School Board Canvasses Election Returns

The Abernathy School Board met Monday night at 7:30 p.m. to take care of several business items, one of which was to canvass the School Board election returns.

Gale Davis gave the invocation and the minutes of the March meeting were approved quickly without any discussion.

Election Returns Canvassed

The board canvassed the election returns and certified that the votes were as follows: Incumbent Bud Rhodes, candidate for place three, received 106 votes; and incumbent Laurin Prather, candidate for place one, received 101 votes. Both candidates ran unopposed and were re-elected to three year terms. A total of 108 votes were cast in the election, four of which were write-in votes.

Bids For Ag Building

The board moved to take bids for the construction of the proposed school ag building. Bids must be turned in by May 2, which is when the school board will meet next. At this time the bids will be opened and discussed.

The proposed ag building will have two classrooms, two ag shops, two offices and a restroom-concession

Girls District Track Meet Saturday

The girls District Track Meet was postponed due to unpleasant weather Tuesday. It has been re-scheduled for this Saturday at Tulia. 7th grade girls through varsity will be competing Saturday against other track teams in the District. They are Littlefield, Muleshoe, Dimmitt, Tulia and Friona. The meet will start at 9:30 a.m. at Tulia High School.

Varsity track coach Larry Steele stated that Muleshoe, Littlefield and Tulia are going to be the toughest teams for the varsity girls. "Our girls are lacking experience and depth, but we will be tough competitors," Steele added. He also stated that the 8th grade girls stand a good chance of winning District.

area. Alternative additions to the master plan will be implemented later depending on if funds are available. Some of these alternatives are an open shed area and a show barn.

Insurance

Fire and extended coverage on school facilities will expire with Hubbard Insurance May 31. Therefore, the board moved to call for insurance bids this month and will contact all of the local insurance companies.

Gid Adkisson also checked to see what it would cost to insure school computers, which have been valued at $72 thousand. Hubbard Insurance gave an estimate of $486 to cover the computers for one year. The board moved that Adkisson should go ahead and negotiate an insurance policy to cover these computers.

1983-84 Calendar Approved

The board reviewed the 1983-84 calendar and approved it. It was not approved last month because a date for spring break had not been agreed on. Speck Cox suggested that spring break not be held the week of the Plainview Stock Show because some families prefer to go on vacation at this time. Gale Davis had another point stating that she had heard that some teachers prefer spring break the same week as the Plainview Show because they could see their children show their animals.

The board discussed the matter and moved to have spring break March 12-16, the same week of the Plainview Stock Show.

Update 19

Update 19 was discussed. This is a policy that concerns the dismissal of a school employee before his or her term has expired. Presently, there is no time limit as to how long an employee has to appeal for a hearing after he has been fired. The board will need to decide how many days an employee has to appeal for a hearing after being fired, and the number of days that will be allowed before the actual hearing.

Other Business

The board approved the annual National Honor Society trip to Austin. The trip will be held May 15-18 and of the 33 NHS members, 27-30 will probably go to Austin. These students will tour Austin and be Pages at the Texas House of Representatives one day.

Transfer student John Barraza, who is moving to Lubbock, will be allowed to finish this school term at Abernathy High School. He is a sophomore.

The school board re-appointed Colleen Cecil as the Commodity Representative for Abernathy Schools. She is authorized to receive government commodities for the school.

The board will allow Carl Irlbeck and Larry Steele, AHS basketball coaches, to hold their annual summer basketball camp here. The boys camp will be held June 13-17 and the girls camp June 20-24. Only Abernathy School District students will be permitted to attend the camp and they cannot be over 14 years of age.

The Texas Association of School Boards leadership workshop will be held in Austin May 6-7. None of the school board members have decided to attend this workshop yet.

School enrollment is down 15 students from last year with 955 presently enrolled. The lunchroom fund is still in the red, but the amount was not available at the time of the meeting. The tax collections are coming right along and collections are about where they should be at this time.

Following the executive session, the board accepted the resignation of Patricia McMenamy. The meeting adjourned.

ON THE COUNTY LINE

BY KEITH TOOLEY

I WAS READING in the Plainview paper that Hale County has an unemployment rate of 11.1 percent. This means 1,785 Hale County folks are out of work. There are some 16,073 persons in the county's workforce.

The article went on to state that unemployment is at the highest level it has ever been in Hale County in the last decade. The record number of jobless has been blamed on the area's declining agricultural economy.

Hale County unemployment rate is above the state unemployment rate of 8.8 percent.

We can certainly understand why so many are unemployed. You can see how it has hit Abernathy as jobs are scarce and some businesses have been forced to take some of their employees off of the payroll in order to make ends meet.

One statement says it all when the economy is depressed in small agricultural communities such as Abernathy: "When the farmers have a bad year it hurts the entire community."

The wise old weather forecaster at Post says we are going to have a good year. So we will remain optimistic about 1983.

EDUCATION IS A wonderful thing. If you couldn't sign your name, you'd have to pay cash.

HAVE YOU HEARD the one about the scientist who discovered that feeding seagulls to porpoises would make the porpoises immortal?

Well, it seems the scientist went to an adjoining state to a zoo and brought back some seagulls for his research.

As he was leaving with the load of seagulls, he accidentally ran over a lion which had escaped from the state zoo.

When the scientist got back to his laboratory, he was met by the police and placed under arrest.

The charge: "Transporting gulls over state lions for immortal porpoises." From the Editor's Corner-Joe Harrison.

Schaaps To Perform At Chamber Banquet

Featured at the Abernathy Chamber of Commerce banquet this year will be the talented Schaap Brothers, who will sing country and western and gospel songs.

The banquet will be held Thursday, April 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

There will not be a guest speaker at the banquet this year, but those in attendance will enjoy a meal catered by "Fens and Hens" of Lubbock, about 45 minutes of beautiful music from the Schaap Brothers, and the presentation of the awards. The "Farm Family of the Year" and the "Citizen of the Year" have been selected and will be announced at the banquet.

Tickets to the Chamber banquet are $7 each and can be acquired from any Chamber member. Rod Ellis and Bill Scott are in charge of ticket sales and have tickets for Chamber members to pick up and sell.

Chamber President John Hale stated that the banquet will be shorter this year as there have been complaints in the past that the banquet is too long. But he stated it will be a very enjoyable program and invites everyone to attend.

GSPA Requests Removal Of CCC Corn From Texas High Plains

Grain Sorghum Producers Association has requested Secretary of Agriculture John Block to relocate the corn which Commodity Credit Corporation is holding in the Texas High Plains and use it for PIK payments. USDA is seeking to buy grain from farmers to fill their PIK commitments. Severe shortages of PIK grain exists in several states.

Plains area in payment for production taken out in some other region. Block said, "If we use any of that grain (the CCC-owned corn) to pay for production taken out of the northern corn belt, that grain is going to be transported back to the northern corn belt, or in that area."

In a letter to Secretary Block and in conversations with other USDA officials, GSPA Executive Director Elbert Harp stated that the use of the CCC-owned corn would provide grain needed for some of the PIK payments and, at the same time, relieve the severe shortage of storage facilities in the Texas High Plains. Harp pointed out that all storage facilities in many Texas High Plains counties are filled, leaving no space available for the 1983 crop.

USDA owns approximately 42 million bushels of corn that was shipped to Texas in 1980. The corn was purchased in the northern corn belt after the Russian grain embargo and, to relieve storage problems in the northern area, the grain was shipped to Texas for storage. In 1981, USDA started selling the corn in competition with High Plains producers, breaking the local market. The sales were stopped when GSPA and Texas Corn Growers Association organized to bring legal action.

GSPA believes PIK payments in the grain-deficit area would be one way to remove this corn from Texas. The sorghum association is concerned about the lack of sufficient storage space for the 1983 crop and believes their proposal, if implemented, will help relieve this critical problem.

Conservation District Measures Water Levels In Hale County Wells

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District has completed its annual program of measuring depth-to-water levels in the 27 wells in Hale County. These wells are part of a larger network of more than 950 observation wells scattered throughout the District's 15-county service area.

Shorly Lancaster was able to complete all measurements of "static" water levels in observation wells and tag them with the District's identification sticker for owner information.

"Several irrigators stopped me in the field to ask about declines and what their water was doing," said Shorly. "We have initial results for each of the 15 counties, but tabulated data on the entire observation network readings is not expected to be complete until mid-year."

Hale County's 1982-1983 depth-to-water table below surface minimum readings was at 85.06 feet, and the maximum level read was at 215.98 feet. This year's average change in depth-to-water in the county was -1.12 feet, which compares with a 1981-1982 county reading of -1.00 feet.

Comparing the rate of change calculated this year for these wells shows a minimum decline change of +3.87 feet and a maximum decline change of -4.14 feet.

The Water District keeps a record of annual decline and rate of change going back to 1962. The data is used for making projections of decline rates, for determining the amount of water left in storage, and as a basis for the income tax depletion allowance claims on landowner's tax returns.

4-H Plant And Soil Science Awards Program

The Quaker Oats Foundation, Chicago, Ill., has expanded its 4-H support through sponsorship of the national 4-H plant and soil science awards program.

The 4-H plant and soil science program is relatively new and is designed to help 4-H'ers learn more about plants and soils and their relationships.

4-H'ers will study the biological facts about plants and soils, including plant growth and reproduction, plant characteristics and use of plants, in addition to career opportunities in the industry. Through practical, learn-by-doing experiences, 4-H'ers learn skills that last a lifetime.

Quaker Oats' support of the program provides for $1,000 scholarships and trips for six national winners to attend the 62nd National 4-H Congress, Nov. 27-Dec. 1, 1983, in Chicago. The 4-H plant and soil science program is conducted through the Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H. Awards are arranged through the National 4-H Council, a non-profit educational organization that uses private resources to help expand and strengthen the 4-H program.

More information on the 4-H plant and soil science program is available at the county Extension office at 6th and Ash Streets, 293-8481. 4-H programs are open to all persons between the ages of 9 and 19 regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex or national origin.

Texas Farmers Go "PIK-ING"

Texas farmers have signed up en masse for the PIK (payment-in-kind) program and plan to take some 9.3 million acres out of crop production for the 1983 season.

uction is out of a base of almost 24 million acres of wheat, cotton, grain sorghum, corn, rice, barley and oats.

Farmers will idle 3.5 million acres of cotton out of a base of 8.1 million; 3.1 million acres of wheat out of 7.4 million; 2.4 million acres of corn and grain sorghum out of 6.9 million; 300,000 acres of rice out of 600,000; and 35,000 acres of oats and barley out of 628,000.

The land being idled in Texas is part of some 82 million acres or about a third of the U.S. cropland being taken out of production this year.

"Farmers in Texas as well as the other states went for the PIK program in a big way," says Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "After three years of building supplies and experiencing low prices and incomes, farmers were ready to participate in PIK, a program devised to pay farmers with surplus farm commodities for taking their land out of production."

Despite the drop in cotton acreage, Texas farmers could still produce a crop equal to or better than last year's which was sharply reduced when hail destroyed some 2 million acres in the South Plains, notes Anderson. Of course, weather again will be a big factor this year. And yields likely will be up because farmers will be using their best acres, having idled their least productive land.

Wheat, corn, grain sorghum and rice should be down sharply in Texas due to sign-up in PIK, but again weather conditions and farming of the most productive land will be key factors, says the economist.

"With the reduced production this year and an improving economy in the U.S. and abroad, farmers should see some strengthening in crop prices," believes Anderson. "Some price improvements have already started in some commodities in anticipation of this year's reduced production. Also, export activities may pick up soon if other countries see the current market situation as most favorable instead of risking higher prices later in the year."

Stronger market prices along with lower interest rates and lower production costs should get farmers back on the road to economic recovery in the year ahead, says the economist.

Farmers Union Hosts Jim Hightower Saturday

District 2 of the Texas Farmers Union will hold its annual banquet on Saturday, April 9th at 7:00 p.m. The banquet site is the Farmers Cooperative Complex located at 3800 Southeast Drive in Lubbock. Jim Hightower, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture and Mike Moeller, President of Texas Farmers Union will address the banquet, states Melvin Lowrey, District Director.

Lowrey said, "Hightower, well known for his support of family agriculture, plans to give an informative speech on the Texas Department of Agriculture's efforts to boost farm income and open up more markets for our products. He will also talk on the benefits of an ongoing supply management program for all commodities." Lowrey adds, "Mike Moeller will speak on agricultural issues that will be acted upon by the Texas Legislature. Property taxes, the homestead protection laws, enactment of the Family Farm and Ranch Security Act, alcohol fuels development and the regulation of natural gas for on-farm use are just a few of the important issues that will affect us as producers."

Predicting a large attendance at the banquet, Lowrey said, "Our attendance at this meeting will show our appreciation to two great spokesmen for family agriculture."

Non-members can purchase tickets at the door. Door prizes will be given. For additional information contact Mark Moran at 795-8225.

LUBBOCK, Friday, April 1, 1983

The 26th annual meeting of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock-based 25-county cotton producer organization, has been set for 1:00 p.m. on Friday, April 22 in the Banquet Hall of Lubbock Memorial Civic Center, according to President Tommy Fondren of Lorenzo.

Nineteenth District Congressman Kent Hance of Lubbock will be one of the principal speakers on a three-and-a-half hour program built around a review of the scientific research, market development and government forces that determine cotton's destiny.

Other speakers will include top officials from Cotton Incorporated, the nationwide producers' research and marketing company; the National Cotton Council, cotton's multi-segment association that works for cotton's future on all fronts, and possibly some comment from the upper echelon of State government. More information on the line-up of speakers will be released later when tentative commitments are confirmed, Fondren said.

From PCG, which represents almost 20,000 producers in a 25-county High Plains area surrounding Lubbock, there will be annual reports from President Fondren and Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. PCG, while working with national organizations for the betterment of cotton in general, concerns itself primarily with research, promotion and service aimed specifically at improving the conditions under which High Plains cotton is grown and marketed.

Door prizes will be given at various intervals during the afternoon, and coffee and soft drinks, courtesy of Elanco Products Company, will be served at a "half-time break."

At the conclusion of the membership meeting, PCG's 50-man Board of Directors will meet in the convention center's room 103 to elect 1983-84 officers and conduct other association business. In addition to Fondren, current officers are Vice President Gerald Caswell of Brownfield, Bennie Claunch of Bula, Secretary-Treasurer, and Gary Ivey of Ralls, Chairman of the Board.

PCG officials emphasize that all parties interested in the future of cotton are invited to attend.

Horse Saddled In Memory Of Riding Club Member At ABC Rodeo Parade

In January, the Abernathy Riding Club lost another wonderful member, Clarence Liles, age 77. In his memory, a horse with an empty saddle was led in the ABC Rodeo Parade March 23 in Lubbock.

Clarence joined the Abernathy Club in 1959 and was a very active and devoted member of the club and a true friend to one and all. Less than a year ago, Clarence won the honors of the beautiful trophy at the Spring Roundup Trail Ride as the oldest person in the ride. His presence and friendship will surely be missed.

Sharon Prather To Meet With State Officials At April 7-8 Seminar

Top women leaders from around Texas will get a behind-the-scenes look at state government in Austin April 7-8 as part of a new statewide leadership development program.

Fifty-eight participants in "Leadership Texas" will meet with Lt. Gov. William Hobby, Speaker of the House Gib Lewis, former Chief Justice Joe Greenhill and the top echelon of Governor Mark White's staff in the second of six 1983 seminars on Texas and Texas issues.

The "Leadership Texas" 1983 Participant from the Lubbock area is Sharon Prather, 34, of Abernathy, community volunteer with the West Texas Museum and the Junior League of Lubbock. She also assists in her husband's farming, real estate, investments and farm implements businesses.

The seminar will examine the legislature, the courts and the governor's office, as well as the lobbying process, the Capitol press and state finances.

"It will be an intense, two-day course on the way Texas government works," said Martha Farmer, executive director of "Leadership Texas." "We're giving the women a chance to question state leaders firsthand, and a chance to express their own views on state policies."

The "Leadership Texas" group, selected in January, includes corporate managers, entrepreneurs, attorneys, educators, community volunteers and health care professionals. "Leadership Texas" is designed to prepare women for state leadership positions. It is a program of the Texas Foundation for Women's Resources, an Austin-based educational organization.

The first seminar, held in February also in Austin, focused on leadership skills and opportunities. Governor Mark White and State Treasurer Ann Richards were among the speakers.

Sarah Weddington, director of the Office of State-Federal Relations is keynote speaker at the opening luncheon session Thursday April 7. Following her talk is a panel on "How Texas Government Works," moderated by Elspeth Rostow, dean of the LBJ School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas. Panelists will be Hobby, Greenhill and Pike Powers, executive assistant to Gov. White.

The group will meet with Speaker Lewis Thursday afternoon in the Visitor's Gallery of the House of Representatives and Senator Lloyd Doggett in the Senate chambers. Later, they will attend a reception in honor of the female members of the Texas Legislature.

Thursday evening, the women will question members of the Capitol press corps at a dinner at Scholz's Garten.

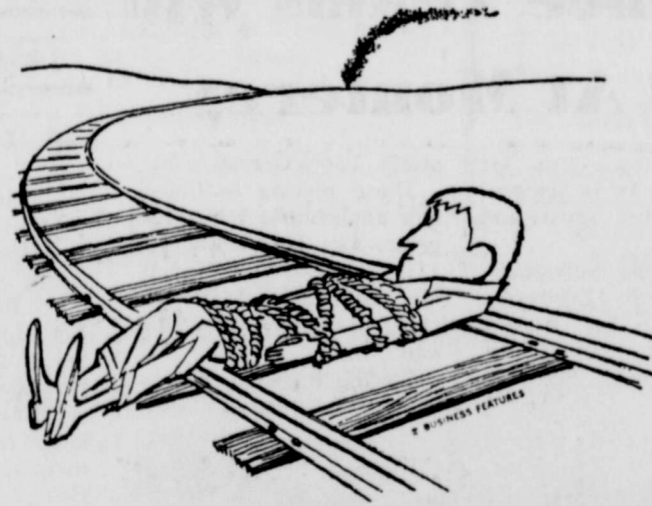

Myra McDaniel, general counsel to Governor White, will speak at a Friday breakfast session. A Friday morning panel on "How to Get Appointed" will feature Mary Hardesty, special assistant for research and policy coordination to Gov. White; Peggy Rosson, newly appointed member of the Public Utility Commission; and Dwayne Holman, special assistant for appointments to Governor White.

E.J. (Jack) Martin, editor and publisher of "Texas Business" Magazine, will be the luncheon speaker on Friday.

A panel on "Ethical Issues in State Government" and a round-table discussion with legislative lobbyists, both Friday afternoon, will close out the seminar.

Four more seminars are planned during 1983: "The People of Texas," in San Antonio May 24-25; "The Lands of Texas," in Amarillo July 19-20; "The Powers of Texas," in Houston September 22-23; and "The Economy of Texas," in Dallas November 1-2.
