

THE JAYTON CHRONICLE

Volume 52 - No. 33

Jayton, Texas 79528

Thursday, Oct. 2, 1975

We, in the news field sometimes wonder why this peculiar field, since the financial rewards are so all. As example, a young journalist can walk out of college or university with his degree, and what an opening he is going to get when he applies for a job as a daily or a weekly paper. This young man was a member of the university paper, working on a job of manual labor to get through school. But the best offer he could get in his chosen field was less than he had in getting at manual labor. Imagine the disappointment of working for a degree in a chosen field, and then having to go to work for peanuts. But he had to work and stuck it out, and proved his ability, is now getting a livable wage.

People in the top ranks of newsmen get fairly good wages, but still we are in the wrong field, if it is cold we are after.

Recent figures released seem to prove that the wages in the electronic news field (TV) are getting the best.

At the top of the heap is John Chancellor, NBC newsman who get about $600,000.00 per year. Harry Truman of ABC knocks down about $44,000.00 per year, and he gets $25,000.00 for each special he does.

Tom Snyder, of NBC's "Tomorrow" show is getting about half a million a year.

Howard K. Smith, another news hound on TV gets well in excess of $300,000.00 per year.

Very likely no editor of a daily newspaper gets anywhere close to that.

In 1969 when I was in New York visiting with my son, Charles, who was writing sports in the UPI International office, he pointed across the room to a man about 60, who was writing on an old beat up typewriter, typing with two fingers. My son pointed to him, and told me he was one of the best paid columnists in the world. He wrote a syndicated column. But I am sure drew a very modest salary, as compared to the TV newsmen, who are seen millions of people per day.

Gary Stemm, who writes for a national magazine has charged that the people are bombarding Congress with protests against costly far-out "nutty-professor" projects supported by public funds through the National Science Foundation.

Typical of the ridiculous grants made recently by the foundation, he said are:

- $36,500. for a study entitled: "Evolution of Song Learning of Parasitic Finches."
- $40,000.00 to probe "Spider Distribution Associated with Prey Density."
- $9,600 to finance a biography of Isaac Newton--"when there are already 145 biographies of Newton in the Library of Congress."
- $40,000.00 to study "Interpersonal Attraction in Laboratory and Other Educational Settings."
- $5,000.00 to uncover the "Social Behaviour of the Dog."
- $45,200.00 to determine the "Significance of Social Behaviour in the Maternal Reproduction of Fishes."
- $41,700.00 for a look into "Web Building and Communication in Three Species of Spiders in Parent Sociologies."

Rep. Robert E. Bauman, Republican from Maryland has said: "There is need for revision of the system by which these grants are made. They're handed out in an unrelated, secretive manner known as the 'peer review system'."

This is a system that allows cronies to get together, approve each other's pet projects and then to divide the funds for them."

The oil industry has tapped the biggest gusher in history with the lifting of price controls on old oil, a move in a national magazine has charged.

It is reported that in one presidential and congressional election the oil producers of this country suddenly have had their assets in the ground increased in value by $132 billion.

Nobody can dispute that this powerful industry is hoarding untold untold profits.

It comes hard at this particular stage of our history when so many millions are out of work and everybody is wondering how they are going to pay their heating bills this winter.

That a small group should profit so handsomely when so many are undergoing real hardships mocks the ideal of equality.

President Ford has pushed the oil barrel for the producers in the belief that their huge coming profits will be plowed back into expensive exploration and production operations.

That, he thinks, will produce more oil and the free market will ultimately bring stability to the economy and benefit the public.

There is nothing in recent history to support such a claim, it is pointed out.

The oil companies two years ago harvested the huge profits of their history, but since then oil production and drilling has ground virtually to a

Jayton School To Participate In Career Education

R. N. Pierce, superintendent of the Jayton Schools, announced this week that the Jayton-Girard school will become part of a 19 school career education network sponsored by the Lubbock based Education Service Center.

Four other schools are joining the network this year, they are Abernathy, Borden County, Hale Center and Motley County.

Career education is still a priority program for public schools across the nation. Its main purpose is to prepare young people for a productive and awarding life in such a way that work becomes meaningful and satisfying.

The center serves 65 schools in a 20 county region. The three to five year goal of the center is to assist all school districts in the region in implementing a career education program, Pierce said.

A Great Desire

By Walter Jent

Please give to us some words of kindly praise,
This world is full of sorrowful restraints.
The air is filled with worldly grief these days
And we would rid ourselves of these complaints.
Our lives are blest with beauty, love and grace
And we would rather laugh than mourn and weep.
We see concern upon the Master's face;
Worldliness make pledges hard to keep.
We are those whose love supports and cares;
Are asked to serve and give unselfishly.
We keep the church within our daily prayer
And pray for the pastor and his ministry,
I would be pleased to hear some words of praise
To bolster faith throughout the coming days.

One company even claimed it was short of funds just as it bid to buy a circus for millions of dollars.

Only the embarrassment of the exposure of the deal forced the oil company to withdraw.

Oil men always have been a law unto themselves.

Crop Tour Is Planned For Oct. 6th

A tour to visit crop result demonstrations and cotton research plots will be made on Monday Morning, Oct. 6.

The agricultural tour will leave from the courthouse at 10 a. m. and should end by noon.

Cotton variety, fertilizer plots, and deep breaking and chiseling land preparation demonstrations will be observed. Farmers demonstrations to be visited will be Frank Garcia on the McAteer farm, Jody Stanaland on the Lewis farm, and Bob Stanaland on the Mackenzie farm.

Sunflower crop will be observed in a field grown by Monroe Davis on the Hall farm.

The tour will end at the research plots on the J. T. Murdoch farm east of Jayton. Personnel of the Lubbock Research and Extension Center have a ten acre plot where they are testing early maturing varieties, experimental lines, and insect resistant varieties. Research personnel will explain the work being done on the plots.

Kent County Nursing Home News

The residents and staff of the Kent County Nursing Home want to thank the Commissioners Court for the new piano. It is truly appreciated. Mrs. Gertrude Fowler and Mrs. Ruby Matthews made their regular weekly visit Wednesday. Mrs. Fowler played and several patients joined in a "sing-song". Barney Murdoch came later and played. Everyone enjoys the music. We invite anyone who plays to come by at any time.

Mrs. Jean Westfall from New Deal was here Saturday to cut hair. This is a service that Mrs. Westfall has performed monthly since the home opened.

Visitors this week included Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hale from Arkansas who visited his mother Mrs. Ella Hale. Colonel and Mrs. Troy E. Whiting of San Antonio visited her brother Oran McClure.

Mrs. Harry Taylor, Mrs. Ford Taylor, Mrs. Mutt Hagins, and Mrs. Myrtle Webb visited Mrs. Laredo Hagins and Mrs. Ollie Hilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Delma E. Stephens of Abilene and D. J. Blevins of Rotan visited Jim Latham Saturday.

Thanks to Maggie Peek for the clothes she brought.

Mrs. Winnie Lee Bounds and Mrs. Aline Brewer of Abilene spent Saturday with Miss Winnie Yeager.

Henry Smith entered the home Sunday afternoon. He is the father of Mrs. Raldo Goodall.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark McCarty of Lubbock visited Mrs. Eunice Loe who is the mother of Mrs. McCarty.

Garcias Win The Jayton Chronicle Football Contest

With the largest number of entries this year, Frank Garcia Jr. was the top guesser, missing only one game, Crosbyton's loss to Lockney. Second was Alex Garcia, who missed two games.

Several persons missed three games. The tie breaker score was 47. Taking third was Jack Williams, Jr. who missed three games, and had the score at 41.

Others missing three games, and the tie breaker score were Gene Cleveland 56, Brian Cleveland 23, and Junior Gonzalez 21.

Have you tried your hand yet? It is a lot of fun, and anyone can enter. It is intended to give some clean fun and study of the teams, and to boost high school football, and particularly the Jayton Jaybirds.

Jaybirds Travel To Sterling City Friday To Open District Play

The Jayton Jaybirds, this week travel to Sterling City to open the District contest.

After losing the opener to Class A Roscoe, they have victories over Spur and Aspermont.

The Top O Texas magazine has picked the Jaybirds to end down in fifth place in the district chase.

They are not consistent in their thinking. They have Jayton's running back Fincher, listed not only as the top Class B back in the area, but have him listed in the top three in any class, including Class A in the area.

With a player rated like this, there is no way to justify their rating so low.

But of course, Jayton will have ten other players on the field at all times, and this coupled with the other, places them not in fifth place but up at or near the top.

It is a long way from Jayton to Sterling City, and the Jaybirds will need plenty of fans down there to cheer them on.

26 Farmers Have Filed For Flood Terrace Relief

To date a total of 26 farmers have filed applications to restore flood damaged terraces.

Oct. 10th is the last day applications will be accepted for this program.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office in making this announcement realizes that work cannot start until the present crop is harvested, but they can only accept applications for 30 days after the program is approved for Kent County.

The major damager occurred to terrace systems in the northeast one-fourth of the county in LATE May and early June. However further damage has occurred since then due to unseasonable rains all summer.

Questions concerning this program can be directed to the ASCS office in the courthouse in Jayton.

Jayton Science Group Take Trip to New Mex

The Junior and Senior Science students of Jayton school, along with the science teacher, Rondal Nauert and adult sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Preston Cleveland, enjoyed a science field trip this past week to New Mexico, the land of enchantment.

The group left Jayton Thursday morning and travelled to Mt. Monjean near Sierra Blanco where they pitched tents for their first night of camping out. Each student had his particular job to do, such as cutting wood, cooking duties, and clean up.

Friday morning, after a hearty campers breakfast, a class session was held to study the many kinds of plants and animal life present. Then the group hiked up to the forest ranger lookout. Everyone agreed that coming down was 100 percent easier. After breaking camp, the group had a fast coast down the mountain, moving on to the lava flows in "The Valley of the Fires." Friday night was spent in the desert Aire Motor Hotel in Alamogordo. The group cooled off with a swim in the pool before dashing out to White Sands for a romp in the dunes while the sponsors charcoaled hamburgers for supper.

Saturday they were up bright and early and off to Cloudcroft and the green houses of Burgett's Floral, where many of the students purchased unique small plants. Later in the day they toured the solar observatory in Sunset on Sac Peak. That night the group camped in the rock desert land of White's City.

Sunday the group became "spelunkers" for a day. Making a mile hike up the mountain, they entered New Cave, the newest and most primitive of the 64 Carlsbad Caverns. The guided tour was a big highlight of the trip and after the walk back down the mountain, they were homeward bound.

Arriving back home around 8 p. m. Sunday night were the 10 students, seniors, John Walker, Rena Bural and Jessie Lee; Juniors, Boyed Dees, Jimmie Arnold, Scott Moseley, Lisa York, Rena Bural, Ms. Cleveland, Katy Capps, Byrd Dees, Scott Metcalf, John Walker and Jessie Lee.

News For Women

A rash of medical news of special interest to women has been reported in recent weeks. Government scientists say women who take the tranquilizer Valium during the first months of pregnancy increase their chance of giving birth to babies with physical defects.

Another medical study shows women who smoked heavily during pregnancy produce less healthy, smaller, babies. Another report stresses the importance of avoiding heavy alcoholic intake—which could damage a baby's health during pregnancy.

A British team, which has been studying the effects of birth control pills, says women over forty run a more serious risk of heart attack taking the pill—and advised caution. For those who wish to give their children the best (and who doesn't) the latest medical discoveries are "must" reading.

Pregnant mothers who are ignorant of or disregard recent findings and risk taking questionable drugs, smoking heavily, drinking heavily, are indulging themselves selfishly and inconsiderately and family, physicians or clergymen should counsel them, in the interests of the unborn.

Warner On Oil Prices

The exhibition of statesmanship recently by the man of the board of Mobile Oil Corporation, Raul Warner, Jr., is worthy of comment in the national interest.

At a time when the oil companies were in a posture to lick their chops, in anticipation of sharp price increases they would soon inflict on the general public (because President Ford had been convinced to decontrol oil prices), Warner announced he opposed immediate control of oil prices—because the shock of higher prices might check the economic recovery and create inflationary effects.

While his announcement didn't endear him to some in the oil industry, nor to some who have been advising the President to decontrol oil prices, Warner's statesmanlike advice was in the national interest, thus a most American free-enterprise tradition.

What is good for America is good for U.S. industry, not the reverse, as one industry executive in the Gulf was supposed to have told a U.S. President in 1950's. President Ford would have done well to listen to statesmen like Warner from the first, rather than along with the usually-sound theoretical argument of prices and control, which do not apply in the present restricted oil supply dilemma.

Foreign Bribes

Disclosures in recent months of massive bribes to foreign governments and individuals raise basic questions which Americans, and Congress, must face.

Obtaining contracts through bribes is, first of all, contrary to the basic principle of the free market system. Secondly, if the practice is condoned in overseas dealings, the temptation is very strong to resort to this country—if necessary.

In the case of corporations such as Lockheed, solvent by congressional aid, ethical objections to payers subsidization to such practices are more justified.

From many viewpoints, then, bribery to obtain business in foreign countries is objectionable, even if legal. There may be areas in which the practice is not immediately ended, where such practice long been a way of life.

The answer may lie in the suggestion of President Theodore Hesburgh of Notre Dame, who proposed an international governmental conference on the practice of multi-national corporations. Since business is cheat both consumers and tax collectors, all countries should be willing to cooperate to end the practice.

Autumn, 1975

Almost mid-morning of September 23rd (10:55 a.m.), autumn arrives. And while some think of seasons in calendar months, autumn will last until early morning of the 22nd of December.

Of all the seasons, autumn is by far the most nostalgic. If spring brings new life and warmth, autumn brings the end of a summer, of a growth cycle, of the hot summer days, of school holidays and many vacation freedoms. And it brings first hints of winter's harsh winds and bitter cold.

The fields turn brown or gold or tan and the trees switch to every color—yellow, red, orange, etc. Hunting begins in most areas, football causes many a heart to beat faster, food tastes better, one has more energy, the weather and skies are clearer and a walk outside among turning leaves and chill winds never fails to bring back memories of falls gone by.

'I Am a Tired Housewife'

BY MRS. J. P. STRICKLAND

Wife Of The Assistant Principal In A Public School In Reno, Nevada
(Reprinted From The March 27, 1967, Issue Of "U.S. News & World Report")

AM A tired house wife.

I am tired of trying, in this land of abundant food, to balance my budget when milk prices jump three cents on the half-gallon, and meat which was 69c per pound goes to 89c in just one week's time.

I am tired of staying home while my husband burns the midnight oil studying, so that he can make the next pay step-up—only to find these added earnings gobbled up by increased taxes and rising living costs.

I am tired of "experts" calling conscientious mothers neurotic for insisting that their offspring toe the line.

I'm tired of attorneys and social workers and courts who continue to hand down candy-coated sentences because, they claim, the poor dear hoodlum wasn't brought up in the right environment—that half the world would be envious to share.

I'm tired of the cement deserts swallowing up lovely trees and making pensioners homeless—all in the name of bulldozer-type progress or codifying accommodations.

All The 'isms'

I'M TIRED OF hearing of all the "isms" which are supposed to take the place of the ideals and ideas propounded by our God-fearing forefathers, who died that we might be free. I'm tired of having these liberties taken away from my children step-by-step in the name of social benefits.

I'm tired of being told that it's sixty or old hat to believe in God's Way, and that God is dead.

I'm also tired of hearing that Christmas carols shouldn't be part of a school concert.

I'm tired of seeing our police officers ridiculed and criminals exalted during riots and "marches."

I am tired of begging people to help me in the home—then having them turn me down because they might miss an unemployment check.

I am tired of intermittent phone calls during the day and night by some quack who took offense at a letter penned to the local newspaper. I get especially tired when my youngsters are awakened from naps by this or by advertising or soliciting over my private line.

I'm tired of being told that my work is easy because I have modern appliances in place of a real live maid and that my tiredness from 16 or more hours of labor in my home is caused by my not having enough outside interests.

In fact, I'm tired of not having time to see perfection in my household tasks because the demands of my time to civic causes take up so many hours, yet accomplish little because of constant bickering over chairmanships or protocol.

How Selfish We Are

I'M TIRED OF texts which my children bring home from school telling how wonderful world government will be and how selfish the U.S.A. is, not to give away everything she has earned by the sweat of her brow.

I'm tired of answering begging calls or receiving piles of "gimmies" mail even after giving generously to the United Fund. My feet are sore from helping out at rummage sales and the like to raise money for things which my husband's tax money is supposed to cover.

I'm tired, tired, tired of the idea that sex education is a panacea for every ill under the sun.

I am sick and tired of the "better" women's magazines thinking they have to have an article on sex in each current issue.

I'm tired of having to run to turn off my radio when smutty jokes come over the air, often under the guise of folk songs.

I'm also tired of having to censor my current magazines before letting my youngsters read them.

I'm tired of improving my property by painting and adding new fixtures, only to have my taxes doubled because of those improvements.

Hurt Look Of Children

I'M TIRED OF seeing the hurt look in the eyes of my children when they wear half-soled shoes to school while playmates whose parents are "on the dole" get shiny new shoes to flaunt.

I'm tired of seeing people who have saved diligently being penalized for their thrift while the ne'er-do-well is coddled with unearned benefits.

Yes, I'm sick and tired of seeing people with initiative and good old Yankee ingenuity pushed around while loafers are being paid to be slothful. I'm sick of this modern psychology which is so different from the Golden Rule and the Book of Proverbs.

I am tired of seeing this once wonderful God-fearing nation bowing to Satan's whims, but I am not too tired to pray.

Congressmen's Finances

Revelation by a newspaper that a South Carolina Congressman owed over $600,000 to various lenders, much of which has been borrowed recently, is disturbing.

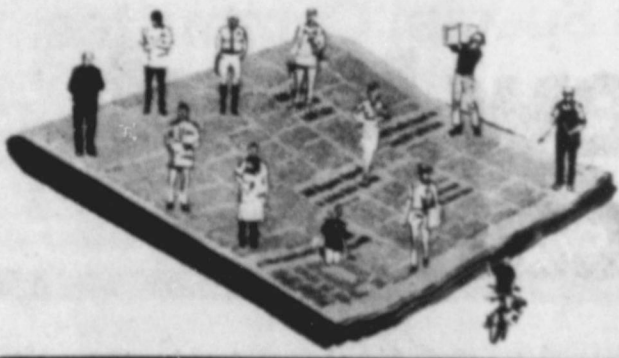

Firstly, Senators and Congressmen receive adequate remuneration, the job is no longer in the public-service, financial-sacrifice category. Since those running the federal government have an obligation to see that government lives within its means, one would expect elected representatives to set an example by living within theirs.

Secondly, and more disturbing, is the moral consideration—whether a high official with so much power to dispense favors can remain independent while borrowing large sums from so many sources, some personal.

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

Graffiti-Proof Shelters
 Weather-proof bus and school bus shelters like this are being installed by hundreds of public-minded transit systems throughout the United States. Side panels are constructed of AllianceWall porcelain-on-steel and are both graffiti-proof and vandal resistant. Initial cost is modest and upkeep is practically nil.

Shelters never require painting or other expensive maintenance. They are available in various size modules and can be made up in almost any size, configuration or color. Pre-fabricated and pre-engineered, they can be erected in one hour by three untrained men. A list of firms who manufacture shelters is available free from Alliance-Wall Corp., Wyncote, Pennsylvania 19095.

Spy In The Sky And Hound On The Ground

It's getting to where almost every car you see has an extra antenna on it. The citizens band radios have become almost as popular as regular car radios and maybe even more popular than the stereo tape decks which used to adorn many dashboards.

It's taking over like a fad, but for some reason we feel it will last longer than the stereo tape deck fad or the old steering-wheel necker-knobs. This to us is more like when the telephone came in or the television — it's a fad at first, but one that soon becomes a standard on all cars. There is nothing wrong with the idea of being on the road and being able to communicate with the world around you.

WE SEE considerable future for CB radios — not just for communication to avoid getting a traffic ticket. We see them as a constant help to motorists. Everyone knows that the main purpose of the CB is to avoid "Smokey" the patrolmen. But let's look at a few of the other good uses.

One trucker spotted a car leaving the scene where a patrolman lay dead beside his patrol car. The trucker radioed the car description ahead and other CB radios kept track of the car until police closed in and arrested the suspect.

We have seen other instances of motorists keeping track of road conditions and even of "good places to eat," which we certainly know we would be in favor of.

A GOOD local example is this past winter when Danny Andrews and Jimmie Chennault had an early morning accident near Hale Center and a CB'er spotted it and called out the emergency vehicles. Several other times women traveling alone have used CB radios to call for help and farmers and oilmen have used the radios for communication about their business.

In connection with the use of CB radios an entire new language has been developed. Each CB owner has his own radio name or "handle" and talks according to some weird kind of code. The radio handles usually correspond to the person's job or background.

WE KNOW of an ice cream truck driver out of Lubbock who refers to himself as "Fudgecycle," a 6-foot-four-inch truck driver who goes by "Tall Slim," and an avid fisherman who calls himself "Hulapopper."

We also have compiled a list of many of the other terms of the road:

- Sea Covers — good looking female passengers
- Wall-to-wall bears — heavy police

- patrol
- 18-Wheeler — Big Truck rig
- 4-Wheeler — car or pickup
- Brown bottles — beer bottles

Wild Blue Yonder

It's just an old toy—yet in his imagination this boy can climb to supersonic heights with it.

In his fancy, he is at the controls, soaring high above the earth. One step more, and he will pilot a rocket to the moon.

It may well be that these dreams, moon and all, will someday become reality for this young man. Meantime, there is countless wonder and joy in his boyish fancies.

There should be countless wonder and joy, too, in his church experience. Non-churchgoers are apt to think that religion is a dull, dull, fearsome matter. Rather, it should be one of the most glorious parts of life.

Look deeply into your own religion. Go to the church of your choice this Sunday.

Tax Reform

Recent revelations that many huge electric power companies paid no federal taxes in 1974 reaffirms the pressing need for reform of the tax laws.

The power companies are not alone in dodging federal taxation. Other corporations manage to do the same with slick, legal advice, as do individuals who know how to invest their money.

Congress has talked much about tax reform, done little. Before the 1976 election meaningful tax reform legislation should be enacted into law or voters should see to it that those responsible are not returned to Congress.

With a deficit this fiscal year approaching sixty billion, or more, there can be no possible justification for major corporations, or wealthy individuals, escaping all federal taxes.

What are hurricane winds? How strong do such winds get? Why do they last so long?

Hurricane winds are those with a velocity of 75 m.p.h., or better. The velocity of the wind gusts in hurricanes is usually about a hundred miles an hour, but they have been measured beyond 150 m.p.h.

Hurricane winds build up to a crescendo and last a long time because a hurricane moves forward at only ten to twenty miles an hour. These storms cover an area of several hundred miles and the winds usual-

$11,247 Grant For Area Schools

Congressman Omar Burleson this week announced the approval of an $11,247.00 community service administration grant to the Community Action Council of Crosby, Floyd, Dickens and Kent Counties with headquarters at Crosbyton.

This grant will run three months, effective Oct. 1, to assist 500 disadvantaged people in such areas as health, education, job development and housing and to continue a youth development program for 150 youths.

Ford's Escape

Foreigners and American newsmen have been pondering anew the problem of excessive violence in the United States since the September 5th incident in Sacramento. There a 26-year-old American female pointed a loaded pistol at President Ford.

The pistol didn't go off for several reasons. Apparently the female didn't know too much about guns for she had no bullet in the chamber. There are also reports a secret service man managed to get his finger in front of the firing pin, before she pulled the trigger.

Whatever the facts, the increasing and idiotic crime wave sweeping the United States, including females and youngsters in unprecedented numbers, is no mystery. Nor is its cause.

If President Ford wonders why there's so much violence among the misguided, weak minded and easily impressed, the answer is simple. It's taught in color and with glamor and good music every night on U.S. commercial television, hour after hour.

Crime programs dominate new fall schedules of all three networks, which are out primarily to make a buck selling products. If it takes a diet of crime and violence to attract the largest possible audience, that's what the networks offer. And worse, they often glamorize it.

They've been doing that for years, while network executives and other network spokesmen or apologists argue endlessly whether it can be proved this glamorization creates real-life crime. While it isn't the sole cause of the crime wave, since over-lenient or intimidated judges, laws complicating arrests, and the ability of so many criminals to escape punishment, are also major causes, television is probably the leading cause. And no one, neither the Federal Communications Commission nor Congress, has the will to properly regulate the networks and put an end to it.

ly last many hours, or into the second day.

Hurricane Eloise, the most destructive so far this season, struck the Florida Panama Beach area about daybreak the morning of September 23rd, with wind gusts up to 130 m.p.h.

Earlier, Eloise had claimed 42 lives on two Caribbean islands.

Hunters are now finding out where the birds "ain't."

U.S. History

The "in" kick among some today is to depreciate U.S. history because of self-interest motives and commercialism which often characterized U.S. policy in former years.

There is ground for criticism, to be sure, but the self-recrimination has gone too far. In fact, the Organization of American Historians says the teaching of American history in the nation's public schools is "in a crisis."

The OAH made a thorough study of trends in the fifty states and found that, instead of history, students and educators are becoming preoccupied with what it terms "presentism," or current events taken out of their historical perspective.

The OAH says interest in U.S. history has decreased noticeably and doubts are being expressed in many schools about its usefulness. There are doubts being expressed about history's usefulness, and whether today's students have time to study the past!

As with so much educational fadism, especially in America where every new kookie theory seems to capture the brain of some crusaders, the depreciation of history is basically unsound. Man must study the past to be able to interpret the future, and to understand present-day events.

That basic premise is so solidly established, and has been for so many generations, it's hard to imagine having to defend it in 1975. And as far as U.S. history is concerned, it is not the story of a nation of angels never erring.

On the other hand, with all the self-interest, mistakes and commercialism of the past, the founding of the American democracy (and its ideals and expressions on equality of opportunity) is one of western civilization's peaks.

Moreover, in the two hundred years since, what the United States has done has changed the face of the globe and altered the lives, habits and thoughts of hundreds of millions. Studying this, which is history, is absolutely essential to the attainment of a balanced education, prospective and philosophy. The sooner the fad which depreciates history dissipates, the better for the nation and the world, and those students victimized by it.
