Attends National Agents Meeting

Kent County Agent M. A. Geeslin attended a national meeting of the County Agents Association in Atlanta, Georgia, Nov. 5-9. Over 1000 agents from every part of America attended. Inspirational speakers, educational towns, and informative discussions were included in the five day meeting. U.S. D.A. leaders from Washington D. C., state Extension Directors, and County Agent leaders from every state led in the discussion groups.

A highlight of the trip was a tour of the Rock Eagle 4-H Club Center in Georgia. This is probably the most outstanding state 4-H Club training Center in the United States.
The Kent County Agent is Secretary of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association.

line, with a high neckline, long full sleeves with wide cuffs, a full skirt ending in a wide ruffle.
She wore a large brimmed hat trimmed with blue ribbons. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations and white rosebuds with blue and white ribbon streamers.
Miss Connie Fleming was maid of honor. Mr. Paul Howland was best man.
Shannon Line, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.
For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Line wore an ice blue silk dress. Mrs. Howland mother of the groom, wore a purple knit suit. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Assisting at the reception in the home of the bride's parents were Miss Irena Howland and Miss Jeannie Driskill. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated in blue and white.
For traveling the bride wore a three piece orchid and off white suit.
The couple is residing in Canyon, where both are students at West Texas State University.

The Jayton Jaybirds, now the district champions with a 6-0 record, will be going to Coahoma Saturday night to take on the, also District Champions Buena Vista team of Imperial at Coahoma.
Last year was the first time in a number of years the Jaybirds have missed the bi-district game, and they are glad to be back in the running, to compete for the Regional playoffs.
Game time 7:30 p. m. Saturday, don't miss it.

INNOCENT LOOKING TOYS CAN BE DANGEROUS

Even the most innocent looking toys are potentially dangerous in the hands of the wrong child.
That's the basic message from Food and Drug Administration toy safety experts who are trying to reduce the number of toy injuries in the United States, a figure put at 700,000 annually by the government.

Some stuffed animals can be easily taken apart by a child-exposing dangerous wiring underneath. Check for unprotected wiring around the ears, arms and legs before purchasing such a toy.

Happily, thanks to the FDA, consumer groups and concerned manufacturers, toys are, in fact, safer than ever-but there are ways to keep the accident rate down.
The most important factor is parental supervision. Whether children are playing indoors or out, alone or with others, they must be watched.
Choice of toys is a key to safety too. Select toys suitable for a child's age, interest and abilities. Keep in mind younger brothers or sisters who may have access to toys bought for older children. And, check labels on fabrics. Choose items with non-flammable, flame resistant or retardant fabrics and stuffings marked washable and hygienic.

ON SAFETY PACKAGING
The Food and Drug Administration has delayed the deadline for safety packaging of aspirin, dangerous drugs and certain liniments due to an unexpected shortage of child-proof containers.

The Draft Board Issues Order

Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, State Director of Selective Service for Texas, again reminded young men of their obligation to register with Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday.
Glantz stressed that the requirement to register continue in full effect whether the all-voluntary military force becomes a reality or not. Every young man is required to present himself for registration from 30 days before to 30 days after his birthday. If, for any reason, a young man has not registered he should immediately to avoid the penalty of Federal law.

Failure to register may result in a fine, imprisonment, or both, under provisions of the Military Selective Service Act.
Young men may register at the office of the local board near their home or place of residence, or may be registered by volunteer registrars who are located in most high schools or other similarly convenient locations. Registrars in the Jayton area are: Mrs. Roseana Johnson, Courthouse, Jayton, Texas.
Life's hardest task: living each day by the Golden Rule.

Assisting Farmers Union

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco condemned the Department of Agriculture's decision on next year's cotton program as being "devastating" to Texas cotton farmers. In a statement released Thursday, Naman said, "The decision by Secretary Butz to reduce cotton payments is the second of a one-two punch on the cotton farmer's chin. Mr. Butz landed the first blow with the announcement that the last year's low loan level would be extended for another year. He now adds insult to injury by depriving cotton farmers of 13% of their pay acres. This will be a knock-out to many Texas cotton farmers."
Naman pointed out that the Department of Agriculture encouraged more cotton production and created the low price condition that now plagues the Cotton Belt. He said that USDA seems intent on putting soybeans and feed grain producers next year in the same predicament as cotton farmers this year.
By removing the 20% set-aside, Secretary Butz is opening the door to the expansion in production of possibly two million more acres in soybeans on cotton acres that have been out of production. This will wanted to help cotton farmers, he would have increased the loan to a minimum of 28¢ a pound and announced a paid diversion program for cotton place of the free-set-aside. This would provide cotton farmers with some of the options now open to feed grain producers.

"Texas cotton farmers stand to lose in excess of thirty-seven (37) million dollars in reduced pay acres on cotton next year because of a decision by the Secretary of Agriculture."
"It is time for Congress to remove some of the discretionary power which Mr. Butz now has and uses so irresponsibly," the state farm organization leader said.
One of the easiest things in the world to do is to stand to one side and tell the rest of the people what to do.

Football Guessers Have It Rough

The so called experts had trouble with last week's football games, as three misses was as close as anyone could get. The total game score was 43. That left the entries as follows:
First Patrick Parker three misses 42, second

Jean Parker 41, and Judith Fowler third with 35.
Others with two misses were Billy Fowler 35, Vanessa Fowler 30, and John Fowler 27.
This week's games will schedule some of the top area teams in the playoffs.

BEEF PRICE RISE
Agriculture Department experts report a Government survey indicates that consumers may find retail beef prices on a new upward trend in late December and the early months of 1973. The survey showed that the number of cattle moved into feedlots from July to September to begin fattening for market was down 2 per cent from a year earlier.

ON G.I. BENEFITS
President Nixon has signed legislation increasing GI Bill of Rights benefits to veterans of the Vietnam era and authorizing Federal aid to new state medical schools to operate in conjunction with the Veterans Administration.

This is the time of year when the smell of gun powder and the sight of a bird dog stirs up a commotion inside the outdoors sportsman.

Goodness is never a comparison.

Church-State

The Supreme Court recently agreed to hear another case in which a state has given church schools tax monies. The case involves New York, where a 1970 law aimed at circumventing the First Amendment to the Constitution barring government help for private and church schools has resulted in the payment of $42,000,000 to private schools in two years.

After years of avoiding the issue, the high court has been more disposed recently to face the controversial question. In 1971 laws in Rhode Island and Pennsylvania allocating tax monies to pay part of the salaries of church school teachers were declared unconstitutional, as expected. A month ago an Ohio law, also designed to circumvent the First Amendment, was struck down by the court; that law provided for the use of tax monies to reimburse parents for certain church-school expenses.

The major impetus behind the effort to circumvent the First Amendment has always come from the Roman Catholic Church, which runs more schools than any other church, and pressure on state legislatures is traditionally heavy in states where there are large numbers of Catholics. In New York a federal district court recently held that the state's 1970 law providing for public aid to private schools was unconstitutional. It is an appeal on this ruling, being appealed by Catholic groups with some Jewish support (most Protestants and Jews traditionally oppose the use of tax monies to aid private schools), which the high court will hear.

The effort to change the historic interpretation of the First Amendment has been a long one. One after another, in state after state, private interests have come up with new interpretations and legalisms they felt would circumvent the amendment as courts and elected officials (including the late John Kennedy) have interpreted it over the years.

The 1970 New York law, whatever its virtues, is clearly another effort to dig into the public treasury on behalf of church schools. If this is permitted, through a loophole or legalistic technicalities, for political or other reasons, the effect will be the same as that created by a number of state laws already struck down, and the flood gates will be open in many other states for the diversion of public monies to church schools, which is understandably what the schools are after. As much as one presently sympathizes with the financial plight of church schools of all denominations, one feels our tax-free churches (and their tax-free businesses) already enjoy a heavy favoritism and that tax monies should not be turned over to non-public schools.

Heath's Desperation

Prime Minister Edward Heath, after failing to get Britain's trade and union leaders to agree to voluntary economic controls, has ordered a freeze on prices, wages, rents and dividends.

Inflation in Britain has been eating up budgets, wage increases and savings at an annual rate of ten per cent—the highest in Europe. By contrast, inflation in the United States was reduced to 2.9 per cent by President Nixon's economic stabilization program, which also utilizes wage and price controls.

Rampant British inflation seriously weakened the pound. It was threatening to force another devaluation. Thus the test for the British people is the same as for Americans last year—and the critical question is whether Britain's labor organizations will wreck the program.

Heath admittedly patterned much of his stabilization program on the Nixon model. At the outset in the U.S., some feared organized labor would wreck Nixon's program with massive strikes and non-compliance. Though many labor leaders denounced the Nixon program, and some threatened defiance, the vast majority of American unions and workers have cooperated.

Heath has patiently led long negotiations to persuade labor leaders to accept voluntary controls. Only after this, and recent clear evidence that economic ruin threatened, has he moved to check inflation with controls, which he himself opposed as late as two years ago. In democracies public opinion must support such emergency steps if they are to succeed and Heath, like Nixon, appears to have waited until the right time and played his cards effectively. Nevertheless, the coming weeks and months will be critical for Britain's future.

Rocky In 1976?

In Washington Governor Nelson Rockefeller is expected to be the next Secretary of State, and this post, the top Cabinet appointment, is said to be a stepping stone on the road to the 1976 presidential nomination.

Rockefeller is expected to come to Washington in 1973, perhaps the following year, and he may be the likely challenger to Vice President Spiro Agnew at the next Republican nominating convention. There are other hopefuls, such as Illinois Senator Charles Percy, but Rockefeller is better known, has more experience and is considered such an effective campaigner, he may well be the most impressive vote-getter the Republicans can find.

Agnew, the choice of many moderates and most conservatives, may face the handicap never overcome by the late Senator Bob Taft. Some Republicans felt Taft couldn't win a national election and at party conventions, though fond of the Ohio Senator, voted to nominate someone else.

NAVY & RACISM

Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr., chief of naval operations, says that officers who are insensitive or lax in dealing with racial problems will be weeded out of the Navy. He says he intends to enforce his two-year-old equal-opportunity program.

George McGovern, defeated Democratic Presidential candidate:

"There can be no question at all that we have pushed this nation towards peace."

Farm prices rose to record in October.

January 22nd

More Americans get wound up over heavyweight division boxing than over contenders and bouts in other divisions. Thus there is great interest in the head-socking go scheduled for January 22nd between champion Joe Frazier and George Foreman.

Foreman is undefeated, won the Olympics heavy title in 1968 and is no push-over. (Frazier won the Olympics heavy title in 1964.) Out in the cold, for a while, is Muhammad Ali, and he may be content to let Frazier beat Foreman, if he can, rather than take him on himself.

If it's a stiff bout for the champion, he can console himself in being guaranteed $850,000 for the evening's shuffle. Foreman will get only $350,000—which explains why medieval boxing and boxers are still around in 1972.

Discipline

Three shipboard incidents of late have focused the spotlight of publicity on Navy discipline. In the last instance more than a hundred sailors on the carrier "Constellation" refused to obey orders. Racial trouble has been called the cause of the incidents.

Reacting, Navy Secretary John Warner and Chief of Naval Operations Elmo Zumwalt recently held a highly-publicized briefing of more than eighty admirals and Marine generals, who were issued a seven-point plan to improve racial relations. It was said, also, the Navy would get tougher with those who violated military discipline.

Equal opportunity and treatment is, of course, to be constantly sought in the services. On the other hand, discipline must also be maintained. Strikes, disobedience, mass agitation and protest demonstrations in the armed services are misplaced. Communist agitators, political militants and immature martyrs, some pampered, if encouraged by politicians and news media, could destroy the morale and fighting ability of the services.

The Navy has already embarked on several questionable relaxations of rules on uniforms, living quarters, dress, etc., plus having begun the unwise experiment of taking women aboard combat ships for combat duty—apparently for political purposes. Concerning discipline, however, politics should be put aside and discipline insured, for it is truly the backbone and basic essential of an effective military force.

What is an occluded front? What causes them to form? An occluded front is always formed when a cold front (which travels up to 35 m.p.h. or sometimes even faster) overtakes the slower-moving warm front.

The cold air mass pushes the warm, often moist, air upward and there is a mixing process which may confuse the observer on the ground and even the professional in his forecasting office.

A characteristic of an occluded front is heavy rain and often strong winds. Often, however, the cold front which overtakes the warm will speed up the eastward movement of weather and clearing will come sooner than had the warm front passed overhead in a normal manner.

BROOKE & PRESIDENCY

Republican Sen. Edward W. Brooke, of Massachusetts, who won a landslide re-election, said he is contemplating a run for the presidency in 1976.

Individuals, like successful generals, have to be bold enough to take some chances if they wish to become successes.

Let Us Give Thanks

My Surprise Salad

Boil together 1/2 of a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple and 1/2 cup of sugar. Add this while hot to 1 package raspberry gelatin which has been dissolved in 1 cup of cold water. Let cool. Add 1 cup grated cheese (block cheese is best as it dissolves easier) and 1 cup chopped pecans. Place in refrigerator. When almost congealed fold in 1 cup whipped cream. (Measure before whipping). It is ready to serve when congealed. May be set in a mold or in individual cups.

Heavenly Hash

1 No. 2 1/2 can fruit cocktail, drained
1 or 2 bananas, sliced
2 Tbsp. sugar
1 c. miniature marshmallows
1/2 c. seeded grapes, halved
1/2 c. whipping cream, whipped
Lettuce
Combine fruit, sugar and marshmallows. Fold whipped cream into fruit mixture and keep chilled until serving time.
Makes a salad for 8 to 10 people.

Your holiday meal will not be complete without a colorful and tasty salad. Cranberries and fruit salads always go well with turkey and ham. Cranberry Salad is used often during cold winter months at our home.

Cranberry Salad

1 can (20 oz.) crushed pineapple
1 lb. fresh cranberries
1/4 c sugar
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 c chopped pecans
Lettuce
Drain juice from pineapple and add enough water to make 1 cup liquid. Combine juice, cranberries and sugar in saucepan; cover and cook until berries pop (about 10 minutes). Add gelatin to hot cranberries and stir until dissolved. Cool, add drained pineapple and nuts. Refrigerate. Serve on lettuce leaf. This salad can be made a day ahead of serving.

BAKED SWEET POTATOES AND APPLES

1 No. 2 1/2 can sweet potatoes
3 Tbsp. butter
3 tart apples, sliced
4 Tbsp. brown sugar
Drain sweet potatoes; cut into thick slices. Place layer of sweet potatoes in greased baking dish; dot with portion of butter. Cover with layer of apples; sprinkle with portion of brown sugar. Repeat until all ingredients are used, ending with apples. Bake, covered, at 350 degrees for about 20 minutes. Remove cover. Bake until lightly browned. Yield: 8 servings.

THE IMPORTANCE OF VITAMIN C

Vitamin C, or ascorbic acid, is a delicate vitamin, not well stored in the body and easily destroyed by heat.

It supplies a kind of cementing substance that binds together in the blood vessels, teeth, bones and other tissues. Loss of it causes the capillary blood vessels to break rather easily, producing such symptoms as spongy and bleeding gums, bleeding under the skin, poor teeth, and tender joints.

The best known sources of Vitamin C are citrus fruits and tomatoes. Daily requirements of vitamin C are in the range of 30 to 100 milligrams in healthy individuals; much larger doses are used therapeutically.

Since the body cannot store vitamin C, foods containing it should be eaten daily. As far as getting the vitamin from cooked food, you have to be careful. Since it is unstable in solution, it may be destroyed by prolonged cooking.

There is increasingly persuasive medical evidence linking low vitamin C levels with oral contraceptives. Recent tests indicate that women who use birth control pills may develop a much greater need for ascorbic acid than women who do not use them.

As a result of these findings, a special dietary supplement has been developed that not only contains 200 milligrams of vitamin C, but also other vitamins and minerals women who use oral contraceptives are known to need each day. The new supplement is now available at drug counters everywhere.

The commonest disease in the world is tooth decay.

Join the fun. Guess the winners. Nothing to buy. Just circle the teams you think will win, fill in your name and address, and bring it to the Chronicle office, or get it into the mail before 5 p. m. Friday. Everyone is eligible except employees of the Jayton Chronicle, and members of their families. Use this form here in the paper. Come by the office and we will give you a free form. Or, write it out on a piece of paper, in the same order as printed here, and that will do. The editor of the Jayton Chronicle is the sole judge as to the winner. In the case of tie, the amount will be shared. Be sure and mark the tie breaker score, which we will use in an attempt to break the tie. That is all there is to it, and you have a lot of fun. This contest is sponsored by the firms listed on this page. They are supporting the Jayton Jaybirds, Regional Champions, all the way.

Roast Duckling with Cranberry Sauce

1/4 to 4-pound ready-to-cook duckling
1 10 1/2-ounce can condensed beef broth
1/4 cup cranberry juice cocktail
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Roast duckling, breast up, on rack in shallow pan. Roast, uncovered, at 375° for 1 1/4 hours, then at 425° for 15 minutes, or till tender. Meanwhile, place neck and giblets in saucepan. Add beef broth; simmer, covered, for 1 hour; strain. Serve giblets with duck. To strained broth, add cranberry juice cocktail; cook till reduced to 1 cup. In small pan, melt butter; blend in sugar; cook and stir till brown. Add vinegar and the cranberry-broth mixture. Remove duckling from roasting pan. Skim fat from meat juices; add juices to cranberry-broth mixture. Stir in cornstarch blended with about 1 tablespoon cranberry juice cocktail. Cook and stir till sauce boils; simmer 1 to 2 minutes. Pass with duckling.

Angel Biscuits

1 pkg. dry yeast
2 Tbsp. luke warm water
3 C. flour
1 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 c. shortening
2 C. butter milk
Dissolve yeast in luke warm water. Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening. Add yeast mixture and butter milk. Knead enough to hold together. Cut with biscuit cutter. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 400 F. Dough may be put into plastic bag and kept in refrigerator for several days. Just take out amount you want to bake at one time.

Italian Cream Cake

1 stick oleo
1/2 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
5 eggs, separated
2 cups flour
1 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup buttermilk
1 tsp. vanilla
1 can Angel Flake coconut
1 cup chopped pecans

Cream oleo and shortening with sugar. Add the egg yolks. Combine the flour, soda and salt and add alternately with buttermilk. Add vanilla, coconut and pecans. Last, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in 350 degree oven for 25 minutes in 3 layers.

Cream Cheese Frosting

Beat 1 (8 oz.) cream cheese with 1/2 stick oleo. Add 1 box powdered sugar and 1 tsp. vanilla.

There's a new all-purpose household cloth on the market (made with polyester) that is extra strong but soft. It's good for dusting, polishing silver, wiping up spills, etc.

with large whole strawberries, leaf of bibb lettuce and parsley and dollops of whipped cream.

STRAWBERRY SALAD IS DELICIOUS

1 package (16 oz.) strawberry gelatin
1/2 cup boiling water
1 package (10 oz.) frozen sliced strawberries (thawed)
1 lb. 4 oz. can crushed pineapple (drained)
1/2 cup banana mashed
1/2 cup flae pulp
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 cup marshmallows

Combine gelatin with boiling water. Cool to room temperature. Add strawberries with juice, pineapple, mashed bananas and nuts. Carefully mix in sour cream, mixing to give uniform color. Pour into a 12-cup mold (1 bundt pan). Spoon gelatin mixture. Chill well, at least 2 hours or better overnight. When ready to serve, unmold on platter and garnish

HOROSCOPE

Week of November 19

SCORPIO -- Emotional, sensitive, intuitive describe those born under this sign. They are usually energetic and aggressive. Their lucky numbers are 4 and 5. Their color is red. Their lucky day is Tuesday.

SCORPIO -- Oct. 23 to Nov. 22 -- More understanding on your part is needed of the youngsters in your life. Be careful not to misjudge the actions of them for they are probably completely innocent.

SAGITTARIUS -- Nov. 23 to Dec. 21 -- Bargains can now be found if you shop for Christmas gifts. Make an effort to select useful items for those you love.

CAPRICORN -- Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 -- Consider the opinions of your loved ones. By becoming too involved in your own thinking you may stand to forget the importance of the views of others.

AQUARIUS -- Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 -- Special preparations are in order now for the most enjoyable Thanksgiving you can remember in a long time. Try your hand at baking something superb. Or if you don't cook make a visit to the bakery.

PISCES -- Feb. 19 to March 20 -- Don't hesitate to ask for help. You are too prone to feel that you can do everything yourself. Delegate your authority.

ARIES -- March 21 to April 20 -- Spend more time mixing and mingling. Learn to listen! People will feel more at ease with you if you make an effort to curb your nervous chatter.

Leave Love

Once upon a time a man in Chicago wrote a "will" containing a series of magical bequests.

To children everywhere, he left "the long long days to be merry in, in a thousand ways, and the Night and the Moon and the Milky Way to wonder at."

To lovers, he left flowers and stars and music, to be used in describing their feelings for each other.

To parents, he left "in trust for their children, all good little words of praise and all quaint pet names."

TAURUS -- April 21 to May 20 -- Avoid pressure when possible. Cherish your freedom and make every effort to keep it. Your job should be one where you can move about.

GEMINI -- May 21 to June 20 -- Much happiness can come to you through giving to others. Make your decisions now concerning Christmas gifts for your loved ones.

CANCER -- June 21 to July 22 -- To avoid feeling hurried and pressured in December, do your Christmas shopping now. You'll be glad you did.

LEO -- July 23 to Aug. 22 -- Plan to eat and drink moderately during the Thanksgiving holiday if at all possible. Brighten up your home with attractive decorations. Enjoyable entertaining should be at an all time high.

VIRGO -- Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 -- If you are not presently enrolled in a course of some kind to aid in your advancement in your present position, check into the possibilities now. This could be the time to plan for 1973.

LIBRA -- Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 -- Give generously of your time to someone who needs help. Put selfish desires aside, especially when dealing with an older relative.

Wild Wasp Chase
"Is he fast!" exclaimed the track coach. "Why, he bumped into a wasp's nest the other day, and the wasps had to chase him two miles before they finally caught him."
"When they finally overtook him, they were so tired they couldn't sting. They just sat on him and gasped."

Dr. John W. Kimble
OPTOMETRIST

In Rolling Plains Association Building in Spur each Tuesday afternoon.

To the elderly, he left "Memory, to the end that they may live the old days over again freely and fully." He left them also "the knowledge of what a rare, rare world it is."

Of course this document, composed by one Williston Fish in the year 1898, would never stand up in court as a legal will. Still, it is a striking reminder of the special opportunity given to each of us by our right to make a will -- the opportunity to leave behind, as we depart this life, a legacy of love.

Few of us are as imaginative as Williston Fish. Yet most wills, in one way or another, do indeed reflect the deepest and most tender of emotions. Between the lines, behind the formalities, may be found gratitude to a devoted spouse, forgiveness for a wayward child, concern about an ailing relative, ardor for a worthy cause.

And even in the most properly executed, legally correct will, people are constantly finding fresh ways to express plain and simple affection.

A few months ago the following will, only 18 words long, was admitted to probate in a New York courtroom:

"Dearest George,
All I have is what you gave me. So everything I have is yours.
Lovingly, Helen."

Inflation Progress

It's too early to claim success for efforts of the Price and Wage Boards set up by President Nixon. But all citizens can be mildly encouraged that inflation for the past year was held to 2.9 per cent.

It's also encouraging that the average individual's buying power has increased, despite continuing inflation (at a reduced rate). Wages have also risen but the steep rise (often justified because of inflation's pace) has been slowed.

As a result, C. Jackson Grayson, Chairman of the Price Commission, says controls can probably be removed next year. What probably will determine the 1973 fate of the boards is the basic attitude, the self-discipline, or lack of it, exhibited by leaders of big business and the unions.

Present progress has been accomplished through the cooperation of both management and labor, sometimes reluctantly going along with forceful government leadership. If this spirit doesn't prevail through critical labor-management contract negotiations in 1973, the boards should probably not be deactivated, in the greater interest of the majority of Americans.

Tanker Subsidies

Three environmental groups have filed suit to block U.S. subsidies for the construction of six super tankers. The issue involved is of interest to all Americans—sea pollution and possible beach desecration. Objecting groups claim the Commerce Department failed to issue an environmental-impact statement, as required by law, before undertaking the subsidy program.

The environmental groups fighting the supertanker program are the Environmental Defense Fund, the National Parks and Conservation Association and the Natural Resources Defense Council. EDF has in the past engaged in court battles to block the Alaskan oil pipeline and has won its fight to ban DDT.

The supertankers would dwarf most present-day tankers, but the construction of such mammoth vessels is unquestionably the international trend. Yet it's also true spillage from one of these giant tankers could ruin miles of shore. They also necessitate deep dredging, drawing up to seventy feet of water.

Federal officials themselves are sometimes divided on the merits of the huge ships, which taxpayers partly finance because of the desirability of maintaining an American maritime fleet. (Federal financing accounts from between 35 and 43 per cent of cost. The ships are to displace 225,000 tons and 265,000 tons.)

Few can say what is best for the nation with certainty; what is certain at the moment is that careful study of the supertanker subsidy program is in order and that the Nixon Administration would do well to review it. The hope of Americans must be that ways will be found, in automobile engine fuels and in other fields, to lessen the sharp rate of increase in oil and gas consumption—and to do all possible to preserve clean air, water and shorelines for future generations.

December, 1972

Hail To December! say they all.
It Gave To Earth Our Christ, the Lord!
—J.K. Hoyt.

December, the last month of 1972 comes with happy anticipations of Christmas homecomings and the wonders and tingle of winter and celebration. The children's wondrous world of Santa Claus, and—more important than anything else—observance of the anniversary of the birth of Jesus arrive in December.

There is December 7th—the anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941. Martin Van Buren, 8th President, was born at Kinderhook, New York, on the 5th in 1782. Delaware Day falls on the 7th, as does Library Day in West Virginia. Wyoming Day is on the 10th and Indiana Day on the 11th.

Washington died on the 14th in 1799. On the 15th in 1791 the Bill of Rights became a part of the United States Constitution. The Boston Tea Party was staged on the 16th in 1773. On the 17th in 1903, man made his first flight in an airplane at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina. On the 19th, in 1777, Washington encamped his 11,000-man army at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, after the British had occupied the capital, Philadelphia.

Worms Go New Length To Catch Fish

New mealworms dwarf former jumbo grubs.

Pull strings of good-eating panfish — bluegills, red-ear perch and crappie or white perch — are high on the fishing menu for Spring and early Summer.

Almost every warm-water lake has tremendous populations of these sporting fish. And most fish biologists agree that taking large panfish catches helps improve the quality of this kind of fishing.

Out on the lake, putting the fish on the stringer is a matter of finding good panfish haunts and then offering them the right kind of bait.

One of the most popular and productive panfish baits used over the years is mealworms, often called golden grubs. Now there is an improved mealworm available that makes fishing a lot easier as well as being a proven fish-catcher. Called Mighty Mealworms, the new mealworms are three times larger than normal grubs. This makes them easier to handle and attractive to a wide variety of game fish. They are also cleaner to handle than common redworms.

Mighty Mealworms are tough and durable. They stay on the hook when cast, last through repeated hookings and they are long-lived. Unlike smaller mealworms, Mighty Mealworms do not require refrigeration, they stay lively and active at room temperatures.

To fill up your stringer with panfish, try lake areas around submerged trees and brush where the fish school close to the protective branches. Deep holes near the edge of lily pads and weed beds are also prime spots to find congregations of panfish.

In the Gulf States, Mighty Mealworms are distributed by Fishing Products Inc. For more fish-catching information, write them at 1623 Crestmont, Stafford, Texas 77477.

Heir-Apparent?

The national Democratic Party, in shambles thanks to Senator George McGovern and his youth wave, is expected to be taken over by supporters of Senator Ted Kennedy of Massachusetts.

There are several reasons for this, one being Massachusetts was the only state carried by the Democrats. But the dominating reason is that so many Democrats think the Kennedy name is an asset in vote-getting. In the final analysis, most politicians and party workers want to win and will go with the candidate they think a likely winner.

Political factors seem lined up perfectly for Kennedy; McGovern was so badly beaten he will almost surely be denied another try. Senators Muskie and Humphrey of Maine and Minnesota have counted themselves out of further national races.

And yet, there are those who feel Ted Kennedy can never win a national election, especially one for President. His responsibility image, according to this theory, is not saleable to the moderate and conservative majority of the nation, though he will surely poll a good vote, as the polls indicate. Only time will prove or disprove this theory.

For the first time in decades there's a long-shot chance Democrats will turn to the South for a presidential candidate in 1976; having lost that traditional bastion this year. They could pick a progressive, moderate and Governor Reubin Askew of Florida seems one likely bet. (Askew says Kennedy isn't popular in the South.)

The young, new-image Floridian who turned down second place on the McGovern ticket, could regain the South for Democrats and likely capture a massive non-South vote, greater than that of George Wallace. He's a proven vote-getter. Traditional anti-South prejudice presumably no longer bars southerners like Askew, who is a liberal and a reformer.

Thanks to All

I want to thank the election judges, and election clerks of Kent County for their work during the election, and to the voters of Precinct No. 3 for electing me to a new term.

I will work hard, and do my utmost to do a good job. Again, thanks to all of you.

Hard Work Pays Off In Rewards For Texas Four

Four Texas young people have learned that hard work in 4-H can pay off in a really big way.

They were named state award winners in their 1972 club projects by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Sheryl Porter, 17, of Hubbard, and Ruth Foreman, 18, of Clute, will receive expense-paid trips to the 51st National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30 from their 4-H sponsors.

high school senior, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Porter. She is a cheerleader and captain of the girls' basketball team.

The 4-H awards program is arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee and conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

HEALTH - HOME - BEAUTY

If the holiday season brings on a spirit of helping those in need, there're many in Nursing homes who need someone to tidy their hair and trim their nails.

It's almost too late to plant spring-blooming bulbs. In the warmer areas tulips can still be planted as well as some other late bloomers.

Prevent rusting of wrought-iron furniture by applying liquid wax.

If you are a beginner in sewing, remember to always buy a little extra yardage for matching plaids and diagonal stripes.

An early gift suggestion is rings as they come in many shapes and colors. There's no limit to the number one wears.

In Fashion
