Attendance Off Monday Noon at C-C Luncheon

Attendance at the monthly Chamber of Commerce Monday noon at Town Hall was down in the lower 40's. Webb Sharp, manager of the C-C, announced the City was cooperating with the C-C in purchasing downtown Christmas decorations.

He also stated a five-man industrial team had been organized to work with new industrial prospects. The group is presently working on a project which would be an asset to the city if all negotiations go through.

Clark Gresham, County Commissioner, announced he is working with the State Highway Department in an effort to get a roadside park and historical marker erected on the Texas side of the new Red River bridge.

Mrs. Ralph White, a member of the swimming pool board, asked that all parents caution their children about going near the pool since it has closed. There is a tall fence around the pool and the gate is locked, but that does not keep some children out of the pool area.

Something New For Burkburnett. The new Coin Operated Car Wash, located on the Wichita Highway next to the Dairy Mart, is now open for business. This is a wonderful new service for car owners.

The Forest Service reports that the growth of Southern Pine sawtimber exceeds that of any other species in the nation. Forest Service Chief Edward P. Cliff predicts that the South will eventually at least double its output of lumber and wood products.

Fire Prevention Drive Asked To Save Lives and Cut Losses

A step-up in fire prevention efforts to hold down the nation's gigantic fire toll was urged today by Lewis A. Vincent, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Mr. Vincent said that Fire Prevention Week — October 6-12 — is a logical starting point. Commenting on the nation's human fire toll — 11,800 persons lost their lives from fire last year and thousands more were injured — Mr. Vincent said: "The loss of a single life is a tragedy, and the loss of nearly twelve thousand lives gives emphasis to the need for everyone to be constantly alert to this ever present threat."

The Measure of Loss. In relation to property destroyed or damaged by fire, the dollar value of property destroyed and the number of fire losses which occur are the usual measures of the fire loss. Mr. Vincent said.

Fire Prevention Pays Off. "It is clear that fire prevention efforts and fire protection facilities have in effect reduced the annual toll from fire," Mr. Vincent said. "The ratio of loss of life from fire to the population of the country has dropped as the population has increased. Studies also show that fire losses as compared with the amount of property and value of property subject to fire loss have actually been reduced steadily over the past 60 years, and these reductions are continuing during the present decade."

"We must recognize that fires can be controlled, but it is up to the individual to do his part."

Do Your Part Starting Fires

In connection with Fire Prevention Week, Rev. Mervin Turner of the Burk First Methodist Church suggests that you do your part starting fires — spiritual ones! Talking to the Burkburnett Lions Club last Tuesday evening, Rev. Turner also advocated that we abolish the "almost Christian" attitude that many of us possess; and that we not only AFFIRM that we are a Christian, but SHOW we are a Christian by our actions.

Eloquently and humbly Mr. Turner pointed out that the youth of our community do many things well, and that with a little praise and recognition of their Christian activities we can expect more significant contributions from our youth. He made reference to the Christian Youth Council which sponsored the "What Zit?" at Parker Plaza last Friday after the football game between Burkburnett and Graham, and stressed that opportunities for youth to participate in wholesome activities such as the "What Zit?" may prove to be a successful outlet for our youth although not directly sponsored by our churches.

Lion Tommy Hubbard, who was in charge of the night's program, gave his thanks to Rev. Turner for presenting the enlightening program and voiced his opinion concerning the taxing of churches' incomes. He said that "if our churches lose their non-taxable status, we may lose our churches."

Keep Home Fire Safe Use Care With Fire

Do you want to keep your home safe from fire? You can take a giant step toward this goal by using care with fire. The National Board of Fire Underwriters says: Nearly one-fourth of all fires are caused by matches and smoking — Three out of every four fires are the result of carelessness.

Baptist Church Sanctuary Choir Wichita Falls To Present Concert

Sunday, October 13, at 3:00 p. m. the Sanctuary Choir of the First Baptist Church of Wichita Falls will be presented in concert at the First Baptist Church in Electra, Texas. This choir is not a "voluntary" church choir in the usual sense of the word. Membership is controlled by successful audition and rigid attendance requirements prevail.

The choir has a regular television program every week-day morning and sings every Sunday morning during the worship service of the First Baptist Church in Wichita Falls. During the month of August the choir made a tour of West Texas, Colorado and New Mexico with a climatic appearance during the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Week program in Glorieta, New Mexico.

The director, Mr. D. Neil Darnell, came to this church from the First Baptist Church of Nashville, Tennessee where he served for a decade. In addition to directing the church music program with an enrollment of over 600, he has recently accepted the baton of the 90 voice Wichita Falls Symphony Choral. We are very proud to present this choir to the community of Electra and encourage all to attend. The choir will present anthems of the church from every period, spirituals, and hymns familiar to all.

Cold Facts

Twenty million Americans are suffering from colds on any one day of the winter months. On the average, 125,000 workers stay home because of colds every single day of the year, and everyone—according to U. S. Public Health studies—suffers from one to three colds a year. That's 500 million runny noses annually.

Thus, the common cold causes more lost work days in U. S. industry than any other single disability and adds up to a staggering total of $5 billion in lost production, lost wages and medical expense. And the cold bill does not include the cost of more serious diseases—laryngitis, bronchitis, sinusitis and pneumonia—which may follow.

For example, one nationwide concern with about 4,500 employees report that colds account for 52 percent of the 18,741 man days lost by illness in a typical year. Applying the average, a small businessman with ten employees loses 25 man days a year due to colds, or the equivalent of a full working month.

So it's bad business, any way you look at it, to catch a cold—and worse to neglect it. How do you not catch a cold? Grandma's advice: "Don't get your feet wet," is still the best. Dress for the weather, avoid chilling, avoid overheating, avoid unnecessary exposure and don't let yourself get overtired. But if the germs still get you, don't wait for the cold to just go away. Treat it promptly with a dependable anticycold medication, such as Corcidin. And if it doesn't respond to treatment by all means see the doctor.

Although the Government and the pharmaceutical industry have spent an estimated $10 million this year in their research on the "cold" war, the cure for the common cold is not yet in sight. But, with a little preventive caution, many colds can be avoided; and with proper medication, discomfort is minimized; they'll clear up faster and complications can be avoided.

You shouldn't have to lose two and a half days (the minimum average) out of your life every year.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It would seem logical that Congress should attach to whatever foreign give away bill is passed, a rider appropriating a billion dollars or so to furnish every 7-year-old American boy with a machine gun, and ammunition.

Thus, the American nation would be consistent. It would be encouraging domestic irresponsibility in the same reckless, feckless manner that C. W. Harder the U. S. State Dept. pursues irresponsibility abroad.

But such a proposition is perhaps no more far fetched than policy of giving irresponsible leaders of immature people lethal toys to play with.

Vietnam is a perfect example where some 2 1/2 billions of American tax dollars have been poured.

It is largely peopled with backward, ignorant people, to whom the meaning of democratic procedures are as much Greek as the Einstein theory.

Holding power over these people, is a small ruling clique. And apparently the degree of power held by President Diem is in direct ratio to the amount of military hardware the U. S. State Dept. has furnished him.

There is some doubt as to the strength of character this Diem person possesses.

This doubt is cast by widespread knowledge that he has let his sister-in-law, Ngo Nhu, run the show. From Asian standpoint.

dards she is quite a glamorous young femme.

No one seems to understand how without official position, she wields so much influence. So far, nothing has been brought to light as to any unofficial position she may occupy at times.

But she is clever. She has brought into the hassle for power and money the old bromide of a religious war. Religion has long been used as a cover-up for robbing the other fellow, while imparting to the whole nefarious process a spurious atmosphere of sanctity.

It is quite doubtful Hitler jumped on the German Jewish people because of any religious beliefs he held. But until he could gather strength to rob outside of Germany, he had to pick a domestic group to rob, and the Jewish people were it. It could have just as well been a substantial minority of Southern Baptists if such had existed in Germany.

In Vietnam, the Buddhists seem to be the biggest group, thus shaking them down can be quite profitable to Diem, or his sister-in-law.

As Winston Churchill portrays in his new history of the English speaking peoples, it took many centuries of warfare, of robbing the people to support kings and their mistresses, of barons robbing each other often under the guise of religion before law became effective.

Yet U. S. State Dept. seems to think that all it takes to bring a backward nation into the 20th Century is more U. S. tax dollars. And thus Americans find themselves aiding ambitious sisters-in-law.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

Stop for School Buses

Thousands of school children are now trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children.

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fine up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

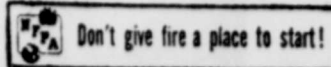

Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance

Sparky says:

Be a Label Reader... and Live!

before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway. However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by yellow lines placed to one side of the center line on our highways. Not so well known are the restriction against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the roadway.

If you dared, wouldn't it be lovely to tiptoe out of the room and go home to a comfortable bed when the host was drowsing.

Since World War II, more than 100 countries with a total population of over two billion (66 percent of total world population) have received foreign aid amounting to 91 billion dollars from the U. S.

America the Beautiful...

From the time that Columbus discovered America... men have thought of this country as something special. It was here that Ponce de Leon sought the Fountain of Youth, and men have long admired America's majestic mountains and beautiful valleys. However, the real beauty lies not in the land, but in the people. The people came... seeking a land where they could worship God in freedom, and under God developed a kind and loving spirit. This is what makes America beautiful.

Attend church regularly... help keep America beautiful.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

CLEAR AS GIN Artificial bait manufacturers and anglers go to great lengths to ensure that fish can spot their choice offerings even in the most turbid water, but sometimes the fish can see too much for the fisherman's own good. Ultra-clear waters pose a problem for the angler, say the Mercury outboard authorities, since the victim may be able to look over the whole diabolical setup—bait, hook, leader. That's a little too "sportin'". Under such conditions, the only answer is to switch to light tackle that escapes detection, and use strategy that conforms to feeding habits. Light spinning gear is ideal, but the use of longer lightweight leaders can make all types of regular tackle suitable for the task. Select tiny spinners or midget trolling spoons. Pick the runts out of the minnow bucket and use them first. Generally, you'll do best during the early morning hours and again at dusk. Later in the evening, change to night fishing tactics. But always fish slow. This applies whether you're casting right next to the bank or bottom bumping in the depths, advise the Mercury experts. Clear water fishing is demanding, but it provides a new kind of challenge and can produce excellent results. If you can fool 'em, you can catch 'em.

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Making Wills

Everyone should make a will, and many should now make a codicil. I give here seven reasons why. Too many people die suddenly and unexpectedly (especially in automobile accidents). While of course you may live a long life, you also may die next week. My wife, after many happy years which we had together, died suddenly a few months ago after only two days of illness. She had made her will six years ago; but I am sure she would have made many important changes but was too busy to get to it. Appoint Your Own Executor Reason 1. To be sure of having an executor friendly to your interests and one who would be pleased with your will, rather than having some judge perhaps appoint a friend of his an executor with whom you might not be satisfied. You can appoint your own executor when writing your will; but I would not let the executor know what it contains until after your death. Reason 2. If you die without a will and the court has to disburse your estate, it may feel obliged to advertise for heirs you might never have heard of. Such expense and complications can be largely eliminated by making a will and appointing your own executor. You can then also provide that the executor give your beneficiaries property or securities at a fair value instead of cash. Reason 3. By making a will you can give your executor certain discretionary powers, like determining what property to sell and deciding various other things. You can directly will certain articles of furniture, etc., to definite people and be sure things are done as you would want to do them yourself without fear of litigation. Reason 4. If a court should liquidate your estate, it might sell property hurriedly or during a depression. By making a will you can give your executor time and enable him to use his judgment and consult other people. This privilege could save your estate thousands of dollars. Consider Leaving Money in Trust Reason 5. By making a will, you can arrange to leave money in trust so that your brother or sister or spouse may thus have the full income during his or her lifetime and then have it go to the children or to others. You may wish to distribute your property in unequal proportion, especially if one beneficiary is disabled or handicapped. To do this, you must make a will or add a codicil. Reason 6. If the estate goes to a court-appointed executor it may take two years or more before being settled and your wife and family may have nothing on which to live during this period. By making a will you can authorize your executor to pay your wife a certain amount each month pending settlement of your estate, or to give her more money if an unexpected illness or other trouble should come. Reason 7. I hope you will have some church or charities, as well as friends, to whom you wish to make a gift. This can be done only by executing a will. The only hope of this old world is religion; and the church holds the key and is the doorway thereto. Consult A Good Lawyer Don't try to make your will or codicil yourself to save a few dollars; but go to a good lawyer. I reread my will once every year — usually on my birthday — usually make a codicil as needed. The lawyer should be a resident of your state; laws differ in different states. He will tell you how many witnesses must see you sign your will, and explain that these witnesses should be people who are NOT mentioned in the will or codicils. There also are other technicities which your lawyer will explain to you. Finally, let me stress the importance of letting nobody except the lawyer who draws up the will for you know its contents. Sign only the original will and original codicil, and then take these — sealed with red wax — to your bank for safekeeping, getting a receipt. Have your lawyer make only the original will and codicils, and only one carbon copy which you can keep UNSIGNED in your safe-deposit box to reread once a year. The receipt for the original you can also keep in your safe-deposit box; but sign no duplicates of your will or codicils. EVEN IF YOU NOW HAVE ONLY VERY LITTLE MONEY, YOU SHOULD MAKE A WILL!

resources they have of income, health, abilities, skills, knowledge, time and energy.

Fancy-leaved caladiums in planters or pots may add color and interest to your yard. They also can be used to brighten indoor furnishings. You may want to begin moving them in or buy for winter.

Recommended varieties, ranging in color from snow white with green to deep red with green, include: Candidium, Lord Derby, Crimson Wave, Porcile Auglais, Red Ensign, Spangled Banner and Thomas Tomilson.

The elephantear (Colocasia esculenta) is easily grown outside. If heavily mulched, it will survive winters in Central Texas, but we are a little too far North. Further south, it needs less winter protection. The large green elephantear leaves makes a pleasing contrast with the texture of most shrubs. These will require large pots for their move inside.

Information on planting care and insect control are given in the extension leaflet, "Caladiums Add Color to Home and Gardens." Ask for a copy at your home demonstration office.

ture, and plant food can penetrate easily.

Here's how you go about making a compost pile.

Select a spot at the back of your lot, yet within reach of your garden hose. (That's because the pile should be kept moist.) Use ordinary wire fencing or boards to enclose an area 3 to 8 feet high and 3 to 5 feet square.

Dump leaves, lawn clippings and garden trash into the bin in layers 6 to 12 inches thick. To each layer add some commercial fertilizer (whatever you use on your lawn) and one-half layer of soil.

Moisten the leaves as they are added. Keep building up the pile as you accumulate material. Top with 1 to 2 inches of garden soil.

Remember to keep the compost pile damp. If the pile is kept reasonably moist and has a top of garden soil, it should have no odor. And, by May or June, last year's leftovers will be ready to perform springtime magic in your yard and garden.

Mrs. J. A. Fouts has served as a yard improvement demonstrator for home demonstration work. Mrs. Fouts has used compost material and has greatly improved her soil. Mr. and Mrs. Fouts used compost on their home garden which provides spring and summer vegetables for their family and friends.

African violets are easy to grow according to A. F. DeWerth, head department of Floriculture and Landscape Architecture. The secret of success lies in proper control of their moisture, light and temperature requirements.

Information on starting new plants on reporting techniques, temperature, light, moisture and insect control is available. Get a copy of TAP-56, a reprint of "African Violets in the Home," by A. F. DeWerth. Copies are available from Thelma Widges, county home demonstration agent, 305 Federal Building.

Making more money is not the only road to better living, according to extension home management specialists of the A&M College of Texas. Many families in Texas are living better because they are keeping better records and being more realistic in their planning.

Families are finding that the smaller the income the more important it is to plan carefully and manage well. They find it helps to place their own "ceiling" to their wants by taking a realistic look at the
