Burk School Board Meets

The Burk Burnett Independent School District Board met at 7:45 p. m. Thursday in a called meeting at the district office.

The board approved conversion of a large walk-in icebox to a freezer unit. The unit, located at Burk Burnett High is large enough to store most of the foods for the schools.

This measure will save the district rental fees at commercial lockers. Bids are being accepted by the board for the conversion. Details are available from the superintendent's office.

The board unanimously approved compliance with the Federal Health, Education and Welfare regulation which would entitle the district to receive funds totaling about $381,003, up from the 308,517 received by the district this year.

The board also reviewed a request of The Burk Burnett Bank to be the depository of the school account, but made no decision on the matter.

Boy Scouts of Burk Burnett Delivered Pamphlets In City About Library Meeting Tonite

Pictured above are members of Scout Troop 155 who distributed pamphlets concerning the proposed library to homes in Burk Burnett Wednesday afternoon. Troop 155 consists of five patrols: Flaming Arrow, Falcon, Raven, Eagle and Panther. Patrol leaders are: Michael Evans, Tai Kreidler, Eddie Gann, Bill McBride, and Kenneth Mahaffey, respectively. Tom Evans is Scoutmaster.

Mr. Neal Kreidler met Wednesday, May 19th with the scouts at the Boy Scout Hut, behind the First Methodist Church. The group was divided into patrols and mothers of the scouts delivered them to different sections of the city to deliver their circulars.

These boys, and other children in our city, are asking your support of this project. Our school age children are in dire need of a public library and must depend upon the adults of this community to see that their needs are satisfied.

Miss Elizabeth Karle, Field Consultant for the Texas State Library, will speak at an open meeting in the Town Hall at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, May 20.

Help us show Miss Karle that the citizens of the Burk Burnett area are for the library 100 percent. This can only be accomplished by your presence.

FEATHERBEDDING RESTRICTED

MADE WORK OR MAKE WORK

When the railroad featherbedding case was settled a year ago by the National Arbitration Board established by Congress, there was a hue and cry from the unions that thousands of men would be thrown out of work.

Let's see what actually happened. When the decision was made, there were 37,235 firemen working in freight and yard service. Today with new hires, there are 22,100. Of the 15,000 firemen removed, virtually of them "landed on their feet." They received $30 million in severance pay and according to the railroad's chief negotiator, J. E. Wolfe of Chicago, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, less than 11 per cent of them are on the unemployment rolls.

Many of the firemen used the money to learn new skills or trades, set up businesses for themselves, or entered other fields "where they are needed." Some left the firemen's ranks as a result of promotion to engineers' jobs. Others offered comparable railway jobs, chose severance pay instead.

All the fears and charges expressed by the union were greatly exaggerated. The record proves that featherbedding, which costs American industry hundreds of millions of dollars annually, should be eliminated wherever it is practiced.

What is most needed is acceptance by labor leaders of the principle that when men are not required as a result of technological progress, the unions must face this fact and adjust to it.

Don't Broadcast Your Residue

Those who are prone to throw litter along the highways should read the following about those who care and do something in their own field to prevent pollution and destruction of natural beauty.

Texaco, Inc., has adopted procedures which will eliminate contamination of oceans resulting from discharge of oil and waste from its tankers, says Vice President James V. C. Malolmoson, in charge of the company's Marine department. The procedure requires the collection of salt water washings from crude oil ballast tanks, separation of the washings by gravitation; and either loading new cargo on top of the crude oil residue or pumping this residue ashore into disposal tanks.

As the land becomes more crowded, each of us has a greater responsibility to practice good litter disposal habits. Residue in cars such as beer cans, bottles, garbage, etc. should be retained and disposed of properly for the sake of health, recreation and good manners.

The American Gas Association in cooperation with Pan American World Airways has released a new film on the New York World's Fair. In color, it views the excitement and fun of the Fair and is available for distribution through local gas companies, gas appliance manufacturers, and liquidified petroleum companies. It is being distributed overseas by Pan Am and the United States Information Agency.

THE AMERICAN WAY

All Wind But No "Sale"

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

ROGER W. BABSON

OPPORTUNITIES FOR JUNE GRADUATES

Young men and women who will soon be pouring out of high schools and colleges to look for employment, whether summer jobs or permanent careers, face promising conditions, — undoubtedly the most promising in the nation's history. Business is moving along on an all time high plateau, and there are more jobs in nearly all fields than ever before.

Unemployment Wrongly Emphasized

Many preparing to graduate — and the parents — are disturbed by the government report that there are still 3.7 million Americans looking for work who can not find it. A breakdown of the government figures, however, reveals that the situation is not nearly so distressing as it appears on the surface. Some 40 percent of those who are reported to be unemployed are in the following non-critical groups: Wives, whose husbands in many cases have steady jobs; teen-age girls, frequently living at home and seeking only part time occupations; and teen age boys, often in a similar living at home setup.

Less than a third of the jobless are husbands with families, and the greater number of these men are victims of temporary work shifts or of short-term layoffs, who get jobless compensation to see them through till they obtain other positions. The heart of the problem concerns only about 135,000 family men, who have been without work for six months or more. Indications are that many of this group live in areas where there are special industrial problems, resulting often from dying lines — like some coal operations — or alteration in government contracts in special fields.

Skilled Workers Actually Scarce

Both male and female graduates this spring should have little trouble finding employment if they are intelligent, adaptable, and trained in at least one special field. The truth of the matter is that there is a far greater scarcity of suitable workers in many lines than is generally recognized. A look at the want ads in newspapers across the country shows that many jobs are going begging in a great many sections. There is heavy unsatisfied demand, for example, for such specialists as scientists, engineers, metal workers, nurses, doctors, lab helpers, salesmen, chemists, designers, stenographers, teachers, social counselors, management consultants, furniture craftsmen, mathematicians, and expert chefs.

Some areas state that they get virtually no replies to their job placement ads, no matter how attractive the wages and the fringe benefits. Still other sections say they are willing to accept even illiterates for simple labor and custodial jobs, but possible recruits usually refuse such work as too menial. Many cities report it extremely difficult to locate kitchen help, dishwashers, handymen, housekeepers, and clerks. Federal, state and community programs to teach job skills are on the increase as a result of shortages of trained employees to take office situations at various levels of government.

Plenty of Jobs For Those Who Want Them

It is safe to say that practically any reasonably accommodative graduate — whether highly skilled or not — will be able to get a job of some sort this summer if he or she really wants one. Those with special degrees from college will probably want to take time enough to try for the position in their chosen fields with the best pay and the brightest chances for advancement. A high degree of education and capability warrants such an approach. Youngsters with a more general background will do well to become associated with some established firm that will offer a variety of possibilities within its framework. This goes, too, for those who are not yet clear what type of career they really prefer.

There will be many openings in different parts of the nation as a result of the government's anti-poverty and aid to education programs. Many June graduates may even find interesting opportunities in their own communities through these programs. It will be worth looking into at any rate.

News From The County Agent

It looks like now that May 20th to 25th will be the time to spray pecans for the pecan nut casebearer, the major pest of pecans. Another thumb rule is to spray when the end of the nuts turn brown. Examine tips of nuts for greenish-white egg. Spray thoroughly when eggs are present.

To control the pecan nut casebearer use one of the following insecticides per 100 gallons of spray: Thiodan, 1 pound; 50 percent wettable powder; DDT, 3 pounds 50 percent wettable powder; Parathion, 2 pounds, 15 percent wettable powder; Malathion, 3 pounds 25 percent wettable powder; Toxaphene, 5 pounds 40 percent wettable powder; and Sevin, 2 pounds 80 percent wettable powder.

Add 2 pounds 75 percent wettable zincb or 1-2 to 1 pound Diodine for scab and other foliage diseases.

The fishing season is here and getting good worms for bait may be a problem. But says County Agent, B. T. Haws any fisherman can solve the bait problem and at the same time cut fishing expenses with a backyard earthworm bed.

The earthworm bed should be located in a cool, shady place. The shade may be provided by trees, shrubs or vines or a permanent shed. The bed can vary in size from a tub two feet in diameter which should produce from 3,000 to 5,000 worms annually to an operation that will produce worms in commercial quantities.

The county agent offers these hints for a successful backyard operation. If a tub or half of an oil drum is used, a two inch hole should be cut in the bottom to provide for proper drainage. A fine copper screen should be placed over the hole and secured with hot coal or tar. Tub beds may be kept in the garage or buried in the ground. But, explained the agent, leave about four inches of the tub above the ground to prevent surface water from flooding the worm bed.

Fill the tub within four to six inches of the top with fine loam containing lots of humus or well decayed organic matter. Stock the bed with 50 to 100 worms of type desired. "Red Wigglers" or English Redworms are preferred by most fishermen. In 60 to 90 days after your seed stock begins to lay eggs, you should have mature worms and plenty of fish bait provided worm bed has been kept moist and the worms fed.

Haws added that he has a leaflet, L-196, entitled "Raising Earthworms for Fish Bait," and will be glad to furnish copies to interested persons.

Feed and ample amounts of quality hay are basic to a good dairy feeding program. Make arrangements now for the hay that your herd will need this fall and winter. Factors which influence hay quality are kind, soil fertility, stage of growth at harvest, freedom from weeds, proper curing, percent of leaves, soft stems and palatability.

Texas farmers and ranchers received $99.6 million during February from the sale of all crops, livestock and livestock products. Cash receipts from all marketing were down 18 percent from a year ago. Livestock and livestock products contributed $75.0 million and crops $23.8 million to the total for February.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Siber of Burkburnett attended the 8th grade graduation exercises for their grandson, John Wood, at the Big Pasture School in Randlett Wednesday night, May 12. John was named co-valedictorian of the class. He and his sister, Deborah both received certificates of award for reading 25 or more library books during the school term. John and Deborah are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Wood of Randlett.

THE HIGH ROAD

L. W. PRENTISS, Executive Vice President
AMERICAN ROAD BUILDERS' ASSOCIATION

Phase Out, Phase In

An estimated 870,000 people are employed by the highway industry in the construction of roads. This includes the people employed in the production and distribution of highway construction materials and equipment. An additional 500,000 persons are employed full time by Federal, State, county and municipal highway agencies to plan, design, supervise and maintain streets and roads.

While the sheer numbers are impressive in themselves, they become even more impressive when it is realized that most of these 1,370,000 people are highly skilled, and that they are working effectively not only because of their specialized training and experience but also because they are backed up by modern equipment. The replacement value of highway construction and maintenance equipment in use today is estimated at more than $6 billion.

Much of this skilled force of men and machines has been brought together since the start of the Interstate highway program in 1956. As had been predicted in studies made at the time by the American Road Builders' Association, the Interstate program had to build up gradually to its present level. The mobilization of the work force and the preliminary steps leading to actual construction all took time. On the average, it takes about two years to plan and design a major highway project, hold public hearings and acquire right-of-way.

No informed person believes that the completion of the Interstate System will completely satisfy our highway needs. There will be new highway programs and, like the Interstate, the new programs will require months and years of pre-construction preparation.

The Interstate System is scheduled for completion by October 1, 1972. But some of the preliminary activities, such as detailed location studies, are being phased out already. As the early stages of the Interstate program are phased out, the engineering employees who have been involved in them should be shifted to work on early stages of the new highway programs.

Unless this is done, a time will come when it will be necessary to demobilize a large part of the highway construction work force because there will be no work ready for these people to do. Getting geared up again will be expensive and time-consuming.

This is the reason that the State highway departments and the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads are moving ahead now to study our Nation's highway needs and shape up the Federal-aid highway program of the future.

Their object is to provide for a smooth transition and thus avoid the serious disruption of highway department and highway contractor organizations, accompanied by drastic reduction in employment, that would result if advance planning were neglected.

High School Student Council Presents Gift To Mr. Roy Silkwood

The Burkburnett High School student council presented Mr. Roy Silkwood a suit in an assembly held recently in the high school cafeteria. The presentation was made by Jerry Bingham, student council president.

The gift, a surprise to Mr. Silkwood, was given to him as a token not only of his sponsorship of the high school student council but also for his interest and support of student council work throughout the district.

Mr. Silkwood has been sponsor of the high school student council for ten and one half years. He was elected as a district student council sponsor for two-two year terms.

School will soon be out and will be the signal for many vacations to begin. Parents are urged to be alert for their youngsters who are popping out in all directions. They will be darting from behind parked cars, trees, shrubs. Watch for cars coasting down sloping driveways and streets. Many will be looking for a place to swim and others will be running aimlessly.

This means that parents must be constantly on the alert at all times during the summer months for children coming out from unexpected places. Remember, children are unpredictable. The Sergeant adds, "Let every child be a warning sign."

IT'S BEEN A LONG YEAR

Just a little longer... and homework, and exams will be over and then VACATION TIME. It is so good to have something to look forward to... swimming, fishing, ball, all of those wonderful activities.

Yes, it is good to have something to look forward to. I look forward each week to an opportunity to worship with others in the House of the Lord. I look forward to the hymns of praise, to the time of Bible study, and to the message brought by God's servant. Why don't you join me this week at church and participate in these joyful moments.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

COMBINATION FALLOUT and tornado shelter built into the "cafeteria" (left) of the new Lincoln Elementary School at Alva, Okla., is part of the town's response to its perilous position in the center of the Nation's tornado belt and near major military bases. The $201,000 school is built into a slope so that the first-floor cafeteria is underground on one side and windowless on all sides. The room could serve as a shelter for 256 persons, with a 17-inch slab of concrete and masonry walls reducing radiation to a hundredth of that outside. School Superintendent Earl L. Geis says: "Parents of children in this school feel a sense of security, for these children are sheltered in case of storm or fallout disaster better than can be provided at home." It is one of 34 buildings of various kinds across the Nation described in "New Buildings With Fallout Protection" (TR-27), a Defense Department booklet. Single copies are available free from the U.S. Army AG Publications Center, Civil Defense Branch, 2800 Eastern Blvd., Baltimore, Md. 21220.

FALLOUT SHELTER BUILT-IN EASILY

A new booklet just issued by the Defense Department's Office of Civil Defense (OCD) describes and illustrates 34 new buildings across the Nation in which "slanting" techniques were used to build-in fallout protection at little or no added cost and without affecting the buildings' looks or efficiency. The publication, entitled "New Buildings With Fallout Protection" (TR-27), also dispels the notion that a fallout shelter has to be single-purpose, underground and unattractive. It points out that all buildings across the Nation provide some degree of radiation shielding, and many of these contain shelter space in above-ground areas. Many other buildings have weak points in shielding which could have been avoided had knowledge of fallout and protection against it been known at the time of design. Many of the "slanting" techniques of fallout protective design were theoretically proved feasible in two nationwide design competitions, sponsored by OCD in cooperation with architects' and engineers' societies. The theories were put into practice in the 34 buildings cited by the OCD booklet.

Following are some examples of "slanting" techniques:

- Reducing or eliminating windows or placing them high up in a room to cut down direct exposure of occupants to outside radiation, which moves in straight lines.
- Filling hollow walls with a radiation-shielding material such as sand.
- Locating baffle walls in front of outside entrances, and placing inner partitions so that shelter areas would not be exposed to outside radiation.
- Arranging rooms to provide a fallout-protected inner core area.

CD Booklet Available

Single copies of a new Defense Department publication, "New Buildings With Fallout Protection" (TR-27), showing 34 new buildings with built-in fallout shelter, are available without charge by writing to U.S. Army AG Publications Center, Civil Defense Branch, 2800 Eastern Blvd., Baltimore, Md. 21220.

ICT Students To Honor Their Employers Friday

Industrial Cooperative Training students of the Burk Burnett High School will hold an "Employer Appreciation Night, Friday, May 21st at 8:00 p. m. at the Community Room of the Burk Burnett Bank.

Danny Parrack, President of the Vocational Industrial Club will preside at the meeting, which will be highlighted by the presentation of "Certificates of Appreciation" to each employer. Program chairman is Kathy Pierce. Promotion and attendance committee chairman is Betty Wood.

Nineteen students have completed the course which was added to the High School curriculum this school year. Students carry on a regular schedule of classes for one half of each day including one class period in related study, and spend the other half day "on-the-job" in various businesses and trades in the community.

Students were employed this school year in television repair, meat cutting, dental assisting, medical assisting, auto mechanics, Aviation mechanics, auto parts, auto body repair, plumbing, carpentry, painting and electrical wiring.

It is hoped that additional "training stations" can be found so that the class can be expanded for the 1965-66 school year, enabling more junior and senior students to prepare for their vocational choice upon graduation. Any businessman interested in the program is urged to contact Mr. Don Davis, ICT Coordinator, at the Burk Burnett High School.

Light refreshments will be served. Donor's wives are invited.

Big Pasture Riding Club

The Blanche Groves Circle Met In Tisdale Home Wed., May 12

Mrs. Helen Tisdale was hostess to the Blanche Groves Circle of the First Baptist Church, Wednesday, May 12th. Mae Welborn brought a message of stewardship, stating that much of stewardship is our time. If we love life, we should not use it in the wrong way. We should not put off until tomorrow what we can do today. After these wonderful thoughts, she closed with prayer.

The program "A Delivered People Tested and Trained" was presented by Mrs. Frank Parrish, Mae Welborn and Frances England. The scriptures used in this lesson are found in Exodus 14:1 through 20:26. We learned that these people who were delivered from bondage, like new converts, need to be trained and disciplined. This sometimes is a most difficult task, but can be accomplished through complete faith in God. Our God is an all powerful God and through Him, nothing is impossible.

Plans were made for the next

meeting which will be in the home of Mrs. Gail Butts. Lovely refreshments were served to Mesdames: Sue Vaughn, Marie Hinkle, Margaret Parish, Mae Welborn, Frances England, Mae Van Deren, Gail Butts, Frank Parrish and Mrs. R. P. Thaxton.

DEVOL NEWS

Mrs. C. O. Woodley, Reporter

The Devol Demonstration club met Thursday with Mrs. E. N. Miracle in her home. As this was a social meeting, the time was spent in visiting and giving reports on yards and gardens. As this has been a good spring for flowers, most everyone has had beautiful yards. Roses are especially lovely this year.

A delicious refreshment plate was served to one visitor, Bessie Woodall of Grandfield and Mesdames Willie Cozby, Dollie Hardin, Ethel McCasland, Pearl Cates, Clara Mae Woodley, Lorraine Weaver, Nevada Turner and Beulah Miracle.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnie McGill and children have returned home from a visit with relatives in Wadley, Ala.

Mrs. M. T. Crocker underwent major surgery in the Wichita Falls General Hospital Friday, May 14th and is reported doing nicely.

Mrs. Dorothy Turner and Mrs. Ruby Doty accompanied the eighth grade class to Lawton Friday on a class picnic.

Mrs. J. B. Stevens, who was injured recently in a car accident, has been moved to her home from the Bethania hospital and is reported doing real well at this time.

Word was received here Saturday of the death of Mrs. Otto Rubottom of Hobart. Rubottoms were residents of Devol for many years before moving to Hobart a few years ago. Burial will be in the Hobart cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Harms attended funeral services in Sulphur Bluff, Texas, for Mrs. Harms brother, Mr. Travis Parsley, who died Sunday, May 9th of a heart attack.

Shower Honoring Kathryn Cunningham In McClarty Home

The George McClarty home was the scene of a bridge luncheon and kitchen shower, Saturday afternoon, honoring Miss Kathryn Cunningham, bride-elect of Jerry Van Loh.

Mrs. L. W. Teel, Jr., assisted her mother, Mrs. McClarty, who was hostess. When the guests arrived they were served from a punch table which was beautifully appointed with a yellow and white flower arrangement on a candelabra with net rice bags tied with yellow and white ribbons.

A basket of daisies containing a yellow rolling pin was used in the decoration of the buffet table, as were the centerpiece for the bridge tables, using miniature rolling pins and kitchen wares.

Honored guests were Miss Cunningham, her mother, Mrs. Joe Cunningham, Mrs. Harold Van Loh and Mrs. J. H. Brumley. Other guests were Mesdames: Jim Frye, Howard Henderson, Rudolph Robinson, C. W. Gilbert, Harold Preston, Philip Carpenter, F. T. Felty, Glen Bear, Alvin Hill, Jack Mathis, C. E. Lundberg and Mrs. L. W. Teel, Jr., all of Burkburnett and Mesdames F. A. Jamieson, Alton Toombs, and Dick Rancier of Wichita Falls, Grady Fuqua of Grandfield, Okla. and the hostess, Mrs. McClarty.

CARD OF THANKS

May I take this opportunity to thank my many friends for the beautiful flowers, many cards, phone calls and visits during my stay in the hospital and since my return home. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered.
