Graham Purcell Seeks Re-election to Congress

GRAHAM PURCELL

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congressman Graham Purcell of the 13th Congressional District of Texas announced today in Washington that he will be a candidate for re-election to his present position.

Purcell, who was first elected to Congress in a special election in January, 1962, was elected to the post in the general election in November, 1962.

A member of the House Committee on Agriculture, Purcell was elected last year to serve as chairman of the Wheat Subcommittee of that group.

"Many problems still face the American people in our modern world," said Purcell, "and I believe the record will show that I am dedicated to facing these problems squarely and finding the best possible solution."

"My record shows strong support for the best possible defense program," Purcell continued. "We must always be ready to face the Communist threat in any locality from a position of strength. I believe I will do this under the firm leadership of President Lyndon Johnson."

"I share President Johnson's belief that our federal government should be operated in the most efficient and economical manner possible. I have given, and will continue to give, my full support to sound moves to create the cost of government to the taxpayers."

"In today's complicated world, there is no substitute for experience. Experience is vitally necessary to effective representation in Congress for any area. It is on the basis of my record, my experience, and my continued desire for public service that I offer myself for re-election."

Mrs. J. D. Riddle has returned home from a weeks visit to Captain and Mrs. Bob Gore and Mr. and Mrs. Rayes in Denver, Colorado.

Attorney General's Office Busy Writing Official Opinions

Attorney General Waggoner Carr today released figures indicating that his office wrote 200 official opinions during the year of 1963. Of this total, 113 were written at the request of state agencies, 68 for county officials, and 19 at the request of the Texas Legislature.

Carr also pointed out that the average elapsed time from the receiving of the opinion request and its release was 22 days as compared to 57 days the preceding year.

The Attorney General is charged by the Constitution and statutes of Texas with the duty of giving legal advice, upon request, to certain State and County officials. Among those so designated are the Governor, heads of state agencies, committees of the Legislature, District and County Attorneys, and County Auditors.

The law prohibits the office from giving legal advice to any other person.

The Vernon Band Parents are sponsoring the Chili Supper which will include chili, crackers, onions, pickles, homemade pie or cake and a drink, all for only 50c. They will start serving at 5:30 p. m. in the High School Cafeteria, which adjoins the gymnasium.

Latest figures show that 8,700 farm persons were killed in accidents last year, and 800,000 suffered disabling injuries.

Local Optimist Attend District Board Meeting

Optimists Ken Blankinship, president, and James Spinks of the Boomtown Optimist Club along with their wives attended a two-day board meeting of Optimist International District 38 in Midland, Texas on January 25th and 26th.

Approximately 350 Optimists of District 38, which includes all of North Texas registered for the meeting. Honored guest at the meeting which was held in Hotel Scharbauer was Robert W. (Bob) Sloan of Manhattan, Kansas. Sloan a director of Optimist International was the organization's official representative at the two-day session.

Sloan, speaking at the Sunday noon luncheon session that concluded the two-day event, said he visualized the role of Optimist International in the same light as his private business. A building contractor, Sloan said he feels organized optimism as a "Bridge Builder" — both for the youths of the United States and Canada, where Optimist Clubs are located, and in other phases of community service.

The Kansan said Optimist International through its individual clubs will be attempting in the future to implement much stronger community service programs and projects, along with a continuation of its traditional work with boys. And he also feels that gains can be achieved in boys work by "more personal contacts."

Dry Earth Gulps Slow, Steady Rain

A million dollar rain began falling in the Burkburnett area Wednesday. Early in the morning it was little more than a heavy mist, but it increased into a steady, soft shower. With the exception of only a few minutes, rain has fallen constantly since it began Wednesday morning.

In total inches, the total to Thursday noon was about one inch. The way it has fallen has been perfect. Dry fields, yards and gardens have soaked up every drop. Some of the wheat was barely through the ground. Since the rain, some of the fields appear to have grown an inch. This good rain should take care of the small grain for quite some time.

So far the rain has not affected many of the stock tanks, which were at their lowest in years. However, if the rain continues there will be enough runoff to help farmers and ranchers considerably.

Bill Carnes Asks Re-election As Assessor and Collector of Taxes

Bill Carnes, Assessor and Collector of Taxes, Wichita County, announced he will be a candidate for re-election in the May 2nd Democratic Primary.

In asking for re-election to a second term in this office, he cites his past record of service as a basis for his qualifications.

Carnes was elected to his first term in 1960. Assisted by a staff of courteous, efficient deputies, he is justly proud of the many accomplishments achieved during this first three years in office.

Bill, 49, is a native of Burkburnett, reared on the farm where his parents, Roy and Ethel Carnes, still reside. A graduate of Burkburnett High School, he attended Draughon's Business College, completed higher accountancy courses thru Southern Methodist University, and a real estate course at Midwestern University. The Carnes reside at 2213 Shepherd, Wichita Falls. His wife is the former Margarette Ralston, a native of Iowa Park. There are three children. Billy, Ronald Carnes of Great Bend, Kansas; Gloria Ruth Beames and Kathy Odell, Wichita Falls. They have four grandchildren. Bill participates in numerous civic, church and fraternal activities.

In 1937, he started working in the County Tax Department, serving 11 years in this office prior to his election. For 13 years, he worked in private industry as office manager and accountant for a large oil field hauling and well servicing company. Thus a well-rounded record of practical experience was gained on "both sides of the fence," developing a real sense of duty for operating the tax office in a professional, efficient and courteous manner, with a sincere desire for fairness and equality to each taxpayer.

In citing his qualifications for re-election to this important office, Carnes said:

"I am very grateful for your support and votes from my home town of Burkburnett in my first campaign. It is my intention to run the same kind of a clean race this time, strictly on my own merits and past records of performance."

"Your many letters, calls and personal assurances of support are very gratifying, and you can be assured of a continued honest and efficient operation of the County Tax Department. I am making an intensive effort to see as many voters before election as possible, however this means has been chosen to present my candidacy and so that everyone can know how deeply appreciative I am for being able to serve you as your present Tax Assessor and Collector. I hope my performance record will merit your vote and influence in the coming Democratic primary election. Thanks!"

What A Voluntary Agreement Has Don

A voluntary agreement signed by six oil producing states 30 years ago has made possible the recovery of billions of barrels of oil and trillions of cubic feet of natural gas that otherwise would have been lost forever.

The American Petroleum Institute is authority for that statement. The agreement is known as the Interstate Compact to Conserve Oil and Gas. It now has 30 oil and gas producing states as members, and three other states with good prospects for petroleum production are associate members. The governors of eight of the member states have been serving as a special committee to study and evaluate existing conservation practices.

In the early days of oil development, the excessive drilling of wells severely reduced natural reservoir pressures leaving large quantities of oil underground. Credit for halting this tragic loss belongs largely to conservation measures worked out by oilmen in cooperation with the Interstate Oil Compact Commission. And the IOCC, over the years, has been the sponsor of extensive studies of various kinds to determine just which production methods would insure maximum and efficient recovery of oil.

It is estimated, amazing as it seems, that except for such conservation practices half of the oil and gas produced in this country during the past 30 years would have remained trapped in the ground. Here is an outstanding example of how voluntary cooperation between the members of an industry, working with the interested and responsible state authorities, has made the most of an invaluable natural resource.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

As everyone knows, the American silver dollar bears the inscription, "In God We Trust." Presumably this legend will remain for some time unless the Supreme Court gets around to deciding that this, too, is too much of a religious manifestation.

And if the Supreme Court ever gets around to this, it would perhaps be well to consider reverting to the inscription that was carried on some of the first dollars minted. Those minted around 1790 carried instead, the inscription, "Mind Your Business." These old coins are now rare museum pieces. Neither is there extant much background why this motto was used.

But it was used during a time when the American people and government shared one burning belief. They realized what they had fought to achieve, and fervently believed if they worked together to promote the best interests of the United States of America, life would be good.

However, the path of the American people was diverted to minding everybody else's business, with the result that more than $100 billion has been dissipated in foreign give aways.

Still to be solved is the loss of the U.S. gold supply. Today, with only $13 1/2 billion in gold left in reserve, of which $12 billion must back the currency, there are dollars in foreign hands which could result in claims on U.S. gold for $20 billions. Like old Mother Hubbard when she went to the cupboard, the cupboard is bare.

Yet in 1955, even after the tremendous financial drain of World War II, and Korea, the U.S. still had 59% of the world's gold supply. Where has this gold gone? Just glancing at the gold reserves of a few nations that have shared in the frantic U.S. foreign give away programs yields an answer.

Between 1955 and 1961 the gold reserves of France jumped approximately 250%, of Germany 400%, of Italy 650%. There is no reliable information on what gold reserves there are in Vietnam, in Cambodia, in Congo, and so on down the long list where American dollars have been poured like sap out of Vermont maples on a warm March day.

Thus, it is an understatement to say that the greatest single problem facing the American Republic today is recapturing an adequate gold reserve.

There has been much made of the fact that the gold outflow rate has been slowed down. The most recent report indicates U.S. is losing gold in millions of dollars instead of billions. There are some attempts made to point to this as an encouraging sign, but this still glosses over the fact that the U.S. is not only steadily losing gold, it is also failing to increase its reserves.

This Pollyanna reasoning is much the same as would occur if a doctor cheerily told his patient "You'll be glad to know you will not die of cancer, instead, you are just slowly bleeding to death."

affairs of states and communities. Just when you think that the limit has been reached, that the bureaucrats could not possibly find any new areas for encroachment, they spring up with a barrage of new regulatory moves."

NEW ORLEANS, LA., INDEPENDENT AMERICAN: "Ten years ago, the U. S. Army revealed that more than 6,000 American servicemen had been murdered, tortured, starved or subjected to other bestial treatment by their Communist captors during the Korean War. How quickly we forget..."

WALTERBORO, S. C., PRESS AND STANDARD: "Continual demands are made for economies and efficiency in governmental operations. But when the government tries to institute economies and efficiency the people complain bitterly, and all the politicians raise continual howls of anguish. As a result the government is damned if it tries to economize, and damned if it does not, so many of the government's financial problems are caused by pork barrel projects, such as unnecessary water projects, dams, roads and the like, which are purely political favors and done for campaign purposes, until these are stopped there can be no true economy."

CORVALLIS, ORE., GAZETTE-TIMES: "We have grown too careless about protecting our birthright. And we lose our freedoms just as easily through internal corruption as through external aggression."

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

THE Central Committee of the Communist Party in Russia is seeking to exercise closer control over the people by the organization of police-functioning brigades in every local community.

These special police are authorized to patrol the streets and places where the public gather. Their function is not only to keep order but they are instructed that "everything is your business."

Some of their powers are cutting the hair of "longhaired citizens," ripping the seams of tight-fitting trousers and removing from concerts or other public gatherings women in décollete attire which is alleged to be an infringement of public morals. Anti-religious activities are also a part of the duties of these people's police brigades.

An Italian Industrialist, Renato Crotte, is conducting a very effective anti-Communist campaign. He sends Italian Communists on all-expense paid trips to the Soviet Union on condition that they make a statement of their impressions upon their return to Italy. Mr. Crotte has sent 39 Italians to various Communist countries and plans to send 100 more next summer. Most of them had their faith in Communism badly shaken and at least one tore up his party card. The local Communist party has forbidden its members to make the trip. Mr. Crotte also publishes a magazine for the purpose of providing a medium for the circulation of the statements of the disillusioned Communists. This is the most effective type of propaganda. If large numbers of American Reds could visit the Communist land and see for themselves the miserable failure of Communism in practice, the Red movement in our country would come to an end.

Appropos of the people who keep harping about production for use rather than for profit is the statement by Mr. Khrushchev in Pravda recently that the prices were being raised on meat, milk, butter and eggs because it had been found that these commodities were selling at a loss. Khrushchev pointed out that the unprofitable operation could not be continued and therefore prices had to be increased. Unprofitable operations cannot be continued for long even in a Socialist society.

SHARPEN SCISSORS

It's no fun trying to cut with a pair of dull scissors. At the first sign that scissors aren't as sharp as they should be, give them a fresh, keen edge. Get a piece of fine sandpaper and cut it several times with your scissors. It sounds too simple to be true, but the sandpaper method does work. It puts an edge on your scissors that makes using them a pleasure.

"The Indispensable Woman"

The Boomtown Chapter of the American Business Women's Association met at the "River Oaks" dining hall for their January meeting. President Mary Helen Littlefield called the meeting to order with Speaker Jay Hensen and six guests and twenty-nine members present. The guests were Betty Moore, president of the Tumbleweed Chapter; Margaret Jase, president of the Wichita Falls Chapter; Cherry Huff, Idella Poteete and Louise Rathke of the Tumbleweed Chapter and Josephine Durham of Burkburnett.

Mr. Hensen spoke on the subject, "The Indispensable Woman." He was introduced by Mrs. Ruth Horsley. Mr. Hensen is from the Technical Training Center at Sheppard Air Force Base.

He based his talk on the Johnson O'Connor report of aptitude tests given in the largest cities of the United States and on the William James Concepts of Success.

He pointed out that in the business world, business women are irreplaceable to industry and the way of life. That economy is based on productivity and the working woman does not take jobs from the working man, but increases jobs for him through her income as added purchasing power.

Women, he says, exceed in the quality of self designated tasks over and above the requirements of the job. That they tend to work at their greatest aptitude thus giving better quality production, and they get with the task and carry through.

The intuitive creative ability of women and their unsurpassed insight are qualities desired for top positions in our nation.

He concluded that women through their ability to harness energy, give forth enthusiasm and produce over and above the expected have made themselves indispensable.

Vocational talks were given by our President, Mary Helen Littlefield of Sheppard Air Force Base and Mildred Counter of Counter Insurance in Burkburnett.

After the usual order of business the meeting was adjourned and will meet in February at the Palace Cafe in Burkburnett.

All leading business women are urged to belong to the Boomtown Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

Disabled Veterans And Dependents Must File Report

More than 60,500 disabled veterans and the dependents of some 43,000 deceased veterans throughout Texas are warned that the final deadline of January 31, 1964, for their annual income report is close at hand.

Glyndon M. Hague, manager of the VA regional office at Waco, says that cards upon which the income report must be made have been mailed to all pension recipients in the area.

These cards should be filled out completely, with care to avoid folding or mutilation, and returned to the VA by January 31. Otherwise the VA by law will be required to cease payment of the pension of those who have failed to report their income.

Pension is paid on a basis of need, Mr. Hague said, and to exceed the established income ceiling results in removal from the rolls. The income report is VA's way of finding who is eligible under the income provision.

Make Checks Payable To Internal Revenue Service

If you owe additional tax when filing your 1963 Federal income tax return, be sure to enclose your check or money order made payable to "Internal Revenue Service."

Send your return and payment in full to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas, not later than April 15th. This word of advice comes from Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of the Dallas District.

Burk Study Club Held Party At Fowler Home

The Burk Burnett Study Club completed its 1963 projects with a Christmas Party for the children of the Fowler Home. The table was covered with a red cloth and decorated with Santa Claus Candles. To complete the motif, Christmas plates, napkins and cups were used to serve the punch, gaily colored muffins, and peppermint candy canes. Each child's name was called to receive a gift and a Christmas Stocking filled with candy and toys. In return the children entertained the hostesses with Christmas Carols.

Mary Martha Class Met With Mrs. Reese

January 9, 1964 the Mary Martha Class met with Dottie Reese.

New Year Books were passed to each member.

The meeting opened by singing the class song, "Love Lifted Me."

Hazel Wagoner led in prayer. Jewel Reed gave a very inspiring devotional take from Matthew 5:1-16.

Helen Turner conducted the business session and it was followed by the Class benediction, Psalms 19:14.

Winn Sims gave an interesting article of New Year's customs in Japan, and showed films.

New Year's resolutions by the members were given.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Winnie Sims, Florence Nichols, Jewel Reed, Helen Turner, Hazel Wagoner, Emma Cook, Lena Bell, Dottie Reese and one service member, Lillie Duke.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

If you haven't read your tax instructions you better go to work. A lot of folks back off from having anything to do with preparing their income tax returns. You may need professional help in preparing your tax return, but your professional tax man can't do the job for you if you don't understand at least a few basic principles. You will do well to carefully study your tax instructions now, instead of at 11:30 p. m. on April 15th.

Paradox

Southern Pine lumber manufacture is the nation's oldest industry, dating back to 1608. It still provides a large share of the nation's structural lumber, and figures to be even more prominent in the future. The U. S. Forest Service believes the South will eventually become the main source of the nation's supply of lumber and wood products.

Cabeza de Vaca crossed the Southwest in 1535 on the way to New Spain.

PRESENTED BY THE TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION ON JAN. 25, 1964
AT TPA'S MID-WINTER CONVENTION IN AUSTIN, TEXAS

VETERANS Questions & Answers

Q—Are "peacetime" veterans entitled to hospital care?

A—Yes, but only if they were discharged for a line-of-duty disability or if they are receiving compensation for a service-connected disability.

Q—My service-connected disability is rated at 30 percent. Can I be entitled to extra compensation because of my dependents?

A—No. Only veterans whose service-connected disabilities are rated at 50 percent or more are entitled to additional compensation for dependents.

Q—As an eligible War Orphan I have educational rights but I wish to continue working, too. May I attend school for less than half-time under the War Orphans Educational program?

A—No. Regulations require that a student must attend school at least half-time to be eligible for the War Orphan program payments.

Q—For years, the VA deducted my monthly insurance premium payments from my disability compensation payments. However, my compensation has been reduced and will not cover the insurance payments. Will the VA now take my compensation and let me mail them the balance due?

A—No, this cannot be done. Since your compensation will no longer cover your insurance premiums, you will have to pay the total insurance premium direct.

Q—I am eligible for educational benefits under the so-called Korean GI Bill. How long have I to take advantage of this benefit?

A—Only a year left. The educational program under the Korean GI Bill comes to a close on January 31, 1965. Veterans with service-connected disabilities take their training under another program.

Q—Do eligible war orphans have deadline by which they must have started on their educational program?

A—No. No deadline except their own age. You may begin school at any time as long as you are between 18 and 23 years of age. In certain circumstances, it is possible to begin before 18 and continue after 23. See any VA office for details.

Toward the end of the Civil War the confederate dollar was worth two cents in gold.

THE HIGH ROAD

L.W. PRENTISS

Winter Driving

The automobile has become so much a part of the life of the typical American family that most of us feel handicapped when the family car is out of commission even for a few hours. When a severe winter storm brings highway travel to a halt, the individual family's frustration is multiplied many thousandfold.

The inconvenience of being snow-bound is bad enough, but the hazards of driving on icy or snow-covered roads are even worse. States, counties and municipalities are meeting the public demand by extending and improving their winter maintenance programs.

The fight against the elements is well worth the cost. In Ohio, for example, researchers calculated that every dollar spent for snow and ice removal in that State—using snow-plows, chemicals and abrasives—returned more than $2 in benefits to highway users in the form of lower operating costs, time savings and the reduction of accidents. There are also extensive indirect benefits to retailers and other businessmen when good winter maintenance makes "business as usual" possible.

Despite all that is being done by States, counties and municipalities to improve the effectiveness of winter maintenance operations, extra caution is still recommended when cold weather strikes, and this is true even in the areas where snowfall is a rarity. Icing conditions can be tricky. For example, water freezes faster on bridge decks because these surfaces are exposed to the air from beneath as well as from above. This means that a bridge may be icy at times when the road at either end is merely wet.

To do your part in avoiding accidents and inconvenience in driving on ice or snow, I suggest that you follow these "ten commandments."

1. Remove ice and snow from windshield and windows before you start, and keep them clear.
2. Start easy. Apply power gradually to avoid spinning the wheels and digging in.
3. Stop easy. Let the engine slow you down. Anticipate stops and avoid quick braking that causes skidding.
4. Drive slowly and avoid braking on curves.
5. Keep plenty of distance between you and the car ahead.
6. Keep your gas tank at least half filled.
7. Invest in snow tires and put them on before the first snow.
8. Avoid chance of carbon monoxide poisoning by checking exhaust pipe and muffler for leaks.
9. If you must use alcohol, use it only in the radiator.
10. If your car has dual transmission, drive in D2.

PLASTIC REPAIRS

This tip works best on plastic decoys, but keep it in mind for other applications. To plug a plastic decoy holed by stray shot, insert a piece of nylon string into the hole. Melt string into the decoy by holding a match against it. When nylon cools, nylon plug will be tough and tight.

'64 Chevy II Nova Sport Coupe

big new V8 power big new self-adjusting brakes

'64 Chevy II Nova Station Wagon

CHEVY II by Chevrolet

You don't need a big car to get big performance. Not any more. You'll quickly see why when you check the '64 Chevy II.

There are two new higher performance optional-at-extra-cost engines for you to pick from. One is Chevrolet's strapping 195-hp Turbo-Fire V8. The other is a new chrome-trimmed 155-hp Turbo-Thrift Six.

If you've got a mountain to climb or a truck to pass, these are the engines that can leave either one safely behind you. In fact, this new Chevy II packs a wallop everywhere but in your wallet.

New brakes match this power, too. Bigger, to dissipate heat faster. Self-adjusting, to save you money. Other easy-care features include Delco-tron generator and a fully aluminum muffler.

Chevy II is smartly styled outside, comfortable inside. There are a lot of models to choose from. A lot of extra-cost accessories to customize it just about any way you'd like. And a whole lot of fun to look forward to. At a very low cost. Test drive Chevy II at your Chevrolet dealer's soon. You'll like it!

Versatile

Wood pole-frame structures are equally well adapted to farm buildings and beach homes.

Wood poles, pressure treated with chemical preservatives, are imbedded in the earth. The structure is then built around the poles, usually with wood framing and items of finish lumber.

Simplicity and ease of application are great advantages in farm buildings, which can be built by farmers with tools ordinarily found around the farm.

With beach homes, the house is built around the upper extremities of the poles. This is a safety factor in the event of violent storms, since tidal waves can pass beneath the house, without striking it directly.

Because of its high strength and ease of treatment, Southern Pine is widely used in this form of construction.

SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT HEARING
Q. Are all deaf persons helped by hearing aids?
A. No. It depends on what part of the hearing apparatus is affected. The hearing mechanism is like a telephone and receiver. The inner ear is the telephone. It is connected with a receiver (the brain) by wires (auditory or hearing nerve). When something happens in the inner ear that makes it less efficient, only loud noises get through to the nerve for relay to the brain. Hearing aids simply increase sound volume to make the sound audible to the partially deaf person. If something happens to the hearing nerve, increasing the loudness of the sound does no good. The first step when hearing begins to fade is to consult your doctor. He can determine whether medicine, surgery or a hearing aid will help.
