HASKELL'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS

WILL OPEN MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 14TH. SPLENDID CORPS OF TEACHERS

The work in the public schools of Haskell will begin on the 14th of September. All pupils in and above the fourth grade who were not in Haskell schools last year will be given a written examination before entering. This is due to the fact that pupils bringing report cards from other schools have, in too many instances, been inaccurately graded. Examinations will be conducted in the North Ward building on Thursday and Friday before the opening of school that such pupils may have an opportunity to verify their report cards which may be brought from other schools.

Transfer of Pupils.

Pupils who secure transfers from other districts will be given credit on their tuition in Haskell to the amount of the money allowed each pupil of school age in Texas for next year. This amount will be seven dollars and fifty cents. Parents of such pupils will be expected to pay the reguentire year of school free because of the transfer. #### A Prince Among Men

Lockett Adair, that prince among men, came to us August 15th, pulled off his and waded into the ranks of Satan with a determination, the like of which has seldom been seen.

Bro. Adair is as fearless as His condemnation of sin is powerful; his methods sane, and every proposition clear cut, so that none may misunderstand. His word pictures of sin are the most vivid I have ever heard, portraying sin in all its phases, as the most horrid thing man ever confronted. He preaches repentance to a lost and dying soul-and Haskell needed that most of all things else-in a way that every sinner can see himself as others see him-lost without God.

Among over five hundred converts and those reclaimed, the larger part is composed of strong men and women.

Bro. Adair is a general for all that word means; and I commend him and his workers to OF PRAISE mend him and his workers to my brethren everywhere, who desire a consecrated leader to lead them against Satan and his strongholds. He's "a plum good 'un." Mr. and Mrs. Flowers are the equal of any personal workers I have ever met; and Mr. Kirby has few equals as a song leader and choir director. > Second. We all understood each other. All of us knew this was not a meeting of chuches but an effort on the part of the individual believers in Christ to gain men to God. The membership of all the churches took part in the meeting. Individuals, all were lifted up to higher ground and into a purer, nobler life, filled with purpose and inspired to service for Chist. Certainly our Baptist people received gracious blessings from God and I am sure the Baptist church will profit greatly in membership, spirituality and ability to do things for God and our fellowman.

Third. The workers were all of a high type. Lockett Adair is a personality of great power. He has unwavering fath in God; he is a clear, strong, helpful preacher of the doctrines of grace. Grace unmerited on the part of man; grace coming through Christ and Christ alone to save sinners and to keep them saved as the people of God. I consider the meeting the greatest upbuilder of our town of anything that could come to our country. We have happy homes now. The father has been restored to his family. The prodigal has returned to the Father's house, and there is rejoicing in the old town today.

Some of the scenes at the tab ernacle cannot be described with pen, nor can the tongue tell of those touching scenes. The meeting reached the high flood tide on last Sunday and Monday nights, when 176 souls were born into the Kingdom of God during these two services. The blessings of this meeting is far-reaching; it means that many have changed their way of living. "Old things have passed away and all things have become new.'

What can I say of Lockett Adair and his preaching? There is just one Lockett Adair. He interprets the Bible in modern terms. When he holds up the sinner you are not mistaken as who he means. He says some hard things, but he has realized what sin will do for a man. He calls things by their right names. While his denunciations is terrific, behind it all is a a man desperately in earnest. Mrs. Flowers a Great Worker

One of the main elements of the great Co-operative meeting that has just closed in this city has been the efficient work of Mrs. R. L. Flowers among the young ladies. The Lockett Adair revival meeting which has just closed in our town, has been the greatest one ever attended. The Devil's backbone has been broken in Haskell; many men who have been outspoken enemies of the Church and Christianity have been gloriously converted, and are "workng at it."

Adair is the most powerful Revivalist I have ever heard; his singer Bro. Kirby is a power in God's hands, in bringing the lost to Christ and the great success of the meeting can largely be contributed to the efficient and untiring labors of Bro. and Sister Flowers who as personal workers and organizers of men and women for personal work, are truly "flowers" in God's Kingdom.

Adair Is Strong and Practical

Rev. Lockett Adair and his workers, Bro. The old town of Haskell has been renovated as never before, and the Lockett Adair meeting is the cause of it all. This brother with his well organized corps of assistants, his energetic, unique and sometimes startling methods of work has reached men and women, some of whom had grown old in the ways of sin. A wonderful blessing has come to our town and the Master is using Lockett Adair for a great work.

We find the different churches laying down differences and working for the Master, making a common cause. Men have gone and gotten men out of bed, taken them to meeting, have seen strong men melted down as a little child. Bro. He has followed the system of Christ in his preaching. That advertisements on First Page, 15 cents is, he has hit the evil ways of this people. By the time the Free Press reaches its readers the Germans will be at the very gates of Paris but will be in a dangerous trategic posinion.

Winston Churchill has a splended copyright interview in the Dallas Evening Journal of last Sunday morning. He speaks seriously of the preasent war and its consequences.

Every time there is a big battle the Austrian Emperor congratulates the German Emperior and tells him he won it by his "iron will." The poor soldiers who did the fighting gets the gracious approval of their Emperors who will live to appropriate all the honors.

The legislature is hammering away on a cotton ware house bill. There are so many members that it will take a long time to thrash | man?" out a bill, and then it will probments. A lot of amendments to bills are offered for notoriety or through downright stubborness.

The war is about the most interesting subject the dailey aches, pains or soreness of the papers contain, yet if the papers discuss the war in their editorials good qualities of Chamberlain's they offend someone. Before the war is over however, people will get use to discussion, and take their medicine like men. If the press had been free in Europe, and been imbued with the proper principles, the people would be Polly-"When they came back against a senseless war, and if the power of the war lords was properly limited, there would have been no war.

The president has requested the Americans not to comment on the war in Europe. It is hard to refrain from doing so. We see in this war such terrible possibilities to progress of the world. We think of many things to say that would be good for the beligerants to consider as well as our readers. The civilization of the Slav, the Tueton and the Anglo Saxon are on trial before the courts of humanity. We believe the same laws of justice binds nations that binds individuals, the sins of nations will find them out, and that God reigns in ing one tenth each year. Heaven We believe the moral If you want a laws revealed to man are as immutable as the physical laws. The earth and heavens may pass away but the laws will still be in force The man or nation that disre ands these laws will reap res of sin in death.

Why Tyler College Graduates Draw Large Salaries

The graduates of the Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, draw the largest salaries of any business college graduates in the state. The reason is plain. This school gives the most thorough, complete and extensive courses of stenography, business training, telegraphy and business administration and finance to be found anywhere. With our advantages of the tamous Byrne systems of Bookkeeping and Shorthand we reduce the time required for completing a course from two to four months over what is required in other schools.

The Russian War Office Buys

And all American owners sing "Mitchell, Mitchell, You're a Grand Old Car."

The Russian War Office recently went into the motor market to buy cars. The Mitchell was one of the cars they considered.

Since money was no object, but motor virtues the essentials, they considered a large number of cars. These cars had to submit to the most exacting tests. Road reliability was imperative.

For six months cars were subjected to terrific usage. In addition, the Russian War Office studied each car scientifically and mechanically.

Finally the Mitchell passed all tests triumphantly and proved itself to be a thoroughly reliable, powerful and speedy car, so the Mitchell was selected above all others. These cars were stock cars. The same cars identically as are being sold today by every Mitchell dealer in America handling these 1915 cars. Call and let me demonstrate, and go through this car with you.

The press and the people of of the state seem to be in agreement in one matter at least and that is that this is no time for hot air ortory in the legislature or by politicians before the legislature.
