Construction of New Homes In Progress Locally

Homes are under construction on the West side of Ave. H in the Phillips Addition in North Abernathy for the Hayden Blalock family, former Blalock residents, and for Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bartlett, who will move to town from their farm northeast of Abernathy. Foundations are being run for two more homes on Ave. H, across the avenue West of the Jim Bob Smith home in the Phillips Addition. The cluster of three more new homes on the Ave. H circle, where Smiths were the first to build, have been, or are nearing completion. The Perry Heards have moved to their new home there. The two nearing completion on the circle are for the Darby family that moved to Abernathy from Albuquerque, and the Jack Moss family that will move here from Lubbock. Darby is an air traffic controller in the tower at Lubbock Regional Airport. Moss is a partner in the Lubbock certified public accountant firm of Bolinger, Segars, Gilbert & Moss. They have prepared to City of Abernathy and Abernathy School annual audits for the past several years.

"I LOVE AMERICA" SLATED FOR RE-RUN HERE AUGUST 29

Mrs. Lajuana Grindstaff, president of Abernathy Music Club, the sponsoring organization, announced Monday that a second production of the musical "I Love America" is scheduled for 8 p. m. Sunday August 29, in the Abernathy School auditorium. Admission will be free.

The first production was staged in the auditorium the night of July 4, before a large, and responsive, audience. That being the midway day of the July 3-4 5 Bicentennial Celebration here, many local people could not attend because of other phases of the celebration. They expressed disappointment at not being able to see the musical then, and prevailed upon the Music Club to stage another show. Also, a number of people in neighboring communities could not attend due to the July 4 Holiday.

The musical is directed by George Riddell, director of Abernathy school bands. Charles Bowen, AHS Guidance Counselor/Director of Federal Program, is general manager of the production. The cast of vocalist is made up of members of a number of Abernathy church choirs.

Sunshine Group Meets August 19

The Abernathy Senior Citizens Sunshine Group will have a luncheon meeting at 11:00 a. m. August 19th, at City Hall clubroom.

Coach "Optimistic" Over New Players:

ANTELOPES PREPARE FOR UPCOMING SEASON DURING SUMMER WORK-OUTS

speed. One problem that the Antelopes had during summer work-outs was dropping too many passes.

New players on the varsity team who are looking real good are Roy Sansom, Mark Moorehead, Micah Blalock, and Scott Cunningham, according to Coach Aldridge. He also said that David Hunt, Dan Nunn, Frank Rodriguez, and Chad Major are looking good as tight ends. Roddy Shipman, quarterback, is also looking very good, said the coach.

"The defensive unit will probably have to carry us in the early games," Aldridge said. "However, we're looking a lot sharper offensively than last year."

Abernathy's offense should possess a blend of inside-outside running ability. The inside man will be Ken Davenport who will usually take the first fake in Abernathy's Center-outside linebacker Todd Thompson and left tackle-middle linebacker Mike Hill will play both athy's veer-T offense. Davenport, a 180-pound senior, earned all-district honors at offensive halfback and defensive linebacker. The outside speed belongs to Roy Sansom, a starter at Roosevelt last year.

Most of the interior line positions are settled already.

ways. But guards Mark Moorehead and Greg Gist might just stick to offense. One player might be too valuable to bother with offense-tackle Dale Odom will be an important defensive cog.

The Abernathy Antelopes will play in two scrimmages prior to their first game with Petersburg on September 3. They will scrimmage Dimmitt, there, Friday August 20 (tomorrow), and on Friday, August 27 they will scrimmage Frenship, there.

Study Shows Cactus Is Nutritious Forage

AUSTIN--Cactus is a sticky problem no matter how you look at it. Many Texas ranches are well-stocked with prickly pear cactus, but cattle turn up their noses at it, even during the winter when rangeland is at a minimum. Recent studies, however, have shown that singeing the spines of prickly pear cactus makes the desert weed a palatable, nutritious winter forage for livestock. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White noted that this development could be especially important in the arid Plains region of Texas. The study showed that heifers fed singed prickly pear cactus gained an average of 1-1/2 pounds per day, compared with less than one pound gained by heifers fed only enough hay to approximate the nutrition normally acquired from winter forage. The results of one feeding trial illustrate the advantages of feeding cactus. Twelve heifers weighing an average of 550 pounds were fed a ration of hay and cottonseed meal for approximately three months. Half the heifers also were allowed to eat as much cactus as they wanted. At the end of the feeding period, cattle which had eaten the cactus and hay diet had gained 62 pounds more, on the average, than those on the hay diet. Furthermore, the study showed that cactus is more readily and completely digestible than hay. Wayne Crabtree is a patient in M. D. Anderson Hospital, Houston.

NEWS AND COMMENT

By Buford Davenport

NGC---August 21 is "Happy 100th Birthday" for The County of Hale, State of Texas. The Big Celebration Saturday will begin at 10 a. m. And, a good place to start will be at the new Llano Estacado Museum building on Wayland Baptist College campus. Go to Plainview and join in on the gala event.

NGC---Soap opera fans and others who have had their favorite tv shows preempted by political conventions this year may mark out presidential candidates of both major parties. NGC---The rush has been such that I am just now getting around to reading the 1976 Bicentennial Special Edition of the "Abernathy Breeze" June 27, 1918, and Abernathy Review, 1922, 1931, 1941, 1943, 1951, 1963, 1973 and 1975. This edition was a project of Abernathy Chamber of Commerce, with Arno Struve in charge. The Bicentennial Edition, a reproduction of front pages of the local newspaper on certain dates of the years, sells for $1.00, which goes into the C. of C. fund to help pay for the July 3-4-5 event this year. Copies are available at Lon Fashions and Pinson Pharmacy and possibly other businesses. . . . ask them. There's a lot of local history in the edition. In the Dec. 31, 1931, Review, the first published by Vic Lamb when he came here from Lamesa to edit the paper for publisher Jack Hurst, gives a "Chronology for 1931." It mentioned that wheat harvest started on June 15, and wheat was selling for 36¢ per bushel. At the end of harvest on July 15, wheat price had dropped to 25¢ per bushel. It records that pioneer Abernathy physician Dr. J. B. McBride retired March 10, 1931. In Vic's notation at the beginning of the 1931 Chronology items, he said the information for the story was from a diary kept by his predecessor, Charles Hurst, editor of The Review and father of Jack Hurst. Ironically, Vic had to make the final entry in the 1931 Chronology: "December 18---Charles Hurst passed away as a result of auto injuries." Charles Hurst, who along with other local civic leaders, worked very hard to convince Texas Utilities Company to build Tuco power plant near Abernathy. The Review at that time was being printed in the Hale Center American printing plant, and Charles Hurst was commuting in that connection when he was injured in a traffic accident at Iowa Avenue, the name of a school and community located in the area where the Cotton Boll Gin and the Cone Elevator now stand north of Abernathy. Hurst had published a power plant edition of The Review on Feb. 24, 1931. Abernathy's Annual Dairy Show was held on April 3-4 that year. In the April 1, 1931, city election, J. J. Riley and Ray Pinson were elected aldermen and B. H. (Buck) Howard was elected city marshal. Abernathy's Trades Day events started June 13. On July 21, 1931, paving on the highway between Lubbock and Abernathy was completed. (Now, over 44 years later, paving has not been completed on the new highway between Abernathy and Lubbock.) The first bale of cotton in 1931 was brought in Sept. 8 by Mitch Thomas (who farmed the place just east of town now owned by Hugh Pettit). Sept. 14, 1931, Plainview National Bank closes. School opened in Abernathy Sept. 14 that year (this year August 19). Sept. 21, 1931, Slaton First State Bank closes. Sept. 24, 1931, Levelland bank closed. Oct. 1, that year, cotton was selling in Abernathy for 4 1/2¢ (four and one-half cents per pound). Nov. 20-21, Third Annual Poultry Show in Abernathy. Nov. 28, 1931, C. M. Hornberg killed and V. S. Payne injured in auto accident. Both were teachers in Abernathy school, Hornberg, music, and Payne vocational agriculture. Between the time Hornberg was killed and Charles Hurst received fatal injuries, Mr. Hurst accepted, and printed in The Review, a short poem I had written concerning the school's loss in Hornberg's death. Seeing the poem in print fired me to the point that I decided to make The Review my life's work.

NGC---Those who bought a copy of the local Chamber of Commerce Celebration edition will see The Review and Lubbock Avalanche-Journal subscription ad on page one of The Review dated Dec. 11, 1941. The ad lists The Review at $1.50 per year (currently $5.25 per year locally) and the Avalanche-Journal for $5.45 per year (now $60.00 per year by mail for morning and Sunday editions). These price comparisons show how inflation has eaten away the value of your dollar. Very likely, The Review, was making more net money at $1.50 per year in 1941 than it is making in 1976 at $5.25 per year, local rate. The same probably applies to the Avalanche-Journal's $5.45-$60.00 rate difference. However, there was never much net money, if any at all, to the publishers on subscriptions. The high brass in Washington have very little love for newspapers because of the criticism directed at the federal government by newspapers, and they retaliate with higher postage rates on second class mail. I no longer have to deal with the postal system as concerns The Review, but I keep up through trade journals. According to one of these sources, postage rate for second class mail was increased twice during July, 1976. This source in reporting the two increases in one month went on to say: "Oh, for the good 'ol days when it was called the Post Office Department and Congress had some authority over the Postmaster General, rates and service." The U. S. Congress should admit its mistake in allowing the change to the current U. S. Postal System, and return the entire operation back to the way it was under the former United States Post Office Department.

Increasing postal rates is not the only factor determining the increases in newspaper subscriptions rates. Newsprint, the paper on which newspapers are printed, has been increasing in cost about as regularly as the rise in postage rates. (Note: The "very little profit, or none at all," comment on charges for newspaper subscriptions considers only a newspaper subscription department. The postage, equipment, supplies and labor in getting a newspaper to a subscriber are among the costs that must come out of amounts paid for subscriptions.)

NGC---If you are not registered to vote, you must do so BEFORE October 3, 1976, in order to vote in the November 2, 1976, General Election, in which a president and candidates for other offices will be named. The deadline, Oct. 3, for registering comes on Sunday. Tax Assessor-Collector's office, in most cases, will close Friday afternoon, Oct. 1, for the weekend. Better register NOW to vote Nov. 2. Registration blanks may be obtained in the afternoons at the office first door west of Abernathy Floral.

NGC---If you are going to the Gulf or Pacific to fish, you'd better check with the Coast Guard or officials at the port from which you leave. Mexico has established a 200-mile exclusive economic zone extending all directions from that country's shores. This ruling by Mexico will have a far-reaching effect on commercial and sport fishing. Mexico's ruling on this was effective August 1, 1976.

Rev. and Mrs. Doug Gardner of Circle Back visited friends in Abernathy Monday.

Mrs. Kenneth Reed and sons, Mike and Andy, of Bonner Springs, Kansas, and Mrs. Jerry Brown and daughter, April and Mendy, of Bethany, Okla., visited here in the home of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Patterson, Jr.

67th Field Day is set in Hub City Sept. 14

LUBBOCK -- Officials have started the countdown toward the 67th annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock, with the satellite station at Halfway serving as host. The premiere event is set for Sept. 14. Dr. Bill Ott, resident director of research, and Dr. Bill Lipe, research scientist and field day chairman, say they expect some 1,200 visitors for the September afternoon agricultural exposition.

In past years, separate field days were hosted by the Lubbock and Halfway Stations. Beginning this year, however, the field day will be held jointly, with the stations alternating as host, says Ott.

THE HALFWAY Station is situated on Highway 70, 14 miles west of Plainview. Literally hundreds of crop production, variety and irrigation test plots grace the 350-acre site of choice farm land.

Cotton, corn, sorghum and sunflower crops will be in the spotlight, says Lipe, with irrigation, variety evaluations, weed control and insect pest management specially emphasized.

"We believe our guests will be impressed with research developments at Halfway," Lipe adds. "Among the particular studies dealing with cotton, for instance, field-day attendants will get a close look at water requirements, seasonal limitations, and newly developed narrow-row varieties and glandless cottons. These studies comprise one of five field tour stops on tap for this year's event."

DR. LEVON RAY, cotton geneticist with the Experiment Station at Lubbock, heads the field day cotton presentation, Lipe says.

Over 50 cotton variety studies will be reviewed by Ray and Dr. Doug Owen who has supervised the production of tests.

"Less water use by cotton is especially attractive to growers who do not have irrigation water or only a limited supply," Ray says. "Increased energy costs also have caused producers to search for ways to use less water," he adds.

Pointing to other items of interest for field day viewers, Ray says area cotton growers encountering low temperatures and early freezes may be interested in seeing cotton varieties which are a week to 10 days earlier maturing than conventional varieties.

"THESE VARIETIES, in conjunction with narrow-row planting techniques, can produce a higher yield of more acceptable fiber," Ray explains.

The scientist says he believes the glandless cottons at the cotton variety test site also will draw much attention.

"These glandless types do not have the toxic substance known as gossypol in the seed," he adds. "Newly developed varieties have a great potential for expanding the cottonseed meal market. This would include the higher priced human food market since glandless cottonseed meal could be used as a high protein flour," he says.

ALL COTTON variety

research data from tests at the Halfway and Lubbock Experiment Stations are made available on an annual basis to help growers in making cotton variety decisions.

In addition to a comprehensive review of cotton research developments, guests will be able to survey a large display of the latest farm equipment sponsored by area implement dealers.

The event begins at 1:00 p.m. with tours scheduled throughout the afternoon.

'76 Texas Melon Crop Looking Good

AUSTIN--The Texas melon and cantaloupe crops promise to be good ones despite spring hail storms and heavy summer rains.

Acres planted in watermelons between January and June total 55,000, the same figure as for the two previous years. Acres intended for summer harvest are set at 25,000, nearly 14 percent more than 1975 acreage of only 22,000 acres.

Cantaloupe acreage also shows an increase. Acreage planted between March and June has increased from 5,600 last year to 5,900 in 1976. Acres for summer harvest are set at 5,500, an increase of 200 acres over last year's figure.

SAFER BUS TRANSPORTATION FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN IS AIM OF DRIVER-TRAINING PROGRAM UNDERWAY HERE

A Texas School Bus Drivers' training course is currently being conducted by the Education Service Center, Region XVII, at Abernathy Junior High School.

The course, part of a comprehensive safety program dictated by recent laws passed in the state legislature, is being carried out as a cooperative effort by the Texas Department of Public Safety, Texas Education Agency, and the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety.

In passing the law, the state legislature charged the Texas D. P. S. and T. E. A. with the planning of a school bus driver training program, and gave the responsibility for coordination and development of a statewide comprehensive traffic safety program to the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety.

Under the program, the local Region XVII Education Service Center, along with others over the state, has the responsibility of coordinating the training for area schools.

The course includes 20 hours of instruction aimed at making school bus drivers competent in every phase of school bus operations; and in making the local school's transportation system safer.

Mrs. H. (Sally) Myatt was taken to a Lubbock hospital August 11, by Abernathy's EMS ambulance. She returned home August 14.

Of the 20 hours involved in the course, eight are spent in exercises which simulate actual situations which might arise for school bus drivers; and twelve are spent in actual classroom instruction.

Upon completion of the course, drivers will earn a School Bus Driver's Certificate, which is renewable every three years upon completion of an eight-hour refresher course.

Topics included in the course range from Preventative Maintenance and Regulations and Driving Procedures, to Defensive Driving and Safety and Emergency Procedures. Instructor and coordinator for the local course is Frank Bartlett.

THE BATTLE OF THE PASSIONS

By Dana Flud
Onward they come,
Closer and closer.
The air is thick with tension.
One side dressing,
The other crying for blood.

Life leads one side and Death leads the other. Life is gallant and humble as he strives for peace. Death is arrogant and proud as he urges his army on.

Now Death calls his first officer, Hate, to his side and Gives the command to attack. The two armies clash in the heat of battle.

Joy is pierced by Sorrow's arrows and Peace is crushed beneath the weight of War. Compassion is crippled by Curley's spear and And it seems as though Love is fatally wounded by Hate's broad sword. It seems as though all is lost but now Life's army comes back with a new surge of energy and They beat back the army of Death and force it to retreat.

Now Life and all his army stand side by side in triumph. Yes they have won, but this has been but a small Battle of the Passions In the long campaign of Life.

"THOUGHTS FROM WITHIN"--By Vicki Havens

I am the bread of life. He who comes to me will never be hungry; he who believes in me will never be thirsty. (John 6:35)

This has been a short busy summer and I haven't had time or taken time to write anything. We have had many learning experiences this summer and hope we are learning what we should be learning from them.

On New Year's I ask the Lord to give me a verse for the year and He did, it was 1 Thess. 5:18, In everything give thanks! for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you. I think I am learning that this is very important to give thanks in everything but, I also know that I had gotten slack in doing this. I thank the Lord that we don't have to give thanks for the trials but, give thanks that God is with us in every experience and He will supply the grace we need to face everything.

We spent many hours during July at the hospital and there were times we thought we couldn't go another step but, there always would come that surge of strength from prayers. We just praise the Lord for the prayers of friends. There is a scripture in 2 Cor. 4:7, But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God and not of us. (8) We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; (9) Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed; We knew many times that the power we had to go on was not of us but, of God. I think it is the most wonderful blessing to have friends who will pray and reach out in many other ways to carry your burdens and lift you up when you need it the most. I thank God for his children who minister to the needs of His children. One day we were at the hospital and I was talking to a friend on the phone and she knew I was in need of a lift and she said, would you like for me to pray for you and I said, yes and as she prayed for Mrs. Havens and our family there was such a release and peace that came. Praise the Lord for the power of prayer and for those who are willing to pray.

The many hours of sitting and waiting we had time to think of several things we were learning and one of them was patience, not many of us are very patient! James 1:3 says, Knowing this that the trying of your faith worketh patience. Romans 5:1, Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; (2) By whom also we have access by faith into the grace where in we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. (3) And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also; knowing that tribulation worketh patience; (4) A patience, experience; and experience, hope; (5) And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us. We see here that we can't really help others in an experience that we haven't ourselves experienced, because you don't really know the real feelings that go along with different experiences that we go through unless you have been through it yourself.

We are thankful for our community and the love and concern we were shown in the time of our trials. Another point that we are learning is that there is power in praise. When you praise and thank the Lord you can't help, but be lifted up. Also we are learning to trust and rely in God for everything. He can do all things for us and He is willing. I thank the Lord that there is nothing we can't go to Him for and that He cares about everything in our lives. 1 Peter 5:7, Casting all your care upon him for he careth for you. There is a song that I love, it is, "Through It All." It says: I've learned to trust in Jesus, I've learned to trust in God, I'm sure that every experience we go through we will learn to trust Him more.

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES

by Mrs. Lillie Belle Kramp

God's Word has the power to change minds, hearts, and thus our lives.

God knew this when He gave the Bible. He commanded, "Thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be frontlets between thine eyes. And thou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and on the gates." Deuteronomy 6:6-9.

One man in Oklahoma took this literally. He plastered the outside of his house with Bible verses.

Many people thought he was off in his mind. One family from his town moved to our town. Here they learned to love and appreciate God's Word.

Kay, (12) said, "How our minds have changed toward that man--now we know that we were the ones who were off in our minds."

The Apostle Paul said, "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus."

How else can this be unless we learn the Word?

The story is told in one of my Bible lessons. Quote: Tommy found an old dusty book high upon a shelf and cried:

"Mother, I've found an old dusty thing, High on the shelf--just look!"

"Why that's a Bible, Tommy dear;

Be careful--that's God's book!"

"God's book!" the child exclaimed.

"Then, mother, before we lose it we'd better send it back to God, for, you know, we never use it."

What would your child say about the Bible?

Tooker, librarian for the Hale Center Public Schools, received a Master of Library Science degree from North Texas State University in commencement exercises Saturday evening, August 14, in Denton, Texas. SCRIPTURES: THE HEAVENS ARE telling the glory of God; they are a marvelous display of his craftsmanship. Day and night they keep on telling about God. (Psa. 19:1-2)

Proverbs 18:7-8, "A fool's mouth is his destruction, and his lips are the snare of his destruction, and his lips are the snare of his soul." The words of a talebearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly. For salvation comes from God. What joys he gives to all his people. (Psa. 3:8)

Windbreak trees can be ordered

Application blanks for ordering windbreak trees from the Texas Forest Service have been received in the County Agent's Office, according to Ollie Lamer, County Agent.

A number of species are available. For the first time in several years, Arizona Cypress may be requested. Others include American plum, Austrian pine, black walnut, Chinese elm, honeylocust, mulberry, oriental arborvitae, osage orange, ponderosa pine and redb cedar.

For orders to be valid, orders must be of 100 or more trees, in multiples of 50 of any one species. Application blanks must be received by February 11, 1977 and accompanied by payment of $10.00 per hundred. Shipments will be made beginning about mid-December and will continue through the first week in March. The planter agrees that the seedlings will not be used for ornamental purposes.

Liner suggests those interested in securing these trees, especially the Arizona Cypress, to get their applications in now as there is a limited amount of certain species.

Application blanks may be secured by calling or writing the County Agent's Office.

LETTERS EXPRESS APPRECIATION FOR RECENT EX-STUDENT REUNION

(Editor's Note: David Pinson, immediate past president of the Abernathy Ex-Students and Ex-Teachers Association, and who was in that office during the July 3rd reunion of that organization, received the following letters from Exes.)

David - A note to thank you and all who worked with you to make the '76 year so successful. Everyone I saw was so excited about being with their old friends. If it were not for you who live there and care, those of us who live off could never have this opportunity. We appreciate all the town of Abernathy has done.

Jack & Irma Brownlow Humble, Texas

Dear David, Thanks to you, Pete Thompson, Dorothy Davenport and the many others you recruited to help. Mary and I had the time of our lives at the school reunion and church the next day. We had to get back to Dallas Sunday afternoon but are confident all of your plans were rewarding to those who could attend. I am very proud of you in Abernathy and the effort you go to make us Exes welcome. We hope you feel the many hours of work were worth it - for us it was just great. May God continue to bless you and your efforts.

EXPERIMENTAL PIVOT IRRIGATION SYSTEM TO BE FEATURED AT T. A. E. S. FIELD DAY

HALFWAY--The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Halfway will display an experimental pivot irrigation system featuring specially modified drop outlets for reducing evaporation loss during its upcoming annual field day, Sept. 14.

An expected crowd of over 1,000 will have the opportunity to view research developments at the station site, 14 miles west of Plainview of Highway 70.

Among the highlights of the event are cotton, corn, sorghum and sunflower research projects featuring crop variety studies, irrigation, soil fertility and other production-oriented research.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock is co-hosting the afternoon attraction.

Dr. Otto Wilke, TAES agricultural engineer, says the pivot irrigation system is on loan to the Experiment Station from Gifford Hill Inc.

The modified system, installed this summer on the 320-acre Halfway station site, is expected to reduce water and energy use. Wilke says the research project will take at least two years.

The electrical system for the one-tower span was put together by Gifford Hill. Wilke installed a switching tensiometer to trigger the irrigation unit. This tensiometer is a device placed in the soil to measure moisture availability, and automatically turns the unit on when soil moisture tension reaches a predetermined level.

Wilke says the biggest problem with pivot sprinklers is evaporation loss, because the water is sprayed into the air. By replacing the sprinkler with tube-like outlets, the water is allowed to drop into the furrows. The outlets are spaced 80 inches apart for irrigating alternate rows.

Other features at this year's field day include a large machinery display and special tours of field crop research. The event gets underway at 1:00 p.m.

PLANT TO RE-OPEN UNDER NEW NAME

The yellow buildings north of Tuco, in which Caprock Processing formerly operated, will house a new firm here, Johnson Grease Company, a division of a company by the same name in Houston. In charge of the plant will be J. W. Cash.

Cash and his wife, Lynda, and daughter, Elizabeth, 9, a fourth grade student, have returned to Texas from California, where they resided at Rancho Palos Verdes. They resided in the Denton-Sherman-Dallas area before going to California. They were in temporary residence at a Lubbock motel when The Review talked with the family Saturday.

Johnson Grease Company manufactures livestock feeding fats.

Carol Ann Ascock of Houston visited here in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Lon Carmickle.

Grain Sorghum, Cotton Damaged

AUSTIN--Too much of a good thing can be bad, and many farmers in southern parts of Texas feel that way about rain.

As much as 15 inches of rain fell during the first three weeks of July, interrupting land preparation for fall vegetable planting and damaging crops that were ready for harvest.

"The grain sorghum crop was one of the hardest hit - an estimated $134 million was lost in sales due to the rain," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported. "Harvest of damaged and poor quality grain is now underway along the Coastal Bend but prices farmers are being offered are much lower than they normally would get."

Grain that normally would have brought $4.50 per hundredweight or more is bringing prices as low as $1.50. "The cotton crop in the Coastal Bend has been damaged by the rain, too. Farmers expect the bolls to rot. And in the Valley, open cotton is strung out, and if it can be harvested, the grade will be considerably lower than usual," White said.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Presley have returned from a trip to Cowles and Tucumcari, N. M.

REJOICE IN THE LORD ALWAYS!

REJOICE in the Lord, O you (uncompromisingly) righteous (you upright, in right standing with God); for praise is becoming and appropriate for those who are upright in heart. Give thanks to the Lord with the lyre, sing praises to Him with the harp and of ten strings. Sing to Him a new song; play skillfully (on the strings) with a loud and joyful sound. For the word of the Lord is right; and all His work is done in faithfulness. He loves righteousness and justice; the earth is full of the loving-kindness of the Lord. (Ps. 33:1-5)

Cal Farley's Boys Ranch Rodeo Set For September 5 - 6

It will soon be rodeo time at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch where 370 boys have been getting ready for their 32nd nationally-known contest between pint-size cowboys and bucking stock.

It is a Labor Day weekend celebration and approximately 10,000 people are expected to drive to the Ranch over the two-day period, September 5 and September 6. Nearly 150 boys will be riding the calves, steers, Brahma bulls and broncs in the Boys Ranch Rodeo Arena, competing for trophies and belt buckles.

Even the 3-to-6-year-olds will be awarded prizes for riding their stick horses around the barrels. Older boys will be riding professional rodeo stock under R. C. A. rules.

The rodeo is also a home-coming for the approximately 3,000 boys who have lived at the Ranch since it was started by Cal Farley in 1939. They are members of the Boys Ranch Alumni Association and some travel long distances to watch a kind of rodeo in which they, too, were once contestants.

An added attraction will be Texas-size bar-be-que beef plates that will be prepared and sold by the boys for only $1.50. Reserve box seat tickets at $2.50 are on sale at the Boys Ranch Office, 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo. General admission will be $1.50 for adults and 75¢ for children under 12-years-old. Performances are scheduled for 2:30 p. m. each afternoon.

FALL SOCCER PROGRAM SET

The Lubbock Soccer Association, in cooperation with the Lubbock Park and Recreation Department, is inviting boys and girls from all area towns surrounding Lubbock to participate in their Fall Soccer Program.

Soccer is now the fastest growing sport in the United States as is evidence in Lubbock. In the Spring of 1974 the LSA had an enrollment of 400 and this past season there were approximately 1800 boys and girls playing.

The nature of the game is one of a fast moving pace with a lot of action and is enjoyed not only by the kids but parents as well.

The objective of LSA is to provide an activity for children of all school ages in an organized manner. Soccer is an ideal means to further a child's coordination and physical conditioning and it gives him an excellent foundation for any other sport he may enter.

The LSA is offering its services to area towns to assist in anyway possible in helping get soccer started. The association will accept individual players, teams or will lend all assistance necessary to start an entire league. A representative of the LSA will be happy to come out to meet with any group, small or large, interested in obtaining more information.

Sign-ups for the Fall Season will be on Saturday, August 14th, 21st, or 28th at the South Plains Mall. The registration fee is $13.00 which includes the uniform cost.

For any individuals or groups desiring more information call Bruce Dougherty at 792-8835 in Lubbock.

Summer Fruits, Vegetables: Adequate Supplies Predicted

AUSTIN--July fruit and vegetable crop statistics for Texas indicate that summer potato production will be slightly down from last year but summer onion harvest will increase.

The summer onion crop, which is harvested in the Trans-Pecos area and on the High Plains, is expected to reach 1.980 million hundredweight (cwt.), up from last summer's 1.404 million cwt. crop. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

Summer potato production is estimated at 2.046 million cwt., down from last year's production of 2.150 million cwt. Acres intended for harvest are set at 9,300 with a yield of 220 cwt. per acre, White said.

According to the crop report, the state's peach crop estimate remains unchanged from last month, at 23 million bushels. Watermelon acres for harvest also remain unchanged at 55,000.

Harvested acreage for several crops shows an increase over last year's figures: green peppers are up to 1,900 acres from only 1,500 acres in 1975; cantaloupes, up 200 acres to 5,500; and spring and summer tomatoes, up 300 acres to 5,000.

On the other hand, estimates for two crops show small drops in acreage. Carrots are down to 700 acres, 100 acres less than last year, and cucumbers decreased by 50 acres to 800 acres.

Beginning Monday morning The Review will have a new staff member. Mrs. Hilbert (Billie) Rantz will be joining us. She will replace Mark Havens who has been working at The Review this summer. Mark will be leaving for college at West Texas State University in Canyon. He will be working in the print shop on campus.

Medical 'Detectives' Finding Cancer Patterns

With the aid of maps and health records instead of test tubes and microscopes, a group of scientists are providing new insights to many unanswered questions about cancer.

Known as epidemiologists, they seek the subtle clues that hide behind known patterns of cancer. By finding and understanding discernible patterns of cancer occurrences throughout the world, they strive to provide essential clues to the cause and prevention of the disease.

"I think one of the things people don't really understand," says Dr. Vincent F. Guinee, director of cancer control activities and head of M. D. Anderson's epidemiology department, "is that not everyone has the same chance of getting cancer."

From one decade to another, explains Dr. Guinee, the patterns of cancer occurrence change and the epidemiologist tries to understand these changing patterns in the population.

If a certain kind of cancer persists in a certain place, there may be highly specific peculiarities about the environment, the people, the work they do or their cultural habits — significant clues to how and why cancer is activated and under what circumstances.

The two major goals of the epidemiologist, notes Dr. Guinee, are to find those factors related by cause to cancer and then to try and take actions that prevent them.

"The epidemiologist actually provides an alternative to pinpointing the specific causes of cancer which continue to prove a difficult task," says Dr. Guinee.

For example, he explains if you know unboiled river water will make you sick or that people who smoke cigarettes have a higher chance of getting lung cancer, then you don't have to know specifically what in the river water or the cigarette causes the problem in order to avoid them and improve your health.

Of course knowing what to avoid and what action to take is not always that simple when you are dealing with a large, complex group of diseases like cancer.

Unlike more common diseases like measles and mumps that only require a week or two to develop, it is known the time between cause and appearance of cancer may be as long as 20 years. To further complicate matters, it is believed that many cancers are the result of combinations of factors such as age, genetics and environmental hazards, to name a few.

Thus, the epidemiologist as a medical detective — using computers, medical histories and a variety of assorted clues — attempts to piece together a constantly changing puzzle. The complexities are obvious.

While the computer and medical statistics are invaluable tools for the epidemiologist, they will not tell you what happened in a community 10 years ago, stresses Dr. Guinee. Thus, the emphasis is on knowing the people and their lifestyles just as any doctor must know his patient.

To do this the epidemiologist relies not only on a good medical background but an interest in people, their good health and attention to small details, both past and present.

In recent years the insights and clues epidemiologists throughout the world have uncovered concerning cancer and its patterns of occurrence are generating increased interest — in effect, building a road map to guide future research.

Area men file antitrust suit against White

LUBBOCK — Two area men, Merwyn Simpson of Hale County and C.R. Reed of Crosby County have filed a $150,000 antitrust suit against White Stores, Inc. in U.S. District Court here.

The two men who are retail dealers for the White Stores Company in Abernathy and Lorenzo, claim that the chain which distributes and sells various types of consumer merchandise at retail and wholesale to dealers as well as company stores has been "monopolistic" and "discriminatory" toward them. The suit says that White Store has granted special privileges, discounts and rebates to the company stores in the Abernathy and Lorenzo dealership territories. The company stores have benefited from these practices because the merchandise has been offered at prices lower than the two retail stores could profitably meet.

The two retailers said that they were forced to reduce their prices to an unprofitable level to compete with the company store.

They contend that the company's actions constitute a monopoly. They have asked for a jury trial.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

"Promise and pie crust," says an old proverb, "are made to be broken." But not God's promises. Living Psalms 146:6 declares, "He is the God who keeps every promise."

Behind every promise is His morality. God is truth. He never forfeits or forgets His word. He adheres exactly to every declaration of promise and prophecy. No one who believes in Him shall be disappointed.

Behind every promise is His mercy. God is love. He is ever seeking the highest and best for those He loves. He causes all things to work together for the good of those who love Him. His aim is to promote their happiness.

Behind every promise is His might. As the Creator of the universe, all its laws are under His control. Nothing and no one can stand in the way of the fulfillment of any promise. He has the power to perform what He promises.

On receiving a generous gift from Alexander the Great one of his favorites exclaimed, "This is too much for me to receive." "It is not too much for me to give," replied Alexander.

Our God is a generous Giver. Let us match His promises with our faith!
