City Commissioners Cut 1964 Tax Rate

OUTSTANDING CITY TAX BONDS SINCE 1919 PAID OFF IN FULL

The City Commissioners of the City of Burkburnett beat the Federal Congress to the punch and cut taxes by one-sixth beginning with the year 1964.

First, in an unprecedented action the City Commissioners paid off its tax bonds, which have been an obligation of the City of Burkburnett since 1919.

For almost a half century these bonds have been a yoke and burden on the City. The City Commissioners were of the opinion these bonds have been owing long enough, and that the City will face a brighter future and growth without them.

Also, the city paid off all notes owing on its firetrucks and police cars.

The City Commissioners cut the tax rate for the year 1964 from $1.50 per $100.00 valuation to $1.25; thereby giving the City of Burkburnett tax payers a 16 2/3% tax cut as a Christmas present. Based on present valuations this means a savings of over $20,000.00 to the tax payers of Burkburnett for the year 1964.

The City Commissioners state that the City is in the best financial condition that it has ever been in, in spite of the fact that the City of Burkburnett does not levy an automobile tax of any kind, and also in spite of cities throughout Texas and Oklahoma, which have proposed that legislation be passed to provide for more tax revenues for the cities, including even a proposal for a City personal income tax.

This action of cutting taxes was taken by the City Commissioners without any pressure from any citizen or any group of citizens.

The Mayor, James E. Frye; the City Commissioners, Harry Elliott, Jack Alexander, Mrs. P. A. Carpenter, and C. L. Simmons, and the City Manager, Jesse Whatley, will have a bond burning, and a note burning ceremony at 3:30 p. m. on Friday the 13th day of December, at Avenue C. and 4th Street, across the street from the City Hall, to which the public is invited, when the 1919 bonds will be burned.

The City Commissioners wish to thank the citizens of Burkburnett for their patience and support the past few years, and are proud of the fact that during the past few years great improvements have been made in the City's facilities, such as developing three new water wells and reworking all 57 existing wells giving the City increased water production from 264 million gallons use in 1961 to an estimated use of 360 million gallons use in 1963. The water production facilities are in the best condition ever in the history of Burkburnett due to the assistance of Commissioner Simmons, City Manager, Whatley and the employees of the water department. New water leases have been acquired in the past few days to provide Burkburnett with even more water, although there has been no shortage of water the past year.

In the last year and a half the fire insurance key rate has been reduced in Burkburnett from 47 cents to 40 cents due to improvements in fire protection in the City of Burkburnett. 12 new fire hydrants have been placed in downtown Burkburnett. New sewer lines have been laid; Resurfaced 20 blocks of downtown Burkburnett streets; New equipment has been placed in the city parks, along with other improvements to the parks. The city paid one-half of the cost of the new Christmas decorations downtown, with the Chamber of Commerce paying the other one-half of the costs. The Town Hall has been completely re-modeled with new drapes and curtains, with the help of ladies clubs, civic clubs, and some local businesses.

The City Commissioners state that the tax cut should not hamper the city in providing new civic improvements in the city, and that with the cooperation of the citizens the future plans call for a new truck route through the North part of town with the cooperation of Wichita County. An expenditure of an estimated $32,000.00 for street improvements on College Street and with the assistance of residents along College Street to construct new curb and gutters, new street construction; widening the street and construction of concrete sidewalks. Other street improvements are planned extensively with the assistance of abutting property owners.

A new expressway between Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City, which goes through the city limits of Burkburnett is expected to be completed in June, 1964.

The City of Burkburnett has an industrial building (60 foot by 100 foot) available which is located at a railroad connection for use of a proper industry upon application to the Burkburnett City Manager.

The City in the past few years has passed a complete electrical and plumbing code, for the protection of the city citizens.

The City of Burkburnett, Texas, is looking forward to a bright future.

16 Accidents In Wichita Co. During November

The Teaxs Highway Patrol investigated 16 accidents on rural highways in Wichita County during the month of November, according to Sergeant E. L. Stroud Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for 11 persons injured and an estimated property damage in the amount of $18,930.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county from January through November shows a total of 167 accidents resulting in three persons killed, 114 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $95,766.00.

The veteran patrol supervisor announced that every effort will be put forth, including a rigid enforcement program, to stem the tide of traffic deaths during the holiday season. We find ourselves confronted with the alarming fact that the past five year average indicates some 238 persons will be killed in traffic crashes in Texas this December. During the month of December for the past five years there has been 1191 traffic deaths. Of this number, 432 or 36% occurred during the holiday season. The sergeant stated, "It is almost certain that the death toll in Texas for 1963 will be the greatest on record, exceeding the all-time record of 2611 in 1956."

The sergeant gave some tips for driving during the holiday season: 1. Know and obey all traffic laws, 2. Do not drive after drinking, and 3. Plan your trip so as to have rest periods about every 100 miles to combat fatigue. By complying with the tips, it will help you to arrive at your destination ALIVE.

Janlee Baptist To Present A Special Service

Janlee Baptist Church will present a special Christmas Caroling and Candelighting service Sunday evening, December 15th at 7:15 p. m. The musical program, under the direction of "Dub" Hugen, will feature carols by the choir and congregation and a solo by Pat Chapman. The pastor, Rev. Travis McMinn, will conduct the candlelight service. The candlelighting will symbolize the birth of Christ as the coming of the "light of the world" and the passing on of this light to his followers. Beginning with one large lighted candle the service will end with everyone holding a lighted candle and singing "Silent Night."

Toy Pickup To Be Held Saturday

The Club Scouts of Packs 155 and 156 will pickup toys, canned goods and clothing for needy families on Saturday, December 14th.

If you are not contacted, please call 569-1291 or 569-1130 and your donation will be picked up.

NOTICE

Boombtown American Business Women's Association will meet Wednesday, December 16, 1963 at the home of Mrs. Buren King at 607 Sycamore Road.

Joe Orroca will be guest speaker and speak on "Christmas in Other Lands." Violin and organ music will be presented by Mrs. Walter Lacy and Mrs. Oscar Lockridge, (guest).

COMPLETES MILITARY POLICE TRAINING IN GA.

PVT. DONALD R. REDMAN

(AHTNC) — Pvt. Donald R. Redman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dureward B. Redman, 522 N. Avenue E. Burkburnett, Texas, completed eight weeks of military police training at the U. S. Army Training Center, Fort Gordon, Ga., November 30th. During the course, Redman received instruction in such subjects as civil and military law, traffic control, map reading, prisoner-of-war control and self-defense. The 20-year-old soldier entered the Army in August 1963 and completed basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana.

Bulldogs Finish Fourth In Iowa Park Tourney

By D. W. Underwood

An opening night 49-44 victory over the Childress Bobcats put the Burkburnett Bulldogs in the winner's bracket and gave them a fourth place finish, despite losses on the next two nights in the Iowa Park Basketball tournament held last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at Iowa Park High School.

Jackie Cornelius and Johnny Koller provided the one-two punch for the Bulldogs in the winning cause, with 23 and 18 points respectively. The Bulldogs trailed in the first quarter, but came back to hold a three-point halftime lead. From then on it was their ball game, but in the closing moments, free throws by Cornelius and Koller preserved the lead.

The next night saw the Bulldogs falling victim to a furious 53-40 assault by the red hot Henrietta Bearcats. The Dogs led 15-9 at the end of the first quarter, but could only manage three points to the Bearcats 15 in the second period.

After that, the Bulldogs were literally out of the game. Mike Musick and Johnny Koller led scorers with eight points each. The final night's game was a thrilling one, despite the loss to the Rider Raiders, 65-60. Playing against the taller, more experienced Raiders, the Bulldogs brought the game to their opponents and kept them hard pressed throughout the contest.

Once in the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs trailed by only one point, but couldn't quite overcome the deficit.

Koller and Cornelius paced the Bulldogs with 18 and 15 points. This Thursday is the opening night of the three-day Burkburnett Invitational Tournament. Games scheduled for the opening night, December 12, are:

VERNON VS. CHILDRESS—5:15.
QUANAH VS. IOWA PARK—6:30.
HIRSCHI VS. HENRIETTA—7:45.

BURKBURNETT VS. ELEC—8:00.

Optimist Club Opens Christmas Tree Lot

Once again the Burkburnett Optimists have taken over the Wolfe Ford Company car lot on Main and turned it into a green forest of spruce, fir, pine, and pinnon.

There is virtually every shape and size to pick from — even a walk through the lot and the aroma of the forest that greets you will be worth the trip. There is an Optimist on duty at all times from 9:00 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. daily to assist you in locating the exact size and shape tree you desire.

All profit from sale of the trees goes for youth work — here in the Burkburnett area. So when you are ready for your tree drop by the Optimist lot — if the tree you select is too large for your car an Optimist will be glad to make delivery at your convenience.

From each of the Optimists we sincerely wish each of you a joyous and safe holiday season.

Clara-Fairview Selected For Tri-Co. Community

Top conversation farmer, and outstanding organized communities in Archer, Clay and Wichita Counties walked off with certificates, plaques and about $5,000 in cash awards during the 14th Annual Bridwell Soil Builders Awards banquet.

Winning $300.00 and a plaque were members of the Clara-Fairview Community organization. The group was selected as the organization that had shown the most progress during 1963 and Elmer Klinkerman, president, received the award from J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls oilman-rancher, sponsor of the program.

As the annual awards program opened, Howard H. Hill, minister of the First Methodist Church of Wichita Falls, gave the invocation and Ralph Swinford, Jr., former Wichita County 4-H club member and dean of men at Midwestern University, provided dinner music.

Following the meal, Earl Sargent of Wichita Falls served as master of ceremonies of the banquet that recognizes top farmers in Archer, Clay and Wichita counties and introduced John Gavin, mayor of Wichita Falls, who gave the welcome.

The following were winners in the various divisions of the awards program.

Clara-Fairview Community
Winter Legumes — Elmer Klinkerman, Arnold Kiesling and James Roderick.

Crops Following Legumes — Arnold Kiesling, Raymond Schroeder and James Roderick.

Range Pasture Improvement — Claude H. Adams and E. W. Roderick.

Bulldog Rally Camps Quanah 4-50 Tuesday

By D. W. Underwood

Leading themselves behind 13 points at the half and still trailing six after the third quarter, the Burkburnett Bulldogs came back for a 54-50 victory in basketball action at Quanah last Tuesday night.

The Bulldogs started cold, to the least, after the game settled down and when the score sounded for intermission the clock read 30-17 for the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs just didn't seem to find the range in the initial half and poor ball handling helped to put them in the hole.

The second half started with Johnny Koller banged out two quick field goals and Cornelius added another. Quanah could get a shot. Koller added six more points and stanzas as he and his teammates outscored the Indians 19-12.

The Bulldogs scored eight of their first ten points in the final period on field goals by Paul Koller and Mike Musick. A field goal and two free throws by Cornelius. The Bulldogs defense contained the Indians through the rest of the period, giving up 8 points. The Bulldogs overcame the deficit and went on to win, 54-50.

Surrounding by Koller, Gilchrist and Gary Owen, teamed for steady floor work by Cornelius and Musick, was the key to success in the last half.

Koller led all scorers for the Bulldogs with 15, followed by Cornelius and Gilchrist with 14 points. Ridley Gibson countered for the losers.

The junior varsity action, led by Charlie Herring's 12 points, the Burk Doggies bombarded Quanah B-Team, 46-27, for their first win of the season.

EDITORIAL COMMENT ON NATIONAL AFFAIRS

By ROBERT MORRIS

OTEPKA AND NITZE

The case of Otto F. Otepka, the Department of State Security Officer who has been dismissed for allegedly cooperating with the Chief Counsel of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, J. G. Sourwine, is but a symptom of the deep underlying cleavage between Executive branch policy and the prevailing attitudes in the Congress. The Paul Nitze case, breaking at the same time, reflects this same contradictory approach.

For many years, I served as counsel to the subcommittee involved. During most of that time, I worked in effective alliance with Scott McLeod, then State Department Security chief and his staff. In that period, the goals of the State Department and the Senate were the same—the extension of liberty and freedom, and the thwarting of Communism.

Now, however, the State Department has a new goal. It is no longer striving to thwart the Communists. It seeks, instead, to effect a merger with them under the United Nations. The prevailing majority of the Congress does not accept this as our policy. In fact many lawmakers still do not even recognize that this is, indeed, the administration's avowed intent.

Let me cite a shocking example of this new policy. It is now known that the State department entered into an arrangement with Castro whereby that bearded dictator names every other Cuban refugee coming into the United States. Such an agreement fits executive branch policy, but shocks security-conscious officials who recognize the tremendous advantage Castro derives from sending hundreds of his agents here.

The State Department discards the Ambassadors who correctly diagnosed and opposed the ascent of Castro. The late Whiting Willauer was relieved long before his untimely death. Ambassador Robert C. Hill and Earle E. T. Smith have long since departed from diplomatic ranks. Yet the Department embraces and keeps in its inner circle the Philip Bonsals and the William Wielands who helped pave the way for Castro.

The Otepkas, the Hills and the Smiths are appalled by the enormity of the Soviet conquest of Cuba. But Adlai Stevenson this past week reproved those who suffer from the "obsession of Cuba."

The Nitze case reflects these same issues. The newly appointed Secretary of Navy was challenged by the Senators considering his confirmation because he

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

If the income tax cut bill passed by the House is approved by the Senate, it should be quite helpful in aiding the economy of the country, and in encouraging small business to expand and furnish more employment.

As a matter of fact, insofar as the provisions for independent business are concerned, the bill passed by the House meets 99% of the proposal favored by the nation wide votes of independent business proprietors who, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, heavily favored the plan prepared by the Senate Small Business Committee under the chairmanship of Senator John Sparkman.

It is to be expected during Senate consideration of the measure there will again be raised the issue of forcing the administration to promise to curtail expenditures to match the $11 billion in tax cuts.

It seems obvious that federal expenditures must be cut. The overwhelming majority of the independent business proprietors favored such reductions in polls by the Federation.

But in analyzing the debates, it is well to mentally keep from putting the cart in front of the horse.

The administrative branch of government can ask for any amount of money. But under the Constitution, only Congress can grant the money. By the same token, the administrative branch of government has no control if the Congress wants to go hog wild on spending, except the restraint imposed by use of the veto power, which again can be outvoted.

And perhaps the most practical way for government to achieve economy is for the Congress to drastically limit the amount of money it will vote for all purposes in any given year.

There is nothing unusual about such a procedure. Many families go through the same experience. When the breadwinner is bringing in lots of money, there is steak on the table every night. If he runs into some difficulty, then it is pork and beans.

There is nothing immoral in revamping usage to fit into the boundaries of income. And as a matter of fact, if there were a straight 20% cut in the funds made available by the Congress, there is little doubt that all departments could cut 20% with no loss of efficiency.

So, during the debates on the tax cut it is important to bear this constitutional fact in mind.

There is nothing in the Constitution that provides that any Congressman can be jailed, exiled, or otherwise prosecuted for failing to vote for all the money requested by the administrative branch. There is a difference between desire and common sense. It can be presumed that practically every woman yearns for a mink coat, yet millions find it possible to be reasonably happy with a less exotic garment.

had recommended a few years ago that our Strategic Airforce Command be turned over to NATO and that the ultimate decision as to whether or not we could use that principal deterrent be given to the United Nations in the Committee hearings. Mr. Nitze contended that he meant this as a trial suggestion to the strategy conference. (It appears in the record of the meeting, however, as a flat recommendation.) In actuality, the policy which Mr. Nitze is committed to impose on our Navy calls for far more drastic abdication. Present Administration policy calls for the eventual complete dissolution of not only our military establishment, including SAC, but also our reserve forces, and even such supporting institutions as the Navy League. Under this policy, we would be allowed to maintain only those forces which are needed for "internal policing" or for supply to the United Nations "Peace Force." Congress has not yet concurred that this should be our policy. The great hope is that this whole disarmament program can be brought into the public consciousness during the election campaigns of 1964.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THE National Education Association has issued a pamphlet pleading for more federal money for education. It says, in effect, that if the district is poor, let the county pay. If the county is poor, let the state pay, and if the state is poor, let the nation pay. The whole plea is for channeling wealth from those who have it to those who do not. In one place, the campaign is described as, "a fight between the people with the wealth and the people with the kids."

This is an effort to set class against class. Of course, there are people with both kids and wealth and there are other people with neither. Do people who are so irresponsible as to raise more children than they can care for have a right to put their hands into the pockets of others who are more responsible and take money from them to provide education for the irresponsible? Should the provident productive members of society always be penalized to provide for those who have been less thrifty, less diligent and have made less effort to provide for themselves?

If need is a sure way to get money from others, we may be sure that the needy will increase and there soon won't be any others with cash to care for them.

In this connection, we can listen to the following lines by Kipling with great profit to all concerned:

"In the Carboniferous epoch, we were promised abundance for all, by robbing selected Peter to pay collective Paul; but though we had plenty of money, there was nothing our money would buy, and the Gods of the copybook headings said, 'If you don't work, you die.'"

During the height of the fruit season, a small California city reported a great scarcity of fruit and vegetable pickers. During this same week, 200 people in the same town continued to draw unemployment benefits and 45 new claims were filed.

There is no doubt, my fellow citizens, that large numbers of people do not want to work and under our loose system of paying out unemployment benefits, are able to escape doing so.

Friends — The tragic events which I witnessed in Dallas and Washington during recent days seem most like a nightmare in retrospect. Unfortunately, however, it was all too true. I had accompanied the Presidential party to San Antonio, Texas, on Thursday, the 22nd, before an assassin's bullet struck a nation and the world a state of turmoil. On Friday night, I had flown from Houston to Fort Worth, Texas, and talked to the President aboard Air Force One that night. We were in a State of emergency.

erous ovations. As I sat in that audience, I was most pleased that our President was being greeted with such enthusiasm. Following the speech we flew from Fort Worth to Dallas, and rode in the fateful motorcade on which President Kennedy had been insisted. We had passed through the downtown area and, as you all know, were on our way to the Trade Center where the President was to dress a luncheon. Three rifle shots of us further ahead did happen. I was

Guadalupe Mountains National Park —How An Idea Became A Movement

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Today Rep. Joe Pool of Texas introduced in the House of Representatives a bill to establish the Guadalupe Mountains National Park. The action came ten months after the Texas Congressmen took the first step towards creation of the 32nd national park for the United States.

The months between have been spent in laying the foundation for the present bill, which has the enthusiastic support of the National Park Service and the non-partisan group of conservationists, educators, and scientists known as the National Parks Advisory Board. As a result of the careful preparation for the Pool bill, smooth and steady progress through Congress can be predicted for the bill.

Rep. Pool, who is serving his freshman term as Congressman-at-Large from Texas, first planned his bill when he was still campaigning, on tour thru the West Texas area of the Guadalupe Mountains. Guadalupe Peak is the highest spot in the state. It stands on the high plateau like a pillar supporting the roof over Texas. The beauty of the peak is the greater for its shock value — nobody expects to run into a 8,715 foot mountain in Texas.

As he campaigned by automobile Pool used the peak as travelers in West Texas have used it for years, as a great natural signpost. He learned from people who live near the Guadalupe that written history of the peak goes back to the conquistadores of the 1500's. He decided to see what could be done about establishing a park area in the mountains at the peak.

BILL INTRODUCED IN JANUARY. When he arrived in Washington, Rep. Pool's first bill as member of Congress called for an investigation of the area by the Interior Department, to determine its value as a national park. The Department was instructed to investigate scenic, scientific, recreational and other aspects of the area.

In response to the legislation, Interior Secretary Stewart Udall ordered such a study completed, and commended Rep. Pool on, "your interest in this area as well as your desire to increase opportunities for recreational pursuits of the people in general."

RESEARCH SHOWS GREAT POTENTIAL. During the spring and summer, Rep. Pool and members of his staff went to West Texas to go over the area around the Peak and interview those who would tell some of its story. They learned that nearly all of the land under consideration is the property of J. C. Hunter, Jr., an Abilene businessman with a lifelong interest in conservation. He has established a herd of elk and flocks of wild turkey on his Guadalupe Mountain Ranch, and by stocking has created Texas' only trout stream in a beautiful wilderness area called McKittrick Canyon.

Part of McKittrick Canyon, about 6,000 acres, once belonged to Wallace Pratt, one of the nation's leading geologists. In retirement, he gave 6,000 acres to the National Park Service. The Park Service has moved a ranger into the former Pratt home, where he lives the solitary life, with a copy of the Better Homes and Gardens Cookbook handy in his kitchen.

When Mr. Pratt made his gift, he suggested that, "a superb mountain highway rivaling the spectacular Skyline Drive could be built along the crest of the Guadalupe," if the rest of the land could be obtained by purchase or gift.

From Washington, Rep. Pool worked with historians, geologists, archeologists, and leaders of the U. S. tourist industry to learn the full story of the Guadalupe and their potential and as an economic asset to the people of West Texas.

He learned from geologists that the Guadalupe present one of the most spectacular exposures of a fossil organic reef known in the world. From archaeologists came the fact that the mountains are scrimshawed with caves containing pictographs and relics, that C-14 dates of over 12,000 years have been found.

From those who know the tourist business, he learned that a national park in the Guadalupe would have a potential of nearly nine million visitors. History buffs visited the office on Capitol Hill to tell about the Butterfield Stage Line which was routed through Guadalupe Pass in 1858, and to show photos of the ruins of the old Pinery Station there, near the mouth of one of the canyons.

Rep. Pool heard the stories of lost gold mines in the mountains, described by J. Frank Dobie in Coronado's Children.

He contacted writers throughout the Southwest, and stories about the park idea began to appear. Each interested more people, who wrote enthusiastic letters about the project. National Parks Magazine carried a cover story on the idea, and a story by the National Geographic Society's news service appeared throughout the United States.

NATIONAL PARKS ADVISORY BOARD VISITS. Plans for future national parks are discussed by the members of the National Parks Advisory Board, whose biennial meeting was held this month at Big Bend National Park. Rep. Pool invited members of the Board, including Wallace Stegner; Dr. Stanley Cain of the University of Michigan's Conservation Department; Dr. Edward Danson, Jr., Director of the Museum of Northern Arizona; author Sigurd Olson, whose "Runes of the North" is a best seller; Mrs. Marian Dryfoos of the New York Times; and others, to visit the Guadalupe on their way to Big Bend. They did, and their response was quick enthusiasm.

At Big Bend, their reaction was reinforced by the report which they received from the National Park Service. This was the survey which Rep. Pool had requested in his January legislation.

PARK SERVICE REPORT IS EXCELLENT. The report could not have been more gratifying. "The entire area of the Guadalupe Mountains in Texas is appropriate for park and recreation use," it said, and gave specific suggestions as to area, boundaries and development.

Using the recommendations included in the report and those brought out in conversations with officials of the Interior Department, Rep. Pool drafted the bill which has been introduced today.

"We are going to have a new national park in Texas," he said. "Because of all the background work which has been put into this project by so

Dear Editor: Several weeks ago we sent out the enclosed questionnaire to our mailing list of more than 8,000 people scattered throughout the state. It was an attempt to find out how people were thinking in several important areas of state government.

I have been amazed at the return — thousands of these questionnaires have been returned to my office in Austin at no expense to the state.

In addition, we have had several requests for hundreds of the forms, which were mailed out by some associations. My theory has always been that too much of the time we take for granted the trends of public opinion affecting state government . . . and this questionnaire affords an opportunity to REALLY KNOW more about the people we in state government serve. Please use the questionnaire any way you wish. And let me know if you need any other information.

Sincerely,
PRESTON SMITH

DEVOL NEWS

Mrs. C. O. Woodley, Reporter

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hutson were honored with a wedding shower Saturday evening in the Devol Community Center with Mrs. F. G. McClendon and Mrs. R. L. Wyatt II hostesses.

Punch and cakes were served the guests on arrival. After a short program directed by Mrs. Wyatt, the many lovely and useful gifts were presented to the honorees by Mrs. McClendon. They were assisted in opening and displaying the gifts by their mothers, Mrs. Sam Burton and Mrs. Guy Hutson respectively.

Other out-of-town guests included Mrs. Davis and daughter of Chattanooga; Mrs. Mary Ellen Spillers of Jacksboro, Texas and Mrs. Joyce Bryant of Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Weaver returned home last Monday from a visit with their children

HO, HUM . . . Sometimes the long wait for Santa is too much, making it necessary for a fellow to take a few winks now and then and hope that he may just wake up in time to see the cheerful old gentleman loading a stocking with gifts and goodies.

Caught up in the excitement of the approaching holiday, children begin to get restless as Christmas day comes nearer. They need a "project" to keep them occupied.

Most children will enjoy making a Christmas scrapbook. Give them a place to work, in their own room or the family playroom.

Give them a scrapbook, scissors, paste container and a supply of December magazines that you have finished reading, or have saved from last year. Get them started by clipping out an illustration of Santa Claus or some Christmas scene — then show them how to paste the cut-out into the scrapbook. They'll get the idea quickly and they'll have hours of fun.

which included a journey thru several states. They visited a daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rogers in Fremont, Nebraska; a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hays in Washington, D. C.; and another daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Young in Montgomery, Alabama.

The Weavers were in Washington, D. C. at the time of the President's death and funeral, but due to the crowds and heavy traffic they remained in their daughters home and watched the procession on television. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver also visited with their son, Sgt. Don Weaver who is in school in Indian Head, Maryland and came to the capital while his parents were there. The Weavers say Oklahoma looks better to them than any place they visited while on their trip.

The WMS of the Baptist Church met for the week of prayer of the Lottie Moon Foreign Mission Program Monday with Mrs. J. B. Stevens in her home. Those present were Mesdames F. J. Uthe, E. L. Mc-Clendon, Nora Wood, O. D. Nalls, W. C. Charboneau and Mrs. Stevens.

The Mary Martha Circle of the WMC met Monday morning at the Parsonage for the Lottie Moon Program. Those present were Mesdames Bryan Harrison, Sonny Coles, J. W. Dorton, H. L. Doty, Robert Hopkins and Mrs. Hays.

It has been announced a Christmas program is planned for Sunday evening December 22 at the Baptist Church and everyone is invited.

Mrs. Dollie Hardin was called to Amarillo, Texas last week because of the illness of her son-in-law, George Fincher, who underwent major surgery in an Amarillo Hospital.

Mrs. Pearl Cates is reported on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Willis and two grandsons of Rush Springs were Sunday guests of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Happy Wood of Burkburnett and Mr. and Mrs. Al Wood of Grandfield visited their mother, Mrs. Avis Wood Sunday.

erous ovations. As I sat in that audience, I was most pleased that our President was being greeted with such enthusiasm. Following the speech we flew from Fort Worth to Dallas, and rode in the fateful motorcade on which President Kennedy had been insistent. We had passed through the downtown area and, as you all know, were on our way to the Trade Mart where the President was to address a luncheon. Then the three rifle shots rang out. Those of us further back in the motorcade did not know what had happened at first. The lead cars raced away. We followed, and arrived a short time later at Parkland Hospital where our worst fears were confirmed. The President had been fatally shot.

There are lessons to be learned from this tragedy. It is such a tragic shame that it takes the loss of a vigorous young leader to shock us into the awakening we needed so badly. I feel it would be wrong to place the blame for the President's death on all Americans, though there is a strong tendency to do so. There is no doubt that the hate fostered by extremist philosophies was largely responsible. It is easy to try to blame everyone for this, and to react too violently by employing methods of extremists to correct the problems.

Our lesson should be this, that each of us has contributed, either by action or inaction, to the environment which allows hate and extremism to flourish. We have stood by far too long and watch silently as the extremists of both left and right have stirred our Nation into a state of frenzy. They are loud but harmless we have said. But we were wrong. They are not harmless. They live, grow, and destroy through hate. Their other weapon is fear.

Our Creator, through His Son, spoke to us in the Bible of faith, hope, and love. "The greatest of these," he said, "is love." We must heed this lesson. We must destroy the atmosphere of hate and fear. We must take care, however, not to use the methods of extremism to do this. We must speak out, not in tones of anger, but through love, compassion, and understanding. We must speak the truth. We must counter the slanderous half-truths on which the extremists of both left and right thrive. We must speak loudly and correctly. Moderation must be our key-

Date Cake Snack At A Sewing Bee

Spley Date Cake is the perfect dessert to serve when the ladies in your neighborhood come over for a sewing bee! During the afternoon of mending and stitching, offer your guests this delicious, moist Date Cake. It's highlighted by the nut-like flavor of rolled oats and is chock full of spices.

DATE CAKE

Makes one 8-inch square

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup firmly-packed brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1-1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
- 1 cup chopped dates

Heat oven to moderate (350°F.). Beat butter and sugars together until creamy; add egg and vanilla. Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Stir in oats and dates.

Pour batter into greased and floured 8-inch square pan. Bake in preheated oven (350°F.) 50 to 55 minutes. Serve warm with hard sauce.

For hard sauce, beat 1/3 cup butter until creamy. Gradually add 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; beat until light and fluffy. Stir in 1-1/2 teaspoons lemon juice and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

note, moderation in both action and philosophy. Those who know the facts must cast aside all fear of reprisal from the extremists and speak loudly and clearly.

Our Nation will continue to move forward in confidence. I know the American people, with their inherent faith and spirit, will not fail at this critical time.

Our new President, Lyndon Johnson, is a man of sound judgment. He is experienced in the field of leadership. We should give thanks that we have a man of his capabilities available to guide us today. President Johnson is, perhaps, the best equipped man, from a standpoint of knowledge of the government, to assume the Presidency in modern times. His widespread support in the nominating convention of 1960 is evidence of the confidence of political leader in his ability. His selection as a running mate of President Kennedy testifies to the late President's cognizance of President Johnson's ability. He needs and deserves open and complete support. I appeal to all Americans to join me in giving him this support.

At this time, the prophetic words of President Kennedy's inaugural address come back to me: "Now the trumpet summons us again — not as a call to bear arms, though arms we need — not as a call to battle, though embattled we are — but a call to bear the burden of a long twilight struggle year in and year out, 'rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation' — a struggle against the common enemies of man: tyranny, poverty, disease and war itself." I hope and pray that our young President did not die in vain. While we yet mourn his passing, my prayer is that we will heed the lesson his death brought so forcefully before us.

Ford has chosen the most rugged testing program cars have ever faced . . . full-scale open competition on the rally and racing circuits of the world. This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed . . . and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing. Changed? Just look at the record:

STOCK CAR RACING: 2-to-1 margin for Ford Ford is king of NASCAR competition and Ford Motor Company has the NASCAR Achievement Award to prove it. In the '63 season, special Ford entries won every single race of 500 miles or longer, scored nearly twice as many points as any other make. 500-mile races are the ultimate test of inherent durability and dependability. In two other major stock car racing associations IMCA and MARC, Ford drivers have wrapped up the 1963 championships.	SPORTS CAR ROAD RACING: Ford V-8 power is the new king Here the Cobra with its special Fairlane engine emerged as the overwhelming leader in one short year. Cobra won the coveted Manufacturer's Trophy in SCCA Class A Production competition by so wide a margin no other cars—U.S. or foreign—were even in sight. And in the two major tests this fall, the Laguna Seca and Riverside races, the new King Cobras dusted off the top "unlimited" cars from all over the world.	RALLY COMPETITION: Manufacturer's Championship Products of Ford Motor Company and its world-wide affiliates won the 1963 Manufacturer's World Rally Championship. Ford's rally year began when two specially equipped Falcon V-8's started the automotive world in the brutal 2500-mile Monte Carlo Rally. Other special Falcon V-8's triumphed in Holland's famed Tulip Rally, and ran away with the Manufacturer's Team Prize in the 4000-mile Trans-Canada Rally.	INDIANAPOLIS: Ford ends an era Advanced Ford engineering smashed precedent in the classic Indianapolis "500." The first time out, a light alloy version of the Fairlane V-8 design in a Lotus chassis finished second. And the next time, in the Milwaukee "200" it ended the reign of the traditional "indy" racing car by leading every foot of the way from start to finish.	PERFORMANCE & ECONOMY: New laurels for Ford The Mobil Economy Run underscored Falcon's years-long reputation for thrift—a Falcon scored first in Class B (medium-engined compacts). And the Pure Oil Performance Trials brought laurels to the big Fords, which walked off with overall wins in Classes I and II for total performance (economy, acceleration and braking).

Fords have changed—and that's the real reason behind Ford's racing successes. We're now making the longest lasting, best handling cars in our history. The things we've learned from the specially equipped cars we enter in open competition have helped make them that way.

The inherent qualities that make the victorious racing car—road-holding, braking, durability, precision control, resistance to vibration—also make a car safer, stronger, and smoother for highway use.

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

Pastmaster's Annual 'Present' Is Given Out For Christmas

Postmaster Lohoefer had his annual Christmas 'present' ready today for his patrons and, to nobody's surprise, it was his perennial suggestion: "Mail Early."

"Christmas shopping and mailing is, for most people, one of the heaviest chores at Christmas," and if we can persuade some people to get it done right now we think they will agree later — when they are taking it easy while others rush around — that we have given them a very good present.

"Virtually all Christmas mailing can be disposed of now by observing the following five suggestions:

1. Do your shopping for your Christmas gifts NOW.
2. Check and revise mailing lists for cards and presents.
3. Package and mail Christmas parcels promptly. Don't worry about being too early — just mark them "Do Not Open Until Christmas."
4. Buy Christmas cards now and address them right away, separating them into out-of-town and local bundles. Mail them immediately with ZIP Codes on them and you've got it made, except perhaps for that last-minute card you forgot to send to Aunt Minnie.
5. Buy plenty of stamps now while post office windows are uncrowded.

For Christmas cards, the Postmaster recommends the attractive new 5 cent Christmas stamps showing the National Christmas tree in Washington, D. C. Use of this stamp insures first-class mail treatment — meaning the card may contain personal messages and may be forwarded or returned free of extra charge.

For example, if Great Aunt Minnie has moved without telling you, your card will be forwarded to her (presuming she has left a forwarding address.) If the card cannot be forwarded, it will be returned to you, provided you have put your return address on the envelope as the postmaster has asked.

Incidentally to speed Christmas card handling, post offices will have free supplies available of "local" and "out-of-town" bands for Christmas cards. If you will use these to separate your local and out-of-town cards, it will expedite delivery and assist your post office.

And — just as an additional peace-of-mind safeguard about parcels this Christmas — the Postmaster urges you to insure them.

He noted that — despite the Department's efforts over many years to promote good packaging and addressing — the Postal Service each year has been unable to deliver or return about half a million parcels, including many lost because of poor packaging or incorrect addressing.

Another situation that discourages postal employees is that in which they finally manage to decipher an address on a parcel only to find the deciphered address is completely erroneous — to the wrong street or sometimes even to the wrong city and state.

Once a local post office has exhausted all efforts to make delivery or return a parcel and has held it unclaimed for the standard 90 days, the parcel is usually lost to the sender or intended recipient.

Such parcels are disposed of by the Postal Service at auction held at 15 major post offices over the nation.

The Postmaster emphasizes that ZIP Code can also help insure against loss due to poor addressing for letters and parcels. The five-digit ZIP Code identifies one specific area. No other area has that same ZIP Code number. Therefore, Mr. Lohoefer explained—in view of the great number of opportunities for error that raise from the fact that there are many streets and cities with similar names — the ZIP Code is a real asset for Christmas mail, as well as for regular mailings.

For example, if a letter is addressed to 'Mineola' and the state is left out or is illegible, we can tell from the ZIP Code, if used, whether it goes to Mineola, Iowa, New York, Texas or Missouri, each of which has a city by that name.

Mailing early with ZIP Code is a help to the mailer, as well as our post office.

WE STILL HAVE A CHOICE SELECTION of NORTHERN DOUGLAS FIR CHRISTMAS TREES TO CHOOSE FROM

While none can deny that there are commercial aspects to our modern-day celebration of Christmas, it must be remembered that each of us observe Christmas in our own way.

Gift-giving is in keeping with the spirit of Christmas—if it is done with emphasis on giving and sharing, rather than on being sure that we give each individual a gift that is as good or better than the one we receive from them. It is even more in the spirit of Christmas if we give to the less fortunate, with no expectation of receiving something in return.

Let us enjoy the practice of gift-giving by keeping it in its proper place. We'll enjoy the holiday if we give wisely. We will give with pleasure if we give no more than we can afford.

Christmas shopping need not be such a chore. Like anything else, it can be made much easier with some planning and forethought.

Shop first in stores where you regularly trade during the year. You know where everything is to be found. Plan your trip through the store, on paper. Make a list of the items you are interested in, separating them by the departments in which they are located.

Don't spend too much time "looking" for a particular item. Pass over it. Get the other items on your list. During this time you may run across the item you "missed." If not, don't continue looking. Ask for help. One question directed to a store clerk can save you several minutes of valuable time.

If the store delivers, as many of them do, take advantage of the fact. Don't lug packages around with you when you can have someone else bring them to your doorstep.

If the store gift wraps, and most do during the holiday season, don't be fooled into thinking you can do a better job. Maybe you can—but you'll have more time for other necessary things if you let them do it.

S. A. F. B. Hospital Dedication December 18

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas — NEW HOSPITAL—The USAF Hospital at Sheppard Air Force Base, a $4.5 million medical facility recently completed, will be dedicated during formal ceremonies scheduld for 3:00 p. m., December 18th. Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert will give the dedication address before an audience of invited guests.

Formal dedication of the new multimillion dollar hospital at Sheppard Air Force Base is scheduled for 3:00 p. m. Wednesday, December 18. Construction on this ultramodern medical facility was begun in February 1961.

Mr. Eugene M. Zuckert, Secretary of the Air Force, will address an audience of invited guests to commemorate the occasion.

Maj. Gen. Robert M. Stillman, commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, is to act as master of ceremonies for the occasion and will introduce the special guests for the occasion. Among the special guests who will be seated on the platform will be Maj. Gen. R. L. Bohannon, Surgeon General of the United States Air Force; Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of Air Training Command; Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Moore, former commander of Sheppard who is now director of personnel planning in the office of the deputy chief of staff of personnel at Headquarters, United States Air Force; Rhea Howard, publisher of the Wichita Falls Times and Record News; and Col. John F. Schlechter, commander of the USAF Hospital at Sheppard.

Also invited to attend are Congressman Graham Purcell of the 13th Congressional District; and Senators John Tower and Ralph Yarborough.

Secretary Zuckert will receive a briefing on the base mission as well as a tour of the new hospital while at Sheppard. He also will have luncheon at the Noncommissioned Officers Open Mess with the commander and eight senior noncommissioned officers.

The 761st Air Force Band at Sheppard will present appropriate musical selections prior to the ceremony. Following it the Air Force Bagpipe Band from Washington, D. C. will perform. Lt. Col. Gover Stillwagon, chaplain, will give the invocation and benediction.

Countless advantages are being realized every day by doctors, nurses and patients in the new 300-bed facility.

In speaking of the new hospital, Colonel Schlechter, commander of the USAF Hospital stated: "Our modern hospital was created for an entirely different purpose than the one we had across the street."

"Those cantonment buildings were designed to handle patients on a bulk basis during the World War II emergency and could accommodate up to 1,000 patients. Constructed in a critical era on an emergency basis, the hospital was made of the cheapest materials and equipment."

"Our present facility was planned with the patient in mind and has about as many patient necessities as any hospital today," the commander continued.

It has an instant two-way voice communication system by which patients can talk with nurses or attendants at the central nurse stations. The building also features a control system for electrical circuits, room temperatures and humidity, and any variation from pre-set temperatures produces instant notification of a break in the circuit. It illuminates a diagram of that circuit to determine the location of difficulty. This apparatus is similar to machines used at Cape Kennedy for control purposes, and is part of an elaborate maintenance control program.

A doctor paging system is also new. Each physician has a pocket size transistor receiver with him as he goes through the hospital and he is alerted for a message by a beeping sound. After release of the tone, he receives the message from the operator at the message center.

Other special items acquired for the benefit of the patients are the Hubbard tank, a large container for hydrotherapy by the Physical Therapy Department in treating orthopedic and arthritic patients; a hot and cold food cart system for serving patients appetizing meals. It also features a sonic energy instrument cleaner which will clean, rinse, and dry a full load of surgical instruments in nine minutes.

The six-floor hospital and adjoining one-floor dental clinic have an air-conditioning system and "piped in" music. A separate air conditioning system is in operation in the nursery, operating and delivery suites. Fresh air comes in at all times as the used air is being pressed out.

Replacing the open bay or open ward type of patient accommodations are the hotel type arrangements with one-bed, two-bed, four-bed, and a scattering of five-bed rooms. There are two ten-bed wards in the neuropsychiatric department designed for special treatment of patients. All rooms have their own bathroom facilities which adds to the individual patient privacy. In each bathroom is a safety device where the patient can, by pushing a button, summons help if he should fall or feel faint.

One of 13 regional Air Force Hospitals in the Continental United States, the USAF Hospital at Sheppard is the fifth largest in the Air Force and the second largest in Air Training Command.

As a regional medical center it functions as an Air Force specialized diagnostic and advanced therapeutic medical center for ten bases in Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas. Patients are sent here for diagnosis and treatment from these bases, and the Sheppard medical staff travels to the other bases to act as medical consultants.

Patients are also received and admitted from many other bases, world wide, to be treated by the Sheppard specialists.

It's The Law In Texas

SUCKER SIGNALS

There is no sorrier person than one who has been victimized by a phony deal. Unfortunately, once the buyer has signed an order or contract, little can be done to get him off the hook. "But I didn't realize..." are words often heard by lawyers who are usually unable to help at that point.

Despite the complete disavowance of "caveat emptor" (let the buyer beware) by ethical merchants, there are still some businesses that thrive on high pressure deals. Buyers are contacted by direct mail, over the telephone, or by "come on" advertisements. These contracts resort to fancy claims and a high pressure approach.

How can you avoid such sales tactics? There is no sure way, aside of dealing with reputable, established merchants, and using common sense in reading the ads. But there are certain sucker signals that should ring the alarm bell.

Here are a few:
"Buy now or lose the chance."
"You have been specially selected."
"It's only a legal form."
"You can save up to..."
"Yours absolutely free..."

These signals do not necessarily indicate a bad deal, but they are frequently used by shady promoters. So read carefully, think it over, compare prices, and ask for information from a merchant you know, or from a friend.

Remember, in this world of high business competition, one seldom gets anything for nothing. One you have signed an order, even the law may not be able to help you, no matter how imprudent the deal may be for you. In fact, unless the law is doing something illegal, the law may wind up helping you. Once you have signed an order, you made. So watch the signs and look before you sign!

Winnie Trent Circle Of Janlee Baptist Church Met Dec. 3

The Winnie Trent Circle of the Woman's Missionary Union, Janlee Baptist Church, met December 3, 1963, at 6:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Janiece Skelton, for a Mission Study.

Mrs. Lena Faye Alford, Director of BSU, Midwestern University, presented a very interesting program in the form of colored slides. These slides were taken when Mrs. Alford, along with several others from this area, made a tour of several foreign countries, including Lebanon, Jerusalem, Israel and much of the Holy Land. Everyone present enjoyed this presentation.

After Mrs. Alford's presentation, a salad supper was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Pat Chapman then gave a short review of our Mission Study Book, after which the meeting was adjourned.

News From The County Agent

Reports of screwworm infestations in counties that have not had cases all year have prompted eradication officials to issue a warning to livestock producers. They caution livestockmen that they can not yet afford to let down their guard against the insect.

To insure that screwworms do not have the opportunity to develop and produce offspring that would infest "free" areas, eradication workers urge producers to check their livestock frequently and treat cuts and scratches that could invite infestation. When infestations are detected, a dozen or more of the larvae should be collected and the discovery reported to county agents, livestock inspectors or vocational agriculture teachers. Then appropriate control measures can be initiated. The wound should then be treated with insecticide to kill the remaining larvae.

The term "family farm" is often misunderstood. To be a family farm, the farmer and his family manage and operate the farm, take the risks and reap the rewards, and also contribute most of the farm labor. Farms that use less than one and one-half years of hired labor are classed as family farms.

Regular Meeting Held By Clara-Fairview Community

The Clara-Fairview Community held its regular meeting November 15th, with Elmer Klinkerman, presiding. Mrs. E. J. Simons led the devotional. Mrs. Newt Crane read the minutes which were approved.

Officers for the coming year were elected and they are:

President, Mr. Claude Adams; Vice President, Mr. Raymond Schroeder; Secretary, Mrs. Bobby Klinkerman; Treasurer, Mr. Norman Roberts; Reporter, Mrs. Claude Adams, and Commissioner of Agriculture, Mr. Elmer Klinkerman.

The community voted to give a Christmas Basket to a needy family.

The community voted to have their Christmas Party, December 20th at the Community House. Each will bring an exchange gift, and families be responsible for the children's gift.

Mrs. Raymond Schroeder and Mrs. E. W. Roderick were appointed to buy gifts for the officers and those having perfect attendance and for the judges.

We had as our special guest the Fire Marshall from Wichita Fall, Texas. He gave us a very interesting talk. Those attending were Messrs and Mesdames James Roderick, Elmer Klinkerman, W. Roderick, Newt Crane, J. Simons, Claude Adams, Raymond Schroeder Bryan Farris, B. T. Haws, Norman Roberts and children attending with Larry and Gary Roderick, Charles, Judy, Jan, Joy and Gary Klinkerman.

Clara-Fairview Community Meets

The Clara-Fairview Community met November 25th, in call meeting with Elmer Klinkerman, presiding.

Mrs. Newt Crane read the minutes and they were approved. The Christmas Basket was discussed and decided that each family bring a gift for a child to be given along with the basket.

Arrangements were made to put a fence around our Community House.

The meeting was then adjourned and refreshments were served to the following:

Messrs and Mesdames James Roderick, Elmer Klinkerman, Newt Crane, Claude Adams, J. Simons, Bryan Farris and Larry and Gary Roderick, Charles, Judy, Griff, Jan, Joy, Klinkerman; Dee Ellen, Mrs. Adams.

Randlett News

Mollie R. Elliott, Reporter

Four armed men held a Cotton County farm family at gunpoint for three hours Tuesday night before robbing them of several firearms, clothing, money, food and the family automobile from their home near Randlett, Oklahoma. Officers said the four men probably were headed for Texas and Wichita Falls. Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Wileman and their 12-year-old son Larry were not harmed though they were bound and gagged and threats were made. They managed to break free of their bonds and telephoned the Oklahoma Highway Patrol Officers in Lawton, Oklahoma about 9:30 p. m. The four men were believed to be in their 20's, and they were armed with a double barreled shotgun and several .22 caliber pistols. They took four other men from the Wileman's and drove to the family car, a 1961 Ford sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Watson came home Monday from a few days visit in Houston and Galveston. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnes Berger. Mr. Burdo Bennett of Los Angeles, New Mexico visited with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. Martin and family Tuesday Saturday. Mrs. F. E. Eastman accompanied by her sister, Mrs. O. G. CATCH A FROG
Have you ever been along a stream or lake and, running low on bait, decided to catch some frogs? But, drat them, they leap away just as you're within grabbing distance. Solution is to cut a switch from brush along the stream and use as a fly swatter. A swat stuns the frog long enough to collect, yet doesn't kill him.

TO BELL OR NOT TO BELL

Where do you stand? Some quail hunters bell their dogs claiming the tinkle arouses the birds' curiosity and they sit tighter because of it. Other hunters swear the noise of the bell flushes the coveys wild and go to great lengths to keep signals and dogs quiet. One thing is sure, a bell helps you know where dogs are at all times. Could it be because of extreme differences in conditions across country that both non-bellers and bellers are right . . . that in some areas bells will hold birds and in another flush them?

CHOOSE RIGHT TOYS
Toys are designed to please the hearts of children, and they do. But all toys are not always completely safe for children of all ages.

If you have youngsters of varying ages in the home, toys selected for an older child may be the source of an accident or illness in the hands of a toddler.

When you shop for toys this year, avoid toys made of lead or colored with lead-based paints. Small children sometimes chew off the lead paint and swallow it, and serious illness could result.

Be careful, too, about small toys that can be swallowed, flammable toys and toys with rough or sharp edges.

Electric toys are for older children—and be sure that these bear the UL (Underwriters Laboratory) label on the cord and the toy itself.

Missile-throwing toys, particularly air rifles and sling shots, are dangerous, particularly to the eyes. Toy archery sets can also cause injury. If your child receives a missile-throwing toy for Christmas, for his own safety, and for the welfare of other children, set down rules for safe use and be sure they are enforced.

FOR THAT PERSON OF PRIME IMPORTANCE

For whom the best is none too good — choose the everlasting beauty of a precious piece of jewelry or the enduring worth of a fine watch. These are gifts that good Christmases are made of — and will make the holiday brighter for you, the giver, as well as for a loved one. There is no more eloquent or tangible way to express your feelings.

Warm Climate Christmas Is Quite Colorful

Unlike Christmas in colder states, the Yule season around the winter resort of Phoenix, Arizona and the Valley of the Sun means no snow but bright sunny days. It seems a bit strange to tourists perhaps, but local folks all they can do to prove sunning is more fun than shoveling. Special dinners, festivals and other activities add a special flair and gaiety to the Phoenix celebration.

Colorful

One of the most colorful of all the activities is the annual Las Pasas observance by Arizonians and Mexicans. Starting about a week before Christmas, people representing Mary and Joseph re-enact the traditional night-time search for lodgings in Bethlehem. They start from house to house until finally at the pre-arranged one—they are "taken in for the night."

Another common scene around Christmas in Phoenix comes with the luminarias. These usually occur on Christmas Eve when many people hold open house. Small paper bags, partially filled with sand, and having lighted candles in the middle, are spaced out to mark paths to homes. The tradition comes from the old Spanish custom of lighting the way for El Nino Perdido, the lost Christ child, who walks among the faithful on that night.

CAREFUL HOLIDAY

Christmas tree ornaments particularly strings of small lights, are a potential holiday hazard. Children will sometimes chew up or even swallow a small bulb, with obvious results. Tree lights of flimsy wiring, or old strands that have been re-used for years, sometimes can be fire hazards.

Glass tree ornaments often shatter easily and sprinkle slivers around the room. Handle all ornaments and lights with care and keep the extras and discarded bulbs out of the reach of children.

IN GREECE

In Greece, Christmas gifts gladden the hearts of the young and the poor. The older folks usually wait until New Year's Day to exchange presents.

HURRY, HURRY... Some-times kiddies just can't wait for the fire to die down. Can't expect Santa to arrive till then, can you? When the fire's only a flickering light, one can bet Santa is near somewhere in the "light."

The perfect gift, the perfect thought — a Stetson Christmas Gift Certificate . . . the perfect way to remember relative or friend! Because it allows him to choose his Stetson to suit his taste in style, color, and trim—while thinking of you, the giver!

DREAM HOUSE . . . Every little girl likes to play "house and dreams of having a house of her own, even in miniature. Unit shown is constructed of chipboard and folds into a light compact carrying case.

Indians Had Many Uses For Red Cranberry

Cranberries, a traditional part of our Christmas menus, were used in many ways by the American Indians. "Pemmican" was a paste made from cranberries. Cranberry poultices were applied to cuts and wounds, and the juice of the berry yielded a red dye. The Indians called cranberries the "bitter berry." Early American Pilgrims, noting the fruit to be the favorite of cranes, began referring to them as cranberries, and eventually cranberries.

PROPER TOYS

The fact you wanted a certain toy when you were a child is no indication your child would like to have one for Christmas. He might just as soon play with the box and the wrappings.

Toys are for children. They represent wasted money if the child has no interest in them, if they are too "old" for the child, or so complicated only an older child or an adult can manipulate them.

The largest osage orange trees in America are found in the Red River Valley.

Texas is the largest wool producing state in the nation.

ITALY'S YULE

In Italy, the Yule log is burned in the family fireplace. Everyone gathers around and each child is blindfolded before the log is ignited. In turn, children recite Christmas verses and as their blindfolds are removed, they find Christmas gifts stacked on the floor.

Second Use

Broken Christmas tree decorations can still be useful. Cut cardboard into star shapes and apply fresh, white shellac. While the shellac is still wet, place the fragments securely on the cardboard. When dry, the shellac will hold them.

TRENDS IN SOUTHERN PINE

Southern Pine lumber is increasingly available in the larger sizes and in the so-called "finish" grades: — paneling, siding, millwork, etc.

This is indicated by the results of a 1963 survey of mills representing one-third of the total production.

Forty-eight percent of the production of these mills is in thicknesses of 2" and over. The 1960 ratio was 41 percent. Items such as paneling, siding, flooring and millwork now constitute nearly one-fourth of the output. In millwork alone, there has been a 58 percent increase in volume during the last three years. "Clear" (knot-free) lumber comprises an amazing 15 percent of the volume in thicknesses of 1½" and less.

The survey, made by the Southern Pine Association, reflects the vast improvement in the quality and quantity of sawtimber growth, as reported by the U. S. Forest Service.

THE "SECOND SEASON"

Fishing season has opened . . . again!

September traditionally signals the end of summer vacations. It also ushers in a revitalized fishing period that rivals the action-packed weeks of spring.

With the approach of cool autumn weather and lower water temperatures, the fishing staff at Mercury outboard motors reminds us that we can expect to find activity picking up at a brisk clip. And it will steadily improve until snow flurries appear.

As the blistering heat of summer subsides, game fish lose their lethargy and move out of deep water havens into the shallows. Their appetites are whetted by more agreeable temperatures and a rapidly diminishing food supply. They're less choosy, now, and inclined to gobble at a tasty morsel whenever the opportunity arises.

Areas which produced only bullheads and buegills in July and August suddenly start yielding lunkers again. During fall, too, you'll discover many of our best waters virtually deserted. With the kids back in school and vacations over, many families won't return until next year. Most of the trollines have been stored away and can't interfere with shore line trolling.

Autumn's definitely the time to go fishing, the Mercury experts say. The fish are cooperative. Days are pleasant. And there's plenty of elbow room for all.

This "second season" can be the best of the year.

Be Grateful For Christmas

"Peace on earth."
How old is this Christmas greeting? For how many years has Christmas returned to a world in which the promise of peace was yet unfulfilled? For how many Christmases yet to come will the world be yet awaiting peace on earth to ALL men of good will?

The answer is not readily at hand. Yet, this we know; for this one single day of the year we can be grateful for the true meaning of the holiday we observe.

We can give thanks for mankind's greatest gift, the birth of the Christ Child, and do so with the knowledge that on His birthday once each year the spirit of good will becomes the motto of all men everywhere.

THIS IS HIM . . . The familiar figure of Santa in the Christmas book is a delight to the heart of childhood. The merry old gentleman in the red suit is a very special person to these youngsters.

Buy 'Moist' Tree; Keep It That Way

A moist Christmas tree is a fresh one. A dry Christmas tree is a fire hazard.

These are the simple facts of Yuletide tree selection. Remember them and you won't go wrong in buying the family Christmas tree.

You can't gauge a tree's moisture or dryness entirely by appearance. Some species retain their color fairly well even when dry enough to burst into flame at the first spark or short-circuit.

Feeling, not seeing, is the answer. Feel twigs and needles to determine if they are dry and brittle. Then bang the tree butt against the floor. If a shower of needles results, look for another, moister tree.

DON'T FORGET . . . This young fellow seems to be reminding one of Santa's helpers that the holiday is really only a short time away and there's much to be done in the meantime.

Appliance Gift Should Please

To make a hit with an appliance gift, think first of the needs of the recipient.

Too often, gift buyers make the mistake of selecting what they themselves would like or need. An electric fry pan is a practical gift—unless there is already one in the family. An electric can opener is usually a fine gift—but it's not too much appreciated by the family that uses little canned foods or has no place to put the appliance.

A portable stove may be a good gift for an apartment dweller, yet will have little value to the family which boasts a thermostatically controlled range.

BIRDS AND BEES

Cranberry growers know all about the birds and the bees. And, many of us might not enjoy this holiday fruit if such were not true.

Cranberry growers build homes for swallows near their cranberry bogs. The birds eat destructive insects which would harm the crop.

Bees perform another valuable service—pollination. Cranberry pollen is too heavy to be carried by the wind, so bees pollinate the flowers. Growers have found that the number of bees present per acre of berries has a direct bearing on the cranberry crop.

Mr. C. W. Ramsey is reported to be slowly improving following a heart attack he suffered recently. He is in the General Hospital at Wichita Falls.

Two words found opposite the word "dad" on many Christmas gift lists are "shirt" and "tie."

Despite all the jokes about dads getting nothing but ties in their gift boxes, researchers say the chances of a man getting a tie as a gift are about one in seven. The popularity of the tie as a gift is understandable. There's no worry about "size." The tie will always fit. The only worry is in getting a suitable color. This is usually solved simply by looking at the kind of tie dad is wearing or the selection on his tie rack.

Buying a man a shirt is a bit more difficult. Size is important. Yet, equally so, is color and style.

Men's shirts may all look alike, but there's always the considerations of quality. The woman who buys her blouses with care should be able to buy a man a quality shirt.

Some things to look for in a quality shirt: sturdy button-holes—neat and without ravel; smooth, uniform buttons; sleeves cut in one piece so they will be easier to iron; even, closely spaced stitches along cuffs and front panel.

Dad knows quality in shirts and he will appreciate the kind he would choose for himself.

IRON FISTED CIVIL RIGHTS

By John C. Satterfield, Past President (1961-62) of The American Bar Association

In a way, a person must take off his cap to the Administration for the way it has handled civil rights legislation. The bill now pending in the House of Representatives is, by far, more severe than its predecessors, yet the people believe it is a more moderate offering, a "watered-down" version. And that, by any measure, is no mean trick, making black into white, war into peace.

Every material restriction and every penalty that was incorporated in the first bill is to be found in the legislation now under consideration. Moreover, new powers have been granted the Attorney General.

What changes have been made — and many have been made — are to be found primarily in the bill's public-accommodations section.

The Administration struck, for instance, the provisions which would have forced integration on doctors, lawyers and such. And it has changed the meaning of the language dealing with a Federal FEPC.

Consider these alterations. In excluding lawyers and doctors, the sense of the bill wasn't changed at all. All that happened is that two elements — two obstreperous elements — of the economy have been left off the hook. The bill's meaning, for the rest of the people remains.

And the change in the FEPC is certainly much more encompassing than previously, not otherwise. Now, nearly every business is covered, whereas in the earlier bill only businesses accepting financial assistance were included. This change was accomplished by amending the bill definition of "interstate commerce" from the traditional concept and by broadening the federal FEPC to cover the new definition. It is worth noting the bill authorizes ten million dollars a year for the federal FEPC to hire federal inspectors to police business.

And the bill's provision would bring the American educational system — public and private — under the control of the Federal government, that this provision of the bill can be sold as "moderate" or something less meaningful than any previous proposal is, indeed, a masterful stroke of political magic.

For that is precisely what this civil rights bill will do; it will allow the President to control the placement of pupils in local schools. It will allow him to approve the faculty, censor textbooks and change study courses. The alternative would be the loss of all Federal aid. The child who eats a "free" Federal lunch, under this bill, must also study Federally approved curriculum as it pertains to races and religion. Under this bill, if the President or an appropriate Federal agency believes a social studies book is inaccurate in matters of race or religion, Federal aid can be withdrawn from the school making use of the textbook, whether such school be public, private or parochial. Nor is the power contained in this bill a purely negative power. Those which have already accepted Federal funds, in some instances, can be compelled by the threat of foreclosures and blacklisting to meet the new standards.

Moreover, this bill gives — as the original bill did not — the power for the Attorney General to institute on his own motion, school integration suits, public facility suits, and federal financial assistance suits, not only against individuals but against states and local governments as well. In doing so, it gives to one man a power which has never before existed; previously, as to these matters, the Attorney General could only intervene in private suits.

Under the power contained in this bill, people can be denied the right of trial by jury.

Yet it has been sold to the American people as a "moderate," "watered down" bill.

How could it have been? The answer to that makes an enlightening story.

When, on October 29, the House Committee on the Judiciary met to pass or reject the subcommittee civil rights bill it had under consideration, the chairman offered, out of hand, a 56-page substitute which most of the committee members had seen for the first time only minutes before. He instructed the members no amendments to it could be offered, no discussion would be allowed, no questions either asked or answered. Then, he told the clerk to read the bill. Hurriedly, the clerk did so; the chairman had a vote rattled off and peremptorily said the bill had received a do-pass. During much of this action, committee members were on their feet shouting for recognition, denouncing the chairman's highhandedness as unprecedented — as indeed it was. One committee member went so far as to repeatedly bang the desk with an ash tray in an effort to stop the "railroad procedure." Later, the chairman was to apologize for his conduct. He said it had been "forced" upon him but he did not say by whom.

This was done in "executive session," which means the press and public were excluded.

While this action was taking place, a professional worker for the minority group pressing most forcefully for this bill, stood outside the committee's closed door and cried to reporters his people were being "sold out." Sold out, indeed. Concomitantly, the Attorney General issued statements to the press that the bill now before the committee was a "more moderate version" than the earlier bill, that it was a "watered down" version.

Since it was impossible for anyone — even committee members — to question the substitute measure, the press and the public had only the Attorney General's unsubstantiated press releases that the bill was more "moderate" than its predecessor.

Whether this was a true presentation of the measure, whether it came on all fours can only be resolved in the minds of the people. But there can be no question the bill is the most revolutionary legislation submitted to Congress since the Force Bills of the Reconstruction era, and is neither moderate nor "watered down." It is far stronger, harsher and more stringent than the subcommittee proposal for which it was substituted without consideration, debate or opportunity to amend.

IT'S MY HOUSE, NOT THEIRS

Dear Helen, This may sound funny, but I live with my daughter and her teenagers in MY house. I can't get used to the teenagers' confusing coming and goings. Can you tell me of a nice retirement place? I'm willing to leave home to find peace and quiet. Also, can you put me in touch with a good middle-aged woman interested in a good home, able to do chores, etc. Hope you can help please.

Mrs. Pushed, S. Florida
Let's all help! Anybody know a kind housekeeper who is equipped to swap punches with teenagers? Please send names to me pronto at National Senior Center, Lehigh Acres, Florida. There are many splendid "peace and quiet" retirement places, dear Mrs. Pushed, and already in the mail is a listing for you. If you need further information, write again!

I FEEL BETTER WITH THIS LETTER

I am prompted to write that your answer was perfect to "Going Potty" who complained do women ever retire? I am one of the retired lonely widows you mentioned who would gladly change places with her. My biggest problem is idleness. I am a young 66, well-groomed, pleasant, intelligent, with financial security. I would love to give volunteer service to some organization and wrote to several, but would you believe it, they never even acknowledged my letter. I want to be a good "doer," giving my time, service and understanding. Please give me some suggestions. Thank you for listening; at the moment this was my greatest need.

Mrs. R., Miami Beach, Fla.
This was a four-page letter ringing with sincerity. Communities are always sending up smoke signals to smoke out older people who have time and love to donate, in civic service. Many organizations tell me they would founder without their old friends. But plenty of letters like this show rejection! Right now, Mrs. R., a community survey started near you. It involves personal visits and collating facts. Its leaders are writing to you today to invite you to help them!

WHY NOT COME TO MY HOUSE

Three of us families were sitting around and talking about a county here in Minnesota that has a big project going to help the aged and ill. They started home aides to go to people's homes to help with housework, medical care, nursing, etc., and all kinds of retirement help, even how to cook for only one or two. We need this too, in our county. Why don't they start this everywhere?

Farmers, State of Minnesota
They might, after success is demonstrated. You're probably referring to a pilot project on a three year grant to the Minnesota Department of Health under Community Facilities and Services Act. Participating is the Public Health Service, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It's Morrison County. Purpose is to provide guidelines to rural areas for the mobilization and coordination of resources to meet the needs of the chronically ill and aged. This is a good project. It gets everybody posted on who needs what, and where help is obtainable. Over 500 local volunteers visited 6,000 households in the county, to get and bring information. So start rolling up your sleeves. Maybe you're next in line!

NEED HELP ON A PROBLEM Write to Helen Alpert, National Senior Center, Lehigh Acres, Florida, or in care of this newspaper. Write today for the free list of the many booklets and services available to you, compliments of this column.

Sundowners News
The Sundowners held a Graduation Dance last week for the twenty-five students. All were present except one couple who were out with sickness. Sorry you missed the big dance, Patsy and Cloyd.

Area square dancers were present to help the Sundowners welcome this group into square dancing.

Visitors were from Iowa Park, "Jubileers"; Wichita Falls, "Swinging Stars"; and Circle and Stars; and "Longhorns"; also dancers from Sheppard Air Force Base, the "Swing-A-Longs."

The president of the Red River Valley Square Dance Association, Vernoy and Ardella Johnson were also present.

The Sundowners are having their Christmas Dance Saturday night December 14, 1963 at 8:00 p. m. at the American Legion Hall.

The club members will all be sporting new name and club badges.

"See ya in a square."

SUNDOWNERS REPRESENTED AT SPECIAL MEETING
The Sundowners were represented at the special meeting of the Red River Valley Square Dance Association last Sunday afternoon in Wichita Falls.

Medical Mirror
HOW TO MAKE A MILLION $$
Q. I have tried to stop smoking but to no avail. Is there a drug that will dull my desire for tobacco?
A. We know of no drug that will safely and effectively dull the taste for tobacco. If such a drug is ever developed, the discoverer will be well on his way to making a million dollars.
FLAVOR WITHOUT FEAR
Q. I recently read in a medical book that the food additive, monosodium glutamate, produces stomach irritation and cancer. If this is true, why isn't its use prohibited?
A. Because the statement is not true. Monosodium glutamate is perfectly safe to use.
MALE MENOPAUSE?
Q. Do men go through the change of life like women do?
A. No. There is some adjustment in hormone secretion as men grow older, but it is not as abrupt as in women.
The true measure of the worth of prescribed medicine lies not in dollars and cents, but in the faster relief from pain and speedier recovery it provides.
