National Cotton Council President Praises PIK Program

The payment-in-kind program announced by the Reagan administration offers a way to reduce excessive stocks of cotton and to strengthen farm income. National Cotton Council President Edward Breihan said today.

end of the current season and, in turn, relieve the downward pressure on cotton prices. Praising the early announcement of the PIK program, Breihan said cotton producers can now proceed with their plans for the 1983 crop.

tenant decisions were imminent across the Cotton Belt and that field operations -- already underway in South Texas -- have been suspended pending the program announcement. Breihan said the Council's Board of Directors recently passed an eight-point recommendation emphasizing the need to sustain the economies of local communities. It also enlarges upon an existing Council recommendation calling for reducing carryover stocks to 3-1/2 to 4 million bales as soon as practicable.

He added that the recommendation addressed the proposed PIK program and that the program announced today generally embodies the provisions of the Board recommendation.

NEW CROP COTTON ENTERS LOAN: Cotton producers had placed a total of 2,570,722 running bales of 1982-83 upland cotton under the Commodity Credit Corporation loan by Dec. 29, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Repayments had been made on 181,373, leaving loans outstanding on 2,398,349 bales.

Hale County's Observation Water Wells Being Measured And Tagged

Hale County's twenty-seven (27) water level observation wells in the High Plains Water District's network will be measured and tagged with an identification sticker during this month by Shorty Lancaster. The wells are part of a large network of more than 950 observation water wells located throughout the District's 15 county service area. They are annually measured for their "static" depth-to-water levels. The District has kept records of the annual change in water levels and the rate of change of the water table in the aquifer since its creation more than 30 years ago. This data is used for making projections of water use rates, for determining the amount of water left in storage, and as a basis for the income tax depletion allowance claims on landowner's tax returns.

In 1982, the average change in depth to water in the portion of Hale County within the District was a decline of -1.53 hundredths of a foot. Readings of the depth to the water table below surface ranged from a minimum of 88 feet to a maximum depth of 252 feet.

Preliminary results of this year's measurements will be published in February.

COTTON TODAY

RESEARCH ECONOMIC RECOVERY STRESSED: Under Secretary of Agriculture Frank W. Naylor, Jr., feels the nation has economic recovery in place, but many serious problems such as the growing national deficit still must be solved. He recently addressed the 1983 Beltwide Cotton Production-Mechanization Conference sponsored by the National Cotton Council. Assistant Secretary Orville G. Bentley told the conference there is vast potential for strengthening cotton and agriculture through science and technology. He voiced strong support for more effective research

Farmers Can Claim Cost-In-Water Depletion Allowance

Water depletion information for tax year 1982 is now available from the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District for landowners to use in claiming a cost-in-water income tax depletion allowance for the area served by the Water District. Lubbock and Hale Counties are included in this District.

Area landowners whose ground water is depleted in the business of irrigation farming can claim a cost-in-water depletion allowance each year for the water exhausted in that year's farm operation.

To determine the owner's cost-in-water requires determining the quantity of ground water in storage beneath his tract of land for the year of purchase. The value of the water is determined by comparing the difference in land sale prices for irrigated land as compared to dryland for the year of acquisition. The value attributed to the ground water in storage beneath the irrigated tract is the amount the landowner had to pay above what he would have had to pay for a comparable dryland tract. The dollar difference is divided into the feet of saturated formation at the date of purchase to obtain the cost per foot of water. These values are obtained from actual sale records each year in the Water District's service area by the district's appraisers.

Finally a water decline value must be assigned for each year the tax deduction is claimed for each tract of land eligible for the depletion allowance.

Each year a qualified consulting appraiser collects and interprets the per acre value difference in irrigated and dryland sales in order to calculate the true cost of the water for any land acquired that year. The cost of ground-water reserves for irrigated land acquired in 1982 ranged from $140 to $755 per acre within the Water District's 15 county service area.

To assign annual water level declines in the aquifer, Water District staff members measure the water levels in a network of 950 water level observation wells within the District each January. The one year, the past five and the past ten year changes are calculated and a graph is of these generally declining changes. To put it all together, the

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK, Friday, January 14, 1983

The Administration's newly announced payment-in-kind (PIK) program for cotton, wheat, feed grains and rice was well received by directors and guests at a meeting of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. in Lubbock January 12, but not without some reservations and expressions of disappointment.

The program, officially announced January 11, with some details still missing and others only vaguely understood, offers to give each producer an amount of a commodity from existing stocks as payment for not planting that commodity on from 10 to 30 percent of his 1983 base acreage. The in-kind payment is to be made as a percentage of the farm's established yield on acreage idled in addition to what is required under the previously announced acreage reduction program.

On cotton the payment will be 80 percent of the farm yield times acreage idled above 20 percent of the farm's program base. Discussion at the PCG meeting indicated that almost all producers would participate in the program at the maximum 30 percent rate, bringing the total acreage reduction to 50 percent.

Nationwide, USDA is projecting that cotton acreage idled under both the regular and the PIK program, taking into consideration normal abandonment, will result in 8.7 million acres for harvest and 10 million bales of production. Before the PIK landowner's cost per acre in water is divided by the saturated thickness of the aquifer beneath his land to arrive at a cost per acre per foot. As an example, if the landowner has 100 feet of saturated thickness at the date of purchase and he paid $500 per acre more for the irrigated land than he would have had to pay for similar land without irrigation (dryland), he would then have a cost of $5.00 per foot of saturated material. Each year as he receives a "feet of decline" assignment from the Water District, the landowner can calculate the cost of depleting his ground water by multiplying feet of decline times cost per foot times total acres and arrive at a dollar value for his tax deduction. Using the example above, if he had three feet of decline he would multiply this by the $5.00 per foot value with a resulting tax deduction of $15 per surface acre.

The Water District has been providing cost-in-water decline values for 20 years now, and anticipates between six and seven thousand landowners will make requests for the values this year either as individuals or through their tax accounts. The District estimates at least three to five million dollars of tax expense allowances are saved by farmers each year by this program in the Water District's service area.

If you purchase land or had your land values reassessed as a result of an estate settlement since about 1950, you may qualify for tax expense allowance. Please contact the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District at 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405, or telephone 806-762-0181 for assistance.

program the Department was expecting 12.5 million bales to be harvested from 11.4 million acres. Base acreage in the 25 High Plains counties represented by PCG totals in the neighborhood of 4.5 million and plantings for the three years prior to 1982 averaged a little over 4.6 million acres. So, PCG figures, if there were 95 percent participation in the acreage reduction program at the maximum 50 percent rate, 1983 plantings would fall in a range of 2.4 to 2.5 million acres.

And, in the unlikely event an average of seven percent of this acreage were abandoned and yields should equal the area's 353-pound 10-year average, production from the 25 counties would be from 1.6 to 1.7 million bales. PCG also calculates that something like another one million bales may come to farmers through stocks under the PIK program, making from 2.6 to 2.7 million bales available to the market this fall. Cotton produced in 1983 will be eligible for the CCC loan program, but PIK program cotton will not.

PIK program cotton will be available to High Plains producers beginning October 15, but as an aid to orderly marketing the government will provide free storage on this cotton until March 15, 1984.

Disappointment was noted at the PCG meeting in the absence of a guaranteed minimum value on PIK cotton as a means to minimize the adverse effect of its release. The offer of five months free storage, plus release dates timed to parallel various harvest dates across the Belt, is a part of USDA's answer to that complaint.

Full information on the PIK program is scheduled to be mailed to producers between January 17 and January 24, with the sign-up beginning January 24 and ending March 11.

Lady Lopes Edge Lockney 45-43 In Overtime

It was a tough game for the Lady Lopes January 8 when they took on the Lockney fems, but the Lopes managed to pull-off a 2 point win in overtime, 45-43.

The Lady Lopes contained the Lockney fems the entire first half and it looked as if the Lopes fems were headed toward a comfortable victory. They led 13-6 in the first quarter and 25-15 at halftime. With a 10 point lead at halftime, it was evident that Lockney would have to pull some tricks out of the bag in the second half if they wanted to beat the Lopes.

And Lockney had some. they came back in the third quarter to out-score the Lopes fems 12-9 to draw within 6 points, 27-33. In the final period, Lockney out-scored the Lopes fems again 13-7 to tie the game 40-40.

The game went into overtime and this time the Lopes fems had a few tricks up their sleeves. They pressured Lockney into making some mistakes while scoring 5 points. Lockney scored 3 more, but the Lopes fems won 45-43.

It was the second time for the Lopes fems to defeat Lockney this year.

Vicky McKenzie was the leading scorer with 19 points followed by Regina Powell with 10.

The Lady Lopes will take on Muleshoe this Friday night at Muleshoe. They will play Littlefield Tuesday.

The Lopes maintained a comfortable lead the remainder of the game by out-scoring Lockney 16-10 in the third quarter and adding another 20 points in the fourth quarter to win 82-68.

Ed Teal was the leading scorer with 28 points, followed by Larry Perkins with 18 and Sammy Galloway 18.

Senior Spotlight...Benny Davis and Julie Haralson

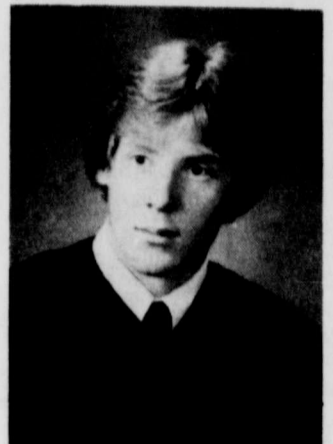

Benny Davis, 17 year old Shallowater High Senior, is one of these weeks Senior Spotlight students. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond B. Davis, Benny has always been active in sports. He is an ex-football player and is very active in basketball. He is a member of the Shallowater E.M.S., so even while enjoying his favorite pass-time events, such as game hunting, going out and having fun, watching movies such as "Porkey", he may be interrupted by a call. After school, he likes to watch M.A.S.H. He likes a meal of T-bone steaks and asparagus or spaghetti. At school, his favorite class is Ag. Mechanics. This year, his pride has been boosted by the fact that he has finally gotten straight A's. Also, presently basketball has taken a lot of his time during and after school. After he finishes High School, Benny plans on going to college to major in computer programming. If he has to leave town to study, he says he will miss it all.

Seniors: Debi Dirickson - Editor and Kristy Tipton - Photography.
Juniors: Jon Sellers, David Stalter and Eric Thompson.
Sophomores: Gracie Duenes and Kirk Garner.

WORD of GOD

Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name:

That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

J. Davis Armistead DOCTOR OF OPTOMETRY

The Three-In-One Lens

Some people have serious problems in seeing things clearly at any distance; closeup, nearby, or far away.

If it's an astigmatism, a single-vision lens can solve the problem. The defect is in the shape of the cornea, "the window of the eye." The uneven shape causes two points of focus instead of one, resulting in blurred vision. This is just one vision problem.

But when someone has three vision problems or needs correction in three different areas, he may want to consider a trifocal lens. For example, take a bookkeeper with this kind of problem. He makes entries or checks figures on the records in front of him. At the same time he may be working with a desk computer or adding machine a short distance away. And he has to be able to see across the room when someone wants his attention.

Most people get along well with single lens or bifocals at work or at home. But if they need trifocals to do specialized work in comfort and without eye strain, it's good to know they're available.

National Arbor Day Foundation Giving Away Free Trees

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving three free Black Walnut trees to all new Foundation members joining during January, 1983.

The free trees, which are part of the Foundation's effort to promote tree planting throughout America, will be shipped at the appropriate time for planting this spring.

Black Walnut trees were chosen for this campaign because of their value and versatility, according to the Foundation. The Walnut trees bear sweet, edible nuts, and they are also used for shade trees, growing to 80-100 feet. Walnut hardwood is very valuable for making furniture and cabinets.

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit organization, is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting. The Foundation will give three free Walnut trees to new members contributing $10.00 or more during January.

The trees will be three to four feet tall and will be sent postage paid with enclosed planting instructions. They are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free by the Foundation.

To become a member of the Foundation, and to receive the free trees, a $10.00 membership contribution is required.

For families that enjoy change of season vacations, remember that water and sand can reflect enough sunlight to burn you under a hat or a beach umbrella.

Free Walnut Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, Arbor Lodge 100, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by January 31, 1983.

The South Plains Association of Governments Board of Directors recently elected Henry Rieff to serve a one year term as President of SPAG.

A resident of Hale County for 37 years, President Rieff is in his sixth year as County Commissioner and his fourth year as a member of the SPAG Board of Directors. In April 1982, President Rieff was named "Official of the Year" at the annual awards banquet of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Associations. He also serves as President of the Texas Association of Rural Water Corporation (TARWC).

Prior to his involvement in the local and regional government, President Rieff farmed in Hale County.

Letter To The Editor

Thanks to the fine help that you and other friends of the media gave our boys, the Christmas Suit project was a big success this past year, and all of them received new suits or gift boxes of clothing. A number of donations came from contributors there in your area who were reminded of the project by the release sent earlier.

The boys wore their new clothing for the first time on December 18 at their Christmas parties and on the following day while leaving the Ranch for a little vacation in their various hometowns around the country. They were really proud of their suits and will be wearing them for a long time. It was the best Christmas gift they received.

Thank you again, Mr. Tooley for not only this help, but for all the help you give the Ranch throughout the year. I do hope that on some day during 1983 you will have time to visit the boys and share a meal with them in the dining hall. With best wishes for a happy and prosperous new year, I am

Sincerely yours
CAL FARLEY'S
