Bits Of THIS-N-THAT

By BETTY BOYD

The problem of violence in our country is yet on the lips of every citizen.

What can be done? What is the cause? Will the gun control laws decrease the violence? Everyone is seeking to find the answers to these and other questions.

I believe each town must tighten and strengthen its law enforcement. It would be a good beginning.

You see, there is violence everywhere, even in Burk Burnett, there is a type of violence.

We don't have riots, protest marches, etc., but we do have some culprits who enjoy such things as dumping their trash into a neighbor's yard; who find pleasure in the radical act of poisoning beloved pets belonging to others; children who use guns — B-B guns, but guns, nevertheless, with which they kill defenseless birds, injure dogs, and could injure humans.

These are smaller forms of violence, yes, but they are violent and harmful to the peace and safety of our community.

It is not the lawmen only who must bear down on law breakers. Parents must teach their children to respect the laws — of country, state and community. They must teach them to respect the rights, property and safety of others.

As we discuss ways and means of making the United States a safer country in which to live, let us begin action here in Burk Burnett. Let us try harder to make it safe for residents and pets, in our small corner of this country — yet the greatest in the world.

If your children have too much idle time this summer, why not investigate what the Youth Center has to offer them to help fill their time.

There are many courses in varied subjects being instructed by very efficient persons at the Center. Your youngsters may learn and enjoy doing it.

Good luck to Treva Ladd, Miss Burk Burnett 1968; as she goes on to compete in the Miss Texas pageant this month.

Something to tell her daughter when she grows up — Mrs. Herbert (MurrAnne Elliott) Lawson gave birth this week to a daughter, while attended by the nurse (Ora Mabry) who assisted her into the world 26 years ago.

Congratulations to the new parents and grandparents!

What is the name of the largest plane ever built? It is the U. S. Air Force's Lockheed C-5 Galaxy. It made its maiden flight recently at Dobbins Air Force Base near Atlanta, Georgia.

Just for fun, divide 617,283,945 by 5. The answer is unique.

More than 27,000 Texans bear on their cars, 'ego plates,' such as IFIXTV and E. J. Boyd. (Guilty!)

More than $250,000 annually goes to the state government from the collected $10 fees.

It is a novel method of helping to advertise Texas, and it sure beats raised taxes!

LAUGH, IT'S GOOD FOR YOU

Try saying the following rapidly: Industrious Dessie dexterously dusts dusky, dusty desks daily.

Good luck and good laughs. Love, B.B.

It is the way we handle our emotions that can often cause problems.

LOCAL YOUTH RECEIVES VIRGINIA SCHOLARSHIP

John Thoms Mitchell, president of the 1968 student body at Burk Burnett High School and third in a graduating class of 164, has been chosen by the University of Virginia to receive one of 59 Echols Scholar awards for the 1968-69 school year.

Mitchell, 18, was chosen on the basis of his college board entrance examination scores—1,314 out of a possible 1,600 points—and on his secondary school record.

He plans to major in foreign affairs and minor in economics. He wishes to obtain his doctorate "probably in urban affairs and development."

Echols scholars are exempt from many course requirements, instead taking one full-session course or two one-session courses in three broad areas representing mathematics and the sciences, history and social sciences, and the fine arts and humanities.

He also may enter advanced courses and special seminar classes and may qualify for advanced foreign language courses. Due to the flexibility of the Echols Scholar program, Mitchell may choose between studying a wide variety of subjects or going into a major field of study at the beginning of his second year—a year earlier than other undergraduates.

According to University of Virginia officials, the grade point average for Echols Scholars is a high 3.1 on a cumulative scale.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Mitchell of Burk Burnett, Mitchell was a member of National Honor Society, president of the Burk Burnett student council, a member of the annual staff and on the varsity basketball team.

MOTIVATION A MUST

"In-depth" surveys, sponsored by the American Association of State Highway Officials, in cooperation with the Bureau of Public Roads, show that some 88 per cent of the American public consider the automobile as closest to the ideal method of transportation. This love of the automobile has made us by far the greatest petroleum consuming nation on earth. Our per capita demand for petroleum runs around 20 barrels a year, or some 2.6 billion barrels for the nation. By 1985, it is estimated that our energy needs will more than double. It is easy to see why we have fallen into the habit of taking for granted the vast river of gasoline that flows into our autos from thousands of service station pumps at prices, exclusive of tax, that are phenomenally low. It has been the ability of the petroleum industry to keep ahead of demand while holding down prices which has ultimately led to our dependence on the automobile.

In the light of this, perennial attempts to reduce or eliminate that most vital tax provision, "percentage depletion," which promotes crude oil production, do not make sense. Without going into detail, percentage depletion permits the taxation of petroleum production income on an equitable basis, while at the same time encouraging a search for oil reserves. In the words of a spokesman for a major oil company: "... reduction or elimination of percentage depletion will produce two results. The price of crude, and consequently the price of gasoline undoubtedly will go up, and the exploratory activity necessary to maintain adequate reserves in the United States will go down. . . . This is something for the 88 per cent of the automotive loving American public to think about.

SECRECY IN WASHINGTON

As most everyone knows by now the Federal Trade Commission has voted 3 to 2, to ban all cigarette advertising on radio and TV. Of course the FTC is not empowered to enforce any such ban; in fact, it is precluded by law from doing so. But the majority, all three of them suggest that the Federal Communications Commission could act to enforce the ban under its authority.

That sounds a little like little brother getting big brother to do the bullying on the block for us, but that's a subject for another day.

The thing that intrigued us about this FTC recommendation was that newspapers had it all over their front pages that such a recommendation was coming before the FTC's annual report to the Congress was delivered. Far be it from us to belittle the industry of any enterprising newsmen who can pry information out of th crooks and crannies in Washington, but it has always been a wonderment that so many matters of this kind seem to get a fanfare in the press before being officially announced. Which suggests that someone wants it that way.

We wonder if it has ever occurred to you to wonder what the most secure agency or instrument of government is. If the CIA or the National Security Council, or the Atomic Energy Commission crossed your mind, you're guessing in the wrong side of town, The Supreme Court wins, hands down.

When the Court is in session, it hands down decisions every Monday, sometimes several of them. Yet there has never been any advance "leak" as to what a decision was going to be, nor, for that matter, is it ever known in advance what cases will be decided. Obviously it would be worth fabulous amounts of money to some persons if it could be learned in advance what certain rulings would be. But the record of the Court is above reproach, and whatever else one may think or mutter about its findings, it does make those findings in admirable secrecy.

Secrets circulate the corridors of the Pentagon with the speed of an atomic reactor. Unidentified spokesmen stand in every doorway at the State Department and the White House.

A lot of Federal agencies and departments could do worse than to study the Supreme Court's security system. It works.

Of course, if we were party to some of those decisions of the Court we want to keep them secret too.

The average use of electric power in the American home rose to an estimated record high of 5,565 kilowatt-hours during 1967, an increase of some 300 kilowatt-hours over the preceding year.

NEW FANGLED WAYS

WASHING THE FAMILY BUGGY

Before Grandma and Grandpa went for a summer ride, they spent hours polishing up the family buggy. Grandma had to make her own polish for the carriage and hand-sow the cleaning cloths to shine it up.

Cleaning the reins, the harness, and the horse was man's work, but the lady of the house had to mix the paint for the wheels and trim and snip out a new fringe for the surrey.

Today, cleaning Detroit's latest is a breeze with two pails of water—one soapy and one clear—and Handi Wipes cloths. When wet, these re-usable cleaning cloths remove grease and mud splatters and when dry, they polish up to the highest gleam on the highway.

SENSING THE NEWS

By THURMAN SENSING

Southern States Industrial Council

Senator Strom Thurmond said on the floor of the Senate on Friday, June 21st, "... many Senators, including myself, urged the responsible authorities to deny a permit for this illegal and violent circus." Senator Thurmond was referring to the so-called "Resurrection City" in Washington, the encampment of the Poor People Marchers between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument in the nation's capital.

Upon contacting a member of Congress recently with the question, "Can you tell me what individual or what committee of what government, either city or federal, gave permission to the Poor People Marchers to build a shanty town between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument?" I received this reply "... one would have to say that the authority came from the Secretary of the Interior although someone else may have acted in his behalf. Of course, we must assume that this would not have been done without the approval of President Lyndon Johnson."

Therefore, as President Johnson looks about him at this blot on the beautiful face of the Nation's Capital, as he considers the crime that has already been committed in Resurrection City, to say nothing of the violence that will probably occur before they are moved out of Washington, he can only say to himself, "I brought this on." What an awful confession to have to make!

It is understood a Baptist group wanted to hold a one day meeting around the Washington Monument, but were refused. Also, that a group of Boy Scouts wanted to camp for three days in sight of the Washington Monument, but were refused. These religious, patriotic organizations were denied the privilege of meeting on capital grounds, but the rag-tag people from all parts of the country, the deluded, the deceived people who thought they were doing something in the interest of their race, were permitted to build an encampment on one of the most beautiful spots in the nation's capital.

Due to steady rains that occurred in instances thereafter, the spot was rather quickly turned into a quagmire of mud and filth. There is no telling what it will cost the taxpayers of this country to restore the place to its natural beauty.

That is to say nothing of the crime that has been committed in the shanty town thus far, and that probably will be committed both there and in the city of Washington before it has all ended. Believe it or not, the Justice Department entered into an agreement with leaders of the Poor People's March that they alone would have policing powers within Resurrection City. In other words, the Washington Police force and the National Capital Park Police were denied the right to police an area within their own jurisdiction. As a result of this arrangement, there has virtually been no policing in the camp, and people have been assaulted and robbed and raped without the benefit of our Nation's laws to protect them. Is this another thing for which President Johnson must accept responsibility?

Senator Robert Byrd, of West Virginia, spoke in the Senate on the same day, and during the course of his remarks said: "Even those who have heretofore supported this mismanaged, misguided, misbegotten campaign must surely have been disillusioned by the public display of shiftlessness and laziness and lawlessness that the inhabitants of Resurrection City have put on for all to see." Then Senator Byrd went on to say, "Resurrection City became a slum almost from the moment it was created. It has now become a jungle, which much more appropriately should be known as 'Insurrection City.'"

Thus does encouragement to disobey the law, thus does laxity in enforcing law and order throughout the nation, finally attack the heart of the Nation's Capital. Will we have a change before it is too late?

Texas Industrial Commission Advertising Campaign Pays Off

The Texas Industrial Commission, Austin, revealed this week that the current national advertising program of the Commission has resulted in 1,208 inquiries between September, 1967 and the end of May, 1968, up 93% from the same period a year ago.

Inquiries are in the form of clipped coupons or letters mailed to the Commission as direct results of advertising placed in a wide variety of industry trade magazines and general business publications.

The primary objective of the Commission's advertising program is to advise and inform manufacturers and industrialists outside the state about the advantages of locating a plant in Texas. Such points as favorable tax rates, employment practices, high caliber work force, stable government, mild climate, and wide open spaces are stressed in the advertisements.

The central theme for all advertisements is "Turn To Texas." One add of a current series directed to industry executives pictures a woman at work in a factory, with the headline, "New York's Kay Nesom Won't Clip This Coupon To The Texas Industrial Commission Today, But Her Boss Should!" This series carries a coupon offering three industrial Commission Source Books: 1968 Texas Plant Location Fact Book, Texas Community Profiles, and Texas Market 1960-2020.

Another series of ads directed toward executives in specific industries points out the number of new plants in those industries which came into Texas in 1967.

In addition to media advertising, the Industrial Commission conducts periodic direct mailings to a select list of some 9,000 manufacturing executives outside Texas.

Advertising the important advantages and potential that Texas offers industry is a major function of the Industrial Commission. It is also charged with compiling research material to support the state's case for industry and consults with Texas' communities large and small to assist them in setting up programs to attract new industry.

A CAKE FROM HOME

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE, Texas — A1C James K. Janson, 3750th Student Squadron of Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, cuts a large piece of cake sent to him from his sister who lives in Chicago, Ill., in celebration of his birthday, June 26th. Airman Janson received the cake through the efforts of T-Sgt. Charles E. Walburn, who saw a request for the cake in a letter from the Chicago American's "The Action Line" in which the airman's sister desired a birthday cake be delivered to her brother stationed at Sheppard. The sergeant obliged the request by ordering and personally delivering the cake to Airman Janson on his birthday. All expenses, of course, were paid by Miss Janson.

It's Fresh Peach Shortcake Time

With fruit stands overflowing with fresh, juicy peaches at a good price, it's high time you treat your family to a fresh peach shortcake. Thin, crisp, golden circles of flaky pastry (the kind made with solid all-vegetable shortening that you use for pies) layered with sweetened peaches and whipped cream, make a truly superb dessert. Crisco's home economists, who developed this recipe, say you can also make small pastry rounds for individual desserts.

PEACH SHORTCAKE

(Makes 10 servings)

5 cups sliced pared peaches (about 3 pounds)	1 1/4 teaspoons salt
1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar	1 1/4 cups Crisco shortening
1/2 cup lemon juice	7 to 8 tablespoons water
3 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour	Granulated sugar
	1 1/2 cups heavy cream*

Combine peaches, brown sugar and lemon juice; chill 1 hour. Combine flour and salt in bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Place on baking sheets and sprinkle generously with granulated sugar; prick with a fork. Bake in 425° (hot) oven 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove and cool on racks. Whip cream with 1 tablespoon granulated sugar until soft peaks form. Stack pastry circles on large serving plate, topping each with peaches and whipped cream. Serve shortcake with any remaining peach syrup. *Or, use 2 envelopes (2 ounces each) whipped topping mix, prepared as directed.

Sure, we use computers. They are great for speed and accuracy and efficiency. With more than 370,000 customers to serve, we don't know what we'd do without them for paper work and to figure out things.

But computers will never take the place of people, because to a computer everybody's just a number. Computers don't smile, or call you by name, or show a personal interest, or reflect a friendly and helpful attitude. Not even ours.

So we have real living, breathing people . . . friendly people ready and anxious to help when you have a problem or want information about your electric appliances or electric service. ## Joe Brown To Receive Texas Agric. Award

JOE BROWN

COLLEGE STATION, (Special)—Joe Brown, farm editor of a daily newspaper and a major television station, active in youth and research activity promotion, has been selected to receive the "Man of the Year Award in Texas Agriculture" for 1968.

Brown, with the Wichita Falls Times & Record News and KFDX-TV, is one of six prominent agriculturists and leaders in related fields named to receive the award from the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association.

The awards recognize contributions to improving levels of living and economic progress in communities, counties, the state and the nation, explained Elwyn L. Dysart, Hartley County agent and president of the TCAAA. The organization is the largest of its kind in the United States, he added.

Brown will be presented his award at the Association's annual convention scheduled for Aug. 4-6 in Abilene. "Brown works closely with the county agents and specialists in the North Texas area and uses his newspaper and television show to keep those interested in agriculture abreast of current developments," Haws says.

Brown has been a leader in the drive by District 3 residents of North Texas to bring a Rolling Plains Research and Extension Center to the area. He has visited other centers of the same proposed type and written articles and features to show how the centers work and how they can improve existing Extension and research programs.

He has been a strong supporter of the Rolling Plains Economic Program which was recently established following a two-year study by Extension Farm Management Specialist Norman Brints of Vernon. He has been writing articles on various aspects of agriculture in the 28-county area to show how farming and ranching can be improved by following the guidelines the RPEP has established.

Brown covers a large share of the meetings held in his area by farmers and youth groups and attends as many of the county junior livestock shows as possible.

He is frequently the speaker at County 4-H Achievement Banquets and provides photographs for 4-H exhibitors to complete their record books.

Brown is a strong supporter of the annual Wichita Falls District Beef Show that includes 26 North Texas counties. He gives newspaper coverage to this event, and many times helps "sell" steers in the premium auction to merchants prior to the show, says Haws.

He is a member of the Newspaper Farm Editors of America Association and of the agriculture development committee of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce and is chairman of the livestock subcommittee.

Brown is an active Roman Catholic and a member of the and the Wichita Falls Jaycees.

A Universal Interest

New White House State China Service

To the American housewife, the thrill of serving her family or guests from new fine china dinnerware is universal. Mrs. Lyndon Johnson is no exception and recently she proudly displayed a new White House state china service for the first time.

Guests at an informal reception to mark this occasion included employees and officials of the companies involved in the design and manufacture of the china as well as representatives of the White House Historical Society and the executive mansion service staff.

The First Lady felt it particularly fitting that those persons involved with the American-designed and American-made dining service should be among the first to view it in its permanent home in the executive mansion. Guests included representatives of Tiffany & Co., New York; Castleton China, New Castle, Pa.; Commercial Decal, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; and INTERPACE, Parsippany, N. J., parent company of Castleton.

The new presidential service, purchased by the White House Historical Society for the people of the United States, consists of 216 place settings of ten individual pieces per setting.

Original designs for the White House state service were by Van Day Truax, and the paintings of flowers for decorations were by Andre Piette, both of Tiffany & Co.

Most unusual item in the china service is the entree plate, which also doubles as a dessert plate. The center decorations for these plates consist of individual representations of the state flowers of the fifty states and the District of Columbia.

Basic decorative design of all pieces is a radiating and vaulted pattern of pure gold dots over the rim areas of the plates and on the outside of the hollow pieces, such as cups, cream soups and bowls. Each piece is edged with a scalloped gold band adjacent to a band of pink-orange. Wildflowers of the Southwest United States are also featured in the rim designs of the service plates, dinner plates, rim soups, cups and bowls.

The large service plates depict a flying American eagle and shield in plate center. The eagle design was adopted from a state service acquired for the executive mansion by President James Monroe.

Manufacture of the new service required six months at the Castleton plant, utilizing the skills of more than two hundred employees in forming, decorating and firing the v

The entire project, through research, designing and manufacturing, covered a period of two and one-half years.

The new china is more informal than previous White House dinnerware. The First Lady was the principal motivator of the less formal styling and the Tiffany designers followed her preferences.

Time Out For Beauty

by David Lawrence

The "Lines" of Least Resistance
As the years roll by, every woman eventually has to face up to the fact that her birthday suit is growing older. The skin begins to lose its natural moisture, and the so-called "personality" lines start to appear. Many women feel they can't fight the inevitable, and they kind of give up or merely indulge in perfunctory beauty treatments. They simply let the "lines of least resistance" deepen—and multiply. They could not be more wrong-headed.

It's been proven that a careful daily beauty routine can help minimize lines and wrinkles, tighten sagging contours and revive facial skin tone. A few minutes every morning and night is all it takes—surely a small enough investment of time that can reap such satisfactory profits. Dorothy Gray has a special collection of Satura products, which, when used in a beauty routine faithfully, will aid in reviving mature skin.

The process has four steps: Cleanse, freshen, moisturize, and condition. You start in the morning with Satura Cleansing Lotion, a rich flowing pink lotion with deep cleansing action that floats dirt and grime to the surface of the skin where it can be rinsed off. Next, you apply Satura Freshener, a non-drying, two-layered freshener for dry skin which removes any trace of cleanser that might have been left, and helps stimulate and refresh the tone of the skin.

Now that you have really cleansed and freshened the skin, it's time to moisturize and protect it with Satura Lotion, a creamy lotion which contains Vitamin A (with or without hormones), and is applied all over the face to form an even base for makeup as it aids moisture retention within the deep layers of the skin and helps to protect the skin from the hazards of weather.

Your last step is at night, with a thorough application of Satura Cleanser, to remove all makeup. Then, to guard against dryness and replace needed moisture while you sleep apply an overnight treatment of Satura Cream. Worrying about wrinkles brings on more of the same. Laughing at them only heightens the laugh lines already there. But by doing the issue squarely and facing something about it, you'll not only feel better, but you'll look smoother, younger, and fresher. Nothing wrong with that!

Catfish Fry Held By R. E. Hodges

The R. E. Hodges were hosts to 20 Mobil members and their families for a catfish fry Saturday night, July 6, with Bob Reagan and Frank Hanna co-hostesses. Each lady brought a covered dish. The meal was served on the lawn in an old fashioned picnic style. Following the delicious meal, games of "42" were enjoyed on the well lighted lawn area. Everyone had a delightful time.

The G. I. Bill helped educate 116 Congressmen.

COUNTY H-D AGENT NEWS

Children should not eat—or even chew—any plant that doesn't appear on the dinner plate. The U. S. Public Health Service receives about 12,000 reports annually on children made ill by eating toxic plants. The conscientious parent who warns a child not to eat wild mushrooms and tells him how to recognize poison ivy and poison sumac may never think to warn against oleander, yew, rhubarb leaves, poinsettia, jack-in-the-pulpit and jimson weed. All of these can be deadly, reports Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

National Safety Council also calls the mountain laurel and castor beans potentially lethal and adds rhododendron, red sage, jasmine and azalea to that category. Plants that can bring on severe digestive upset include the common buttercup, lily of the valley, daffodil bulbs and wisteria.

Some poisonous plants look and even taste like attractive fruits and vegetables. The water hemlock and poison hemlock, both lethal, have been mistaken for wild carrot; the dangerous nightshades bear cherry-like fruits. This group includes the Texas thistle.

A mulch works like a silent gardener helping to stabilize soil temperature, hold moisture and prevent growth of weeds around trees and shrubs and in flower beds and vegetable.

An organic mulch can be straw, sawdust, tan and pine bark says Thelma Wirges, home demonstration agent. You can use an inorganic mulch such as gravel or black plastic film about four millimeters thick. But, she warned, don't use clear plastics because sun light penetrates and allows weeds to germinate and grow.

Coffee grounds, wood shavings, wood chips and chopped leaves can be used as mulches. A soil mat of leaves prevents air exchange needed to keep the surface water from getting stale so grinding the leaves is preferred.

Peat moss is a good soil conditioner and mulch. But mulches should not take the place of fertilizer.

Straw makes a good mulch in the vegetable garden but for use around shrubs, in flower beds and flower pots the agent suggests something prettier such as gravel chips in white or colors like the blues and reds. These chips are coarser than gravel and should not be mixed with soil. Generally mulches are used one to two inches deep. It's hard to estimate the bushels or bags needed. Baled mulches sometimes have tags that tell the coverage to expect, for example a 6 cubic foot bale may cover 72 square feet one inch deep, or 36 square feet two inches deep.

Mrs. Ralph Swinford has a well established landscape demonstration and finds mulch one key to the success. With limited amount of water, mulch has enabled her to get plants started and save established ones.

According to the Southern Pine Association, lumber that is used close to the ground or under conditions of severe exposure to weather should be pressure treated with chemical preservatives for immunity to insect attack and the elements.

BLUEBELLES CAPPED AT NEIGHBORHOOD MEETING

Highlight of the monthly meeting of the Burkburnett Community Service Center was capping of three members of the local Bluebelle group. Charles Greb, owner of Evergreen Manor Nursing Home, and Mrs. Pat Looney, Director of the Wichita Mental Health Association and founder of the Bluebelle organization made the presentations.

The Bluebelles were organized in June of 1967. Mrs. Dorothy Wilson of the Service Center is chairman. There are 20 presently active in the local group. Each girl is required to do two hours of volunteer work per week at the nursing home and it is necessary to work 100 hours to receive a cap. Mr. Greb, in presenting the caps, expressed the appreciation of the staff of the nursing home and especially the residents of the home who look forward to the bright and smiling faces of the girls each week. In addition, Mr. Greb stated the presence of the girls gave a lift to the patients that was as beneficial as the best care his staff could offer.

Mrs. Looney, expressed her appreciation for the outstanding work of Mrs. Wilson and the Bluebelles and especially for the girls living up to the high standards of the organization in every way.

Bluebelles capped in Monday's ceremonies were: Pearl Hicks, Darline Sparks, and Priscilla Duncan. Others earning awards were: Carolyn and Sherri French, Connie Bloodworth, Susie Elliott, Ethel Howard, Susan Ehnstedt, Pat Thaxton, Betty Lou and Margaret Martin, Brenda Kay Jones, Ema Alley and Liz Jackson.

The Bluebelles served punch to 42 who attended the meeting and viewed a film on LSD shown by Mrs. Looney.

The meeting was conducted by Mr. Jess Whately, Chairman of the Burkburnett Service Center Board of Directors.

Other guests at Monday's meeting were: Mrs. Geraldine Nolan, Youth Coordinator of the C.A.C., Mrs. Gerstner, acting director of the Day Care Center, who reported on the activities of the Center, as the Director, Mrs. Betty Futch was in Austin attending a Day Care Center training course. Mrs. Anna Freeman reported on the Park and expressed the Neighborhoods appreciation to the City for the picnic tables, Bar-B-Que pits and trash containers. Mrs. Freeman stated that the Park had improved the appearance of the area and was used daily by residents of the area.

Mrs. Carol Blankenship, Center Director, reported 25 full time job placements during the past quarter and 52 parttime placements. There were 39 in attendance at the cooking class, 16 graduated from the typing course, 10 enrolled in a charm course. Fifteen boys will be sent to Boy Scout Camp. A total of 347½ hours of volunteer work was contributed to the Center during June.

Weathering The Summer

Contrary to popular notion, hot, sunny weather can wreak havoc on your skin. While it's true that many women strive for the "golden girl" look which they consider healthy, dermatologists will quickly refute this idea. The sun's strong rays can—and do—dehydrate the skin and dry up the oils and moisture that keep it soft and supple. One need look no further than those perpetually tanned ladies whose skin is leathery and wrinkled.

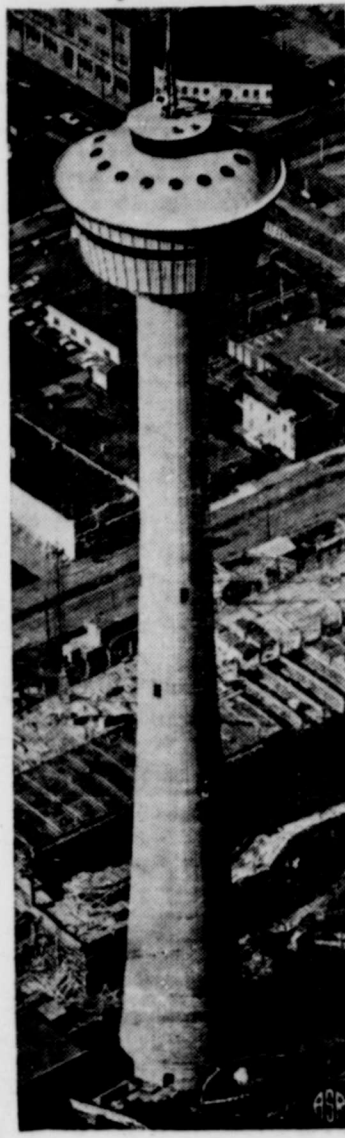

And, if you've ever come back from the beach with a nice little glow only to wind up the next day peeling like a banana, you know, too, that the sun not only dries your skin, it removes it! How to protect your skin without missing out on any of those golden hours? You can try the cover-up approach—piling on a long-sleeved sweater and wide-brimmed chapeau—but who wants to keep her luster under cover? Or you can be a constant clockwatcher—timing yourself on both sides and making sure you only get a minimum exposure each beach time. But, it's so easy to miscalculate—lulled by the sound of the surf and the warm sand into a false sense of skin security.

The best idea is to give your skin back what the sun robs. One of the most effective protections against old devil sun is Tussy's Wind and Weather lotion. The rich, creamy formula smooths peeling and roughness and helps restore the moisture the sun dried away. It soothes parched skin and softens it, giving you suppleness all summer long. The Tussy blend comes in two easy-to-tote forms, an all-over hand and body lotion and the new after-sun face moisturizer.

During the summer, your skin is a fashion accessory just as surely as your sandals or your bangle bracelets. Remember, yours is showing. And make sure it does you proud.

Husky Tower Joins Western Sights

Calgary, Alta.—The highest structure of its kind in North America—the 62-story Husky Tower—has been added to famous western attractions for visitors.

The view of the Canadian Rockies is spectacular from the revolving restaurant and observation terrace at the top of the Tower. The restaurant, seating 210, revolves completely once each hour.

The 626-foot concrete and steel reinforced structure looms over Calgary, western Canada metropolis nestled on the prairies just east of the Rockies.

Husky Tower joins such other popular attractions as nearby Banff National Park, Lake Louise and Jasper National Park.

The $3½-million Tower is named for the Husky Oil Company which produces, refines and markets gasoline and other products in the western prairie and mountain sections of the United States and Canada.

Some 3,000 cubic feet of concrete were used for the new six-million-pound Calgary landmark. It is 94½ feet across the eight-foot thick base upon which the Tower rests 20 feet below ground level. The diameter is 66 feet at ground level and the walls are a foot and a half thick.

The shaft decreases to 31 feet across at 450 feet; the walls narrow to 10½ inches thick. The top of the Tower "pod" varies from 78½ feet to 89 feet across just under the "bubble" skydome in the roof.

Two elevators whisk 25 persons at a time from ground to top in a minute and three seconds. There are 762 steps from top to bottom.

They Also Learn . . .

A dog in a 4-H household is expected to shape up, walk right and obey his master. According to hundreds of young 4-H dog fanciers throughout the state, the canine member of the family does just that.

Not without considerable effort, though, on the part of both dog and owner. The latter is enrolled in the national 4-H Dog Care and Training program sponsored by Ralston Purina Company. He or she is between 9 and 19 years of age, and has accepted complete responsibility for the animal.

If there is not a family pet available, the 4-H'er has the thrill of choosing his own dog. A lot of fun and satisfaction go along with this project, to say nothing of the love and trust that grows between dog and master. Learning about canine health, disposition, daily care and training are other factors.

Why a dog project in 4-H? So boys and girls can learn to understand animals, say 4-H leaders, particularly those who do not live on farms.

With an estimated 65,000 youngsters from coast to coast participating in the 1968 dog care program, there is bound to be a host of healthy and lovable pets added to the U.S. dog population.

The 4-H'ers are recognized for good results with their dogs. They can compete for county, state, sectional and national awards provided annually by Ralston Purina. The Cooperative Extension Service names the award winners.

Parents interested in enrolling their children in 4-H, or who would like to volunteer as a leader of a 4-H Dog Club, should contact the County Extension office.

NET

One of the definitions for a net is a trap or a snare. A net is used to catch a fish. There are times in every man's life when, like Job, he feels that God has trapped him in a net. Job 19:6 reads, "Know now that God hath overthrown me, and hath compassed me with his net."

But our troubles and afflictions are never caused by our God. Moreover, His Word says He is ever faithful to deliver His people. The Psalmist asserts: "Mine eyes are ever toward the Lord; for he shall pluck my feet out of the net."

How wonderful are His promises. These promises are proclaimed from the pulpit by your pastor each week for the blessing and edifying of God's people. Won't you attend church this week and partake of this blessing?

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Mrs. Hal D. Mabry Jr. Hostess To Pinkston Circle

The Florence Pinkston Circle of the First Baptist Church met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Mabry for the July mission program. The meeting was opened with the reading of the scripture I Corinthians 1:19-31 by Mrs. James D. Taylor. She emphasized the key verse, "He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord". She also led in prayer for the Baptist missionaries. Mrs. Thaxton conducted a short business meeting in the absence of the circle chairman, Mrs. Jack Robinson.

the mission topics and speakers and stressed the value of each human personality. She quoted Peter as saying, "God is no respecter of persons." Mrs. Howard L. McCrary gave an interesting report on the Oklahoma negro state and national convention. Mrs. Ray Flippen told how the National (Negro) and Southern Baptists of Arkansas work together on a state level and are assisted by the Home Mission Board. Mrs. Gail Butts gave a report of a church in Jacksonville Arkansas that had a spiritual revival after receiving some negro families into the church. Mrs. Hal D. Mabry told of work being done in New York City to cause the Negro Baptists and Southern Baptists to co-operate in their witness for Christ. Mrs.

Thaxton dismissed the meeting in prayer.

Those attending the meeting and enjoying delicious refreshments were Mesdames Oia Quattlebaum, I. C. Evans, Gail Butts, Howard L. McCrary, R. P. Thaxton, James D. Taylor, Ray M. Flippen, Raymond Smart, the hostess Mrs. Mabry and her mother, Mrs. Ed. Williamson.

DDD is quick and easy. If the area code of the city you want is the same as yours — 817 — just dial "1," then the telephone number. For example, to call 332-8211 in Fort Worth (area code 817), you would dial:

1 . . . . 332-8211
DDD Telephone
Code Number

If the area code is different from 817, dial "1," then the area code, then the telephone number. For example, to call 227-3744 in Houston (area code 713), you would dial:

1 . . . . 713 . . . . 227-3744
DDD Houston Telephone
Code Area Code Number

After dialing, you will hear the other telephone ring, within seconds.

It's as easy as dialing a local call to a telephone right here in town — and faster than ever before!

Southwestern Bell

"To obtain out-of-town telephone numbers, remember 555-1212"

With DDD, it's easy to obtain out-of-town numbers by calling "Information" in other cities direct, like this:

CREATIVE HOMEMAKING

"Instant" Cleaning Means More Leisure

Housework is always a chore, but in the lazy days of summer, it can become downright drudgery.

This summer, resolve to get out of the house fast, by enlisting all the timesavers and stepsavers available. Take a tip from cleaning experts and whenever possible, use two-in-one cleaning products and "instant" cleaners—both will give you just that much more time to work on your tan.

Get with the aerosol era—and you'll find you can clean and disinfect as easily as pushing a button. One small household miracle (both an instant and a two-in-one product) is Aerosol Fantastik Spray Cleaner with disinfectant.

Just spray it on, wipe off, and you've both cleaned and germ-proofed, quickly and efficiently. This new product kills staph and strep germs and prevents mildew—yet there's no rinsing because there's no foam. (If you're busy, you may feel a bit guilty.) Aerosol Fantastik is perfect for the kitchen and bathroom, of course, but it is recommended also for any and all washable surfaces throughout the house, including walls, floors, and, of course, baby's room and equipment.

Since some cleaning jobs follow you outdoors, let Aerosol Fantastik make short work of cleaning up picnic and camping paraphernalia. It is especially helpful where there is no water for rinsing.
