Unusual Kidnapping Plot Is Theme For Senior Play

By Lori Hopson
An almost-perfect crime benefitted both good-guys and bad as Abernathy High School seniors presented "The Savage Dilemma" Thursday night to a near-capacity crowd at the school auditorium.

An earlier matinee performance Thursday afternoon gave students a respite from their daily classroom routines, when those who had purchased their tickets in advance were permitted to be absent from afternoon classes in order to view the John Patrick play.

Set in a home for mentally disturbed patients, the play offers moments of humor and pathos as eccentric millionaires, Mrs. Ethel Savage, played by Elaine Hamilton, Terri Hill and Dorinda Lovelace, plots her own kidnapping in order to save the institute and its inmates.

The antics of the looney-but-lovable residents of The Cloisters, (a mental home whose director, Dr. Emmet, is plagued by financial worries,) add to the laughs.

The action--and trouble--starts when Mrs. Savage arrives to visit what the terms her "retreat from the insane outside world."

A former patient at the home, Mrs. Savage has been found "eccentric but not insane" but Dr. Emmet, who explains that her original commitment to the institute was arranged by her stepsons in order to help themselves to the vast fortune left her by deceased husband.

The plot thickens, as they say, with the arrival of Aloysius and Evangeline, a pair of fugitives from the law, who agree with Mrs. Savage's concept of the Cloisters as a refuge, though for different reasons.

The two "invaders" terrorize the inmates with gun and knife until Mrs. Savage approaches them with a scheme to instigate her own kidnapping and demand a ransom from her greedy stepsons.

The plot is a success, though Aloysius becomes a rather comical casualty in his effort to "pick up the loot" in the midst of a campus riot.

Mrs. Savage ties things up nicely with a deal with her stepsons where she emerges the victor with a sum of $50,000, (half the original ransom,) and saves the Cloisters from financial ruin, and the "villains" from the consequences of their lawbreaking.

Aloysius and Evangeline, who turn out to be not-so-bad-after-all, find true love and happiness, and the play ends with a look at "what might have been" as the nutty inmates drop their cloaks of insanity in the final scene and say a touching "Good-bye" to the happy couple.

Judy Valdez and Sherry Rantz share the role of Fairy Mae, a young lady with a penchant for burying bananas and writing staling novels. Other inmates of the home include Hannibal, who imagines himself to be a famous concert violinist and who is played by Joey Dorman and Alonzo Ramos. Mrs. Paddy, who contributes to the conversations only to list her pet "hates" is played by Debra Burnett.

Denese Rhodes and Pam Strother share the role of Florence, who retreats from reality in the company of her imaginary son, Jon-Thomas, and Becky Cates and Elaine Stanfield appear as Christine, Dr. Emmet's right-hand-girl.

The astute doctor is played by Tim Myatt and Jon Colbert, and Steve Oswald and Mark Burress portray a policeman bewildered by the idiosyncrasies of the home's residents.

Tommy Horsford, Robert Scott and Jimmy Nunn are alternately hilarious in the role of bad-guy Aloysius, while Melanie Moorhead and Carla James appear as the hipster's girlfriend and partner in crime.

Israel Garza is seen as master of ceremonies, and later, heard as the voice on the radio. In appreciation for his efforts as faculty director of the presentation, Gary Stalcup was presented with a gift by Israel Garza on behalf of the entire cast.

SENIOR PLAY ACTION -- A smiling Fairy Mae, played by Judy Valdez, reveals what she has learned by talking to her reflection in the "magic mirror" in a scene from last week's production of "The Savage Dilemma," the 1975 senior class play.

MAY IS MENTAL HEALTH MONTH

"This bell shall ring out hope for the mentally ill and victory over mental illness."

These words are inscribed on the Mental Health Bell, the symbol of the Mental Health Association.

During May, a neighbor will be ringing your doorbell, to ask you to support mental health.

Mrs. E. M. Crow of Abernathy will lead the campaign in her town.

The bell symbol represents an actual bell, which was cast in 1953 from chains and handcuffs and other metal restraints formerly used to bind mental patients.

Within the symbol, there is also a group of people standing with hands joined, forming an unbroken circle around the bell.

The circle of people suggests the power of different individuals to change conditions. The people of Abernathy will do just that when they unite in support on behalf of the mentally ill during May, Mental Health Month.

All of us like sheep have gone astray, each of us has turned to his own way; but the Lord has caused the iniquity of us all to fall on him. (Isa. 53:6)

JOE THOMPSON IMPLEMENT CO.

Farabee Concerned Over School Finance Reform

Austin...State Senator Ray Farabee said today that he was concerned over the possible effect of various school finance reform plans on the 30th Senatorial District. "Several of the proposals before the Legislature," Farabee said, "would institute drastic changes in the amount of local tax money needed for education and in the methods used to compute the amount of state aid a school receives."

Senator Farabee went on to say that it would impart too much of a burden on the local school district and the local taxpayer to attempt an overnight revision of the school finance system such as some of the plans currently proposed.

"On the other hand" Farabee noted, "the plans that do not call for increased local funding would generally require more money at the state level...and we simply do not have the money at the state level without raising state taxes."

Senator Farabee indicated that he had communicated with school officials from across the 30th Senatorial District

The Senator explained, "most school officials generally indicated a preference for maintaining our current Foundation School Program structure as opposed to rushing into a new untried system."

"Equal educational opportunity is a commendable goal, and one I think we should work toward on a long-range basis," Farabee said. "However, I question the wisdom of implementing a program which would alter the tax structure of many school districts to a point that would threaten their fiscal existence."

USE OF COMBINED FERTILIZER; WEEK KILLER IS ADVISED

Using a combination fertilizer and weed killer on your lawn can create more work than it saves, says James Ety, county extension agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Applying a fertilizer-herbicide mixture to the lawn can endanger desirable plants such as trees, shrubs and vines in the area. Many trees such as oak, mulberry and sycamore are highly susceptible to weed killers," points out Ety.

There is always danger of applying too much herbicide. While an overdose of herbicide is not necessarily harmful, too much fertilizer can ruin vegetation.

Another drawback of using a combination fertilizer-herbicide is that the most effective time to apply fertilizer is not always the most effective time to apply herbicide. "Each type of herbicide must be used at a certain rate and time to be effective."

There is also the chance that a leftover mixture of fertilizer and herbicide may be mistaken for fertilizer and used for that purpose. This can do irreparable damage to the landscape.

"By mowing your yard regularly and fertilizing, watering and providing good drainage, weeds will be less of a problem and you probably will not have to use a herbicide," contends Ety. "But if you do decide to use a combination fertilizer and herbicide, be sure to read all the precautions on the label," he cautions.

MANAGING YOUR FAMILY'S FINANCES

By Dr. Carl F. Hauver

Q. Who do you think should manage a family's money, the husband or wife?

A. Actually, both the husband and the wife should participate equally in managing a family's resources. Any marriage, if it is to be a successful one, is a partnership.

Sound money management requires that a family think together to establish financial goals. These are the satisfying things in life that will make all the hard work seem worthwhile. Without goals, families feel frustrated, trapped. With goals, they find real happiness by getting the most out of whatever income they have in terms of what is most important to them.

Each individual in the family, husband and wife, and even the children who are old enough to understand, should share major money management decisions as families plan together to reach their goals.

THE SCIENTISTS TELL ME...

They've Found A Better Way to Diagnose Iron Deficiency

Iron deficiency in humans is a major health concern in Texas. A better way to detect it is of great importance to better health.

Like many elements, iron is essential to good health. Among other things iron is essential to hemoglobin production in red blood cells.

Nutritional problems among large portions of the population were revealed in a study made by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The 10-state nutrition survey that included Texas gave iron deficiency a high priority health rating, especially among pregnant and lactating women and low income groups.

A new human iron deficiency diagnosis method is attracting international attention. Dr. George W. Bates, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station biochemist who developed the technique, says it should help us to better understand and measure the extent of human iron deficiency in both developed and undeveloped nations.

Several standard iron deficiency diagnosis methods have long been used, but these can be inconsistent and misleading. Therefore, Bates and Graduate Student Gary Graham of the Texas

A&M University Biochemistry and Biophysics Department developed what they call "differential chelation-ultrafiltration," or simply, DCU. They believe it provides "unparalleled accuracy."

If DCU is accepted by the science world, Bates says it should prove especially valuable in nutrition studies of iron deficiency. The new technique should also be valuable in preventive medicine, since it enables diagnosis of latent iron deficiency before the condition develops into severe anemia.

Asked just how serious iron deficiency is, Bates said, "Iron deficiency in various stages is perhaps the most prevalent nutritional problem in the world today, affecting the health, vitality and economic productivity of countless millions."

"While iron deficiencies have been recognized and treated for centuries, it is only within the past few decades that reasonably large groups have been examined and a true appreciation of the prevalence of iron deficiency has been recognized."

I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day. (II Tim, 1:12)

Mrs. Gardner Says New Home Is "Wonderful"

By Lori Hopson

"It's been wonderful!" says Mrs. Doug Gardner of her new home here. "The people couldn't have been nicer, and we've been made to feel right at home."

The Gardners moved to Abernathy in early February when Rev. Gardner became pastor of the Northside Baptist church here. He was previously pastor at the Circle Back Baptist church in Circle Back, Texas, a farming community near Sudan.

Prior to that, Rev. Gardner was pastor at the Calvary Baptist church in Hobbs, New Mexico. He has been a minister for six years, serving as a lay preacher prior to his first pastorate in Hobbs. Before entering the ministry, Brother Gardner was employed with an oil company there.

Francis, says she's happy with her husband's newer occupation, and adds that he became a minister "after he fought it for several years—saying he was too old and not qualified—but when you submit to what the Lord wants you to do, you find that he provides the means to do it. "I wouldn't have it any other way," she says.

Mrs. Gardner says that she enjoys Abernathy "because of our work here, because of the people we're in contact with, and because the Lord led us to this church, and this is where we're supposed to be."

She enjoys reading and sewing when she can find the time, but spends most of her free moments in working with church activities.

"We are just getting involved in youth work here," she says. "Also we have an active 'prayer and share' group I'm interested in, and we've just organized a new class for married couples that I'll be teaching. "That along with what Mrs. Gardner calls the "everyday things that go into being a minister's wife", keep her busy much of the time.

The Gardners have four daughters, Mrs. Howard Frank and Mrs. Pat Turner of Eunice, Vicki, a Freshman at South Plains college, and Diana, an Abernathy eighth-grader. They have three sons:

James Gardner, pastor of Rock Chapel Baptist church in Hobbs, Bob Gardner, also of Hobbs, and Bill, who attends kindergarten here. Their family also includes seven grandchildren.

The Gardners are busy now with preparations for Vacation Bible School, where Francis will serve as principal, and she says she's looking forward to the future here.

"We're anticipating the church's growth, and concentrating on keeping it active and on working with the youth here," she says. A cook who relies on quick, easy dishes to fit into her busy schedule, Francis recommends the recipe below as a convenient one.

"We never know how many will be here for a meal," she says and adds that her Chicken Enchiladas will serve from four to ten, "if needed."

Mrs. Gardner says her philosophy of life, in part, is to live each day as it comes, to the fullest.

"I wake up each morning and thank the Lord for the night's rest and ask Him to guide me through the day, because I need it! They say there's no rest for the wicked," she laughs, "and sometimes I think I must be the world's most wicked woman."

RAYS OF HOPE

by Pat Stanton
Psalm 37 is a wittling from David that lists definite and simple steps toward peace. This passage gives a cycle of peace and it also shows why people get out of the cycle of peace.

The first word of verse one tells why and how most people lose their peace of mind. This verse says "Fret not thyself because of evil-doers." So many tend to live each day caught up in all the evil in the world. This is all that they want to talk about. When you meet on the street most folks share all the latest bad news rather than telling of the good things. The New Testament writers said that it is even a shame to talk of the evil deeds done in darkness.

We, who are followers of the Master, are admonished to be "the light" of the world and not the "givers of gloom." Many may wonder why they have no peace or joy. They should check the things that they are continually listening to. (This next statement is just a helpful hint). If you watch the "soap stories" on TV all day, you definitely lose your Christian joy and peace. For you see, your mind becomes filled with the hate, loneliness, adultery, self-pity, etc. that is on every program at some point. The writer of Psalm 37 lists several words and helps toward being at peace in mind and heart. He suggests that we do these things: trust God, be delighted with God, commit our way to God, rest in Him, cease from anger, forsake wrath, don't do any evil, be meek and you will have an abundance of peace. These thoughts are taken from the first eleven verses. Read the rest of the chapter for divine guidance toward peace. Verse 37 is a key verse in the writing.

HOBBY CLUB AND GUESTS ENJOY GUESTS SHOWING "DIP & DRAPE" DOLLS AND TRI-CHEM LIQUID EMBROIDERY HOBBIES

A salad luncheon was enjoyed at noon, May 1st, in the City Club room by the Abernathy Hobby Club. There were 22 members, 2 former members and 2 guest present to eat. Hostesses were Thelma McCaugh and Vida Judkins.

A short business meeting was conducted after the luncheon. Then President Dyvonna Davis turned it over to the program committee which were Anna Lee Johnson, Rubye Knox and Frances Howard.

Rubye Knox invited Florence Patterson to come and show her collection of "dip and drape" dolls. She uses fake fur for hats, bottles and wire for the bodies and styrofoam balls for faces and some other features, draped with dipped cloth, painted with acrylic paints. Rubye Knox showed some gifts she had received from Papua, New Guinea. These consisted of a small pearl fork, wood coaster set, place mats of wood and string woven, pictures made from straw and painted scene on them, luncheon cloth decorated with drawn thread and cross stitch, hot mat of straw, yellow plumed bird-of-paradise painted on a cloth.

Anna Lee Johnson invited Darlene Perdue of Lubbock to demonstrate Tri-Chem liquid embroidery. She let each woman paint a picture of a fruit or vegetable which was great fun. Anna Lee Johnson also showed two fruit plaques her sister had finger painted.

Frances Howard showed broaches, ring and thimble hand painted, fish of half styrofoam ball decorated with chenille and sequins, crocheted spanish cactus, 3

Bureau Undergoes Name Change

Following a near-unanimous vote by its members, the Better Business Bureau of Lubbock has changed its name to Better Business Bureau of the South Plains, Inc. According to bureau president Jim Ed Waller, the change was made to reflect the regional scope of the Bureau, which serves 18 South Plains counties, including Lubbock.

The change is consistent with the policy of the national council of BBB's. Of the 139 Bureaus nationwide, 71 have adopted area or regional names. Jim Eppley, Better Business Bureau of the South Plains, Inc. vice president in charge of the Expansion Committee, joins Waller in expressing optimism that the new name will encourage South Plains residents to make better use of the BBB.

"In spite of vast new federal 'consumer protection' programs, more people each year use BBB's for consumer information and protection than all other consumer agencies combined," Eppley said. "Locally, we're in the process of expanding telephone service throughout the area. We need support of the full membership in the 18 county service area to be effective. We plan to contact every community soliciting memberships from businesses which believe in the free enterprise system, and prefer self policing agencies to governmental regulation."

Waller specified that all BBB's are private, non-profit corporations funded entirely by members. "BBB's exist because the business community believes that it is best qualified to correct abuses in the marketplace," he said. "Legitimate business wants to provide all the help necessary for customers to get satisfaction for their money. That's just good business!"

POINTS GIVEN ON TOPDRESSING

With the present moisture, good stands, and anticipated market price for grain, the amount of nitrogen to topdress is an important decision. Evidence available would support the conclusion that topdressing phosphorus is of little value this late in the season, according to James Erb, County Extension Service Agent.

Both the rate of nitrogen and time of application are important in obtaining satisfactory results. The rate of nitrogen to use must take into account (1) fertilization to date, (2) yield potential as affected by stand, soil moisture, grazing, and other conditions that can be expected to limit grain production. Generally, 30 to 60 lbs. of actual nitrogen was applied last fall and no grazing, and the high rate where fall and winter grazing has been practiced. If the grain looks pale green and shows evidence of low nitrogen and the prospects look good, a higher rate may be preferable.

For maximum benefits from topdressing, nitrogen should be applied before tillering. Research data show that one way nitrogen increases grain yields is through increased tillering, hence seed heads.

Most nitrogen fertilizers are suitable for topdressing, but it is especially important that the application is evenly applied. Under today's nitrogen cost and grain value, streaking is costly.

Where solutions are used it is preferable to dribble or use methods that put the fertilizer in contact with the soil, rather than on the leaves.

If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (1 John 1:9)

REMEMBER . . .

Just A Little Boy

He stood at the plate with his heart pounding fast; the bases are loaded; the die has been cast. Mom and Dad cannot help him; he stands all alone. A hit at this moment, would send the team home. The ball nears the plate; he swings and he misses; There's a groan from the crowd, with some boos and hisses. a thoughtless voice cries, "Strike out the bum." Tears fill his eyes; the game's no longer fun. Remember, he's just a little boy who stands all alone. So open your heart and give him a break. For it's moments like this a man you can make. Keep this in mind when you hear someone forget. He's just a little boy and not a man yet.

THE LOVE OF GOD

God Loves you, God knows everything about you and He loves you anyway. I know He loves you--He loves even me. There is nothing you have done, or can do, to earn His love. His love is given, freely and unconditionally. This is GRACE. There is nothing you can do to lose His love. If you wish, you may reject His love, or even God Himself. But He will never stop loving you. When you decide to recognize and accept His love, you will feel a joy like you've never known before. The natural response to love is to return it, and you will want to love Him in return. If you are like me, you will find areas in your life that prevent you from loving Him as unashamedly as you wish. And you will try to change. This is good. But remember this: He doesn't require it. This must be done out of the love you feel. Perhaps you will succeed in changing some things. But eventually you will fail. And when this happens you will realize, in your state of humanness, that you can never return His love as it should be returned. Your love of God, then will be as great as you will let Christ make it.

(by Norris Miller)

Thoughts From Within by Vicki

When I read this about The Love Of God, and I remembered the 139th Psalm, that tells us that God knows everything about us it made me think again how wonderful the GRACE of God is to us. He is ever watching over us and giving us blessings everyday that we just let go by and never give God the praise that He so rightly deserves. As I read in scripture how easy it really is to have such a wonderful GIFT that is so free and we don't always understand how to receive this gift of love from God. There are so many people searching for something in life to make them happy, but, the only true happiness is knowing Jesus as Saviour and then asking Him to be Lord of your life. We as humans make so many mistakes and we need Jesus to be our Shepherd. I love the first verse of the 23rd Psalm. The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. That is so true! He will meet every need we have. He tells us in Matthew 11: 28, 29 and 30 Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. When I read this I think of all the many things like fear, discontent, discouragement, hate, pride, unforgiveness, bitterness and many more that really

NEW ROAD MAP NOW AVAILABLE

AUSTIN-----A dramatic new section of Interstate Highway 10 as it traverses the scenic Hill Country near Kerrville graces the cover of the 1975 Official State Highway Travel Map, now being distributed. The Texas Highway Department expects demand for the updated 1975 map will exceed one million copies. "Ounce for ounce," Tom H. Taylor, director of the department's Travel Information Division said, "the Highway Travel Map is the best friend a Texas motorist can have." The new map shows recently opened sections of the Interstate and other highways maintained by the Texas Highway Department. Motorist will find symbols which identify safety rest areas, and distinctive symbols for those with comfort stations, including several completed during the past year. "Thirty special insets on the reverse side of the map chart major urban freeways and arterial streets through the state's business metropolitan areas. The map remains one of the most requested items of almost six million pieces of descriptive literature about Texas distributed annually by the Highway Department. Almost half of that volume, 2.8 million pieces, are produced by the Highway Department itself. The remainder is supplied by chambers of commerce and local visitor industry organizations.

Northside Baptist Church News

Twenty-two young men and their leaders attended the R. A. Field Day at Floyd's Friday night and Saturday. The boys had a great time and we really appreciated the sponsors going. The Sponsors were Billy Beard, Wayne Riley, Richard McGabey, Doug Gardner, Carl Kelly and Tom Conway. Several people have tried to reach the church or parsonage and have been unable to locate a telephone number. The number is 298-2497. Also if anyone needs a ride to Sunday School then if they will call 298-2668 before 9:00 a.m. someone will pick them up. Happy Birthday this week to Tom Maurer, W.W. Brantley, Denise Harbin and Gaylon Steward. Also a belated happy birthday to Bob Rogers and Tim Beard. Welcome into our church fellowship Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis and Don Davis. TEXAS TALK

by Harold Thompson

Two major classes of sorghum are grown in the United States. Sweet Sorghum or Sorgo accounts for about 20% of the crop and is grown for forage, silage and sorghum (often called cane) syrup. The vast majority of the crop is grain sorghum. Although grain sorghum is grown predominantly for the grain, it also acts as a dual purpose plant with stalks commonly used as forage or silage. Experts don't always agree on world sorghum production but they generally acknowledge that a least 125 million acres are now used for planting sorghum crops. Use of sorghum as a food grain in China, Africa and India ranks sorghum with corn as a contender for the third most important food grain in the world (behind wheat and rice). All estimates are not yet in for this year's acreage in grain sorghum, but indications are, although local areas may show some increase, the national crop could be reduced as much as 5 percent.
