

This Week In Jayton

Well, we had a lot of fun with the mystery picture this week. No one guessed it correctly until 5 p. m. Monday. Benavides at Bill Williams station camp up with the right answer. "I know where that house is," he said. "It is in Claremont, I used to live in it. He was right. It is a block east and two blocks south of the post office. It is almost hidden by the growth of brush trees.

If you don't think the people around are interested in the Jayton Chronicle, just ask Postmaster, Mrs. Russell. Last week their papers were "carried by" and ended in Ralls, and did not get back into Girard until late Monday. Sorry.

There was just one topic of conversation in Jayton Monday that was the weather. With a thermometer hanging on the wall of 100, it was very HOT. If you were in a building that was air conditioned, you didn't want to get away from it. Mid-afternoon it was so hot, only two or three kids were in the swimming pool.

Jamr Parker reports that the month of June this year the swimming pool was used almost exactly the same as in June last year; an average of 45 persons per day.

While we were in the school office Monday afternoon some called up and inquired about whether or not the anti-polio shots or pills would be administered in Jayton any time soon. The people at the school knew nothing about it.

The crops around Jayton and Kent County are looking bright and sharp now. With a good shower in the next few days, everything should be doing well.

Claud Senn is one of those fellows that believes in late planting. He never plants cotton before June 10. This usually pays off for him. He says the main thing it starves out the cotton weevil before he gets a ny cotton to feed on. About two years ago, Claud admitted he was late, and the early crops got him out.

One day this week, he admitted, that unless it rains soon, it is going to catch him out. The early cotton has already had an opportunity to get in, and it can better withstand the dry weather. But he is hoping for a good shower in the next few days that will tide him over. It has been unusually hot in June this summer anyway.

Modeling Own Clothes Is Smarter and Cheaper

SPECIAL--It's smarter! It's cheaper! And it's fun! What is? Making and modeling your own clothes.

That is the way 4-H girls feel who take part in the statewide 4-H Dress Revue program which credits not only best choice of attire, but also sewing ability.

The girls are taught modeling finesse so when they show off their handiwork they will sit, stand and walk in a graceful and poised manner. To help them acquire these talents is Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., sponsor of the national 4-H Dress Revue program for 23 years. In cooperation with the Extension Service, Simplicity stylists work with clothing specialists and local volunteer 4-H leaders. Area fashion shows are presented where 4-H girls model professionally made clothes and their own garments.

Learning to choose the right patterns, fabrics and accessories is one of the main goals of the program. Annual awards are given by Simplicity.

This year about 8 of every 100 girls participating in the program are expected to qualify for a county dress revue medal. Last year nearly 26,000 girls in a nationwide enrollment of 335,000 earned a medal, according to Extension Service reports.

The state award is an expense paid trip to the National 4-H Congress held in Chicago the first week in December. Then there are national scholarships of $600 each presented to the six most outstanding state winners.

In Chicago, Simplicity will host the 1969 state and national award winners at a fashion picnic supper which will feature an advance showing of styles for spring, 1970. A set of various sized dressmaking scissors enclosed in a personalized leather pouch will be presented to each girl by a company official. Music and entertainment will enhance the colorful party.

What more incentive could a girl want to make pattern and fabric, needle and thread, the most important things in her life, right now?

Girls who are interested in 4-H Clothing projects and the Kent County Dress Revue should get in contact with the County Home Demonstration Agent. Clothing project groups have been started in Girard and will be started in Jayton soon.

Do You Recognize It--

Here is a familiar scene in the Kent County landscape. Do you know where it is located. First person calling 7-3593 after 1 p. m. Friday with the correct answer gets a premium of one year subscription to the Jayton Chronicle.

We are throwing in an extra mystery scene this week. This field of young cotton is seen every day by many Kent Countians. The camera is pointing east in this picture. Do you know where it is? Call 7-3593 after 1 p. m. Friday with the first correct answer, and get a year's reading to the Jayton Chronicle.

Geeslins at Scout Camp At Philmont Ranch, N.M.

Mark Geeslin, Jayton, is participating in one of Scoutings' most unique training programs at Philmont Scout Ranch and Explorer Base, the "University of the Great Outdoors."

He is enrolled in the Advancement Conference, which is part of a national training program organized by the national Council, Boy Scouts of America. Geeslin, a county agent for Kent county and Texas A and M University serves as a member of the District Training Committee in the South Plains Council, BSA, which coordinates Scouting for the boys of his area.

The course, taught at the Philmont Training Center in the foothills of the Sangre De Cristo mountains, is one of 25 courses that will be offered to more than 1,000 volunteer Scout leaders this summer. Accompanying the Scouters while they are in training, more than 4,000 members of their families will be taking advantage of the full program of activities offered for all age groups.

Attending some of the special programs available for women, Mrs. Geeslin is sharing the study-vacation period with her husband and their daughter Minette and Dianna Parks, a niece.

In addition to adult training, more than 11,000 Explorers and older Boy Scouts will be visiting the 214-square mile ranch this place those now being depleted," says Corgin J. Robertson, Association president. "By the end of this century the demand for oil and gas will have doubled. Between now and 1980, some $200 billion will have to be spent to find enough energy to continue our present standard of living and guarantee national security. Clearly, the country today needs policies which will stimulate the drilling of more wells. Our reserves are shrinking."

Kent County, which has recorded production since 1946, has had a total crude oil output of 146,393,993 barrels up to the beginning of 1969. Kent County production in 1968 was 16,115,935 barrels at the rate of 44,033 barrels a day.

Texas has 36 counties scattered over the state which produced at the rate of 25,000 barrels or more per day. The three largest are: Andrews, 203,520 barrels per day; Ector, 172,654 barrels per day; and Crane, 128,839 barrels per day.

Gregg County is the only county that has produced more than two billion barrels of oil. Andrews, Ector and Rusk counties have produced more than one billion barrels of oil.

He gave as his reason for quitting his bad condition of

Kent Oil Production Hits The $146,393,993 Mark

Texas, the nation's leading oil producer, has yielded more than 21 billion barrels of oil during the past 79 years of recorded production, according to the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

This has meant a statewide distribution of income which currently averages about $3.4 billion a year. With 207 of the state's 254 counties producing crude oil, each section of the state is marked by several prolific fields. Texas' daily oil production is more than 1.1 million barrels.

Fire Destroys The Houston Ward Home

Fire completely destroyed the $50,000 ranch home of T. Houston Ward, located about 25 miles northwest of Aspermont about 3 p. m. Friday.

The structure was built in 1892 by Ward's father, the late John A. Ward, pioneer rancher. Ward was in the house at the time of the blaze but only had time to save his cars from the home's garage. The nearest fire equipment at the time was in Aspermont.

All material should be in the Chronicle office by 5 p. m. Tuesday.

FROM SEA TO SHINING SEA

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ...

... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Bowie, Tex., Strouberg, Tex.

Fourth of July, and, from sea to shining sea, our flag flies proudly. Across the nation, school bands parade, fireworks splinter, and hometown newspapers carry full-page dissertations on what it means to be an American.

And I wonder. In these troubled days of dissension and White House pickets, what does it mean? Does it mean free speech without responsibility? Does it mean moral freedom that lacks integrity?

To be sure, an American today is a citizen in a changing world; but the things that count have not changed. Inalienable rights still require us to account for our deeds.

As our ancestors migrated across this vast continent, the Church moved with them. It taught integrity, responsibility, and a calm strength in the face of danger.

In today's world of unrest and contention, the Church remains steadfast. The principles it teaches still point the way for us to be a "nation with liberty and justice for all."
