Holy Trinity Youth Ministry feed nearly 40 families over Christmas season

By IRIS RANGEL
 Herald Staff Writer

Instead of a coat drive this past Christmas, Holy Trinity Youth Ministry decided to give back to the community in a different way. Food donations from both the Holy Trinity Youth Ministry and its' sponsors were able to feed close to 40 families during the Christmas season last year.

"Because of COVID-19, the resources to the community were very limited and there are many families in need, especially at this time of year," Holy Trinity Catholic Parish's Youth Minister Merlinda Moron said.

Altogether, 15 youth members, with the help of donations from their sponsors, spent their day bagging and loading food for the less fortunate. In total, two bags of non-perishable food were able to be given to each family in need.

A Moment in Time 1906 Showplace on Main

By TAMMY SCHRENCENGOST
 Heritage Museum

One of my favorite Big Spring homes was located at 800 Main. I went inside during the late 1990's/2000 as the former owner's family was having an estate sale. My deepest regrets are that I did not buy the house or take more pictures inside. However, the electricity was not on and it was very dark. Inside the spacious rooms were beautiful ornate crown molding, French doors, original light fixtures, ceiling fans and transoms above the doors. The oak trim and stair railings had been painted white throughout the years during various stages of updates. Unfortunately, the home burned down in 2017 after "tenants" used various unsafe means to provide temporary electricity in the home.

Brothers Ed and R.L. Price chose the 800 block of Main to build their homes between the years of 1906-1916. The homes were on the west side of the street and faced east. In 1906, Ed Price, president of the First National Bank, was the first to build a magnificent 15 room home at 800 Main to be near his work.

While the Price family waited on the construction of their home to be completed, they rented Joseph Potton's home at 200 Gregg. There, Mrs. Price gave birth to the couple's first son. Ed Price lived only two years to enjoy his home, dying in 1908. The family kept the home until 1916 when Lewis Price, a brother, sold it to Mrs. Cora Melton.

This week's reviews are all mystery titles.

Malcolm Kershaw is a bookseller and mystery aficionado in "Eight Perfect Murders" (M SWA P) by Peter Swanson. Years ago Malcolm compiled a list of fiction's most unsolvable murders, which he titled "Eight Perfect Murders," chosen from among the best of the best including Agatha Christie's A. B. C. Murders, Patricia Highsmith's Strangers on a Train, Ira Levin's Death Trap. But no one is more surprised than Mal, now the owner of the Old Devils Bookshop in Boston, when an FBI agent comes knocking on his door one snowy day in February. She's looking for information about a series of unsolved murders that look eerily similar to the killings on Mal's old list. And the FBI agent isn't the only one interested in this bookseller who spends almost every night at home reading. The killer is out there, watching his every move, a diabolical threat who knows way too much about Mal's personal history, especially the secrets he's never told anyone, even his recently deceased wife. To protect himself, Mal begins looking into possible suspects, and sees a killer in everyone around him. But Mal doesn't count on the investigation leaving a trail of death in its wake. Suddenly, a series of shocking twists leaves more victims dead, and the noose around Mal's neck grows so tight he might never escape.

Upstate New York, 1982 in "The Sun Down Motel" (M ST S) by Simone St. James. Viv Delaney wants to move to New York City, and to help pay for it she takes a job as a night clerk at the Sun Down Motel in Fell, NY. But knows something isn't right at the motel, something haunting and scary. Upstate New York, 2017. Carly Kirk has never been able to let go of the story of her aunt Viv, who mysteriously disappeared from the Sun Down before she was born. Carly decides to move to Fell and visit the motel, where she quickly learns that nothing has changed since 1982. And she soon finds herself ensnared in the same mysteries that claimer her aunt.

After saving an ex-convict's life in "The Black Ascot" (M TOD C) by Charles Todd, Inspector Ian Rutledge receives an astonishing tip about a legendary crime from the grateful man. Implausible though it sounds, Rutledge must report this information to his superior at Scotland Yard. Still, if true, the tip could lead to capturing Alan Barrington, the suspect in an appalling murder during Black Ascot, the famous 1910 royal horserace that honored the late King Edward VII. Barrington's disappearance before his trial had set off a manhunt that spanned the globe, baffling Scotland Yard and consuming all of Britain for nearly a decade. But why should Barrington return to England now? The Yard, eager to restore its reputation, smarting from accusations of incompetence, orders Rutledge to quietly investigate. To avoid attracting the press's attention, he must employ the cover of a routine review of a cold case. Meticulously retracing the original inquiry, Rutledge begins to know Alan Barrington well, delving into relationships and uncovering secrets that hadn't surfaced in 1910. As he draws closer, perhaps too close to the man, the investigation is suddenly thrown into turmoil when Rutledge's sanity is questioned by a shocking turn of events, and his life is changed by his darkest fear, the exposure of his shell shock. The psychological anguish that has haunted him since the Battle of the Somme is regarded a shameful. Those who know him best, his sister Frances, Melinda Crawford, and Dr. Fleming stand by him, even as he questions himself. The Yard is already demanding his resignation and Rutledge realizes that the only way to save his career, much less his honor, is to find Alan Barrington. Against all odds, he must bring him to justice. But weeks of searching have already led to nowhere. What if the tip was wrong, what if Barrington actually never returned to England at all?

A woman has been murdered at the foot of a megalith shaped like a great shrouded figure in "A Divided Loyalty" (M TOD C) by Charles Todd. Chief Inspector Brian Leslie, one of the Yard's best men, is sent to investigate the site in Avebury, a village set inside a prehistoric stone circle not far from Stonehenge. In spite of his efforts, Leslie is not able to identify her, much less how she got to Avebury or why she dies there. Her killer has simply left with no trace. Several weeks later, when Ian Rutledge has returned from successfully concluding a similar case with an unidentified victim, he is asked to take a second look at Leslie's inquiry. But Rutledge suspects Chief Superintendent Markham simply wants him to fail. Leslie was right, Avebury refuses to yield its secrets. But Rutledge slowly widens his search, until he discovers an unexplained clue that seems to point toward an impossible solution. If he pursues it and he is wrong, he will draw the wrath of the Yard down on his head. But even if he is right, he can't be certain what he can prove, and that will play right into Markham's game. The easy answer is to let the first verdict stand: Person or persons unknown. But what about the victim? What does Rutledge owe this tragic young woman? Where must his loyalty lie?

"Once you learn to read, you will be forever free." Frederick Douglass across Howard County. For the youth of Holy Trinity Catholic Parish, the only goal that day was to help as many families as possible.

"First, we would like to thank all those who helped prepare for this community outreach. We wanted to find another way to give back to our community and our goal was to help as many families as we could," Moron said.

In terms of final thoughts, both Youth Minister Moron and Youth Group Sponsor Johnathon Martinez chalk up everyone's efforts as an overall success. With more families and individuals in need receiving a bit of help during a hard time, members of the Holy Trinity Youth Ministry hope to host this type of community outreach event at least two times a year.

"We believe that this food drive turned out amazing," she said. "We would love to give to many more families in the future."

Moron encourages the public to contact Holy Trinity Catholic Parish if you or someone you know is in need. Contact can be found at 432-714-4930.

Mrs. Melton had a fireplace built in the living-room, in front of which she married C.S. Holmes, postmaster and founder of the first boy scout troop in Big Spring in 1910. The wedding was performed on a Sunday morning, September 19, 1918, before a group of friends before Sunday School began. The couple then attended Sunday School and Church at the First Baptist Church, site of the present Post Office, traveling to Mineral Wells that evening for a wedding trip.

Paul Rix bought the home in the late 1920's and turned it into a funeral home, operating it into the 1930's until the depression hit, then sold it back to Mrs. Holmes. The house had a stairway from the front entrance and another from the kitchen area, meeting at a landing just below the second floor and continuing a few steps onto the next story. The stairway was taken from the kitchen area in this interim. Chiropractor Dr. Ora Fitzgerald Johnson had been born in Big Spring in 1903. She bought the home in 1942, putting a clock on the front gable with a chiropractor sign over it. Dr. Johnson and her husband, James "Jay" Johnson with daughter, Charlene Kee, lived in the home and office combination, renting bedrooms to relatives of patients of Malone and Hogan Hospital, located across the street. A small kitchenette was installed on the second floor to accommodate the upstairs guests. The attic was made into an efficiency apartment with kitchen and bath. Curbing, parking spaces and sidewalk on the north side were installed. The Johnson's covered the fireplace that was in the living room, putting a wall in front of it on which daughter Charlene painted a mural in oils. Mrs. Kee had fond memories of many fine people who sojourned in their home over the years as guests while waiting on their relatives in the hospital. An outside stairway formerly existed on the northwest side of the house. Vandalism forced the Johnson's to remove this.

Dr. Ora Johnson passed away in 1975. Charlene lived in the home, tending to her mother's roses (around the perimeter of the front yard), iris and other flowers which bloomed throughout the seasons. The home was lit at night by a carriage lamp, until it was sold to Bonnie Chambers in 1979. Mrs. Chambers replaced the water and gas lines, carpeted the house throughout and enlarged the third-floor apartment. Subsequently, the back yard area was sold, and a two-story apartment building moved onto the location. This cut down the grounds space considerably.

Howard County teams take to the court

By SAM YOUNG

Herald Contributing Writer

District games were in full force Friday night as the battle for postseason berths starts to take shape. Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan all faced stern tests from quality opponents in Levelland, Sonora and Winters respectively.

In 3-4A district play, Big Spring matched up with Levelland home and away. The Lady Steers had the difficult test of traveling to take down a Levelland girls team ranked ninth in the state and still unbeaten on the year. The Loboettes were certainly as good as advertised, building a large early lead, en route to a 45-7 halftime advantage. By the time the final buzzer sounded it was #9 Levelland improving to 4-0 in district play, 70-19. The defeat sends Big Spring to a 1-3 district mark, and 8-12 on the year.

Closer to home, at Steer Gym, Big Spring boys basketball was trying to even their district record early in 3-4A play. The Steers were able to keep pace early, but as the game wore on, Levelland built an ever growing lead. The Lobos one-point lead after the first quarter became seven-points at the half, and then 15-points after three. Ultimately, Levelland would prevail, 65-40, moving to 2-0 in district. Steer basketball drops to 0-2 in 3-4A play and is 11-8 overall.

Elsewhere, in 5-3A district play, Coahoma tangled with Sonora in a pair of close contests. The Bulldogettes are no strangers to recent tight games, but even by their standards, Friday was razor thin margins. Sonora, who had lost by only two points earlier in the week to Crane, played the undefeated Bulldogettes heads up all night long. Coahoma was up at the break, 25-24; however, neither side found much breathing room as the third quarter became the fourth. The game ultimately flipped in the hosts favor with a fourth quarter run that would give the Lady Broncos the slimmest of victories, 44-43. Makynlea Overton led Coahoma with 13, while Julia and Isabella Cox each chipped in 10. The Bulldogettes are now 3-1 in 5-3A play, 10-5 on the year. Sonora's victory vaults them to 2-2 in district.

The boy's game between Coahoma and Sonora was similarly even, with the first half of play yielding no separation between the sides, reaching halftime at 28-28. Coahoma would mount the most meaningful run of the game in the third quarter, with Raheem Ashford scoring nine of his team-high 19 in the frame, helping the Bulldogs surge to a nine-point lead, 45-36. When the Sonora offense picked up steam in the final frame, Coahoma had an answer each time. Isaiah Martin scored seven of his 12 points in the fourth to help Coahoma cinch the road district win, 64-53. Coahoma now sits at 1-1 in district, while Sonora falls to 0-2.

Finally, back in Howard County, Forsan tangled with Winters in 8-2A action. The Lady Buffs wasted no time in making the result of the game a formality, leading 24-0 after the first quarter. Rylee Evans would score 11 of her game-high 19 points in helping Forsan dominate early. The lead grew all night long, culminating in a comfortable 63-24 victory that moved the Lady Buffs to 4-1 in district and 13-4 overall. Taryn Spivey scored 13 in the win, with Kaeli Woodall adding eight more, as Winters fell to 1-5 in district.

The Forsan boys found themselves in a more hotly contested game against a Winters team that entered the night undefeated in district and 15-3 on the season. The Buffs jumped on Winters early, but went cold for the last nine minutes of the first half, scoring only one point over that stretch. Despite the shooting woes, Forsan kept a high powered Winters in check while managing to limit their halftime deficit at 18-13. Winters would continue their shooting struggles in the third allowing Forsan to mount a run. Ernesto Rivera's energy off the bench played a big role in lifting Forsan to an early fourth quarter lead, a lead they would stretch to as many as seven over three minutes remaining. After struggling from the free throw line in the first half, the Buffs were 6-7 on free throws in the late stages of the game, sealing a 36-31 hard fought win. Sawyer Stallings was the lone Buff in double figures with 12, as Forsan remained unbeaten at home this season. The win brings Forsan to 2-1 in 8-2A, and 8-8 overall; Winters is now 3-1 in district and 15-4 on the year.

Celebrating His Life & Legacy

As a leader of the civil rights movement, Martin Luther King, Jr. worked tirelessly to promote justice, peace and equality for all people. His words and actions inspired millions around the world to fight injustice and engender change through nonviolence. Today, much progress has been made, but much work remains to be done. You can honor Dr. King's memory through your actions by observing the MLK Day of Service on Monday, January 18. When we work together to make the world a better place through service to our communities we come one step closer to realizing Dr. King's dream.

After losing Mahomes, Chiefs and Henne hold off Browns 22-17

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs had lost Patrick Mahomes to a concussion and were in danger of losing the game.

Then their defense and Chad Henne — their defense and Chad Henne?! — kept their hopes of a Super Bowl repeat alive, holding off the Cleveland Browns 22-17 on Sunday to advance to their third straight AFC championship game.

"#HenneThingIsPossible," a sidelined Mahomes wrote on Twitter immediately after the victory.

With their star quarterback reduced to a spectator, the oft-forgotten bunch opposite Mahomes' high-powered offense forced the Browns to punt in the waning minutes. Then, his 35-year-old backup showed some moxie with a long third-down scramble and audacious fourth-down completion to Tyreek Hill — when go-for-broke Andy Reid decided to go for it — that gave the Chiefs a first down with just over a minute left and allowed them to run out the clock.

"That's why we love Big Red. He's always on time," Chiefs safety Tyrann Mathieu said. "He's like our spirit warrior out here behind the scenes. He's always trying stuff. We always knew he has one play on the table."

Honoring King's Legacy

Dear Readers: Happy Martin Luther King Jr. Day. Please enjoy the below excerpt from one of the most important speeches in history.

"I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: 'We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal.'

"I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia, the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave owners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood.

"I have a dream that one day even the state of Mississippi, a state sweltering with the heat of injustice, sweltering with the heat of oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice.

"I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character. I have a dream today.

"I have a dream that one day down in Alabama, with its vicious racists, with its governor having his lips dripping with the words of 'interposition' and 'nullification,' one day there in Alabama little black boys and black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and white girls as sisters and brothers. I have a dream today.

"I have a dream that one day every valley shall be exalted, every hill and mountain shall be made low, the rough places will be made plain, and the crooked places will be made straight, and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together.

"This is our hope. This is the faith that I go back to the South with. With this faith we will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope. With this faith we will be able to transform the jangling discords of our nation into a beautiful symphony of brotherhood. With this faith we will be able to work together, to pray together, to struggle together, to go to jail together, to stand up for freedom together, knowing that we will be free one day.

"This will be the day, this will be the day when all of God's children will be able to sing with new meaning: 'My country, 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty, of thee I sing. Land where my fathers died, land of the pilgrim's pride, from every mountainside, let freedom ring!'

"And if America is to be a great nation, this must become true. So let freedom ring from the prodigious hilltops of New Hampshire. Let freedom ring from the mighty mountains of New York. Let freedom ring from the heightening Alleghenies of Pennsylvania. Let freedom ring from the snow-capped Rockies of Colorado. Let freedom ring from the curvaceous slopes of California. But not only that: Let freedom ring from Stone Mountain of Georgia. Let freedom ring from Lookout Mountain of Tennessee. Let freedom ring from every hill and molehill of Mississippi. From (SET ITAL) every (END ITAL) mountainside, let freedom ring.

"And when this happens, and when we allow freedom ring, when we let it ring from every village and every hamlet, from every state and every city, we will be able to speed up that day when all of God's children, black men and white men, Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics, will be able to join hands and sing in the words of the old Negro spiritual: 'Free at last! Free at last! Thank God Almighty, we are free at last!'

Opening lead — six of diamonds.
Once upon a time — and this is no fairy tale — Easley Blackwood, inventor of the Blackwood Convention, was playing in a pair championship when two awestruck and nervous novices came to his table and played this deal against him.
Blackwood got to four spades, and the player on his left led a diamond (the king of hearts would have been a more inspired lead). Blackwood won the diamond with the nine and returned the club deuce. West followed low, and dummy's queen won the trick. South then discarded the king of clubs on the ace of hearts and returned a trump.

Ordinarily, declarer would finesse in this situation, but Blackwood reasoned that, having already "stolen" two tricks in the play, it was wiser to cash the A-K to avert a possible diamond ruff. This turned out exceptionally well when he caught West's queen to pick up yet another trick.
Still not satisfied, Blackwood played four more rounds of trump, producing this position:

North
♥ J 7
♦ A 7

West
♥ K
♦ Q 10 8

South
♦ K J 2

Blackwood now led his last trump, and poor West, who could not spare the king of hearts, discarded a diamond. Blackwood thereupon discarded a heart from dummy and cashed the A-K-J of diamonds to finish with all 13 tricks.
As the two newcomers were leaving the table, West turned to his partner and said, "You see, Charlie, it's just like I told you. Even the experts don't bid all their slams."

Tomorrow's Horoscope

King's Moon

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Combine the previously uncombined for magical results. You'll create a fit that wouldn't occur to others. Actually, the match won't occur to you either. You'll just keep moving and trying things until it clicks in.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Do not be afraid to cause discomfort to yourself or anyone else. To make a person aware of a problem does this, but the problems would never be known or solved without that rub.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Build a system. This is the only way you'll be able to take on more. It's not going to be as hard as you think. In fact, the hardest part is deciding to stop doing it the old way.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). It's as though you're able to concentrate the goodwill you're putting into the world and give just the right thing to the right person. The way you share yourself will change people.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). In a way, you are focusing on your reputation. It won't feel like that. It will feel like you're just doing the correct thing, the best work you can for your reputation and the flow of business.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Like an employee at a tech company that prizes innovation, you are being assessed by not only the metrics of your job description but also by the side projects you take on, which will now earn you fans.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You admit what you don't know, and then watch all the people who were pretending to know breathe a sigh of relief. This just might be the start of the conversation that gets everyone up to speed.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). One scenario is that you trust in a process and do the work. Alternately, you act as though you trust in a process, and you do the work. Either will produce brilliant outcomes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You can't help it -- an expectation has already formed in your head. It will turn out that this story about things coming together and you feeling fabulous about it is not so far off.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You read the meaning inside small gestures. You'll like some of what you learn. What do you do with the rest of it? Mentally file the information and save it for later.

BY HOLIDAY MATHIS

COSMIC QUESTION: "Holiday, what is my true name?"

A "true name" is a concept that spans cultures throughout time referring to a name that references the true nature of a person. Often, there's a mythology around the power potential of a true name. For instance, the Egyptian god Isis gained complete power over the sun god Ra by learning his true name, which she used to overthrow him. In the fairytale "Rumpelstiltskin" the miller's daughter learns the imp's name to save her firstborn child.

For a price, many a guru will be happy to whisper to you a secret spiritual name or sacred mantra handed down from the heavens. Alas, I am not a guru, nor am I set up to take your devotion or credit card payment in exchange for a few syllables.

Consider traditions such as the naming traditions of some indigenous cultures which famously focus on names that reflect the attitudes and behaviors of an individual. These names are not given so much as earned. Many of my own family members are better known by their earned names; "Forth," "Trapper" and "Sugar" appear nowhere on birth certificates.

My personal favorite true names are self-appointed. So my question to you is this: "What's your true name?"

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You're a traveler along life's highway. Driving on low, both literally and figuratively, is dangerous and not worth the risk. Pull over to the rest stop to fuel up.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). For a different outcome, you need different thoughts, and for different thoughts, you need a changed mind. The easiest and most effective way to change your mind is to change your actions.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Jan. 18). Among your birthday wishes are beautiful goals. Still, you embrace the spirit of development, which always happens in the present moment. Your habit of bringing yourself back to the center of the action and the crux of control only gets stronger. You incrementally rise in power. Month after month you do as you command yourself to. Aries and Gemini adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 8, 44, 2, 28 and 10.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

In 1782, lawyer and statesman Daniel Webster was born in Salisbury, New Hampshire.

The Soviets announced they'd broken through the long Nazi siege of Leningrad (it was another year before the siege was fully lifted). A U.S. ban on the sale of pre-sliced bread — aimed at reducing bakeries' demand for metal replacement parts — went into effect.

In 1957, a trio of B-52s completed the first non-stop, round-the-world flight by jet planes, landing at March Air Force Base in California after more than 45 hours aloft.

In 1993, the Martin Luther King Jr. holiday was observed in all 50 states for the first time.

In 1998, the motion picture "Titanic" won four Golden Globes, including best drama and best director for James Cameron; "Ally McBeal" beat out "Seinfeld" as the best TV comedy.

In 2005, the world's largest commercial jet, the Airbus A380 "super-jumbo" capable of flying up to 800 passengers, was unveiled in Toulouse, France.

In 2019, Jason Van Dyke, the white Chicago police officer who gunned down Black teenager Laquan McDonald in 2014, was sentenced to nearly seven years in prison.

Ten years ago: Chinese President Hu Jintao arrived at Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington for a four-day state visit; President Barack Obama welcomed him with a private dinner in the White House residence. The first director of the Peace Corps, R. Sargent Shriver, died in Bethesda, Maryland, at age 95.

Five years ago: For the first time in 17 years, civil rights leaders gathered at the South Carolina Statehouse to pay homage to the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. without the Confederate flag present; it was one of many rallies throughout the country. Eagles co-founder Glenn Frey, 67, died in New York.

One year ago: Ahead of opening statements in the impeachment trial of President Donald Trump, House prosecutors wrote that Trump had "used his official powers to pressure a foreign government to interfere in a United States election for his personal political gain," while Trump's legal team denounced what it called a "brazen and unlawful attempt to overturn the results of the 2016 election."

The National Archives said it had made a mistake when it blurred images of anti-Trump signs used in an exhibit on women's suffrage. The World War I film "1917" took top honors at the Producers Guild Awards in Los Angeles. Buckingham Palace said Prince Harry and his wife, Meghan, would no longer use the title "royal highness" or receive public funds for their work under
