BABSON REPORT IS OPTIMISTIC FOR 1964

ROGER W. BABSON

I am still emotionally upset as I make this forecast after the brutal assassination of President Kennedy. I, however, will try to submerge my emotions and base this forecast of 1964 on the facts as I interpret

1. OUR NEW PRESIDENT. I state emphatically that President Johnson may accomplish far more constructively before November 1964 than our late President would have been able to do. President Johnson understands better how to handle Congress, and has the confidence of businessmen. Therefore, I am reassured as to the first ten months of 1964. 2. ELECTION IN NOVEMBER. At the Republican Convention in the summer of 1964, there will be a conflict between Goldwater and Rockefeller, and perhaps others. For this reason, Mr. Nixon may slip in and get the Republican nomination. Certainly President Johnson will secure the nomination of the Democratic Party; he is a farsighted man, and knows politics. Therefore, with the Republicans nominating any one of the three leading names mentioned above, I now forecast that President Johnson will be elected President of the United States in November 1964. All of this gives me more assurance that 1964 should be a good year. 3. TAX CUT. A tax cut will be enacted sometime during the coming session of Congress; and it will surely be made retroactive to January 1, 1964. The tax cut should help consumer buying; it may even increase general business. 4. CIVIL RIGHTS. Some sort of a civil-rights bill will be passed by Congress during 1964. The Administration wants to please the South and hold its Democratic votes there, but the civil rights bill now before Congress is not satisfactory to the white people of the North. Therefore, I forecast that whatever civil-rights bill is passed before the election of 1964 will be considerably watered down. 5. NEGRO PEOPLE. The Negroes will continue to make progress and get more, but I predict that the gain will have to come largely through changing attitudes of the people. Otherwise, the situation will be much like the prohibition problem which the good people of the nation thought could be solved by legislation. Such reforms take place only as the minds and hearts of the people are changed for the better. 6. GOVERNMENT SPENDING. Of course, in the long run, the survival of a nation should depend upon its spending less than it takes in. Nowadays, however, it is unfashionable for consumers or government to have balanced budgets. Therefore, I predict that 1964 will see a bigger deficit than this year's. 7. DEPRESSION. Whether for better or for worse, the voters have been taught to believe they can and should get something for nothing, and only a severe depression could ultimately change this belief. I, however, look for no depression in 1964. 8. AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK. Although crops, prices, and farm income may be basically dependent on the weather much of the world is short of food. Russia's and China's heavy purchases of grains will do more to bolster U. S. farm income than will government-supported prices in 1964. 9. DOW-JONES INDUSTRIALS. I forecast that the stock market as measured by the Dow-Jones Averages will make a new high in 1964, but may sell lower after the elections. However, readers must remember that the Dow-Jones Industrial list, which everyone seems to think represents the market, may be very deceptive. 10. SPECULATIVE STOCKS. Of the approximately 1550 stocks listed on the New York Exchange, a majority have been going down while the Dow-Jones list of 30 which everyone watches have been going up. This is due to the purchase of Dow-Jones issues today largely by trustees, pension funds, mutual companies, and others that prefer fairly conservative and dividend-paying companies. I forecast that stocks not in the Dow-Jones list will do better proportionately in 1964 than they did this year. 11. SWITCHING. Based on my above forecast, and having learned that only buying can send stocks up, I predict that 1964 may prove to be a good year to switch from some of the overcrowded Dow-Jones stocks into other issues that are now overlooked. 12. GOVERNMENT BONDS. The only government bonds that interest me are the long-term ones which may now be purchased at a discount to use in payment at par for death taxes. I forecast that more governments will be issued during 1964 and that their prices may gradually sag as money becomes tighter. 14. TAX-EXEMPT BONDS. Likewise, I predict that long-term tax-exempt bonds will decline next year. They are even more overpriced than corporation bonds, because of heavy bank buying during the past two years. I do not look for this to be repeated in 1964. Therefore, I would certainly confine buying of tax-exempts to short maturities; and I would avoid revenue bonds. 15. INTEREST RATES. I forecast that interest rates will continue at least as high as today, and will possibly rise. 13. CORPORATION BONDS. Those buying corporate bonds should either stick to issues of under five years' maturity or keep their money in the savings bank. I predict that long-term corporation bonds will drop in price in 1964 as interest rates rise.

Cattle Sales to Resume at the Burk Sale Barn
Bill White and Wilford White, who have been holding sales at the Burk Sale Barn for many years, have decided to resume the popular cattle sale. The first sale of the year will be held Monday, January 6th, beginning at 1:00 P. M. Sales will be held every Monday thereafter, beginning at the same time. A veterinary will be on duty at each sale, and the barn will be approved for inter-state movement of cattle. From the number of cattle promised for this first sale Monday should be a big day in Burkburnett. It appears now that there will be a big number of cattle and a good number of regular buyers. If you have cattle to sell bring them to Burkburnett. If you are in the market for cattle, you may find just what you want here. Burkburnett welcomes the re-opening of the cattle sale here each Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williamson and sons, Wayne, Wade, and Warren of Pittsburgh, Pa., visited her mother, Mrs. Marie Ross, in Burkburnett Christmas week. V. C. Hensley and family of Lomita, California are spending the holidays here with relatives and friends. Miss Sandra Joyce Audas returned to her home in Glade-water Sunday after spending the holidays here with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Deckard.

THE NATIONAL OUTLOOK BY GEORGE HAGEDORN A LOOK AT 1964
At the turn of the year it is customary for commentators to take a look at the economic prospects for the coming twelve months. This column foresees a year in which the business picture will be, on the whole, bright but not dazzling. The economic rise which has been going on since early 1961 does not seem to be losing momentum. There has not been any serious building up of inventories which has often in the past been the prelude to a downturn. The shock of President Kennedy's assassination has not noticeably impaired the confidence of business or of consumers. Some of the statistical indicators published in recent weeks have been negative or at least doubtful. The seasonally adjusted figures on housing starts and manufacturers' sales were slightly lower in November than October. However, the margin for error introduced in these figures by the process of seasonal adjustment suggests that it would be unwise to pay too much attention to small movements in either direction. The government survey of business plans for future investment in plant and equipment forecasts a leveling off in the first quarter of 1964, and a rise thereafter. A survey of manufacturers' expectations as to their sales in the first quarter indicates a nominal drop as compared with the last quarter. But statistical compilations of future plans and expectations must be taken with an even larger grain of salt than statistics which are based on what has already happened. Many observers still expect the forthcoming cut in federal income taxes to give the economy a large lift. But this will be partially offset by a continuation in the rise in collections of state and local taxes. Also, it may have been discounted in advance by heavy purchases of homes and automobiles on credit. The great problem looming over all is the question of whether the Federal Reserve system will be able to stay on the tight rope it has been walking. Will it be able to maintain high short-term interest rates to protect our balance of payments, and at the same time provide the abundant credit needed to keep domestic economy rising? This is a long-term problem, but probably we will be able to evade it for at least most of 1964. On the whole, balancing all the considerations, we are inclined to believe that economic activity, as measured by the gross national product, will total about 610 billion dollars in 1964. This anticipates a rise of about four percent over 1963, considerably less than the increase between 1962 and 1963. It will not be enough to reduce unemployment much below its current level. Happy New Year.

BULLDOGS BOP COYOTES IN REVENGE TILT, 64-62
By D. W. Underwood
Three Bulldog players hit in double figures here Monday night as Burkburnett gained revenge for an earlier loss, bopping the favored Wichita Falls Coyotes, 64-62, in a fast moving contest. Johnny Koller tallied 19 points, Mike Musick hit 17, and Paul Gilchrist added 10 to the doubles column, as the Bulldogs won their third straight game. They have won six of their last seven battles. The Coyotes hit fast as Jackie Pennington and John Cunningham put them ahead 6-0. Jackie Cornelius first put Burk on the board with a charity toss. David Oliver hit another goal for the Pack before Mike Musick hit a free throw to make it 8-2. Then Gary Owen hit the Bulldog's first field goal of the night. Paul Gilchrist then hit a free toss for Burk and Oliver added two more goals to make it 12-5. It was at this point that the Bulldogs' wrecking crew went to work. Musick hit another from the field to pull within five points. Johnny Koller swiped a Coyote pass and took it down for a layup. Cornelius got in the act, stealing a pass and scoring another layup. Seemingly satisfied with himself, he stole another and passed it to Koller who laid up another two pointer. Cornelius hit a free throw and the first quarter score was 14-12. Koller led the way in the second quarter with ten points, as the Bulldogs outscored the Coyotes 17-16, for a 31-28 halftime lead. In the third stanza, the Pack outscored Burk, 21-14, despite a hot spell by Mike Musick. The little left hander hit six points, but Pennington and David Oliver led a vicious assault that put the Bulldogs in the hole, 49-45, at the end of the third. The Bulldogs went into the fourth quarter without the services of Koller who fouled out. Gilchrist and Koller's replacement, Joe Montgomery, tied the score with consecutive baskets. Musick and Gary Owen joined in the scoring as the Bulldogs outdid the Pack, 19-13 for the win. Other Bulldog players' points were: Owen, 8; Cornelius, 6; and Montgomery, 4. Jackie Pennington, the Coyotes' big man, was game high with 25 points. Oliver hit 14. The Bulldogs' season record now stands at 7-4. Their next outing is in the Coyote tournament this week end. In Junior Varsity action, the Rowdies clipped the Burk Doggies, 56-46. Joe Story hit 11 points in a losing cause. Varsity Score by Quarters: Bulldogs 14 17 14 19-64 Coyotes 12 16 21 13-62

Royal Thievery

The action of Argentina in announcing that it will annul contracts made with foreign oil companies, primarily American, without any firm promise of adequate indemnity, is another example of immorality on the part of a government.

The United States government is deeply concerned. Efforts by a high U. S. official to settle the matter fairly came to little or nothing. The AP reports that "An authoritative U. S. source said that failure by the Argentine government to act within the concept of the U. S. position can harm this climate (for foreign capital) and with it the Alliance for Progress."

Neither the Alliance for Progress, nor any other organization, can produce anything except more and more disunity if government turns their backs on firm pledges and agreements. Since 1958 the oil companies concerned have spent $397 million in Argentina. They have developed her oil resources, to the advantage of all. They believed that the freely-made contracts would be fulfilled on the part of all the signatory parties.

The news reports also say that the Argentine government holds that its action is legal, and if the companies are dissatisfied they can go to court. One can imagine what would happen then. The litigation would, in all probability, be drawn out indefinitely. And the chance of fair indemnification would be frail indeed.

There can be no stability in the world, no fair chance to better understanding and cooperation between nations, unless treaties, contracts and agreements are kept to the letter.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Whether or not much comes of it, the U. S. decision to offer wheat to Russia will be discussed long. It perhaps, then, would be well to put the situation into a proper perspective.

The sale of a million and a half bushels of wheat to Russia makes a very small dent into the more than a billion bushels of U. S. surplus wheat.

Roughly $250 million, but inasmuch as the American taxpayers must make up the difference between the higher pegged domestic wheat price and the world wheat price, government subsidies of about 55 cents per bushel will cost $82 1/2 million, bringing net gain to less than $170 million, so financially it is not tremendous.

There is the moral issue. That is whether or not the American people should come to the aid of a communistic government whose system is unable to feed its own people. On the other hand, two "staunch allies" Canada and Australia have no compunctions in the matter. And presumably there can be an argument over when a dictatorship is most dangerous. Is it when it's people are well fed, or when they are hungry and dictatorship starts a war to take their minds off their stomachs?

However, Senator William Proxmire has stated the Russian need for foodstuffs is no greater than it has been for several years, and the wheat deal will open road for further sales to Russia.

If the Senator's position is correct, then there is an area to watch closely. Recently Russia opened a bank in Beirut

This is the part of the world where gold is sold for far above the U.S. pegged price of $35 per ounce. In India, for example, gold brings at least 50% more, or $52.50. Now it is known that Russia has long had vast deposits of rich gold bearing ore. The Russian success in mining the metal is the best kept secret of the 20th Century.

But it is possible that the Russian bank in Beirut will principally engage in selling gold for dollars. If it can get prevailing Indian price of gold it will be in effect, discounting dollars 33-1/3%.

This means that instead of getting wheat at the world price of $1.75 per bushel, it will be paying, in fact, $1.17. Russia can then sell this wheat at world price and make a profit of almost $90 million.

A few deals like this and Russia could become the dominant trading power in the world, provided she has sufficient gold reserves. Experts estimate that despite the poverty of its millions, the upper classes in India have gold reserves reaching $7 billion. If this is true, Russia could easily have $10 billion or so in gold around, which could bring it $15 billion in dollars. And in all the discussion of this Russian wheat deal, this seems to be the area to watch. Russian cleverness, is not to be discounted. They do understand the profit system, but only for government not the individual.

the best land in Europe. Although the ownership pattern changed after the Reformation, some churchmen are beginning to wonder if the pendulum is not swinging back the other way in this country. Our prominent clergyman who has expressed his concern about this is Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, the nation's top Presbyterian official. He recently said, with a touch of sarcasm that is not as far fetched as one might think, that 'churches ought to be able, with prudent management, to control the American economy within the predictable future.' This was his way of underlining the extreme distaste he feels—a distaste shared by more than a few other religious leaders—for the trend toward church ownership of property and money-making ventures."

Sometimes the impulse to tell the truth is almost irresistible.

90 Per Cent of Value

While the structural framework represents less than 10 per cent of the cost of a home it accounts for more than 90 percent of the house value.

The quality of the framework determines the security of the dwelling in violent storms and its durability under normal wear and tear.

According to the Southern Pine Association, lumber forms the framework of most homes. The lumber should be properly seasoned and pre-shrunk before being surfaced to final size. This assures lasting nail holding ability.

BABSON FINANCIAL FORECAST

through 1964 in order to keep gold here in this country and uphold the value of the dollar.

16. DEVALUATION OF GOLD. I forecast that there will be no devaluation of gold during 1964. I am personally acquainted with conditions in Africa, and will say that those who wish to speculate in gold mines should consider American-South African Investment Co. Ltd. Readers should remember, however, that gold mining stocks will go down as well as up, in accordance with many different conditions.

17. PROFITS. I forecast that corporate profits will continue to rise in 1964, though possibly at a somewhat slower pace than recently.

18. COPPER PRICES. Commodity prices are dependent on two factors: Demand and supply. Take copper: I believe demand will continue to increase during the electrical era we are now in. And, since my visit to Africa, I feel the supply of copper is almost unlimited. Hence I forecast little change in price on balance in 1964.

19. OTHER BASIC RAW MATERIALS. With some few exceptions, the above applies generally to many of the basic raw materials, including iron and steel, and especially aluminum. The present firming in quotations will not carry much farther and could be subject to set backs later in the year.

20. SUGAR. Sugar prices, however, will hold in a generally high range all through '64.

21. BUILDING - SUBURBIA. I forecast that new building will continue around present levels through 1964, with additional growth in "suburbia." This applies to single homes and to apartment houses, which could easily be overbuilt as the hotels and motels have been.

22. PUBLIC CONSTRUCTION. Otherwise, strength in building will occur mainly in the public sector - especially road-building.

23. REAL ESTATE. I predict that farms on the "right side" of cities will constantly increase in value during 1964. I say "right side" because every city seems to have some one best direction in which to grow. This usually is toward the higher land and often to the west; but this is something subdivision developers must watch very closely.

24. RURAL AREAS. As I have said before, the way to buy real estate profitably is to drive out the main road away from the city in which you live, on the "right" side. Every few miles, stop and inquire the price of the land; so long as it is quoted by the foot, get back in your car and drive it until it is quoted by the acre. Everything else being equal, I forecast that the purchase of this land in 1964 will show you a profit over the long term.

25. FLORIDA PROPERTY. There is still a lot of land in Florida, and there are many retired people who are hoping to move there. I forecast that your best Florida buy in 1964 will be waterfront property. God made only so much waterfront land; but there is an enormous amount of interior land which for many years will be good only for pasturage. Do not buy land—ANYWHERE—until you see it; don't depend on blueprints, catalogs, and super sales organizations.

26. FLORIDA HOME. I believe a small home in a small Florida city, and ownership of the vacant lot on each side thereof, will provide a safe and attractive investment in 1964 for anyone who has a check coming in regularly from the North.

27. ADVERTISING. While TV advertising will continue strong for patent medicines and some other products, I forecast that honest newspaper advertising will hold its own. Newspaper ads can be cut out and kept for reference, which is impossible with radio or TV ads.

28. NEWSPAPERS. I forecast that competing newspapers will continue to consolidate; and there may possibly be a return to the days when newspapers represented the opinions of some one man with courage, influence, and personality rather than the decisions of a "cold" board of directors. Note that this is something television is already trying to develop in its news reports, and newspapers must match it.

29. STRIKES. I believe that 1964 will be free from large strikes. The "big show," of course, will be the negotiations between the auto workers and manufacturers. However, I predict that both sides will arrive at a peaceful settlement before the deadline.

30. WAGES. While labor will not get all the pay increases it wants in 1964, it will get the equivalent in "fringe benefits."

31. EMPLOYMENT. I forecast employment will rise further in 1964, due to a prosperous economy with new and expanding operations. Unemployment will rise, too, because of the influx of young job seekers and displacement of unskilled workers by automation.

32. WORK WEEK. There will be continuing agitation to cut the 40-hour week in 1964 to a 35-hour week with the same pay. I forecast this will not be accomplished. There may be a compromise to 37½ hours, though this will depend largely upon President Johnson.

33. FOREIGN TRADE. Rising automation in the U. S. in 1964 will enable us to compete more effectively with lower per-man-hour labor costs in Europe. Labor costs in Italy are already rising, and inflation is threatening Europe... particularly Italy and France.

34. INFLATION. Like the rest of the world, we will be tempted to resort more and more to inflation; but I forecast this will not be a vital factor in 1964.

35. LIVING COSTS. There will be continued upward pressure on living costs during 1964, even though the Administration may soft-pedal any abnormal rise in the Labor Department's index to prove that costs are being held down.

36. RETAIL SALES. I forecast that 1964 will show an increase in retail sales and in installment purchases.

37. RECREATIONAL EQUIPMENT. I forecast that the great increase in leisure time and the consistent gains in personal income will give manufacturers of recreational equipment a prosperous year in 1964.

38. SYNTHETIC FOODS. I forecast that many new synthetic foods - cheaper than the natural, and just as healthful - will appear in supermarkets in 1964.

39. AUTO PARKING. The auto companies are devoting much study to the parking problem. I forecast real progress toward mechanical parking in 1964.

40. SEAT BELTS. I predict that insurance companies will put added pressure during 1964 on all state government to enact legislation requiring "roll-up" seat belts on all cars.

41. NEW INVENTIONS. I forecast that rapid strides will be made in 1964 in the direction of transferring mass through matter.

42. ELECTRONIC PRODUCTION. I forecast a great increase in electronic manufacturing in 1964... with emphasis on adaptation of space efforts to military applications.

43. AIR CONDITIONING. I predict radical changes in air conditioning in 1964 via the reduction, and after elimination, of moving parts in the heat-withdrawal machinery.

44. ELECTRIC HEATING. I forecast experiments in electric heating in 1964 whereby radio waves will heat only the individuals in the room, but not the air.

45. OCEANOGRAPHY. I forecast great developments in 1964 in mineral recovery, food supplements, new chemical derivatives, etc., obtained through oceanographic research.

46. CUBA. People in Florida have no reason to worry about their nearness to Cuba in 1964. Russia will undoubtedly keep a controlling finger on Cuba until she decides to withdraw in a swap of some kind with the U. S. in connection with Berlin or West Germany.

47. WAR. There will be no World War in 1964, and even the "cold war" pressures should gradually soften and prove less costly. I, however, am watching carefully how President Johnson and Premier Khrushchev get on together.

48. RUSSIA. I predict that the Russian government will vastly increase the manufacture of electrical appliances, and will have a 100%-owned installment company which it will operate without competition. When I was in Russia it was evident from my talk with the young people that they would have to be given more of the advantages enjoyed by the free nations.

49. In this connection I should say that, like the U. S., Russia is very rich in natural resources... and in research. This latter is especially important these days. I was much impressed, during my visit, with the Russian educational system which is developing a very able generation of young people. I forecast, however, that Mr. Khrushchev's real problem will be how long he will be able to hold these young people in line!

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH -- MILLIONS LEAVE THEM THERE

CREATION...

ISN'T IT AMAZING

... Scientists say that there are no two snowflakes alike! How many snowflakes do you suppose there have been since the beginning of time? Billions? It staggers the imagination when one thinks of all the things that God has created from nothing.

Genesis, the first book in the bible means beginning. It tells of many of God's more major creations, and how He created all these things for the benefit of man. Attend church, study God's word and learn more of God's plan for man.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Easy Combination

According to the Southern Home Association, combination kitchen-family rooms are a tonic for the pressures of modern living.

The housewife can supervise her children's play without interrupting her cooking and washing chores. If the kitchen is large enough, a family room can be included through the ample medium of a wood cabinet divider to separate work and recreation areas. One side of the cabinet can house kitchen utensils, the other, TV set and books.

VEAL PIZZAIOLA

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 1 pound veal steak, sliced 1/2 inch thick      | 1 tablespoon sugar (optional)                                 |
| 3 tablespoons olive oil or other shortening    | 2 to 3 teaspoons salt   |
| 3 large cloves garlic                          | 1 1/2 teaspoons oregano                                       |
| 2 cans (1 pound 12 ounces each) whole tomatoes | 1/8 teaspoon pepper   |
| 1/2 cup tomato juice or water                  | 1 1/2 cups Minute Rice  |
|  | 4 slices Mozzarella or process American cheese, cut in strips |

Cut veal into 2-inch squares. Then split each square by slicing almost to edge. Spread slices apart. Pound meat, flattening to 1/4 inch thickness. Heat oil in large skillet. Add veal and sauté quickly until lightly browned on both sides. Remove meat from skillet and keep warm. Reduce heat and sauté garlic cloves in oil until golden brown. Add tomatoes, stirring gently to partially break them up. Add tomato juice and seasonings. Simmer over medium heat about 20 minutes. Then increase heat and bring mixture to a boil. Remove garlic.

Sprinkle rice around edge of skillet. Press rice into liquid. Place veal slices in center of skillet. Cover, remove from heat, and let stand 5 minutes. Place cheese on top of veal. Broil just until cheese is lightly browned and bubbly. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Double Duty

In some modern homes, a wood deck is utilized for both floor and roof systems, in each instance doing double duty.

In the floor system, the deck fulfills the structural role normally performed by sub-flooring and is also the walking surface. In the roof, it provides both structural support and a finished ceiling. Southern Pine is widely used in these dual roles because of its high strength and attractive golden color.

Worker Looks To His Rights

By John C. Satterfield

Past President (1961-1962) of the American Bar Association

It's really the little guy who comes out on the short end of the administration's civil rights bill. Washington observers are beginning to notice a reaction from workers who believe that their job security is in danger. The workingman is worried.

The typical man wants his rights and he wants them for everybody. Yet this bill threatens some startling proposals. The ultimate power of hiring and firing is put into the hands of federal inspectors.

Moreover, under the civil rights bill, the federal inspector has no official interest in how well a man is doing his job, or how long he's been doing it. It doesn't matter whether a man has been trying to mind his own business and get his job done. At the whim of a federal inspector:

He may be fired.
The government will have authority to deny him promotions.
His seniority rights will be jeopardized.

His union contract may be set aside.
And his apprenticeship program may be ignored.

The only thing that matters under the civil rights bill is the past and present hiring practice of his employer. Any kind of discrimination, or any practice which unintentionally has the effect of "discrimination" must be eliminated. In a tight job market, this means that a federal inspector must step in and order job holders to relinquish their positions to those who have been "discriminated against."

The civil rights bill gives broad powers to the federal inspector to enforce his decrees. If an employer pleads for the interests of his present employees, then any federal contracts could be cut off. Thus the employees' grievances could be eliminated by eliminating the employees.

There are other weapons in the civil rights arsenal, as well. Almost every business these days is receiving federal benefits or is dependent on firms that are receiving federal benefits. Any direct assistance, of course, could be cut off. Banks that are part of the federal reserve system — or that have their deposits insured by FDIC — could be required to recall loans and mortgages from firms that don't meet the new federal decrees.

With this tremendous economic pressure, the federal government could require nearly any employer to discharge innocent employees and hire those who are specially designated. And the designation can be made not only on the basis of race, but of religion, too. A man whose race meets the federal regulations may be fired because his religion does not.

In all this, his union is powerless to protect him. If the union cannot supply craftsmen of the designated race and religion, then the government could require the employers to hire non-union men. If necessary, unskilled labor must be hired and trained, while surplus, experienced craftsmen but of the wrong race or religion remain idle.

The union itself could be investigated to see whether its membership practices met federal requirements. Its history and records could be examined, and its officers questioned. If the union doesn't measure up, then it could lose its certification from the National Labor Relations Board.

None of this control squares with the announced purpose of the bill, that is, to protect the rights of all citizens. But the provisions of the bill plainly set up such powers. Legal analysts are not surprised that this is the case, for the government is trying to regulate hiring and firing for reasons that have nothing to do with the job itself.

After the hectic events of recent weeks, the special interest groups are once more pressuring for the civil rights bill.

Nevertheless, many Congressmen are still reluctant to act upon a measure that places so much emphasis on federal control. The outraged reaction of workmen is giving them support for their position, but their final stand will depend on the responses they get in their mail.
