53rd Year - 23rd Issue

This Week

After weeks and weeks of rainy weather, and cool temperatures, this past Sunday the sun came out and the thermometer climbed right up there to the old record mark.

This has been perhaps one of the coolest July ever. That may be corrected in August. Usually, in June, July and August, the 100 degree days are the rule, rather than the exception, but this year so far, 100 degree days have been very few.

I personally can get along without the extremely hot sun, but we have found here in this West Texas area, cotton is really a hot weather plant, and when we have cool summers, the cotton does not do so well as when it is extremely hot.

I remember three or four years ago, the first of just the cotton prospects looked very good, and then had a cool August and a wet September—and there went the cotton crop.—Just something to think about.

For several years now it has been apparent that the party tax, which cities and counties use as a base to their revenue has just about reached the maximum. Cities and counties have been looking for other areas of taxation, and of extracting additional monies.

In an effort to supplement the city and county revenues, the federal government came up with the revenue sharing program, and within the past three years have handed out hundreds, and thousands of dollars to the counties and cities, and in case of metropolitan areas, even the smaller ones like Lubbock, has run into millions of dollars.

These revenues have come in a pretty flexible manner—the cities and counties can use them in just about the way they want to, with very few strings attached. They have been used in various ways. In some places they have been used to build up a new program, to have clung on to them, putting them on time in the banks, for some future use.

Right now these programs have run out, and it will take a new authorization from the Congress, we are told for a new Sharing monies.

Right now this seems to have created some sort of a dilemma. In many areas, this money has been put to use, set up a needed program, or to pay for some needed program, and the agencies have gotten used to these programs, and consider them now to be almost a necessity, and now that the funds are not there anymore, it sets up a problem. Shall these programs now be discontinued, or shall they look elsewhere for other monies, maybe even a tax raise, in order to continue the program?

And very likely when the federal government does get back later with some more revenue sharing monies, this time the regulations will be much more strict and detailed. And then the cities and counties find, they too, now are getting to the place where the federal government can control their actions, merely the threat to withhold funds, like they are very actively doing the schools.

Isn't that a very bright picture.

Over in Lubbock the County and City governments have their problems over shared services.

One very touchy program is the matter of rural fire protection. In the past the county has paid the bills to go out and fight rural fires. But the city each year has been setting up on the charge they make for such calls. And now, the City of Lubbock is asking for more than two hundred dollars per call in their new contract. The county is crying robbery.

The city, to substantiate such a high figure, is setting in all costs of maintaining and operating its fire fighting program.

This difference between the two agencies on fire fighting is going to create a big fight between the two agencies on all of their cost sharing programs, health care for the indigent, the new medical school, and the nursing hospital, and all their programs.

The county of Lubbock now has on hold storage monies than two million dollars in surplus funds which they have saved up down through the years.

I am no lawyer, but I have set in on meetings where lawyers were trying to protect the interests of their clients, and they protest the creation of these huge taxes very strongly. They say a tax can be legally levied only to meet a present need. And that it is not to assess and collect a tax to raise money where there is no need for it. In other words they say it is illegal to assess and collect a tax to raise money to deposit in a bank for a surplus, and not to meet a need.

With all the contests they now have with their big property owners and tax payers, it is not easy to see how they can legally build up and hold onto these huge monies. And at the same time they are crying hard about raising their people have received in the last year

Little League All Stars Win Game

The Stonewall-Kent Little League All Stars defeated Hamlin All-Stars on Friday the 23 of July to win the District tournament at Merkel. Wes Fincher pitched a good game allowing only 2 hits on the way to the 6 to 1 win. Mike Tagle had a grand slam home run in the first inning as well as a solo home run in the 5th.

The win advanced the team to the next step which will be on Tuesday night July 27 when they meet the All-Stars from Colorado City at Rotan.

Wes Fincher, Chris Williams and Craig Murdoch are members of the team composed of members from Aspermont, Spur and Jayton.

Farm Groups Call For Special Session Of The Legislature

A statewide general farm organization has appealed to the Governor to call a special session of the legislature "to resolve the serious dual problems of high utility rates and unfair ad valorem taxes." The Executive Board of Texas Farmers Union, which met in Waco on July 16, unanimously adopted a motion which calls on Governor Briscoe to call a special session of the legislature immediately.

The letter to the Governor points out that escalating costs of natural gas and the resulting higher utility rates have imposed a serious burden on farmers and ranchers, particularly those in West Texas who must irrigate. The resolution further pointed out that the present system of supporting public schools exclusively with ad valorem taxes is imposing an unfair burden on farm and ranch owners.

The Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco, commenting on the resolution, said, "We are sympathetic with the Governor's reluctance to call a special session of the legislature because of the cost involved. However, the cost to utility users and tax payers across the state which is a result of our energy policy and ad valorem taxation policy, will cost the citizens of this state many, many times more than a special session of the legislature. These problems are so serious that they cannot wait to be dealt with during the regular session in January."

A Farmers Union task force to study alternatives to property taxes for the support of public schools has been working in the last six months and will be prepared to make recommendations to a special session of the legislature. Also, the statewide general farm organization has compiled recommendations on the problem of high utility rates that will be made public during the special session.

Upstream Dams For Flood Prevention

TEMPLE--The 177th upstream flood prevention dam to be built in Texas will be the site of a ground breaking ceremony in Coleman July 12.

Congressman Bob Poage and Omar Burleson will be the featured speakers for the 2:00 p.m. event to be held off Farm Road 53 about one mile west of Coleman.

Other speakers will include George C. Marks, state conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, Temple; J. Hugh Stemple, Mayor, Coleman; W.W. "Pete" Skelton, County Judge, Coleman County Commissioners Court; and Ben Wilson, chairman, Central Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District.

Memory Lake '76 will be the name of the new flood prevention dam. It will be built at the site of Old City Lake, built at the edge of Coleman in 1904. The old dam has deteriorated so badly that it will be removed and replaced during construction of Memory Lake '76.

The new lake will provide both flood prevention and recreation storage. The City of Coleman will pay the cost of the added recreation storage.

The dam is the last of 38 floodwater retarding structures to be built in the Jim Ned watershed project, which was started in 1960. Sponsors of the project are the Brown-Mills, Central Colorado, Runnels, and Middle Clear Fork Soil and Water Conservation Districts; Taylor and Coleman County Commissioners Courts; Taylor County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1; and the City of Coleman.

Sponsors secure all needed land, easements, and rights-of-way for watershed projects; they also operate and maintain completed structures.

Planning and construction funds are appropriated by Congress and administered by the Soil Conservation Service. SCS personnel also perform design, layout, and inspection services.

A key feature of most upstream watershed projects is a network of floodwater retarding dams. The dams catch runoff water during heavy rains, then release it slowly to prevent downstream flooding to cities, farmland, roads, bridges, and other properties.

The first upstream watershed dam in Texas was built near Jacksboro on Howard Creek in 1948.

District 3 Dress Revue Is Held In Abilene July 22

The Declaration of Fashion was the theme for the 1976 District 3 and 7-4-H Dress Revue, which was held in Abilene on July, 22. LaRhonda Carrier and Lori Murdoch represented Kent County in the revue.

LaRhonda competed with 14 other Senior girls from various counties in District 3 and received a red ribbon. The four winners were Kathy Johnson, Wichita County; Theresa Drabek, Foard County; Patricia Posey, Fisher County; and Kim Campbell from Haskell County. The cotton awards were given to Theresa Drabek, Patricia Posey, and Brenda Riggins from Willbarger County.

Lori Murdoch participated in the Junior division and received a blue ribbon. This is the second appearance for Lori at the District revue. The Junior cotton awards went to Linda Fisher, Haskell County; Yvonne Kunkel, Baylor County; and Julie Posey, Fisher County.

Those who attended the revue were: Pat Carrier, Lauda Geeslin, Jean Murdoch, Rena Bural, and Bert Stansland.

Good Soil Practices Are Needed On The Flower Beds

Many of the same practices apply to lawns, gardens and flower beds that are used in fields and pastures. Only the size is changed, according to Joe McAdams with the Soil Conservation Service in Jayton. Many things can be done on a small scale that might be prohibitive in cost and labor to do on a large area.

The addition of mulches of one kind or the other, incorporated into the soil, helps to save moisture for the naturally dry season of summer.

Fertilizers will often increase production - both quantity and quality of yield. A soils analysis can be obtained by sending a small amount of soil to a laboratory in Lubbock for testing. That way, one knows exactly the amount of nutrients needed for maximum growth.

A beautiful lawn is an asset to any home. Maintain a height of at least two inches on most grasses. Nearly all that a plant lives on is actually manufactured in it's leaves. If the leaves are too short, the plant may be unable to sustain itself, resulting in early dormancy or death. The greater height also helps conserve moisture, which means less watering.

A bermuda grass lawn should be watered only once a week. More frequent waterings tend to make the roots shorter since they do not have to go deeper after moisture.

Weeds may be controlled by spraying before maturity with a compound containing 2,4-D. Be careful, this chemical will also kill your trees and shrubs. Annual weeds and grasses may be controlled by treating before germination with a chemical similar to the one used in cotton fields.

For additional information on the care and feeding of lawns, gardens and flower beds, contact your local Soil Conservation Office in Jayton. This information is available to anyone without regard to race, creed, sex or national origin.

A Report On Cotton Conditions

By Mark A. Geeslin BOLL WEEVILS

The cotton boll weevil continues to damage the Kent County Cotton crop. Each farmer should check his crop regularly for damage from boll weevils. Examine 100 squares that are at least 1/3 grown. Take a few squares at several representative places in the field and from various portions of the plant. If 15 to 25 percent or more have weevil punctures, treatment should begin. A second application five days later is recommended.

SPRAY PROGRAM

An inseason spray program is being applied this week to Kent County cotton by an area flying service. Each farmer is paying his own expense for the spray on his acreage. Contact the Farmers Cooperative Gin in Jayton for details.

BOLL WORMS

Bollworms normally start damaging cotton in late July or early August. Farmers should be on the look out for boll worm damage. Boll worms may be expected to build up after the July showers. Additional insecticide applications may be required to control bollworms during August.

FALL DIAPAUSE SPRAY PROGRAM

The fall spray program, to control boll weevils that are going into the overwintering diapause stage, will begin on September 6. Cotton on the spray zone will be sprayed if the survey counts are 20 percent or more punctured squares.

Copies of the Cotton Insect Control Guide are available from the County Extension Office.

Two Cases of Worms In Kent County

By Mark A. Geeslin

Two confirmed cases of screw worms have been reported from Kent County in July. Both cases were reported from ranches about 10 miles southwest of Jayton.

Other counties in the area with confirmed screwworm cases are as follows: Scurry-1, Mitchell-8, Nolan-5, Fisher-14, Stonewall-12, Garza-1, Lynn-1, Dawson-7, and Borden-5.

The screwworm feeds on wounds in livestock and wildlife. This insect species causes thousands of dollars in losses to Texas livestock men.

3000 Miles of New Roads Added To Texas Beautification

AUSTIN--New federal and state regulations will result in the addition of about four thousand miles of Texas highways subject to the Highway Beautification Act on July 1.

At the same time, about one thousand miles will be freed of beautification controls. The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has identified new routes subject to sign and junkyard controls under the act, and those which no longer will be subject to controls.

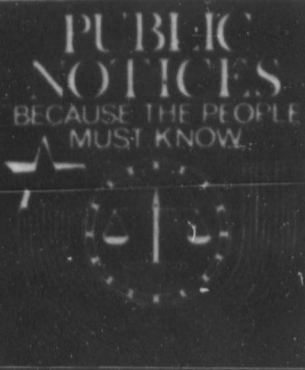

The department will inventory all existing signs and junkyards along the newly controlled routes. Attempts also will be made to contact sign and junkyard owners to explain requirements of the act, and those whose properties are being dropped from controls.

The federal beautification act requires any person erecting or maintaining a sign along a controlled highway to have an outdoor advertising license and a permit for each sign.

Signs advertising the sale or lease of property upon which they are located and signs advertising activities conducted on the property upon which they are located also are exempt.

No new junkyards may be started unless they are screened from view of the highway. Violators are subject to fine.

Persons who think their signs or junkyards may be affected by the change are requested to contact the nearest district office of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. Specific limits of highways subject to or released from controls will be available at the district offices.

August, 1976

August, named after Caesar's nephew, Augustus, is remembered as the month in which World War II finally ended. President Truman announced on August 14th, 1945, Japan had surrendered.

Colorado Day is the 1st (the state was admitted that day in 1876), Columbus sailed on the 3rd in 1492 for the new world, and the first atom bomb used was dropped on Hiroshima August 5th, 1945.

Three Presidents were born in August. Herbert C. Hoover, the 31st, was born at West Branch, Iowa, August 10th, 1874. Benjamin Harrison, 23rd, was born at North Bend, Ohio, on the 20th in 1833. And Lyndon Johnson, 36th, was born near Stonewall, Texas, on the 27th, in 1908.

Davie Crockett, son of a Revolutionary soldier of Irish descent, was born on the 17th in 1786 in Hawkins County, Tennessee.

SEED CERTIFICATION CHANGE

Planting seed in Texas for the 1977 season will be certified for genetic identity only, so farmers must take a close look at the labels accompanying the seed. The new certification label assures that the seed is the variety stated on the label. The big change is the fact that it does not relate to any seed quality factors such as purity, inert matter, other crop seed, weed seed, noxious weed seed and germination. The Texas seed law, however, still requires that this information be truthfully stated on the analysis label accompanying the seed, points out a cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

FACTS & FIGURES

On the average, according to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, the population of Pennsylvania grows by about half a percent every year.

Sixteen Pennsylvanians work to make sure there'll be enough business to keep that steadily growing population working. They work for the State Department of Commerce as "regional representatives." They are pulse-takers, expeditors, information-dispensers, problem-solvers and all-round-catalysts for business in Pennsylvania.

One of them, Tom Stephenson, recently saved 40 jobs when a state inspector wanted to close down a small factory because of a paint booth violation. Stephenson kept the workers on the job while the infractions were corrected.

Through him, the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce helped finance 11 out of 16 companies in one industrial park. Those 11 now keep 850 people working.

STRIKE ZONE

In all ways of life, keep him swinging in the proper

PLAY BALL... is a familiar cry in the spring and summer. This is a time that parents and coaches, alike, encourage the boy not to swing unless the ball is in the strike zone... for in the early years of playing the game, the tendency is to swing at every pitch. This holds true in all of life, so it is up to wiser and older heads to train and encourage him in the better things. Bringing up a child is a serious matter and all can use help. Let the church help you to teach him the right ways.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long endure and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set us free to live as a child of God.

If you want to have pumpkins ready to harvest at Halloween, it's time to get started, points out a horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Some types require a lot of space so the small gardener may prefer to plant the bush or bush type such as Cinderella and Little Face. CARRIER JOINS FLEET

ISTANBUL, TURKEY -- A Soviet aircraft carrier sailed recently through the Bosphorus Straits to join the Soviet fleet in the Mediterranean. Western experts say the Soviets already have about 10 more vessels in the area than the American 6th Fleet.

NEW YORK -- Jimmy Carter, accepting the Democratic party's presidential nomination, pledged to bring "a time for healing" to "a nation adrift too long." His speech stressed his hopes for the unity of the country's divergent peoples. Noisy people wonder why anyone desires to be quiet.

Plan Your Wardrobe Ahead Says A&M Extension Economist

COLLEGE STATION--"Now is the time to plan ahead" for transitional fall wardrobe additions or updates, Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist, says. "Expensive wardrobe blunders can be eliminated by knowing personal preferences for current fashion trends, wardrobe needs and designs and colors that look best with bodily proportions and personal coloring," she advised.

Mrs. Culp is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Plaids, stripes and tropical prints, such as batiks and serapes, are one important fashion direction. They're available in a wide range of colors, textures, fibers and patterns, and consumers can choose those that best meet personal needs.

"Consider that generally the brighter and bolder the colors, greater the color contrast and larger the pattern size, the more apparent weight and size will be added to your figure."

She explained that clingy fabrics in sleek designs such as matte-jersey T-shirt dresses are figure revealing, while heavy bulky fabrics such as many of the blanket weights appear to add extra noticeable size. Other texture favorites also vary considerably--such as corduroy wales, velvet or fake fur piles, quilted thicknesses or sweater knit weights.

"The layering of garments continue with vests and tunics particularly strong. Generally, the more garments worn, the more broadening the effect.

"Added apparent size can be minimized by layering under rather than over such as a T-shirt worn under a long sleeve dress, as opposed to wearing a contrasting vest over the same dress.

Nanci Parham of Lubbock is spending some time with her Grandmother, Una Hunnicutt.

Help is for the Asking... We're Asking...

When you're very young... castles are for the asking. All you need is the sand and the spot. And a little encouragement.

When you're very young and you have cystic fibrosis, like Suzanne does, help is for the asking. Equipment to help you breathe. Medication to help you digest food and fight infection. Education to aid your family and doctor to help you live. And -- help to hope, from people dedicated to conquering this yet incurable disease. And so -- we're asking. For Suzanne, and all the children with C/F, and other lung-damaging diseases. Asking for you -- for your help. Please, don't wait -- volunteer today. Time is short for sand castles, and the children with C/F who build them.

Fresh Vegetables Are On Special List For Month of August

COLLEGE STATION--Fresh garden vegetables, packed with vitamins, minerals and bulk or roughage, add lots of nutrition to daily meals, Mrs. Sally Coble, foods and nutrition specialist, says.

She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Tomatoes, popular in the home garden, supply generous amounts of Vitamins A and C. One medium sized tomato provides about half the daily requirement for Vitamin C and one-fourth that of Vitamin A. Tomatoes may be sliced and served fresh, canned or frozen for future use."

Another favorite garden vegetable is squash, providing small amounts of many vitamins and minerals. Use it raw in salads, cooked for casseroles, canned, frozen or pickled, she suggested.

"Carrots are an excellent source of Vitamin A and may be used in a variety of ways, both cooked and raw.

"A few peppers go a long way in providing Vitamin C for the family. They add flavor to salads, casseroles and are good alone, too.

"Most beans and peas supply iron in fair amounts, and this makes them a good source of energy," she said.

Women & Tennis

John Newcombe, not many years ago the best tennis player in the world, has supported authorities at Wimbledon in their decision to keep prize money for the women's champion at eighty per cent of the men's championship purse.

American female players like Chris Evert are meanwhile busy getting names of female players for a 1977 boycott -- if the women's purse is not made equal to men's.

Despite the strength of the women's lib movement in the United States, every pitch by U.S. women isn't necessarily virtuous or justified. In this case, it would seem male players and Wimbledon have a better case.

Understandably, females want an equal purse--a symbol of equality. But they are not equal on the court. Their brand of tennis is not comparable to men's play. What they have--and they should be thankful for it--is a segregated tournament, which enables them to become champions just as the men players.

If they didn't enjoy segregated tournaments, women would win no championships. So Evert and others are really demanding equal pay for a lower level of play. Probably, the eighty per cent figure for the women's purse is fair from this viewpoint.

If female players drew more fans, they would have another reason to demand equal money. But at Wimbledon they do not. Men's play is by far the biggest draw. Here again authorities seem to have logic on their side.

In conclusion, if Evert and other libbers boycott Wimbledon they are on shaky ground. Their present purse isn't unfair or illogical even though some tournaments have been forced to raise their women's purse to the men's level.

U.S. women players, accustomed to having their way in America, are not necessarily always right. Few men in this country today think it expedient or politically wise to publicly differ with libbers. Wimbledon officials have done so--with a good case.

SETS NEW RECORD

Trushell Marts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Marts of Post an: granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Fincher of Jayton, set a new record at Berger Junior Olympics, July 10 running the 100 yard dash in 11.9.

She also has two other first place awards to her credit; one in long jump and one in 50 yard dash. In Lubbock, July 17, the regional TAAF at Chapman Field was a repeat.

Trushell will go to Dallas State meet the 23rd to try for three more gold medals.

This is a beautiful scene one may see just about anywhere in this community, and throughout the area right now--a growing cotton field. Cotton is the very lifeblood of the community. When the cotton farmers do good, just about everyone does good. Prospects are very good right now for cotton this fall. The prospects for high yields are good, and the price is fairly good. Of course there is the slogan well known here and that is a cotton crop can promise the least and do the most--and it can promise the most and do the least. There is many a slip between the planter and the harvester. [Staff Photo].

JULY

SAN ANTONIO—Boys, and all other classes of human beings, are strictly forbidden from using firecrackers upon the public streets on the Fourth of July. Boys nowadays are denied the fun of this decade past. The most joyous days of our life were when approaching the "teens." It was a common amusement then to tie firecrackers to the tail of some neighbor's dog to try his gait down the street.

SAN ANTONIO—The Centennial Fourth of July was celebrated in San Antonio with more enthusiasm than any holiday that ever was. The day began with a national salute of 13 guns fired on the Arsenal grounds and a salute by the citizens of a hundred guns in front of the Alamo. The procession included the Fire Department, The Alamo Rifles, Army units, and church women. The final event of the morning celebration was the reading of the Declaration of Independence.

WACO—The Fourth of July was celebrated here with more enthusiasm than was ever known before. Not less than twelve thousand people were on the fairgrounds at once. The procession was at least a mile and a half long. The barbecue was good — what there was of it. Nobody hurt.

GALVESTON—The intelligent native or adopted American citizen who did not honor and fully appreciate the Centennial Fourth of July, is a creature whom it is hard to believe exists. Even if such a person rose on that day with only the usual thoughts and emotions, how could he resist being drawn into the vortex of public sentiment, as evidence by holiday gatherings, patriotic music, streaming banners, national gun salutes, and the recitals of the aged, who heard from their fathers' knees the great stories of Bunker Hill and Yorktown.

GALVESTON—His Honor the Recorder released all the prisoners confined in the city jail on the Fourth of July in honor of that glorious anniversary. All promised not to do wrong any more and departed. This morning the majority of them will be brought up to answer for the manner in which they kept their promise.

KINGSBURY—McLeroy, one of the accomplices in the Peach Creek horror (the murder of a young woman), was taken from the Seguin jail this p.m. by a mob of 300 men. They started with him for Gonzales County; but the supposition is that he is here this gone the way of his companions who were hanged by the mob the other day.

GALVESTON—Yesterday the sheriff of Karnes County arrived here with an alleged murderer for safe-keeping until the time of his trial, as the jail in Karnes County is not regarded as safe. This makes two prisoners from other counties who are accused of murder now being kept in our jail because the jails in those counties are not regarded as safe.

ADVERTISEMENTS—Insurance Oil. The Best Family Safety Oil, urgently recommended by Insurance Companies, Boards of Health, the highest Scientific Authority, and all parties acquainted with its Excellent Illuminating Qualities, and Perfect Safety. —Jarvey, Petit & Co., Wholesale Agents.

Burleson Reports From Washington

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Today Congressman Omar Burleson announced that the United States Coast Guard Academy is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U.S. Coast Guard, Class of 1981. Applications are being accepted from both men and women. Congressman Burleson stressed that appointments to the United States Coast Guard Academy are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas involved. Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, United States Coast Guard Academy, prior to December 15, 1976. Candidates must arrange to participate in either the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Assessment (ACT) prior to or including the November 20, 1976 administration for the ACT and the December 4, 1976 administration for the SAT. The competition for appointment as Cadet is based on the candidate's high school rank, performance on either the SAT or ACT and leadership potential as demonstrated by participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs and/or part-time employment. Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried and must have reached the age of 17 but not 22 by July 1, 1977. All applicants must be assured of high school graduation by June 30, 1977. Applicants must have completed three units in English, and three in mathematics including algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill basic physical and moral requirements.

Congressman Burleson emphasized that Cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal cost. In addition, they receive pay and allowances fully adequate to fulfill their ordinary living expenses. The constantly updated Academy curriculum offers nine majors which include: electrical, civil, ocean and marine engineering; marine, mathematical and physical sciences; management and government. These areas of academic interest, combined with varied elective courses, establish a solid foundation for a challenging career. Graduates of the Academy are awarded a Bachelor of Science degree and are commissioned as Ensigns in the United States Coast Guard. Selected officers may pursue further postgraduate education and specialized training in many leading civilian and military graduate or professional schools in such fields as aviation, business administration, electronics, engineering, law and oceanography.

The young Academy graduate can look forward to a varied, exciting, and demanding career as a regular Coast Guard Officer. The Coast Guard performs essential humanitarian missions vital to the safety and saving of lives at sea. Under the auspices of the Department of Transportation, the Coast Guard establishes and coordinates search and rescue operations by ship and plane, maintains advanced electronic and other aids to navigation scattered around the globe, operates the icebreakers which clear the way for all polar expeditions, and enforces marine law and all aspects of Merchant Marine safety. In addition, the Coast Guard has responsibility for boating safety and marine environmental protection.

Applications and additional information may be obtained by writing to: Director of Admissions, United States Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut 06320.
