This Week In Jayton

You had better start collecting pennies, because as soon as the Legislature gets the new tax written, you will have to pay a penny sales tax, even when you buy a cup of coffee.

Also, the next time you go by the station to fill up your gas tank, take a good look at the price sign on the pump, because when the Legislature passes the new tax, gasoline very likely will cost you two more cents for every gallon you burn.

If you have a bit of stock in some corporation, take a look at your dividend sheet, because also the Legislature is liable to tax your corporation dividends too.

For all of this, what is Mr. John Q. getting? I don't really know. The school teachers have been promised a raise by some of the Legislators, and people on welfare have been promised a raise and a few things like that. But you might have to look real carefully to find any place where the average on the street tax payer will have an opportunity to see any of this tax money.

I heard two farmers talking Sunday. They were talking

Old Jayton Landmarks Are Torn Down

A new era in the history of Jayton began last week, when workmen, started the demolition of three long time Jayton business buildings. These buildings at one time represented the heart of Jayton, the grocery, the hardware and the dry goods store. But not anymore.

Well, Jayton won't be the same anymore.

But one wonderful thing about it, on this site in the near future will be a very beautiful community building and library, and as for literal beauty, it will be a great improvement. And who would want to stop beauty and improvement?

UNKEL ZEKE SEZ

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

What ever come of the idea of taxpayers sending in their returns in envelopes of certain colors that would tell the Government what income bracket they fell in? I hope it was forgotten, but if there's a vote in it you can rest assured the plan will pop up agin one of these days.

Actual, Mister Editor, fer all I know they may already have a wide color fer different incomes. I never pay that much attention. That is one advantage to not having enuff income to rate a color. We try to keep the taxes paid up on our little plans, and that don't leave much income to be taxed these days.

The fellers was discussing all this spyin by the Government Saturday night at the country store, and the talk got around to Senator Sam Ervin's work to keep a little privacy fer the private citizen. The senator, alamed Clem Webster, ain't having a easy time of it.

Clem had saw where Senator Ervin reported the Government has final admitted that computers can make mistakes, and that citizens can appeal to a computer errors changed. The trouble is, Clem allowed, Government computer centers are free to exchange all kind of personal information about anybody, and if one of them machines makes a mistake, the same mistake is recorded in a dozen different places. This way, a citizen don't have much chance ever getting his record straight.

The senator is trying to git outfits like gas companies to admit their computers ain't perfect, and he says this is harder than showing the Government the light. Onet a computer sends a feller a wrong bill, it's cheaper in the long run to pay it than to fight it, Clem said.

The way the Government is rounding up things about us, it's hard to be suprised at what they think of. But this color coded envelop idee might catch on and spread to other collecting businesses. It would be somepun, fer instant, if the churches started sending out an envelop with two red stripes to ever member that ain't darked the doors in six month. And what if banks had three red stripes fer them that had got a couple months behind in their payments?

Practical speaking, Mister Editor, computers probable do some good and don't cause no more trouble than coded envelops would. I see computers is used to match homeless younguns with folks that want to adopt em, to match boys and girls fer dates and to keep Social Security records.

Our lives from cradle to grave is jest little holes in cards stored everwhere from Washington to the loan companies.

Mod Moms Complete Upholstery Projects

Last week the first group of Mod Moms was busy completing their upholstery projects here at the extension office, according to the County H.D. Agent.

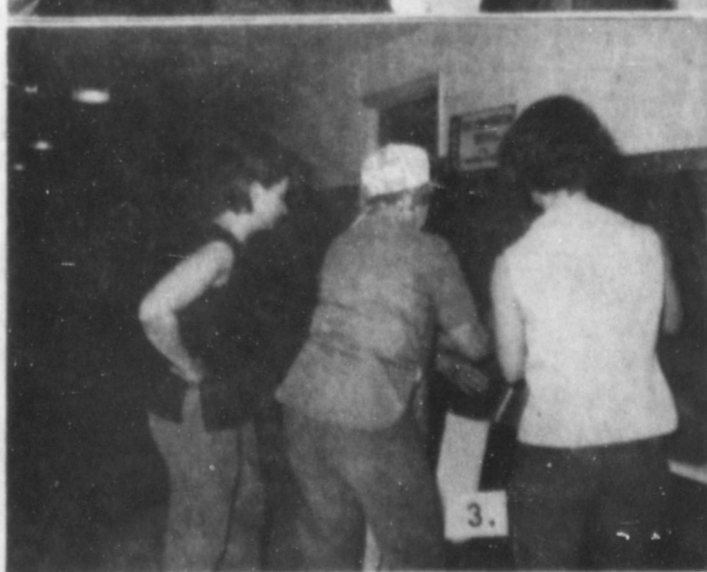

We relied on some of the Home Demonstration Club member, to do the teaching. Mrs. Ben Boland, Mrs. Jarri Parker and Mrs. Hugh Turner from Girard donated their time, advise and quite a bit of labor to teaching.

We couldn't have managed without them since the Extension Service feels that teaching upholstery is out of date and there fore specialists are not available to teach Home Demonstration Agents or anyone else.

Most colleges do not offer courses in upholstery and as a result the HD Agents are very little in this area.

Sylvia Sartain has completed her project. She covered her husband's recliner in an amber colored vinyl. Sylvia would advise beginners not to tackle a recliner especially if it belongs to the husband. Mrs. Jarri Parker and Nikki Phillips finished Nikki's platform rocker. Nikki used gold, embossed vinyl to cover her chair. A platform rocker is very difficult for the first project unless you have an expert helping you, states Mrs. Stansland.

Bette League is still working on her recliner. She is covering her chair in moss green velvet and redoing the arms. She is also going to pad the wooden arms and cover them in velvet. Next week, Bea Shipp, Roseanna Johnson and Jan Montgomery will start on their chairs.

1. Nikki Phillips (facing camera) and Mrs. Jarri Parker are putting the buttons on Nikki's chair cushion.
2. Mrs. Hugh Turner from Girard is putting the finishing touches on Bill Sartain's recliner. Mrs. Parker and Nikki Phillips are working on Nikki's chair.

3. Sylvia Sartain, Mrs. Hugh Turner, Mrs. Ben Boland (hidden behind Mrs. Turner) and Bert Stansland had many problems with Sartain recliner.
4. Bette League, Sylvia Sartain and Bert Stansland.
5. "Oh I wish I had stayed at home!" says Mrs. Boland.
6. Husband and children wondered if these women would ever finish. Nikki Phillips, Mrs. Boland, and Cleo Phillips.

High School Cover Girl Keeps Sun-Warmed Look All Year

One look at Debbie Toscano, the national High School Cover Girl, and you know this glowing brunette from Scottsdale, Arizona is a winner. Although her poise, as well as her exotic yet fresh appeal, helped her win the High School Cover Girl title, Debbie feels she owes success to her special sun-warmed look. All through the year she's outdoors every possible minute and while being tanned comes naturally, she works at keeping her complexion softly smooth and radiant.

Knowing that sun tends to dry out the skin, Debbie never washes her face with soap. Instead she always cream-washes with Noxzema and water because the fluffy white medicated cream has cleansing and moisturizing properties that soap can't match. Keeping her warm coloring at its magnificent best is the next thing Debbie works at. And Cover Girl Make-up is her sun-time steady. "When I won the High School Cover Girl Contest, it was the greatest thing that ever happened to me," says Debbie. "Besides all the fantastic things I saw and did, I learned a lot. Big things. And little things... like catching on to make-up clues from the experts. I used to have a problem matching my evening make-up to my tan. You know how it is... you're in the sun a lot for a while and your tan is really deep. Then you're indoors for a while and your coloring changes. Wow! Who can afford to buy a dozen different make-up shades? Thanks to the contest I've learned how to create my own individual sun shades just like the models do. "When my tan is just starting I wear Cover Girl Liquid Make-up in Medium. As my coloring gets deeper I blend a little Brunette into it and when my tan gets even darker, I add more Brunette until eventually I only use Brunette. As my tan lightens I reverse the process!" Debbie loved modeling in New York, but she found that it was much more demanding than in Arizona where she models after school. "I noticed that the really top models were intelligent and self-disciplined—not at all the way they're pictured in some movies and books." It's easy to see why Debbie Toscano is a winner... her sunshine comes from inside too.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Foot in the Door

To the bus driver waiting at the wheel, it seemed that the fat lady was his final customer. But behind her, unseen by the driver, a girl was also preparing to come aboard. She had already gotten one foot in the door when he closed it and started to move. The girl was flung to the pavement and injured. In due course, she sued the bus company for damages.

"Even if his view was blocked by that fat lady," she told the court, "he had no right to close the door without double-checking. After all, a common carrier owes a high degree of care to its passengers."

A parallel problem arises at journey's end: at what moment does the passenger lose his special status? In another case a passenger alighted at a bus stop, began to cross the street, and was knocked down by a second bus passing the one he had just left. Here, he claimed damages on the theory that his driver should have warned him that another bus was following.

But the court said the driver could not be blamed, because the man had lost his status as a passenger. Once safely discharged, said the court, a passenger turns into just another pedestrian.

A COOL DESSERT

Meringue is the crowning touch for a refrigerator torte. The torte is made by spreading a mixture of dairy sour cream, whipped sweet cream, and strawberries between lemon flavored sugar cookies. For chocolate fanciers, substitute 1 1/2 ounces (3 tablespoons) grated sweet chocolate for the strawberries. The cookies are then stacked in a roll and refrigerated 4 hours while the cookies swell and become cake-like in texture. After the roll is spread with meringue, it's sprinkled with almonds and baked to a golden brown. Then served, cut in diagonal slices.

MERINGUE STRAWBERRY TORTE

- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup heavy cream, very stiffly beaten
1/2 cup small pieces strawberries
16 Lemon Jumble Rings
2 large egg whites, at room temperature
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons sliced blanched almonds

Blend together first three ingredients. Gently fold in cream and strawberries. Spread cookies generously with cream mixture, placing one spread cookie upon another; make three stacks of approximately five. Stand stacks on edge on cookie sheet to make one long roll. Refrigerate 4 hours.

Close to serving time, preheat oven to 475° F. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; gradually beat in sugar, add lemon juice and continue beating until moist distinct peaks form. Spread meringue over all surfaces of roll. Sprinkle almonds on top. Bake 3 to 4 minutes or until delicately browned. Serve immediately. Makes 8 (approximately 1-inch) servings.

Tip: Leftover roll may be aluminum foil wrapped and frozen. Thaw at room temperature 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

about the temperature of the soil. This means they are considering putting some seed of some kind in the ground. It's getting about that time of the year.

The weather is warming up, and summer will soon be here. I recall when I was in school (a good while ago) about this time every year, at the school where I attended, not too far away, was a large pond, and all the boys had a nice swim, in their nature suit. Of course most of the parents knew nothing about this. And, man, was that water cold. But to admit it would entitle one to wear the name of chicken, and who wants to be called a chicken.

I've got a follow up on my article two weeks ago about the Lubbock policemen joining the union, giving one reason for this that they did not like the idea of being on the quota system of writing tickets.

A few days ago I was talking to a supervisory officer of another enforcement agency (not city police). He did the very thing that every supervisory officer will do—he said he didn't think the Lubbock policemen were on a quota. "Why, they have some men on the force over there that are so lazy, they wouldn't make a move, or give a ticket if they saw a serious violation take place right in front of them." Could be!

What do you think about the current issue between famous members of Congress and J. Edgar Hoover, long time head of the FBI?

I have nothing against Mr. Hoover. In so far as I know he has done a wonderful job. But I think it is time for him to retire. A new man could take over and reorganize the agency, and maybe accomplish some great reforms in this particular branch of the government. In most branches of the government, retirement is forced at the age of 70. Sir Edgar is several years past that age.

Col. Homer Garrison of Texas Department of Public Safety operated his agency for many years with a fine reputation. The only person you could find that would criticize him, was some one that had at one time had an unhappy encounter with one of his men, and was unhappy because the good Colonel would not fire the culprit.

But, then Garrison retired a short time before his death, and a new man, Pat Spears took over, and those in the know, will tell you he has initiated some new measures that have been needed doing for a long time.

Us old folks just get set in our ways. We like to continue doing things the way we have always done them, and Mr. Hoover is no exception.

I am sure he has some fine men in the upper echelons of the department that could really update the agency—something it has been needing for a long time.

You're a right to disagree with me, if you want to.

Ho hum, I see where the Army is starting a new court martial of a Viet Nam officer for civilian cruelty. Great stuff. The court will find him guilty, and public opinion will differ. You know, come to think of it, there are a lot of changes that could be made in the military's way of doing things, too.

Are you one of those who are fussing about how slow the mail runs? I could let you in on a secret. I know how some of it happens.

Someone over at the local post office has a habit of putting other people's mail in my box. This happens quite often.

Back some time ago, one of these letters showed up in my mail, on my desk one morning. As I was sorting out the junk mail and pissing it in the round file, there was this letter to a local business. I put it to one side with the thought "I'll get this back to the post office some time today." Six weeks later I found this letter still in my office. So I put it back in the post office right quickly.

Boy, what do you suppose the fellow to whom the letter was addressed thought about the time it took him to get that letter?

With that kind of confession, I guess I better close out for this week. What do you think?

Vanessa Fowler, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Aspermont recently went to school for one whole day. Her pre-school get started day.

For one thing they had to be down all the time and her grades were very good. She got all A's four to be exact, but she counts them different—

For two extra she pointed to her card and asked isn't that an A... yes that's an A for the letter in Aspermont, isn't that A... yes that is an A for that letter in April, well there are 6 A's in --no way is she to be deprived of her 6 A's. Isn't it nice, and wonderful for the innocents of children?

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Phillips went to see his sister at Wichita Falls recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koonce spent the weekend at Wewoka, Okla., with their daughter Johanne Lou and family, they had every thing was so pretty and so nice till they got to Wichita Falls then the drought in where the rain is needed so very badly.

Received a letter from Mrs. C. L. Woods of Arnette, Okla., saying they had received a few flowers, but not nearly enough; that it was too late to help the wheat there if they could get rain now. But maybe the grass would get started.

Mrs. Marshall Cox is in the Hamlin Hospital. Marshall took her last Wednesday for a treatment on her back. It is hoped she will be home in a day or so.

It has been reported that Jack Myers is very seriously ill in Las Vegas, Nev. Hospital after suffering a serious heart attack Saturday. She is in intensive care. Mrs. Myers and her sister Mrs. Rose Lee Myers flew out to visit their brothers and families.

Mrs. Lillian Grisham the mother of Mrs. Pike Nichols passed away. Her funeral was scheduled for 2:30 April 25 at the First Baptist Church in Collins.

Mrs. Erma Black of Merkel and Willie Bell Freeman of Lubbock visited Mrs. Barfoot over the weekend.

Mrs. Joe McDaniels of Spur and Mrs. Jackson East of last week.

Mrs. Noel Lee of Girard, and Mrs. Lena East and Mrs. Eva Hahn Sunday evening.

Office Supplies at the Jayton Chronicle

Howard Goswick has recovered from a severe case of the flu. He was able to be in church Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Koonce was seeing her sister and her mother Monday of last week. Her mother was well, but her sister has been in the hospital 21 days with back ailment. She hopes that surgery will not be necessary.

Mrs. Herbert (Maxine) Wade is reported to be seriously ill and that her condition is unchanged. Mozelle talked with Herb on Thursday night and reported that she is being fed by IV Methods. They are hoping for further news soon.

If you would like to get in touch with cards, etc., write her Mrs. Maxine Wade Washoe County Hospital Reno, Nevada Lauda Geeslin is in Temple with her mother, Mrs. Rose, where she had surgery last Wednesday for rebuilding her hip. This is a very new thing in surgery, but has been very successful on other patients.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brantner moved to Stratford Sunday, April 25th, where Ralph had a new job waiting for him. We wish for them the best of everything in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brantner have recently moved to Orlando, Florida where Ronald is with the Government Crop Reporting Service. They are liking there real well, according to reports. They had lived close to Wash. D. C. for the last several years as he was working in the National office there.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goswick recently went to Shreveport, La. to visit Howard's father, his brother and sister.

They took the two grandsons, and while they were there they got all the grand-dads separated. It goes like this: Howard is Grandad, Buster is Peppe, Bonnie's father is Granddad Parks and then Howard's father is Dad Goswick; so there is no guessing as to who they are speaking about when they talk. That's great!

Those attending the funeral of Mrs. Lillian Grisham in Abilene from Jayton were Mrs. Ladell McAteer, Mrs. Billy C. Dibrell, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hamilton, Norman Hahn, Bob Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Newton, and Bill McMeans.

Lee J. Harrison, son Loy, two grandsons, Tommy and Johnny of Austin visited his sister Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hogard over the weekend.

Melba Jones of Snyder visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Grady Jones and sister and family over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Boland had business in Snyder Friday, of last week.

Glennis Vencil took Will Reagan, home at Eastland over the weekend. He had spent the past week with the Vencil's in Jayton. He went to Lubbock with Bill and while there he took care of some business. It's reported all had a nice visit.

On Sunday just as the Bill Daniels were finishing breakfast, three nieces and nephews came to visit from Wichita Falls. They were Louise Parker, Francis Souther, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Miller, needless to say there was some teasing about the late, late breakfast their aunt and uncle were having.

Ricky and Marsanett are now at their home. Ricky is getting around, these days, you can't keep a good man down.

Tommy Euning held a revival at the Methodist Church at Dumas last week.

Jackie Williams is at home after having surgery in the Stamford recently he is improving but not up to foot race as yet.

Buddy Gallagher is up and about still on the weak side, but feeling much better. Take it easy Bill stronger is a pretty good motto don't over do.

Mrs. Hartense North attended the funeral of her Great Uncle Frank Skinner the uncle of Mrs. J. S. Sandell in Lubbock last week. While there she picked Ann Brown Randolph up at the airport as she had flew in from Calif. to be with her mother who is in the Stamford Hospital, recovering surgery.

W. K. Joiner was under the weather with a sore throat last week but is now much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Lee visited their children, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Webb, Karla and Kala in Lubbock over the weekend. They attended Church services while there and visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Shafer. Mrs. Shafer had just returned home with a bout of pneumonia spending some 9 days in the hospital.

I'm Fine

There's nothing whatever the matter with me. I'm just as healthy as I can be. I have a stomach in both my knees and when I talk, I talk with a wheeze. My pulse is weak, and my blood is thin. But I'm really well for the shape I'm in.

I think my liver is out of whack. And a terrible pain is in my back. My hearing is poor and my sight is dim. Most everything seems to be out of kilter.

My doctor says my liver is out of kilter. My doctor says my liver is out of kilter. My doctor says my liver is out of kilter.

Decorating For You

Have you ever noticed that other people's decorating ideas never seem to solve your problem? You're not alone. For instance, you live in a traditional house but hate to modernize your traditional or magazine-show beautiful living room and ideal kitchen but usually seem to have someone else's floor space (or budget) in mind.

Designers Daisy Cobb and Eric Van Lamer realized this when they set up their unique Decorating Advisory Service. Many of their clients live far from big city shopping, and often appealed to them to help solve specific decorating dilemmas.

With 10 years of experience in New York City adding the complications of color and design to the antique, classic style of the Connecticut countryside, they are a perfect team equipped to cope with the requirements of just about any lifestyle. And they do.

They work from a careful analysis of a personal questionnaire describing the problem, the house, color and taste preferences and the way of life. For a modest charge per room, they provide color schemes, furniture, wallpaper and carpet selections, and where you can buy everything. For those who need it, they even have a shipping service and there's a Club Day for decorating world-wide decorating news. If you want to know more, the Decorating Advisory Service address is 136 E. 52nd Street, New York, NY 10022.
