County People Get Pay Hikes

In the meeting of the County Commissioners Court here Monday, all elected county officials, and all county employees, were voted a 7 percent cost-of-living raise in salaries, rounded to the nearest dollar. There were no exceptions—Dorothy received $45 per month raise and the complement of the upkeep the Kent County Golf Club was given a $50.00 month raise. To become effective Sept. 1, Taylor made this motion, seconded by Carriker, all members of the court voted for it.

In other matters: A motion was made by Taylor, seconded by Carriker to approve all bills presented. This motion carried. On motion by Byrd, seconded by Parks, the budget as presented was approved. On motion by Carriker, seconded by Parks, a proclamation was adopted, to be presented to the State Department of Parks and Wildlife. This proclamation, was worded as follows: Section 1. It shall be unlawful to take minnows or any small fish from any of the waters of the Salt Fork of the Brazos River, the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos, or tributaries thereof, in Kent County, Texas. Section 2. It shall be unlawful to have in possession minnows or any small fish in Kent County. Section 3. Provided that nothing in Sections 1 and 2 shall prohibit the taking or possession of 300 minnows, or any small fish, or less in Kent County. Section 4. Any person who violates this act shall be guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction therefor shall be fined not less than $10 and not more than $200. It shall be shown on the trial of the case involving the violator of sections 1 or 2 of this act that the defendant has been once convicted of the same offense, he shall, on his second conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $1000.00, confinement in jail for a term not to exceed 180 days, or both such fine and confinement. All members of the court voted, favoring this resolution.

EASE IN FARM EQUIPMENT PRICES

According to an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the coming months may bring an easing of farm equipment prices. Equipment supplies are once again increasing to the point that prices may ease somewhat during the remainder of the year. And expansions in crop acreage and the recent strength in livestock prices may stimulate some equipment purchases later in the year. Since dealer margins on farm equipment have increased in recent years and inventories are now increasing, the time may be ripe for farmers to do some bargaining.

Mark Fincher On Top O Texas Team

Mark Fincher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Fincher of Jayton, has been featured with his picture on the cover of the Top O Texas Football magazine, recently put out. The magazine covers all classes of football teams in West Texas, and the Panhandle, and Mark was picked to represent Class B football. The magazine had this to say about him: "Mark's running attack will be led by Mark Fincher (5-10, 170 senior) back. He has gained 34 yards the past two seasons and has been named to the All-State team both years.

The Top O Texas magazine not only listed Mark in the top runners in Class B, but was one of three top running backs in the area in all Classes AAAA down to Class B.

Jaybirds Make Good Showing in First Night Scrimmage

If you didn't make it to Matador last Friday night you missed a real eye pleaser, at least an eye pleaser for the Jayton Jaybirds fans. Coach Richey stated he was extremely pleased by the performance of all 40 players in the scrimmage. The Jaybirds rolled up a total of 405 yards with a 5 yard per play average. The tough Jaybird allowed Matador only four first downs. The next scrimmage is this Friday on the Jaybird field. It starts at 6:30. The Booster club meets every Tuesday night to show films of the previous game. Meeting time is 7:30 p. m. in the cafeteria. Everyone is invited.

Screwworms Found In Kent County

The fourth case of screwworms has been reported in Kent County, according to County Agent Mark A. Geeslin. They were collected on the W. R. Bill Daniel place by Edd Kyle on Monday, Aug. 18. The Daniel place is located about 8 miles northeast of Jayton on the Kent-Stonewall County line. Stockmen are urged by Geeslin to continue their watch for screwworms on their places. Samples should be sent to the screwworm lab in Mission. Mailing kits are available at the county extension office.

The Fourth Branch

In a recent issue of "Reader's Digest" James Miller called attention to the disappointing fact that most of the regulatory agencies of the federal government in Washington protect the industries they're supposed to regulate. Appointments to key positions in the regulatory agencies are generally made from among the ranks of the industry being regulated. Lobbyists, highly-paid lawyers and industry executives who contribute to political campaigns often succeed in placing sympathetic individuals in key jobs in these agencies. The result is that the Federal Communications Commission is the tool of the networks and of the immensely rich broadcast industry—more so than its regulator. The Food and Drug Administration has too often protected food and drug manufacturers rather than crack down on abuses in the public interest. The Civil Aeronautics Board has been the agent of the airlines in too many cases where the public interest and airline interests clash. The Federal Power Commission is staffed with former power company employees or lawyers. Etc. Congress, which discovered its unused power in Watergate, must insist on impartial federal officials in the regulatory agencies if the public interest is to be protected.

LEADER IN BREEDING CATTLE EXPORTS

Texas was the leading exporting state of beef breeding cattle in 1974, reports a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Beef breeding cattle shipped from the U. S. last year came from Texas. Texas led in exports of Angus, Beefmaster, Brangus, Charolais and Santa Gertrudis cattle. Canada was the leading market for all U. S. Breeding cattle, accounting for 47 percent of the exports. Crossbreeds led the list of exports. Charolais were second and Brahman were third. Mexico and South Africa were also leading export markets.

THE HOME NEEDS TO BE SAFE

For an older person's maximum safety, the interior of a home requires a minimum of one permanent lighting unit per room. It should be switch controlled, at each room entrance, according to Extension specialists.

CONSUMERS CAN SAVE ON GROCERY MONEY

Consumers can save grocery money by shopping for in-season fruits and vegetables, says Marty Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Extension service.

COORDINATES ARE GOOD TO WEAR

Menswear coordinates, separates and leisure suits, complement today's need for multi-purpose, comfortable, attractive clothing. More casual looks and economic factors also influence traditional tailored suits and jackets to be less highly constructed, says Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist.

HEAVIER FRUITING IN COTTON

Researchers with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station are aiming for cotton plant that fruits more heavily. The idea is to get the optimum amount of food to the bolls of the plant by reducing competition between bolls and vegetative parts for leaf energy produced by photosynthesis. Researchers hope to develop a plant that has more fruit and fewer vegetative parts than can more effectively use water and fertilizer.

"Heather here in Scotland is so common it grows everywhere. Why do you wish to study it?" I asked a botanist.

He then suggested taking a single flower from the cluster and looking at it through his microscope.

I was amazed at the delicate shading and breathtaking design of an individual bloom. I almost wished he hadn't shown it to me. I trample on thousands of them every day.

The beauty and blessings of life are enhanced by observing God's creation through the lens of Truth.

Consider the Church as a spiritual microscope. It helps you see the worth of single souls. It encourages you to call no man common or trample his capacities under the foot of indifference. It helps you discover and appreciate all the wonders of God's marvelous creation.

TRAVEL TIPS AND TRICKS

IT'S A SNAP!

If you're traveling with a brand new camera, shoot a roll or two of film before you leave. That way you won't goof if your son happens to get Henry Kissinger's autograph along the way.

Even if you were a dud in mathematics, it's a snap to pay for something in foreign currency if you remember to pack a currency-converter. It's a good idea to have one sitting in the top of your handbag.

One free, no strings-attached gift for parents staying at Holiday Inns around the world is a standing invitation for all their kids under the ages of 12 to share a room with them—free unless an extra bed is required. This means that the kiddies can see Europe—and live in the best hotels—without costing their parents a cent for lodging. It's on the house!

When taking the family to that museum you've always wanted to visit, don't attack it as if there's no tomorrow. Study the arrangement of its wings and exhibits first; then head for the galleries that interest you most. That way you'll be able to enjoy your selections without gull...or tired feet.

When preparing casserole dishes for freezing, line your casserole dish with heavy-duty foil and prepare the casserole. When frozen, remove from your dish and store in freezer until you wish to cook it then, place in dish and bake longer than recipe calls for.

Take advantage of the money-saving coupons in magazines. The few cents refunded month after month adds up as time goes by.

If you are traveling, take everything of value out of your car when you stop for the night.

Save on clean-up time when melting baking chocolate. Wrap the needed squares in foil and place them in a pan over low heat.

Never scrub teflon cooking utensils with abrasive cleaners. It will damage the soft teflon coating.

REDDY'S REFRIGERATOR SAVINGS TIPS

- Return fresh foods to the refrigerator and frozen foods, such as ice cream, to the freezer as soon as possible. Measure and remove the quantity needed for cooking or for the table, and refrigerate the remainder at once.
- Use cold controls efficiently by selecting the settings that provide about 36° F. in the refrigerator and 0° F. in the freezer.
- Fill the refrigerator with food, but be careful not to overfill. Make sure that food packages don't block air vents in the freezer or refrigerator section.
- Clean the condenser surfaces of the refrigerator, dirt restricts air flow and acts to insulate the condenser, forcing the refrigerator to work harder and longer to maintain proper temperatures.

SURVEYING
Disavow Knowledge
 BY CHARLES RICHARDS

Several years ago, when "Mission Impossible" first began showing on television, it was intriguing to me. I have always enjoyed watching the show.

Just recently has it begun taking on a new light. I still enjoy it, even the reruns of the original show with its original stars.

It seemed more fictional back several years ago. Now as I watch the series, I can't keep from connecting the MI force with the CIA.

As the MI chief operative listens to instructions from a tape recording...telling him who needs to be stopped, or who needs to be assassinated, there are those ending lines: "As usual, if you or any of the MI force are caught, the Secretary will disavow all knowledge."

I don't know E. Howard's Hunt's voice that well. Tell me, somebody. Is it his voice on the other end of that tape?

Another attorney general's opinion has been handed down pertaining to the Open Meetings Law. There was one mentioned in this column last week about agendas now being required to be posted on Thursday, for a Monday meeting, if it is being posted inside a building where the public has no access over the weekend.

The new one concerns what can be considered at a meeting. In the past, some governing bodies — including the county commissioners' court and South Plains College regents — put various items on the agenda plus a catch - all item: "and any and all other business that this body may legally consider."

The latest AG ruling says there should be no miscellaneous agenda item. If it is to be up for discussion, then it is to be posted 72 hours in advance, so that the public can be forewarned and be present to hear the discussion, if they're particularly interested in the item.

That's not to exclude discussion on items which are, to everyone concerned, trivial and routine.

SPC president Dr. Marvin Baker had the right focus on the problem the other day.

He said if a board just goes about its business, and uses common sense, there is no problem in deciding whether it is violating the intent of the law.

Some of those who participated in the illegal "closed meeting" of the county commissioners' court earlier this month complained that The Surveyor story was unfair to the commissioners because it alleged a violation on the commissioners' part.

Their position was that the meeting was not illegal because they didn't call it and didn't know what it was about when they went into it.

And others said it wasn't "their" meeting, but a meeting of "elected" officials, of which they were only a portion.

First of all, it WAS a county commissioners' meeting, whether they called it or not. The discussion pertained directly to the way the county budget, for which they are responsible, had been drawn up, and to express the wishes of some that the commissioners would change the budget at the official budget hearing seven days later.

If a group of citizens protesting containerization called the four city councilmen, the mayor and the city manager to air their homes for a lengthy discussion of the issues, it would be a "city council meeting" whether the city council called the meeting or not.

If a group of parents unhappy with the dress code called all of the school trustees to a private get-together to air their complaints and urge a change in policy, it would be a "school board meeting" whether the school board called it or not.

It is a clear violation of the intent of the law for any governing body with rule-making or law-making powers to meet together at any time for serious discussion of the issues facing them as a board, without giving ample notice to the news media and opening the meeting to the press.

Now, as to whether there is any guilt on the commissioners part—or any other governing body which finds itself in a similar situation—for participating in a meeting they didn't call:

The Texas Open Meetings Law doesn't limit a violation to "calling" a session that is closed to the press, although that is often the case when a violation occurs.

The law defines a violation as ANY of three things. (Note the third point below):

Any member of a governing body... shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $200 on the first offense, and shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $500 on each subsequent offense...

- "Who wilfully calls or aids in calling or organizing a special or called meeting or session which is closed to the public, or

- "Who wilfully closes or aids in closing a regular meeting or session to the public, or

- "Who participates in a regular, special or called meeting or session which is closed to the public without causing or attempting to cause his dissent to be entered in the record or minutes of the governing body"

Ford And The Oil Companies

The President's proposal to allow oil prices to seek their own level is good free enterprise theory but oil is not moving freely in the market in the normal supply and demand system. The supply is controlled by political (government) decisions, embargoes, artificial price rigging, etc.

For that reason alone, President Ford's theory about allowing oil companies to go their own way and prices to seek their own natural level is fallacious. What will surely happen, as has happened every time an American President has prematurely removed controls at the urging of a major industry, is that fuel prices will rise sharply—and the little man will be badly hurt.

There is no justification for undue worry over the fate and profit probabilities of the oil companies. A recent tabulation showed oil companies now dominate the list of the fifty largest industrial corporations in the world.

Of the top ten companies, ranked by sales, only two—General Motors and Ford—were not oil companies. Last year the oil companies increased the price of oil by four hundred per cent; their profits skyrocketed as a result. So new increases after August are not in order by any standard—and the federal government should be doing everything possible to hold prices to the lowest possible level, if necessary with subsidies in the years to come.

Faced with that situation, President Ford headed for Colorado in mid-month for a two week respite and there are recurring reports he will veto congressional legislation to maintain price controls on much of America's oil. It could be a fatal political mistake for the President, who isn't likely to be elected by the American people in 1976 if he contributes so individually and significantly to another oil company windfall on the advice of pro-industry advisors.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Fuel Prices-
 Ford's Course-
 Congress To Override
 Turkey & Israel-

WASHINGTON, D. C. --

The political high drama of the moment in Washington is whether President Ford will forfeit his chance of election in 1976 if he allows fuel prices to rise sharply, by decontrolling the price of oil.

Industry lobbyists have long pressed Congress and the President to let oil prices seek whatever level they find in the market. This being an almost biblical principle of the free enterprise system. But the oil situation cannot be realistically compared to a free market system.

Congress, therefore, has not bought the industry argument, especially as oil prices have hiked four hundred per cent in the past year around the world. Congress favors retaining price controls on oil, and doing what can be done to hold increases to a minimum. In this Congress finally has the ear of the average voter.

President Ford has thus far accepted dangerous, idealistic advice from some advisors and the oil industry. If he allows prices to be decontrolled and the price of all fuel rises dramatically, he is certain to be blamed by the average voter.

This seems to many the only issue on which the President can cut his political throat at the moment. Yet he seems ready to do so. Democrats are set to have a political field day between now and the election of November, 1976, if the President allows events to take their course.

Perhaps price rollbacks can be legislated retroactively but this will be more difficult. The upshot of the fuel price confusion could be another Ford victory over majority sentiment in Congress. But this victory could cost Ford and the Republicans the White House in 1976.

Kojak

The clever or class programs on commercial television in America are few and far between and very few in the crime category qualify for this distinction. One exception is "Kojak."

The Greek-American with bald head, winning smile, tough manner and yet sensitive feelings is a growing personality, a new folk hero and film star in America—for good reasons.

One is that he is an honest cop (detective). The second is that he—for a refreshing change—comes across as human, with none of the phony glamor, stupid dialogue or weak plots which characterize most crime shows.

But perhaps the most important is Kojak's considerate manner in dealing with sensitive, weak or little people. Hard-boiled in his dealings with fellow officers, this American good-guy nevertheless has manners, kindness and charm in dealing with the public. That on U.S. commercial television is refreshing, as is someone who speaks out for law, order and the establishment.

School Time

Students all over America are now returning to school and college. The hope of seniors is that 1976 will offer better economic prospects than did June, 1975.

But whatever the condition of the economy next summer, the school year beginning challenges all students to prepare themselves for the task of making a living in a free enterprise society.

That has not always been easy, but one virtue of the American system is that all are free to pursue their own goals as they wish.

That means Americans can choose the work they like best. No bureaucrat makes that decision. That being true, Americans generate more incentive, ingenuity and enthusiasm for their chosen fields of work.
