of the mammal fauna of the highlands of Ethiopia. It is presumed this study is confined to animal fauna, but this point is not clear.

Then there is $64,500 being spent on the behavior and ecology of the wandering albatross.

This is a larger figure than the other items quoted, but it is presumed that this is due to fact that these albatross do wander, thus will require much more travel expense to follow them around as they wander.

Some $15,200 is being spent to study society in ancient Babylonia, $36,800 to study social behaviour of ants which is presumably being done to learn why they are so fond of other people's picnics, $16,900 being spent for a revision of earthworm classifications, doubtless programmed under the slogan "Get to Know Your Earthworms Better," and so on down a long list.

All is paid for by taxes.

Inasmuch as all ancient Babylonians are long gone dead and not needing jobs, money extracted from business for such matters would be better left with business to create new employment for the present living unemployed.

Expect great things from Chevrolet again-for '64

Today...Jet-smooth Luxury '64 CHEVROLET

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan—one of 15 Jet-smooth luxury Chevrolets.

Chevrolet was luxurious before, but you should see it now. With smart new styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even a whole new series this year—the Impala Super Sports—with front bucket seats as standard equipment. (The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted.) Of course, you expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet. A choice of 16 power teams, for instance—a 6 and six V8's up to 425 hp (optional at extra cost). And quieter transmissions. Jet-smooth ride with Full Coil suspension. Flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delco-tron generator, self-adjusting brakes and other low-upkeep features. If you've ever wondered how luxurious Chevrolet could get—with all the extra-cost options there are to choose from—that's entirely up to you.

Take your first look at the first CHEVELLE!

CHEVELLE! by Chevrolet

New Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe—one of 11 models in three great series.

You've never seen anything like this totally new line of cars before. Chevelle is new in everything but Chevrolet quality. Chevelle is a good foot shorter than the big cars, so it parks easily. Yet the interior of its Body by Fisher gives you a generous supply of passenger and luggage room. The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprisingly for Chevrolet, the new Chevelle offers a choice of engines ranging from an economical 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp V8 (optional at extra cost). Choose the Chevelle you like best from the three series—the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series, eleven models in all—at your Chevrolet dealer's. (This good-looking Malibu Super Sport maybe?)

News From Cong. Purcell

A bill which would affect every citizen is scheduled to be considered by the House of Representatives in the very near future. In fact, this bill may be being debated by the time you receive this newsletter. This bill, if enacted, will have an impact directly on a larger number of citizens than any other bill before the Congress. I am speaking of the tax reduction and reform bill.

This is not just a question of whether or not to reduce taxes. There are many issues involved here. In order to provide a clearer understanding of the complex issues under consideration, I will try to list below the arguments for and against this bill.

ARGUMENTS FOR
A major tax reduction is needed now for long range benefits. Continued expansion must be insured. While the nation is now prosperous and growing, a still larger rate of economic growth is both desired and needed. A significant tax reduction would help accomplish this.

Despite what its detractors say, the philosophy involved is not a new one. It is the basic principle on which the U. S. business community has grown to its position of world leadership. It is just like a business, as they do every day, borrowing money for expansion which will pay off in increased profits in later years to more than make up for the immediate debt. The plan is to decrease taxes to put more money in circulation. This will increase the amount of money spent by individuals and companies, will increase the number of jobs available, and will increase profits and salaries.

A tax cut means more money in the pockets of every individual, and more money in the bank for every company. This means more shoes and clothes for the children, more food for the table, more of the modern conveniences of life for all Americans.

A tax cut also means more jobs. The expansion of business with increased business and profit would necessitate more workers in industry of all kinds. With more than one out of every twenty Americans unable to find a job, action must be taken which will stimulate the economy. Every day workers are being displaced by automation. There is high unemployment among young people and minority groups. A stimulus, created by a tax cut, would ease many of the problems we face today.

As these unemployed workers find jobs, they are taken off the relief rolls, which lowers the cost of government. But, more important they start paying taxes which will add to the government's income to reduce the deficit created by the tax reduction.

The present expansion of our economy, as indicated by the healthy rises in the stock market and elsewhere, is unquestionably based on an anticipation of passage of a tax reduction at this season of the Congress. To fail to act this year could well have a depressing effect on the economy. There is increased support among business leaders for a tax reduction now. This support is growing even among businessmen who have, in the past, expressed opposition to this kind of tax reduction.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST
To reduce taxes without reducing spending is unthinkable. No amount of economic reasoning can justify spending more than you are taking in, and then reducing taxes will further increase the deficits.

The best way to improve the economy is to reduce spending by the Federal government first, then reduce taxes. This would give the people and business more confidence in the economy, and would give impetus to economic expansion by putting more money in people's pockets without increasing the debt on their children and grandchildren for years to come.

The shortest road to lower unemployment is the road of fiscal responsibility in the government. By increasing confidence in the economy through lower expenditures and balanced budgets, we will create more jobs for the unemployed.

We should have a tax cut. The present tax rates are too high. They are a drag on the economy. But we should cut spending first.

This bill provides for more than a reduction in taxes. There are numerous so-called "reform" provisions in the bill. Some of these are justified, but others are not.

The proposed bill does not serve one of the most important purposes for which it was allegedly intended . . . to streamline the tax laws. In fact, it only serves to further complicate an already ridiculously complex set of tax laws and regulations. Any major tax bill should simplify and streamline these regulations to tax computation and costs for both individual and business.

SUMMING UP
All this boils down to economic theories. The big question remains; should taxes be reduced in the face of a budget deficit? Or should we generate enough new jobs and economic expansion by increasing employment more than make up immediate deficit over haul. This view contrasts the widespread feeling of government, like a should budget its expenses to stay within its income.

The other primary question is the "reform" provisions in the bill. Some of these are justified, but others are not. The proposed bill does not serve one of the most important purposes for which it was allegedly intended . . . to streamline the tax laws. In fact, it only serves to further complicate an already ridiculously complex set of tax laws and regulations. Any major tax bill should simplify and stream-

 A large volume of bills written about the tax reduction at this time. Many individuals have also expressed their support of the tax reduction at this time. Many individuals and businessmen are just as strongly opposed. I will be called on to vote one way or the other on this bill in the very near future. You are assured that all the arguments on both sides will be seriously considered. I will also rely heavily, as I always do, on the word I receive from each of you. I welcome your views and ideas on this and other subjects before the Congress.

Completes Training At Training Center
 James P. Bird, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie C. Lacy of 709 Dana Street, Burkburnett recently completed basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Illinois, in graduation ceremonies consisting of a full-dress parade involving more than 1,000 men. The intensive nine-weeks training program includes naval orientation, history and organization; military law; seamanship and shipboard routine; ordnance and gunnery; damage control; sentry duty and military drill; physical fitness, swimming, first aid and survival. During the training period recruits receive tests and interviews which determine their future assignments in the Navy. Upon completing the program they are assigned to service schools for technical instruction or to ships or shore stations for on-the-job training in a Navy specialty. Naval training produces the power in seapower by supplying qualified personnel to man the ships, aircraft and shore stations of today's Navy.
Comfort For Duck Hunters
 Admittedly duck hunters are a hardy breed. They better had be anyway. But even for the hardest, a swimming ladder used for summer boating may help them getting in and out of deep blinds. Why scramble when you don't have too, we say. Even a duck hunter should agree to that.

Den 2—Pack 156
 We had our first Den meeting of the new season on September 11, 1963 at the home of our Den Mother, Mrs. Florence Gann. Mrs. Gann kept us going all summer with games, picnics and baseball. On the last meeting of the summer, we had Little Brother Day where we each brought our little brothers and had a weiner roast. We really had a good time. Donald Vitalie started this meeting with a flag ceremony and led us in the Pledge of Allegiance. The first thing we did was to welcome Jimmy Rich and Jimmy Mason as visitors to the Den. We then made hats out of construction paper that would balance on the ends of our fingers. We were all amazed at the way they would balance and not fall off. We closed the meeting with the Living Circle and the Cub Scout Promise. A candy treat was furnished by Donald Vitalie and served to Gordon McCluskey, Bobby Dilbeck, Roy Boswell, Jerry and Roger Williams, Jimmy Mason, Jimmy Rich, Ronnie Gann and Den Chief, Eddie Gann. Rubber Knees Float trip ducking is a prime way to fill a freezer in these days of heavy hunting pressure. But kneeling long hours in a canoe or small boat can whafe your knees. Solution: Sew a pad of sponge rubber on knees of your hunting plants. Monticello was the name of Thomas Jefferson's home.

DOING A . . .
MAN SIZED JOB

Heat . . . sweat . . . fatigue . . . blisters . . . aches . . . Dad says its all a part of "carrying my share of the load." He also says that, "it's important that I help make provisions for the present and near future." But he says "that it is even more important because I am preparing for the days ahead when I am a full grown man." Sometimes I think that my Dad has the wisdom of Solomon, that's this king that I learned about at church . . . and that's another thing that Dad says is important . . . "that I go to church regularly, so that I can learn about God, and prepare my spiritual life for the future, too." You know . . . Dad must think it's important . . . He goes to church, too.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF WICHITA
I HEREBY GIVE

Two distinct looks are in the fashion picture for this fall. The sportive look of casualness leads the way, and the soft look is making a definite entrance says Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

"The soft look is dressier and very feminine. The silhouette softly outlines the figure but definitely is not clinging," the agent adds.

Neutral colors are favored, through winter pastel woelens in sheer weights are an important trend.

Heels of medium height, but slim will be worn with the soft look in apparel. While dress lengths remain short . . . now just below the knee . . . the fashion-right woman knows a very high heel will give the impression of toppling forward — an unbalanced look.

A woman who wears the soft look will carry a small handbag and choose delicate jewelry, such as unmatched bracelets to complement her outfit. The soft look requires over-all coordination with every part of the costume and its accessories delicate and carefully proportioned to create a most feminine appearance.

Newest member of the growing Chevrolet passenger car family is the Chevelle. Although 16 inches shorter and 2.4 inches narrower than comparable Chevrolet models, the Chevelle offers virtually all the interior roominess and smooth fine car feel of a full-size luxury car. The Chevelle Malibu SS Sport Coupe (shown above) is one of 11 Chevelle models which will be in dealerships beginning September 26. The Chevelle is offered in the Malibu, Malibu SS and 300 Series.

Touchy Trout

This tip is slated for trout fishermen, but other fish than trout at times get so touchy that the slightest pull of the line will make them drop a natural bait. Fool 'em this way.
Just cut a long rubber band and knot it at both ends.
Then tie your line to one end and the end of your hook leader to the other. The stretch of rubber will absorb the fishes' pull and at the same time start the ever-so-slight pressure needed to put the hook into position.

double knit fabric should be chosen to conform to the design of the pattern. And if the knit fabric is "off grain" more than one inch, it should be straightened by pulling slightly on the bias while steam pressing it.

"All knit fabrics should be shrunk before cutting — steam pressed at home or at the dry cleaners."

Double knits are made in tubular form and some are sold this way. Others are cut along the fold of the flattened tube and edges are overcast. The lengthwise edges should be examined before buying the fabrics to see that they follow the grain line. In knits, the grain line is a continuous rib. In the finishing process, some tublar knits twist as much as 4 to 6 inches. This cutting along the fold cuts across the continuous ribs the dept of the twist. To straighten such fabrics will cause some loss.

"If the tublar knit has not been cut, baste along the rib

the entire length of the fabric, refold on this baste line and pull the fabric into a flat shape as it is steam pressed."

We are living in an era of fashion variety. Thelma Wirges points out the consumer can choose from designer clothes or copies of them at her local store. She can order Paris originals from the mail order catalogue, or she can create her own original fashions from patterns and fabrics. Whether to buy or make clothing is the choice of many women and the decision is based on time, energy, skill and needs, the specialist emphasizes.

No longer is there just one look, one color, one leading fabric for a season. Today there is variety in all factors. Each woman may express herself as an individual by the manner in which she chooses to dress.

She may go all the way in coordinating her wardrobe for the sportive look, or she may choose the soft look for her appearance at special occasions.

The wise woman will adapt either look to her own personality and way of life. She will individualize any fashion to complement herself and serve her needs, Miss Wirges adds.

Double knit fabrics are good this fall and there is a need for some information about sewing on these fabrics?

Double knits for home sewing are relatively new, although jerseys are familiar to most women, points out Thelma Wir-ges.

While no special skill is required to sew double knit fabrics, an understanding of their characteristics can simplify and speed the handling.

Select a pattern with few seams, a rather easy fit and no buttonholes.

It is wise to avoid circular skirts and bias cuts, reminds Miss Wirges. Weight of the

A "How-To-Do-It" PAINT POINTERS

Paint chemists, who predict that water-thinned emulsion house paints will, to a considerable extent, supplant conventional oil-base paints, have given this prophecy added weight by developing a "universal" exterior emulsion.

This new formulation is ideal for all standard kinds of home exteriors — brick, reconstituted wood siding, asphalt and wood, shingles, stucco, masonry, concrete block, and, of course, wood. Called "Lucite" house paint, it is superior to oil base paint on many counts. These include 30-minute drying time, mildew resistance, ease of application, ease of clean-up, as well as greater durability.

Any weight watchers in your family? If so, you, the cook, can be a big help by planning and preparing foods to cut calories.

Here are some suggestions offered by Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent:

Use non-fat, dry milk solids for cooking. Reconstituted dry milk solids heated and combined with vegetable liquors are good in soups.

Keep desserts simple. Serve fresh fruits or canned and frozen fruits packed in water or juice — not syrup.

Roast or oven or pan-broil meats, poultry and fish instead of frying in fat. Avoid "breadings" and use of egg batters on food. Trim extra fat from the meat. Serve salad materials plain — or use low-calorie seasonings or salad dressings. These can be made with tomato juice, herbs and lemon juice or vinegar.

Prepare food without added fat, sugar or flour whenever possible.

Tempt appetites with herbs and spices instead of rich seasonings, sauces and gravies.

Serve low-calorie items for nibbling or appetizers. Try celery, cabbage wedges, carrot sticks, or other low-calorie vegetables or fruits.

Avoid high fat foods such as cream, butter, gravies, sauces, nuts, potato chips, oil, pastories, rich salad dressing; sweet foods, such as cakes and cookies; rich pudding, candies, fountain drinks and sundaes, carbonated drinks and alcoholic beverages; and starchy foods, such as macaroni, dry peas and beans.

Want to add life to your salads? If you don't have a weight problem, try a dash of sour cream, suggests Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

Sour cream does a lot for salads, whether it's blended into the dressing or made into the salad itself. Besides giving the salad its unique flavor, sour cream adds the nutrients found in milk, too.

Surprisingly, sour cream is just as delicious with fruits as with vegetables, so keep sour cream on hand to try in new and tempting ways. You may want to serve the family cucumbers and cream, as a relish or salad with any summer meal. Your favorite head lettuce will be delicious with sour cream thousand island dressing, and it's easy to make.

Here's how you make it: Combine one cup dairy sour cream with three tablespoons chili sauce, two tablespoons chopped green pepper, two tablespoons chopped pimento, two tablespoons chopped sweet pickle, and a dash of salt. Mix well and chill thoroughly before serving over head lettuce.

Some of the year's most luscious fruit is in season right now, and it's all appropriate for salads. Take this opportunity to feast on fresh peaches, pears, prunes, grapes, strawberries and other plentiful fruits. Combine these tempting fruits with cottage cheese and crisp lettuce and top with a creamy sour cream dressing, the agent suggests.

The restyled Ford Fairlane for 1964 presents a big-car appearance and boasts engine performance that was proved in the Indianapolis "500." Although new styling makes the middleweight Fairlane look bigger, it remains about the size of the 1956 Ford on the outside and the 1959 Ford on the inside. Five engines are available, three of the same basic design as the Fairlane V-8 that powered Lotus cars to second and seventh places in the gruelling Indianapolis race. These include two 289-cubic-inch V-8s, one 260-cubic-inch V-8, plus 170- and 200-cubic-inch six-cylinder engines. Combined with five transmissions, these power plants offer a full array of performance and economy choices for 1964. Eight Fairlane models — hardtops, station wagons and sedans — will be introduced in Ford dealer showrooms September 27.

Although it retains its handy compact size, the Ford Falcon has an exciting new look of action for 1964. Completely restyled for the first time since its introduction four years ago, the new Falcon offers added comfort inside, improved economy and a softer, big-car ride. Both tall and short drivers will find the visibility improved and the seating position more comfortable. The Falcon matches its look of action with a choice of engines ranging from the economical 160-cubic-inch six-cylinder to the high performance 260-cubic-inch V-8. The Falcon has the widest model choice in the compact field with 17 models in five series including 2- and 4-door sedans, hardtops, sports coupes, convertibles, station wagon and the Station Bus, Club Wagon and Deluxe Club Wagon. They will be introduced in Ford dealer showrooms September 27.

In many older homes, rooms are tall and comparatively narrow.

If you don't find these proportions appealing, the height can be reduced through simple remodeling.

The Southern Pine Association suggests a new ceiling under the old, formed with framing lumber and woor heathing. The lumber can be attractively finished and left exposed as a beamed ceiling.

To get anybody to listen you have to take the chance of insulting somebody who is slow to retort.

This is one alternative to the United Nations

The U.N. isn't perfect but it's our one best hope. Below are facts about its work that you should know. Read how the U.N. works to prevent war.

THE U.N. helps put out brush fire wars before they can flare up and consume the world. In the Congo, for example, the U.N. helped restore order, to prevent Russia and other powers from taking over.

The U.N. offers a meeting place for nations. World leaders are "onstage" there, before the conscience of world opinion.

Behind the scenes, U.N. programs like UNICEF and UNESCO spread education and technical knowledge, help stamp out disease and hunger. The United Nations gets at the roots of war.

President Kennedy and Former President Eisenhower urge Americans to support the U.N.—not out of fear alone but out of understanding. You can help. Express your views about the U.N. to your neighbors, friends and representatives in government. Get the facts.

HOME

by ALICE CARTER

The nation's housewives used 3.7 billion pounds of synthetic detergent and more than a billion pounds of soap last year. Throw in the pounds and pounds of elbow grease necessarily present for any act of scrubbing and we have a nation so clean it almost squeaks.

Things weren't always so easy, though, for the long suffering woman of the house. Just 10 years ago, for instance, only about half as much detergent and soap was consumed yearly in the U.S. It follows, naturally, that twice as much elbow grease was required to make the average kitchen as clean as the housewife demanded.

Happily, however, industry has developed a long line of items designed to help daily household chores disappear with minimum effort.

One such item, a particularly unsung household hero, is the sponge. Long used in most homes as a replacement for the dish cloth, the sponge also proves a handy weapon in the never ending war against spillage, dirt on countertops, floors, walls, cars, outdoor furniture, etc.

It might interest you to know that not all sponges are the same. According to Simoniz Company, the world's largest producer of urethane sponges, ordinary sponges will quickly dry out and become hard and unusable.

On the other hand, company officials say, urethane foam sponges, such as the Simoniz Ivalon Sta-Soft sponge, are highly durable and will remain soft when dry.

New to the sponge field but well-known for furniture-cushioning and other applications, urethane offers higher abrasion resistance and will not swell or disintegrate with the use of cleaning fluids. It resists mildew, remains fresh of odor, and eliminates the growth of infectious germs and fungi.

Mrs. L. Bloodworth Hostess For Wichita Falls Story League

The Wichita Falls Story League met in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Bloodworth Friday morning, September 20. The theme of flowers has been used for the Year Books for 1963-64. Daisies set the theme for the first meeting. Decorations using daisies were displayed and punch was served to eighteen members and three guests from a bowl setting in a ring of daisies.

The guide, Mrs. Vance Ragland, referred to as the gardener, provided the background for "Stories of School Days," "Miss Lydia's Retirement" by Helen H. Trutton, told by Mrs. Rupert Gambill; "Shorty Pants" by Valarie W. Griffith, told by Mrs. Shields Heyser; "Goodbye Little Boy," told by Mrs. Paul Springer.

Roll call was answered by each member telling of a time when they were teachers pet or knew someone who was and they resented it.

The Wichita Falls Story League meets on the first and third Fridays, September thru May at 10:00 a. m. for the purpose of pursuing a systematic study of stories and story telling; to encourage and practice the art of story telling and to encourage the use of stories as an educational factor, as well as an aid in character building.

Members of the Wichita Falls Story League share the art of story telling with both children and adult groups. Stories are told regularly at the Northside Girls Club, as well as for school and church organizations.

Programs for the year will include stories of courage, humor, faith, memories and hope, as well as seasonal and regional stories. The highlight of the year will be a guest day December 6 at the Woman's Forum.

Guests were Mrs. Marvin Talafarro, Burkburnett; Mrs. Kathryn Clark, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Raybon Porter, Fort Worth.

Officers of the Wichita Falls Story League for 1963-64 are: President, Mrs. Jack Moss; Vice President, Mrs. Gayle Rhyme; Secretary, Mrs. Barron Crudup; Treasurer, Mrs. C. A. Kilpatrick; Publicity, Mrs. F. R. Boley; Parliamentarian, Mrs. C. E. Spencer; Evaluator, Mrs. O. R. Tipps.

DOING A... MAN SIZED JOB

Heat... sweat... fatigue... blisters... aches... Dad says its all a part of "carrying my share of the load." He also says that, "it's important that I help make provisions for the present and near future." But he says "that it is even more important because I am preparing for the days ahead when I am a full grown man." Sometimes I think that my Dad has the wisdom of Solomon, that's this king that I learned about at church... and that's another thing that Dad says is important... "that I go to church regularly, so that I can learn about God, and prepare my spiritual life for the future, too." You know... Dad must think it's important... He goes to church, too.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Tips To Teen-Agers

IF YOU'RE PLANNING A PARTY at home and think the living room looks a little tired, why not offer to repaint it? Don't leave it to Mom and Pop. Do it yourself. It's easy with the new, virtually no-drip, fast-dry paints. You can redecorate in a few hours.

"Lucite" wall paint goes on fast and easily, requires little experience to get professional results, and is so mess-free you redo a room without moving out furniture. It's a thixotropic paint—scientific jargon for one that's specially formulated so that it's thick and creamy in the can. When you dip your brush, it clings and won't drip like liquid paints. But, when you start brushing it on the wall, it comes out smooth and free-flowing just like any other paint.

In fact, this paint is so easy to use, you might even talk your date or friends into a "painting party"—redo the room in the first hour and enjoy the rest of the evening in the room with the new look. You can have a ball, and Dad gets the room painted for the price of the paint. Need any better selling point?

A New Recipe For An Old Favorite

PEANUT BUTTER AND JELLY SANDWICH—as old as the hills but still as popular as ever—is even more delicious when a homemade jam is used. In this "no-cook" recipe Bartlett pears are merely chopped and then easily combined with sugar, lemon juice and liquid fruit pectin for a fully flavored jam that never loses its freshness. Store it in the freezer for many happy situations such as the one pictured here.

PEAR JAM

- 3 cups prepared fruit (about 3 lbs. ripe Bartlett pears)
- 6½ cups (2 lbs. 14 oz.) sugar
- ½ cup lemon juice (2 or 3 lemons)
- 1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

Peel and core about 3 pounds fully ripe pears. Finely chop the fruit and measure 3 cups into a large bowl or pan. Measure sugar, add to fruit, mix well, and let stand. Mix lemon juice and fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit mixture. Continue stirring about 3 minutes. (There will be a few remaining sugar crystals.) Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with tight lids. Let jam stand until set (this may take up to 24 hours), then store in freezer. If jam will be used within 2 or 3 weeks, it may be stored in the refrigerator. Makes about 8 medium (8 oz.) glasses.

Private Room for Study Boosts Youngster's Grades

New study-bedroom in attic has been insulated with mineral wool for year-round comfort and to make heating and cooling economical.

One way parents can help a child achieve the grades he needs is to provide him with a comfortable, distraction-free place to study. It should be well-lighted, quiet, and equipped with a good-size desk and comfortable chair.

Ideally, a student should have a room of his own for sleep and study. If he doesn't have one now, a good place to make one is in the expansion attic of many post-war homes, or the catch-all space under the roof found in most older houses.

How simple or lavish you make the bedroom-study area is mostly a matter of personal taste and finances, but extra care should be taken with the key elements because of their importance in providing both comfort and utility. To dispel darkness and help make a converted attic bright and cheerful, make full use of windows.

If possible, the desk should be placed near a window so that natural light passes over the left shoulder of the right-handed person, and vice versa.

Good artificial light is important, too. Don't cut corners on the desk lamp, since one that's poorly designed can cause eye fatigue. A good place to turn for advice on proper lighting is the local electric power supplier.

A key to year-round comfort in any attic conversion is insulation installed correctly and in amounts meeting recommended standards. Batts or blankets of mineral wool will prevent much of the sun's heat from penetrating through to the new room below.

Without proper insulation, most converted attics would be too hot to work or sleep in during the late spring and early fall school days, as well as in winter. And, of course, too cold in winter. Many families save money by installing the insulation themselves, since it's a reasonably easy job. Building materials dealers will provide instruction tips.

If adequate insulation is used, the existing heating system probably can be extended to heat the new room in winter, at low cost.

Record Landclearing Project Turns Dense Forest Into Clean, Level Farmland in Few Week's Time

Trees topple majestically as this big 30-ton Allis-Chalmers tractor shoulders into them. The unit is slicing its way through 24,000 acres in northeast Louisiana, converting dense forest to clean farmland within a month. The high speed operation, headed by contractor Charles Costello, is the largest agricultural landclearing job ever tackled in this country.

BASTROP, LA.—Like the Biblical walls of Jericho, trees in this area are tumbling down—24,000 acres of them. It's the largest and most efficient land-clearing job ever tackled in the state, geared to turn dense snarls of trees and brush into clean and ready-to-plant farmland within days.

The man heading up this immense two-year job is contractor Charles Costello of Oak Grove, La. Humble Oil Co. hired him last fall to clear a 6,400-acre plot in Morehouse Parish. Since then, another 17,600 acres has been added to the job.

When the land dried up enough this spring, he moved in a large fleet of equipment and shifted into high gear.

The bull of the fleet is a 30-ton Allis-Chalmers crawler tractor fitted with a V-shaped clearing blade.

The huge tractor takes a swath 12 feet wide, shearing trees, brush and saplings just below ground level. But sometimes it runs into oak, rock elm and locust trees up to three feet in diameter. They are much too big to be toppled by slicing them through with the blade and brute force.

Operator Willie Capers rears back and hits them a few times with the blade's three-foot long "stinger." Then it becomes a simple task to push over the splintered trunks.

As a safeguard, heavy steel piping has been built over the top of the machine. Occasionally, falling trees land on the heavy framework. But after the tractor makes a lunge or two at another tree, the fallen tree rolls harmlessly to the ground.

As soon as the clearing tractor opens up an area, three other units string out abreast to tackle sections as big as 2 by 4-1/2 miles. They gather the rubble into huge mounds for burning.

The stacks of trees and brush are allowed to dry a week or two and then doused with fuel oil and set afire.

When the piles are reduced to charcoal, a wheel tractor moves in to disc the seedbed. Twigs, bark and other small pieces of vegetation are chopped fine and worked into the soil. Then the plot is set for planting its first crop of soybeans. Two crops will be harvested the first year—the next, wheat.

Costello's operation is a high speed one. During one four-week period, his crew cleared, leveled and disced 1,000 acres, and rough-cleared another 1,000.

He literally grew up in the land-clearing business. The Costello family carved a farmstead out of a chunk of wilderness which they bought for $1 an acre in 1927. They have been in the land-clearing business ever since.

Costello surveys clean, level land that only a few weeks earlier had been dense woods. It was planted to soybeans a few days after the picture was taken.

California Kitchens Colorful, Says Designer Who Knows

"This is a California kitchen—color it with imagination," says Mrs. Mary Ann Kruece, California kitchen designer, to her customers.

"Women—at least those in my part of the country—are much more daring about the use of color in kitchens than they used to be. In the past, most kitchens were either yellow or white. Today's homemakers don't hesitate to use two and often three different colors," according to Mrs. Kruece, owner of Western Kitchens in Pomona.

"There is a strong preference for appliances in colors. Many prefer matching colors, but others like to use contrasting colors," Mrs. Kruece added.

"The use of labor-saving automatic appliances in our kitchens is just about mandatory, and among these, built-ins lead the way. Automatic electric dishwashers, for example, are classified as standard equipment in virtually every home above $12,000," she said.

Mrs. Kruece urges families to select a quality dishwasher because, she says, "It's the most-used appliance in the kitchen."

The pace-setter in electric ranges, according to Mrs. Kruece, consists of separate built-in wall ovens and surface units. The next most popular is the type that features an oven or double oven above the surface cooking units. These high-oven ranges, which hang on a wall or set on a cabinet, are excellent for use by renters. They look built-in but can be taken along when a family moves.

Most of her clients specify two ovens, Mrs. Kruece said—one for meat and one for baking. "Two ovens plus the marvelous automatic controls they have today help give the housewife a lot more freedom, and she's a better cook, too, because results are consistently good. And electric double ovens require a minimum of space," she added.

Mrs. Mary Ann Kruece tests efficiency of new, all-electric kitchen she designed for the Walter Sterling family of Claremont, Calif. As floor plan below shows, working area is compact, yet there's ample storage and counter space, plus room for several people to work. Sliding glass doors give view of pool and patio from dishwasher-sink area in foreground.

The trend in electric refrigerator-freezers is toward larger capacity and also toward combination refrigerator-freezers that never need defrosting, Mrs. Kruece noted.

"In 1946," she said, "refrigerators were eight, nine, or ten cubic-foot units. Today, for the same price, 18- and 20-cubic-foot units are available—and they don't take up any more floor space than the old ones."

And what about Mrs. Kruece's own kitchen? It's adequate, she said, but it doesn't come close to the dream kitchen she has designed for the new house she and her husband are soon to build.

"It will have electric appliances throughout, plenty of room to move around, ample counter space, and separate refrigerator and freezer units."

Mathis Home Setting For Hawaiian Luau Given by Burkburnett Study Club
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mathis was the setting of a Hawaiian Luau given by the Burkburnett Study Club. The occasion honored the husbands of club members. The garden of the Mathis home represented a tropical island with palm trees entwined with fern and exotic flowers complemented with Hawaiian background music. Fishnets, shells and butterfies completed the decor. The buffet table was covered with a red cloth and centered with an arrangement of fruit, fern, candles and bamboo appointments. Each table was a replica of the buffet table. Punch for two was served in individual pineapples. The couples were dressed in native costume and were presented leis at the gate entrance. Guests were: Messrs and Mesdames: Glen Bear, M. E. Bean, E. Y. Buckner, James Bohner, Philip Carpenter, Mrs. Maxine Creel, Mrs. Dorothy Preston, Francis Felty, Jim Frye, Howard Henderson, Jack Mathis, W. G. Mayberry, E. D. Potter, George McClarty, Hugh Preston Jr., D. H. Smith, Jack Smith and Harold Van Loh. Mrs. George McClarty, president, welcomed the guests and Mrs. Philip Carpenter gave the invocation. Mrs. Jim Frye introduced Mrs. Maxine Creel who presented a film of the Hawaiian Islands, courtesy of United Airlines of Dallas, Tex. This is the first of a series of interesting programs to be given by the club this year. "Knowledge Is Power" will be the theme of the years work. In observance of Bible Week roll call will be answered with "Women of Religion under consideration are: "Religious Beliefs in the Far East," "Development of Christianity in Guatemala" and "How We Got Our Bible." KNOWLEDGE OF AMERICANISM program will begin by answering roll call with the name of a President and the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. Ann Golding, County Civil Defense Director from Wichita Falls will lecture and show a film on National Defense. MADONNAS OF THE WORLD is an illustrated lecture to be presented by Mrs. O. C. Egdorf at the Christmas Party. Roll call will be answered by a Christmas Custom followed by a piano medley of Christmas Carols and an exchange of gifts among members. Gifts for the Wichita State Hospital will be included in the program. Gifford Pinchot said, "A Nation whose natural resources are destroyed must inevitably pay the penalty of poverty, de-

Medical ANGIONEUROTIC EDEMA
Q. Is there a cure for angioneurotic edema?
A. Angioneurotic edema (giant hives) is a condition in which there is marked swelling, usually about the face. Some cases are hereditary—others are due to allergy. The inciting agent (allergen) may be anything—food, pollen, a drug, or even mental stress. For example, a girl whose angioneurotic edema was being successfully suppressed by treatment, became engaged to be married. Her condition was kept under control until she had a quarrel with her fiancé. Every subsequent lover's spat brought on giant hives.
LOSS OF TASTE AND SMELL
Q. I am 70 years old. About six months ago I lost my sense of taste and smell. Can anything be done to correct this condition?
A. Sudden loss of taste and smell can be due to disturbances in the nervous system which regulates these senses. In some instances severe infection in the sinus area may temporarily interfere with taste and smell. Thorough medical examination is indicated.
