This Week In Jayton

The Little League will have its first home game Saturday night, May 15th at 7:30 p. m. with the Aspermont Tigers.

Red Sox won their first home game Monday night, playing the Spur Yankees; scored 11 to 8.

Mrs. Jake Fuller hosted the club in her home with seven members and two visitors.

Mrs. Roy Fuller will host the next meeting in her home, May 20.

MOD Moms Take Tour

The Mod Moms are scheduled to leave 8:30 a. m. Monday, May 17 for Stamford to tour a dress factory there.

They plan to return before school is out and anyone wishing to go on the tour is welcome to come along, a spokesman said.

Plans are being made to attend a fashion show at Haskell in the near future. An announcement will be made as soon as they are complete.

Recently, I enjoyed a ride in Bob Pierce's new automobile?

It glided along the pavement with the grace of a modern Buick, reminding me of the early model T Ford when the Ford car was the standard here.

This was the first time that I ever saw a model T on pavement, an experience that I never expected to have.

Mr. Pierce should be congratulated for his near impossible achievement in rebuilding his car.

Adolphus Moreland

man of the redistricting committee, Monday asked representatives to again sign pledge cards for Speaker Mutscher. This is just before he releases his redistricting bill. You can see the handwriting on the wall in this act. Any member hesitant to sign the card, may just end up being placed in a District with another representative, or at least get a district distasteful to him.

Well, that's the name of the game.

The state appeals court has struck a blow to strengthening open meeting law.

The boards of two school districts held a meeting and in closed session, voted to consolidate the two districts. The court has ruled it was illegal to have such a meeting, and therefore what they did was illegal. The court said that school boards and other bodies must transact their business in open meetings, with the public invited and welcome.

Aspermont voters Saturday voted down 94-54 a $2.3 million bond issue, to construct a natural gas pipeline.

Voters of the city probably like it was a project of a promoter, rather than a confidence natural gas issue, and they turned thumbs down.

There are some of the ways the new State tax bill will hit Texans right in the pocketbook.

Increase the state sales tax to 4 percent. In cities that have the 1 1/2 sales tax, it will mean a nickel on each dollar purchase.

If you buy a car, the sales tax on that will be 4 1/2 percent of the dollar, rather than the previous 3 1/2.

Three cents new tax on each pack of cigarettes. This raises the state tax from 15.5 to 18.5 cents per pack.

Two cents per gallon raise on gasoline. This puts the state tax at seven cents per gallon.

The beer tax was raised from $3.40 to $6.00 per barrel, but this is too high, they say, and have an agreement to try to lower it a dollar.

However, Governor Smith has rebelled against the two-cent gasoline tax, and has asked the Legislature to withdraw the bill, and try again.

The gasoline tax would raise $200 million a year, for the Highway Department, which it has not even asked for. If it is not withdrawn, Smith is threatening to veto it. There still may be considerable actions going on.

Former Governor Connally, now U. S. Secretary of the Treasury, now during the money crisis, may have occasion to do some hard work in his own office, rather than the political work most people think was the reason for his appointment to the office.

If you don't think there is plenty of arm twisting going on down in the Legislature, here is little thought we got from Tuesday's paper. Rep. Melvin Jones, who is chair-

Abilene Cooper Coach Merrill Green entertains the athletes and boosters with his wit, at the Booster banquet in Jayton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhett Johnson have moved to Jayton, to fill the place of Edd Parton. We are very happy to welcome them to Jayton, and to the Jayton Chronicle as new subscribers. We forget the important members of the Johnson family are two lovely daughters, four and two.

Bess Porter is now back on the job as Kent County librarian.

Johnson Gets 5-Year Pen

Rhett H. Johnson, District Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Jayton received a coveted 5 year safe driving award this week from Arneal Scott, Area Conservationist, SCS, Lubbock.

"This kind of outstanding safe driving record doesn't just happen", Scott said in presenting the award to Rhett H. Johnson. "It's the result of careful, defensive driving. You have a day-to-day driving example that all of us should try to follow."

Scott also gave the Jayton Work Unit an award for not having a lost-time personal injury from any cause in the last 15 years.

The awards for the excellent safety record were approved by Clyde W. Graham, SCS State Conservationist. The Soil Conservation Service is cooperating in the "ZERO Non Federal Safety" program whereby Federal agencies are placing emphasis on eliminating major causes of employee injuries during calendar 1971 and 1972.

The Jayton Work Unit gives technical assistance on conservation matters through the local DUCK CREEK Soil and Water Conservation District.

Texas Tech is a multi-purpose university with eight academic divisions--the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Engineering, Business Administration, Home Economics, Agricultural Sciences and Education, the School of Law and the Graduate School. Tech has a student body of more than 20,000.

The list of degree candidates from Jayton includes: Bobby Lee Dibrell, degree in Management.

Three Persons In Jail Charged With Burglary

Three persons are lodged in jails, charged with recent burglaries in Kent County, The Chronicle is informed by Sheriff B. J. Stanley.

Two persons are in the El Paso Jail, charged with the burglary of the Girard and Clairmont Postoffices, and Clairmont Cafe, Stanley said. He said they had signed confessions from these two.

One man is in jail in Tulsa, and charged with being an accomplice in these jobs, Stanley said.

A fourth suspect has not yet been apprehended. All of the suspects are said to live in Lubbock.

The Music Department In Spring Concert

The Jayton Music Department under the direction of Rick Smith presented its spring concert May 4. The colorful program followed a musical theme of "Old Days in Jayton Flat." The stage was decorated with covered wagons, cacti, a cow's skull, and a single tree, all reminiscent of early days in Kent County. Kim Nichols, as the narrator, was dressed as the typical "old timer" complete with "long handles" walking cane, and "galluses!" He rocked contentedly in a cane-bottomed chair as he told the story that tied together each episode depicted by the elementary students dressed in long calico dresses and western wear.

Following a quick change of scenery, the Jayton High School Concert Band, in mod dress, played selections which included those used in U. I. L. competition.

The retiring president of the Band Booster Club, Tommy Ewing introduced the president-elect, Billy Lew Wilson, who in turn presented a gavel to Mr. Ewing in appreciation for his term in office. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hamilton were given life memberships in the organization for being band boosters of the year.

The coveted John Philip Sousa award, presented each year by Bob and Patricia Hamilton, representing the Thomas Fowler Insurance Agency, went to John Charles Davis.

Our appreciation and congratulations to Mr. Smith and to each student who participated in this most enjoyable evening.

The Journalism Class

Mrs. Ann Partridge of Lubbock came down on the week end. Guy came home as school was out to be here till he goes back to Tech for summer school.

UNKEL ZEKE SEZ

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

A few weeks ago, the fellers got in a discussion at the country store about this perfessor that was suing his college fer firing him cause he was 69 year old. Well, Clem Webster come in Saturday night with this report how in a few year they won't be no old folks, so they won't be no call to fire em cause of their age.

Clem had saw this piece that said scientists is making progress in studies to slow down man's "aging clock" and even run the clocks backwards. He said that inside of 25 year we will be able to stop our clocks at 40 and keep em there 30 year.

But Zeke Grubb was of a mind that the article left out more than it said. Fer instant, ask Zeke, does a 40 year old feller git up one morning 30 year later and die from shock when he sees he is shaving a 70 year old face? And if his stopped clock jest lets him live 30 year longer, is he going to build time on the job to retirement, or is his job clock stopped to?

It's one thing to stop the aging clock, allowed Zeke, but it's another to back it up. He ask the fellers what age they would like to go back to, and nobody could make up their mind. Ed Doolittle said he wouldn't mind going back to the year afore the arthertis got in his sholder bad, but he had learned to live with it.

Josh Clodhopper voted fer 1932 prices and 1971 wages, and he said he'd settle fer any age he happened to git below 75, cause he'd put enuff back in two year to live the rest of his days, no matter how long he lived.

Clem said after he read th-piece he got to thinking about the wimmen, and how none of em would ever admit to being 40 in the first place. Clem said he wondered why the scientists figger to stop our clocks at 40, when most wimmen stop theirs around 30. One thing fer shore, added Clem, the scientists won't go begging fer folks to try out whatever they come up with to run them clocks back, cause wimmen now is taking years off their lives working so hard to stay young.

Serious speaking, Mister Editor, time is strange. Ever now and then we see where the earth will git too close to the sun and burn up in another billion years. I wonder if anybody would pay attention if that was cut to 50 year, or 10? They say the Tower of Pisa will lean to far and fall in 200 year, but I ain't worried. The truth is, we all jest live now, and we don't think about how many times our heart beats a hour, or how many of our brain cells die ever day.

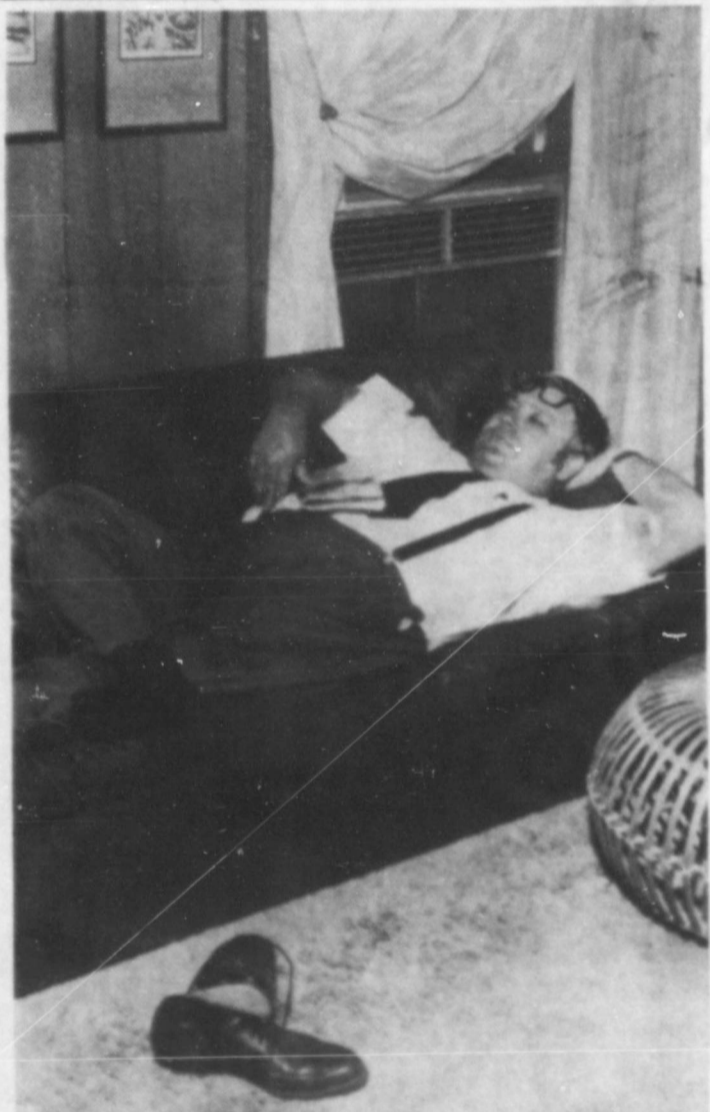

Like the feller said, life is hard by the yard, but it's a cinch by the inch.

Sincerely,
Unkel Zeke

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson East went to Euless over the week end to be with Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. East and family. It was not only Mothers Day but this is the third time since Mrs. East became a mother, that her birthday has come on Mothers Day. The country down there was so green and beautiful they have had some 8 inches of rain there. My what we could do with just a fourth of that amount.

An Eye Witness Account Given Of The Recent Washington Demonstrations

By: C. Ray Williams

Aside from the fact that the base-ball season is a month old and the Washington Senators still have a mathematical chance to win the pennant this big news in this area is the mis-named Peace Demonstration. For several days all roads leading into Washington have been carrying an increasingly heavy infestation of combative doves concentrating to implement their Declaration of War against the "Establishment" from which they draw their sustenance and to which they owe all they own that's good at this point in their limited and parasitical existences. To demonstrate animus and disloyalty against the only nation on earth that tolerates and excuses such paranoid excuses or dissent rather than treason, as a legal expression of the right to disagree.

I see nothing logical or consistent with a pretense of peaceful intentions in their projected plan to paralyze this Nation's Capital by blocking its streets, discrediting its monuments to temples, and shrines and placing in a state of seige the homes and offices of its elected and responsible officials, I wonder, as I view the unholy show how many of these immature, emotionally unstable and wreckless youngsters have any conception of the consequences the success of their program could entail. What might be their personal condition and profit if the paralysis they plan to create should tempt the enemies who have vowed to bury us to give us another Pearl Harbor that would make the first one look like a child's game of tiddle-winks.

The bleeding hearts and mental sunbursts who have planned and promoted this contemplated crime and who are busily engaged now in superintending the commission of it can turn on the anguish like turning on the tap over the kitchen sink and can shed more tears than a lawn sprinkler over sins and brutalities allegedly committed by American in Indo-China.

But a tragic aspect of this matter is that they are not equally concerned for fellow Americans who must innocently and helplessly accept the certain consequences of their uncomprehending and insensate stupidity and fury.

I am thinking about the business man who must accept his financial losses and sweat it out in helpless frustration in a traffic jam that keeps him away from his place of business; of the doctors who can't get to their hospitals and make their rounds; of the nurses who can't make contact with their patients and of the prospective mothers who can't choose the time when they will have their babies.

This city is populated with thousands of little people working for salaries that barely enable them to carry the weight of their financial burdens and where everything that gives them an extra expense puts their budget out of balance and amounts to a personal tragedy.

I could write for a week about the dislocations that are taking place and the problems that are being created for people who are powerless to make the decisions that the demonstrators are demanding while the leaders who can make it are safe and far out of the reach of the mob's violence and noise.

In my personal experience I have met two participants in the demonstrations who have had an important influence in dictating to me what my position should be. One of these was a Hippie, who called up his parents to tell them that he was leaving school to come home for the demonstration. When they asked this boy if he had "ball money", in the event he got "busted", he told them that he did have and that the Organization that was fighting the establishment was giving kids like him $50.00 a piece for ball expenses if they would demonstrate roughly enough to be arrested.

My other specimen is a little blond dim-wit who confessed that he "didn't know or care anything about politics but I haven't ever marched in a demonstration and I think it will be fun. All the kids are coming. We'll be meeting some new kids from all over the country. It will be interesting with something new and different to do!" (Like setting on flag poles, Marathon dancing and swallowing gold fish, perhaps.)

This girls case speaks for itself. One can only guess how many with her philoophy are in the mob on her ticket. But the boys case is a different and uglier matter. Who has this kind of money to throw around and who can see a profit in such expenditure. Does anyone wish to place a bet that Hanoi disapproves of it or that the Ivans and Wee Fongs are not happy with and properly appreciative of their golden opportunity to buy the support of Pacifists, appeasers, dim bulbs and cranks, all the rabble of sport weight citizens of whom Hitler said that "in the ranks of my enemies they are worth more to me than my paid agents."

This commentary would be incomplete without some mention of the dogs. There is no way to tell how many of them are here with their masters. How many are strays picked up by the kids on the way in and how many are local dogs who have spent most of their lives on leash and have never seen so much opportunity for freedom and excitement. It all seems innocent and harmless. For these dogs like some of the kids are making a ball of it and having the high time of their lives living together, working together, sharing, with each other their sandwiches and their beds, but it chills one's blood who has seen the transformation take place to this of how little it takes to turn what resembles a bunch of youngsters on a picnic into a rioting mob of angry, half-driven apes and their amiable mutts into feral beasts eager to grind each other's flesh and taste blood.

"I AM AN AMERICAN"

I have the right to choose my field of employment, my religion and my friends. I have the responsibility to remain aware of local and national issues which affect me as an American, and to select with care the leaders I believe will preserve our society. I share an obligation with all other Americans to live within the laws of our land and maintain the moral standards which strengthen it.

I take pride in my work, my family and my country. I am only one of a multitude of Americans who believe this is still the land of opportunity for those who are willing to work for what they hope to gain.

I do not expect to get "something-for-nothing." Neither do I expect rights and privileges to be mine free of responsibility.

These convictions are shared by an overwhelming majority of Americans. The voice of the minority who would undermine these standards has been heard too loudly and too long. It is time for each of us to stand up and say with pride, "I AM AN AMERICAN."

Our precious heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is as alive today as it was when written for the ages in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. It stands for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton, we, too, have a privilege, a right, and a duty of preserving the greatest democratic society the world has ever known.

Our flag is a symbol, not of sentiment, but of history, the history of men and women willing to live and die for it. Rarely this willingness is with us still, because daily we experience more of the blessings that are ours — here because we are Americans.

Bird Tracks

For the past two weeks everything at J. H. S. has been on the go. The girls regional track meet was very successful for everyone. The Lady Jays qualified in almost all the events for finals, but unfortunately, they did quite make it to the top three places. Jane Brewer won first in the discus with a throw of 98 feet 3 inches, and she will compete at State May 14 and 15 at ACC in Abilene.

A very memorable year of sports was replayed the night of the Athletic Banquet. The speaker was Coach Green from Cooper High of Abilene, accompanied by his charming wife. To the seniors, this banquet was very meaningful since it was their last.

The annual spring TSTA dinner meeting for members of Dickens and Kent County local organizations will be in the Jayton School Cafeteria, Tuesday, May 18.

The Junior High School district tennis meet was held April 30, at Jayton, but was not able to be finished because of rain.

Jayton was very happy to welcome former band director

Keith Bearden last week for a short visit. Everybody was surprised but thrilled to see him.

The Seniors departed from Jayton, Saturday morning at 4:00 A. M. for New Orleans. We are sure it was a long drive but we venture that all slept most of the way after a series of parties Friday night. From there they will go to Galveston then to Houston. They are expected to return next Saturday around noon, tired but happy.

Journalism Class

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hager visited in Snyder last week on day with his sister and other relatives and friends.

FANCY BISCUIT DESSERTS

Homey, hearty and scrumptious!

Having a party? Cooking up a little fun for the family? Somebody special is coming to call? Here's your choice of three speedy desserts that show you how to go home in a hurry -- in a very fancy way.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE -- Spectacular but simple. And think what it can do for the men in your life -- your dad, brother or a boyfriend.

Standard-type Shortcake

- 2 cups Gold Medal Flour
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup milk

Heat oven to 450°. Grease round layer pan, 8x1 1/2 inches. Measure flour, sugar, baking powder and salt into mixing bowl. Cut in shortening thoroughly until mixture looks like meal. Stir in milk just until blended. Pat into prepared pan. Bake 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. 8 servings.

With either size, split shortcakes while warm. Spread with butter; fill and top with sweetened fresh strawberries. Serve warm with light cream.

More luscious thoughts! Remember fresh peaches, raspberries and blueberries for beautiful shortcakes, too. And, of course, you can use frozen or canned fruits during the winter months.

CHEERY COBBLER -- To cobbler up means to put together in a hurry. So quickly now, bake a cobbler; plan an instant party for the family.

- 1 can (21 ounces) cherry pie filling
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- 1 cup Bisquick
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon butter, melted and cooled slightly

Heat oven to 400°. In 1 1/2-quart casserole, mix pie filling and almond extract. Place in oven 15 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Mix Bisquick, sugar, milk and butter with fork to a soft dough; beat vigorously 20 strokes. Stir in almonds. Drop dough by spoonfuls in 6 portions onto hot cherry mixture. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until topping is golden brown. Serve warm and, if desired, with light cream or ice cream. 6 servings.

Note: The Standard-type Shortcake dough that is given above can also be used. Or, you can substitute apple or blueberry pie filling for the cherry.

COCONUT CREAM PIE -- The world's easiest home-baked pie! The cookie-like crust pats out in the pan. The filling is yummy canned pudding. Try it out on your girl friends.

- 1 cup Bisquick
- 1/4 cup butter, softened
- 3 tablespoons boiling water
- 1 envelope (about 3 ounces) dessert topping mix
- 1 can Betty Crocker Vanilla Pudding
- 1 cup flaked coconut

Heat oven to 450°. In small mixing bowl or 9-inch pie pan, combine Bisquick and butter. Add water; stir vigorously with fork until dough forms a ball and cleans the bowl. Dough will be puffy and soft. With floured fingers and heel of hand, pat dough evenly into 9-inch pie pan, bringing up dough to edge of pan. Flute edge if desired. Bake 8 to 10 minutes. Cool. Prepare dessert topping mix as directed on package; fold in pudding and coconut. Turn into pie shell; chill overnight. If desired, top with fresh or frozen berries (thawed) or your favorite topping.
