Attend Firemen's Banquet Friday Night, 7:30

The oftentimes forgotten men will be remembered here Friday night, Oct. 7.

We are referring to the volunteer firemen who go to a fire call, day or night to save lives and property. These men, dedicated to their task, work without pay, and most times without recognition or a little thank you.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce invite citizens from all over the city to come out and attend this appreciation banquet for the Firemen. It can be a mighty nice way of saying thank you to these devoted men.

Local Firemen To Sponsor Fire Prevention Show Monday Night In Observance Of National Week

This next week, October 9th through 15th, is National Fire Prevention Week, so proclaimed by President Lyndon E. Johnson.

It is the duty of every individual to practice fire prevention, to study and learn more about fire prevention to enable them to help curb the needless loss of life and property.

To better acquaint the public with some good information designed to help accomplish this end, the Burkburnett Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring a big free Fire Prevention Show and demonstration of home hazards with the use of visual aids this Monday, Oct. 10, at 7 p.m. The public is cordially invited to this show which is in accordance with Fire Prevention Week.

The show will be held in the Town Hall located by the Fire Station and water tower. We hope the show will emphasize Fire Prevention Week and refresh your memory on ways you can protect your property from the ravages of fire and more important, how to save the life of a loved one.

At 7 p.m. the musical part of the program will start and will feature some local talent, playing continuously while the auditorium is being filled.

At 7:30 p.m. a Fire Prevention Speaker will talk to the gathering and will hit close to home on the tragedy of carelessness. The speaker has worked in fire prevention work on several stateside bases and overseas.

95th Anniversary Of Chicago Fire

This week, October 9 through 15 is the 95th Anniversary of the great Chicago fire. On a warm Sunday evening of October 1871, a brief lapse in carelessness sparked a fire at a modest mid-west home. It didn't seem particularly threatening or uncontrollable. But it was. Thirty hours later, 2,100 acres of Chicago were a blackened, smoldering waste. More than 200 of its citizens had perished; 100,000 were homeless, and 17,500 buildings were in ruins.

Direct losses were $168,000,000, the indirect losses incalculable.

To mark the great Chicago conflagration, Fire Prevention Week is observed annually during the week containing October 9, its anniversary date. A reminder of the needless tragedy and waste of fire, the observance originated in 1911 as Fire Prevention Day at the suggestion of the Fire Marshalls

Bulldogs Invade Coyote Stadium For Dogfight With Hirschi Huskies

The Burkburnett Bulldogs invade Wichita Falls' Coyote Stadium Saturday night, for an old fashioned dogfight with the Hirschi Huskies at 7:30 p.m. opening their 4-AAA campaign.

Both teams are better than their records indicate, both having played tough opposition. The Huskies are 0-3-1, losing to Rider, Iowa Park and the Coyotes, and tying Eisenhower. Their offense has been lacking in scoring punch. The Huskies have scored but two touchdowns, only one of them by the offense. The other was scored on a fumble return against Iowa Park. Their defense has been magnificent, allowing only 40 points in four games, 6 to Rider, 6 to Ike, 14 to Iowa Park, and 14 to the Coyotes.

One reason the Huskies haven't been generating a lot of offense could be because their quarterback Tony Wilson has been ailing, off and on, all season. Reports have it that he will be in top shape for this contest, and will be throwing a lot. He threw 30 times against the Coyotes and completed 18.

His main receivers are ends Ronnie Frazier and Steve Walker, and speedy wingback Phillip Esquibel. End Wally Grider is also capable of coming off the bench and catching a few. The Huskies have a fullback with good potential in the form of Robert McPhail, who, although not a big boy, 157, manages good power. Halfback Billy Brown can be expected to come up with some big plays also. The offensive line is anchored by 231-pound Clifton Smith, who, along with 251-pound Chester Varnell, is a mainstay on the Huskies proud defensive line.

Coach Jess Stiles thrives on defense, but doesn't sell the Bulldogs short, especially in the passing department. Quarterback Tony Hodges completed 14 of 32 passes Friday night, for 150 yards, while directing two touchdown drives. Most of his passing yardage was in the last half, in fact most was in the fourth quarter. John Edwards was his number one receiver, catching five for 55 yards. Bill Roe, Dale Hoffman, and Steve Cozby round out the receiving corps, with an occasional hand from Jim Caddell.

The running game left a bit to be desired, but again will rely on Rusty Todd, Hoffman, Roe and Charles Hicks for its punch. Roe was the leading gainer for the night against the Hawks.

Comparatively speaking, the Bulldogs have racked up 74 points while allowing 76 Hirschi has but 13 against 40 for the opposition. So what it boils down to is Bulldog offense against Husky defense. Which is better?

On defense, the Bulldogs have been led by Larry Johnson, Jim Caddell, Jerry Harsh, Bill Zimmerman, Steve Cozby, Bill Roe and Rod Turner, game in and game out.

Saturday night is important. Both teams need the win for a good district start. If the Bulldog offense can muster as much score as it has thus far, and the defense does a good job, the Bulldogs should win. Anyway, we call it a Bulldog victory, 14-8.

A TYPICAL AMERICAN

As a service to politicians, poll takers and market researchers, we submit herewith a profile of a typical American.

A typical American is a guy who has driven home from his job in a Fiat, has a cocktail of British gin and Italian vermouth before dinner, a couple of Norwegian sardines on crackers with the drink, and then sits down to a dinner of imported Polish ham, with German beer as a beverage, drunk from English glassware. The table is Swedish made, the china is from Japan and the silverware from Germany. He departs the table to living room decorated with Japanese prints, fills his pipe with Turkish tobacco, flips on a German made hi-fi set and props his feet upon a footstool made of a camel seat from Egypt.

Wearing of the paper he switches off the German made hi-fi and switches on the Japanese made TV to watch a Spanish film. During the commercial (about a Swedish manufactured car) he pours himself a snifter of French brandy and changes from his English street shoes to some shuffle-slippers made in Hong Kong.

He pauses on the way to inspect a Belgian book or art prints his wife has just received through an Italian book club, and is pleased to find his favorite Mexican made pipe where he had left it in the pocket of his English robe. He hadn't worn the robe since he spilled the Colombian coffee on the sleeve two weeks ago.

Bored by the Spanish film he talks briefly with his wife about taking a winter vacation this year, in the Bahamas, going and coming aboard that wonderful Scandinavian cruise ship, checks his Swiss made watch and finds its time for the 10 o'clock news. He turns on a German made radio and hears that the cost of living has gone up again and that DeGaulle has presented a few million more dollars for gold.

Irritated, he pulls some Irish linen paper from the Hungarian antique desk, grabs a Japanese made pen and dashes off a letter to his Congressman in Washington beefing about the amount of American gold being shipped abroad.

SPEAK WITH CONVICTION

If news reports can be taken at face value, government and industry have enjoyed a relationship during the past year or so that has been widely publicized as a friendly partnership. Businessmen generally appear to have had a warm welcome in Washington, but now a different story may be developing.

A late issue of U. S. News and World Report contains a feature story which raises the question whether the end of the government's "honeymoon" with business is in sight. It quotes from interviews with a number of leading business and industrial leaders and as might be expected there is rising disillusion and concern with government relating to taxation, inflation and the war in Viet Nam. In the words of U. S. News and World Report, "It found widely different opinions, and a desire often not to be quoted if opinions were critical."

About the only comment that can be made is that if big government, which is now spending for goods and services at the rate of $74 billion a year, has reached the point where its influence is so vast that businessmen do not wish to be quoted on important matter of public policy, the future of freedom under representative government is indeed bleak.

The answer to the problem may be found in the words of an economist quoted by U. S. News and World Report: "The partnership theme has been overworked. In the future, industry will not fight government as much as it will try to outdo it and compete in solution of economic problems. The emphasis will be not just on profits, but also on public service. This, really, is contemporary capitalism."

Whether we have contemporary capitalism or old-fashioned capitalism, there will always be a need for leaders of business to speak with conviction on important issues.

A cartoon by Ed Valtman, in the Hartford Times, larger fish called "Prices" and the two being swallowed by a giant fish called "Inflation." The giant fish "Inflation," should have been shown swimming in a big pool of deficit spending — it thrives in such water.

"As I grow older, I understand life less and less, and love it more and more." — Jacques Renard.

Thank Heaven for Little Girls!

Maurice Chevalier will long remember his recent journey to Southern California, where he visited his friend and longtime admirer Allen Parkinson, founder-director of the Hollywood Wax Museum in Buena Park. Trained from the airport in Hollywood's gold Buick Royale, Chevalier toured the world's largest wax museum, where many of his famous co-stars are "brought to life" in scenes from their most memorable movies.

In that part California tourist attraction, Chevalier visited the site of Gloria Swanson at a scene from "Butter Butter" and Harold Lloyd, imitating Marion Morrie, Charlie Chaplin, Gary Cooper and Grace Kelly in "High Noon", exciting Clark Gable in "Gone with the Wind", Greta Garbo, and a multitude of great personalities in authentic and colorful sets.

Parkinson, a man who does things with a flair, arranged for Chevalier to meet 48 girls all named "Louise" in honor of his greatest hit. Then, on Chevalier's own set, a scene from the 1934 movie "The Merry Widow" an attendant pushed a button, and the wax figure of Maurice Chevalier began to sing the song "Louise" with which he has been identified for so many years.

A nostalgic and tearful Chevalier told Parkinson proudly: "It has been a great life and I shall never retire. When I become too old to perform on stage and in the cinema, I shall have a television show from my home near Paris." To Allen Parkinson and thousands of admirers that day seems a long way off, for the gallant Frenchman has lost none of his charm and personal magnetism.

Marlin Longer, Wider, Lower for 1967

American Motors' 1967 Marlin fastback is longer, wider and lower than its 1966 counterpart, yet retains its distinctive full-fastback styling and semi-elliptical side window openings. The wheelbase has been increased from 112 to 118 inches, permitting an increase of about six and one-half inches in over-all length of the Marlin. Most of the added inches are in front with the longer hood helping to accentuate the fastback styling. In addition, the new Marlin is four inches wider to provide an important increase in shoulder room and in door thickness.

Hardin HD Club Meets Recently In Mahaffey Home

Sept. 28 was the meeting date for the Hardin Home Demonstration Club. Ten members met at the home of Mrs. Roy Mahaffey, 605 N. Ave. C and answered the roll call by telling ways they had improved their storage.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Roderick, President. Mrs. Sallie Hewell led in prayer and Mrs. Lila Jacobs read an interesting poem about "Today." It reminded us that we do not have "yesterday" or "tomorrow," but just "today." So all of us can meet the trials of life by taking care of just "Today."

The minutes of the last meeting were read and corrected.

Carol Roderick reported having a nice trip and good lessons Sept. 20-22 at Corpus Christi State meet.

The secretary read a letter of acceptance from the Enterprise Club of Electra to our proposed entertainment for Oct. 19, 1966, here at the National Room.

Our program was led by Mrs. Lila Jacobs on the subject of "Good Posture for Back Troubles." She brought out the idea that just a few minutes daily with the proper exercises will improve many of our back troubles. We tried out some of her suggestions in exercises that have been found helpful in this.

Carol Roderick tested our personalities and tendencies by having each one draw a tree. Then by using her "key" pictures, she revealed some interesting fact or fancy about each one.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Hageman, 509 E. 4th with Carol Roderick as hostess. Miss Wirges will be present at that time to give a lesson on Fashion, Color and Fabrics.

Meeting was adjourned and refreshments of jello salad, bacon thins, and punch were served to those present.

Johnnie Hageman received the prize for correctly guessing the contents of a surprise box.

There was a time, long ago, when it took real lung-power to make yourself heard on the telephone. And you had to listen closely to make out what the other party said. The problem was transmission—getting your voice from here to there. Today, it's easy to hear and be heard. In fact, tots and telephones get along fine, whether it's a

PAUL REVERE RIDES AND OUR FREEDOM FOLLOWS

On the evening of Apr. 18, 1775, America was still part of the British Empire. However, in Boston that night, things began to happen that were to change the destiny of America—and the world—forevermore.

First, there were rumors that British troops were going to nearby Concord and Lexington to destroy American arms and to capture two men who had been advocating American independence, Sam Adams and John Hancock.

But William Dawes and Paul Revere went to spread the alarm. We remember Revere today, and not Dawes, because of Longfellow's famous poem: "Listen my children and you shall hear, of the midnight ride of Paul Revere."

By dawn the British came. The Americans were ready. A new era in world history had begun. The Revolutionary War started and America was on its way to becoming an independent country.

Sheppard Commander Promoted To Temporary Rank Of Major General

Sheppard AFB — Brig. Gen. Edward H. Nigro, commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, was notified this week of his promotion to the temporary grade of major general. The notification from Headquarters United States Air Force stated that the effective promotion date is October 1.

The Sheppard commander received his temporary appointment to the grade of brigadier general July 2, 1964, while serving as commander of 3510th Flying Training Wing, Randolph AFB, Texas. He then was assigned as chief of staff at Headquarters Air Training Command at Randolph.

General Nigro came to Sheppard as commander July 31, 1965 from the position at ATC.

A native of Worcester, Mass., General Nigro was graduated from North High School at Worcester in 1936, and from Holy Cross College in June 1940. He began his military career in 1940 shortly after graduation from Holy Cross.

On entering military service he attended flying schools at Glenview, Ill., Gunter and Maxwell Fields, Ala., and received his commission and pilot's wings in May, 1941.

General Nigro has served in many capacities including pilot, operations officer, personnel officer, group and wing commander, faculty member at the joint service college, Joint Chiefs of Staff, United States Air Force, and unified command staff plans officer, and chief of staff for a major air command.

He saw combat during 1942-43 as a pilot in England, Africa and Sicily. He participated in the invasions of Africa, Sicily and Italy, and as a pilot participated in the longest non-stop flight for a paratroop assault in World War II from England to Africa, Nov. 6, 1942.

Among his other combat assignments were Deputy Chief of Operations, Far East Air Force Headquarters, Tokyo, in 1950, and as Commander of the 1st Provisional Group in Kimpo, Korea, and the 437th and 374th Troop Carrier Groups in Japan from 1950 to 1952. He led paratroops and flew night reconnaissance missions in Korea.

General Nigro graduated in 1953 from the Armed Forces Staff College in Norfolk, Va., and later served as a faculty member until July, 1955.

Between July, 1955 and August, 1959, General Nigro served at the Pentagon as Assistant Chief of Staff of the War Plans Division and a member of the Chairman's Staff Group under the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. In June, 1960, he was graduated from the National War College, Washington, D. C. From July 1960 to July, 1963, the general was Chief of the Plans and Policy Branch for Admiral H. D. Felt, the Commander in Chief, Pacific (CINCPAC) at Camp H. M. Smith in Hawaii.

He then went to Randolph AFB, Tex., where he served as commander of the 3510th Flying Training Wing from August, 1963 to July 1964.

General Nigro is married to the former Miss Ann Marie Maiorano of Worcester, Mass. They have four sons. The oldest one is Lt. Edward M. Nigro who is assigned to Dover AFB, Del.; the next one is Cadet Arthur J. Nigro, who is a student at the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.; and the two younger ones, Ted and Jeff are students at Notre Dame School in Wichita Falls. Ted is in the eighth grade, and Jeff in the fifth.

Among General Nigro's decorations and awards are the Legion of Merit with two Oak Leaf Clusters, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star, the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, and the Joint Service Commendation Medal.

Dad's steady influence is needed for . . .

LIFE'S OBSTACLES

We can easily see physical obstacles such as logs, boulders, and many other things that may be too difficult for our children to handle, but things that are not physical are not always so obvious. A young child needs help from his parents in spiritual matters too. The church can be an influence on children's lives, but when you, a parent, are taking part in church worship, you can be an even greater influence. Give your children, the leaders of the future, a hand now when they need it most. Take them to church regularly . . . and you too, will have a fuller and better life.

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Witnesses In Area Plan To Attend Meet At Lubbock

Jehovah's Witnesses of Wichita Falls and vicinity are cancelling all local meetings, October 7-9, for a circuit meeting in Lubbock, Fair Park Coliseum.

"Become Spiritual Men with Everlasting Life in View" is the theme to be discussed for 16 congregations from Wichita Falls to Muleshoe and from Altus, Okla. to Haskell, Tex.

"The object of the meet," Harold P. Bruce, presiding minister of the Wichita Falls Congregation, said, "is twofold, to build one another up spiritually and to share the spiritual information with our fellow man."

The three-day program calls for talks, discussions, illustrations and demonstrations from the platform to emphasize the importance of becoming spiritual men. "With Everlasting Life in View," the Witnesses have scheduled time to call on the people of Lubbock and vicinity in the house-to-house ministry.

District supervisor and chairman of the assembly, A. A. Catanzaro will give the focal talk of the assembly, "Satisfying Mankind's Greatest Need," 3 p.m., Sunday.

Erwin A. Grover, who visits the congregations in Texas Circuit 9 three times a year, will give his final talk, 5 p.m., Sunday, "Keep Your Balance With Many Responsibilities."

NOW CARS

The NOW Cars. More than just "new" cars. The NOW Cars are designed from scratch for today's driving by today's drivers. They are cars on top of today, from a company on top of today: The 1967 American Motors. 1967 is the year we've been planning for, pointing toward. The year we bring you cars full of today's spirit, bursting with today's ideas. Cars with more room, more power, more safety; cars more exciting than any we've ever built! The Now Cars.

Engines for Now. Three sixes that go like eights—and four V-8s that weren't here a year ago. The most modern engines in the industry, from an acceleration champ Six to the 343 cu. in. 4-bbl. Typhoon V-8.

Innovations for Now. Convertibles that are true six-seaters. Wink lights visible from the side and rally lights that herald your approach. A road-smoothing

4-link rear suspension—the first time ever with a single-unit body—to tame back-country roads.

Safety for Now. Every car from the 1967 American Motors includes: the long-awaited energy-absorbing steering column and deep-dish wheel; warning signal light to monitor both brake line systems; shoulder belt anchor plates; and the Double-Safety braking system we made standard five years before the rest of the industry. All built into solid, single-unit bodies.

Quality for Now. Our past is one of quality. Quality built in—like the Deep-Dip rustproofing and Ceramic-Armored exhaust systems pioneered by American Motors. And when quality is built in, the value stays in.

See your American Motors/Rambler Dealer today. He's the only Now Car dealer in town.

And now—this great new warranty.

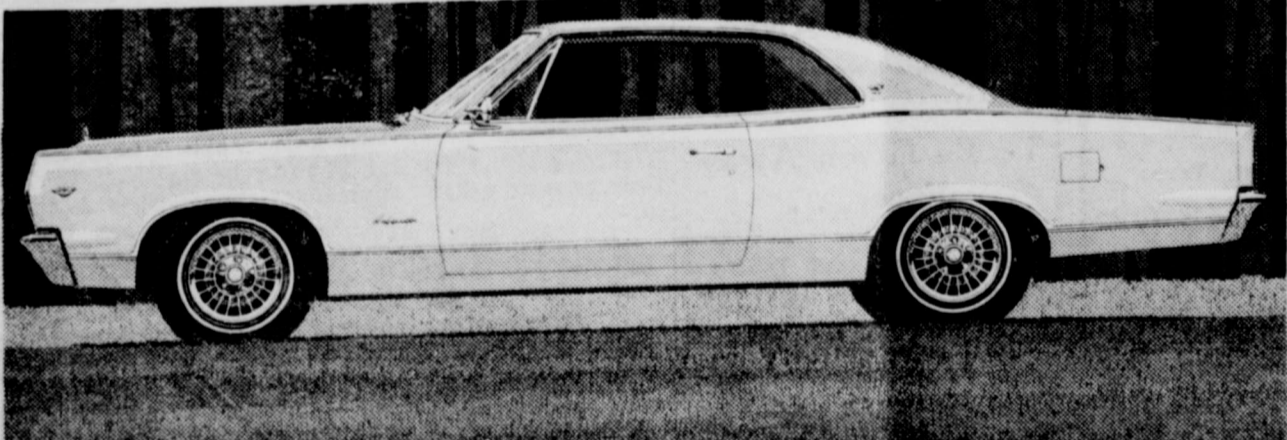

In addition to 2-year or 24,000-mile warranty on the entire automobile, American Motors Corporation warrants the engine block, head and internal parts, water pump, intake manifold, transmission case and internal parts (except manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle, differential and rear wheel bearings of its 1967 cars to be free from defects in material or workmanship for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first. The owner must change the engine oil and install new oil filter every six (6) months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, clean oil filler cap (filtered type) and carburetor air cleaner element every 4,000 miles and replace it every 24,000 miles and furnish evidence of this service to an Authorized American Motors Dealer every six (6) months and have him certify its receipt and the car's mileage. Further, American Motors Corporation so warrants the remainder of the car for 2 years or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, except tires (warranted by tire manufacturer). Any part so defective, will be repaired or replaced, in accordance with the applicable portion of the warranty, without charge at an Authorized American Motors Dealership. Owners are responsible for deterioration, misuse and normal maintenance.
