C. of C. Taps Andy Reid As Outstanding Citizen

Andy Reid, longtime Abernathy resident, was selected by an Abernathy Chamber of Commerce committee as Abernathy's Outstanding Citizen of the Year.

Announcement of the selection was made by Mayor Roy E. Jones at the annual chamber of commerce banquet held Tuesday night, April 11, in the school cafeteria. Accepting the Texas-shaped plaque designating Reid as the Outstanding Citizen was Joe Thompson, a business associate of Reid's in the local cotton textile mill.

Reid and his wife were in Eufaula, Okla., that night at a gathering honoring Chevrolet dealers who met established sales quotas in January and February. That meeting was still in progress when Thompson called Reid to tell him of the honor the Chamber of Commerce had bestowed upon him. Thompson and Mrs. Reid, who was advised of the secret selection of her husband for the honor, did everything they could, short of telling him that he was to be honored here, to keep him in town for the C-C banquet.

The call from Thompson put Reid in a state of semi-shock. "I went to bed but could not sleep," Reid told the Review on his return to Abernathy. "I was still awake at 5 a.m., so we packed and started for Abernathy," he added.

Reid, who has been Chevrolet dealer here about 30 years, was employed in First State Bank for a number of years before going into the automobile business.

Jones outlined the many reasons why the committee selected Reid for the honor, citing his church and civic work and the help he and his wife have given young people over the years. He is a former city council member, serving several terms, and is a former president of the chamber of commerce.

In addition to the C. of C., banquet program previously published in the paper, the chamber, with out-going president Joe Thompson doing the honors, presented plaques to winning exhibitors in the FFA-H Club Project Show held here last month. Showing plaques were Don Snodgrass, Tim Barton, Larry Lutrick, Clark Riley, Johnny Lutrick, Lonnie Bartlett, Randy Settle, and two plaques to Donna Huffaker.

Guest speaker was Humorous Cecil Hunter, Tulsa, Okla., Visitors from Lubbock, Plainview, Hale Center and Olton attended the banquet.

ABERNATHY YF HAS MEETING

Abernathy Young Farmers had their monthly meeting, Monday April 10. Members & guests were present for a report on "Cotton Production" by Dr. L.L. Ray, of the Lubbock Experiment Station.

Dr. Ray's key statement of the entire report was: skimping on seed quality and planting care is like saving money by avoiding fertilizer. He also said that variety purity will be more important in the future in order to furnish mills with large blocks of high quality cotton.

A problem with seedling diseases can be helped greatly by keeping seeding rates down to 20-25 # per acre to prevent too much competition from neighboring plants and fruiting too high on the stalk, Dr. Ray said. Also, he stressed to forget fungicides if you have no trouble with seedling diseases.

Dr. Ray gives several important aids to controlling verticillium wilt:
1. Use tolerant varieties of cotton
2. Bed planting
3. Alternate row irrigation
4. Preventing excessive irrigation, especially late in the year
5. Shallow plowing throughout the season
6. Balanced fertilizer rates
7. Keep cotton burs rates down to 4 tons per acre or less
8. Keep fields clean--a common host plant is pigweed.
9. Good, regular rotation program.

Harp said the GSPA's five-man executive committee has been invited to meet with Freeman Wednesday while the secretary is in Hutchison, Kan., for a Southwest Farm Forum.

In addition to Harp, members of the executive committee who will meet with Freeman include A. W. Anthony Jr., Friona; Pat Northcutt, Silvertown; Frank Moore, Plainview; R. G. Peeler, Hereford; and Bill Nelson, Amarillo, GSPA executive vice president.

Dean Rea, Tulsa, executive director of the West Texas Elevator Assn., will explain the law and lead a discussion on it.

Harp said the board also will study estimates recently released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture on prospective increases in na-

Federal Land Bank Month In Texas Declared

Activities of the Federal Land Bank Associations were cited by Governor John Connally as he declared April "Federal Land Bank Month."

The Federal Land Bank Association of Plainview is participating in the year's activities by recognizing the farmers and ranchers of Hale County.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Plainview has 865 members, and current loans amounting to $15,665,000. Dividends paid to member-borrowers since the association was founded amounts to $557,740.

The Federal Land Bank System, encompassing 73 local associations in Texas and 700 associations throughout the United States, is observing its 50th Anniversary this year. The Anniversary Year is dedicated to America's Farmers: Providers of Plenty.

April, 1917, marked the beginning of the Federal Land Banks, thus providing the first nationwide means of making private capital investment available to farmers and ranchers so that their holdings could be improved and the productive capacity expanded.

The Federal Land Bank of Houston made its first loan on May 22, 1917, and from a modest beginning the 73 local associations today have recorded long term real estate loans of more than $1.1 billion to 185,000 Texans.
