Burglars Take $3,482 Worth Tools And Equipment From Shaw Barn

Rural burglaries are way up for Hale and surrounding counties as there has been a rash of rural burglaries recently that have spurred a regional rural burglary watch.

One of the latest burglaries occurred November 11 when $3,482 worth of farm tools and equipment was taken from a barn located on Farm Road 54, six miles west of interstate 27 and three miles south. The tools and machinery taken in the burglary belonged to Freddy Shaw.

The barn was apparently entered by the burglars pulling back a sheet of tin near the door and reaching in and opening the door.

Taken in the burglary were numerous hand tools, an 80 gallon air compressor, two grinders, a drill press, a welding torch, a five-ton hydraulic jack, two 100-foot extension cords, a transit level, seven cases of oil and several other small items.

Hale County Sheriff's Deputy Dayton Marr stated that it was probably the same burglars that have been hitting several other barns in the area. "We have seen the same footprints and tire tracks at other burglary sites," Marr said.

Rash of Burglaries

Marr also stated that there has been a rash of barn burglaries recently, approximately six in Hale County alone in November.

Three burglaries have occurred at barns between Cotton Center and Hale Center since the Shaw burglary. Other areas being hit hard by burglars are the eastern portion of Lamb County, the northwest part of Lubbock County, and this area, the western portion of Hale County.

Marr added that rural burglaries can be cut down in numbers if rural people will be on the look-out for vehicles they don't normally see in their area. "People who see strange vehicles should take down their license plate number just in case a burglary is reported," Marr said. He also stated that many of the barns and homes burglarized are either left unlocked, open, or have not been secured properly against burglars.

ON THE COUNTY LINE

BY KEITH TOOLEY

NOTICE IN THIS EDITION of the Review, that every Abernathy basketball team, (all 10 of them), won their first games of the season. This is incredible. The Varsity and JV Teams played two games last week and won. Therefore, Abernathy won all 14 of their games last week. I guess you could call this a basketball town.

Herald.

WE WOULD LIKE TO apologize to the Richard Howard family for making several mistakes in their story last week. We will try to run the story correctly as soon as possible.

THE FOLLOWING ARTICLE was written by a senior at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch. It seems that this senior is headed in the right direction in life. Here is what he had to say about the aims and goals of life:

"Pride in athletic competition is great, but having pride in the game of life is even greater. There are four keys to a successful life and they strengthen the pride we have in the Ranch as well as ourselves."

"POSITIVE ATTITUDE starts the minute we get up. As our day gets underway we can feel either terrible or terrific—we are the only ones who can make the choice.

CONFIDENCE starts with discipline. If we're going to be at the top, we have to think and work for the best.

ENTHUSIASM fits in with attitude. To win in life we need it to keep us moving in the right direction. It's not going to be easy, but with enthusiasm, it's much easier.

SETTING DEFINITE GOALS may seem far off, but if we want to achieve the best, we always have to reach high and pursue diligently."

Abernathy Favors 4th Of July Celebration, Like To See Some Changes

After evaluating some 48 questionnaires that were returned to the Chamber concerning the 4th of July Celebration, it is evident that most Abernathians enjoy the annual celebration and would like to see it continued, according to Diana Phillips, 4th of July Celebration Evaluation Committee Chairman.

Phillips read each evaluation and compiled a master list for each of the ten questions. She listed all of the different answers and suggestions for each question.

The suggestions compiled on these lists will be read and used when planning the 4th of July celebration for July 4, 1983.

Most people who answered the questionnaire agreed that the events held during the day needed to be better organized. Many stated that the meal was too expensive and was one of the reasons why they left the celebration early.

It was suggested that the food should be served by local clubs, organizations, or at individual food booths and should not be catered. Many people also suggested that the free meals furnished to the riding clubs and such, should not be allowed. Most everyone was in favor of a fireworks display, like the parade, and do not wish to change the location of the parade.

Diana Phillips stated that many of the questionnaires had some really good suggestions for next year's celebration. She also stated that the same people who made these suggestions need to become active in the celebration next year so that their ideas will be put into action.

Those who have tired of the celebration are those who have done all the work each year, according to remarks on the evaluations. Therefore, more people will be needed next year to share in the hard work and responsibilities required to put together a good celebration.

"The evaluations are proof that Abernathy has much to gain from the interest and resourcefulness of its citizens. But those same citizens are going to have to show some action in order that the 4th continues to be successful. The same is true with other community-wide events," according to Phillips.

Phillips ended by saying, "It is not necessary to be a member of the Chamber of Commerce in order to be involved or help. Abernathy is your town. Call the chamber secretary or contact committee members and volunteer. Everyone will benefit including yourself."

Fruit Sale, Turkey Sale Successful

The FFA Fruit Sale and the Abernathy Young Farmer's Turkey Sale were both successful.

FFA members announced that the fruit ordered will be delivered starting December 13. They also stated that locals who want some fruit who did not order earlier, can still order some fruit from any FFA member or contact Ag Instructors Gerald Kelley or Scotty Windham. The FFA department ordered more fruit than they will need to fill the early orders and will have plenty left for those who want some.

The FFA Wildlife Barbeque will be held December 16 and members are presently making plans for the annual event.

The Young Farmers had a good turkey sale this year and announced they will also be selling Christmas Turkeys this year.

AREA FIRST PLACE WINNER IN Extemporaneous Speaking was Melissa Hagstrom. She will also compete at the State FFA Meet Saturday. (Review Photo)

This year the Postal Service is joining forces with the business community of Abernathy in urging customers to shop early and mail early for the holidays. The start of the holiday shopping season has been officially declared by asking shoppers to shop early and mail early and to make certain that mail is addressed correctly, (including zip codes) and packages are wrapped correctly so that cards and parcels reach their destination in plenty of time for the holidays.

Normally, we handle about 6,000 pieces of mail a day - including cards, letters and packages, but during the holiday season, volume goes up to about 8,000 pieces.

Customers should also take care to write legible zip coded addresses for both the intended recipient and the sender. Since mail sorting depends on the zip code, as well as the name of the particular city and state, the use of the correct zip code will aid us in processing the mail.

Last year, our customers helped us tremendously. They mailed early in the season and early in the day. We hope they will choose to cooperate with us again this year so we both will have an enjoyable holiday season.

Don't forget, we have attractive Christmas gifts available at the post office, especially stamps, kits, sets, etc. for the new collector, as well as the experienced philatelist.

The post office will close Saturday, December 25th. Be sure to mail all of your mail before 5 p.m. Friday the 24th as the mail will not be picked up again until 5 p.m. Monday the 27th.

The JV Lady Lopes maintained their lead by scoring 9 points in the fourth quarter to Lockney's 15 to win 36-28.

Texas Tech "Carol Of Lights" Friday

The light shining from Texas Tech University during the Holiday Season's Carol of Lights has served as an enduring symbol of West Texans for over two decades.

This year's Carol of Lights ceremonies begin at 7 p.m. Dec. 3 at the Texas Tech Science Quadrangle. Although thousands of Techsians, Lubbockites and South Plains residents are expected to visit the 21st Carol, the first gathering was quite small.

In December 1958 a small group of students, with former Texas Tech Music Professor Gene Hemmle and former Women's Residence Hall Coordinator Dorothy Garner, congregated at Memorial Circle and sang carols. Afterward the group went to the Student Union Building, now called the University Center, to drink hot chocolate.

The following year, Texas Tech Regent Harold Hinn donated 5,000 lights to the festivities, then called "All Christmas Scene."

In 1961, the name was changed to Carol of Lights. The lights have shone brightly since then despite the 1976 energy crisis which curtailed the hours the lights were illuminated. This year's lights will be lit from 6 p.m. until 11 p.m. Dec. 3-27.

Student and visitors, numbering 1,200, came to see the lighting in 1972 despite cancellation of the outdoor ceremony along with an 18-degree temperature and 20-mile per hour winds.

The carillon concert, the latest addition, was started in 1976. Music Professor Judson Maynard will play the prelude carillon concert at this year's Carol of Lights.

This year's preparations started the second week of September. The Texas Tech Physical Plant began placing the lights October 18.

At 4:30 p.m. Dec. 3 members of Alpha Phi Omega, Chi Rho and Women's Service Organization will begin placing luminarias -- sand-filled paper sacks containing candles -- along Memorial Circle.

The traditional Saddle Tramps-led torchlights procession will start at 7 p.m.

The procession march will be played by the Texas Tech Trombone Ensemble under the direction of Music Professor Robert Deahl.

Organizational choirs and residences halls will sing carols and Music Professor Bill Hartwell will perform "O Holy Night."

The finale, the illumination of the lights, will be heralded by the trombone fanfare at approximately

Weekly Devotional

Christians are servants, really bond servants, because we have been bought with a price. (1 Cor. 6:19-20). As Christians we should be seeking ways that we might serve others. Our Master went about doing good and we commanded to follow in his steps. (Peter 2:21). This trait makes a person a joy to be around. Besides helping others it brings great joy into our lives. By bearing one another's burdens we are fulfilling the will of God. (Gal. 6:2). Have you noticed the happiest people you know are those who find time to help and serve others. Satan has tried to make us believe happiness is attained by getting, but Jesus said, "It is more blessed to give than receive." The abundant life is to be found in Jesus, following his philosophy of life. A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of his possessions. (Luke 12:15).

Texas Farmer Says Mink And Duck Farmers Find Profit In U. S. Soybeans

Hogs and chickens are no longer the only livestock enjoying the benefits of diets containing soybean meal. Now much of the world's 21 million mink and duck population is also being introduced to rations containing soy protein, thanks to export promotion work of the Texas soybean checkoff. As a result, mink and duck farmers are producing faster gaining, more healthy animals at profitable levels.

Efforts to increase the use of soybean meal in rations for non-conventional markets such as mink and ducks are examples of export promotion activities currently underway by the American Soybean Association. These export promotion activities are being funded by farmer investment in the soybean checkoff.

"In these times of depressed commodity prices farmers need to give wholehearted support to soybean checkoff investment in innovative export promotion programs such as those Texas farmers conducted through the American Soybean Association," says Jack Witten, a Kress soybean farmer who currently serves as chairman of the Texas Soybean Producers Board (TSPB). Witten recently announced that the TSPB had sent a check for $6,000 to the American Soybean Development Foundation for use in continuing worldwide export promotion activities to increase use of soybeans and products.

Witten cited duck feeding demonstrations in Taiwan as typical of the kind of projects where farmer checkoff investment is helping increase soybean use. An ASA survey of the duck industry in Taiwan in 1977 revealed that the country produced nearly 28 million ducks. The majority of duck feeds however, were composed of corn, wheat bran, rice hulls and fishmeal. Use of soybean meal was insignificant.

In 1978, ASA supervised duck feeding trials for farmers and feed formulators. The trials showed that incorporating a higher percent of soybean meal into duck feeds not only improved feed efficiency, but also increased egg production. As a result of feeding trials and percent from 27,000 metric tons in 1975 to over 61,500 metric tons of meal in 1980—the equivalent of over 2.5 million bushels of soybeans.

Use of soybean meal in mink rations showed a similar large increase after an ASA feeding trial in Denmark and Finland — the world's top two producers of mink and fox. Traditionally animal protein, not soy protein has been the main source of protein for nearly 8 million fur-bearing animals in the Nordic Countries.

In 1980, the American Soybean Association conducted feeding trials on mink and fox farms in Denmark to demonstrate that addition of a soybean protein concentrate or a soy flour would be beneficial for fur-bearing animals.

The trail was quite successful. Mink fed a ration containing 10 percent of a Danish produced soybean protein concentrate showed normal growth. More significantly, pelt quality showed a "marked improvement". Fox fed both defatted and full-fat soy flours showed slightly faster growth rates than animal fed only animal protein. As a result of these feeding trials, the future looks bright for increased soybean consumption by the mink and fox industry in Denmark and Finland. Checkoff funded export promotion programs such as these have helped Texas soybean farmers sell more soybeans at higher prices and increased gross farm income $57.50 for every checkoff dollar invested in export promotion.

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK, Friday, November 19, 1982

It's been said, I think, that brilliant solutions come only in the wake of severe problems.

And if that be true, the powers that be in the U.S. cotton, food and feed grain industries, including those in government, now have an opportunity to shine as they have never shone before.

Literature is filled with tales of financial empires built from the desperate need of man to feed himself and his family. The greatest discoveries of medical science have come in response to cries for help from masses of people crippled or dying from malaria, smallpox, polio, etc. Abe Lincoln sauntered from a log cabin to free the slaves.

But who will free the farmer? Are there some emancipators out there somewhere to deliver them from the oppression of massive supplies and minuscule demand?

One can only hope. And be glad there are those who are trying.

In October the Board of Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, met and began discussions of minor actions that can be taken to alleviate short-term problems and major changes needed to brighten the future.

A couple of weeks ago the Producer Steering Committee of the National Cotton Council met in Lubbock and, like similar groups in corn, sorghum and wheat, intensified exploration of possible escape routes.

U. S. Agriculture Secretary John Block, after a two-day meeting November 16 and 17 with farm leaders and economists, recognized the need for government policy changes and says a suggested program will be forthcoming within a month.

Later in the same week the Texas Association of Cotton Producer Organizations met in Austin to begin the task of reaching agreement on its contribution to the overall process.

Another round of talks on the U. S.-China bilateral textile and apparel agreement are underway in Washington, a successful conclusion to which could substantially improve U.S. cotton export prospects.

These are only a few of many ongoing efforts to pull farmers through the sick world economy, depressed demand and bulging surpluses that have pushed agriculture, the largest and most important of U.S. industries, to the brink of bankruptcy.

Back to the brilliant solutions coming only in the wake of severe problems, it can be said as well that lasting solutions to agriculture's problems will come only after diligent study and deliberation among reasonable men.

There is no room for panic — i.e. jumping at one of those sure-to-come, willy-nilly, quick-fix cures that will be offered for today's headaches without regard for tomorrow's after-effects.

That's the alternative to finding a solution. It's called suicide.

Petersburg Farmers Conduct Yellow Corn Variety Test

Don and Mark Hegi, who farm west of Petersburg, conducted a yellow corn variety test on reduced water, according to Billy E. Warrick, Hale County Extension Agronomist.

The plot was planted April 14, 1982 on last year's soybean ground. The corn was prewatered and watered 3 times solid during the growing season. The plot received 211 pounds of nitrogen applied by anhydrous ammonia plus 320 pounds of 19-19-0 fertilizer per acre.

Weeds were controlled with Dual being banded in a 13 inch swath at 2 1/2 pint per acre rate plus a layby treatment of Dual at 1 1/2 pint per acre rate applied solid after the last cultivation. No insecticide was needed for insect control.

The result demonstration was topped by Stauffer 7795 at 8540 pounds/acre. Other varieties in the test include: Pioneer 3184 at 7468 pounds/acre, Dekalb XL72 AA at 7301 pounds/acre, Ring Around 1502 at 6641 pounds/acre, and Paymaster UC 7251 at 5523 pounds/acre.

All harvest weights listed have been adjusted to 15.5% moisture.

Green Thumb Program Survives Budget Battle

For almost 1,000 older workers in the Texas Farmer's Union Green Thumb program, the "battle of the budget" came to a happy conclusion with the recent Congressional override of the President's veto of a supplemental appropriations bill.

The bill provides money for a variety of programs and agencies ranging from the defense department to NASA to Title V of the Older American's Act, which funds TFU Green Thumb and other senior employment programs, according to Green Thumb District Director, JoAn Mahaffey.

Speaking to 48 Green Thumb workers at a training session in Tulia on October 18, 1982, Mahaffey said the Congressional override "was decisive" in saving the jobs of more than 54,000 Title V workers nationwide. The workers are all 55 and over, low income, and provide services for libraries, schools, senior centers, museums, and other public service agencies.

"Without the override, the only hope would have been yet another appropriations bill," she said, "and there were no real guarantees that another one would have been passed and signed in time to keep the program going." The new bill funds the program through June 30, 1983.

Green Thumbers had already received letters informing them that their last day on the job was to be September 24. Mahaffey said the letters had to be sent out because "there was no assurance that both houses would override the veto. What we've seen is a minor miracle." The override vote in the Senate was 60 to 30, exactly the two-thirds majority necessary.

"One more vote against the appropriations bill and the dismal news in your letters would have been all too true," she said. "And I'm afraid we all know that there aren't enough jobs out there in the private sector for 54,000 older workers."

Green Thumbers from Hale County attending the training session at Tulia were Eusebio Castellon, Crew Foreman and Guadalupe Guillen, both of Abernathy.

Senior Spotlight...Debra Kimbrell and Wayne Cook

Senior Spotlight features Debra Kimbrell and Wayne Cook this week.

Debra Kimbrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kimbrell, was born in Dimmitt January 24, 1964.

Debra enjoys eating, horseback riding, volleyball and mountain climbing as her hobbies. When it comes to food, Debra's favorites are pizza, spaghetti and barbecue.

Debra's week cannot go by without her viewing her favorite T.V. show "To Close For Comfort", and her favorite movie was

"E.T." When asked what her accomplishments were she replied, "I got to be a senior". And her opinion of being a senior is "I love it".

Wayne Cook

Wayne Cook is born January 14, 1964, in Lubbock to his proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Cook.

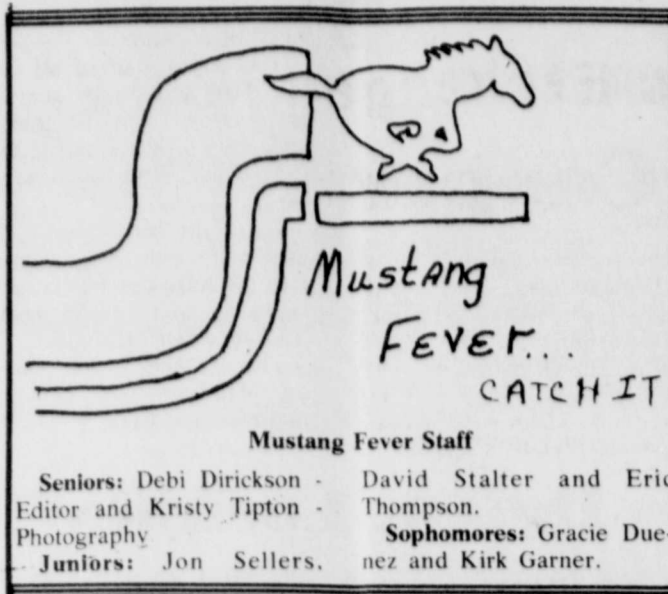

Wayne's spare time includes his hobbies and putting model cars and planes together.

Wayne likes to prepare his favorite foods, Lasagna and Croissant. Wayne also has a special interest in W.W. II history and enjoys visiting with other people about it.

When Wayne is not listening to the radio or building models, he can be found watching his favorite show M.A.S.H. Wayne chose Halloween over all the other movies as his favorite.

Wayne is easy to get along with and is always a Southern Gentleman. Wayne commented on his senior year is being "all right." By Jon Sellers.

"I would love to be a cheerleader. I would cheer so so loudly people could hear me in the stands. I would cheer when we made a touch down too. I would really like being a cheerleader. I would scream and yell at pep rallies too. And give the spirit stick too the people that have the most spirit. I would say all kinds of cheers. I would yell for the football players. And yell and yell." Enna Elliott.

"I want to be a cheerleader but I don't want to play like I'm one because I might hurt my self by climbing on peopples back. I would have to be taught sertain things before I could be a cheerleader. I really would like to ba a cheerleader but I have know idea why I would like to be a cheerleader thow." Dena Potter

 "I would like to be a Dallas Cowboy Cheerleader. It would take lots of practice And I could be on T.V. I would love to do it, because I like trying new stuff. The Shallowater Mustangs have had a good season. When I'm here in Shallowater I'm going to try out for cheerleader." Dena Taylor.

This Weeks SHS Working Students

This Week the working students are Mary Lou Lara and Robin Lesley. Both ladies are first year members of the HECE and DECA programs.

Robin, a junior, works at the T-Shirt Plus in the South Plains Mall. She leaves school every weekday at 12:25 and starts work a 1 p.m. She works six hours a day, Monday through Saturday.

Robin really enjoys working. With the money she makes, she says, "I try to save, but...you know how it goes." Robin works with Denise Simpkins, a former Shallowater High School Student.

She really likes her employers. She doesn't think she could work for anyone nicer. Robin doesn't plan to go to college, but plans to live in her own apartment.

Mary Lou Lara works at Gandy's in Lubbock. It will be two years, in May, since Mary Lou has been working there.

She is a senior and member of FHA. Every school day Mary Lou leaves school to go home to rest. At 6 p.m. she starts work. She works every other day, a total of 17 to 20 hours a week. Mary Lou really enjoys working. She says, "I love my boss, I get treated the same as everyone else."

She doesn't plan to go to college, but plans to get a better job.

Both Robin and Mary say that they enjoy working with the public and meeting people, especially the guys. By Gracie Duenez.

"What Youngsters Think About Football"

By Kristy Tipton

This week, I thought it would be fun to see how the younger kids felt about cheerleading and football. Mrs. Lines' class volunteered their services and this is what they came up with... "I like to see the Dallas Cowboys on T.V. They nerly went to the supperbol but they lost a game. So they tride agen and they mite go to the suppboll, but there on strike." Lee Trejo

"I want to be a football player. I like football because you can make a tuch down and get a broken arm and a broken leg. And a bone out of your joint." Rex Mitchell

"If I had to choose one sport that I liked, it would be football. I think it would be pretty hard, but one thing about it, there is nothing that can stop our mind. You have got to concentrate on the game nothing else, you got to give it all you have. I think it would be a good sport for all men. I would prople like to be a center and a quarter back." Shawn Reed.

"I tolled my dad can I go out on the feld, and he said no. He said you can't tacked those and he said they would run over you." Shane Bigham.

Basketball Season Approaching

In a very short span of time, basketball season will be upon us. We will move out of the exposed football fields indoors to gyms.

(Good thing too, it's getting cold out there!) Instead of touchdowns there will be jump shots, dunks, and free-throws.

To me our town of Shallowater is just as enthusiastic about Basketball as they are about Football. We love to watch our athletes play, no matter what game it is. We are proud of our town and proud of our fellow citizens.

The game of basketball is enjoyed by Americans almost as much as football. I think it's popularity springs from the fact that it excites the fans and they can be a part of the game just by being there. We also enjoy sitting down at home and watching our favorite teams go at it. Let's face it, Americans enjoy sports!

In closing, I would like to say that no matter what sport our athletes play, they will always be the best at what they do. See you in the gym. By David Stalter.

Probably, the factor that swings the decision, is Sylvester Stallone. "First Blood" is the story of Sylvester Stallone, starting as a ex-Green Baret from Vietnam running from the police. It's exciting and rather sad at the end, but bloody, and children should not be taken to see it.

"An Officer and a Gentleman" a romantic show with more balance and plot than "First Blood" has. The story is about a man who joins the Navy to become a flight officer. It's about the tough sergeant who makes a responsible adult out of a loner. It's also a story of the girl who helps him through it all. It's really a good show but language and suggestive scenes make this movie also a bad choice for the younger audiences.

A good PG movie that younger and older audiences are recommended to see is "Man From Snowy River". It is, like "A Officer and a Gentleman," a romantic, but without the things that make the later show rated R. This movie is very exciting and well worth the money to see it.

These are all good movies to see, and well worth your time and money. By Eric Thompson

"What's New At The Movies?"

Movies like "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas", "First Blood," and "An Officer and A gentleman," have only one thing in common, the rating, for each is "R". When asked, most people voted "First Blood" the most popular with "An Officer and A Gentleman" a close second.

Mrs. Geniese Renee Grawunder and James Mace Stanford were united in marriage Saturday, November 27, at 2 p.m. in Glass Memorial Chapel in Midland with Rev. Bill Weir of Midland performing the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Grawunder of Shallowater and Mr. and Mrs. Al Stanford of Midland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a designer formal length gown of white chiffon with a fitted bodice, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline of scalloped Venice lace, encrusted with seed pearls, which overlaid the shoulders. The three quarter length bishop sleeves were enhanced with ruffles of peau'dange lace and seed pearls. The full length skirt flowed from the waistline into a chapel length train, etched with peau'dange lace and flounced with chiffon crystal pleating. She wore a Juliet cap of Venice lace and seed pearls, fashioned with a fingertip veil illusion, edged with lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, mauve carnations, daisies and spider mums, tied with white satin picot ribbon streamers.

The ceremony was performed before an altar flanked with candle tree tapers on either side, accented with baskets of white mums entwined with white satin ribbon.

fresh blossoms in the bride's colors, centered with a brass wedding cross.

Funds Available To Those Who Can't Pay Their Heating And Cooling Bills

Ms. Sally Edwards has lived on a fixed income, Social Security, for several years now and has found it to be more and more difficult to take care of her monthly bills. She has feared that she would fall behind - not be able to pay her bills with just her $280 monthly Social Security check.

This has happened - last month she was not able to pay her utilities and now she is in danger of having her heat turned off. With her arthritis this will cause her to suffer even more.

This is the story of many people who live on a limited, fixed income. Beginning October 1, 1982, there were federal funds available to help low-income households pay their home heating or cooling bills, if they are in danger of having utilities cut off.

The money is limited to $90 for each eligible household between October 1, 1982, and March 31, 1983. Another $90 will be available for eligible households between April 1 and September 30, 1983. Once the money is exhausted no further payments can be made.

Local agencies have contracted with the Department of Human Resources to handle the program. To be eligible a household must have a total gross monthly income of less than $305.49 for a one-person household; $499.49 for a two-person household; $684.49 for three; $845.49 for four; $998.49 for five; and $1,166.49 for six.

The goal of the program is to avoid having the utilities turned off. In order to apply, a person's utility must have been cut off or must have received a cut off notice - verbal or written - from the energy supplier. For more information about the Energy Crisis Intervention Program contact the local Community Action Center or the Catholic Family Services office.

Jews return to Israel

As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered, so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.

And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers,

New Deal News

New Deal Band Director Takes Leave Of Absence

It was announced earlier this year that Charlie Cross, New Deal's Band Director, would be leaving New Deal High School in December. Well, cheer up folks! Mr. Cross will be here through January 14th and will then be taking an official leave of absence to get his degree, in which he only likes 19 hours to get.

There has been no decision as to who will finish out this year with our band, but Mr. Cross will be back next fall. Mr. Cross has been at New Deal High School for the past four years and has done a great job at building up the band.

When he first came to New Deal, a little more than eight students were signed up for band. He spent his first year here recruiting students into band and now has 85 students in band this year.

Mr. Cross has also done a great job working long hours with the band, and the thought of losing him has a lot of students and parents very up set.

Mr. Cross, go get that degree and hurry back to us, we'll be anxious to see you again next fall.

by Samuel J. Aji, Ph.D. Vice President for Research March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation

Each year diabetes tragically affects thousands who do not have it.

They are the unborn and newborn babies of diabetic women — some 100,000 of them each year — for whom pregnancy all too often ends in stillbirth, newborn death, or birth of a malformed baby. But recent advances have made it possible to learn whether these risks can be cut down.

The March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation has helped to launch pilot programs for diabetic pregnancy in Boston, New Haven, New York City and San Francisco.

Preliminary results suggest that rigid control of patients' blood sugar levels during pregnancy can reduce or eliminate diabetes-related damage to infants.

In severe diabetes, the problem is that the cells of the body cannot make full use of their major fuel, blood sugar, or glucose.

A natural hormone called insulin normally enables cells to use glucose efficiently, but diabetics do not produce enough insulin for their needs.

About nine percent of babies born to diabetic mothers have major malformations of organs that form very early in pregnancy. Apparently, poor blood-sugar control at that time disrupts development of the baby, but how it does so is unknown.

We know a little more about the effects of diabetes on later fetal development. Poorly controlled diabetes harms small blood vessels throughout the mother's body. That may reduce the transfer of vital nutrients and oxygen to the fetus, which can lead to miscarriage or stillbirth.

Another problem can develop as well. The high levels of glucose in the mother's blood stimulate the fetus to produce extra insulin. Insulin appears to act as a growth hormone during fetal development. A high insulin level causes many diabetic babies to grow abnormally large, increasing the risk of having a difficult delivery.

Producing more energy from less ... makes the difference.

Their discovery would shake the worlds of communication, medicine and defense, but Charles Townes and Arthur Schawlow knew only that they had discovered an entirely new source of light. They called it an "optical maser." Today we know it as the "laser."
Their discovery was a light beam so concentrated it could produce power densities millions of times as intense as those on the surface of the sun — a light source so dense, the energy produced was greater than the energy required to produce it.

Arthur Schawlow and Charles Townes

This principle of more energy from less applies to the High-Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump — more units of heat than units of electricity needed to produce that heat. And while the Add-On Heat Pump works with your existing furnace to heat your home during the winter, the Add-On Heat Pump functions with the same efficiency to cool your home during warm weather.

As partners, Townes and Schawlow made a significant difference in our world with their work on the laser. As partners you, Southwestern Public Service Company and the Add-On Heat Pump can make the difference managing electricity in your home. Call SPS to see what your savings could be.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

VAN MOORE
DOCTOR OF OPTOMETRY
Need More Light?

It amazes adults when they discover children reading a book or magazine in poor light or shadows. How can they do it? Young, healthy eyes can compensate for lack of light because their focusing muscles are stronger and more flexible. But they'll get eye strain if they do this too often or for long periods of time. The eyes need light to see well.

This is especially true for older people. When the light is right, most older people can do any difficult job, from repairing broken furniture to fine needle work. The best kind of lighting is a diffused light that covers a large area and eliminates glare. Glare can come from light shining directly into your eyes. Or it can come from light reflected off shiny surfaces.

It's a good idea to have more than one light on in a room. Then, when you leave the brightly-lit area you're not walking into shadows.

Resting your eyes from time to time is also helpful. So are regular eye checkups.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Managing Editor:
The Petroleum Industry Security Council (PISC) oil field theft hotline became operational June 1, 1982. Thanks to the cooperation of many publications across the state, people are calling 1-800-OIL-COPS toll free to report oil field thieves. Information received on this hotline is being forwarded directly and immediately to law enforcement officials.

Oil field theft in Texas is costing citizens millions of dollars in higher prices and lost tax revenues. The OIL-COPS hotlines, which offers anonymity to its callers and a reward up to $5,000, is an ideal tool to fight this costly crime.

The OIL-COPS hotline program must be well-known to the public to be effective. If your publication is currently advertising our number we certainly appreciate your cooperation. If you are not, we ask that you consider using the enclosed sheet for ads or filler wherever and whenever possible as a public service. PISC is a non-profit organization formed to support law enforcement efforts to deal with oil field crimes and we need your help.

We appreciate your time and assistance.

Sincerely,
Edward L. Richards
