ABERNATHY WEEKLY REVIEW

VOLUME 52 Hale County - Abernathy, Texas - Lubbock County THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1973 NUMBER 20

"CONGA" GIANT REPTILE FROM THE DEEPEST JUNGLES ALIVE To Show In Abernathy April 5

This is a picture of the largest Regal Python on exhibition by the Fishers Bros. Circus which the Abernathy Lions Club is sponsoring in Abernathy on the 5th day of April at the showgrounds for two performances at 6 and 8 p.m. Tickets are on sale by members at the low price of $1 to every one when bought from a member. If purchased at circus ticket office they are $1.25 for children and $1.50 for adults and all tickets are good for any seats in the big top as the Fishers Bros. Circus does not have reserved seats.

Besides Conga who is over 20 feet long and weighs over 200 lbs., you will see a very good circus performance with elephant acts, trapeze, jugglers, clowns, balancing acts, something to entertain and please everyone. Get your tickets in advance from the sponsor. Do this for three very good reasons. One, you save money on the adult tickets; two, you don't have to stand in line at the ticket office, and last, but not least, you help the sponsor make and keep more money as they get a much larger percentage from the advance sale than they do at the door. So, if you buy your tickets from them in advance you put more money into the various projects that they do to help better your community.

JAMES IRWIN, ASTRONAUT, TO SPEAK HERE

The Abernathy Chamber of Commerce annual banquet is to be held on May 2 at the School Cafeteria. A very famous and excellent speaker has been obtained in the person of Astronaut James Irwin. Further arrangements will be announced later by President Jim Bob Smith. Tickets are now available from members and business houses.

CONTRACTOR TO COLLECT SOLID WASTE HERE

CITY SIGNS SANITATION CONTRACT WITH TRIPLE "C" SANITATION SERVICE, INC.

At the regular City Council meeting, March 12, 1973, the City of Abernathy and the Triple "C" Sanitation Service, Inc., entered into a solid waste contract. Beginning March 19, 1973, all solid waste will be collected and disposed of by Triple "C" Sanitation Service. Mr. Preston Coomer, president of the incorporation, was on hand for the signing of the contract and outlined the time schedule involved in changing to containers from the barrels and other collection devices now in use. Solid waste containers will range in size from one cubic yard to three cubic yards, depending on the solid waste produced, and will be furnished the commercial businesses within ninety days and to residential areas within six months. Sanitation charges for residential areas will remain the same as they are now ($2.50/mo.) and will for the term of the contract which is five years. Charges for commercial and business areas are subject to change; depending on the size, number of containers required, and the number of pick-ups required each week. It will be possible for businesses adjoining each other to share a container and divide the cost. Mr. Coomer will contact each business to see what their needs are for solid waste disposal and for placement of the containers. All calls regarding solid waste will be referred to Mr. Coomer's office located here in Abernathy. That office telephone number will be published in a later issue of The Abernathy Review.

TOURIST TRADE IS ON THE INCLINE

(By Sammy Hunley) Don Ward recently attended a meeting in Plainview concerning the tourist trade in the State of Texas. Dick Roberts, Travel Development Specialist for the Texas Highway Department, was the guest speaker. He made available to those attending the meeting various information and figures concerning the tourist trade in Texas.

As each of the figures are considered, it will be well to keep in mind where Abernathy fits into the picture and what Abernathy's proportionate share should be. How can we as a city participate in this enormous increasing business which we are invited to join and profit therefrom.

The following is a list of statistics and information concerning the tourist trade during the year of 1971. NATION-WIDE: 3,300 cities and areas in the United States are competing for industry and many more for tourist trade. The average tourist spends $11 to $13.50 daily. The tourist trade is estimated to increase 33% annually.

STATE-WIDE: Texas has 20,000 highway employees, 105 of which are in tourism. Texas is spending $1,000,000 annually to advertise to get people to come and to direct them after they arrive. In 1971 Texas had 16,500,000 visitors.

There are 257,000 visitors on the average on Texas highways at all times. Abernathy has 6500 to 7000 average vehicles (per 24 hours) on Highway 87. With an average of three per car, that is 19,500 to 21,000 people.

The average time spent by tourists is 5.7 days in Texas. If we could extend the tourists' stay just one day, they would spend $230,000,000 more.

CAMPING (And Allied Travel): An estimated 8,000,000 units were built in 1971 which is double the production of 1970. These people spend two billion annually for camping.

There are 15,000,000 who 10-day vacations. Camping, recreational grounds, vehicle parks are in a rapid growth era. Garages profit greatly from tourists.

INDUSTRY AND TOURISTS: Applying these tourist figures to industry seven tourists per day is equal to a manufacturing plant of $100,000 payroll to the economy of Texas.

In Texas industry, the latest figures give 12% came from outside, 60% were new (usually formed locally) and 28% were already in Texas but were expanding.

It was Dick Robert's opinion that a large percentage of these tourists expect to spend a definite amount of money on their vacations. They have worked 50 weeks to take the family to Texas for a vacation--they don't mind going home broke.

 FRONT ROW center is an exciting place to be. Ask Mrs. A.F. (Betty) Reynard of Abernathy if you doubt it.

As winner of the letter contest awarding two front row tickets to the Lawrence Welk Show which was in town March 2, Mrs. Reynard shared some of the spotlight and attention with the maestro himself.

An evening of exciting events stretched both directions from the time announcement of the winner was made to the aftermath of performance, with many surprises along the way.

TO SAVE a long trip to and from home for the show, Mrs. Reynard and her husband,

"Ace," got a room at a Lubbock motel. Although a meeting between Lawrence Welk and the contest winner had been arranged to take place sometime before the show, Mrs. Reynard got a surprise preview. As she and her husband were waiting for a taxicab to pick them up at the motel, standing on the curb beside them were Lawrence Welk and his performers about to board their bus to the coliseum. Without a clue that Mrs. Reynard was the contest winner, Welk came over to the couple and introduced himself and each departed.

Backstage just prior to the show Mrs. Reynard was introduced as the contest winner. The personable Welk immediately recognized her as one of his fans he had greeted during the day and smilingly remarked, "You're the one!" Then turning to the others in the dressing room he commented softly, "We've met before."

"HE'S SUCH a friendly person," Mrs. Reynard said reflecting over the warm backstage meeting. "I was very nervous about meeting a celebrity," she confessed. "But he was so calm and nice it calmed me down."

Once seated on front row center, Mrs. Reynard settled back to thoroughly enjoy the show. "I wondered part of the time, 'Am I really here? Is it true? Is it really happening?'" Afterwards she collected autographs from the performers to have something of substance to perhaps assure her it wasn't all a dream.

Her excitement over Lawrence Welk's musical family is only natural since she has a musical family of her own. Both she and her husband have musical backgrounds. Mrs. Reynard plays piano and organ and was a charter member of the Sweet Adelines Prairie Winds chapter. She and her husband both sing in the Methodist Church choir at Abernathy. "Ace" Reynard has performed as a musician for several years. Their son, 2nd Lt. Dana Reynard, stationed with the U.S. Army in Fairbanks, Alaska, is a music graduate from West Texas State University. He now plays trombone with the University of Alaska Symphony.

HER HUSBAND'S story about meeting Lawrence Welk in 1931 while Reynard was a young musician in Kansas spurred Mrs. Reynard to enter the contest in hopes of having a story of her own to tell about meeting Lawrence Welk... and hers has to be one of the greatest in "one-upmanship" history.

Reliving the excitement of the evening's performance, Mrs. Reynard said, "I think I have a little 'ham' in me. I've always kind of wanted to perform. When they were singing the 'Battle Hymn of the Republic,' I wanted to be up there singing with them, because I've sung that arrangement before."

She did come out somewhat of a celebrity. Co-workers, friends and even people from town she's not acquainted with have besieged her with congratulatory notes and clippings of her pictures from the paper. A stenographer at Southwestern Public Service, Mrs. Reynard has not heard the last of the comments from her workers.

FOLLOWING the appearance of a picture in The Avalanche-Journal with Mrs. Reynard dancing with Lawrence Welk during his dance with ladies from the audience, her daughter, Mrs. Joe Lyng of Dimmitt called. "I just had to congratulate the celebrity in the family," she told her mother.

Mrs. Reynard could not find enough words to express her delight over the memorable evening and the many people who were friendly to her as the "contest winner." "It was a real fun time," she said. "It went too fast."

For her husband, a retired Civil Service employee, the night was also the anniversary of a stroke which struck him in 1971. "He's rather superstitious of the month of March." Even this year with its unexpected pleasure, Reynard did not avoid his March misfortune. Sunday afternoon after the weekend's excitement accompanying his wife to the Lawrence Welk show, Reynard fell at home and broke his ankle.

REFERRING back to their Saturday night dances before the TV set with the Welk show on, Mrs. Reynard reflected, "We won't be doing any dancing for awhile."

A spunky and truly gracious person, Mrs. Reynard said, "I've entered other contests and won some little prizes, but none of them meant as much to me as winning this one. I worked hard at writing, not just putting down a few words, and I said some little prayers." She sympathetically continued, "I just couldn't help but to think of all the other people who wanted to win. I'm sorry they couldn't win, but maybe there will be another time."

Expressing her appreciation for the thoughtful notes and friendliness shown her, Mrs. Reynard said, "It means a lot. I'll have a lot to remember. I'm a sentimental soul." And now she has mementos to show her grandchildren and a story of her own to tell.

SETTLE WILL GO TO MEXICO

ABILENE---A group of McMurry College students will go to Mexico during spring break to complete some unfinished business, according to Dr. Bert Affleck, minister to the college.

"Our specific task will be to tear down an old condemned parsonage and to remove the debris from church property," explains Dr. Affleck.

The trip is the outgrowth of Dr. Affleck's January term course to Mexico City and nearby areas. They visited the church at Mira Flores and learned of the need to get rid of the old parsonage.

Both trips come under the general heading of the Christian Outreach program sponsored by the department of Religious Life at the college.

The general purpose is to represent Christ and his church in Mexico through Christian service.

Among the students making the trip is Gordon Settle of Abernathy.

Gordon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Loyd of Abernathy. He is a sophomore at McMurry majoring in business.

 WE APPRECIATE YOUR BUSINESS

OUR SIDE OF THE STORY

May we talk to you about the price of food? Certainly, food prices have risen in recent months and in recent years. But they have not risen nearly so much as the prices of most other products and services.

Consumers, however, shop frequently in supermarkets, and they are more acutely aware of an increase in the price of milk or sirloin steak than they are of other price increases. The price of a house, car, dress, postage stamp, or hotel room may have increased much more than food prices, but food prices get the attention.

Newspapers, radio, and television help stir up excitement over food price increases. When the monthly Consumer Price Index is released, an increase in food prices will get banner headlines. But higher increases in other products and services are often buried in smaller type.

EXCESSIVE PROFITS?

Supermarket profits, as a percentage of sales, are the lowest of virtually any type of business in the country. They have fallen from 1.41 per cent in 1965 to .86 per cent in 1971 to about .55 per cent in 1972. This means a store selling $10 worth of groceries gets to keep only 5.5 cents in profit.

Currently, two of the three largest supermarket chain store companies are showing losses on their operations. The number of food stores continues a sharp decline, reflecting that severe retail business conditions are taking a toll. In 1948, there were 328,000 food stores in this country. In 1967, there were only 218,000—a drop of 108,000 stores in just 19 years. No business can continue to operate long without a profit. Profit makes possible the purchase of new equipment and facilities, expanded services to customers and many other things which a successful company must do to compete.

HOW PRICE INCREASES COMPARE

Comparative figures from the Bureau of Labor Statistics for a recent 10-year period (1961-1971) show that food prices have not increased nearly so much as other products and services:

FOOD AT HOME	29%	DENTISTS FEES	54%	PHYSICIANS FEES	64%	DAILY NEWSPAPER	68%	MOVIE ADMISSION	101%	HOSPITAL ROOM CHARGE	165%
--------------	-----	---------------	-----	-----------------	-----	-----------------	-----	-----------------	------	----------------------	------

MORE COMPARISONS

Gould Flagg, Jr., Group Vice President of ConAgra, Inc., made some interesting comparisons in a speech.

- Congressional salaries have increased in the last 20 years from $15,000 to $42,000. If eggs had gone up as much during that time, they would cost consumers today $1.71 a dozen.
- Postal costs have increased tremendously since 1950. The price of a first class stamp has soared from 3 cents to 8 cents. Mr. Flagg said that if eggs had gone up as much as stamps since 1950, a dozen eggs today would cost $1.61.
- Hotel rooms have increased from an average figure of $5.71 for an occupied room a night in 1950 to about $19.07 today. If beef prices had gone up that much, the average cost per pound today would be $2.49 instead of $1.13.

THE "GROCERY BILL"

Supermarkets today are so large and sell so many different products that the average shopping cart is filled with more than the usual "groceries."

In fact, only 72 per cent of the average dollar spent in supermarkets goes to pay for "groceries." The remaining 28 per cent goes for such non-foods as health and beauty aids, beer, cigarettes, pet foods, diapers, and charcoal.

HOW MUCH OF THE AMERICAN DOLLAR GOES FOR FOOD?

Only 16.3 per cent of the average American's pay check went for food in 1971. This percentage has dropped drastically over the years: from 25 per cent in 1947, 22.2 per cent in 1950, and 20 per cent in 1959.

By contrast, people in other countries pay a much greater percentage: 37 to 39 per cent in Western Europe and Japan, 60 per cent in India, and 70 per cent in some African countries.

Published by National Association of Retail Grocers
 2000 Spring Road, Oak Brook, Illinois 60521

SUPPLY AND DEMAND

Food costs fluctuate from season to season, and from year to year. They are influenced by weather conditions and by supply and demand. A freeze in Florida can mean higher prices for orange juice. A decrease in the beef supply, with stepped up consumer demand for steaks, can mean higher costs for sirloin and other beef cuts.

At the same time, a plentiful supply can mean reduced costs. For example, broilers-fryers, turkeys, and eggs have recently been selling at their lowest prices in 20 years.

THE HIGH COST OF LABOR

Supermarkets are constantly absorbing higher wages for employees. During the last 10 years, these wage costs have increased 56 per cent while employee productivity during the same period increased only 41 per cent.

To go back even further, food prices increased only 33 per cent from 1947 to 1966, but wages during the same period rose 107 per cent!

Store wages alone constitute 40 per cent of the supermarket industry's expense. By the time the supermarket pays its employees and pays for the merchandise it sells, there is a small percentage left for rent, utilities, supplies, advertising, overhead, management, and other expenses. The profit that is left averages out to less than 1 cent on the sales dollar.

SUPERMARKET EFFICIENCY

America has the most efficient food distribution system in the world. Consumers in many other countries still must shop at a variety of small stores: the green grocer, butcher, apothecary, fish vendor, and others. They spend more time shopping and pay out more of their income.

American consumers shop in supermarkets that are large, attractive, well-lighted, stocked with an amazing variety of products, and operated with great efficiency. The supermarkets in this country have set the pace for food distributors all over the world.

The Honorable George H. Mahon, Representative from the 19th District of Texas in the United States Congress, recently was honored by The American Legion of the United States. He received the American Legion's Distinguished Public Service Award at a recent gathering of the Legion in Washington, D. C. It could not have happened to a nicer, more deserving person.

Congressman and Mrs. George H. Mahon have served the 19th District with dignity and honor since he first was elected to that post in 1934. He has been re-elected at two-year intervals since that year. Only one member of the House of Representatives outranked him in length of service in that body, and no member in the senate.

Our sincere thanks to Congressman and Mrs. Mahon for serving their country and their 19th District so well through all these years.

The Democrats will have an ideal opportunity to elect a president in 1976. First, the party must be rebuilt from the shambles of the convention and campaign of 1972. Power must be returned to the old line Democratic leaders, who built it into the proud, people-serving political party that it was for so many years before the far-left took it over, as they did at Miami last year.

The Rev. Conrad M. Ryan, pastor of Abernathy First United Methodist Church, in the church newsletter dated Jan. 10, urged the membership to accept and involve new members coming into the community and the church. He suggested that these new people be included in the full range of the church life... the regular services at the church and activities held by church members on days or nights other than the Sunday gatherings.

Many years ago, a new family moved to Abernathy. They visited the church of their choice one Sunday, and the only member or person connected with that church who greeted them after services was the then Mrs. John Lewis Haral. "I'll always love Billie Haral for the kindness and courtesy she showed us as strangers at the church service," the newcomer lady stated. It was several years after the incident that the lady told us this story. Billie now is Mrs. Charles K. Hines and resides in Eugene, Oregon. Also, the newcomers she greeted that Sunday no longer reside here.

That was many years ago. Maybe the current Baptist leaders and membership do a better job of greeting the visitors and making them feel welcome in their services.

-tip-
Abernathy, as a community, comes in for its share of criticism. In our position with the newspaper, we have been told by newcomers that the community is generally cold and indifferent to new people when it comes down to the nitty-gritty of social activity in the community. The long-time residents may be pleasant enough in the routine of daily activities of business, civic, school and church, but do not include the newcomers in the hard core of community social life. Is Abernathy clannish?

A lady who discussed this situation with me a few years ago shortly after she moved here still resides here with her family. We hope she now likes Abernathy better than she did at that time.

A couple that moved from here less than a year ago, after residing here about a year, felt the "coolness" toward newcomers on the social level. Another couple said they had been asked out to dinner only two or three times during the several years they have resided in Abernathy.

These people are good families with honorable positions who have voiced their discontent to me.

Not only the churches, but the community as a whole, must consider this situation and do everything we can to correct the problem.

I supposed that one had to serve an "internship" when they moved to Abernathy. It took eight years for me to really become acquainted in Abernathy after moving here in the mid-1920's. But, in my case, I was a backward kid at that time.

The U. S. Postal Service has come under considerable criticism concerning its distribution of the mail. Some of this may be deserved, and some not.

I do know the postal people are cooperative when The Review has a problem. The Amarillo postmaster, Mr. C. T. Davis, Jr., was helpful when we had a problem concerning a postal patron out of his office. We had one subscriber in Amarillo who, at intervals, failed to receive his copy of The Review. This problem kept recurring, so we wrote the postmaster. The day after we wrote the letter, a secretary to the Amarillo Postmaster called us long distance to advise that they would check into the problem. A few days later, The Review had a letter from Postmaster Davis assuring us that they would help. I suppose the Amarillo subscriber is receiving his Abernathy Weekly Review on a regular basis. We have had no letters stating that he has missed an issue.

Also, we received a helpful hint from the Crosbyton postmaster. He suggested our changing a certain method of bundling the outgoing papers. The change he suggested allows for faster delivery to subscribers in South Plains towns. Our thanks to him.

And, The Review receives good cooperation from the local postal people.

In the past, this column has suggested the formation of another television network, based in The South to serve the people of The South and near Southwest. I am weary of the news and some of the programs from the three major networks now based in New York City. We get too much of the Northeasterners' opinions on the news.

While two New York-based magazines, LOOK and LIFE, were going out of business, a Southern-based magazine was, and is, enjoying a good advertising patronage. The magazine is Southern Living, P. O. Box 523, Birmingham, Alabama 35201. This is the address if you wish to subscribe. This plug earns me nothing from Southern Living, I am a paid subscriber. It is a fine magazine, printed in The South and for The South.

-tip-
Slaton residents are setting out some 4,000 Ponderosa pine trees in a community beautification effort. I hope this project does not ackire on them as a similar one did in Abernathy area. Many years ago, there was a drive to beautify Abernathy by setting out Chinese elms. In a few years, the elms began crowding out the population.

-tip-
Rapidly growing in popularity are the trade schools to teach young men and women various trades and office work. One such school is the Texas State Technical Institute at Amarillo, which is showing rapid growth in enrollment and accomplishments. J. W. Sillis, a former AHS principal, is (or was) connected with that school. The young men out of high school learn a wide range of trades that will help them in earning a good living. The girls, too, are trained for specialty work.

With high school graduation date near, the seniors are beginning to plan their life after high school.

Abernathy High School is fortunate in having an experienced, capable counselor in the person of Mr. Charles Bowen. Seniors who are debating which way to turn after commencement night should turn to the professional help and advice Mr. Bowen offers.

I don't know whether she does it commercially or for friends only or for the enjoyment she derives from baking. We have heard that Mrs. Louis Spruill has baked many very beautiful wedding cakes in recent years.

When you get old, the two main causes of self-centered worry and troubles is state of health and state of finances. We believe these to be the worst problems we have had in life. We are so involved in this type of worry that we forget that teen-agers also have problems connected with that stage in life. We older people think that we wouldn't have a worry in the world if we were as young as the teen-agers. Thus the "generation gap."

Thinking back through time, I recall the troubles, worry and frustrations experienced as a teen-ager. It was different kinds of problems than now, but they were just as real and seemingly unsolvable as those we have today.

Our teen-agers need help and understanding along with constructive criticism.
