

Webb Resigns After Serving 19 Years As Superintendent

DR. DELWIN WEBB

Accepts Position At Education Service Center

Following an emergency School Board meeting, Thursday morning, December 3, President Richard Howard released the following statement on behalf of the Board of Trustees.

"It is with deepest regret that the Board of Trustees of the Abernathy Independent School District has accepted the resignation of Dr. Delwin Webb as Superintendent of Schools. For nineteen years Dr. Webb has unselfishly dedicated himself to the young people of our school, and in a broader sense to boys and girls in the schools across the State of Texas.

His dedication, loyalty, professional attitude, and desire to improve our school has been a credit, not only to himself but to the entire teaching profession. We wish him the greatest success in his new position as Executive Director of the Education Service Center, Region XVII.

During his nineteen years of service, Dr. Webb has directed many improvements to the local school facilities. All buildings and plants have either been built or renovated during his tenure with the exception of the "Old Red Gymnasium." However, he stated he had more pride in what had been accomplished in staff improvement and curriculum than in the buildings.

Numerous courses and services have been added. The more significant are special education, library services, counseling services, vocational opportunities, health services, title programs, art, journalism, and individualized study and computer instruction.

He emphasized that although he was stepping aside as Superintendent, he was not leaving the Education profession.

The Education Service Center which he will head, is located at 4000 22nd Place, Lubbock. It is an intermediate agency between public schools and the Texas Education Agency. Service Centers are designed to provide services more economically and effectively than can be provided by each school district.

Services include Media, Computerized Data Processing, Resource Material, Staff Development, Technical Assistance, Programs for Special Education, Nutrition Education, Drug Education, Adult Education, Bus Driver Training and Texas Assessment of Basic Skills.

Education Service Center, Region XVII serves 20 counties with 64 school districts and approximately 80,000 students.

Dr. Webb will replace Dr. O.R. Douglas, who is retiring and has been Executive Director since 1967.

Bruce Rigler, chairman of the service center board of directors, said of the appointment, "We are looking forward to working with Dr. Webb. We feel there are numerous challenges and a great need for his expertise as we work together to expand services of the center."

Webb, who received three degrees at Texas Tech University, has served as a teacher and as an administrator in Littlefield and Brownfield and has taught at Tech. He was named superintendent of the Abernathy school system in August 1963.

Webb, who has served in many professional and civic organizations, was named Abernathy Man of the Year in 1977. He is listed in "Who's Who and Personalities of the Southwest."

He and his wife, Barbara, an English teacher, have two daughters, one a first year teacher at Round Rock and the other a senior at the University of Texas.

"Jaws" Frees Man From Trash Auger At Ross Gin

The Jaws equipment purchased by Abernathy this summer is "worth its weight in gold" as it was used to free a man from a trash auger at Ross Gin Sunday night at 11:40 p.m. Ross gin is located 10 miles northwest of Abernathy.

The Abernathy EMS volunteers responded to an emergency call at 11:10 Sunday night from Ross Gin after Mario Gonzales, 24, was pulled into a trash auger. Earlier that evening a trash auger was turned off immediately when Gonzales' leg was pulled into it.

Abernathy Firemen came to the rescue bringing the Jaws equipment that would soon release Gonzales. The firemen went to work to cut the heavy thick steel holding the man's leg. First they used the scissors, and after experimenting with this tool switched to a cutting torch to cut the thick steel. After cutting the steel brace into, the firemen then applied the spreading tool which separated the joint holding the leg.

The entire episode with the jaws took some 20 minutes during which time Gonzales fainted. EMS volunteers revived him with oxygen and he was asked to try to remove his leg from under the loosened steel framework. Gonzales was able to slide his leg out and EMS team members pulled him out and administered first aid.

Gonzales was taken to Methodist Hospital and was released early this week. There were no fractures to his leg or foot and Gonzales had escaped what could have been a very serious accident.

Santa Wants To Hear From Abernathy Youngsters

It's time for Abernathy youngsters to write their letters to Santa Claus and the Abernathy Weekly Review will print them before December 25 so Santa will know what they want for Christmas.

Santa informed the Review that he will be reading the paper to see what the youngsters need this year. Simply address the letters to Santa Claus c/o The Abernathy Weekly Review, Drawer D, Abernathy, Texas 79311.

The Review will make copies of the letters and then rush them on to Santa at the North Pole.

The Review will publish letters from youngsters of all ages, including teenagers in AHS. Write your Santa letter today.

The Abernathy Mason Lodge 1142 AM and FM will have a regular meeting Thursday, December 10, which is today at 7:30 p.m. All members are urged to be present.

Farm Computer Program Monday

The Abernathy Young Farm Chapter will sponsor a special program on Farm Computers Monday, Dec. 14th at 7:00 p.m. in the Ag Building.

If you have not been contacted and would like to purchase a turkey, call Scotty Windham or Gerald Kelley at 298-2563, or call Don Stone or Van Riley.

School Board Sets Probationary Standards For School Personnel

The Abernathy School Board met Monday at 8 p.m. to discuss several items of business, one of which was to adopt a probationary status for all new school instructors.

Recently passed Senate Bill 341 requires school to evaluate school personnel performance yearly and allows school to put new teachers on probation for a period of up to two years. Following the two-year probationary period, teachers will be given a regular term contract excluding probationary status.

The board voted to put all new teachers on two-year probationary contracts effective next year. New Superintendents and school administrators will not be given probationary contracts, but regular term contracts. The probationary status will only apply to new teachers, but superintendents, administrators and teachers will be evaluated every year. They will be evaluated for their performance each year. In the past they were not evaluated yearly.

School Vehicles

The board discussed the possibility of renewing a contract with Don's Chevrolet, who has been furnishing four vehicles to Abernathy Schools this past year.

The school is charged $250 per unit use charge each time a vehicle is exchanged at Don's Chevrolet. Two pickups and two cars are usually rented for use by Drivers Education classes and the Vocational Agriculture classes at $4 per day. The board made no decision on whether to renew this contract at this time.

Delinquent Taxes

Letters have been sent to thirty-two people owing property taxes delinquent prior to January 1, 1981. Of these delinquent tax notices, four responded by saying they would pay them in the near future, six paid their taxes, which amounted to $2,430, seven made partial payments, and fifteen people gave no response to the notices at all.

The board decided to mail a second notice to those who have not paid these delinquent taxes. If they do not respond to the notices by December 19, 1981, the school will take legal action against those who have not attempted to pay their taxes.

The other option is to mark the delinquent taxes paid, which will take effect January 1 on taxes which have been delinquent for a period of 20 years. The board decided to have an attorney pursue legal action to acquire payment for delinquent tax accounts not paid by December 19.

Tax Collection

Thus far for 1981, 85.75 percent of school taxes have been collected. The 85 percent amounts to $1,926,381 collected of the $2,246,471 budgeted for 1981.

Collection of school taxes is slower this year due to the Abernathy ISD getting the appraised value for this district from the Hale County Appraisal District a month later than usual.

The drop in collections could also be attributed to confusion for those who are paying taxes on split properties. Due to school taxes being levied later than usual, a 3 percent discount was not given for early payment this year.

Other Business

The board renewed Abernathy's membership to the TASSB, (Texas Association of School Boards), by agreeing to pay the $625 membership fee.

Enrollment is up considerably from September, when 911 students were enrolled in Abernathy Schools. October

C Of C Meeting

The Abernathy Chamber of Commerce met Thursday at 7 a.m. for a delicious breakfast followed by a meeting.

Eighteen members and three guests were present at the meeting. Richard Boyles and Carl Irlbeck were two of the guests and expressed their intent to become members of the Chamber. The other guest was Hale County Commissioner Henry Reiff.

Charles Bowen reviewed what had taken place the previous month. The Chamber donated the 470 canned goods, gathered at the Octoberfest, to the Abernathy ministerial association.

The Chamber gave a free dinner to VEH students who built the booths for the Arts and Crafts Bazaar.

Christmas decorations were prepared by Arno Struve and Dan Ward who also helped install them with Bill Scott and Judge Stevens.

The Arts and Crafts Bazaar Committee, made up of Betty Neve, Diana Phillips and Jane Murray presented Chamber President Charles Bowen with a check for $490.68 to repay the Chamber for the money used to buy the materials for the booths. They also reported that the Bazaar was such a success that it may be as many as 50 booths next year and possibly have the Bazaar 1 1/2 days on a Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

The Chamber urges everyone to decorate the front of their home or office and the most beautifully decorated will be recognized in the Review. The homes or businesses in the contest will be selected prior to Christmas day.

A committee was designated to provide refreshments for the Christmas day.

A committee was designated to provide refreshments for the Christmas program December 21 at the auditorium lobby. Punch and cookies will probably be served.

Charles Bowen read a letter from Troy and Mildred Brown of Hale Center, who thanked Abernathy for the use of the football field for the Hale Center-Kress play-off game.

Tommy Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Enger and Rod Ellis prepared breakfast. Hoppy Toler, Betty Neve and Bill Scott will cook breakfast at the next meeting.

showed an increase of 63 students with 974 enrolled by the end of October. By the end of November, enrollment had increased 24 students to 998.

The lunchroom report revealed that the lunchroom budget is $5,600 in the red, much like last year at this time. Football financial receipts, money which was taken at the gates during the 10 football games, amounted to $9,243. $5,368 was collected at home games, and $3,875 at out-of-town games. The meeting adjourned.

On The County Line

By: Keith Tooley

If You Gotta Go... My friend is rather an old fashioned lady, always quite delicate and elegant, especially in her language. She and her husband were planning a week's vacation in Florida, so she wrote to a particular campground and asked for a reservation.

She wanted to make sure the campground was fully equipped, but didn't quite know how to ask about the toilet in her letter.

After much deliberation, she finally came up with the old fashioned term "Bathroom commode". But when she wrote that down she thought she was still being too forward. So, she started all over again, rewrote the entire letter, and referred to the bathroom commode merely as B.C. Does the campground have its own B.C.? is what she actually wrote.

Well, the campground owner wasn't old fashioned, and when he got the letter, he just couldn't figure out what the woman was talking about. That B.C. Business really stumped him.

After worrying about it for awhile, he showed the letter to several campers but they couldn't imagine what the lady meant either. So the campground owner, finally coming to the conclusion that the lady must be asking about the location of the local Baptist Church, sat down and wrote the following reply.

Dear Madam:

I regret very much the delay in answering your letter, but I now take the pleasure of informing you that a B.C. is located nine miles North of the campground and is capable of seating 250 people at one time. I admit it is quite a distance away if you are in the habit of going regularly, but no doubt you will be pleased to know that a great number of the people take their lunches along and make a day of it. They usually arrive early and stay late.

The last time my wife and I went was six years ago, and it was so crowded we had to stand up the whole time we were there. It may interest you to know that right now there is a supper planned to raise money to buy more seats. They're going to hold it in the basement of the B.C.

I would like to say it pains me very much not to be able to go more regularly, but it surely is no lack of desire on my part. As we grow older, it seems to be more of an effort, particularly in cold weather. If you decide to come down to our campground, perhaps I could go, and sit with you and introduce you to all the other folks. Remember, this is a friendly community.

AN AGGIE WAS DRIVING down the road to Dallas in a pickup with a pig in the back. A policeman pulled the Aggie over and informed the Aggie that it is illegal to drive on the freeway with a pig in the back of his pickup. The Aggie knodded with a confused look on his face and said he was not aware of this law. Then the officer suggested to the Aggie that he take the pig to the zoo just up the road.

The next day the Policeman spotted the Aggie going the opposite direction on the freeway with the pig in the front seat. The Policeman pulled the Aggie over once again and said, "I thought you took the pig to the zoo like I suggested." The Aggie replied, "I took the pig to the zoo and he liked it so well that I am taking him to Six Flags today."

Teston-Parks Wedding Vows Exchanged Nov. 25

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Teston, of New Deal, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Parks, of Abernathy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of white jersey and re-embroidered schiffli lace. Soft draping attached to a Schiffl peplum formed a chapel train. Seed pearls and crystalles held the shoulder length veil of silk illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of tiger lilies and talisman roses with tufts of baby's breath.

Miss Tonya Blankenship, of New Deal, was Maid of Honor, and Miss Melanie Parrish, of New Deal, was the bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of apricot georgette, gathered in back to form a bustle effect, and carried bouquets of apricot and chocolate silk lilies.

Mr. Dan Henley of Abernathy, served as Best Man, and Mr. Albert Watts, of Abernathy, served as groomsman. The groom and his attendants wore brown tuxedos with white shirts trimmed in apricot.

Descending the aisle, the bride presented her mother with a rose and a kiss, and ascending the aisle, presented the groom's mother with a rose and a kiss.

Special wedding music of "The Lords Prayer" and "The Hawaiian Wedding Song" was presented by Mr. Earl Parks of Dallas, and uncle of the groom. He was accompanied at the organ by Nadine Rogers of Abernathy.

Miss Melanie Parks, sister of the groom, registered guests.

Don Sanders, of Hart and Mike Parks served as ushers.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony. The table was covered with a tulle and lace floor length cloth with brass and crystal appointments. The attendants bouquets completed the setting. Assisting with the hospitalities were Mrs. Nita Sanders, sister of the groom, Kelle Teston, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Craig Stewart of Abernathy.

The bride chose a winter white and toast traveling suit for the trip to Dallas.

Mrs. Parks is a senior at New Deal High School. Mr. Parks attended Abernathy High School and is employed by West Texas Industries.

Hobby Club Celebrates Christmas Early

A delightful salad luncheon and Christmas party was enjoyed by members of the Hobby Club Thursday, December 3rd.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Francis Howard and Maurine Hamilton. They decorated the tables in very pretty Christmas theme and the food was delicious.

After the meal, they held a short business meeting and drew secret pal names for 1982.

Dyvna Davis was on the program. Instead of the usual display of crafts, she read two poems that were in keeping with the holiday spirit. They were: "A Little Child Shall Lead" and "A Brother Like That". The poems were very good.

Christmas gifts were exchanged and everyone found out who their secret pal was. All enjoyed the fun and excitement of the event.

The Hobby Club would like to thank President, Glenna Downs, and the Secretary Treasurer, Vera Vaughn, for the good job they did as officers for 1981.

New officers for 1982 will be President-Dyvna Davis, Vice-President-Wilma Pope, Secretary Treasurer-Glenna Downs and reporter, Ona Mae Maserang.

Two new members are Iris Johnson and Jennie Slough and the club welcomed them.

What's an average day worth?

On an average day you probably get out of bed, adjust the thermostat, make a pot of coffee, cook breakfast . . . perhaps use the dishwasher.

Later, maybe you do a load of laundry and listen to the radio. Then you cook dinner and put the leftovers in the refrigerator. You may turn on the television or settle down in your favorite chair next to a lamp to read.

For all of you, all of this and more adds up to one day . . . just 1/30th of your average monthly electric bill.

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing.

THE CELEBRANT SINGERS, a nationally known Christian singing group, will present a concert of contemporary Gospel music Tuesday, December 15 at the High School Auditorium. Their dynamic two-hour musical performance will include a variety of musical selections and personal witness by members of the group.

Celebrant Singers To Perform Tuesday Evening At Auditorium

Jon Stemkoski's CELEBRANT SINGERS, a nationally known Christian singing group headquartered in Visalia, California, will present a concert of contemporary Gospel music Tuesday, December 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the High School Auditorium. This concert is sponsored by the Abernathy Ministerial Association.

Their two-hour musical celebration entitled "Give Him Praise" is an inspiring presentation including contemporary sounds with fresh, new arrangements, smooth choral selections, gospel songs, hymn arrangements, praise songs, and worship choruses, combined with personal witness and sharing. In addition, Mr. Stemkoski, (or one of his associates) will bring a special message.

Members of the group come from many different states, (14 in all), and are chosen from hundreds of nationwide auditions. Composed of ten singers, a ten piece orchestra, and featuring sign language for the deaf, the CELEBRANT SINGERS are musical ministry team. These highly talented young adults have dedicated their lives to sharing the Gospel of Jesus Christ around the world. They are not salaried, but rather are responsible for raising approximately one half of the cost of their travel expenses. The remainder of travel costs is raised as a result of concert appearances and record sales.

Their founder and director, Jon Stemkoski, is the driving force behind this vital ministry. Mr. Stemkoski has conducted concert tours in all 60 states, Canada, the Bahamas and Caribbean, Latin America, Iran, Egypt, India, Sri Lanka and all parts of the Europe, (including the Iron Curtain countries of East Germany and Poland.)

While similar groups traditionally have had an exclusively Protestant audience, the CELEBRANT SINGERS are the first full time contemporary Christian singing group to have a widespread ministry among America's nearly 50 million Roman Catholics. Over the past four years, they have provided special music with the liturgy and given concerts in hundreds of Catholic churches throughout the United States and Canada. Due to tremendous response, CELEBRANT SINGERS have increased the number of Catholic churches included in their 1982 schedule.

Most recently, CELEBRANT SINGERS were involved in a highly successful overseas outreach throughout Ireland, Egypt, Greece and India. While in New Delhi, India, they sang for Mother Teresa at her all-India Nobel Prize reception.

The team is currently involved in a special "Report" tour throughout North America. Traveling from 100-500 miles daily, they will present nightly concerts in churches, auditoriums, colleges, universities, prayer groups, service clubs, military bases, hospitals, prisons, and outdoor arenas to nearly a quarter of a million people who will gather to hear their message in music. Highlights of their 1982 tour include an extensive outreach throughout Southeast Asia where Mr. Stemkoski and the team will minister in eight Asian nations.

The CELEBRANT SINGERS record a new album each Spring. Their current album "Give Him Praise" has won national acclaim and is available in Christian bookstores throughout North America. Don't miss their performance Tuesday, December 15 (this Tuesday) at the School Auditorium.

Struve Trip Continues

By Arno Struve

Later that day I made it a point to buy more candy at the same place. They seemed very pleased for I bought quite a bit of candy that time. Capitalism, free enterprise or the profit system, whatever you want to call it, will not die. It is the greatest economic motivator that exists.

Animals: We saw no wild creatures at all. We heard a few birds. We went to several zoos where we saw pandas and some monkeys indigenous to China. There were no bovine cattle at all, but there were many sheep and goats.

In the mountains in Kazak country there were ponies that were used to herd sheep work. A demonstration of Kazak horsemanship entertained us in the far west. At this place we were about 100 miles from the U.S.S.R.

A National Geographic photographer was at this show taking pictures. He was so red-headed I thought sure he was Irish, but he said he was a New York Jew. The setting for the horsemanship exhibition was a narrow valley with fir-lined slopes on each side, very steep. The grass covered valley was flattened out just enough to make room for 30 or 40 men and women on horseback to do their thing.

Afterwards, some of us rode the little ponies. The stirrups were adjusted so high for the short people, that we had our knees "Under our chins" when we rode.

In the summer, the Kazaks live in yurts, a kind of tent. When they bring their animals down the mountain, they live in more substantial houses. The yurts are made of felt with heavy canvas on the inside and on the outside. Some of them are right fancy. We went into a very nice one and were served tea. Pictures? Of course!

Camels are not uncommon in many of the places we went. Some ran loose. They may have been wild, but more likely they were domesticated and were just outgrazing on open range. They looked pretty "mangy". Some of the double humped ones hardly had any humps at all. It was, just as if the humps were empty and folded over.

We saw several camels harnessed to carts along with two or three mules in front of the camels. The method of harnessing any cart is to put a strong and fairly large animal in the shafts of the cart, and then loosely hooking from one to three smaller animals in front of the stronger shaft animal.

The camels were always in the position just in front of the carts, thus the cart was held stable regardless of the irregular pull of the front animals. The harness were merely ropes tied together in haphazard fashion. There were no "eveners" to keep the animals pulling together.

Most of the carts were pulled by little mules. Once in a while there might be horses, but not often. These carts were invariably made by building a crude frame on an undercarriage taken from an old truck. I sometimes wondered where all the truck wheels came from in a country where there are so few trucks.

These carts carry very heavy loads. Very often they carried stones for road building and of course all manner of other merchandise. Often the men accompanying the carts would be asleep on top of the load. The gait of the animals would best be described as plodding. Once in a while the carts would be pulled by oxen.

And I must not forget the lowly donkey; he had his loads to pull, too. There really were quite a few of these little burros. At night the "clippity-clop" of the little donkey feet could be heard on the pavement when the load was light enough for him to trot along.

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

On Christian Growth
If you are redeemed, you have been saved to grow. That's God's plan for you as a Christian. You either go on with the Lord or you go off from serving the Lord.

Just as your physical growth must be based upon the laws of nature, your spiritual growth must be based upon the laws of God. No one has ever grown spiritually without the Bible.

It is impossible to please God without faith, and faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of God. Rom. 10:17. Why not study the Bible and go to Church this week?

Marketing Options For Cotton Growers

Faced with a record world cotton crop and a lackluster demand for their product, cotton growers need to map out a sound marketing strategy. A key part of this strategy is keeping a close eye on the market itself.

Dr. Carl Anderson, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, suggests a number of marketing options for cotton producers:

- * Establish a selling price for forward contracting or hedging in the futures market and arrange delivery at some future date.
- * Sell at harvest.
- * Hold and sell later.
- * Place cotton under the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program and hope the price will go up.

Growers can develop a

'feel' for the cotton market by watching daily and weekly reports on prices and worldwide production and use," says the economist. "Bumper 1980 crops in Russia and China have burdened the market, and U.S. prices have fallen about $35 per bale since January."

According to Anderson, two developments will bear heavily on the cotton market for the season ahead—low carryover stocks and export demand.

"During the summer, the market will move up and down between low supplies and good and bad reports on crop conditions," says Anderson. "A decline in interest rates might also give the market a boost."

Periods of market strengths may offer an opportunity to forward-price some cotton between now and the time harvest into full swing, he adds. "Export demand will be the main factor influencing cotton prices this fall and winter," believes Anderson. "The growing importance of exports to disappearance of U.S. cotton suggests even more price uncertainty than in the past. Export demand is subject not only to the uncertainty of foreign production but also to political disruptions."

Any major change in the cotton market will likely stem from a change in exports from current projections of about 7 million bales, notes the economist. If the new U.S. crop turns out about 13.5 to 14 million bales, market prices will likely go up or down as exports go above or below the 7-million-bale figure.

"Historically, when cotton supplies improve—as it appears they will in 1981—the market usually remains weak. However, the worldwide supply-demand balance is expected to remain tight. So watch for a time when the market is on the upswing to 'set' your price," Anderson advises growers. "With the high cost of holding cotton, timing your sale is more important than ever."

Many Farmers Surviving On Credit

In contrast to the rest of the state, farm loan demand is strong in the Southern High Plains region of Texas, according to a recent survey of area agribankers by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas. However, the strength in loan demand does not indicate a growing and prosperous farm economy. Rather, it appears that many farmers and ranchers are substituting credit for income.

For the second consecutive year, farm income has fallen far below early expectations. Bankers replying to the Federal Reserve survey report that many area farmers and ranchers have endured a prolonged period of low profitability and that a growing number are in relatively weak financial condition.

Some bankers appear apprehensive about their ability to continue to finance all of their farm customers. As one banker put it, the situation "means more borrowings by less creditworthy individuals."

Among the survey results reported by Don A. Riffe, agricultural economist for the Dallas Bank, were these:

* Two-thirds of the respondents indicated a greater than usual demand for farm loans in the October survey, compared with about one-third a year ago.

* Where halt of the bankers surveyed in October 1980 reported collateral requirements to be more stringent than usual, this year none did. In fact, almost a third reported that collateral requirements were lower than normal, suggesting that banks have been accommodating farm borrowers when COTTON USE RISES: Use of cotton by the U.S. textile mills rose moderately in October to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 5.8 million 480-pound bale-equivalents.

This was 1.2 percent above the September rate but 5.2 percent below October a year ago. Cotton's share of total fiber consumption improved to its best mark since August, 1980, rising to 25.5 percent from 23.6 percent in September. Moreover, cotton's percentage of fiber usage on cotton systems rose to its highest share since November a year ago, reaching 59.8 percent.

In contrast to cotton's improvement, use of most other fiber types declined, as the seasonally adjusted annual rate use of all fibers declined 6.4 percent from the previous month. As a group, man-made fibers sustained a 9.3 percent drop. Rayon and polyester staples, cotton's major competing fibers, declined 6.6 percent and 5.2 percent, respectively.

EXPORTS GROW: Net new sales for the 1981-82 marketing year totaled 107,500 running bales during the week ended Nov. 26. This was the 19th consecutive week of sales in excess of 100,000 bales.

The week's top buyers were Japan, 31,900 bales and South Korea, 25,400. Export shipments increased to 119,400, the largest weekly total for the season, and brought the yearly total to 1,028,300 bales.

TIME FOR A TURNAROUND

For several years, farmers have struggled with low crop prices, high interest rates, rising labor costs, and increasing diesel, natural gas, and electricity prices; we seem to be losing the battle. It's definitely time for a turnaround, but it seems as if there's just not much we can do to change things. What we can change is the amount of time and fuel it takes to put a crop in. How? By using THE PLOW from Pengo Farm Services. A farmer in the Hereford area used THE PLOW to prepare his ground for dryland wheat. His cost per acre for ground preparation, seed, and planting; less the $20; time in the field: 20 minutes per acre. His cost for planting irrigated wheat, including fertilizer, was just over $40 per acre; time in the field: 30 minutes per acre. Compare these figures with your costs and see if it's not time for you to turn around.

Energy efficiency is a major consideration in remodeling or building a home. Nowhere is that more important than in planning kitchens and laundries, where, with the exception of heating and cooling, most of the home's energy is consumed.

Half a cup maple sugar equals one cup of maple syrup.

did you know?

One thing we've probably all learned is to have an appreciation of things that have worth, and to know their value. To help you learn the value of the electricity you use, Southwestern Public Service Company offers this simple exercise: Take the amount of your last electric bill. Divide this amount by 30 to find the approximate cost of your electricity per day. Then divide that amount by the number of people in your family to determine the cost of your electricity per day, per family member. After all, knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing. Just look around.

Joe Head, Consumer Services Manager, Roswell

Southwestern was the first electric utility to install a fabric filter environmental-protection device at a large-scale power generation unit. SPS installed the filter—an efficient, economical device for maintaining air quality around a plant—at its first coal-fired plant. As more electricity is generated by burning coal, interest in coal's environmental impact will grow. Even now, other utility companies and the Environmental Protection Agency are studying the performance of SPS's unique system.

James Trammell, Plant Chemist, Lubbock.

If your heating system is thermostatically-controlled, the easiest and most effective way to control your home's energy consumption is to be careful about where you set your thermostat. In winter, set it at 68 degrees or less during the day and 55 degrees or less at night. When your house is unoccupied for more than four hours in the winter, set the thermostat back to 55 degrees. Wearing a sweater or putting an extra blanket on the bed is all that is needed to keep most people comfortable at these temperature settings. Just call your SPS office for more information.

Ken Eden, Consumer Service Representative, Amarillo

Neither team had an exceptionally good game in shooting the ball, but New Deal was able to stay close to the taller Tahoka squad in rebounds and used a marginal, 37.1 percent to 30.3 percent, shooting advantage from the floor to take the win.

The Lions proved to be their own worst enemy at the free throw line in connecting on only five of their 17 attempts from the free throw line.

Brian Jerden paced the winners with 14 points while teammates Steve Johnson and Jeff Greenhill had 12 and 10 points, respectively. Tracy Bryson led all scorers and rebounders with 19 points and 22 rebounds for Tahoka. James Wells was also in double digits for the Bulldogs with 11 points.

General Telephone BVT Center Stationed In San Angelo

When it comes to paying bills with their hard-earned money, customers want their billing questions answered accurately--and fast.

General Telephone has a center that not only answers questions and adjusts phone bills for residential customers, but also serves as a collection office for both residential and business customers who don't pay their bills.

Each month more than 24,400 calls are made to the firm's BVT Center in San Angelo, Texas. The BVT Center--which stands for "Billing, Voucher and Treatment"--serves about 218,000 General Telephone customers in West Texas and New Mexico.

"We answer all types of residential billing questions, but the kind that our customers ask most often regard long-distance charges and whether we have received their payments," David Perez, the center's manager, said.

A lot of times, customers honestly don't remember placing long-distance calls, he said. In many cases the center can provide the names of the parties they called to refresh their memory.

"We know no one likes to wait, so 97 percent of the calls made to our center are answered within 20 seconds or less," Perez said. "If customers experience any delay it will normally be on Mondays when the volume of calls is the heaviest at the center."

When residential customers think they should call the center for a billing adjustment. If calling is not convenient, the charge and the appropriate tax can be deducted from the billing statement, which then should be mailed with the payment.

If customers don't pay their monthly phone bills on time, the center begins collection procedures--which may lead to the temporary denial of telephone service.

"The only reason telephone service is temporarily denied to a customer is to protect company revenues," Perez emphasized. "We must protect those revenues because ultimately any dollars not collected are paid through higher rates by all other customers. And that is who we are really protecting--our other customers who pay their bills."

Perez pointed out that the center's collection section handles both residential and business accounts, while the center's billing section serves residential customers only.

The center is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Its phone number can be found at the top of each Gen Tel residential phone bill.

The electric cooperative is member-owned and operated; its directors are members who serve without salary and pay the same rates for power that other members pay.

Thus, when the cost of power goes up, the directors (who are the first to know) have a double desire to make certain that the price is never a penny more than it has to be.

When they serve the members best interests, they are serving their own as well.
