CITY GETS $100,000 GRANT FOR EAST SIDE SEWER SYSTEM

ADDITIONAL $10,000 ALLOCATED BY CITY OF ABERNATHY

The City of Abernathy received the following announcement from Congressman George Mahon's Lubbock office: FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1976-2:45 p.m.-Laura McEvey from George Mahon's Lubbock Office called with the following message that's to be given to the "Abernathy Weekly Review" for publication: Congressman George Mahon is pleased to announce a Community Development Program Grant in the amount of $100,000 from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to the City of Abernathy. PURPOSE OF THE GRANT: For extension of sewer facilities. She said, "Congratulations!"

Mayor Pete Thompson issued the following statement regarding the above grant: "The City Council has been trying to generate funds the past three years to extend sewer facilities. Requests for grants have been rejected until this year. In early 1976, the Council decided to make an all-out effort to secure outside funds to extend sewer facilities. In order to enhance the possibility of getting outside funds, the Council voted to allocate $10,000 in city funds to support this program. Until bids are let out, we do not know if this will complete the system. The HUD $100,000 grant is the maximum a city of our size can receive in any one year. The Council approved this action, because they feel these facilities are needed; and it is in line with their policy of equal treatment of citizens."

On behalf of the City of Abernathy, I want to express our appreciation to the Honorable George Mahon for cooperating in every possible way to help us obtain this grant, and to Mike Lumsden of the South Plains Association of Governments for his aid in handling the tape. Larry Fields, our City Manager, did extensive work taking pictures reflecting the existing conditions in the east part of our city and did an excellent job preparing the many forms necessary to application and approval of the grant."

Homemaking Tips

FROM THE OFFICE OF COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

By WYNON MAYES

Adolescence is a time of many changes of young people — they're striving for independence and responsibility.

Teenagers are trying to find their place in society, and parents can help them best by accepting them as unique individuals. This means being willing to acknowledge and respect the teenager's feelings and ideas.

A family council is a good way to exchange ideas and decide on rules by which the family can live. In a family council, everyone can have a part in the decision making. It's important to find time to talk and really listen to what others are saying.

THROUGHOUT adolescence, teenagers do need some limits and supervision. Rules should be flexible enough to fit the situation and meet the needs of individuals involved. Through a family council, a teenager can help decide which rules are fair and appropriate.

All family members need privacy — and this is especially true of teenagers. By allowing teens to have some privacy, parents show respect for their children. When parents pry too much into their teenagers' lives, their actions create resentment and a lack of trust. A feeling of respect between family members must be mutual.

Teens also need opportunities to become self-directing. Parents can help their teenagers to think for themselves and act responsibly. Set a good example for the teenager and let him know what is expected of him. But keep expectations realistic and don't expect perfection.

ENCOURAGE the teenager to use his own initiative to find solutions to his problems. Acknowledge accomplishments openly but restrict criticism. Too much criticism, or name calling, causes resentment and self doubt.

Younger children should not be overlooked in the growing — maturing process.

Give children opportunities to tell you what they are thinking, and encourage children to ask questions about things which puzzle them.

Daily routines for an adult can be exciting experiences for a young child.

In a young child's eyes, every activity, situation, pleasure and disappointment represents a new opportunity for growth and learning.

FAR TOO OFTEN, families and teachers become too caught up with their own problems and responsibilities to take advantage of all the opportunities they have to broaden their child's experiences.

Children derive untold pleasures when allowed to "help" adults, especially their parents. Each experience they participate in helps build a strong self-concept — it tells them "Yes, I can do that."

It also enables the child to develop independence and a sense of accomplishment. Parents would also notice a decline in disciplinary problems, for a child who is occupied and not bored is less likely to be disruptive.

Parents need not be educated in child development to implement these concepts. The keys to success are imagination and creativity. Here are some possibilities.

LET YOUR CHILD help with meals, setting the table, cracking eggs, turning pancakes, putting dishes away.

At the post office, children can lick stamps, seal letters and put them in the mail box.

At the grocery store, children can lead the cart, pick out items, pay the cashier, and collect the stamps.

Children also like to push elevator buttons, dial telephones, clean bathrooms and run simple errands.

An old stump or piece of wood can be used to hammer, saw, and drill holes. They may be handy with a broom or rake (though they may not be up to your standards. It is the experience that counts).

Vows Spoken in Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Terri Denise McNew became the bride of Allen Clark Agnew in a candlelight ceremony at the Broadway Church of Christ chapel, in Lubbock Saturday September 11 at 7:30 p. m.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John McNew and Mr. and Mrs. Basil Agnew, both of New Deal, Texas.

Ronnie Agnew, brother of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony, which took place in an archway of greenery and blue candles, with baskets of blue carnations and white gladiolus. Tammi McNew, sister of the bride, lighted the candles. Immediately following the ceremony the couple solemnized their vows by lighting the unity candle.

The traditional wedding selections sang by the Broadway Church of Christ Wedding Chorus were: "Let it be Me, Twelfth of Never, Wedding Prayer, A Time For Us, Faithful and True, If, and O Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of white silk organza and Corde lace. The all lace bodice featured a deep square neckline outlined in scallops and highlighted in seed pearls. The scalloped lace also marked the highrise waistline and continued down the front of the gown and encircled the train forming a redingote effect. Long Sheperdess sleeves were caught to scalloped lace caps and were gently gathered to wide lace cuffs edged in natural scallops. The entire silhouette was complemented by a matching beaded lace mantilla veil, which was caught to a lace Camelot headpiece and drifted beyond the length of her train. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses, blue carnations and baby's breath.

Attendants were Miss Kim Venable, maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Kim Smith, Stephanie Hughes and Donna Walker, cousin of the bride. The bridal attendants were attired in blue dotted swiss, princess style dresses. White wide brimmed hats trimmed with blue satin ribbon were worn. Nosegays of blue carnations and baby's breath with miniature gold wind chimes were carried by the attendants.

Dwayne Agnew, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Groomsmen were James Thiel, Chuck Thiel and Gregg Ford. Serving as ushers were Mark Storrs and Danny Walker, cousin of the bride. The groom and his attendants wore blue tuxedos with royal blue velvet trim and ruffle blue shirts.

Miss Debbie Mayo registered guest and presented scrolls.

Following the ceremony, guest were entertained at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the Church. Serving wedding cake and punch at the brides table were Miss Beth Stewart and Mrs. Kathy Lintner. The brides table was covered with white lace cloth over blue, centered with a four branch silver candelabra holding blue candles with arrangements of blue carnations and white spider mums.

The three tiered cake was towered atop a lighted fountain with sparkling blue water fully illuminating the cake. Each tier had heart shaped filigree lattice work and California poppies surrounding each. The brides keepsake top was three bells encircled with lace. Punch was served from Silver punch bowl and cups.

A blue linen cloth draped the grooms table centered with an arrangement of blue carnations and greenery. The grooms cake was double bells of dark chocolate iced in pale powder blue with white trim. Decorations were in dark contrasting blue accenting the blue on the brides cake. Also on the grooms table was coffee served from a Silver coffee service. Serving at the grooms table were Mrs. Judy Campbell, and Mrs. Mauri Kirk.

Mrs. Agnew chose a blue, brown, and beige dress with brown accessories as her going away outfit.

The couple is at home in New Deal where the groom is engaged in farming, and the bride is employed at St. Mary's Hospital.

The bride and groom are both graduates of New Deal High School.

Help sought for weed eradication

County Noxious Weed District is again seeking full cooperation of every Hale County citizen in a drive to eradicate one of the county's most serious noxious weeds, bindweed. The district reminds any person who moves any type of machinery carrying noxious weed seed within the county is a violation of the State Law supporting a penalty not to exceed $250 for each offense. The District requests that all machinery being moved into or from place to place within the county be cleaned by the approved method of water under pressure. The District also requests that all land owners refuse entrance to all non-clean machines and that all machines be cleaned before leaving the farm or before moving from one farm to another, or from one portion of the farm to another. The District believes their motto, "One year's seeding equals seven years weeding." To be true and that the process of complete eradication will be slow, but with the cooperation of every county farmer this process of eradication can take on a new speed with an end result of a clean county.

The Weed District's program is designed to help protect Hale County farms against noxious weeds and to help eradicate existing infestations. If the farmer will do his part in watching for bindweed and bindweed seed, this eradication can be brought about much faster and easier than if the Weed District has to do it alone.

"Noxious weeds can be killed during the cold winter months just as successfully as in the summer months," says W.R. Churchwell, Supervisor of Hale County Noxious Weed Control District. "Now is a very good time to rid non-cropped areas of noxious weeds. If you have any of these weeds on your fence rows, turn rows, around wells, elevated ditches, and parking areas for farm equipment, be sure to contact the Weed Control District for any spraying required," he said.

It is extremely important that any non-cropped area be sprayed during the winter months as this is a full period for the Weed Control District. During the late spring and summer months, spraying is concentrated on larger areas of bindweed, also on bindweed that appears in the farmed areas.

In past years the Weed Control District has been spraying the highway right-of-way, but the Highway Department no longer furnishes the District with the necessary chemical. Therefore we can no longer spray the right-of-way without cost to the farmers.

Hale County farmers having problems with noxious weeds are invited to bring their problems to the Weed Control District office located upstairs in the Agriculture Building on the Courthouse square, Plainview.

COUNTY LINE CHIT-CHATS (by Faye Ann Nelson)

The County Line Club met Tuesday August 31 at the County Line Community Club House. A tacky party was held and Faye Pope won first prize with her bolt and nut dress design. Hostesses for the affair were Nattie Parrish of Lubbock, Audrey McQuire and Pam Connell. Nine members and one guest were present. Punch and cookies were served to the group. Members present were Pam Connell and her sister who was a guest visiting in the Connell home from Oklahoma, Faye Pope, Mary Ruth Manley, Bobbie Embry, Ruth Austin, Audrey McQuire, Jerri Floyd and Venita Granger.

The regular monthly meeting of the Forty-Two and Domino Club was held in the County Line Community Club House Friday night September 3. Members present were Vester Embry's, Jack Connells, Otis Pope's, Jack Cox's, Pete Prices's and Austin's. Each one brought a covered dish and drinks and deserts. The next meeting will be first Friday night in October. Everyone is invited who likes to play games and have fellowship. No dues, no officers and no membership required. Just good clean food, fun and fellowship for one and all.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Rice had a family get together with her three brothers last week. Mr. and Mrs. Les Cox of Albuquerque, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cox of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Cox of Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ledbetter and daughters, Scarlett and Patricia of Graham, Texas spent Labor Day with Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Nelson. Mrs. Ledbetter and Mrs. Nelson taught together in Pampa several years ago. Mrs. Ledbetter and daughters had spent a month in Europe and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson had just returned from Alaska so the group enjoyed hearing about each others trips of the summer. Mrs. Ledbetter teaches English in Bryson High School near Graham.

September 28 is important date for your calendar. See you at 2:00 p.m. the next meeting of the County Line Community Club will meet the last Tuesday of September with a "Talent Show". Venita Granger, Faye Ann Nelson and Betty Price are hostesses and they want each member to be thinking up something to do to show off her talent. So get busy and plan a skit with someone or sing a song or learn a dance. We may have a demonstration on "Belly Dancing". It is going to be fun to see how much hidden talent there is in our community and Abernathy. I hear that there is lots of it around. This will be your chance to try out. Who knows there might be some talent scouts in the audience. So you have a month to practice up with a group or alone. Just plan your own. If you have a talented friend why bring her along to help you out. See you Tuesday September 28 at the County Line Community Club House.

Faye Ann Nelson entertained the Birthday Club Thursday September 2 in her home. Refreshments of stuffed dates that she had brought back from California and olives from the olive capital of the world. Lindsey, California. And fruit juice punch made from the fresh fruits of California valley. She then showed slides of her trip to Alaska, Canada and the Yukon. Those present were Fancine Home, Peggy Lawson, Bobbie Embry, Coatsa Rice and her guest Mrs. Les Cox of Albuquerque, N.M. The next birthday to be celebrated will be Bobbie Embry who will have a coffee Monday September 13. Her birthday was September 7 and Faye Ann's was August 31 but due to conflicts the dates for the get together had to be changed. Fancine Home will have the next meeting as her birthday is September 21. This club is different as you have your own birthday party and make your own cake if you want one. No dues, no officers and no gifts. We just meet to have fun, food and fellowship on your birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Floyd attended the Floyd reunion last weekend at Loop. They reported a great time with fiddle music and lots of singing and reminiscing of old times and seeing lots of cousins and acquaintances that had not been together in a long time.

Wayland and I started out July 22nd to see if we could possibly make it to Alaska before we got so old we could not go. We left July 22nd and went by way of Lamar, Colorado and Wayland thought he would go around four or five campers which was blocking his view and we made it around but the boys with the flashing lights caught up with us. We got delayed in Lamar, Colorado for a few minutes and several dollars which nearly ruined my trip. We finally made it to Casper, Wyoming where I wanted to visit one of my former pupils that I had taught in the fifth grade in Quanaah back in 1940 and I have been corresponding with all these years. She showed us all around Casper and took us out to meet her family of two beautiful daughters 16 and 18 and her handsome husband who works for the electric company in Casper. She is employed in the school system of Casper and is head of the film division for the schools. We left next day and went through Grand Teton and Yellowstone National Parks. I was disappointed. No bears. The rangers have moved them back to the woods because they were having so much trouble with them attacking people. Then we headed for Radium Springs, B. C. Canada to visit our friends who are building a home and it will be a show place when they get it finished. They are world travelers and have souvenirs from every country in the world and are building their house to represent each country. Readers Digest has already started a story and interview with them to come out soon showing all the different phases of the home. I could have stayed there a week and not seen all their collections from the different countries. He has over 5000 slides collected and alphabetically arranged to show to his guests on any country in the world. He told us we could make it to Alaska easily as he had been there three times and said they had good roads all the way. It is a weather road but it is far from being smooth. We averaged 25 miles an hour. The water trucks keep it wet down on account of the white dust that would soon choke you down if they didn't. We made it to Fairbanks and it was beautiful all the way. Especially the Youkon Territory. We came back down to Haines, Alaska and caught the ferry which was a thrill for us as we have never been on a boat before. We got off at Prince Rupert and drove to Prince George and on down to Washington which is one of the most beautiful drives of all. We went thru Oregon and down to California to Placerville and found Wayland's cousin who was retired, he used to work in a saw mill so they took us through the sawmill which was very interesting as we had never been thru one before. Then we visited more cousins of his in Petaluma, California and my cousins in Los Angeles who were getting ready to fly to Hawaii for two weeks. We nearly got in and went with them. Then we went thru Knotts Berry Farm and Disneyland, Sea World and on down to San Diego to the big zoo and looked up a cousin of Wayland's that he had never seen. Then to Yuma, Arizona to see my college roommate a swimmer in her new swimming pool. They took us thru "Hell Hole" and old prison of Yuma that is made into a museum now. We also went out to the fruit farms and got dates, figs and then headed for the long drive home. Stopped in Fort Sumner, N.M. to go thru the Billy The Kid museum and got in home August 22nd. We thanked the good Lord for a successful trip and for getting home safe and sound without any kind of mishap. 10,000 miles by car and over 1000 miles by boat.

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES

by Mrs. Lillie Belle Kramp

"God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the saints and to be had in reverence of all them that are about Him. Psalm 89:7 Children are good followers of the adults whom they love and honor--parents, teachers, or neighbors.

Are we really teaching them that the most important thing in their worship is honor and respect for God and all things relating to Him.

Several years ago I attended a Children's Church. Several of the children on the back row requested a hymnal and the teacher tossed them one. Did they learn? At another time and in another place the Bible was scooped down the pew to a pupil who needed one. Did the pupils learn?

Much to my sorrow a finger was pointed at me in judgment several years ago. We were delighted to have an unsaved mother attend our Church. Her children had been coming for several years. My husband was preaching--while I sat and thumbed through the hymnal--looking for a closing song. (This should have been decided beforehand.) This lady watched me--unknown to me. She also watched her girls who were sleeping--indifferent to the sermon. She later reported to me that she was turned off from the message because if those who were attending were not interested--why should she be? Why, indeed! Did I learn? I did.

It's a grievous thing when our carelessness keeps a person from the Lord Jesus.

Children will honor the God you honor, they will honor the Bible, you honor.

John the apostle who lay his head on Jesus's shoulder, fell at his feet as dead when He saw Him in all His glory. This is an awesome thought.

What is our inner attitude toward the Lord of Glory? This will show in the way we lead our children in true Reverence.

REPORTS FROM THE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

The Nazarene Missionary Society met on September 8. The service was opened by singing songs on the theme of "Lift Up Christ". The opening prayer was given by Ruby Blake.

President, Irma Mae Spruiell gave the devotional, emphasizing "The Power of the Holy Spirit".

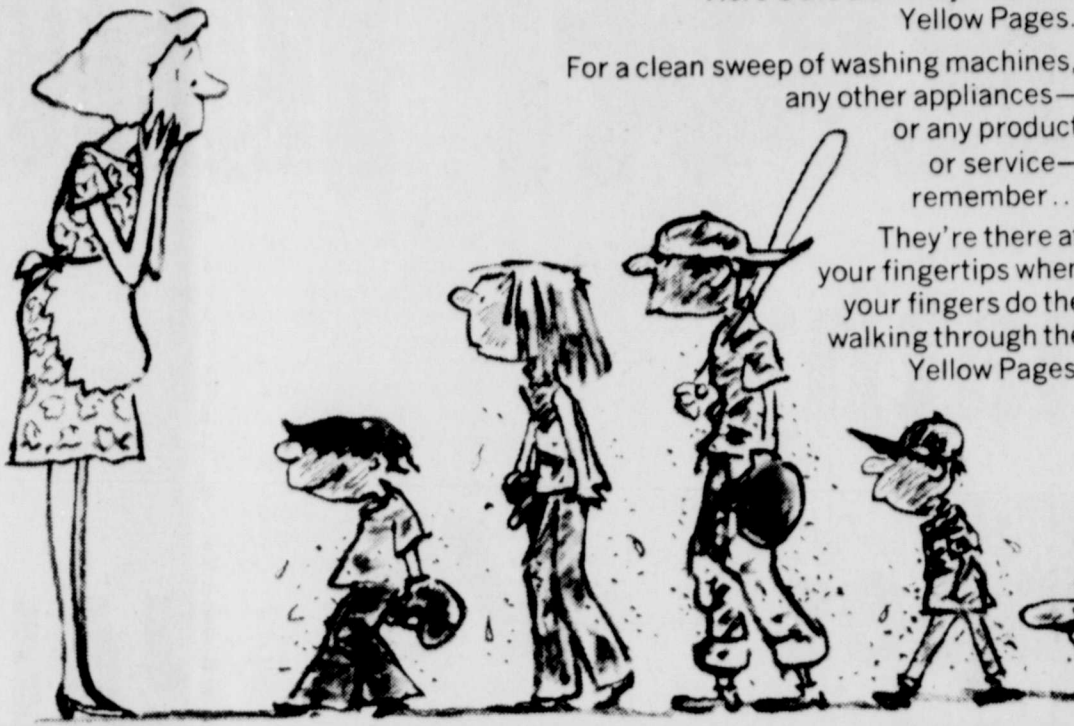

Monthly emphasis was on "Lifting Up Christ" through intercessory prayer, by Alma Ruth Patterson.

New box and work assignments were to send towels and wash cloths to Swaziland, Africa for students in our college.

Erma Brewer presented the prayer chart. Prayer was requested for young people to carry on the work in Argentina.

Billie Jean Spruiell gave an interesting lesson on "our work in the Virgin Islands". Much good is being done there, considering the time our church has been in the area.

Women's Aglow To Meet Friday In Lubbock

The Womens Aglow Fellowship will have their monthly meeting Friday, Sept. 17 at 11:00 p.m. in Lubbock at the Mission Inn Restaurant at 5303-A Slide Rd. There will be a buffet luncheon.

Speaker for the meeting will be Leatrice Skinner, a very anointed woman is President of North Texas Area of Women's Aglow and has her home in Arlington, Texas, where she and her husband have a jewelry store.

She was saved at the age of nine in a Southern Baptist church where she was active for many years. In 1968 at the age of 40 while attending a church of a different denomination, the Lord spoke to her and said, "you worship me one way and they another but there is a better way." She had never heard of any Charismatic experience, but in 1969 she received the Baptism in the Holy Spirit.

Leatrice's words were, "I'm not a preacher--I just want to share with other women what the Lord has done in my life." Practical Christian living concerning your home being in divine order and the testing we go through for Jesus to become Lord of our lives is part of her testimony. (Titus 2:3-5)

These meetings are open for women for all this area, and you are cordially invited to come for the program and fellowship meal.

Sorghum harvest is nearing

Cool, damp weather has slowed maturity of most crops. Corn harvest, while underway in some areas, has not reached full swing.

INSECT SITUATION Most crops in our area are not being subjected to insect pressure. Sorghum midge in the few fields of sorghum still in the bloom stage and bollworms in cotton are the main concerns as of this time.

Midge numbers averaging 2 per head of blooming sorghum have been observed this week. This pest can be very destructive to late blooming sorghum and should be monitored very closely.

Cotton bollworm pressure appears to be decreasing. Egg deposition has decreased and the cool weather appears to have slowed or stopped egg hatch.

This will be the last regular weekly newsletter for the 1976 crop year. If insect activity warrants, I will write additional letters. I hope the information in these newsletters has been of benefit to you.

Children in a family are like flowers in a bouquet. There's always one determined to face in an opposite direction from the way the arranger desires.

Local Booster Club Meeting Held

The Booster Club met Monday night at 6:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The Abernathy-Oilton football game was viewed and the coaches gave their comments.

It was decided during the business meeting that the booster club will make signs for the business windows in support of the team.

A large sign is to be made and will be put up in front of the city hall to support the team and it will show who the Antelopes will be playing each week.

Letters To The Editor

September 10, 1976 Mr. Richard Havens, Publisher Abernathy Weekly Review Abernathy, Texas 79311

Dear Mr. Havens: Our boys have now returned to their daily chores following the 32nd Annual Boys Ranch Rodeo and in their behalf, thank you for the help you gave them with the publicity.

I am sure the advance publicity had a lot to do with the capacity crowds that attended both performances, and the boys tried to show their appreciation by doing their very best in all events.

It would not have been possible for our boys to put on such a successful rodeo without the kind of help you gave them, and they are most grateful.

Sincerely yours, Cal Farley's Boys Ranch Louie Hendricks

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

He sold himself twice-once to silver and later to the Saviour. He was a tax collector who bled his people white for the Romans, and whiter yet for himself. Rome despised him. Jewry hated him. But Jesus loved him. "Follow Me!" "Shut up!" yelled the people. But he only shouted louder. "Bring the blind man here," said Jesus. Then He asked, "What do you want?" "To see," he answered. "All right, it's done," said Jesus. Instantly he saw and followed Jesus.

She was a dirty tool for dirtier men. She had five husbands, and was living with a man who was not her husband. She would probably not receive a welcome from many church members. She was accustomed to the rejection of the "proper" set, for she walked almost a mile from her home to draw water. But Jesus, who knew all about her, brought her to the place where she confessed her sin and shame. And she underwent the wonderful change which conversion produces.

Thy word have I had in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee. (Psalms 119:11)

For Ever, O LORD, thy word is settled in heaven. (Psalms 119:89)

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. (119:105)

Don't take old age sitting down!

Right now millions of Americans are being forced to sit back and rock their lives away. Simply because they're older. Stop and think about it!

It's going to happen to you. You're going to be "older" someday.

And you're going to have to face the same problems that exist today. Unless you start changing your attitudes about aging now. Get rid of your stereotypes! Try and imagine what you'll be like. What you'll want to do. What you'll want to contribute. That's all we ask.

But you'd better hurry. If you don't want to take your old age sitting down, get off your rocker and separate the facts from the myths.

For more information on what you can do, write: The National Council on the Aging, Inc. Box 28503, Washington, D.C. 20005.

Get off your rocker.

When driving, watch for pedestrians who step out from between parked cars.

Don't ever argue at the dinner table. The one who isn't hungry always wins the argument.

We may give without loving, but we cannot love without giving.

Conscience is God's presence in man.

Bread of Life

Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers. Eph. 4:29

Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice: Eph. 4:31

And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. Eph. 4:32
