Chamber Discusses New Location For Depot

The Abernathy Chamber of Commerce met for their February meeting Thursday, February 3 at 7 a.m. in the small meeting room at City Hall.

Bill Scott, Rod Ellis and Dale Thickett fixed breakfast for 16 people at the meeting.

Following breakfast, Clayton Enger gave the invocation and minutes of the January meeting were reviewed and approved.

Finance Report

The finance report revealed that the Chamber will need to take some funds out of savings and put into the operating fund in order to pay all the bills. One of the extra costs this year are the Chamber Community Brochures. They should be ready as soon as some final adjustments have been made on the community surveys, which are inserted into them.

Railroad Depot

There has been a new development as to where the Depot may be located. Chamber members were not satisfied with locating the Depot at Chamber of Commerce Park because of its terrible location.

Rudolph Struve announced that he would be willing to contribute several vacant lots for the Depot. The location Struve has in mind is on his land, located between the Methodist Church and the theater. Struve estimated that it will take approximately 3 or 4 lots in this area to allow enough space for the Depot and room for parking.

He also stated that he would like to donate it as a memorial to Marian Struve and that it be named after her.

Chamber members were pleased with Struve's proposal and much happier that a new location had been found for the Depot.

The Chamber discussed how the Depot could be maintained and how the property could be made exempt from taxes.

The Depot has been donated to the Chamber of Commerce and will be ready to move as soon as the project can be financed.

It is thought that the Depot could be as old as 63 years, but some say it was built before 1918. It is 24 by 64 feet, 14 feet tall, and has a strong hardwood floor made of 2 by 12's according to W.D. Sanders, who examined the construction of the depot recently. He said that the building is in good shape, except that a small portion of the acoustical ceiling has dropped.

Bill Scott stated that he had looked at the wiring and said that it would only take approximately $350 to bring it up to date. He would donate his labor on the project.

Presently, volunteers will be needed to remove the platform from around the bottom of the Depot so it can be moved. Call Keith Tooley at the Review, 298-2033, if you can help move this platform at a date not yet determined.

Other Business

Rudolph Struve announced that the local boy scouts still need a Scoutmaster. Anyone interested should contact him.

It was reported that March 1 is the deadline to sponsor a student to attend the Texas Tech seminar for gifted students. The Chamber and Lions Club will co-sponsor a student at a cost of $395 to attend this program.

The Chamber Banquet will be April 14. Chamber President John Hale called prospective guest speaker Jerry Moore, Texas Tech Football Coach. Moore stated that he would be here if he doesn't have a conflict on that date.

Young Homemakers Drawing Tonight

The Abernathy Young Homemakers will have a drawing for a two pound box of Valentine Candy Thursday night (tonight).

Buy your raffle tickets from any Young Homemaker for 50 cents each.

All Young Homemakers need to turn their tickets and money into Teresa Jackson or Sherry Connell by Thursday.

Intrastate Long-Distance Rates Increased

The new intrastate long-distance rates, approved Jan. 11 by the Public Utility Commission of Texas for Southwestern Bell, apply to all customers placing intrastate long-distance calls. The rates were increased by 10 percent, effective Jan. 11.

Jimmy Bennett, Memphis operations manager, said Bell administers the tariffs which contain the rates approved by the commission.

"We are partners in the provision of long-distance services," the manager said. "All intrastate long-distance revenues and expenses are placed in a pool administered by Bell. Bell then returns to the other telephone companies' expenses plus a return based upon each company's investment."

The telephone company manager said that even though General Telephone feels long-distance earnings are still not at the level the should be, the company is pleased the commission approved some increase to long-distance rates.

The telephone company official said they increased revenues General Telephone obtains from the new long-distance rates will ultimately help reduce the upward pressure on local basic service rates.

Other changes affecting General Telephone customers, predominately business customers, are increased in Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) and changes in charges for customers in General cities with direct line to a Bell service area with an associated Bell telephone number.

Barn On Buske Farm Broken Into

Hale County Sheriff's Deputies reported that a barn, located three miles northeast of Abernathy, was broken into last Thursday and items worth $450 were taken.

The barn is located on a farm belonging to J.F. Buske, north of Abernathy. The burglars entered the barn by breaking off a lock on the south door.

Taken in the burglary was an air compressor, a parade saddle and bridle, and an implement tire and wheel were missing. Buske estimated the value of the stolen items at $450.

The incident is presently being investigated.

ON THE COUNTY LINE

BY KEITH TOOLEY

I RECENTLY VISITED with a representative of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation about the 5 cent Federal tax pending.

I received a letter from Ben Alley, a representative from the State Highway Department, concerning how the 5 cent tax will be distributed.

The letter is in this edition of the Review and states that effective April 1, 1 cent will go for mass transit and 4 cents will go to the State, 85 percent of which will be used for highways.

It is good to see that 4 cents of the 5 cent tax will remain in the State, but how much of this will be spent to improve our rural farm roads is yet to be seen. We just hope the major urban areas with the most clout don't get all the highway funds that will be allotted to the State. We have too many chug holes on our farm to market roads that need fixing.

WE FINALLY GOT the official word on the Santa Fe Depot and it has been donated to the Abernathy Chamber of Commerce. It will take two weeks to complete the paper work on donating the Depot to Abernathy, according to a Santa Fe Representative.

After the paper work has been completed, the Chamber of Commerce will have several months in which to raise the money to have it moved. There is no deadline date as to when the Depot has to be moved.

When it gets warm enough, a crew of volunteers will be needed to remove the platform from the Depot so it can be moved. We hope that there will be enough interest in this project by all members of the community in order to see it through.

WHAT IS A GOOD newspaper publisher? Is there even such a critter? Joe Miller of the Frederick, Okla. Press penned the following for his readers.

"A good publisher is one who has never made a mistake, who has never offended anyone; who is always right; who can ride two horses at the same time he is straddling the fence with two ears to the ground; who always says the right thing at the right time; who always picks the right horses as well as the right politician to win; who never has to apologize; who has no enemies and who has worlds of prestige with all classes, creeds and races.

"There has never been a good publisher.

Emergency Loans Available From Farmers Home Administration

Emergency loans for farmers, ranchers, or aquaculture operators are available through county offices of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). Dwight I. Overton, FmHA county supervisor, said today.

Overton asked that those who need farm credit as a result of excessive rain, hail, high winds, May 4, 1982 thru July 10, 1982, make their needs known at the Farmers Home Administration office at Room 211, Federal Building, 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock.

Applications for assistance in the disaster stricken counties will be accepted by Farmers Home until October 20, 1983, for physical and production losses.

FmHA loans covering actual physical and production losses may be used to replace installation, equipment, or buildings, (including homes) lost through this disaster. Funds may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, or to meet interest and depreciation payments on current real estate and chattel debts.

Funds can be used for essential operating and living costs," Overton said.

Applicants that certify that other credit is not available may receive loans covering actual losses at an interest rate of eight percent and are scheduled for repayment as rapidly as feasible consistent with the applicant's ability to pay. Applicants who certify that other credit is available may also receive these loans at a higher interest rate.

To be eligible for an emergency loan an applicant must have suffered losses from the disaster.

With winter about half gone, we have had plenty of snow and ice. Hopefully the rest of winter won't be as bad.

I saw Kori Heard on TV the other night. It took me a while to figure out if it was Kori. I kept thinking I had seen her somewhere. I remember she came in the Review and talked to all of us.

Our son, Larry, and daughter, Janet, came in to see Omer while he was in the hospital.

Larry got to stay over a week with us.

Larry and I saw several people we knew in the elevator and cafeteria at Methodist Hospital, while there.

I read in Sunday's AJ that the SS had paid out $6 million to dead people. They are beginning an investigation of it and said it could run as high as $100 million dollars paid out to dead people.

No wonder the system is broke and in bad need of help.

FHA/HERO Chapters are planning activities focusing on the theme "Future Homemakers of America... An Investment in Youth!" Through chapter projects, 400,000 teenagers explore their multiple roles in family, community and career life.

The Abernathy FHA/HERO Chapters plan for this week a HEALTH FAIR for the junior and senior high and community. Demonstrations, displays and information on nutrition, exercise, alcohol, school stress, child abuse, smoking and more will be available which will encourage students to have a healthier life.

Two of the state FHA/HERO projects will be featured: "Youth Against Cancer" and "The Student Body and Soul". The story of the health fair will be told at the Area I FHA/HERO meeting in Lubbock March 4 and 5.

Local FHA/HERO members will also attend a Job Fair at Texas Tech University in the Home Economics Building Friday, February 11. Saturday the 12th, the Abernathy FHA will hold their annual Sweetheart Banquet.

Ministers' Association Meets

Monday, February 2, the Abernathy Ministers' Association met at the First United Methodist Church at 10 a.m. Those present were Jose Rodriguez, Lloyd Riddles, Roswell Brunner, Ken Horn, Barry Tillie, Lester Anderson, Tommie Beck and Scott Wells.

The meeting was called to order by President Ken Horn and opened in prayer by Tommie Beck. Barry Tillie, our newest minister, was introduced and welcomed.

Business discussion began with the question of the distribution of government butter and cheese. It was decided that the Abernathy Ministers' Association would not distribute this as a group, so there would be no conflict with another local organization which was interested in this.

Tommie Beck presented the financial statement and explained the various disbursements. The statement was approved. Also discussed and approved was a more efficient method of keeping records as to how and when the Association helps people with groceries and gasoline. Everyone enjoyed the fellowship and refreshments at the meeting. The meeting was closed in prayer by Lester Anderson.

"Holy, Holy, Holy"

The title song we sing so often is a "fixture" in many local churches every Sunday morning. Yet, the word holy has been debased by many, and most do not realize the impact of the word Holy.

This word "Holy" (Kadosh - Heb.) literally means to be marked off; to separate; thus to be different. My, how we fear in being different.

Peter, in writing his first epistle (1:15-16), sums up the Christian life as one of being holy. Verses 15-16 reveal four aspects: (1) A Command; be ye holy. We are commanded to live a holy life. (2) A Comparison; But as He which called you is holy, so be ye holy. We are compared to God as the standard, not others. (3) A Conduct; be holy in all manner of living (Ampl.) The word "all" is inclusive of everything we do. (4) A Confirmation; be holy for I am holy. This was the Old Testament teaching from Leviticus 11:44-45, and confirms the lifestyle of a Christian.

Peter in writing from Rome exhorts his readers to be different in their present lifestyle, "not being shaped by the world systems. The present application asks the questions: Does your life reflect the difference that Christ brings? Is your household different because of the holiness there? This holy life is not necessarily characterized by a Bible tucked under the arm and the frown of having just eaten a dill pickle. This holy life that Peter calls us to is from the inside, visualized on the outside.

Farmer Considerations Regarding PIK

Whether or not a farmer decides to participate in the new payment-in-kind (PIK) program this year depends entirely on his individual situation, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Each farmer has got to assess his own operation and his current financial situation, and he's got to 'put the pencil' to all the different parts of the program as they apply to his business," says Dr. Ron Knutson. "There is no substitute for working through the program and making all the calculations you possibly can at this point."

The Extension Service has prepared a special worksheet that can help farmers with their calculations. The worksheet is available through county Extension agents.

"Farmers need to know their variable costs, which are crucial in determining participation in PIK," emphasizes the economist. "If a farmer is just covering variable costs in his crop production, participation will likely pay."

Of course, farmers need to be sure to consider deficiency payments when they're making their calculations, emphasizes Knutson. Such payments are based on the difference between target prices spelled out in the farm program and actual average market prices. These payments could be substantial this year, particularly for wheat and cotton. However, deficiency payments can be made only on planted acres, so this makes participation in the PIK program less attractive.

"If a producer has a tight profit margin, he's a good candidate for participation in the program," believes Knutson. "While participation might be questionable for a farmer with a wider profit margin."

The program should also be advantageous to farmers with high operating costs and to those with marginal cropland. Farmers with low yielding land might consider putting more of it in the program, suggests the economist.

"Although it's extremely difficult to generalize about the program, we generally feel that corn and grain sorghum farmers will find it advantageous to participate except in those areas where they have sunk considerable expenses for herbicides and fertilizer into the land in preparation for planting (mainly southern and coastal areas)," Knutson says.

TFU Head Say Crop-Swap Plan Needs More Work
Texas Farm Union President Mike Moeller said today that President Reagan's recently announced payment in kind program represents both good news and the bad news for Texas farmers. "The good news," said Moeller, "is that the Reagan Administration in announcing this very radical departure from its earlier program now admits that its

"Cotton farmers will need to look closely at their operating costs in making a decision while wheat farmers may find it difficult to participate at any level. Rice growers will need to consider participating at the 80 percent or higher level."

Basically, the PIK program is designed to take cropland out of production and to pay participating farmers with surplus commodities, many of which are in government storage. Payments would be in like commodities—a cotton farmer who participated would be paid in cotton and a corn farmer would receive corn, for example. The farmer can dispose of the commodity in any way he sees fit other than putting it back in government storage.

"In other words, the program is aimed at reducing farm product surpluses and eventually raising prices," says Knutson. "Just what effect it will have on prices depends on a lot of things, such as the degree of farmer participation and possible major foreign sales."

PIK commodities will first become available in the fall, at which time market prices could soften, particularly if farmer participation in the program is low.

Knutson advises farmers to seek all the information they can get their hands on regarding the new PIK program. County ASCS officials will be administering the program and should have the latest information

1981 Farm Bill has been a failure. This, of course, comes as small consolation to the farmers who were driven out of business under the Administration's 1981 plan."

On the other hand, Moeller said, "The bad news is that if the President fails to make some significant changes in his recently announced payment in kind crop-swap program, farmers won't be much better off under this program than they were under his earlier one."

Most important, Moeller said, was the need to provide for a floor price for raw agricultural commodities. "Without such a minimum price guarantee," Moeller said, "Most farmers probably won't be able to participate in the new program, and those who do might still end up in the red in 1983."

COTTON TODAY

NCC ENDORSES LEGISLATION: National Cotton Council President Ed Breihan in letters to Senate Agriculture Subcommittee Chairman Thad Cochran (R-Miss.) and Sam Nunn (D-Ga.) has endorsed proposed Farmers Home Administration legislation.

The measure would: (1) raise the existing limitation on FmHA operating loans from $100,000 to $500,000 and (2) provide for consolidation or rescheduling of existing loans.

Both Cochran and Nunn have announced they will introduce such legislation when Congress returns.

In his letter, Breihan emphasized action is essential in order to provide necessary financing for many producers who now find themselves in difficult financial straits because of poor crops, the burden of carrying existing loans at previously high interest rates, and continued weak prices.

EXPORTS SALES JUMP: Net new sales for the 1982-83 marketing year increased by 140,300 running bales for the week ended January 13 -- second highest for the marketing year -- to bring the new season's total commitments to 3,617,000 bales.

The major buyers were Canada, 42,100 bales; Japan, 36,800; and South Korea, 24,400. Exports for the week totaled 80,100 bales.

available as it comes from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Changes are still likely regarding various details about the program, since the USDA has until Feb. 25 to issue final regulations. The signing deadline for farmers is Mar. 11.

LUBBOCK, Friday, February 4, 1983

The decision to participate or not to participate in the payment-in-kind (PIK) program involves innumerable complexities, notes Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., "so every producer should get all the help he can get in making that decision as opposed to taking an 'I'd rather do it myself' attitude."

There is only one facet to the whole program that is more or less cut and dried, Johnson adds, and that's the fact that there is a desperate need to reduce acreage and production of the four crops involved, which, other things being equal, means full participation in the program should be the logical choice. The "other things being equal" of course refers to the 1983 economic impact on individual farmers.

And on that score, a substantial aid in making determinations is available to cotton producers in the form of a "payment-in-kind participation worksheet" prepared by Dr. Carl Anderson, Cotton Marketing Economist at Texas A&M University. Copies of the worksheet can be obtained from county Extension agents or from the FCG office in Lubbock, Box 3640, zip 79452, telephone 806/762-0553.

The worksheet offers a step-by-step procedure for determining expected returns over variable costs if a farm does not participate in PIK, the cost of PIK participation, the amount of PIK cotton to be received, and the price at which the PIK will need to be sold to reach a break-even position.

"Then comes the big and perhaps the most important question," Johnson says, "what will PIK cotton be worth?"

A number of merchandising firms are offering contracts on PIK cotton at various base prices, some to be settled on quality differences applicable to the 1982 crop cotton loan, others on 1983 crop differences, which are yet to be announced. However, according to preliminary figures put together by PCG and others, it appears that the lower mike cottons (below 3.3) in 1983 may be discounted less in the loan schedule than in 1982, perhaps as much as 20 or 30 points less.

Figures also indicate there should be no significant change in loan program discounts on predominant High Plains grades and staples. Therefore it would appear that, given a choice, producers might do well to opt for settlement of contracts on 1983 loan differences instead of 1982 differences.

Also farmers are being cautioned to consider other costs involved in marketing PIK cotton, including load-out charges, market discounts on light weight bales that may be received, and perhaps compression charges. USDA has said it will not pay compression charges, but some are of the opinion that this cost will fall on the buyer, not the seller. Either way, it's something that should be included in overall calculations, Johnson says.

Farmers Breakfast Meeting

Dunn Seed Farms, Inc. of Seminole will hold a breakfast meeting at 7 a.m. on February 15 at 924 Steakhouse Abernathy.

Topics to be discussed are cotton contracts, Durum Wheat Contracts for 1983. All area farmers and ginners are invited to attend.

"Beware Of Phony Mail Order Schemes"

Here are some suggested guidelines when buying through the mail order industry:

1. Examine the offer carefully: If it sounds too good to be true, it often is. Beware of exaggerated claims on products or price. If the claims relate to your health or physical appearance, your family doctor may be a good source of advice as to the likely value of the product. Be particularly wary of claims by unknown sellers that they have achieved a "scientific discovery" that somehow eluded the big companies or established professionals. Read advertising claims for what they actually say rather than what you might hope they offer.
2. Do not rely solely on a picture of the item. Note the description, size, weight, color and contents. Be sure to completely describe the article or service you are purchasing in the order.
3. Give explicit instructions.
4. When ordering holiday gifts by mail, be sure to do so well in advance to avoid heavy seasonal mail volume. If the company offers such a service, be sure to specify whether or not the gift should be sent directly to the recipient. Clearly indicate the recipient's name and address and how the gift card should be signed.

5. Look for a company policy on returns. If the policy isn't stated, ask for it.
6. If a substitute is acceptable, indicate it.
7. Be sure to enclose shipping, handling or tax charges with the order.
8. Do not send cash with the order. Pay only by check, money order, or if acceptable, credit card.
9. Keep a record of the order, including the name and address of the company with which you are dealing.
10. If there are any doubts about the company, check it out before placing an order. You might be guided on a company's reliability by inquiries to the Better Business Bureau and Chamber of Commerce in the area of the company, or you can consult your state or local consumer protection

The IRS says that some taxpayers must itemize their deductions and some should itemize their deductions because it will save them money. Check the instructions in your tax return package for details.
