Abernathy's Tax Rebate Down 20%

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Thursday said rebates of the optional one-percent city sales tax this month total $37.9 million.

The March payments will raise 1981 payments to date to more than $162.5 million, up $23.8 million over the first quarter totals last year.

Abernathy's check this month is $1,685.61 for a yearly total through March of $15,160.55, a 20 percent decrease over the 1980 first quarter payments that added up to $19,162.90.

Fort Worth will receive $1.3 million for March. Fort Worth's payments for 1981 total $6 million, compared to $5.6 million during the same period in 1980, or a 7 percent increase.

San Antonio's rebate for March is $2 million bringing that city's payments this year to $8.7 million, a 14 percent increase over the 1980 first quarter payments.

Bullock said most cities received smaller payments this month compared to March of last year because of a change in the agency's accounting period and processing timetable but that generally 1981 payments to cities are running well ahead of the 1980 rebates for the first three months.

The city sales tax is collected along with the state tax by merchants and businesses and rebated monthly to the cities in which the tax is collected by the Comptroller.

License Deadline Approaching

March 31 is the deadline for renewing licenses for 1981. All vehicles must be registered on or before this date.

Licensing includes all types of farm vehicles such as pickups, trucks and trailers.

All types of machinery need to be licensed, including construction, water well drilling and oil drilling rigs, private buses, commercial trucks over one ton and motorcycle licenses need to be renewed.

On The County Line

BY KEITH TOOLEY

It's time to start thinking about tornadoes again. The out-of-season tornadoes we had three weeks ago reminds us that tornado season is not far off.

Hale County has been depicted as a prime area for tornadoes rating as one of the most likely locations for tornadoes in the entire nation.

I was reading an article the other day in the Plainview Herald. I believe Oklahoma City ranked first, Fort Worth second and Plainview third for the number of tornadoes spotted. The article stated that between 1950 and 1980, 73 tornadoes have been spotted in Hale County alone. Statistics prove that June is the best month for tornadoes to form in this area.

Nationwide in 1980 there were 850 sighted tornadoes causing 28 deaths. Texas had a total of 150 of these tornadoes, Hale County three.

National weather statistics reveal that most tornadoes occur between 8-10 p.m. Wind speed of tornadoes in Hale County range from 70-100 miles per hour.

I witnessed several tornadoes when I lived at Floydada. I saw plenty of Whirlwinds there too, green Floydada Whirlwinds.

A shortage of Bibles in Abernathy? A woman called the Review the other day to see if we knew where a Bible could be purchased in Abernathy. She had looked all over town only to get the same response we gave her, "a Bible?" We're not sure if there is a great demand for Bibles in Abernathy, but if there was, where could one be purchased locally?

A CLIENT CAME into Lawrence A. Weinreb's law office in Northridge, Calif., and told him, "Please advise my ex-husband that if he misses any more alimony payments, I will repossess him."

Prepare yourself! Postage rates are going up again. As of March 22, a first class stamp will increase from 15 cents to 18 cents. Post cards will be raised from 10 cents to 12 cents and envelopes with stamps will go from 18 cents each to 24 cents. Those of you who are missing your daily exercise might prefer to deliver local mail by hand.

AN INSURANCE COMPANY REPORTS that prominent people generally live longer than the average person. Famous scientists rank first in longevity. Next are clergymen, educators and military men.

Next come the executives, judges and lawyers.

At the bottom of the list, with the shortest life expectancy, are writers and editors.

Which brings to mind the Publisher's Prayer that goes something like this:

"God, you called some to be teachers and some to be preachers, and some to be deacons, and drawers of waters, and hewers of wood; and some who were fit for none of these worthy occupations you called to be writers of words.

"We ask Your grace upon such as these. Help them, God, to get their stories, factual and straight. Guide their fumbling fingers on the typewriter keys, and for whatever good it may do, strengthen the connections between their fingers and their minds.

"And, such hearts as they have, bid them use them freely that their printer's ink might evoke the flowing not of blood, but of fellowship.

"Give them a good story now and then to keep their editors civil, their readers happy, and their minds off their own degradation.

"And, when the day comes for their final thirty dashes, mercifully grant them just a glimpse of Your glory before they travel to the eternity to which they have been consigned so frequently by so many. Amen."

Worry About What "Cast all your anxieties on him, for he cares about you" (1 Peter 5:7)

A businessman drew up what he called a "Worry Chart," on which he kept a record of his anxieties. He discovered the following about his worries:

40 percent of them were about things that probably would never happen.

30 percent concerned past decisions that he could not now unmake.

15 percent dealt with other people's criticism of him.

10 percent were worries about his health.

5 percent concluded that only eight percent of them were really legitimate. That's probably typical of what most of us would discover if we would analyze our worries. Those things we dread so terribly seldom come to pass. As the great French philosopher, Montaigne, said: "My life has been full of terrible misfortunes most of which never happened."

If you are serious about overcoming worry you can find help in the advice of Jesus, once he delivered a speech in a country where people had a hard time making a living. It's the most-quoted speech in history. Among other things he said:

"Do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Let the day's own trouble be sufficient for the day." (Matthew 6:34)

"When people ask me what has kept me going through the troubles that come to all of us," said Dorothy Dix, "I always reply: 'I stood yesterday, I can stand today, and I will not permit myself to think about what might happen tomorrow.'"

That's a good philosophy, voiding past mistakes and future fears to today's tasks will make the strongest father. Just live this one day productively. Remember, "Today is the first day of the rest of your life!"

Public Notice Of Tax Exemptions Available To Homeowners

The Hale County Appraisal District is currently accepting applications for residence homestead exemptions and open-space land valuation. The deadline for filing is April 1, 1981. Applications should be filed as early as possible to avoid inconvenience to the property owner.

Two types of homestead exemptions from school taxes are available to taxpayers who owned their residence homesteads in the Hale County Appraisal District on January of this year. First, the general homestead exemption is available to all homeowners and exempts $5,000 from the market value of their homestead.

Second, any person who is 65 years of age or older or who is disabled can be exempted an additional $10,000 from the market value of the homestead. Proof of age or disability may be necessary.

"Disabled" in this case, refers to the definition found in the Federal Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance Act under the Social Security Administration. Disability is defined as inability to engage in any substantial gainful employment which exists in the national economy, or, in the case of someone who is 55 and blind, inability by reason of such blindness to engage in the employment in which he was previously engaged. The person claiming disability does not necessarily have to be drawing benefits from Social Security.

Homeowners age 65 or older who apply for their exemption will be granted a tax freeze. If application is not made, the tax freeze will be lost for this year.

Owners of farm and ranch land on January 1, 1981 may make application for open-space valuation of their land and upon meeting the required conditions, may have their land valued according to its productivity instead of its market value.

Application forms were mailed earlier to all homeowners who qualified for a homestead exemption in 1980. If you did not receive an application, or if you have questions about qualifying for exemptions or filing application forms, contact the Hale County Appraisal District at 293-4226.

Application forms may also be picked up at the Central office at 302 W. 8th Street in Plainview.

Pioneer Round-Up Set

The Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club has announced Saturday, May 16 as the date for the 1981 Pioneer Round-Up. This will be the 53rd year the club has sponsored this annual event, according to Dorothy Morton, President of the sponsoring club.

The Pioneer Round-Up was started as a method of honoring pioneers of this area. This continues to be one of the purposes of the event, but in addition, it has become an entertainment feature for people of all ages in Plainview, Hale County and surrounding areas.

The theme chosen for this year's Round-Up is "Heritage of the Plains" and activities will be held in the Hale County Agriculture Center on the south edge of Plainview. The reception will be held in the meeting room at the Center and pioneers will gather for this at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday morning.

The traditional Pioneer Round-Up parade will roll at 2:30 p.m.

The Saturday evening's program will begin at 6:00 when the chuck wagon supper will be served in the large assembly room at the Agriculture Center with the program to follow.

A square dance will conclude the day's activities.

All local and area people are invited to this Pioneer Round-Up to honor those pioneers who came to this country many, many years ago.

Sunshine Group Attend RSVP

By Dot von Strave

It is sometime surprising what all comes over the telephone, either good or bad, but this call was good. Billie Ankenman called the other day and wanted to know if I wanted to go to Levelland to the Senior Citizens meeting with them. Her brother-in-law Philip Gillespie was being honored.

It didn't take long for me to decide on that, because I have heard so much about that organization. Harold and I thought we were going the wrong way half the time, but it turned out we drove right up to the huge building. RSVP is the Retired Citizens Volunteer Program sponsored by the county. They have every kind of room in this huge building including an auditorium, kitchen, first aid room, and different kinds of hand craft rooms. People bring all kinds of hand-made things for sale and the money goes to the club. They take advantage of the traveling program, have a band of their own consisting of kitchen utensils and wash boards and everything. They have their own mini buses. Of course, Levelland is bigger than we are, with about 170 club members. It is really something for older people as they serve dinner everyday for 75 cents, but this was visitors day so the club furnished the meat and the members brought a dish.

Their president called the meeting to order. We had the usual procedure in getting started. They presented a plaque to Philip Gillespie for "Citizen of the Month". He was sure surprised. Some of you will know him through the singing groups like Lakeview. He and his wife Jessie still sing a lot even though he does have trouble getting around, but he sure can sing.

They had a group of young people from the South Plains College to play and sing for us. They were called "The Bakers Dozen". We enjoyed them very much. I couldn't find enough for a baker's dozen so I asked the leader about that. He said that was what it was supposed to be, but there were two girls and nine boys and the rest didn't make it.

From there they went into a business meeting so we left. All this time we were sitting at long tables and I was looking toward a glass door. Every once in awhile something went past the door. Well, I paid a little more attention and it was an oil well pumping right outside the door. That I'm sure accounts for the growth of the town and the club too. Maybe that used to be the front door, but now we went in the other end of the room.

We went by the Gillespies and visited a while and started home. Of course, Billie didn't come the direction I thought I was coming, but when she stopped it was in my drive. It was a wonderful day so be sure and answer your phone every time it rings, otherwise you might miss something.

Pete Stracener Accepts SPC Teaching Position

Pete Stracener has his hands full this semester. The 23-year-old Abernathy man is charged with the task of molding 46 South Plains College students into welders.

"I'm picky; I want the welds done right," laughed Stracener, who succeeded Odell Simmons to the full-time teaching post in welding this spring at SPC.

For Stracener, it was a return to his alma mater. A 1976 graduate of Abernathy High School, he entered SPC's two-year welding program and graduated in 1978 with a certificate of proficiency.

"I almost fell into the teaching job by accident, although I've always wanted to teach," said Stracener, who explained that he was looking for a welding job in Levelland when he talked to Simmons and was steered to the College.

Today he teaches 20 students in SPC's day welding program and 26 students who meet one night a week, with plans to double the size of the welding building by next fall.

Stracener, whose mother Mrs. Judy Stracener is a secretary at Abernathy High, captained the football team and ran track there. He played football a semester at McMurry College in Abilene before going to SPC.

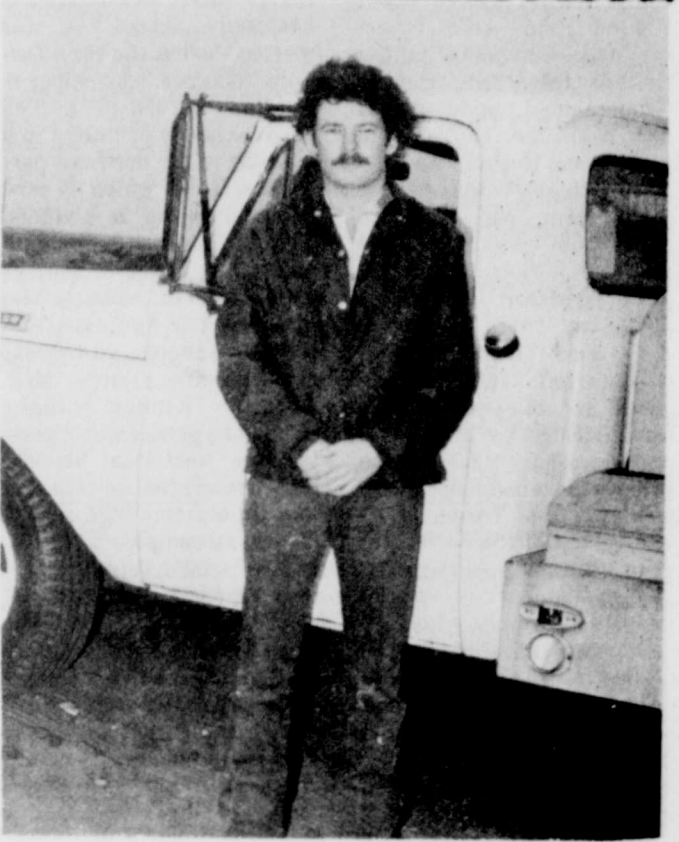

A high school job with Ace Hardware in Abernathy gave him a taste for welding; the basic metallurgy class in SPC's welding program shed light on another aspect of the craft.

"I did some outside reading on metallurgy (the science of extracting and purifying metals, and creat-

The Electric Heat Pump

The heat pump... all heating and cooling to keep you comfortable year 'round from one system. And, it's energy efficient. Because even on cold days, the heat pump delivers more heat than energy used to produce it.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE

FACTS & FIGURES

Scientists predict that at the current rate, solar energy could contribute 0.2 quads of energy by 1985. One quad is enough energy to heat 500,000 homes for 20 years or the equivalent of enough crude oil to fill a fleet of 75 supertankers each with a capacity of 2.3 million barrels.

To get the most benefit from the sun, however, an element of the earth is needed: lead. Lead-acid batteries, say the experts at the St. Joe Lead Co., are needed to store the sun's energy in solar power systems for those times when the sun doesn't shine. Modern lead-acid batteries can be used to store energy for as much as ten years if used properly.

One government agency may put a curb on the creation of lead-acid batteries, however. The EPA has proposed some severely restrictive regulations to be put into effect on the lead industry over the next few years. Consumers, concerned about our current energy dilemma, should ask their legislators where they stand on this issue.

New Deal News

Jo Nell Hudson-Correspondent

Center, Caldwell, Grovesville and Monroe continued to teach grade school until 1938. A New Deal Grade School was constructed and completed in 1938 at a cost of $20,000. This construction was necessary following the loss of the "Old Monroe (Grade School)" building in a fire near the end of the school term in 1937. The new building had six class rooms, a cafeteria, one office, a book-room and two rest rooms. Additions to this original structure were completed in 1948 and 1952.

A lunch room program was started when the new grade school was built. It was operated by Mrs. Florence Jackson. This was the first rural-owned lunch room in the state of Texas. Other schools had lunch room programs, but these were operated by the W.P.A. (Works Progress Administration).

During 1940, three teacherages were provided to accommodate the two principals and their families and five other teachers. Soon afterwards, a garage for the school buses was constructed. This building also housed the vocational agriculture farm shop.

The total number of scholars in 1935-36 was 422. It increased to 431 in 1940-41. At present, the enrollment is 646. The school was affiliated with 15 credits the first year since that time the number has increased to 22.

After consolidation, the town was still using the name of Monroe even though the schools were called the New Deal Schools. In 1948 the town needed a post office since there was already one town in Texas called Monroe and another called Monroe City, the postal department changed the name to New Deal, Texas, and a post office was opened.

The post office was located in the store building that belonged to J.D. Henley. The post office was operated by J.D. Henley in the grocery store. Later it moved to a separate building where it was in operation until plans were approved for a new postal facility and land was acquired just south of the elementary school. Construction was completed in 1975.

During the early fifties there was need for a "colored" school. It was started during the time that Toby Wagner was superintendent (1952-53). The grade school was taught in a building in the northern part of New Deal which is now being used as a Catholic church. The high school students were bused to Dunbar High School in Lubbock. The first teacher for the "colored" school was Mrs. Sarah Griffin. Later, Mrs. Dorothy Kinner taught there. The school was closed and the New Deal Schools fully integrated in 1966. At that time a new high school plant was completed for the 1966-67 school year. It is a very modern building in most respects. It contains eleven class rooms, a gymnasium and a cafeteria. The cafeteria serves the entire school population although the elementary and secondary plants are separate. The people of the school community did not vote bonds for an auditorium so the gymnasium must double in this capacity. The school is not air-conditioned.

Changes have occurred in recent years with the town and the school plants. In 1970, the town was incorporated with Mr. Billy Fortenberry serving as the first mayor. Although the town once supported seven grocery stores, there are now only two grocery store-service stations serving the town. In addition, the town has a motor supply store, a farm store, a cafe and beauty shop, four gas, two onion-packing sheds, a community clubhouse, the post office, a service station and garage and 5 churches. Also, New Deal is now the regional distribution headquarters for Northrup King Seed Company.

In 1971, two noticeable changes occurred with the school campus. A new vocational agriculture building was completed east of the new high school building.

The football field, which was dedicated to A.L. Faubian in 1949, was enlarged and new stadium seats built. New lights were added in 1972-73 to replace those readied for the 1949 football season. In 1970, tennis courts were built in cooperation with the New Deal Lions Club. In 1973, the former vocational agriculture building was remodeled and converted into a kindergarten. In 1974, a new track-field was completed around the football field. In the summer of 1974, the elementary school was completely remodeled and redecorated by lowering the ceiling, updating the heating system and installing new light fixtures and complete repainting. In 1978 a 7.5 acre agriculture farm was added to the campus.

The school has housing for nine teachers and their families. Four trailer spaces have been provided for mobile homes. The New Deal facility now consists of 45 teachers and teachers' aides. There is a cafeteria staff of 6, 5 custodians, and 8 bus drivers. The school district maintains 7 bus routes at the present time.

T.E.L. Class Met Friday

The T.E.L. Class of First Baptist Church met Friday, with Mrs. Sageser. Ten members and two visitors were present.

Mrs. Sageser played a tape by Dr. Stanley of Atlanta, Ga., his subject was on "Belonging". He took the scripture from Ephesians on how God established the church as a family of God and compared them to our bodies that have so many different parts and how we need them to be a whole body. Each member who has salvation has some talent to help carry the church work, so we need to find our talents and do all we can to help the lost find and accept our Lord as their saviour, according to Dr. Stanley. When we repent and God accepts us we are His children. "God wants us to worship as a family. Christ died for all people regardless of nationality and when we are saved we need to belong to some church who really believes and preach the word of God. We need to go with our children each Sunday where God's word is taught and we need to start taking them early in life and teach them at home. We need to work together as a family of God and should always be happy to let others know we are Christians, telling others what Christ does for us. Live like a child of God" were all points made by Stanley.

Mrs. Grimsley had some Bible questions. "Some were real easy, but some we couldn't remember," according to Mrs. A.L. Slater.

The group sang its class song, "Amazing Grace" and then was dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. O'Neill.

"Refreshments were served as we had wonderful Christian fellowship," Mrs. Slater said.

Members present were: Mrs. Sageser, Mrs. Pool, Mrs. O'Neill, Mrs. Grimsley, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Lebow, Mrs. Slater, Mrs. Price and two visitors Burnell Drye and Vertie Stambaugh.

Eighth grade boys and girls also ended an impressive season. The boys record at the end totaled 11 wins and five losses. The eighth girls came out winning more than they lost with a 9-6 record. These are the future Antelopes and Lady Lopes, which are definitely winning teams.
