

Garden Club Meeting In Robert Lewis Home

Week In Jayton

On May 5, the Levelland Garden Club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis of Jayton.

Mrs. Lewis served a delicious luncheon to the group at 12 noon. In the afternoon they went on tour of the Lewis farms and viewed the beautiful wild flowers and gathered material for flower arrangements and home decorations. Mrs. Lewis was a member of the Garden Club while she lived in Levelland.

Those attending were Mesdames Harold Arant, Murrell Brown, T. H. Copeland, A. B. French, Huff Pope, E. O. Schoenrock, W. J. Smith, Fletcher Lewis and Paul Burgett. Mr. Burgett was a special guest for the affair.

Con. Graham Purcell Issues Statement On Cambodian Crisis

The current situation in Southeast Asia is a matter of grave concern to the entire nation. The experiences of the last several days, and specifically the tragedy at Kent State University, have clearly underlined the intensity of national feeling on this issue.

Frankly, I am concerned that Congress had been neither consulted nor informed of the situation. Although many members of Congress have chosen to formally support the President "after the fact," this war has never been formally recognized as such by Congress and it remains a Constitutional prerogative of this body to concern itself with any commitment which the United States makes.

Nevertheless, from the primary standpoint of the safety of our forces as we dis-engage from this conflict, the President's action is commendable. If these staging areas exist and they are an imminent danger to the safety of United States troops as we disengage, it is a prudent decision which has my wholehearted support.

One thing must be clear. The President has informed the American public that this action has been taken solely for the safety of our men. My support for this action, then, is contingent upon the removal of American troops from Cambodia the minute this situation is no longer a clear and present threat.

The President has committed this nation, with the explicit approval of Congress, to a policy of "Vietnamization." Last fall, as an original co-sponsor of a House Resolution approving the President's program, I announced my continued respect for the role of the President regarding the conduct of the United States of Southeast Asia.

This most recent move, however, has left me with some misgivings, since Congress was not allowed to express itself to the issue. I strongly urge, therefore, that when the Cambodian action achieves the ends which the President explained to the nation last week, we see not only our quick withdrawal from Cambodia, but also an immediate resumption of the "Vietnamization" of this war-- hopefully at an even faster rate than we were told was feasible before this involvement in Cambodia.

Jayton HD Club Meets

The Jayton Home Demonstration Club met May 7th at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Laura Fuller. The president, Mrs. Glenn Hancock called the meeting to order. Nine members answered roll call.

Mrs. K. P. Brantner, who was one of the THDA delegates to Vernon, Texas, April 17th, gave a report on the meeting.

Pat Nilson gave the program for the day on "Decorating Homes." The next meeting will be May 28th at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. K. P. Brantner.

Know Your Faculty

The job of driving a school bus requires a great deal of patience. Getting up early in the morning to make one's rounds and be at the school by 8:15 a. m. is hard enough to do by itself, much less putting up with all of the noise that always characterizes a vehicle full of kids. Settling squabbles, keeping everyone seated, and driving safely are all duties of a bus driver.

Thus we at Jayton High School extend our thanks of appreciation to our bus drivers and welcome them back for the coming year in Jaybird land.

There was an interesting incident that took place in the Jayton Chronicle office Monday afternoon.

Present, in addition to the editor and wife, were Robert Lewis, chairman of the Board of Directors of the bank; Bob Hagar, County Judge, and Gordon Hamilton, County Commissioner. Quite a collection of dignitaries, wouldn't you say?

I promised them I wouldn't reveal their conversation and intentions following. But you might ask one of them about it to see what they tell you.

The Chronicle staff, somewhere in the process, lost an item last week. That was C. D. Drell's note of thanks to the voters. But we are running out of this week. Sorry, Bill.

Just think, only one more week of school in Jayton. Many of them will not be back, including the seniors and their sponsors who will be in New Orleans on the senior trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Williams and children, Mrs. Eldon Smith and Terry of Lubbock spent Mother's Day with Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hamilton of Midland.

Kent Farmers Need To Certify Acreage

Early certification by Kent County farmers in the voluntary farm programs will mean earlier program payments, according to W. E. Walker, chairman of the Kent County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

Certification must be made by the disposition dates: May 15, for Wheat and August 15 for Feed grain and Cotton. When certification is made earlier, the certification date becomes the final farm disposition date. Mr. Walker cautioned farmers against guesswork. He advised that they must know their exact acreage of feed grain, wheat and cotton. They must also know the acreage diverted from wheat and feed grains, and that they have met their farms' conserving base requirements.

When a farmer certifies his compliance with the farm program provisions, the Kent County ASCS Office begins processing the papers so that he will receive full payment as soon as possible after July 1. Target date for completion of 1970 farm program payments is July and August.

Farmers are reminded of the following major points involved in certifying they are in compliance with the farm programs:

Certification must be exact. Spot checks may be made at any time following certification. If an error is found, some or all of the program payments may be lost. After certification, adjustments cannot be made to bring acreage into compliance.

Finish planting before making certification. Be sure the allotment, base, or permitted acreage has not been exceeded on all farms in which the farmer or his immediate family has an interest.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fist In The Face

"Your right to shake your fist ends where the other fellow's nose begins." This maxim is often quoted by lawyers to illustrate that there are limits to each person's freedom. And the maxim is true enough, as far as it goes.

But it leaves out the fact that simply shaking your fist may also be unlawful, even before it reaches the other fellow's nose. If your fist is sufficiently menacing, you would be committing an "assault," for which the victim is entitled to damages.

The word "assault" is frequently joined with "battery" in the phrase "assault and battery." They are, however, two different things. An assault is the mere threat of bodily harm—a mental injury. A battery is the harm itself—a physical injury.

True, the threat doesn't amount to an assault unless it comes close to being carried out—that is, close to becoming a battery. Otherwise, the law treats the threat as empty bluster, not hurtful enough to be considered unlawful. Take this case:

An irate telephone caller, losing patience with the operator, cried:

"If I were there, I would break your neck."

Assault? A court said no, because—with plenty of distance between the two parties and with an "if" in the threat—it was not menacing enough to support a claim.

Even when the parties are face-to-face, the law won't protect the Nervous Nellie who sees danger where most people would see none. In another case, during an argument, a man shook his finger at a woman seated eight feet away. She sued him for assault, but the court turned her down. The judge said it was foolish of her to be frightened by such an innocuous gesture.

What if there is no danger in fact, but the person has good reason to believe that there is?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

He's always there on that busy corner—like thousands of other paper boys across the land.

And he doesn't get discouraged though you ignore him day after day. Give him so much as a glance and you'll hear his hopeful, "PAPER... MISTER?"

What makes him so ready and eager to serve? It's the certainty that he has something everybody needs.

On many corners there are churches. And they never cease urging you to come... always ready... eager to serve!

Here again is the certainty of something EVERYBODY needs!

What they have has come to be called the Gospel—an ancient word that means "Good News." A few Sundays in church and you'll understand why!

pantry patter

By Pat Nilson, CHDA

Centuries ago, bread held a social position and was highly valued. The loaf it has not changed significantly except in texture from the first Stone Age pieces found in the ruins of Pompeii.

An Egyptian baker is said to have discovered leavened bread when he accidentally left out a portion of dough from the day's cooking. When he discovered the next day, the dough had begun to rise. The baker, in fear of his master, quickly shaped the loaf and baked it--producing the first leavened loaf. In France and Spain, 2,000 years ago, bakers used yeast obtained from surface vats of fermented wine.

Bread has held many political, medicinal, and religious meanings. W. W. Lane "The Modern Egyptian" describes the many times he observed an Egyptian pick up a piece of bread which had fallen on the street put it between his lips and forehead 3 times, and place it to one side--so a dog might eat it later rather than have it trampled and wasted.

Bread has been credited with magical powers. Toasted bread steeped in cider was regarded as a cure for headaches and colic. A bread paste applied to the face was a favorite Algerian treatment for toothache and neuralgic pains. Many homes had bread crusts hanging in a corner as protection from sin and trouble. "Sin-eating" was once common in England. Old men, no longer able to do heavy work accepted a small fee for eating a loaf of bread at a funeral--thereby taking the sins of the dead person on himself.

Whole wheat bread and enriched breads and cereals are good sources of B-Vitamins. Each person should eat four servings daily of foods from the Bread-Cereal food group. This includes breads, cereals, macaroni and spaghetti, noodles, rice, oats and cornmeal.

Our recipe this week was contributed by Patricia Gregory of the Girard Community 4-H Club.

NEWS OF ECOLOGY PREVENTING ODORS

The noxious odors that come from garbage pails are becoming a thing of the past. So are garbage cans.

New York City experiments using bags instead of cans, show a 20% increase in collection efficiency. John J. Delury, President of the City's Uniformed Sanitationmen's Association, hailed bags as the most important change in refuse collection "since switching from horse-drawn carts to trucks."

The trend toward using plastic garbage bags is saving dollars as well as scents, for it takes workers less time to throw the bags into trucks than to empty garbage cans, pick up any spillage, then return the cans to where they belong.

At Union Carbide Corporation, manufacturer of the "Glad" Disposer Trash Bags used in the project, experts have found that when burned under incineration, the plastic bags turn almost entirely into carbon dioxide and water vapor, and that a bag no more contributes to air pollution than does an equal quantity of burning paper.

Sanitation men are happy about the switch to plastic bags, for they reduce back injuries, and injuries to the eyes, faces and hands. Homeowners are pleased because of reduction not only in odors, but also in noise pollution--no banging cans. Appropriately enough, even the plastic bags are "Glad."

BATHTUBS ARE IMMERSED IN HISTORY

Early bathtubs didn't exactly make a splash. In the 15th century, for example, Queen Isabella of Spain declared that she only had two baths in her life--including one when she was married. At that time, according to scribes who kept track of scrubs, many boasted that they never took a bath at all!

Bathtubs have been running same people didn't let soap go down the drain. They used it as medicine to cleanse wounds, and the Gauls were known to develop a shampoo from fats and ashes.

despite modern conveniences, the bathtub is long and narrow. Family baths, in which all participate in large circular tubs of steaming hot water, are still taken in many gardens.

The first public baths were introduced in the United States in Boston in 1766. And Benjamin Franklin is credited with this innovation. At the time some members of the medical community denounced the

The Romans originated the bathing house and mass public bathing, which got them in hot water with the church. It was suggested by clergymen that bathing be for cleansing purposes only and that social and other activities be confined to more suitable surroundings. Many mixed bathing places hot and cold through history. Queen Elizabeth I of England was far from washed up when she revealed to a confidant that she bathed herself once a month whether she required it or not.

The art of keeping one's self clean, however, goes back to the Bronze Age thousands of years ago when denizens of a palace on what is now the island of Crete literally put were then closed and others operated at different hours for members of each sex.

From the 14th through the 17th century, the Romans, Greeks, Mohammedans and Russians outdid one another in building architectural monuments to the bath. Giant murals and sculptures were featured, and the introduction of steam rooms and perfumed and oil baths to soak the rich became the rage.

In the Far East, notably Japan, bathing has always been an art. Most Japanese houses even today have the old-fashioned circular tub. In some of that nation's biggest hotels, public bath as "wicked, narcissistic vanity."

Bathing now holds water as a joy rather than a ritual. Experts at the Shulton Company note there is a marked preference, particularly among ladies, for exotic soaps, and bath oils. Many of the new concepts of today's luxury bath--such as Vive Le Bain, a collection of perfumes and other liquid assets--serve a double purpose. They add fragrance to the bath and tone to the skin.

Nowadays, few Americans put a damper on bathing, and the bath is both a means of cleanliness and relaxation. It's a welcome activity and provides a clean victory for those who'd rather not throw in the towel.

During Monday night's storm at Lubbock, one of the estimated three tornadoes that hit the downtown section pulled huge marble squares from the sides of the First National-Pioneer Building and crushed many cars parked below. Political Thank You Notes

LETTER OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the vote and support in the first democratic primary for Commissioner in precinct four. I appreciate the opportunity and privilege you have given me to run for re-election in the second democratic primary June 6.

It is my desire to make this county a better place for all of us to live in now as in the future. And as I see you in this campaign please feel free to discuss your ideas about the needs of Kent County and how they can be improved, both in the country and in the towns.

It is a pleasure to visit with you and I look forward to seeing all of you again during this campaign.

Again, thank you for your support during the first primary and I earnestly and sincerely ask for your vote on election day, June 6.

PORTABLE, IDEAL MEAL FOR HIKERS ON A DIET

Camping gets pleasanter all the time. Far from roughing it, this summer's campers can enjoy plenty of conveniences — with less fuss and bother than ever before. Bulky bedrolls have been replaced by sleeping bags, often purchased with premium stamps. A small hibachi, easily carried in the back of the car, will substitute neatly for a firepit, and save both digging and wood-gathering. Do all the cooking in heavy-duty foil or large coffee cans so that cookware is easily disposable into the nearest litter can along with the rest of your trash.

Try Colorado Burgers as a new cooked-in-foil main meal. Place hamburgers on individual squares of foil. On top of each put catsup, mustard, mayonnaise and instant onion. Wrap foil securely and throw on coals or grate. Turn once. The foil puffs slightly when burgers are done.

As the ideal meal on short hikes, as a picnic lunch or for figure-watchers, try new Slender diet food from Carnation in pull-top cans. It provides energy, comes in a variety of flavors, has everything but extra calories. Campers and hikers are just some of the outdoor types who can most actively appreciate the portability of this ready-to-drink food. Cans tuck easily into backpacks or hobo bags, for a high-protein pick-me-up anytime. Slip cans into a mountain stream, or submerge them in sand at water's edge while you're fishing, starting the campfire or simply relaxing... and in no time you can enjoy a delicious cool drink. Try all these al fresco flavors: Chocolate, Chocolate Fudge, Vanilla, Butterscotch, and Chocolate Malt. All are formulated without cyclamates, and made with milk protein to give you the energy you need at only 225 calories per can. Great way to slake a thirst worked-up in the great outdoors! And you may find this will be the Slenderest summer of your life.

(Gemini, May 22-June 22)

Intelligent, quick-witted and lively, Geminians are "jacks-of-all-trades," but especially the trades which mean plenty of movement both of mind and body.

In love, those born under the sign are coolly affectionate, very expressive but rarely deeply held. They are joyful when they get the chance to experiment and explore, ask questions and make connections. Job-wise, they often work in the communications field, where they can gather and connect facts.

Traditionally they enjoy travel and frequently send flowers from places they visit. As PTD florists are easily accessible and can have flowers delivered anywhere in the world, Geminians jump at the chance to do so.

Among the signs germane to Gemini are its flower, the yellow chrysanthemum, its birthstone, aquamarine, and the main trait of those born under it, versatility. With such diverse interests, Geminians must constantly guard against flightiness, disorganization and superficiality. When successful, they are gems!

TO THE VOTERS OF PRE - CINCT NO. 2

I'd like to take this opportunity to express my thanks and appreciation for all that was done for me in the Primary election.

I want to thank each and everyone who in any way might have helped me to be in the runoff.

I realize the battle is only half won. And I will appreciate your vote in the next election, June 6.

I hope all those who voted in this last election will vote again, and urge those who did not vote to do so.

Thanks again to each of you who helped me before, and those that didn't vote for me, I will surely appreciate all that you can do for me in the runoff.

Thanks to all of you,
Carlos Dickerson

TO THE VOTERS OF PREC. 4

I would like to take this means of thanking the people, I met and visited during the recent campaign.

I will say a special "Thank You" to the seventy-seven who voted for me. I consider it a very close race, as it would have taken only a few votes to have made a different outlook.

Again, I say, "Thank you".
Hamlin Stanaland.

CARD OF THANKS

Dear Friends,
We want to take this means of thanking you for all your prayers, visits, flowers, cards, and letters and the love offering you have given to us since John has been ill.

We tried to write each of you personally but there have been so many different people doing so many different things for us, time just has not permitted us to do this so we want you to accept this as our thanks until we can have time to write you.

It is a time like this that we really appreciate our many friends. Your kindness has made this illness a lot easier to bear.

We pray that God's richest blessings will be upon each of you.

John Martin, Mary Lynn,
and family

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank Bobby Ted Gallagher, Lewis Hilton, Royce Stanaland and Thomas Smith for going to Abilene to give blood for W. D. (Bill) Johnson.

We received word Tuesday that he is progressing real well since surgery a week ago.

A special thanks to the judge for making the boys and giving blood also.

This proves to us again that a friend in need is a friend indeed. Bill Johnson is brother of Mrs. Cla Parke.

May the good Lord richly bless each one for this good deed.

YOU DON'T NEED TO USE NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING! IF YOU THINK SO, THEN

PREACHERS - Should preach only one sermon or so a year. We are all against sin anyway, so why harp on it?

TRAFFIC LIGHTS - Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity. Everybody knows it's a dangerous spot and that is sufficient.

TEACHERS - No need to review lessons. Tell the children just once and they'll never forget.

HIGHWAY POLICE - Stop driving up and down the highways. No need to caution drivers by patrolling highways. Drivers know the law and should obey.

IF YOU ARE ONE OF THE foolish kind, like the Notre Dame Cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is there and if you believe in consistent profitable advertising, then you will...
