YOU VOTE EVERY DAY

How many times did you vote today? That intriguing little question headlines an advertisement by one of the country's major oil companies. And it leads into the fact that, under the American economic system, every consumer votes many times a day.

He does this each time he makes a purchase. In the case of oil, for instance, he is casting his vote when he buys some particular brand of gasoline or when he takes his car to a particular service station for a lube job.

So it goes, with votes cast for every kind, price and quality of consumer wants. And the significance of this kind of voting could hardly be exaggerated. For it is the vote — multiplied hundreds of millions of times every day — that decides which firms shall be successful and which shall fail, what products shall be continued in production and what shall not. The pressure — consumer pressure — on all who produce and sell commodities never ends.

The oil company's statement stresses another big point — that communism and socialism, which claim to be the economic systems of the masses, "... are the least democratic of all." For, within these systems, an authority at the top, with unlimited power, decides what shall be produced, in what amount and at what price. There is little or no need to seek consumer favor — for the subjugated people must take what is offered or do without. Competition, that great bulwark of living standards and opportunity, exists only in a free market. That is something worth keeping in mind while enjoying our daily privilege of voting.

THE GOAL IS INTEGRITY

Business people, with much justification, frequently criticize government regulatory agencies. For regulation can and often does go to destructive and unnecessary extremes.

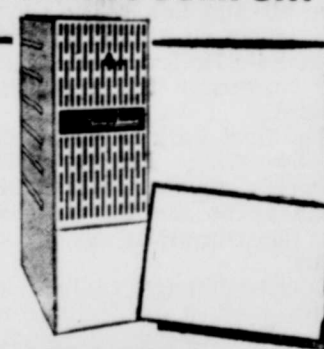

On the other hand, it can be fair, constructive and wise. As an example of this, the President of the New York Stock Exchange recently had warm words to say about the present members of the Securities and Exchange Commission. These commissioners, he said, "... are knowledgeable, reasonable and experienced men." And, he added, "The public and the industry are fortunate to have a Commission of such caliber."

The word "fortunate" is well chosen. For the securities industry has been going through a period of dramatic growth. Well over 17 million people now own corporation stocks and it is confidently expected that even this figure will be vastly exceeded in coming years. It is the job of the SEC to establish rules which will give the investor protection against dishonest and misleading practices and at the same time permit the industry to move ahead and offer the best possible service to the public. That, it seems, is what the SEC is successfully doing.

It can be added that the Exchange itself does an outstanding and voluntary job of investor protection. In some instances, its own rules are stiffer than those of the regulatory bodies. The goal is always the ultimate in integrity.

DEATH NEVER TAKES A HOLIDAY
George Lemon

Wooden Cosses row on row! In the cemeteries of the world lie the millions lost in two great wars of our time.

November 11th, Armistice Day, we honor them. It is fitting and proper that we should.

However more people are killed on our highways than in all the wars. Isn't it time we looked at ourselves and asked why? Peace will come to the world only when people really want it and stop making arms and machines of destruction.

The growing death total on our highways will lower only when people really think and act safely when they drive.

Too often we honor the holiday with an increase of traffic accident and death.

Don't let it spoil your holiday! Drive as if your life depended upon it. It does!

Burk Band Receives Excellent Rating At Midwestern, Nov. 10

Submitted By BHS Journalism Class

The Burkburnett High School Band received an excellent rating in Interscholastic League competition at the Region XIV Marching Contest held at Midwestern University Stadium, Nov. 10th.

The performance by the band was directed on the field by drum major Dwayne Dark. The original band show, planned by the director James C. Wickersham, was one of the most interesting presented by any of the entering groups. It included some of the most modern and intricate steps and maneuvers. Music to accompany the drills, arranged for the band by Mr. Wickersham, included not only traditional marches but also "Granada," "Never on Sunday," and selections from "Music Man." In the bright sunshine of the fall afternoon the orange black and silver uniforms of the marching unit presented an inspiring sight.

Burkburnett twirling soloists Kathy Reasoner, Linda Wood, Candy Logan and Treva Ladd, received superior ratings on their entries in the twirling contest held in connection with the marching contest. A quintet composed of Linda Wood, Marilyn Groenewold, Joy Roberts, Kathy Reasoner and Candy Logan, the band majorettes, received a superior rating in their ensemble entry in the twirling contest.

Make Your Own Draperies

There are over 50 million sewing machines in America today, and most of them are owned by women who consider sewing a creative outlet as well as just plain fun. If you're one of these women, why not try sewing some new draperies or curtains?

The easiest fabrics with which to make draperies are of Fiberglas. They won't shrink, stretch or sag. This makes accurate measuring possible. No allowances are necessary.

Here are a few simple rules for machine-sewing Fiberglas fabrics.

The Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation suggests, first of all, experiment with a sample of the fabric, just to get the feel of it in the machine. Now you're ready to go. Set your machine for a long stitch (approx. 8 stitches an inch), with a loose tension for top and bottom threads. Use a good quality fine cotton mercerized thread, and a sharp needle. With a light pressure, just glide your fabric through the machine.

You'll soon approach the home stretch with your draperies, and, as you do, here's a few more ideas to give your draperies that "finished" look. It's not necessary to cut off the selvage. The selvage on Fiberglas fabrics is finished in the same manner as the body of the fabric.

Because Fiberglas will not stretch or shrink and is highly resistant to fading, there is no need to line your draperies. If you do choose to line your draperies with a fabric other than Fiberglas, hang it on a separate rod as the second fabric may shrink when laundered.

When making your heading, be sure that any fabric stitched to the Fiberglas is pre-shrunk. Weights won't be necessary to the appearance of your draperies, but if you do decide to use them, light weight beading and seam weights are recommended. They can be bought in most trimming or department stores.

When your last stitch is in, you can hang your new curtains or draperies right on your windows—no ironing is necessary.

It's no wonder that, with a machine, a little time, and the right fabric, sewing has become such an adventure for American women.

Circle 1 of WSCS Met In R. H. Henry Home Mon., Nov. 9

Circle One of Methodist WSCS met in the R. H. Henry home Nov. 9th. Mrs. Hugh Jones, circle leader, called the meeting to order. "Work For The Night Is Coming" was the opening song. Opening prayer by Mrs. Melton.

Mrs. Luther Caffee had charge of the program. Mrs. Gage brought a beautiful devotional from the Psalms. She quoted at Thanksgiving, our thoughts normally turn to enumerating our blessings, our health, prosperity, freedom, bountiful harvests and all the other good and useful things which God has given us.

The Psalmist says, "The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger and abounding in steadfast love." No matter what happens to us externally, we are secure in his love and nothing can truly harm us. The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the stronghold of my life of whom shall I be afraid.

Mrs. Caffee spoke on the Four Sources of Spiritual Renewal. First, the chief cornerstone of our faith, our Lord Jesus Christ. Second, the word of God as he speaks through the Bible. Third, the practice of his presence through prayer and worship and fourth, the disciplines of daily living.

We need to let the message which Paul preached and to which Christians through the centuries have witnessed, capture us. Then when it does in its full rich glory we become new, for if any one is in Christ he is a new creature.

Mrs. Blake Browning's subject, "Why?" She asked why we all need to be more than we are? We need strength for the crises that comes upon us. Some times its coming is swift and terrible as in the sudden death of one we love, the shattering of a home when love is no longer there. Then, too, there is the nagging of a guilty conscience when we have let temper or jealousy get the better of us, or have shirked some obligation we know we ought to have assumed.

Mrs. Hall spoke on "We Would See Jesus." So today as always, we need to see Jesus. He is our only answer that is full and complete. Elsewhere in the book of Hebrew the author speaks of "Jesus Christ" the same yesterday and today and for ever, Hebrew 13: 8.

The times have changed greatly since Jesus lived in occupied territory, in a remote out post of the Roman Empire in the first century A. D. Yet mans needs have not changed, or the ministry to them through the love and mercy of God which Jesus came to bring.

Meeting closed with WSCS benediction.

A nice refreshment plate was served by Mrs. Henry to one visitor, Mrs. Hodges and the following members, Mesdames: Lowery, Bruce, Melton, Revier, Caffee, Browning, Hall, Gore, Gage, Jones, Grace, Bunstine and Henry.

Named number one in float competition was the float of the senior class, "Down by the Old Mill Stream," to follow the song title theme of the parade. The sophomores took second place with their float "It's Only A Bird in a Gilded Cage." In close competition were the junior float, "Stardust" and the freshman float, "Winter Wonderland."

The parade consisted of the four floats, cars from the high school organizations, and the high school band. In spite of the rain, many people turned out to watch the parade, whose forty-five units paraded from the Burkburnett-city park down Ave D. and Main street before dismissing its wet but happy participants and viewers.

Mrs. Nora Jordan of Graham visited her father, Mr. O. B. Wofford, here on his birthday, Nov. 2nd.

Scout Merit Badge Counselors Needed

An important part of Boy Scout activities is the merit badge ceremony. This program permits scouts to broaden their knowledge in various fields of interest, ranging from basic electricity to astronomy.

To provide a comprehensive merit badge program which will appeal to all scouts, counselors are needed in the following subject groups: Archery, Astronomy, Architecture, Communications, crafts and collections, conservation, chemistry, weather, personal development, zoology, botany, public service.

Help a scout by sharing your professional knowledge. The guidance you give may help determine his career. For additional information please contact Mr. Tom H. Evans, 569-3662.

WINSTON CHURCHILL AT 90

Of the many richly-merited honors which have come in his lifetime to Sir Winston Churchill, who will mark his 90th birthday on Monday, November 30, reportedly few have gratified him more than his United States Honorary Citizenship — previously conferred only on the Marquis de Lafayette — and the recent founding of a college that bears his name.

In April of last year the late President Kennedy, acting upon a Congressional resolution, declared Sir Winston an honorary citizen because of his massive service to the cause of freedom everywhere. It was, in a way, more significant of broad American feeling than was the honor conferred upon General Lafayette, who had been made an honorary citizen by two Colonial states. When full nationhood was later achieved, Lafayette's status carried over. Another distinctive tribute to Sir Winston was the opening four years ago of Churchill College at Cambridge University, England, with impressive private assistance by Americans, which is continuing. It is rare that a college is named for a public figure during his lifetime, and this is another distinction Churchill shares with Lafayette. A college named for the Revolutionary War hero was founded in Easton, Pa. in 1826, eight years before his death.

Sir Winston, who had led the drive for his college, did not then know it would be named for him. He was aware only of a vital need in England for a school of the stature of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to help "the great English-speaking democracies meet the challenge of the new age of technology." It was also his stated desire to attract "young Americans of outstanding promise to England for study at the most advanced levels, and to enlarge their horizons of international understanding."

Eager to implement that hope, prominent American business leaders and educators created the United States Churchill Foundation. This year it is financing the postgraduate studies at Churchill College of nine outstanding young graduates of American universities. The goal is to send 20 of these Churchill Scholars abroad each year and ultimately give them, in the area of science and technology, the status enjoyed in the humanities by the Rhodes Scholars at Oxford University. The foundation will also provide four annual teaching Fellowships at Churchill College for superior American university teachers and experts from American industry's research staffs.

It is a fitting tribute to a man of greatness, for it will remain alive long after his lifetime.

Trade Marks Convey Identity and Status

FORMS FROM TRAJAN'S COLUMN — The letter forms on New York Life's new trademark (inset) were derived from forms inscribed on the famous Trajan's Column in Rome, erected in A.D. 114. The classic letters were used to help convey the enduring nature of the 119-year-old company.

New York—(HK)—The corporate trademark, a basic symbol aimed at conveying the identity and status of a company, helps sell billions of dollars worth of services and consumer goods annually.

It is a "face" that firms display on their products, advertising, stationery, buildings and vehicles to help them communicate a clear impression of themselves to their public.

Company symbols have varied from animals to initials to abstract designs. Some have remained the same for decades but many organizations have found that trademarks, as well as products, can be improved.

One example is the New York Life Insurance Company, which is now calling itself in print what most people call it in conversation. The company has just adopted a new trademark that says simply "New York Life." The three words are stacked on top of each other in a modified square.

The new trademark replaces an oval with "Nyllic" — a word consisting of the company's initials — in the center. A survey showed that the earlier mark was not generally recognized by the public, which called the company "New York Life" rather than "Nyllic."

The letter forms on the company's new trademark were derived from forms on the famous Trajan's Column in Rome, erected in A.D. 114. The classic letters were used to help convey the enduring nature of the 119-year-old company.

Smoking Patterns May Provide An Index of Emotional Stress

GREEN OASIS IN ATLANTIC

RINGED with pink powdery sand, the island of Eleuthera, Bahamas is a green oasis set into the opalescent Atlantic. It is just fifty minutes by air from Nassau, the popular capital of the Resort Islands of the Bahamas. Of the 700 semi tropical Bahamas islands spread through 90,000 miles of the warm Atlantic waters off the south coast of Florida, Eleuthera is considered one of the most enchanting.

FOREIGN STEEL INVADES U.S.A.

FOREIGN STEEL entered the United States at the rate of 16,626 tons per day during the first six months of 1964 — a good sized shipload every 2 hours, according to American Iron and Steel Institute. The more than 3 million net tons of imports represented a record for a first-half year, exceeding by 28 percent the former high of 2.4 million tons set during the like period of 1963. Exports of steel mill products during the first half of 1964, at 1,447,000 net tons, compared with 996,000 tons during the January-through-June period of 1963. In spite of that improvement in exports, the United States remained a net importer of steel, a position that the nation has occupied in every half year since 1960. The photo shows Japanese steel being unloaded at the dock in New York harbor.

Washington—(HK)—Smoking patterns, or non-smoking, may provide an index by which emotional tensions may be measured in individuals or groups, a New York heart specialist reports.

In a study of 10,000 professional men, Dr. Henry Russek found that occupations involving a high degree of emotional stress also turn up a greater number of coronary heart disease cases. Increased occupational stress was also accompanied by increased smoking.

However, Dr. Russek also found more cases of coronary heart disease among professional men who had never smoked than among those who had once smoked and then stopped.

Dr. Russek's study is summarized in Tobacco and Health Research, published by The Tobacco Institute, Inc., and was published in full in the medical journal, Geriatrics.

Persons studied were classified according to the stressfulness of their professional fields by an independent group of judges. Included were physicians, dentists, attorneys and others.

DOUBT ON THEORY

The scientist said one finding concerning non-smokers and ex-smokers casts doubt on the theory that smoking is causally related to heart disease. Dr. Russek said:

"If a noxious agent exists in tobacco which is responsible in large measure for coronary attacks, the prevalence of the disease should bear a clear relationship to exposure to this harmful element. On the contrary, however, we have found a higher prevalence of coronary heart disease among the professional persons in our series who had never smoked than among those who had once smoked but had discontinued the practice."

Recognition of the role of emotional tension as a factor in heart disease would explain the phenomenon, the doctor points out. The ability to quit smoking may "reflect an unusual capacity for adaptation to stress" which would explain the relatively low heart disease incidence among ex-smokers, Dr. Russek concludes.

Life's Largest

New York—(HK)—New York Life Insurance Company recently paid a death claim of $1,293,800 — the largest on a single life in its 119-year history. The company's previous highest death benefit payment on one life was $1,186,935.

It has in force 75 life policies of more than $1 million including 7 on women. The highest individual life insurance coverage on one person is about $8 million which includes a $7 million policy.

School Spirit Still Alive In Businessmen of Burk Wichita Falls

Submitted By BHS Journalism Class

Businessmen of Burkburnett and Wichita Falls proved school spirit is not limited to the student body of Burkburnett High School when plans for the Homecoming Parade, Nov. 6th were formulated. Donations of money, materials and work areas for the class floats and courtesy cars for parade participants were presented upon request by cooperative business people.

The float of the senior class was sponsored by First Savings and Loan Association, and Texas Electric Service Company. Junior class float sponsors were Clement Insurance Agency, Mathis Chevrolet Company and First National Bank. Sponsors for the sophomore floats were Wolfe Ford Company, Owens and Brumley, and Shamburger Lumber Company. Burkburnett Bank and Corner Drug Store were freshman class float sponsors.

Officers of the National Honor Society, Student Council, each high school class, and other organizational officers and representatives rode in courtesy cars made possible through the generosity of Wolfe Ford Company, Tullis Rambler Ranch and Mathis Chevrolet of Burkburnett and Elie Lam Motor Company, Morgan Dodge and W. O. Waites Ford of Wichita Falls.

In a gun battle in Ranger, Texas, involving three men, each man took one shot and all three were killed.

It's The Law In Texas

STOP FOR SCHOOL BUSES

Thousands of school children are now trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when meeting a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow law in this case can lead to fine up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by yellow lines placed to one side of the center line on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the roadway.

"Doodlebug" was the name given to Hitler's pilotless planes during World War II.

Federated Clubs Annual Banquet Held Thursday Nov. 5th

The annual Federation Banquet was held Nov. 5th at the Town Hall.

The banquet room was beautifully decorated on the Thanksgiving theme. The tables, covered with pink cloths, were centered with fall floral arrangements and candles.

Mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. Bill Cauthorn. Mrs. A. H. Lohofener gave the invocation. Special music was provided by Mrs. Frank Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Bill Vincent.

Mrs. Fred Hunt introduced our speaker for the evening. We climbed on our magic carpets and went on a "Tour of Israel." Mr. and Mrs. Max Kruger gave a very enjoyable program. They showed slides of their trip to Israel.

TRAFFIC FACTS

Given By

BURKBURNETT STUDY CLUB

In 1963, 45,800 male drivers in fatal accidents and 7,100 female drivers.

Don't blame it on the driver's sex, it's carelessness that causes wrecks.

Do not read your road map, mail or newspaper while driving. You'd be surprised how many people do.

Pedestrians who crossed on red, last year, left 510 dead. In Texas last year 18 persons were killed because of defective brakes.

He waited too long — His brakes were bad — The story is short — His family is sad —

Methodist Church Revival To Be Held Nov. 15-22

REV. JOHN BRAND

The Rev. John Brand, pastor of First Methodist Church in Carrollton, Texas, will be the evangelist for a week of Evangelistic Services at First Methodist Church in Burkburnett beginning Sunday, November 15.

Rev. Brand was born in Vienna, Australia, and came to the United States in 1938. After finishing school in Illinois, he attended New York University prior to his induction in the United States Army. After discharge from service, Rev. Brand accepted a job as investigator with the United States Treasury Department Headquarters in Berlin, Germany.

In 1949, Rev. Brand received the LL.B. Degree from Northwestern University School of Law, Chicago, Illinois. Accepting a call to preach, he entered the ministry of the Methodist Church and was graduated from Perkins School of Theology, SMU in 1953 with honors. He served First Methodist church in Whitesboro, Texas for seven years, and is presently in his sixth year as pastor of the First Methodist Church in Carrollton, Texas.

Rev. Carrol Copeland, minister at First Methodist, Burkburnett, announces that services will be held through the week at 10:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance 277 Park Ave., N.Y., N.Y., 10017

Q. I was an orphan and don't know exactly what year I was born. Will this make it difficult for me to get life insurance?

A. If there are no reliable records to establish your actual age, a life insurance company will usually agree to accept your age as indicated by whatever evidence may be available (for example, adoption papers, school records, military service records, and so on).

Q. A brochure from my life insurance company mentions the company's "admitted assets." Does this mean the company has other assets that it won't "admit" owning?

A. "Admitted assets" are those which under state insurance regulations, can be used to back the company's obligations to policyholders. If necessary, these assets could be sold or liquidated without too much difficulty. All assets shown in the company's annual report are "admitted assets." Other, "non-admitted assets," might include the company's furniture and equipment, advances to agents, overdue income from defaulted loans, and so on.

Q. What is the difference between a life insurance underwriter and a life insurance agent?

A. Although in other types of insurance the term "underwriter" may have a somewhat different meaning, the life insurance business uses the terms "underwriter" and "agent" interchangeably. Part of the job of appraising the risk involved in insuring your life is done by the agent through whom you apply for a policy. In this sense, he "underwrites" your application. A life insurance company also has "home office underwriters," who use information supplied by the agent and other sources to determine whether the company can assume the risk of insuring you.

PARENTS' RESPONSIBILITY

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6

Ask anyone what his most precious possession is, and he will almost invariably say, "My children." The desire for the welfare of our children enables us to "move mountains". We will do anything, give them anything, if we think it will help them.

The one most important thing we can do for them, however, is to instill in them a love of God, and a desire to obey him. The church can help you in this endeavor, inspire and strengthen you. We invite you to take your family to church this week. It may make a great difference in the life direction taken by your children.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Deep In The Heart Of Texas Is Theme Of Burk Study Club

The Burk Burnett Study Club met in the Reddy Room, Monday night, Nov. 9th, with Mrs. W. G. Mavberry and Mrs. D. H. Smith as hostesses. The Junior Intellectuals and the Junior Progressive Study Clubs were invited.

Mrs. Glen Bear, presided over the business session during which Mrs. E. D. Potter, Texas Literature Department chairman, spoke to stimulate the members interest in all phases of literature being written in Texas.

Mrs. George McClarty, Federated Counselor, spoke on "Why Federation" It broadens contacts and viewpoints. It offers diversified interests such as civic culture, educational programs, community development and a burning desire for a better world in which to live in.

The club voted to make a donation for the air conditioning and heating system to be installed in the Town Hall.

Mrs. Philip Carpenter attended the Sears Roebuck Foundation Seminar for community improvement in Tucson, Ariz.

Mrs. W. T. Zimmerman spoke to the Rotary Club of Burk Burnett recently. Her subject was "Youth". Our Responsibilities for their education.

In observance of "American Education Week" thirteen Club members attended the open House at the Burk Burnett High School.

Mrs. F. C. Royce led the club in repeating the "American's Creed." She presented Mrs. Philip Carpenter, who brought a pictorial history of Burk Burnett. In 1860 wild cattle could be found roaming the prairies. Mr. D. P. McCracken settled in this locality in 1867. Only a few weeks later, H. C. Askins joined the little Colony, which developed into a tiny village, known as Nesterville.

The name of Burk Burnett came from a man that was master of the ranches of this section, Mr. S. Burke Burnett. As the territory spread in 1880 he became more powerful.

George Darby established the first store at Nesterville, it later housed the post office and Mr. J. G. Hardin became the first postmaster.

The first school was in a dug-out located on the property which is now Janlee Baptist church.

Near the turning of the century, Mr. Frank Kell built a railroad into Oklahoma. The running of the railroad from Wichita Falls to Grandfield, Okla., (then known as Kell) was the incentive for many to come to this section to attend a town lot sale that was held in 1907. Three months later a newspaper was established and was named the "6666 Star", by its young vivacious editor, F. J. Graves.

These courageous pioneers, who faced the many perils and obstacles of a new country, will long be cherished. The heritage left by these pioneers will live forever.

Mrs. M. E. Bean brought an interesting program on "Early Texas Arts and Crafts."

A golden spike, driven at Odgen, Utah in 1860, marked the completion of the first transcontinental railway.

The Cradle of American Liberty is Faneuil Hall, in Boston.

HOW CAN WASHING EVERY DAY BE EASIER THAN ONCE A WEEK?

Women with ELECTRIC DRYERS know!

With an electric dryer right there beside your washer, you'll find that washing and drying clothes as they accumulate each day (or night) if need be, is lots easier than having to struggle through an old-fashioned washday. Flameless electric drying eliminates over-drying clothes hampers . . . does your drying effort easily, while you go on about the other business of running a home. Ends weather-watching, too. Accurate electric drying protects clothes from sun-fading and wind-whipping—makes them softer, fluffier than line drying. Give yourself and the family wash the wonderful advantages of flameless automatic electric drying!

The 1965 Ford rides quieter than a Rolls-Royce!

To the 5 out of 10 people who didn't believe this ad... a sporting proposition

Take a no-obligation test drive in a 1965 Ford. Maybe you just couldn't believe the ad (reprinted above) which appeared in this paper a few weeks ago. After all, many consider Rolls-Royce to be one of the world's finest cars. But Ford does ride quieter. The world's leading acoustical experts (Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc.) made the tests. The U. S. Auto Club certified the results.

This year's Ford has the strongest body ever . . . a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibrations . . . new ultrasoft coil-spring suspensions—all contributing to the new hushed ride. But the ride is only part of what's new.

- New swept-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room.
- Transmission tunnel is lower than in competing cars for extra foot room.
- Trunk has more usable space than ever—holds four 2-suiters standing upright.
- New ultra-luxurious LTD series — unmatched by any other car in Ford's class.
- Silent-Flo ventilation (standard on 4-door hardtops) removes stale air, provides fresh air even with all windows closed.
- Exclusive new twin-edge key—works with either side up.
- Hot, but hushed, 289-cu. in. V-8 is standard equipment in XL and LTD models.

Smooth, thrifty all-new Big Six in other models — the most powerful standard Six offered by any car in Ford's class. ■ V-8 options to 425 hp.

All Ford automatic transmissions have 3 speeds, not 2 as in many competing cars. ■ Fully synchronized manual transmissions — you can even shift down to first without clashing gears.

If all this sounds like a lot for one car to offer . . . take a test drive. See why more people are buying Fords than ever before in post-war history.
