Jaybirds Will Host Hawley Friday Night

This Friday night the Jayton Jaybirds will really get down to business. They open district play here, as they host the Hawley Bearkats.

In non-district play, the Birds are winless. They played a tough schedule, playing three Class A teams, and one of the toughest Class B teams in the state.

While the record does not look good, coaches and players are not overly pessimistic about the up coming district race.

They feel the first four games against tough competition has served to get them in shape, and they know how to compete when the going gets rough.

All local fans hope all the losses are behind now, and the Jaybirds can finish the season without any more losses, and become the district title holder.

Kickoff time is 7:30 p. m. Friday night at Jaybird Field. The opponents will be the Hawley Bearkats.

In the six years of competition with Hawley the Birds have won every encounter. This is no time to start changing the statistics.

Pep rally in the gym at 3:30 Friday.

Farm Bureau Will Oppose Farm Exports

WACO--(Spl) --Texas Farm Bureau President, J. T. Woodson has urged congressional and Administration leaders to oppose export controls on agricultural products.

In a telegram to six national leaders, Woodson said exports are vital to balance of payments, domestic price stability, confidence in the U. S. as a trading partner, and position of the U. S. in international trade agreements.

"Texas Farm Bureau members solidly support expanding exports of agricultural commodities and developing mutually advantageous trade with other nations," Woodson said in the wire.

Telegrams were sent to President Nixon, Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, Treasury Secretary George Shultz, Cost of Living Council Director John Dunlop, and Texas Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen.

The House recently passed a bill (H. R. 8547) to increase the President's authority to control exports of materials and agricultural commodities. The senate is now holding hearings on similar bills (S. 2053 and S. 2411) which would increase the President's authority to limit exports.

Woodson said some processors of agricultural raw materials are exerting influence on Congress and the Administration to limit exports.

"The TFB president said exports in recent months have brought decent prices and incomes to U. S. farmers and ranchers for the first time in memory."

The fiscal 1973 year export sales, which were 60 percent higher than a year ago, required the output of 85 million acres of the U. S. cropland--or the production of one of every four acres harvested, Woodson said.

Texas farmers' and ranchers' share of the 1973 fiscal year export sales amounted to almost $800 million, he pointed out.

As It Looks From Here

By Rep. Omar Burleson
Member of Congress, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C.-- On the one hand the food and drug administration intends to prohibit the use of certain vitamins and food supplements. On the other the National Institutes of Health finds a low level of several vitamins in elderly people who need supplements furnished by organic foods.

Statistics show that there are at least 20 million Americans over the age of 65. Scientists and specialists report that vast numbers of these are suffering from mental and physical sickness that simply nutritional solutions might cure.

Thousands of the nation's elderly are poor, sick and confused. A study conducted at Duke University in North Carolina found that half or more of all mentally confused patients over 65 had "borderline" or worse nutritional problems. It was concluded that if they ate better, with food supplements, if necessary, their health would be normal for that age.

The findings show that the nutritional problem exists in the disadvantaged and that vitamin supplements may be the reasonable means of overcoming the deficiencies common to older people.

Dr. Alan Whanger of Duke University's Medical Center, a practicing psychiatrist, said he "almost routinely" treats patients with vitamin-mineral supplements. Up to 40 percent of his patients show deficiency and many respond to nutritional therapy.

The doctors admits he is unable to submit positive proof but believes that "many of our aged need vitamin supplements and is worried that by reason of the Food and Drug Administration's new regulations, vitamins will get more expensive and less available for those who need them most."

Specialists say that the life-style of many of the nation's elderly lead to poor food balance.

They often live alone and as we all know it is not particularly fun to eat alone--it's just easier to do what seems necessary--cheese and crackers--sandwiches, a boiled egg--whatever--and let it go at that.

Junior High Outlasts Matador For Win

Jayton Junior Birds retaliated against Matador win in the opening score 20 to 14 loss by beating them 6 to 0 in their third game of the season.

After the first quarter was well under way Jayton recovered a Matador fumble and marched in for the touchdown. The scoring play with a pass by Gene Cleveland in to the waiting arms of Harold Parker put the 6 points on the scoreboard. The extra point attempt failed.

From that point on it was all defense. The final score 6 to 0 gives our Junior High fighting Jaybirds a 2-1 season record.

Come and support our Junior High fighting Jaybirds against Hawley at 7 p. m. on the Jaybird Field October 11th.

THIS WEEK IN JAYTON

its going to be a sad community affair this Saturday when the Jayton drug store will be auctioned off piece at a time which means no more drug store in town.

Its too bad someone does not step up and make a deal for the entire package and keep the drug store open.

Its too bad, also as great as the community need is for a drug store, that it is not economical to operate it, and pay expenses.

iversity football team, better known as the Aggies, will be in Lubbock Saturday for their annual clash with the Red Raiders.

If the Raiders can do a repeat of their performance last Saturday, they will be on the road, and fellows like Mark Geeslin and Robert Pierce will have to hide out for awhile. Of course if the Aggies take it all back to the Brazos Country, then we will be avoiding them for a few days.

Oh yes, if Tech wins Saturday, I have a new joke I will want to tell to any local members of the Gig'Em Club.

People who like to live in a small town like Jayton need to do some serious thinking about it.

Everytime a resident of Jayton goes somewhere else to buy something he can get here, he is another side to the coin. Every time a local merchant does not do his best, and does not make an honest effort to do a good job, and to encourage his customers to stay around, and do business in town, he is really trying to go out of business.

Just something to think about.

This fall weather is really something -- hot days and cool nights. Generally, this is the kind of weather I like. But not when it goes like it was Sunday. Down in the Abilene-Cisco country, with the sun causing the temperature to go above 90 degree mark, our car dumped the belt to the air conditioner compressor. After spending about an hour and more than ten dollars, a new belt was put on, and again the car was cool. Then, boom, after about five miles, it threw the belt again. This caused us to decide the compressor was on the blink, so we drove on home in the heat.

And you know these cars built for air conditioners, are not intended to be used without air conditioners. All you can do is roll the glass down and then the wind almost

How long has it been, do you suppose since a genuine circus set up in Kent County? Well, there will be a circus in Girard this Friday and Saturday to work with the Kent County Fair.

The circus will be in Aspermont Thursday.

This will really give the fair the old time fair atmosphere. Jayton Lions club is sponsoring the circus.

State Representative Is Lions Speaker

Charles Finnell of Holliday, State Representative of District 53 was guest speaker at the Jayton Lions Club last Monday noon.

He was introduced to the club by the County Attorney Howard Freemyer.

He spoke to the Lions about the revision of the State Constitution. He now represents Archer, Wichita, Clay and Young Counties in the Legislature. He has been in the legislature since 1966. He is a member of the following House committees: Elections, vice chairman; agriculture and livestock, and reapportionment.

He was recently elected vice-chairman of the West Texas delegation to the 63rd Legislature.

He also told the group about his plans for the coming session of the legislature, Freemyer said.

The Football Guessers Are Getting Better

The football guessers had their best week with the games. Three people guessed 11 games right, missing only one each. The score in the tie breaker game was 51.

This puts Sally Garcia first with 1-44, and Gus Fincher and David Geeslin tied for second with 1-40 each.

Several people missed only two games, out of the first three division. They were Alex Garcia 2-40, Joy Kidd, 2-24, Jean Parker 2-40, Janet Johnson 2-35, Marsanette Kyle 2-28, Greg Nauert 2-30, Paula Mayer 2-27, W. L. Mayer, 2-31, and Tom Hanke, 2-25.

Someone turned in a paper without a name on it, but missed our games so it didn't matter.

This contest is made possible by the merchants listed on the booster page.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Owen of Jayton announce the arrival of a son, Wednesday, October 3, at the St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock.

He weighed six pounds and thirteen ounces, and has been named Michael Lynn, Jr.

The father is the owner of the Spot Grocery.

Mows you out of the car. That's what a person gets for not being a member of the new generation. Otherwise you would not mind driving with the glasses down, and the wind blowing. Oh well.....

High school football is now getting down to the real contest. Local teams start district competition this week, and from here on in, every win or loss will be crucial.

There are already signs to remind us that next year will be election time. Just a few days ago, I had a party question me about local politics, and the possibility of certain office holders having competition at the polls.

Also, at least two candidates for state wide office has been in town feeling around, to test his strength, and weaknesses, if any.

The Sharpstown scandal has been in the news again lately. Former State Attorney General Waggoner Carr, has been very busy defending himself against criminal charges. He has indicated he is innocent, and all of his problems are chargeable to the Republicans in Washington trying to discredit any Democrat of peristige in Texas.

They had former U. S. Attorney General Mitchell in Dallas to testify in the case. Carr blames Former Texas Attorney General Wilson with the responsibility of the most of his woes.

The cotton is really opening up now, and many farmers are using leaf killing chemicals to get ready for harvest.

Some farmers in the area northwest of Falls were spared the trouble one afternoon last week, when hail hit their crops.

An item of concern now, is the matter of farmers contracting the sale of their cotton. Some farmers are now looking at a severe loss, because early in the year they were offered what seemed to be a very good price to contract their cotton. But now the prices have advanced far above that price, and they now stand to take a substantial loss.

Already the courts are involved in the job of making farmers live up to the terms of the contracts. Such is life....

A Dessert Delight...

Go Nutty With Apples

Succulent spiced apples baking on brisk fall or winter days... they'll fill any household with their aroma and add flavor to a meal.

Mix them with some roasted peanut candy and a few other tasty ingredients and you'll create an easy-to-make Peanut Candy Apple Crisp dessert that's sure to please dinner guests and brighten a blustery day.

Unexpected visitors who pop in over the fall and winter holidays also can be treated to this peanut-apple combination. It can be prepared and served with so little effort, but will have a big and flavorful effect.

1 five-ounce peanut candy bar
1 cup crisp dry rice cereal
2 tablespoons melted butter
4 cups peeled sliced apples

Crush the peanut candy bar into bits. Mix candy with the rice cereal and the 2 tablespoons of butter. Blend the brown sugar, 1/2 cup melted butter and cinnamon with apple slices. Fold the apple mixture into a 10 x 6-inch baking dish. Cover this with the candy-cereal mix and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes, or until apples are tender. Serve hot or cold, plain or with whipped cream. Makes four servings.

Here's a recipe for Peanut Candy Apple Crisp developed by the National Confectioners Association:

1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup melted butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon

France's Aim

The haughtiness of the French Government's attitude concerning worldwide protests over continued nuclear testing in the Pacific, which contributes to pollution of the atmosphere, is another indication of the obsession which influences so many Gaullists—the obsession to again make France a great world power—probably an impossibility.

The late Charles DeGaulle mischievously cultivated this dream among the prideful and emotional French; he also generated jealousy of Great Britain and America in exhibiting resentment over their nuclear development and cooperation, which dates from World War II.

The underlying goal of the French, as it always has been, is to get into the nuclear club, so to speak. The French want Washington to give them the same nuclear secrets and know-how and cooperation given the British, who helped develop the first atom bomb.

That goal is behind recent, renewed French hints that Europe should develop its own, independent nuclear force, behind French truculence in so many dealings with the United States in recent years (such as expropriating our military bases and withdrawing from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization) and also behind the adamant French policy of continuing nuclear testing in spite of protests from many nations, the World Court, etc.

This pressure from Paris has induced some columnists and government officials to take the position France is stable enough to share in U.S. nuclear secrets. Nothing could be more absurd.

The French Communist Party is both large and powerful, Gaullist control is weakened and in doubt. In addition, history proves the French of the twentieth century completely unreliable; further, the United States should not as a matter of policy, succumb to blackmail—certainly not to the extent of giving away nuclear secrets which might well eventually be used to threaten U.S. security.

To The Young

Parent advice for the young generation has been offered by Judge Phillip Gilliam of Denver, Colorado. Today's young men and women are more sensibly and realistically oriented than were their counterparts just four or five years ago but the advice is still valid, and worth repeating each summer—as college and university students go home:

"Go home. Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork, rake the leaves, mow the lawn, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub the floors, repair the sink, build a boat, get a job, help the minister, priest or rabbi. Visit the sick, help the poor, study your lessons... and when you are through and not too tired read a good book.

"Your parents don't owe you entertainment. Your city or village doesn't owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty or sick and lonely. In plain simple words, grow up. Quit being a cry baby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone; start acting like a man or lady. You have no right to expect your parents to buy you every whim or fancy just because your selfish ego instead of common sense dominates your personality, thinking and requests. In heaven's name, grow up and go home."

EPA & Cars

Acting Administrator Robert Fri of the Environmental Protection Agency recently held a press conference to publicize the agency's recommendations to reduce smog. Congress has instructed the agency to achieve certain results by 1977.

With typical bureaucratic bombast, Fri told reporters the aim of the agency was to break up the love affair of the average American for his car. He also said that the plan "I propose" could result in a ban of all traffic from the streets of Los Angeles, though the agency might ask Congress to ease requirements in such areas.

Both statements are unrealistic and reflect no credit on Fri. It's not the business of EPA bureaucrats now embarked on their vast new program to teach Americans not to love cars.

If controls are necessary to eliminate smog in urban areas, they must be imposed; there's no question they are badly needed. But the American can continue to love his car, and will be able to drive it elsewhere.

Nor will things ever come to such a state that there are no automobiles on the streets—anywhere. Emissions can be reduced to very low levels and traffic greatly reduced but talk of a total ban is nonsense. Electric cars, as one alternative for example, cause no pollution at all.

More On Drug Prices

Senator Gaylord Nelson (D-Wis) has charged again that the U.S. drug industry "exploits" the American people by asking exorbitant prices. The worst part of it, Nelson says, is that the companies sock it to the very young and very old, more than to other age groups.

Nelson and other Senators have repeatedly charged in recent years that drug companies often charge five or six times the price of a generic drug for brand name products which are nothing but that generic drug.

He has cited shocking price discrepancies. For example, the City of New York bought Benadryl capsules for $15.63 a thousand and then bought the identical generic drug for $3.

Drugs and medicines being a necessary part of life and the enjoyment of life, it seems clear that something must be done. No one who values the free enterprise system wants the federal government to move into that sector more than is absolutely necessary.

Yet in the field of medicine, the people's right to fair prices is paramount. And citizens of many foreign nations enjoy much lower prices for medicines and drugs than do Americans. Some form of federal intervention into this field is, therefore, justified; the logical first step would be a law requiring clear emphasis and labeling of the generic drugs in all commercial preparations and the posting of a list of fair generic drug prices in all pharmacies.

TOUCHDOWN . . . we all know the thrill that lifts us to our feet when OUR team scores. We cheer, we sing and shout. It takes teamwork to put a man over that goal line. The whole team must work together to move that ball down the field . . . "the right way." The guards and tackles must hold the line. The ends must be "on target" to receive passes. The quarterback must know his plays and execute them with speed and skill. Likewise, in the game of life we need wisdom and strength beyond our individual endeavor. It is essential to receive inspiration and help in order to achieve successfully our goals in life. Your church can provide that faith which leads to everlasting victory.

There's Still Time . . . Texas Egg Production Cracks . . . Hog, Pig Population Increases . . . Not So Sweet.

Hogs and pigs on Texas farms as of Sept. 1 are estimated at 1,100,000 head by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is an increase of 15 per cent from the June 1 estimate.

Farrowing intentions for Texas for September-November are 56,000 head, six per cent above the same months last year. Intentions to farrow in December of this year, January, and February, 1974 are eight per cent above the same quarter a year earlier.

Nationwide, hogs and pigs on farms in the 10 corn belt states are estimated at slightly above a year ago. Hogs for breeding are up one per cent while market hogs are up only slightly from a year ago.

Hog producers in the 10 corn belt states currently intend to hold farrowings at almost the same levels as a year ago for the next six months.

HONEY is not so sweet in Texas this year as far as production goes. Even though production is down, the crop is sweet. But production is down 32 per cent in Texas from a year ago. Commercial apiaries had 81,000 colonies this year, the same as last year. But the average yield is expected to be 65 pounds per colony compared with 92 pounds in 1972.

Colony condition is poor this year due to late freezes and excessive rains in eastern parts of the state.

Nationwide, honey production is about three per cent less than the commercial production in 1972. Yield per colony is expected to average 74 pounds, up slightly from 1972.

EGG production in Texas during August is reported at nine per cent below a year ago and five per cent under last month.

Nationwide, egg production is down six per cent from the past year.

Texas layer numbers totaled 11,000,000 during August, which is four per cent below a year ago.

Texas eggs laid daily per 100 hens averaged 57.8 during August, down from a year ago and last month.

THERE'S still time to visit the Food and Fiber Pavilion at the State Fair of Texas. The pavilion is under the supervision of the marketing division of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

When you visit it, be sure and get copies of two pamphlets on how to get the most from your food dollar. One is titled "Texas Round-up of Low Cost Menus." The other is titled "Economic Texas Vegetable Recipes."

Theme of the Pavilion this year is how to get the most from your food dollar.

This is the fourth year the Texas Department of Agriculture has had charge of the Pavilion. Nearly one million people annually have visited it during the past three years. More than a million visitors are expected this year.

TEXAS ranked third in the nation in fiscal 1973 in value of agricultural exports with almost $800,000,000 worth of sales. Illinois was first and Iowa was second.

Total export value of agricultural products reached $12,900,000,000. Exports continue to be an integral part of Texas agriculture since the state is the nation's leading producer of cotton and grain sorghum.

LIVESTOCK producers are reminded to continue to submit samples of suspected screwworms to the fly laboratory at Mission. The Fall season is at hand, and screwworms increase infestations now until cold weather.
