The Dickersons Have Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Dickerson will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary with a reception on Sunday September 30th in the Girard Community Center.

Hosts and hostess will be the children of the couple; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Teague of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hill of Spur, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Dickerson of Lubbock and Ronnie Dickerson of Lubbock.

The reception will be from 2 p. m. until 4 p. m. Mrs. Dickerson is the former Deen Fuqua of Comanche county and Mr. Dickerson was reared in Brown county, both Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson moved to Kent county in 1924.

The Dickersons were married in Kent County in 1933 and have lived here since.

Dickerson is commissioner of Prec. 2 of Kent County.

Their friends are invited to attend the reception.

Special Service

At Local Church

Special services will be held Sunday morning and night at the Assembly of God Church, September 30.

Ronald G. Meador will be the guest preacher. He is attending bible college at Waxahatchee.

Everyone is welcome to attend, a spokesman stated.

You have heard the old expression, "Out of the frying pan into the fire?" Well, that is the position the Jayton Jaybirds find themselves in this Friday night.

In their three games so far, they have found themselves struggling with opponents branded "too hot to handle" but out of this, they now travel to the land of the Rule Bobcats, to attack them right in their lair, and the Cats are away up in the top in State schoolboy Class B ratings.

The Birds will be the decided underdogs, and it would be the upset of the year if they could pull out the victory.

One good thing about these tough early season games (if they can come out of them healthy) is that it puts them in fine condition for the district tussles yet to come.

Many local observers are watching the season unwind with this philosophy, "If we can get through the tough non-conference schedule, we should be able to tackle the district teams with some degree of confidence."

Game time 8 p. m. in Rule Friday night. Pep rally at 3:30 Friday afternoon in Jaybird gym.

A Big Tie In The Football Contest

There was a big tossup among the guessers in the Jayton Chronicle football contest this past week. There were several who guessed seven right, and three wrong. So all places were decided on the tie breaker, which was 50 points. Here is the way they guessed and the score on the tie breaker, Alex

For the first time in ten years of Panhandle South Plains Fair competition the Jaybird Band has succeeded in coming out on the top of the heap. And what a heap! Forty-two marching bands of all classifications lined up in Lubbock Monday at 10 a. m.

When it was all over, Jayton was pleased to accept the class B trophy and an award check in the amount of $100.

This marks the second win this month for our band as they handily won the West Texas Fair Parade in Abilene September 8th. But the win this week was especially sweet in view of the much stiffer competition in Lubbock and because this particular first place had evaded the group for so many years.

Kick Smith expressed his appreciation for the large number of enthusiastic Band Boosters present. Drum major, Na Rae Gallagher could only say, "That was some birthday present!"

Former Kent Resident Dies

Tom Loyce Osman, a former Jayton resident, died Thursday in a Post hospital.

THIS WEEK IN JAYTON

The good old U. S. Postal Service, you can always count on them being consistent. They consistently raise rates, and also the service consistently gets worse with each rate increase.

In Tuesday's paper, we are informed that first class rates will advance by 25% and other rates also going up. Second Class newspapers had a hike in rates this month, which was one of a regular schedule of rate hikes. Many of the larger papers have quit the postal service altogether, and are furnishing their own distribution, because of unreasonable postal charges.

Not long ago, people in the Lubbock area had one day delivery to Fort Worth and Dallas and other points of like distance. But not any more. With the color separation system of tying out the mail, they guarantee you that the mail will not be delivered in one day at Dallas and Fort Worth. If it should get there in one day, it will not be put up until the next day, according to the color system.

The postal service advertises one day delivery between Lubbock and Abilene, but this is not really true. It is only true on certain days of the week--but not true on the week end, at the time a great lot of the mail is deposited.

And, no more, do you get window services at most post offices Saturday and Sunday, and holidays. Some of the smaller offices may offer window services for an hour or so on Saturday.

When there is a Monday holiday, this, many times means three days that a person cannot buy a stamp.

Some offices have stamp machines in the lobby, but this has become a joke--because they stay out of order so much of the time. A few weekends ago, the Ralls machine was out of order so I drove over to Lubbock, and the first two stamp machines I tried there were also out of order.

I am in favor of Congress taking back over the postal system. At least you can get response when you complain to your Congressman.

Every year at spring training time, and in the early fall, Lubbock sports writers are high in their praise of the Texas Tech Red Raiders. Reading their stuff, one has

The State 4-H Dress Revue

Dallas again will host the annual State 4-H Dress Revue as 47 Texas Coeds model today's fashions and compete for honors Oct. 4-6. The statewide competition is held in conjunction with the State Fair of Texas and is a feature of Rural Youth Day at the Fair.

Three top winners and runners up will be announced during a press luncheon Oct. 5 at 2 P.M. in the Baker Hotel Texas Room after a morning of judging events. Mass media representatives from throughout the state are expected to attend the luncheon sponsored by the Fuller Foundation, Inc. and Celanese Fiber Marketing Co.

The 47 finalists, including the top winners, will model their fashions in a public showing at 10 A.M. and 11 A.M. the next morning at the Women's Bldg. Auditorium on State Fair grounds. Top overall winner of the state Revue will represent Texas at the National 4-H Club Congress Nov. 25-29 in Chicago, according to Mrs. Vivian Simmons, 1973 State 4-H Dress Revue chairman and clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In the wool division, the top two winners will receive bonds from the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association. In the cotton division, the top two winners will win cash awards from the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association.

To compete at the state level, all 47 finalists took top honors in county and district competition across Texas last spring. They represent more than 17,000 4-H youth now enrolled in clothing projects, Mrs. Simmons said.

Winners are chosen by the finalists themselves who actually judge each other. Criteria include overall appearance of the garment, suitability of fabric, style and color for the individual, as well as accessory choices and poise.

Commentator for the fashion showing on State Fair grounds will be Dianne Hoover, Texas Agricultural Products marketing specialist. 4-H boys will play a role in the Dress Revue itself when 13 outstanding members-- in Dallas for other State Fair activities--will escort revue finalists during the two showings for the public.

Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, the State 4-H Dress Revue is part of the Texas 4-H and Youth program.

District III will be represented at the State Dress Revue by: Kathy Jobe, Young County; Sharon Fox, Dickens County; Rhonda Cameron, Childress County; and Minette Geeslin, Kent County.

Minette Geeslin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Geeslin from Jayton. She is a Junior in high school and has been very active in 4-H. Good luck Minette.

Connally Terrified?

John Connally recently told a reporter, who asked if he would like to be President, he wasn't sure, that the idea terrified him to a degree.

While there is truth in that statement, because the responsibilities of the job are so awesome, few politicians turn down a chance to sit in the White House.

In other words, once nominated or convinced they can win nomination, the terror is quickly overcome by most of them.

There are indeed few who won't run in the General Sherman tradition and it's a safe bet to say that if the former Texas Governor and Nixon aide feels he can be nominated, he'll rise to the occasion, running hard, and see it as his duty to the country.

Shultz's Burn

Treasury Secretary George Shultz recently admitted U.S. negotiators were outsmarted by their Russian counterparts in the huge 1972 wheat deal between the two nations.

Schultz commented as Senator Walter Huddleston (D-Ky) was charging the Russians made as much as 100 per cent profit in reselling some of the wheat to Italy.

The Treasury Secretary's analysis of the deal was: "If you get burned once then that's their fault. But if you get burned twice then that's our fault."

This vindication is not justified or valid. The American people have a right to expect U.S. negotiators to be as capable and well informed as their counterparts.

Obviously, U.S. negotiators were far from realistic in their 1972 efforts, if not incompetent. The huge sale caused American food prices (bread, flour-based products, beef, pork, poultry, etc.) to spurt upward. The American consumer is now paying through the nose for this lack of foresight.

The Minimum Wage

The President recently vetoed a bill which would raise minimum wages from $1.60 to $2.20 an hour and extend coverage to seven millions.

Mr. Nixon is not opposed to an increase in the minimum wage; he himself has proposed a raise. The bill he vetoed was one (passed by the Democratic-controlled Congress) the President felt was inflationary.

Ironically, in the same week Nixon vetoed Congress minimum-wage bill, government statistics showed wholesale prices had jumped 6.2 per cent in August alone! The price of food, of course, has risen sharply for some months.

Most Americans support the President's efforts to combat inflation. And no doubt it took courage to veto a minimum wage bill. But the extent of the Administration's failure to hold the line on prices necessitates a higher minimum wage law now.

Congress and the President have an urgent obligation to immediately compromise their differences and give the nation's lowest paid workers a helping hand in their personal battles with inflation, tough battles even though the economy is brisk.

Progress & Potatoes

A recent wire service article reported that the custom of fresh potatoes on the dinner table is disappearing—as more Americans are guided into eating frozen or boxed processed potatoes.

The story claimed a generation of Americans is growing up to think Idaho's famous farm product is poured from a box. In some ways, the story seemed to imply that the financial success of those who have persuaded many to eat processed potatoes is a success story.

The trend may indeed represent a personal financial success for certain enterprising packers and processors. But the trend away from fresh potatoes, to easier-to-prepare processed potatoes, is not gastronomical progress.

Fresh potatoes are preferable, and if really fresh, contain vitamins which are lost in processing. The fact that enterprising processors and advertising moguls have convinced so many to eat processed potatoes is merely confirmation of the trend among many American women (and some men) to find the easiest, quickest way to prepare food—not necessarily the best.

Cigs & Babies

A British survey has found that death at birth occurs thirty per cent more often among babies of smoking mothers.

Results of the survey were printed in a recent issue of "Concern," the publication of the National Children's Bureau.

A statistician who compiled the figures and report says the figures apply to mothers who smoke regularly after the fourth month of pregnancy.

Another study of the Bureau shows children of smoking mothers average three-fifths of an inch shorter at birth, trailed three months in learning reading skills and are less well adjusted at school than children of non-smoking mothers.

This is the latest of many recent indications smoking threatens both the health and life of babies; it's therefore hard to conceive of any intelligent woman continuing to suck cigarettes while pregnant.

Now here's a clock that beats them all... Big Ben, himself, watching the passing parade. Somehow, old Ben still manages to keep an eye on things while he's telling the time, and the stories he could tell might fill a book.

With today's atomic clocks, which mark the passage of time by atom vibrations, time now can be measured more accurately than ever before. Yes, we've come a long way since the first clock, which was simply the alternating periods of darkness and daylight.

Just as man has always relied on some satisfactory method of telling the time, so has he always been aware of a hunger within his heart for peace and meaning in life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a schoolhouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four main reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly, and read your Bible daily.

POUND CAKE ANSWERS ALL

Think of a dessert that goes well after any meal, that club members will enjoy at a meeting this fall, that's equally as good with morning coffee or a bedtime snack. The answer is Old-Fashioned Pound Cake. When great-great-grandmother made her old-time version, her recipe might have called for a pound of butter, a pound of flour, a pound of sugar, and a pound of eggs. The name "pound" still stands today, but for convenience the measurements have been exacted and are given in cups. For a flavorful beginning to any number of dessert combinations, top your cake with ice cream or fresh berries, add a sauce, or serve a creamy pudding in a chilled dish. Customarily, pound cake is not iced, but many modern-day cooks drizzle the cooled cake with a glaze. Orange frosting is especially good with the orange-flavored Old-Fashioned Pound Cake recipe contributed to the Holiday Inn International Cook Book, a collection of home-size recipes from around the world.

In largest mixer bowl, cream butter at medium speed of electric mixer. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until mixture is light and fluffy. Add eggs, 2 at a time, beating well after each addition. Add lemon and vanilla extracts and blend well.

OLD-FASHIONED POUND CAKE

From the Manchester, Tennessee, Holiday Inn

1 pound butter or margarine
3 cups sugar
10 large eggs
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 cup fresh or frozen orange juice

Sift flour, baking powder and baking soda together. Add to egg mixture all at once. Mix on low speed for 1 minute. Scrape down bowl and beaters. Beat at medium speed for 2 minutes. Add orange juice beat at low speed for 1 minute, until thoroughly blended. Pour into well-greased and floured 10-inch tube pan or fill a 10-inch bundt pan three-fourths full; pour rest of batter into a 7x5x2 1/2-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350° for 1 hour or until cake tests done. Bake loaf pan about 45 minutes. Cool cake in pan 5 minutes before turning out onto wire rack. Frosting: If desired, frost cake when it is completely cooled. Gradually blend 2 to 4 tablespoons orange juice into 1 cup confectioners' sugar until of good pouring consistency. Drizzle over cake and sprinkle with 1/4 teaspoon grated orange peel. Makes 1 cake.

gotten the idea each year that the Raiders were the greatest and would be unbeatable.

On several occasions they have later faced their predictions with red faces.

This year it was no exception, except their praise was even louder and greater. But from the first two games played by the Red-clad crew, one gets the idea that the pen specialists were not dealing in idle praise, but it seems that Carlen's crew is really living up to pre-season praise of the scribes.

If you missed the re-run of the kickoff Saturday afternoon you missed the game, because New Mexico was really not in it after that.

The Raiders will really be put to the test Saturday night when they play the burnt orange Longhorns on the banks of the Colorado down in the State Capitol.

Texas is going to be mad and mean, but aren't they always mean when they play Tech? This could just be Tech's year.

Now the Watergate is on the tube again.

A lot of people have tried to discredit the committee by saying stop it and get down to the business of the country.

Do they mean ferreting out corruption in government is not important.

I just hope the government will get out of the price fixing business. Everytime they put controls on something, the results is sky rocketing prices.

Meat products got out of sight and people just about had to quit eating any kind of meat while the government was dabbling with price control. Now, prices are coming down, and there is a better supply of products.

It has become the accepted practice that people who are candidates for state offices, go into the big cities, and set up organizations and then get on television to do their campaigning. It is usually the case, that a friend in the small towns and communities can not even get a telephone audience with the big candidates. You always have to have your contact with a paid assistant, unless you are really someone important.

So, imagine my surprise, one day last week, when a man walked into my office and introduced himself as Bob Bullock, a candidate for State Comptroller.

I only recall two other instances, of this happening, of a state candidate just walking in, by himself.

In about 1940, when I had a weekly newspaper at Meadow, in walked Governor Jim Allred, who was out in an old car by himself, driving around and meeting people.

And, on two occasions, Ralph Yarborough, has walked into my office unannounced, one time when he was running for governor, and another time when he was running for the Senate.

Of course George Mahon is famous for this, and also Omar Burleson gets out and visits around when the Congress is not in session.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Daniels and children of Lubbock and Bennie Daniel, Terry and Sammie of Andrews visited Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Mayer last weekend.

Mrs. Emma Jean Owens spent last weekend in Anson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Mayer were in Abilene Monday for John Henry to have some tests made.

As It Looks From Here

By Rep. Omar Burleson
Member of Congress, Texas

Washington, D. C.-- At about this time forty years ago, American citizens were denied the right to own gold. That action was characterized by Dr. Milton Friedman, the noted economist, as an act of expropriation of private property. He said there never was and there is not now any valid reason to prohibit individuals from owning, buying, or selling gold. Individuals should have the same right to trade in gold as they have to trade in silver, copper, aluminum, or other commodities.

At the same time our own government prohibits Americans from owning gold, it is interesting to note that other countries in the world which have this prohibition are primarily the totalitarian dictatorships. For instance, most of the Iron Curtain countries, including Russia, prohibit the private ownership of gold as does communist China. There are only a few other non-communist nations which deny it. Even Great Britain, which followed our policy for many years, restored the right to ownership of gold coins two years ago.

When the Bretton Woods international monetary fund was established foreign central banks were allowed to convert their paper dollars into gold at $35 an ounce but the prohibition against American citizens doing so or even holding gold was continued.

The excuse at that time and presumably now, is that if American citizens are allowed this right, they might drain the treasury of so much gold that it could not fulfill its obligations for foreign banks to convert our currency into gold. The United States Government has repudiated this pledge and actually the last excuse or reason for depriving private U. S. citizens of the right to own gold ceased to exist.

In the face of inflation, deficit spending, and currency devaluation, the ownership of gold by our own citizens could be a safeguard against these conditions and incentive to save. Our citizens would have a way of protecting their savings against the further erosion in the value of the dollar.

U. S. Treasury officials say that the private ownership of gold would lead to hoarding but they have not told us yet what difference this would make. In fact, it would seem that it would reduce the supply of money and this is one of the reasons for present high interest rates. Treasury Department officials keep saying that gold does not affect the Nation's economy at all. If this be true, then the economy would be affected more if people began hoarding potatoes or wheat, which adds to the gross income of the country. If for nothing else, the ownership of gold would give the owner confidence that he possesses something of real value.

The treasury department also indicated that the premature lifting of restraints on the individual ownership of gold might adversely affect the international monetary situation. It is difficult to imagine that greater speculation in gold would be brought about than is the case at the present time when the price has skyrocketed from $35 an ounce to more than $10.

Last April, the United States senate approved an amendment permitting Americans to own gold. It would simply have removed the prohibition against its purchase as of December 31 of this year. The following May the House of Representatives rejected this amendment by a tie vote of 162 to 162. It adopted instead a bill which endorses private ownership of gold but lets the President decide when, if ever, it is to be effective.

In a free society the presumption of law should always be on the side of freedom--not of limitation. The sentiment in Congress on this subject seems clearly in support of this right.
