Parent's Night At Elementary School Tuesday

During the 1982-83 school year, each Abernathy Elementary student has been enrolled in the Pegasus-Pace Reading Program. A special slide presentation has been prepared by the elementary teachers to acquaint parents with a new reading program. The faculty of Abernathy Elementary would like to extend an invitation to all parents to attend Parent's Night scheduled for Tuesday, May 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the Abernathy Elementary Learning Center. All parents are invited to come see the presentation and afterwards visit informally with the elementary faculty.

TABS Results For Abernathy To Be Presented Tuesday

Results of the fourth Texas Assessment of Basic Skills tests taken by third, fifth, and ninth grade students last February will be presented in a public meeting May 17, 1983, in the School Cafeteria at 7 p.m. All interested parents are invited to attend this meeting where the results, and comments on what they may mean, will be presented.

"While district aggregate scores will be reported to the public, individual results will be released only to the student, parents or guardian, and school personnel directly involved," Mr. Charles Bowen, Director of Guidance, points out. School personnel will be available after the meeting to answer questions.

J.D. Webb Recipient Of 25 Year Service Pin

J.D. Webb, long time Abernathy resident, was recently presented a 25 year service pin for his service as an employee of the United States and the Postal Service. Postmaster Ken Moreland made the presentation last Friday at the Abernathy Post Office.

Webb has accumulated 25 years as an employee of the United States, 5 in the service and 20 with the Postal Service. He also received a letter from Elmer J. Reed, Jr., SC Manager and Postmaster in Lubbock, which stated: "Congratulations are in order to you for the service you have rendered to the Federal Government. You have helped the Postal Service maintain continuity by being here through thick and thin."

Webb has lived in Abernathy since he was 2 years old. He attended Abernathy Schools and graduated from AHS in 1933.

In 1941, he joined the Air Force and became a Flying Cadet. J.D. married the former Clyde Willis in 1942. He got out of the service in 1946 and returned to Abernathy.

Webb attended Texas Tech and graduated in 1951. For the next 12 years, he farmed a 1/2 section of land 1 1/2 miles west of Abernathy. He also started his own business, Webb Advertising, in 1958. It was a specialty advertising agency which was concerned with printing advertisements on various objects and gift items. They printed ads on everything from pens and pencils to specialty gift items. Webb had this business in Abernathy for four years until 1962.

In 1962, Webb went to work for the Abernathy Post Office. For the first 10 years, Webb carried Route 1. He took over Route 2 in 1982 when Jack Hackler retired and has carried this route the past 10 years. Webb has served the local post office the past 20 years.

J.D. and Clyde have been married for the past 41 years. They have a daughter, Donna, who presently lives in Dallas. She has worked for an oil company, Sun Oil, the past 12 years.

J.D.'s high school class, the Class of 1933, will be having their 50th anniversary reunion July 2 at the Holiday Inn on Avenue Q in Lubbock. He stated that 20 class members will probably attend the reunion.

Chamber Discusses Depot, July 4th And Name Change

The Abernathy Chamber of Commerce met Thursday, May 5 to discuss several important items such as the Senior Citizens Center, the July 4th Celebration and changing the name of the organization.

The Chamber met at 7 a.m. at the City Hall with 12 members and 3 guests present, Mona Toler, Mary Harkey and Martha Stark. The invocation was given by Leland Phillips.

Arno Struve, the new President, presided at the business meeting. The minutes of the April Chamber meeting were approved. The financial report was discussed and the Chamber Banquet income and expenditures were noted.

Henry Rieff was then given special recognition for being elected president of the Board of Directors of SPAG.

The Chamber decided to pay dues to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber renews this membership every year.

A thank you note was read to the Chamber from the Lewis Lutrick family. They thanked the Chamber for being selected "Farm Family of the Year" at the banquet.

The Chambers C.D. with First Federal Savings and Loan is coming up for renewal. It was decided that it would be put in a Money Market Investment Account.

Progress is being made on the Senior Citizens Center. Locals have been very generous in contributing to the fund as almost $11 thousand has been donated. The foundation is presently being prepared for the depot. Rod Ellis reported that a moving company from Plainview has been obtained to move the depot after the foundation has been a laid.

Jerry Adams has requested that he be allowed to purchase a piece of metal, attached to the side of the depot, for $5. This topic was tabled until the June meeting.

Arno Struve stated that the Chamber of Commerce name implies business only and suggested changing the name to "Chamber of Commerce Development". His reasoning is to stress that the Chamber is involved in projects concerned with improving and developing all sectors of the community, not just the business sector. No official action was taken on this item.

A decision will not be made until all Chamber members have voiced their opinion. The 4th of July celebration was discussed next. Martha Stark, representing the Young Homemakers, explained to the Chamber their plans concerning the 4th. Their idea was to promote "the family" at the celebration this year. The Chamber decided not to have the 4th of July celebration this year and wait to have a large celebration next year.

It was suggested that the Chamber have some type of money making project and that the money raised go toward the Diamond Jubilee Celebration next year, which will be Abernathy's 75th Birthday. This suggestion was approved.

Before the meeting adjourned, Arno Struve named the following committees for the year: Breakfast, Charles Bowen; Membership and Attendance, Clayton Enger, chairman, with Ken Horn, Condy Billingsley, Lloyd Riddles, Ross Brunner and Tommie Beck; Publicity, Keith Tooley; Banquet, Y.F. Snodgrass, Speck Cox, Rod Ellis; Crime Line, Charles Nelson; Nominating, John Hale, Bill Scott and Richard DuBose; Essay Contest, Mona Toler; Finance, Richard Boyles, Darryl Brightbill and Bill Scott; 75th Anniversary Development, Diana Phillips, Tommie Lane, Dan Ward and Ruth Fulton; Lewis Patterson, Telephone.

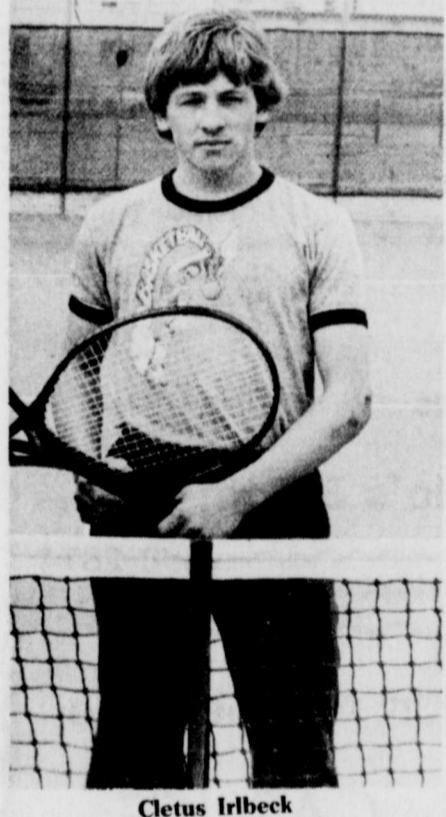

Those committees who need additional assistance or help should contact other Chamber members or other interested persons to join them when working on a project.

RECIPIENT OF 25 YEAR SERVICE PIN was J.D. Webb, on the left, who was presented the pin and congratulatory letter from postmaster Ken Moreland, on the right. Webb was in the service for 5 years and has worked for the post office the past 20 years. (Review Photo)

BY KEITH TOOLEY

WE WILL CONTINUE to run the senior citizens fund chart, and a list of those who have contributed, every other week. Contributions keep coming in all the time and locals are encouraged to make a donation, if they haven't done so already.

S.M. ROME of New York Life Insurance Co. has some ideas on what separates losers from winners.

Losers drift through life. Winners have plans and goals.

Losers expect other people to give them happiness. Winners know that contentment comes only from being a whole, independent person.

Losers expect an employer or the government to support them. Winners know that only by delivering a useful product or service at a reasonable cost can one make an honest living.

Losers have lots of problems. Winners consider them challenge.

Losers leave you feeling low. Winners inspire and lift your spirits.

Losers are always part of the problem. Winners are always part of the solution.

Losers are quick to give up and make excuses for failure. Winners have alternate plans.

WORDS OF WISDOM... "Worry is like a rocking chair. It gives you something to do but it doesn't move you closer to the problem."

HOW TO KNOW YOU'RE GROWING OLDER

By Baxter Lane Company
Everything hurts and what doesn't hurt, doesn't work.

The gleam in your eyes is from the sun hitting your bifocals.

You feel like the night before, and you haven't been anywhere.

Your little black book contains only names ending in M.D.

You get winded playing chess.

Your children begin to look middle-aged.

You finally reach the top of the ladder, and find it leaning against the wrong wall.

You join a health club and don't go. You begin to outlive enthusiasm.

You decide to procrastinate, but then never get around to it.

You're still chasing women, but can't remember why.

Your mind makes contracts your body can't meet.

A dripping faucet causes an uncontrollable bladder urge.

You know all the answers, but nobody asks you the questions.

You look forward to a dull evening.

You walk with your head held high trying to get used to your bifocals.

Your favorite part of the newspaper is 25 years ago today.

You turn out the light for economic rather than romantic reasons.

You sit in a rocking chair and can't make it go.

Your knees buckle and your belt won't.

You regret all those mistakes resisting temptation.

You're 17 around the neck, 42 around the waist, and 96 around the golf course.

You stop looking forward to your next birthday.

After painting the town red, you have to take a long rest before applying a second coat.

You're startled the first time you are addressed as old timer.

You remember today that yesterday was your wedding anniversary.

You just can't stand people who are intolerant.

The best part of your day is over when your alarm clock goes off.

You burn the midnight oil after 9 p.m.

Your back goes out more than you do.

A fortune teller offers to read your face.

Your pacemaker makes the garage door go up when you watch a pretty girl go by.

The little gray-haired lady you help across the street is your wife.

County Line Chit Chats

By Faye Ann Nelson

In the year 1906, Mr. W.G. Murray saw a need for a school, a church, and a cemetery for the County Line Community. He unselfishly donated 5 acres out of a section of his land to be used for this purpose.

A 2 or 3 room building of wood structure was built about 1910 so the children of the Community would have a place to go to the school. I was told that the building was used for church services on Sunday. The Church of Christ used it one Sunday, the Methodists used it another Sunday and the Baptists used it the next Sunday. As the community grew, the citizens saw a need for a bigger school building, so in 1926, a brick building was built. It was used until the school was consolidated with the Abernathy School in 1935.

Mr. Murray designated part of the land to be used for burial ground for the families loved ones, so a parcel of ground was used for the first cemetery. Families of the community used the cemetery for the burial of their loved ones, but as people left the community and moved away, the cemetery has been forgotten and neglected.

We have a few old timers in the community who have expressed a desire to have the cemetery cleaned up and markers put on the unmarked graves, where time has caused a fading of the names on the markers.

Last Thursday, May 5, in the Lubbock Avalanche Journal, there appeared an interesting picture and article about how the Carlisle Community had gotten together and cleaned up their cemetery. It inspired a group of us to see if we could get the community of County Line interested in cleaning up our plot of ground and having it brought up to date. If Carlisle can do it, we can do it too. We would like to have some phone calls to tell us how you feel about cleaning it up and putting white crosses on the unmarked graves. We might even do research and find out who is buried out here.

If you have any information about the history of County Line and its cemetery, please call Audrey McGuire, Chairman of the cemetery association at 757-2124. We are going to call a big meeting at the clubhouse and talk about the clean-up project and try to get started on this right away. The Carlisle community said they had been working on their cemetery for two years, so I am sure it will take us two years, which would give us until 1985 to complete the project.

It, of course, takes money to carry out any worthwhile project, so we will be taking donations in order to clean up the cemetery and put up a nice gate. We need to know of someone who would donate wood to make crosses. They are to be painted white.

The Carlisle men wrote to Washington, D.C. and got the exact dimensions to make the crosses like the ones on the National graves. If you haven't been by the Carlisle cemetery, please drive by and see what they have done in the past two years. They are to be congratulated on their fine efforts to finish a project like that. I hope we can be just as successful and I know that once County Line sets a goal they get it done.

We think we have 50 graves in County Line. Carlisle found 135 graves in their cemetery by using a geiger counter. They told us they rented it out of Lubbock and used it to find the graves. If anyone has had experience around here in using one, please call us and let us know. We need all the information that we can get from the Senior Citizens of County Line, Abernathy and Shallowater about the cemetery, or who is buried out here. We plan to make a permanent chart and put it up in the community building so that we will know who is buried in the cemetery. Just call Faye Ann Nelson at 757-2120 or Audrey McGuire at 757-2124.

The History of County Line will be continued next week as soon as more information comes in.

1. Am I so critical that I see a person's weak points quicker than I do his good points?
 2. Am I so childish that everyone has to handle me with caution to keep me from getting mad?
 3. Am I so sensitive that I can make myself miserable by taking in a personal way everything that is said by others?
 4. Am I always thinking that everyone is out of step but me, and that I could be happy if everybody would just do right?
 5. Do I hurt people with my sharp and caustic remarks?
 6. Do I repeat that which should be kept secret and then explain myself saying, "But it's the truth"?
 7. Can I be completely trusted with confidences?
 8. When the good reputation of another is being undermined do I participate?
 9. Do I follow after the things which make peace, or do my words promote strife?

Farm Inputs To Decline With PIK

The high level of farmer participation in the PIK (payment-in-kind) program will have a marked impact on agricultural production expenses, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Overall demand for farm production inputs should decline due to the high unanticipated levels of PIK participation," says Dr. Forrest Stegelin. "This will affect nearly all expenses associated with crop production, but especially fertilizer, seed, pesticides, fuel and energy, and operating credit."

Initial forecasts are that expenditures for farm inputs will decline 12 to 15 percent, notes the economist.

Use of pesticides and seed is expected to decline sharply since these are most closely tied to planted acreage. Total sales of both are expected to fall 14 to 20 percent because of PIK.

Fertilizer use is forecast to decline by 15 to 20 percent, but sales may decline even more due to large inventories and already soft prices.

Machinery purchases are expected to decline only 3 to 5 percent as these sales are closely tied to net farm income which is forecast to improve. Machinery repair expenses should drop 12 to 15 percent.

Fuel use may drop 8 to 10 percent, says Stegelin.

Inputs needed for erosion and weed control on idled acres—seed, chemicals, fencing and other materials—are becoming more expensive as their demand increases.

"To avoid losing sales of big-ticket purchases such as tractors and combines, implement and equipment dealers may soon offer credit for large dollar purchases in exchange for PIK certificates," says Stegelin. "The effort will be the same as using scale tickets at harvest for collateral."

While there are possible negative efforts from PIK on farm supplies, USDA officials believe the long-term benefits to agriculture will outweigh the costs to individual agribusinessmen, says the economist.

Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board Requests Nominations

Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board has set September 15, 1983 as the date for its biennial election of directors. Three sorghum farmers will be elected to the board for six years terms. They will fill positions of directors whose terms expire this fall.

The Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board is responsible for the administration of collections and expenditures of grain sorghum assessments from the twenty-nine county area of the Texas High Plains in which TGSPB operates. Any sorghum farmer within this area is eligible to have his name placed on the ballot.

A nomination requires the farmer's signature to certify that he is willing to serve and the signatures of ten other sorghum farmers who are also subject to the TGSPB assessment. All nominations must be received by TGSPB by August 15, 1983. Nomination forms may be requested from the TGSPB office, Box R, Abernathy, Texas 79311.

September 1, ballots will be mailed to sorghum farmers whose names are on file in the TGSPB office. Ballots will also be available in the office of each county agent in the twenty-nine county TGSPB area.

The TGSPB assessment is used to carry on a program of market development and research to improve the profitability of sorghum production. TGSPB was established by a referendum of sorghum producers in 1969. Counties included are: Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dallam, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Gaines, Hale, Hansford and Hartley. Also included are: Hockley, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Moore, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Sherman, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK, Friday, May 6, 1983

Multiple benefits may be on the horizon for cotton producers if testing of various cottonseed oil-malathion mixtures is successful in the 1983 High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program conducted by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

According to PCG Field Service Director Ed Dean a "too small to be conclusive" test in late season 1982 indicated it may be possible to maintain adequate control at considerably less cost by substituting cottonseed oil for from one-sixth to one-third of the standard 12 ounces per acre of ultra low volume malathion.

First-run cottonseed oil can be bought for about 23 cents per pound. ULV malathion in 1982 cost a little over $1.83 per pound.

A second benefit would come from the price-supporting effect of an additional market for cottonseed oil. PCG's weevil control effort has used as much as 1.5 million pounds of malathion in a single year and has averaged almost 600,000 pounds per year since its inception in 1964. Should it prove practical, replacing a third of this poundage with cottonseed oil in the High Plains program alone would create the potential for a new oil market of 200,000 pounds per year and annual savings adding up to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The 1982 trial involved only 300 acres of cotton and a single application, whereas 1983 test plans call for covering 1,200 acres. The area will be divided into 24 plots, allowing for four treatments. Also, six plots will be selected outside the test and outside the control zone to serve as untreated check fields.

Treatment will begin September 20 and continue until frost or early November. In addition to the standard application of 12 ounces per acre of ULV malathion, there will be trials using formulations of 10 ounces malathion plus six ounces of cottonseed oil, eight ounces malathion plus eight ounces of cottonseed oil, and eight ounces of chemical plus four ounces of oil. Each treatment will be replicated six times.

This thorough testing, Dean hopes, "will tell us whether mixing cottonseed oil with malathion will give us the wide range of advantages claimed by others who have tried vegetable oils as the carrier for other insecticides and defoliants. If so, we may be able to show substantial cost savings in our program and maybe get better control as well."

In the Coastal Bend area of Texas at least two aerial applicators are reported to have made extensive use of vegetable oil as the carrier for water-based insecticides such as Guthion and for defoliants. Both have joined others across the Cotton Belt as enthusiastic advocates of the practice, saying it has enhanced chemical performance and reduced costs.

Sarpalius Says "Farmers Paying Too Much For Natural Gas"

The prices some Panhandle farmers pay for natural gas are exorbitant, according to State Senator Bill Sarpalius. Senator Sarpalius says many farmers pay higher rates than the people who live within the city limits. "It is unfair that this group of farmers has been charged much higher rates when their work is so essential to our entire State and Nation," senator Sarpalius says.

To help ease the problem now facing many Panhandle farmers, Senator Sarpalius has introduced Senate Bill 936. Senate Bill 936 gives farmers the same rights other customers have to contest gas companies' rate decisions. "This legislation will not mean an increase in rates, but it will mean a company must justify any and all rate increases a company seeks before the rate can change," Senator Sarpalius says. Some Panhandle farmers pay as much as five dollars and more per thousand cubic feet of gas while other natural gas customers pay much less, sometimes less than a dollar per thousand cubic feet of gas. Senate Bill 936 won't raise rates for some customers and lower rates for others to make all rates equal; however, Senator Sarpalius says the Bill will keep prices from escalating without justification by the company. The company will have to justify all rate increases to the railroad commission.

Safety standards will not change under Senate Bill 936. Senate Bill 936 stipulates that the railroad commission will not require any safety standards for gas pipeline facilities, other than those standards already in existence.

Student Council Holds Teacher Appreciation Day

On April 14, the AJH Student Council held "Teacher Appreciation Day" in Junior High. This day of honor, held a treat for the faculty, too. A luncheon prepared by the Student Council was served. The theme for this luncheon was "Learning is the key to knowledge, teachers unlock the door." Statements made by the teachers about the luncheon were "very enjoyable," "appreciated the work by the council members" and "delicious." The Student Council would like to thank the teachers for attending the luncheon and for their thank you cards.

In this reporter's point of view, the "Teacher Appreciation Day" was a great success and was well deserved by the AJH faculty.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Tooley:
Congratulations are in order for Gov. Mark White, Sen. Ted Lyon of Rockwall and Rep. Fred Agnich of their successful efforts in passage of the Texas Wildlife Conservation Act of 1983.

Not to be forgotten is Texans for Wildlife Conservation, whose members include the more than 800 sportsmen's clubs in Texas. The group was formed to promote passage of the act, which would not have been possible without their devotion and sacrifice of time and energy.

Those To Remember

Marietta Bartlett is home from the hospital. Rev. Ed Bunner of Mobile, Alabama is home from the hospital after having open heart surgery last week.

C.E. Cowan is in Littlefield Hospital. He is Sherry Elliott's grandfather.

Dean Myatt had surgery last week in Scott and White Hospital in Temple. Mrs. Thelma Greer, LaVerne Pope's mother, is in Community Hospital in San Antonio.

Sharon Kester and her family for the tragedy last week.

The act gives the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department statewide authority for wildlife management and eliminates locally specialized wildlife laws previously in effect in 116 Texas counties. The Texas Wildlife Conservation Act at last enables the Parks and Wildlife Department to manage our state's wildlife resources on a scientific basis statewide.

In my opinion, it is the most far reaching wildlife conservation legislation ever passed in the state.

Generations to come of outdoor enthusiasts and sportsmen truly owe Governor White, Senator Lyon, Representative Agnich and Texans for Wildlife Conservation a debt of thanks.

Sincerely,
Ed Cox
Vice Chairman

FROM THE ABERNATHY WEEKLY REVIEW DATED AUGUST 31, 1961:

Officials of the Abernathy Municipal Recreation Center have announced plans for a Labor Day Weekend Golf Tournament. A Partnership event is planned for the women golfers.

The Jack Kikers announce the opening of their Rock Garden Miniature Golf Course south of their home on Jerome and 16th streets in Northeast Abernathy. Rates per game will be 25 cents during the day and 40 cents at night, starting at 5:30 p.m. The miniature golf course will be open Sundays from 1 p.m. until 5:30 p.m., closing for church services, then re-opening at 8 o'clock Sunday nights.

Thirty-one of the 1961 AHS graduates plan to attend college.

Miss Gloria Sue Houston and Ronald Edward Taylor pledged wedding vows at 3 p.m. Sunday in First Methodist Church. The Rev. HB Coggin officiated the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Houston. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr.

and Mrs. Willie Taylor of Shamrock. Mrs. Richard DuBose, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jim Patterson of Midland, Mrs. Dale Powell and Mrs. Donnie Apperson. Rhett Kay Houston, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The city of Abernathy received nation-wide news coverage early this month in a Chicago-published national magazine, "Street Engineering". In an article headed "In The Nation's News," the magazine told of Abernathy's street paving project, in which more than 65 blocks were to be paved this summer. The same information had appeared in the May issue of Texas Town and City.

To all grade school pupils, at Antelope Corner (Crow's), we have the teachers approved list of required school supplies. Stop by and pick up your package, says B.V. Powell.

Attention all junior bowlers who bowl this fall at A-1 Lanes. You will be eligible to win a boy's or girl's bicycle. So sign up now.

Thursday, September 1, is the last day to get in on the special student summer rate of 30 cents per line. You can bowl for 30 cents per line during Thursday's back to school day.

ONE SIGN OF A quality day care center is a philosophy of parent involvement, says Delores Stegelin, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. If a day-care director or teacher does not want the parent to observe or be involved, this may be a negative sign. Most successful day-care directors welcome the questions and concerns of parents, adds Stegelin.

SOME FAMILIES SEEM to be able to handle the ups and downs of everyday living with greater ease than other families, says Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. What makes one family stronger or more capable than others?

Research studies during the past decade have identified several common threads among many successful families. In strong families, members are united; they are all working toward the same goals. They value their family ties and spend time working and playing together, getting to know each member better.

Abernathy Man Loses In Appellate Ruling

The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that an Abernathy man, who is a farmer and bank official, underpaid almost 40 farm workers during the 1977-78 cotton harvesting seasons and must compensate them by an amount that would bring their pay up to minimum wages.

That ruling, handed down Friday by the Appellate court in New Orleans, reverses a Lubbock federal jury's decision that Ercell Givens, board chairman of First State Bank in Abernathy, was not responsible for assuring payment of at least a minimum wage to all workers employed on his farm.

The three-year-old case was remanded to U.S. District Judge Halbert O. Woodward for a new trial to determine the amount of payment Givens must make to the laborers.

Givens, who owns farmland in Hale and Lubbock counties, originally was sued in February 1980 by four farm workers from Plainview and South Texas. Thirty-five more workers later joined the suit, which was tried here in June 1981.

All of the workers were represented by Texas Rural Aid Inc. of Hereford. According to TRLA attorney Edward Tuddenham, the workers contend they were paid $1.65 per hour for harvesting cotton for Givens in 1977. They claim they were paid $1.75 per hour for harvesting work in 1978, he noted.

Minimum wage laws in effect during those harvesting seasons required hourly rates of $2.20 in 1977 and $2.65 the following year.

In addition, the workers alleged that Givens failed to keep wage and hour records that met federal requirements.

The Lubbock jury ruled in the farmer's favor, saying he could not be held responsible for the failure to pay a minimum wage or to keep work records on workers hired by a crew leader.

The crew leader was the late Manuel Tonche, one of the four who filed the original lawsuit, Tuddenham said.

However, the appellate court ruled that Givens was responsible for making sure that all employees were paid a minimum wage and that work records were kept on each laborer, including those hired by the crew leader.

According to the court, the crew leader essentially was one of Givens's employees and could not be used to eliminate the farmer's responsibility for paying minimum wages and maintaining employees' records.

"I don't know anything about it, so there'll be no comment," Givens when contacted by the Avalanche Journal Monday.

No date has been set for the retrial.

Lubbock attorney Tom Milam, who represented the farmer in the case, explained that the second trial must determine the actual Cold tea is a good cleaning agent for varnished floors or woodwork of any kind.

There was a man who lived in a town and sold hot dogs.
He was hard of hearing, so he couldn't listen to the radio.
He lived out of the coverage of cable t.v., so he didn't watch television.
But he did sell good hot dogs.
And he consistently ran an ad in his town newspaper, telling people about his hot dogs.
People bought his hot dogs.
He increased his meat and roll orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his increased business.
He finally got his son home from the big city to help him out.
Then something happened.
Son said to father, "Dad, haven't you been hearing all the news on t.v.? There's a big depression coming on...times are really tough and getting worse...we've got to cut our expenses if we're going to make it."
Dad listened to his son's advice.
"Well, he has been to college, and he has been to the big city, maybe he knows more than me."
So, the father cancelled his newspaper advertising.
He cut down on his meat and roll orders.
He closed earlier.
People stopped coming to buy his delicious hot dogs.
Times got really tough.
"You must be right, son. We certainly are in the middle of a great depression. There just isn't any business anymore."

Congratulations and good luck to the new officers.

"Cinco de Mayo" Day Recognized

The New Deal Jr. High eighth grade class celebrated "Cinco de Mayo" (Mexican Independence Day) Friday, May 6. The students dressed as señoritas, señores or cabarillos (cowboys). A delicious Mexican feast was prepared by the students. The menu consisted of spanish rice, refried beans, tacos, enchilada caserole, guacamole salad, tortillas, and mexican sweet breads (provided by Jimenez Bakery of Lubbock).

The guests included Junior High Teachers and New Deal administration personnel. Some of the guests provided entertainment by dancing the "Mexican Hat Dance." Connie Jimenez gave a report on Mexican Independence Day. The story of "The Tortilla Queen" was told by Mrs. Sharber. A pinata was also provided for entertainment activities. After many "swingers" missed, Dixie Crosby broke the pinata and goodies flew everywhere. The fiesta was quite a success!

Mrs. Walkup and Mrs. Sharber wish to thank all parents who helped to make this day a success. Also thanks to the eighth grade class who worked very hard to make a fun and successful Mexican fiesta.

Student Council Go On Trip

The New Deal Jr. High Student Council officers and representatives went on their end of the year field trip Friday, April 29.

NATIONAL SALVATION ARMY WEEK MAY 9-14

It's been said that good things come in small packages. But "good things" don't necessarily have to be packaged at all. Take, for example, the Christian concern of The Salvation Army. This concern extends to people of all races, creeds and ethnic backgrounds in variety of situations. It comes in the form of a warm smile, a helping hand and professional guidance.

National Salvation Army Week, May 9-14, is a time to recognize all the good things The Salvation Army represents. We salute its year "round spirit of sharing and join the rest of the nation in observing this special week.

Man Who Threatened President Picked Up Near Abernathy

Harold H. Fader, a 63 year old transient, remained in the Lubbock County Jail Monday in lieu of $100,000 bond on a federal charge of threatening the life of the president.

A preliminary hearing will be held Thursday before Magistrate Bill Brister to determine if there is probable cause to hold Fader for a grand jury to consider an indictment.

Secret Service Agent David Freriks said Fader was stopped Friday afternoon by the Department of Public Safety as the suspect was driving northbound on U.S. 87 in the Area. A loaded 22 - Caliber pistol was found in the auto.

Freriks said that Fader allegedly made the threat against Reagan during a dispute earlier Friday at a Department of Human Resource office in Lubbock. Another federal official said the threat was made in the food stamp office and was witnessed by at least one office employee.

Fader was arraigned before Brister Friday afternoon. The DPS stopped and detained Fader at the request of the Secret Service.

POSTAL SERVICE TURNS TO AUTOMATION TO IMPROVE PRODUCTIVITY

The Postal Service entered the age of automation April 6th by unveiling equipment that can electronically process and sort First Class letters, a development it says will reduce operating costs, improve the consistency of mail delivery and help hold down and maintain postal rates at reasonable levels.

Postmaster General William F. Bolger, in ceremonies at a Los Angeles mail facility, said the Service is installing in 118 large volume post office new optical scanning equipment that can read ZIP Codes and sort letters down to the carrier route level. This high-speed equipment can process 10,000 letters per workhour.

The machines, optical character readers (OCR) and bar code sorters (BCSs), will be used initially to sort First-Class letter mail bearing the five-digit ZIP Code. Starting this October, the machines will also be used to process letters bearing the expanded + 4 codes.

"The rationale for going into automation stems from our commitment to move growing volumes of mail at the lowest possible cost to the American people while at the same time assuring them of more consistent service," Bolger said. "The productivity gains possible through automation will allow us to better control our processing costs and that, in turn, will stabilize postal rates for longer periods of time."

Bolger said the automation effort is designed primarily to process the nation's business mail which about 83 percent of the total mail volume, & that individual householders need not be concerned about using ZIP + 4 codes. He said the Postal Service will be working with business mailers to improve the manner in which letter mail is addressed. Proper addressing is important for optimal results from automation, whether the mailer uses five-digit codes or ZIP + 4 codes. Bolger also said the Postal Service intends to assist business mailers who wish to convert either computerized or non-computerized address files to include ZIP + 4 codes, the addition of four numerals to existing ZIP Codes, to target letter mail to specific buildings, post office boxes or city block faces.

Bolger explained that the optical scanning equipment, similar in concept to that used by major grocery chains, banks and other businesses, will read the addresses on the face of an envelope, compare the ZIP Code with the city and state to verify its accuracy and convert the ZIP Code into a series of bar-half-bar codes which will be printed on the lower right corner of the envelope.

At the destination post office, the bar codes will be read by bar code sorters that automatically sort the letters down to the carrier route level and, in some instances, down to a particular office building or firm.

Bolger said the program, which will cost about $690 million, will produce annual savings following full implementation of automation and ZIP + 4 of approximately $600 million in direct mail processing labor costs alone. More savings will come from reduced training costs, less letter carrier office time and substantial reductions in costly overtime work hours. He added that any work-force reductions will be accomplished through attrition.

As a result of both automation and ZIP + 4, the Postmaster General emphasized that the business community and the American public could expect tangible payoffs in the forms of more consistent service, fewer sorting errors and sharply reduced costs for the Postal Service, which in turn help hold down and spread out future rate increases.
