Abernathy Meat Products Remodeling

Abernathy Meat Products is now in the process of remodeling the retail sales area of their business. This will give them more room for counter space and they will have a wider selection of meats on display. They believe this will help them to give faster and better service to their customers and avoid waiting for orders to be filled. See their ad in this issue of the Review.

WHAT WILL THE PROPOSED BOND ISSUE DO TO LOCAL TAXES?

On April 7, residents of Abernathy will vote on a $250,000 bond issue to finance a community meeting room addition to City Hall and remodeling the old fire station to house an expanded city library. Recent issues of The Weekly Review covered the need for the facilities and the city's ability to undertake the project. The question uppermost in people's minds now is, "How much will it cost ME?" The project will mean a 16% or 15¢ increase in city taxes. Property taxes now are 95¢ per $100 valuation. If the bond issue passes, taxes will be $1.10 per $100 valuation. City Manager Larry Fields made up a chart, which we borrowed, to show how much more people will pay in order to have the community civic building and library. The chart shows that a person whose property is valued at $10,000 for tax purposes will pay $9 more in taxes per year. With this explanation, you can find (See TAXES, Page 2, Col. 1)

Public Library Is Important In A Small Community

Today in small communities all over America the public library is assuming a more dynamic role. The dramatic course of events since World War II has brought into focus the great need for informed citizenry. The public library has a responsibility to its patrons to serve as an unbiased agency which provides great resources of knowledge. Its roots must be grounded firmly in the daily activities of the people. It cannot be merely a building, a collection of books, and a person sitting behind a desk to check books in and out. As important as these things are, only as the public library sees its challenge and becomes a part of its community can it achieve its purpose.

It is not an impossible task for the smallest community library to become an effective agency for the total good of the area it serves.

The Abernathy Public Library has copies of The National Geographic Magazine from 1951 to 1978 which need to be bound. We have a donation to be used for this purpose including an index for these magazines if our bond issue passes for the new library space. Also at least 150 volumes of books will be donated at that time from one person who lives in Abernathy.

Come! Let's Vote Yes! and not loose these donations.

JUST SHARING

Jacquelyn, Billie, Edith and I were very glad to see Monday the 26 roll around because BFD has been absent from the Review office for over two weeks and we miss him. We have been very busy during the two weeks he was gone and are looking forward to him getting back to work. He kinda keeps us going and on toes. We have had several calls and even written in asking why his column has not been showing up in the Review. Vic Lamb sent him a card from Sedona, Arizona inquiring as to why he has not had a column in a good while. Anyway dear Dad we are glad to have you back with us. Mom, we are also glad you are home. Senior Volunteers Form Abernathy R. S. V. P. Group

Plainview members of R. S. V. P. came to lunch at Abernathy Neighborhood Center Wednesday, March 21 to give a friendly boost to Abernathy's R. S. V. P. beginners. Six Plainview Ladies made the trip with two program staffers and brought a turkey to share. Abernathy ladies filled out the menu with salads, vegetable dishes, and desserts.

R. S. V. P. is the Retired Senior Volunteer Program, a branch of ACTION, the federal agency for volunteer service which sponsors the Peace Corps, Vista, Foster Grandparents, and Companions. The organization is for men and women 60 years old and older. They volunteer their services in non-profit agencies throughout the community.

"R. S. V. P.'s purpose," said Glenda Daughtrey, Program Director for Hale County R. S. V. P., "is to get older people back into the mainstream of life. Volunteer work for senior citizens is a way of re-establishing contacts with the community. They are useful and needed which makes them feel good about themselves."

Volunteers enjoy doing things for rest homes because the need is so great. They make lap robes and similar items for nursing home residents, assist in health programs such as glaucoma screenings, and help with activities in public schools. The ladies crochet and knit things to give to those who need them or to sell to raise money for supplies and projects. The Plainview Ladies brought lovely things to the R. S. V. P. luncheon here that they plan to sell in the Running Water Draw Arts and Crafts Festival in Plainview April 1.

Men volunteers often show films at rest homes, host senior center groups and do small repair jobs. In Plainview, they work in the greenhouses at the Mental Health/Mental Retardation headquarters. Their biggest service is delivering "Meals on Wheels".

R. S. V. P. isn't all work though. The volunteers have lunch together monthly or quarterly just for fun. There's a yearly recognition event and in May, area volunteers congregate for the Senior Olympics in Lubbock. Three busloads of Plainview volunteers went last year and had a wonderful time.

There are 30 R. S. V. P. programs in Texas. The programs are financed with 70% federal, 30% local, and some state funds. The Plainview group started in 1974 and began volunteer work in Plainview schools two years ago. There are R. S. V. P. groups in Petersburg and Hale Center, also.

Both Glenda Daughtrey and Elva Ramos, the Plainview R. S. V. P. Secretary, feels the program is well worth their time and efforts. "Older people are so loveable and appreciate attention from younger people so much," said Elva. "They appreciate being appreciated."

Glenda agreed. "It's so rewarding to see someone who has been withdrawn just blossom when given the opportunity to be of service."

Elodia Marez will be group leader of the Abernathy R. S. V. P. which will meet every Wednesday at 1 PM in the Neighborhood Center. Eight or 10 volunteers have already signed up. Anyone else who is interested in the program should contact Alice Pace at the Neighborhood Center, 298-2805.

The Plainview R. S. V. P. Ladies who attended the Wednesday luncheon, besides Glenda and Elva, were Elia Ybanes, Susanne Lopez, Visenta Rodriguez, and Susana Hinojosa.

Abernathy volunteers present were Mae Parsons, Charlotte Robinson, Juanita Dominguez, Maybell Glass, Juanita Brantley, Rosie Honeycutt, Alice Pace, and Elodia Marez.

The charter members of the Abernathy R. S. V. P. are Elodia Marez, Maybell Glass, Juanita Dominguez, Mrs. R. L. Parsons, Charlotte Robinson, Juanita Brantley, Francis Howard, Mrs. Floyd Shipman, Imogene Suttle and Mrs. Innocents Garcia.

Breath Of Spring Bike-A-Thon Will Benefit Cystic Fibrosis Foundation

"Our goals are simple: To find a cure or control for the inherited disease, cystic fibrosis, while improving diagnosis and treatment of children suffering with serious lung-damaging diseases," said Mona Toler, Chairman of the Breath of Spring Bike-A-Thon in Abernathy.

"We have dedicated volunteers, a national organization, renowned scientists and researchers, and 115 diagnostic and treatment Centers," said Mrs. Toler. "What we don't have is enough money. That is why the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is appealing for support to expand research and care programs through the Breath of Spring Bike-A-Thon."

Funds raised in the Bike-A-Thon will help support the CF care, teaching and research Centers across the U.S., where children with lung diseases are diagnosed and treated with the most modern techniques and equipment.

Although cystic fibrosis, the most serious lung-damaging disease, is still incurable, the average life expectancy of children affected has been increased from infancy to the teen years and many patients now live into young adulthood. These giant strides of progress are due to earlier diagnosis and improved methods of treatment, which have developed from a better understanding of the disease.

In addition, the treatment programs which CF patients are using have proven very effective in alleviating the suffering and often curing children with severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis and a condition sometimes called "childhood emphysema".

"Naturally, we know more today than we ever before, but we still have a long way to go before we have conquered CF. Every dollar raised for the Breath Bike-A-Thon means better health and a brighter future for youngsters struggling for the breath of life."

The Breath of Spring Bike-A-Thon will be Saturday April 28.

Abernathy 4-H To Have Fabric Sale

The Finance Committee members of the Hale County Extension Homemakers and 4-H Councils have been offered a unique fund-raising project from Rosalind Fabrics.

This opportunity is a fabric sale being sponsored in Plainview at the Agriculture Center on Monday, March 26, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. by the Extension Homemakers Finance Committee. A percentage of the fabric sold will be given to the Council to be used for scholarships and other educational programs.

4-H clubs in Petersburg, Hale Center, and Abernathy will sponsor the sale in each community on March 27, 28, and 29 respectively.

Proceeds received from these three sales will be used for the Exchange program. In this program, Hale County 4-H families will host Kentucky 4-H members this June, and visit Kentucky 4-H'ers in June of 1980. In previous years, 4-H members of Hale County have had similar exchanges with Iowa and Minnesota.

Plainview area residents should take advantage of this opportunity to buy spring fabrics at low prices, while helping Extension Homemakers and 4-H programs at the same time.

LOCALS COMMENT ON BOND ELECTION

MAYOR PETE THOMPSON

"I feel that every taxpayer should weigh the pros and cons of a new community center and library. Personally, I feel the need justifies the cost due to the demand for both projects."

"A great city is not all asphalt, concrete, and steel. I feel that we need an environment where every man, woman, and child will know the opportunity to develop their capabilities to the fullest."

ALDERMAN CHARLES NELSON

"I think the proposed community room is a real nice deal, excellent for the Sunshine Group and others that need meeting places. There will be plenty of room."

"And we need that library—it needs expanding real bad and will be a real asset to the community."

ALDERMAN HAROLD STILLWELL

"We are very much in need of the community room because of present demand for meeting places. The room we have now is just not big enough for many groups. I think it will be an asset to the community to have it."

"We hate to spend tax dollars but the plan before us will be a valuable addition to the community. City finances are in as good a shape as they ever will be. Costs sure aren't going to get any cheaper. If we're ever going to do it, we'd better do it now."

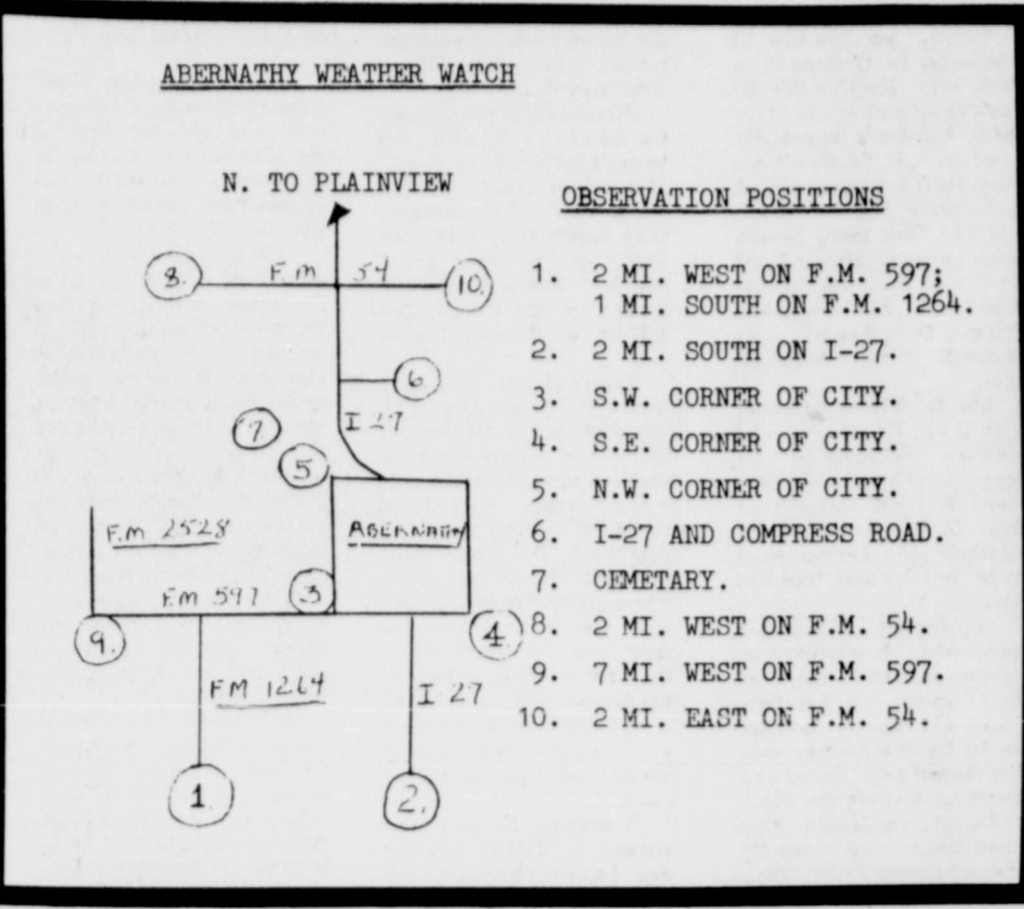

ALDERMAN HAROLD THOMPSON

"I have mixed emotions about the civic building and library project. It's not something we have to have but I'm more for than against it. If the voters go along with it, I'll be for it 100%."

"If the school builds a facility and can allow anyone to use it, that might be better. Everyone agrees we need larger meeting places."

ALDERMAN HOPPY TOLER

"I read in the Lubbock paper that Shallowater is having a Merchant's Bazaar in their community building. It's a sort of trades day with everybody featuring something special and is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce."

"Our proposed community room will open doors to things we haven't even thought of yet. If we have a place to put meetings and activities, ideas will present themselves."

ALDERMAN JERRY GIVENS

"I guess we need the proposed community building since the present meeting room is booked solid so much. I'm sort of on the fence so far as taxes go. I'd like to hold them down as much as possible."

"If people want the new facilities, I'll pay my part and be behind the project 100%. If not, we'll try to hold the line."

HAROLD McCUNE

"I'm for the library expansion and community meeting room 100%. It's one of the big needs we have in town. I'm not for the proposed school facility though."

J.F. BUSKE

"I'm for the library and meeting room project. I think it will be good for the whole community."

FLOYD SHIPMAN

"I'm for it. We need more room in the meeting room and the library, too. I know the Sunshine Group is for it."

SHANA TOLER

"I was on the planning committee and am really for it. We really need the library because present facilities aren't very good. I've heard my grandmother, who helped start the library, talk about it for a long time."

"I'm looking forward to the community room even though I'll be gone. It will be so nice on the 4th of July to be comfortable in there. I hope the city passes the bond issue."

"My only doubts are that this project and the planned school facility might be too much for the town."

SANDRA GAINER

"I'm not as familiar with it as I should be. I'd like to see larger facilities but hate to see taxes go up. I guess we can't see progress though without it costing us."

MIKE GAINER

"If the project doesn't raise taxes too much, I think it's a pretty good idea."

BILL SCOTT

"I think we need a place to meet and not be crowded and the library certainly needs expanding. The only thing that bothers me is the raise in taxes. But we can't have something nice without footing the bill."

"A community can't grow without improvements and we just have to make up our minds to pay for them."

ANONYMOUS COMMENTS
We have lots of shy people who didn't want their names used. Here are a few of the comments, most gathered around 10 AM Thursday last week at Jennings' Restaurant.

"To our surprise, most men were for the bond issue but most working women were against it."

Several people said, "I haven't thought much about it, or even worse—'Are we having a bond election?'"

Local insurance man—"I'm in favor of the bond issue, I'm especially enthusiastic about the library and can't think of anything I'd rather see tax money spent on. I like the idea of the meeting room but especially like plans for the library."

"I'm not interested in the library and meeting

Abernathy Weather Watch Volunteers Prepare Citizens For Tornado Season

By Jacquelyn Smyers

What happens when a threatening cloud comes near Abernathy? A corps of volunteers goes into action to watch and warn the community. Abernathy's weather warning and observation plan has worked beautifully for years but, since it's "that time" again, City Manager Larry Fields suggested we review the procedure so everyone knows what to expect.

When the National Weather Service puts Abernathy under a tornado or severe thunderstorm watch, the weather bureau notifies the city manager. He contacts the police chief and fire chief who notify their men.

If dangerous conditions develop, two or three people man the Emergency Operations Center in the basement of Abernathy Fire Department. Two man teams in radio equipped vehicles take positions according to cloud activity at specified places three to seven miles around the town. (See weather watch map.) Since tornadoes usually come from the southwest, they pay special attention to those positions and always station a team at point on #10 because of the overview from there.

If a team spots a tornado headed for Abernathy, they try to get confirmation from another position. If there's time, the EOC also contacts the weather bureau on a direct line, to see if the tornado shows up on radar.

If it does, the EOC sounds the alarm. If the tornado is close and there's no time to check with the weather bureau, the alarm is sounded anyway.

A three minute constant blast gives notice of an alert. A three to five minute warble means "take cover". A long constant blast signals "all clear".

PLEASE NOTE

In Abernathy, sirens are sounded only in case of eminent danger. Officials know that, as in the story of the boy who cried wolf, people pay no attention to frequent alarms for nothing. Therefore, when you hear the siren, take cover immediately. A tornado heading for town has been sighted.

WARNING

Under ordinary circumstances, Abernathy's weather watch plan will give plenty of warning. The behavior of tornadoes and severe storms, however, is hard to predict. Fields urges people not to rely solely on the system. Use common sense in threatening weather. Ultimate responsibility for your family and yourself lies with you. Watch the weather yourself and, if things look really bad, go on your own to a protected place. A tornado could drop down right in the middle of town and all the volunteer watchers in the world couldn't give warning.

Ninety percent of the watchers are members of Abernathy Volunteer Fire Department, city employees, and law enforcement personnel. They do a great job, but when it comes right down to it, we must be prepared on our own.

WEATHER WATCH CLASS

On April 16, Larry Fields, weather bureau public information officer for this area, will teach a weather watch class at 7:30 PM in the fire station meeting room. He'll give an exam at the end of the session and those who pass will receive a card from the National Weather Service certifying competence as a weather watcher.

The class is mainly for Abernathy's weather watch volunteers, but anyone else is invited to come, too, so long as there's room. After regular volunteers are seated, others will be admitted on a first come, first served basis.

Fields said our law enforcement officers took this course recently and reported it's the best they ever attended.

WORD of GOD

Psalm 23
A Psalm of David.

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child; but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.

Proverbs 22:15

"I think it's poor timing with living expenses as high as they are. Older women will be affected most because just a little increase is hard on them."

"I don't have much use for it so guess I'm against it."

"I feel that the ones for the bond issue are those who won't miss the money or don't pay taxes."

Former fireman—"I think we should use the old fire hall for an EMS station and keep the present library and meeting room."

"I think it's fine as long as everyone can use it. That's why I disagree with the school, because all of us have to pay for the facilities but the whole town is not allowed to use them. It wouldn't hurt that old gym floor to be used for kids' dances."

One man said he is against any kind of public facilities that include restrooms. He has had to help clean up the ones in the fire station after 4th of July celebration and says you can't imagine the awful mess. People who won't clean up after themselves don't deserve nice places, especially when everyone in the community has to pay for them.

Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and thy glory above all the earth; Psalm 108:3,4,5

EGG ENCHILADA

- 2 Texas eggs
- 1/4 tsp salt
- 2 T milk or water
- 1 T butter
- 2 tortillas
- 2 T tomato or enchilada sauce
- 2 T sour cream
- 1 T chopped onion or green pepper

Place tortillas in colander over gently boiling water to steam while preparing eggs. TO SCRAMBLE EGGS Use a whisk or fork to beat eggs, salt, and liquid. Heat butter in skillet until just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture. As mixture begins to set, gently draw a pancake turner completely across the bottom, forming large soft curds. Continue until eggs are thickened. Avoid constant stirring. Cook until eggs are thickened throughout, but still moist. Divide the scrambled eggs in half and wrap each in a tortilla, placing them folded side down on the plate. Garnish with sauce, sour cream, and chopped onion or green pepper.

Your electric bill will probably be higher this summer. On the average, air conditioning accounts for about half of summertime bills. And our hot summers mean you'll be using your air conditioning more. Since you know a higher electric bill is coming, you can plan for it. Your Southwestern Public Service Manager has many suggestions on how you can keep your electric bill down this summer... like setting your thermostat at 78°... keeping shrubbery trimmed away from your cooling unit, closing drapes to shut out the heat of the sun... and more. By using energy wisely, you'll keep your electric bill from soaring. See SPS NOW for more information on how to save energy and money. And start planning... So you can keep your COOL this summer.

"Poncho" Is T. T. U. Theater Production

LUBBOCK--Texas Tech University Theatre will present "PONCHO", a musical drama with a Mexican flavor, complete with everything except tacos and margaritas, on April 6-11 at 8:15 p.m. "PONCHO", written and directed by Clifford C. Ashby, theatre arts professor, dramatizes the life of Francisco Pancho Villa, who, according to the script, was called by God to lead his people in a Mexican revolution. Except for one time-sequence change, the colorful drama is historically accurate. The play incorporates historical photographs of the actor, Ashby said, will bring a touch of realism to the vivid life of Pancho Villa. Sylvia Ashby, wife of the director and former English teacher, wrote the lyrics for "PONCHO". She has tried to reflect the spirit of the common people in Mexico. Songs include "Paisanos," "Train to Torreon" and "Sons in Sonora".

Charles Addington, Lubbock businessman and publisher of two albums, composed the music for "PONCHO". A Texas Tech graduate, Addington wrote the music for last summer's "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" and portrayed Sancho Panza in "Man of La Mancha" at the Lubbock Theatre Center. A professional musician for 15 years, Addington also will play in the mariachi banding with the cast. Diana M. Moore, dance professor at Texas Tech, is choreographer for the production. Moore choreographed "Elinor's Rainbow" at the Lubbock Civic Center last spring and "An Evening of Dance and Percussion" at Texas Tech this spring. She blends structure and spontaneity in the dance scenes in "PONCHO". The production features an in-house historian who is writing a book about the life of Villa. Manuel Machado Jr., a visiting professor from Montana who read about the auditions this spring, now has a part in the play and works on background information for the cast.

The cast of "PONCHO" includes Terry W. Mims as Pancho Villa, Patrick C. Donnelly as Angeles, William C. Durham as Enrique, T. H. Maynor as Cerferion, Sam Thompson as General Zapata, Machado as Rodolfo, Lynn Mathis as General Patton and Bradley M. Campbell as God. Portraying various characters will be Bruce A. Boggs, Sam Cornelius, Mitch Ivey, David W. Graham, Tony Mitchell, Toni L. Bratton, Georgann Faulkner, Carmen Y. Rodriguez, Debra M. Cates, Evelyn K. Boyd, Sherry A. Rantz, Dolores Chapas, Terri A. Lewis, Rebecca J. Ross, Kim Weaver, Vicki L. Woodbridge, Jon Sorenson, David Love, Greg Love, Paul Machado, Charles Addington II and Gabor Racz. Members of the mariachi band include Lynn Mathis on guitar, Glen W. Churchwell as percussionist, Jose S. Ramirez on guitar and violin and James W. Wickesham on trumpet.

Reservations may be made at the University Theatre, 742-3601, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. after March 26. Tickets are $2 for students and $3 for adults.

CITY GARDEN CLUB IN MEETING

The City Garden Club met March 22, at 3 PM in the city club room. Officers elected for the 1979-1980 club year were: President, Lillie Mae Wilson; Vice President, Veloise Ahrens; Secretary-Treasurer, Glenna Downs and Reporter, Juanita Bell.

Members answering roll call were: Veloise Ahrens, Juanita Bell, Dorothy Boggus, Blanche Coggin, Glenna Downs, Mary Heath, Vera Pope, Alice Price, Jack Rogers, Dorothy Shipman, Cora Shuman, Bessie Waters, and Lillie Mae Wilson. Guests were Bunnell Dye and Mrs. Clara Parrish.

Juanita Bell was in charge of the program. She introduced her guest, Mrs. Clara Parrish from Ralls. She started the program by giving a humorous reading entitled "What is a Grandmother?" from a child's point of view. Mrs. Parrish also recited two other delightful readings: "Time Out Ladies" by Dale Evans and "A Garden for all Seasons". In closing she gave a review of the book "A Bit of Honey" by W. E. Thom. It was very interesting and well presented. Everyone enjoyed having Mrs. Parrish as a guest speaker. Hostesses were Dorothy Shipman and Bessie Waters. Thompsons And Teaffs To Ireland

Ireland has seen lots of Abernathy Teaffs since Coca Cola sent Marilyn (Teaff) and Terry Barton to live there. Marilyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Teaff, visited them there last summer and, in February, Francis (Teaff) and Dan Thompson, Lenora (Manley) and Marshall Teaff flew over for a tour of the country. Marilyn, Terry, Francis, Dan, Lenora, and Marshall all went to school here.

Mrs. Teaff flew to Denver with Dan, Francis, and Matthew February 14 to keep Matthew and the Marshall Teaff children at their Denver home while Marshall and Lenora went on to Ireland with Dan and Francis.

Marilyn and Terry met them when they landed at Dublin and took them to their home at Laytown. Then all three couples toured Ireland for five days in a rented car, staying in guesthouses along the way. Francis explained that guesthouses are usually private homes with three to 15 bedrooms where people can stay overnight and have breakfast included with the night's lodging. They planned their own tour which included the beautiful Cliffs of Moher, Blamey and Bunnatty Castles, shopping in Dublin, and a tour of the Waterford crystal factory.

They had a wonderful time. Francis said the country is beautiful with cliffs, seashore, mountains, meadows, ancient towns and narrow twisting roads. Dan and Marshall did the driving on the left side of the road of course and got very good at it. They shared the countryside with lots of sheep and the roads with lots of little man on bicycles. GREAT SOCIETY MEETS MARCH 19

The Great Society Extension Homemakers Association met Monday, 19th at the Community Center in Abernathy. Maybell Glass opened the meeting with prayer.

Glenna Daughtery, sponsor of R. S. V. P. from Plainview was permitted the time to organize a group for Abernathy. Elva Ramos also from Plainview spoke to the group about advantages of being a member of R. S. V. P. Maria Martinez R. N. of Plainview Health Provider continued the lesson on diabetes. She showed a film explaining how persons act who are going into diabetic coma. A question and answer period followed where many health questions were discussed. Maybell Glass and Imogene Suttle, earlier in the day, attended council meeting in Plainview. They helped to elect new T. E. H. president who had to resign because of a family problem. Those attending were: Juanita Dominguez, Mae Parsons, Jeanne Slough, Imogene Suttle, Charlotte Robinson, Maybell Glass, Elodia Marez, Alice Pace, Rosie Honeycutt, Earline Mansanale, Luclann Garza and two representatives from R. S. V. P. Glenna Daughtery and Elva Ramos of Plainview.

Several sewing machine companies have conversion kits or other model features specifically designed for the visually and/or physically handicapped homesewer, reports Becky Culp, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Texas A & M University System.

Francis would love to go back someday and take the children. She said the Bartons enjoy living there in some extent. The difference in food isn't very pleasant for them and a postal and telephone strike makes it difficult to communicate with family. They'll be glad to come home, perhaps in August.

TOPS EPISTLE FROM OLD # 15

We had seven members that attended the area meeting of TOPS in Lubbock March 15. We enjoyed it very much as we won the big prize for the best loss of pounds per person, and also got a traveling plaque and if we don't keep up the good work we will have to pass it on to another club in six months.

We are now in a contest against Shallowater which goes through August. The loser has to entertain the winner. We wore our vests that we have made with all our "merit badges" on them with black slacks and white blouses. We thought we looked pretty good. When they called our number as winners I just knew our Co-Leader that won't take office until April would receive it. She just sat there so the leader of this area told me to receive it. I got up and stumbled around there and the leader from the Plainview area who is an old friend of mine was sitting in back, got up and hollared at me. Somebody set off a Kodak flash. Well I managed to get hold of the loot anyway.

We all enjoyed it, especially the skit a Lubbock club put on for us. It was fun. Old #15-Dot von Struve BUSINESS POLICY REVIEW--January is a good time for company policies to be reviewed, believes an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Company policies can become obsolete or ineffective quickly in today's fast-changing economic climate. With operating costs rising continually, no business firm can afford to take chances with awkward, obsolete, consumer-irritating policies.

"WET ROPE" HERBICIDE APPLICATORS produced by BO-BAR COMPANY surround Linda, Stoney, and Jim Barton, and Manuel G. Trevino, Bo-Bar's "main man".

BO-BAR COMPANY OF ABERNATHY MANUFACTURES "WET" ROPE" HERBICIDE APPLICATORS

BoBar Company of Abemathy is fast becoming famous everywhere but here. Its unique product is in great demand in many parts of the country but hasn't caught on locally. The company manufactures "wet rope" herbicide applicators.

The name BoBar is a combination of Boyd and Barton, the partner owners. Jim Barton lives here and Bob Boyd lives in Hale Center.

The wet rope applicator is Barton's variation of a rope wick applicator designed in 1976 by Dr. Jim E. Dale of U.S.D.A.'s Southern Weed Science Laboratory in Stoneville, Mississippi. The device was used in the Mississippi Delta and its success widely publicized in 1978.

Barton read about the applicator but thought evaporation rate on the High Plains could cause problems. He designed a simple adjustable tank which keeps the wicks or ropes wet with herbicide in winds up to 20 or 25 miles per hour. The device has no moving parts and can be pulled by tractor, horse, or human if necessary.

The herbicide is actually rubbed on the weeds as the applicator moves through the fields. Very little reaches the soil and doesn't drift where it isn't supposed to—a problem with spray applicators.

The method drastically reduces costs. Last summer, Dr. John Abemathy, weed scientist at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, used a BoBar applicator to control silver-leaf nightshade. The station previously used a specially made recirculating sprayer which got 50% to 60% control of the weed using one gallon of Roundup per acre at a cost of $50 to $60 per acre. With the BoBar applicator, they diluted the Roundup with water and got 100% control at $4 or less per acre.

Barton and Boyd used their applicator to kill Johnsongrass on 900 acres last year and Dr. Allen Wiese of the T.A.E.S. at Bushland has ordered one to use with sugar beet crops. Other methods of application splatter the crop as well as the weeds. While cotton is resistant to herbicides, sugar beets are not.

Other advantages of this type applicator are that it only requires a semi-skilled operator and is easy to clean and maintain.

BoBar also produces a Chemical Hoe, an individual weed killer using the same principle as the field applicator. It should generate a lot of interest among people who maintain their own yards and gardens. The Chemical Hoe is available at the BoBar plant at 302 2nd Street. BoBar's phone number, which is not in the book, 298-4161.

Jim Barton grew up here and is a 1966 graduate of AHS. Until this year, he farmed in Myfield, north of Cotton Center. His wife, Linda, from Fort Worth, manages the BoBar office. They have two sons—Jody, 6, and Stoney, 5.

BoBar Company opened in January with three employees, plans to make 400 rigs this year, and is already behind on orders. Abemathy farmers haven't bought any applicators yet but farmers from South Texas to Utah have.

The University of Arkansas and U.S.D.A. at Weslaco want BoBar to work with them and the State Highway Departments of Oklahoma and Florida want the company to design rigs for roadside cleanup.

Barton says he'll try to hold the Abemathy operation to economical limits. He has no plans for high expansion but the demand for his product is already beyond all expectations. A feature article on BoBar in the February 8 issue of Southwest Farm Press is bound to spread the word even more.

New Deal ISD Demonstrates For Promises In Education '79

New Deal ISD, with a 1977-78 ADA of 557, joined Houston, Dallas, Baltimore, Bismarck, and many other larger school systems in demonstrating effective approaches to teaching at the 1979 Promises in Education conference held in Lubbock February 27-28. Sponsored by the Texas Education Agency, in cooperation with the 20 regional Education Service Centers, the conference provided presentations on 20 Texas programs and 15 national programs.

Superintendent Foye L. Flood, standing, and teachers Debra

Jackson, Linda Marshall, and Cathy Gay presented the New Deal program as one of 35 concurrent small group sessions. Called a Systems Approach to Individualized Instruction, the New Deal math program originated in Oregon. The program consists of a hierarchy of computational skills. With each skill there is a pre-test, a learning module, and a post-test. Indicative of mastery of that skill is a 90% achievement on a post-test. A recall test is given every month; a daily record of skills mastered is kept on each student.

Profiles and Things

by don watkins

Several columns ago I casually mentioned having a dog. I also may have mentioned him having the run of the house. I failed, to mention name, age, pedigree, and possibly a few more tidbits of general interest.

His name is Bandit, derived from nature providing him a black mask, while his ears, head, and the rest of his body is light brown. He is half Collie and half German Shepherd and is two and half years old. He is also a bone to my ego.

His "training" began early. First, he learned the simple handshake. He then learned to sit, roll over, sit up, stand up, and to walk on his hind legs. The next little trick took somewhat longer but intelligence came through. He learned to talk.

Doubting Thomases may scoff. Let them. We know he talks and have witnesses to prove it. Dogs talk to be sure, but talk just the same. This is just one area wherein the mutt outsmarts me.

As we eat, he comes to table, first sitting down by my chair. I ignore this, so he sits up. Knowing that I will catch the movement, his eyes immediately don their most piteous look. But being adamant, I avert my eyes to escape his soulful pleading and go on about my meal.

I sense his leaving and am pleased with myself. But Bandit gives no time for complacency and times his muted return to coincide with my fork being raised, naturally with a tasty bit of beef attached. It is precisely at this moment that he "talks" LOUDLY. My arms flail upward, propelling the beef from the tines only to be caught in mid-air.

I promise the dam dog smiles when he swallows MY beef. It was during the "fence war" that he really shined, however. Declaring his independence soon after his arrival, he quickly conquered the low, hadite wall surrounding the back yard. Determined to keep him penned, I called a meeting of the War Department. Maps were spread and charts unrolled. The resulting strategy was "foolproof."

Engineered to perfection, and exclaimed by military strategists, the new fence was sheer genius. It took Bandit one minute to escape. We did not retreat merely withdraw for further strategic planning. Our scouts told us the enemy was detained; that is, his chain was holding. After regrouping we once again assailed Bandit's stronghold, the result being a skilled fence. Though unsightly, we took solace in Sherman's words that "War is Hell," and we knew it was the end result that counts. It took the dog 10 seconds to flee.

Regrettably we reverted to the chain with enough length for Bandit to lay atop his dog house where he spends a great portion of his time.

Days passed into weeks, the unsightly fence a grim reminder of toil, expense and defeat. Dejectedly the dismantling began. When the wire was gone and the last post removed, I looked across the yard at Bandit laying across his dog house. I swear that dam-mutt gave me a derisive smile of triumph.

Hardware Dealers Warned About Bad Legislation

It has been brought to our attention that all Texas hardware dealers have been sent a Legislative Alert. This alert is that a Senate Bill 437 was recently introduced by Senator Bob Price of Amarillo. The effect of this bill would be to require anyone making keys to be a "licensed locksmith".

To obtain this license one would be required to pass an exam set up by the State Board of Locksmiths.

This is only the highlights of the bill—the portion of it that would probably effect most hardware dealers.

You are urged to contact your state Senator and your state Representative strongly protesting such unreasonable legislation.

This article was brought to The Review to inform the people because this would put a stop to your being able to have keys made by anyone other than a Licensed Locksmith. This would possibly put a stop to the local businesses from making keys.

KENT HANCE IN ABERNATHY FOR TOWN HALL MEETING MARCH 23

(by Jacquelyn Smyers)
About 70 people attended Congressman Kent Hance's first Town Hall Meeting in Abernathy Friday afternoon, March 23. The 5:30 PM gathering in the Gold Auditorium was one of a series of town hall meetings Hance is holding throughout his district.

He began with a 30 minute rundown on matters before congress, how he feels about them and what he expects will happen. He answered questions from the audience the rest of the hour and had to end the session before questioners were ready in order to make a scheduled meeting in Plainview.

INFLATION
Inflation, Hance said, is not going to subside and must be fought on three fronts—deficit spending, the energy situation, and regulatory reform.

He co-sponsored a bill, which did not pass, to limit DEFICIT SPENDING. He said 17 deficits in 18 years is unacceptable and he disagrees with those who say balancing the budget will only slow inflation 1%. He thinks any reduction in the inflation rate of 10 to 15% is worth the effort.

ENERGY
He thinks there will be some type of decontrol on oil and that gasoline prices are going up no matter what. Our fuel situation, he said, is now as critical as it was during World War II.

When someone asked why we put up with OPEC CONTROL, Hance replied that 50% of our oil comes from OPEC and we'd face severe crisis—especially in national defense—if we refused to pay their prices. There have been no breakthroughs to make other energy sources feasible replacements for oil. Brazil uses a mixture of gasoline and alcohol to replace $2.50 per gallon gasoline but ours isn't expensive enough for that yet.

Another questioner asked how much OPEC oil is produced by American owned or partly owned companies? Hance said 70 or 80% and that some big companies don't want deregulation in the U.S. because they get higher prices for the product through OPEC.

In further discussion about our responsibilities to other countries and their to us, Hance commented that we are famous for our fairness but if we don't stop being so fair, we're going to destroy ourselves.

REGULATIONS
He said he has spent a good part of his time in Washington fighting regulatory agencies and is co-sponsoring a bill enabling Congress to set aside unreasonable regulations.

The problem, he said, is that Congress says something shall be done and leaves the how up to some agency that gets carried away with high handed federal attitudes. People he talks to mention problems with regulations more than anything.

SIX MONTH SESSIONS
Hance is sponsoring a bill that will allow Congress to meet only every six months. He says congressmen are so busy that, if they're not careful, they'll see only the same people on every rushed trip back home. Six months at home every year will give congressmen more opportunity to truly assess the public's thinking.

CAPITAL GAINS
He is co-sponsoring a measure which will repeal the carry over provision in a bill passed in 1974 but not yet effective, concerning capital gains taxes. The bill will drastically affect inheritances and Hance urged people who are also concerned to write Senators Bentson and Tower.

FARM BILL
Much of the discussion dealt with farm interests, including a recommendation by the President's task force on water problems that underground water for irrigation be taxed. He urged farmers to attend hearings on the subject this week.

Hance said he expects a big fight in the house agriculture committee on the farm bill because some are totally opposed to any change in the 1977 bill. He mentioned that only 12% of his district is involved in farming and many representatives have no farmers at all in their districts. He has a tough time explaining the good and bad effects of legislation on farming and working out co-operation with non-farm representatives.

OTHER ISSUES
Hance is opposed to FEDERALLY FINANCED POLITICAL CAMPAIGNS and GIVING $5 MILLION to Israel and Egypt for not fighting. He expects a big fight over funding of the PANAMA CANAL TREATY and says NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE won't pass. The votes just aren't there.

He thinks the EQUAL RIGHTS AMENDMENT is good and not going to pass. He does expect a move to extend ratification time to seven years.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION
Hance says the push for a Constitutional Convention is good in that it is putting pressure on Congress for a balanced budget.

An actual constitutional convention, however, could be bad because one can consider every kind of constitutional amendment imaginable and could change the entire form of government overnight. His main concern about a possible convention is who's going to be in charge? He doesn't feel we need a new amendment for everything. He said he tells ERA proponents that the few state laws which limit women's rights can and should be changed but not by a constitutional amendment. He tells advocates of an amendment to prohibit busing of school children the same thing. He'll support a busing amendment only if there's no other way to accomplish the same purpose.

DONNA HORNE LISTED AMONG COMPOSERS AT W. T. S. U.

WTSU---Three music professors at West Texas State University are participating in an innovative program designed to involve young piano students in the performances of chamber music.

Dr. George Eason, Dr. Joe Nelson and Bill Evans all composed pieces which were performed at the Texas Music Teachers Association (TMTA) chamber music recital Feb. 25 by young pianists.

Their compositions, along with others by three WTSU student composers and Amarillo teacher Gayneyl Wheeler, were winners in a statewide competition sponsored by the TMTA at Southern Methodist University March 3.

Student composers were Robert Weatherby, Big Lake senior; Donna Horne, Abernathy senior; and Marilyn Garrett, Canyon senior.

Winning compositions were "Scherzo and Song" and "Ron 4" by Evans, "Two Songs for a Sailor" by Weatherby, "Variations on a Theme by Kirsten" by Dr. Nelson, "Circus Suite" by Horne, "Fantasy on Three Folk Songs" by Garrett, "Conversation" by Dr. Eason, and "Folk Dance" by Wheeler.

All winning compositions will be published by the Texas Music Teachers' Association Chamber Music Library, a newly organized division of TMTA.

Dr. Nelson has been named editor of this collection of new compositions.

TMTA is the first state organization to implement this kind of program, according to Evans.

Evans, EMTA's chamber music chairman for 1978-79, has been invited to participate in this year's national convention of the Music Teachers' National Association as a member of a panel to discuss this and other new programs that are developing around the country.

The national convention is in Seattle, Wash. April 1-8.

Mrs. Horne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Horne of Abernathy.

CLEMENTS WRITES POEM FOR F. H. A.

W. C. Clements, Abernathy barber and poet, wrote the following poem for the Abernathy Future Home-makers of America. FHA chapters are arranging special activities for children as a state project in connection with the International Year of the Child, 1979.

INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF THE CHILD
"THE SHRINE OF CHILDHOOD"

I like to visit "The Shrine of Childhood",
Where Young Hearts are All Aglow,
When we seek to Touch Our Hearts to Theirs,
Somehow Their Dreams we seem to know.
In the Strands of this Fulfilling Life,
They are a Part of an Unbroken Thread,
For Each One the Loom Holds a different Pattern, Revealing the Way They shall Tread.
They are like Diamonds in the Rough,
I'd like to Fashion of Each a Shining Star,
Placing Each One in Their Setting,
Exuding Radiance where They are.
They are Born with many Facets,
Reflecting All the Tones of Time,
Their Heads put on a Hallowed Glory,
When They Possess that Light Sublime,
I Believe when Seeds of Simple Kindness,
In the Life of a Child are Sown,
Then Graces we have Implanted,
Will Blossom when They are Grown,
Somewhere in Life there will be Passages,
Too narrow for Walking Two abreast,
Upon Certain Crags They Alone must Stand,
Or Lonesome Ride the Tempest's Crest.
Before They Pass the Final Portal,
All Their Traits shall Reappear,
To Crown Their Life of Ardent Efforts,
And let the World know They were Here.
