Award-Winning Film To Be Shown Here

NO LONGER ALONE, winner of three prestigious film-industry awards, will be shown on Sunday, Sept. 7th, at First United Methodist Church, Abernathy. The showing, open to the public free of charge, is scheduled to begin at 8:00 p.m.

The film, a true story, takes a close look at a woman who was searching desperately for love and acceptance, but whose cries went unheard by those who surrounded her.

Originally released by World Wide Pictures in commercial theatres, the film is now one hour in length in preparation for its eventual presentation as a television special.

NO LONGER ALONE traces the life of an English actress, Joan Winmill Brown. Though she skyrocketed to fame on the British stage, her life was marked by a frantic grasp for personal fulfillment and love. Tormented by a past she was unable to forget, she succumbed to a series of nervous breakdowns; and, at one point, attempted to take her own life.

In her ultimate moment of despair, Joan was invited by a "chance" phone call to attend a Billy Graham crusade. It was here that she first discovered her worth as an individual and began her long struggle to piece her shattered life back together.

Those who have followed Billy Graham's ministry will be interested to know that Dr. Graham appears in the film in some of the footage of his 1954 London Crusade, and also in the introduction and conclusion to the film, photographed recently for this special version.

According to William E. Brown, President of World Wide Pictures, NO LONGER ALONE was presented with the "Award of Excellence" from the Film Advisory Board of Hollywood, as well as the "Angel" award from Religion in Media in America, as the outstanding religion film of the year. It also received the "Silver Halo Award" from the Southern California Motion Picture Council.

NO LONGER ALONE was filmed in color on location in London, and stars Belinda Carroll, Wilfrid Hyde White, James Fox, Samantha Gates, and Gordon DeVol. Simon Williams, who has one of the leading roles in the BBC production, UPSTAIRS, DOWNSTAIRS, also stars in the film. The title song was performed by the popular recording artist, B.J. Thomas.

Vic Lamb, Former Review Editor, Is Visitor Here

Victor William DeWitt Lamb, Jr., Vic Lamb for short, and his wife, Patsy, of Sedona, Arizona, were house guests of Buford and Dorothy Davenport here early this week. The Lambs own and operate a retail business, Pillow Talk, in Sedona, and he writes a column for the Sedona newspaper.

Lamb holds the distinction of being the most colorful editor that The Abernathy Weekly Review has ever had, and proves this statement as it concerns the editors before him (because some I did not know). BUT, I can prove it concerning his successors.

Lamb, who had prior newspaper experience in Tallahassee, Florida, and Mexia and Lamesa, Texas, became editor of The Abernathy Weekly Review in the early 1930's, in the depression years. Lamb was not known for paying his employee high wages. The one he hired was worth about what he was paid, a dollar a week. Times were so hard that Lamb could not meet his payroll. His help quit and got a ten-dollar-a-week job as a soda jerk at a local drug store. Times got a little better, and Lamb offered the jerk two-dollars-a-week to come back and work for The Review. He did.

The late J.C. Hurst owned The Review and The Hale Center American. In 1935, he moved Lamb to Hale Center as editor and the jerk got the editor job of The Plainview Daily Herald. After Plainview, Lamb bought The Ruidoso, N.M., News. He later sold that paper and entered the retail business in Sedona.

The Lambs visited other friends here and in Hale Center. (BFD)

Charlie Rodriguez
Charlie Is Home From The Hospital

Mrs. Frank Rodriguez said she knows many people have been praying for Charlie and that the doctor and nurses called him their "miracle boy" praise the Lord for praying people in our community. God does hear and answer our prayers, his mother said, Charlie will have to go back to the hospital for therapy every two days for a period of time. They were told he might have to have plastic surgery but, he isn't even going to have to have that. We rejoice with his family. (See their card of thanks in The Review)

Pete Cuevas
Pete Cuevas To Start 8th Year At Crosswalk

Pete Cuevas, longtime Abernathy area resident, will begin his 8th year as the officer on duty at the crosswalk Tuesday morning, Sept. 2, the first day of school. Mr. Cuevas has a seven-year record of no accidents or injuries while he was on duty at the crosswalk between the city square and Pinson Pharmacy. Mr. Cuevas is not interested in making a "record" as such. His main concern is for the safety of the school children and others who cross Ave. D at that point.

Motorists are urged to observe the 20-mile-per-hour speed limit when driving on Ave. D between the two flashing yellow lights, one on the corner at Southwestern Public Service Co. and the other across the street east of Royce Henson's Abernathy Oil Co.

Dr. Darrell Rosenow and Dr. John Abernathy, both with the Research and Experiment Station at Lubbock, will be discussing grain sorghum varieties and fall weed control respectively.

Bill Williams, agronomist for Ring Around Seed, will discuss the cotton hybrids.

Dr. Kenneth Porter with Bushland Research Station will be discussing irrigated and dryland wheat varieties.

All farmers and businessmen are encouraged to attend, stated Warrick.

This tour is open to all people regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

And by request, the company will repeat the Can-Can from the famous Offenbach show about a Paris cafe "Gaiety of Paris" (Gaiete Parisienne.)

School Gets $1060 Refund

AUSTIN----Abernathy Independent School District will receive a $1060.00 refund from the Worker's Compensation Self Insurance Fund of the Texas Association of School Boards as a result of a low claims record for the 1974-79 school years.

"The refund is an outstanding reflection on the quality of the Abernathy school safety practices," said Fund Chairman Will Davis of Austin, I.S.D.

"This refund shows a diligent effort by the district to employ competent people in all positions and to provide a working environment that results in greater staff safety."

The refund actually is the second savings that Abernathy School District taxpayers have received from the district's participation in the TASB Workers Compensation Program.

Participation by more than 800 Texas school districts in the TASB Program has resulted in a 25 percent discount in the state standard premium in addition to the low claims record refund.

The Workers' Compensation program is one of four tax-savings programs that the Texas Association of School Boards has made available to school districts. The other programs are Unemployment Compensation, Health Care and Legal Liability. TASB-member school districts have received an average $30 savings for every membership dollar paid to the association.

 The Sunshine Group met August 21 in the usual place and with the same officers except Ollie Selke who was sick so Dixie doubled as song leader for our little opening such as the sunshine song and birthday greetings, this time for two people and taking notes for the secretary, Floyd was in his place as president and Mrs. Ruby Knox gave the opening prayer. We had one song, "I'll Fly Away". Then Lillie Mae read an invitation from the Senior Citizens of Lubbock inviting us to come to a dinner and after dinner entertainment at the Civic Center Saturday. Our group hopes to be represented. By this time our local Music Club had arrived and Ruth Phillips welcomed them and introduced their leader, Ruth Adams who took charge of the program. We all got to join them in some of the songs. The program was enjoyed by all very much.

They sang, "The Good Old Summertime", all singing, "Try to Remember", Ruth Adams, accompanied by Marie Riddell, "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow", Ruth Adams, accompanied by Alma Ruth Patterson, "Amazing Grace", "How Can it Be", Fern Schaap and Alma Ruth Patterson, accompanied by Bettie Hardin, "Heaven Came Down", "Precious Lord Take My Hand", Otelia Clements, Edna Skipper and Terry Kitchens, accompanied by Rita Kelly.

Rev. H. B. Coggin gave the blessing and the race was on for the dinner. Our guests go first, I must say our group was really on good behavior. I didn't hear a joke told or any wise remarks. The only thing was I got up to get some tea and when I came back someone had taken my plate of desert and left a plate of bones. Forty-six people were present they were: Edna Skipper, Otelia Clements, Alma Ruth Patterson, Lillie Mae Shipman, Rita Kelly, Cinda Robinson, Patti Cawn, Fern Schaap, Marie Riddell, Ruth Adams, Terry Kitchens, Bettie Hardin, Connye Gist, Bessie Waters, Cora Shuman, Ruby Knox, Oma Maserang, Frances Howard, Mary Ruth Manley, Susie Anderson, Callie Nunn, Evie Miller, Addie Robertson, Ollie Slater, Bernell Dyer, Ina Bell Anderson, Lois Shipman, Furman Shipman, Alice Price, Bill Pope, Vera Pope, Amanda Ellison, H. SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

 By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

There was a Christian physician who lived to please his patients, not himself. He worked skillfully and diligently. Every time he would leave his office he would display the sign: "Gone Out—Back Soon."

One day he died, and his wife framed that sign. For when a believer dies his body goes to the grave, but angels carry his soul to heaven.

One of these days the Lord Himself will come down from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call of God. The believers who are dead will come forth from the grave. Then the living believers, all of them, will be caught up to meet the Lord in the air.

The bodies of all the believers will be changed as they go up. Their souls will enter their glorified bodies, and they will be perfect physically, mentally and spiritually. They will live forever with the Lord.

Life for the believer in Christ is an endless hope, but life for the person without Christ is a hopeless end. Do you believe?

COUPLE MARRY IN DOUBLE RING CEREMONY

Susan Kay Montgomery and Michael Wayne Breitling were married in a four p.m. ceremony, Saturday, August 16, in the First United Methodist Church in Abernathy. The Rev. Tommie Beck, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Montgomery, Abernathy, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Breitling, Canyon, are parents of the couple.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Donna Brauchi, Canadian, and Mrs. Kay Heep, Oklahoma City. The table was covered with lace over apricot, a silk arrangement of flowers in brass, and an invitation decoupage in a book by the groom's mother. The center aisle pews were decorated with votive candles, baby's breath and greenery. The altar table was flanked with votive candles, greenery and mixed summer arrangements of silk flowers in brass on oak stands.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory chiffon over peau de soie a cathedral train. The bridal ensemble was designed and made by the bride, her mother and sister, Alencon lace covered the bodice of the dress, shawl collar of the chiffon jacket, the hat and edged the veil. For something old she carried a handkerchief of her mother's, something new was her dress, something borrowed her sister's necklace and the traditional blue garter and sixpence in her shoe. Susan wore a single strand of pearls and carried a single ivory rose with baby's breath.

The bridal attendants Mrs. Martha Stark, New Deal, Mrs. Sheree Montgomery, Farwell, and Miss Cheryl Brewer, Perryton, wore tiered apricot formal gowns with matching hats and carried single sonia roses with baby's breath. Toni Breitling, Clarendon, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore an ivory voile dress and carried a basket of apricot silk flowers.

Serving the groom were Randy Breitling, Houston, Anthony Breitling, Clarendon, and Neal Stark, New Deal. The ring bearer was Steven Bezner, Dalhart. Ushers were Richard Montgomery, Farwell, Burt Montgomery, Doug Albrecht, and Doule Albrecht, Abernathy. All wore black tuxedos with ivory ruffled shirts.

Traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Bettie Hardin, pianist, and Mrs. Don Fondy, organist. Miss Barbara Miller, soloist, accompanied by Miss Kathy Bever, sang "You Needed Me", "The Wedding Song", and "The Lord's Prayer". "Heavenly Sunshine" was played by recording. A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was covered with an ivory cloth centered by the cake decorated with pastel flowers and a dove on top surrounded by flowers. Punch was served from a crystal bowl and coffee from a silver service. The groom's table was covered with ivory lace over brown centered by an apricot silk arrangement in brass and brass candlesticks. An assortment of sandwiches, cheese, pastries and fruit were served in brass and crystal.

Handling out bags of bird seeds were Jackie and Katie Chandler, Canyon, Cara Breitling, Clarendon, Camille Farris, Dalhart, and Micha Riley, Abernathy.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Lou Jennings, Graham, Mrs. Shelley Montgomery, Mrs. Dean Huffaker, Mrs. Mae Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oswald, Mrs. Rheta Riley, all of Abernathy, Mrs. Cindy Phillips, Levelland, Mrs. Debbie Stone, Abilene, Mrs. Kathy Wainwright, Dallas, Mrs. Mairie Breitling, Tulsa, Mrs. Kay Bezner, Dalhart, Mrs. Zandra Luttrell, Shallowater.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents on Friday, August 15, in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church. The bridesmaid luncheon was at Tara on Friday. The bride is a graduate of Abernathy High School, Texas Tech and Texas A&M. She is an extension agent for Dallam County. The groom is a graduate of Canyon High School and Texas A&M. He is the executive director of the Dallam County ASCS. After a wedding trip to Colorado the couple will be at home at 1608 Mohawk Trail, Dalhart, Texas 79022.

Exercise Class Begins Sept. 2

Beginning Tuesday, September 2, Wayland Baptist College will be offering two physical education classes in Abernathy for the fall semester. They are Aerobics I and Aerobics II. The classes will be held in the Abernathy Community Building. Aerobics I will be offered from 8:00 to 8:00 p.m., and Aerobics II will be from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m.

Each class will register at the beginning of its respective instruction time for the first two weeks. A total of 60 participants will be required to have two classes. Aerobics I is no more difficult than Aerobics II but has different routines. Only those who have had Aerobics I may enroll in Aerobics II.

The cost for participants who want to audit the class is $33.33. Those wishing to take the class for a college credit and have attended Wayland will be charged $50 tuition. Those wanting the college credit and have never attended Wayland will be required to pay $65.

Aerobic exercises are those exercises that cause your body to demand more oxygen over an extended period of time. This exercises the cardiovascular system and strengthens the heart, lungs, and blood vessels. Other benefits of this class include toned muscles that are stronger and leaner; it is a great calorie-burner; and it is great fun!

Participants are asked to wear comfortable clothes and good tennis shoes with good arch supports.

Contact: Susan Allison for more information at 667-3690 in Petersburg.

THOUGHTS FROM WITHIN

(By Vicki Havens)

I'm back in the saddle again, so to speak. I had the blessed experience of getting to stay home most of the summer. It was wonderful and I had all kinds of plans that I didn't get done. I do thank Ruth, Edith, my dad and my daughter Lori for running the paper and letting me off. I loved being out in the country, and canning, helping tend to pigs and getting to do some things that I normally don't have time to do.

I think getting to stay home and do things with and for the family is one of the most important jobs a woman can have. I know one thing for sure it is a full time job and not a part-time one. There is always something to do. It never gets boring.

The teachers begin their school year Monday and it seems like when school starts, a routine of type begins. We are busy getting ready for the football season. The ice cream supper sponsored by the Abernathy Booster Club was held last Tuesday night to honor the teams and coaches. The Antelopes and their coaches will be going to Frenship Friday for a scrimmage. Then the first football game is September 5th at 8 p.m., at Antelope stadium. The band is practicing, they had their back to school party last Saturday evening and got their annuals. They are very pretty. The annual staff deserve a thank you for their hard work.

I have been a busy summer for everyone I have talked to. I think we get into a rut and don't have enough time to be still and enjoy all the blessings around us. It makes me think of the story in the Bible about the two sisters Mary and Martha, Luke 10:38-42. Jesus entered into a certain village and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus feet, and heard his word. But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things: but one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her. In the amplified Bible, it reads that Martha was over occupied with many things, in the Living Bible it says, she was anxious about many things. I think in this day time we do have a tendency to get caught up in so many things that we get frustrated, angry and up set to much. Mary had the right idea. She sat and listened to what Jesus had to say and then she knew the promises that are for us today, and she had a peace in her life that Jesus Christ has for everyone. Matt. 6:33 gives us this advice, But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. 34. Take therefore no thought for the morrow; for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. Matt. 11:28-30 says: Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light. Praise the Lord. Have a good year in whatever you are doing.

BRIEF: Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Barton returned home last Sunday following a trip to Tulsa, Okla., to help their son Steve move to that city. He will be working in Tulsa and attending some classes at ORU. They also visited their daughter and son-in-law, Barbara and David Tucker, who live in Tulsa. Barbara began class Monday as a senior student at ORU.

BRIEF: Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Farrier and children of Wichita Falls visited here in the home of his mother, Mrs. Jonnie Farrier.

Lamberts Celebrate 46th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lambert observed their 46th Wedding Anniversary Monday, August 25. They were married in Canton, Van Zandt County, Texas, in 1934. They moved to Abernathy from Roscoe in March, 1936. They operated a restaurant here for a time then a dry cleaning business (now owned by the Leonard Kinast). Somewhere in between, Herman served in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Herman served as Abernathy Postmaster several years, retiring a number of months ago. He became weary of total retirement, so he took over the part-time job of maintenance at the post office.

Registering guests was Miss Jill Harden.

Vic Lamb Launched Original Crusade for Project

Hospital Owes Existence to Efforts of Country Editor

• Hale Center (Texas) American, Friday, July 25, 1980 •

HI-PLAINS HOSPITAL in Hale Center, which has gained far-reaching recognition for its highly successful operation in a small town, owes its existence to a former editor of the Hale Center American.

But for the valiant efforts of Vic Lamb, editor of the Hale Center American for about ten years until January 1, 1946, few local citizens probably would ever heard of the then unique plan of near-total community effort utilized to establish the hospital and he developed it into one of the out-standing small-town institutions of its kind in the state.

Vic, a colorful and exciting editor, was well-known all over West Texas for his success as a small-town newspaperman. With a deep passion, he loved Hale Center and had a well-established reputation for his impatience with negative ideas about Hale Center. For many years, he extended himself to the limit to make Hale Center a better place for its citizens to live.

A former mayor of Hale Center, Lamb made many contributions to Hale Center, but none was as vital to the progress of Hale Center as the original role he played in the action that paved the way for the hospital.

He produced the original idea for the hospital and generated the momentum and enthusiasm that spawned the institution, making exhausting personal sacrifices in behalf of the original project that caused him to suffer setbacks in his health.

He became interested in the possibilities of a hospital in Hale Center in about 1944 while World War II was still underway during a sweep through Oklahoma, with his publisher, Jack Hurst, to look for printing equipment for the Lockney Beacon, newspaper at Lockney, purchased a short time earlier by Hurst.

Vic had read about the Elk City (Okla.) cooperative hospital and its success in the Readers Digest. While Jack was completing the purchase of a press in Elk City, Vic visited with the administrator of the hospital in Elk City. He was presented a booklet about the Elk City operation, which contained information about the campaign for memberships and donations that led to the eventual opening. The booklet reviewed the growth of the hospital from its beginning, providing vital information for the inquisitive editor from Hale Center.

From that point, Vic became excited about the possibilities of a similar project in Hale Center. After returning home, he discussed his views with R.A. Jefferies, then-president of the local bank who still resides here, explaining that he considered Hale Center a good location because of its central location in Hale County. Encouraged by Jefferies, Vic wrote leading cooperative farm organizations in Hale County, explaining the program in Elk City and expressing his confidence that such a project would be practical in Hale County. The Hale Center newspaperman was highly regarded all over Hale County for his good judgement, and his views gained attention.

A meeting held in Hale Center drew a large audience to discuss the proposed project and for considering Hale Center for site of the proposed hospital. For the first session, interested farm and community leaders met in Jack Hurst's downtown theatre. Hurst, a long-time newspaperman who was born in England, owned two theatres in Hale Center then in addition to the Hale Center American.

From that meeting, the proposed project continued to gain support, with the unique idea generating enthusiasm and interest all over the country. State Representative A.B. Tarwater, a farm leader in the state legislature, became interested in his influence and support added impact to the undertaking.

The original group of leaders in the undertaking kicked the campaign off with a supper at Mick Smith's cafe in Hale Center, retiring to Hurst's downtown theatre for the discussion.

Lamb served as secretary for the formative committee named to study the idea, and assisted other groups such as membership selling committees. He helped to set up community meetings in Abernathy, Cotton Center and Plainview, and he proposed the challenging proposal before clubs like the Lions, Kiwanis, Rotarians, etc., and also appeared on programs aired by Plainview radio station KVOP. He kept the area well-informed with a steady flow of colorful articles for nearby newspapers, including the Lubbock Avalanche Journal, Plainview Herald, Abernathy Review, and the Fort Worth Star Telegram, reviewing the progress of the campaign.

Then a lull in enthusiasms followed. Interested leaders seemed to lose their steam and the campaign for the project slowed to a feeble pace, partly because World War II was down, claiming everybody's full attention.

Vic was a tireless campaigner, and he continued to support the project with the enthusiasm of a crusader. He was confident the idea was practical, he believed there was a critical need for the hospital here, and he continued to back his faith with relentless action that preserved interest in the project, during the lull.

Then Vic became ill, partly because of the pressure for promoting the project and partly because of the exhausting pace of producing a small weekly newspaper during the war. But a life-saver for the project arrived on the scene. Future Lieutenant Colonel J.L. Monroe, Jr., a decorated young Air Force officer, returned home at the right time to take over the reins. He was entrusted with the duties that Vic had been performing under great stress and strain.

The project regained momentum. Other leaders like R.A. Jefferies, Virgil Martin, P.L. Pollard, Walter Struve, Boyd Prather ... and many other local and area citizens, renewed the project with vigor, eventually turning a doubtful idea into a man-made miracle.

Vic recalled that the campaign workers received a big boost outside of Hale Center from the great bold Abernathy patriarch, Fritz Struve. "I believe his original gift was $1,000," recalled Lamb. That was a lot of money then. The Struve family continued to fill an important role in the survival of the hospital in future years, with the generosity of Fritz Struve helping to keep the hospital alive during the painful hardships it encountered in the early days of its existence.

Vic's resolution to help get a hospital at Hale Center came about when one of his children, aged two, became desperately ill in the middle of the night on a cold, snowy, icy winter, and he had to battle the elements to get him to the Plainview facility. But for that desperate need for immediate medical attention not then available here, it is unlikely Hale Center would have a hospital today, because very few towns today as small as Hale Center can claim a modern medical facility.

In the meantime, Lamb, the original trailblazer for the hospital, surrendering the duties of the American to the present publisher and editor, became editor of the Plainview Herald, continuing to reside in Hale Center. In 1950 he moved to Ruidoso, New Mexico, and developed the Ruidoso News into a prominent newspaper with a large circulation. In this fast growing tourist center, which was nothing more than a remote village in a picturesque valley a few years earlier, Vic continued to add luster to his spectacular career as a country newspaperman. In future years, he became well-acquainted with celebrities from all over the United States, many of whom subscribed to his newspaper. Among his subscribers were many Hale Center readers. A high-speed writer and an inquiring reporter, he earned a reputation for his interesting coverage of fast-developing action in Ruidoso as it developed into a major tourist attraction that attracted prominent movie stars, popular radio and TV entertainers, high-ranking politicians and government officials, moguls in big business and industry, as well as rank and file tourists from all over the country.

After he disappeared from the scene of action in Hale Center, he suffered a similar fate often encountered by "minute men" who spark community progress for future generations. As younger generations arrived on the scene, the original starring role performed by Vic Lamb in establishing the hospital and the bold dreams, courage and personal sacrifices of the original group of supporters have almost been forgotten. Without Vic's original vision and the courageous follow-through effort, it is unlikely Hale Center would have a hospital today.

The hospital in Hale Center opened on a hopeful note in 1947 in a crude barrack building on a dusty, unpaved street on an unlikely site two blocks south and a block west of the present business section. It originally contained 14 patient rooms and an obsolete clinic and was staffed by one doctor, J.L. Monroe served as its first manager.

For a number of years, the hospital struggled for survival. It encountered all kinds of complicated hardships and menaces that threatened its existence. Again and again during the early years, its survival was doubtful. Doctors weren't interested in a career in a small town and they didn't choose to stay long in a small hospital with a doubtful future. Another problem was collecting delinquent debts for medical services it provided.

The crisis became critical early in the 1950's. But the late Dr. D.R. Foster arrived on the scene just in time to turn the tide for the struggling organization. He stayed. Later, Dr. Ray Freeman, a young physician, joined the staff, winning high approval in this community. A tough-minded bill collector, Marvin Holland, also played a major role in the hospital's comeback. Holland was succeeded by the present administrator, Gordon Russell, and the hospital continued to progress, fully measuring up to the trust and confidence of the original group of supporters.

Today, staffed by four busy medical doctors, the 40 hospital beds with modern facilities, a clinic that would do credit to a much larger hospital, in addition to an attached 44-bed nursing home facility, provide a modern "medical center" for citizens of Hale Center and neighboring communities. It hires more people than any other one organization in town, including the school system, bank, elevators, and feed lots, with a payroll of about 120 employees, and has a major impact on the economy of the area.

But old-timers, especially his colleagues in the hospital effort, still retain vivid memories of Vic Lamb. They remember him as one of Hale Center's most interesting citizens -- an editor with spirit and courage and talent and concern for the welfare of his community (especially Hale Center) and an exceptional ability to inspire others to follow him.

"Oh, the comfort, the inexpressible comfort, of feeling safe with a person, having neither to weigh thoughts nor measure words, but to pour them all out just as they are, chaff and grain together, knowing that a faithful hand will take and sift them, keep what is worth keeping, and then, with a breath of kindness, blow the rest away..." IT'S HIGH TIME WE TOOK LIFE A LITTLE SLOWER.

On the highways, slower speeds save lives, save energy. For example, traffic deaths were down by 9400 in 1975, as compared to 1973, when speed limits were higher than 55.

And we could save eight and a half million gallons of gasoline a day if everybody slowed down.

The point is, the 55 mph speed limit isn't something to take or leave lightly. It's vitally important. To all of us.

IT'S NOT JUST A GOOD IDEA. IT'S THE LAW.

Recipe of the Week

Fiesta Brownies: An easy-to-serve treat

When the gang comes over after the movies, why not serve something different like Fiesta Brownies.

Fiesta Brownies are flavored with a delicate blend of Brer Rabbit Light molasses and chocolate and topped with orange icing. The bars are easy to prepare and the recipe makes enough for a good size group. Served with milk or coffee, they are the answer to many entertainment needs.

1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/3 cup Brer Rabbit light molasses
1 square (1 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate
2 eggs
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
Orange Icing

Sift together flour, baking soda and salt; set aside. Heat butter, molasses and chocolate in saucepan over low heat just until butter and chocolate melt, stirring to blend. Cool to lukewarm. In small bowl of electric mixer, beat eggs and sugar until light and fluffy; blend in cooled molasses mixture. Stir in flour mixture and then the walnuts. Spread in a greased and floured 13 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Bake in preheated 350 degrees Fahrenheit oven 20 to 25 minutes or until center springs back when very lightly touched. Cool in pan on rack. Spread with orange icing. Cut into 30 to 36 bars as desired.

Orange Icing - Mix 1 cup confectioners sugar and enough orange juice (4 to 5 teaspoons) for spreading consistency.

WORD of GOD

Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

Those by the wayside are they that hear; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away.

And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.
