Gins Report More Bales Than Last Year

The managers of ten gins in the Abernathy area were contacted Monday and most all of them reported an increase in bales ginned over last year.

The ten gins contacted had ginned 35,785 bales as of Monday. Those gins which reported the number of bales ginned were City Gin, Hygrade Gin, White Gold Gin, Abernathy Farmers Coop Gins, Farmers Tuco Gin, County Line Coop Gin, Ross Gin, Teakell Gin, New Deal Coop Gin and New Deal Gin Company.

Most of the gins reported below average grades. The grades this year averaged anywhere between 43 and 53, which is poor grade cotton.

The quality was down, but the bales were up. New Deal Coop Gin reported that their bale count was up 50 percent over last year; New Deal Gin Company was up 30 percent over last year; County Line Coop Gin was up 300 bales; Farmers Tuco Gin was up 2 percent; Abernathy Farmers Coop

Gins was up 25 percent over last year; and Hygrade Gin up 3 percent. Two gin managers reported that they have ginned about the same amount as they did last year. One said he didn't know if he was up or down compared to last year. Another manager said that they were down 10 percent from last year. Many of the gin managers stated that the bale turnout was a lot higher than they had projected and were surprised at the amount they had ginned. Many had thought that the bale count would be as low or lower than the 1982 harvest.

Chamber Discusses Senior Cit. Center Money Problems

The Chamber of Commerce met Thursday, December 1, and one of the main topics of discussion was the money problems the Senior Citizens Center is facing.

It was reported that another $8 thousand will be needed to complete the center and get it to the point where it will be operational. The $16 thousand received from SPAG earlier this year and the $14 thousand raised locally has already been spent and more is needed.

Rod Ellis stated that the federal government has approved the latest round of funds for senior citizens and that when the funds are provided to SPAG, SPAG will forward these funds on to Abernathy.

The Chamber voted to wait until the January Chamber meeting and see if the $8 thousand has come through. If the city has not received it by then, the Chamber will sponsor another drive for contributions.

Rev. Lloyd Riddles gave the invocation prior to the meeting, in which only 15 members attended. Minutes of the previous meeting were reviewed and approved as well as the November financial report.

The Diamond Jubilee Fund Raising committee reported that it will have its next meeting in January. This committee and the Chamber have already raised approximately $4,000 for the 75th Anniversary Celebration to be held in August of 1984.

The dates on the signs promoting Abernathy athletics on the north and south sides of town have not been corrected and will not be until after the 1983-84 basketball season, just in case some additions need to be made to the signs.

It was mentioned that Bill Scott and his crew put up the Christmas lights around town as usual. Arno Struve checked the lights out and replaced all the burned out bulbs prior to them being put up.

The Chamber agreed to once again pay for the treats Santa uses in his visit to day care centers, kindergarten classes and the elementary school. The Chamber provides the candy and fruit baskets given to children when Santa visits Abernathy youngsters each year.

The success of the Abernathy Arts and Craft Festival was mentioned and the Chamber women involved were congratulated. They were Jane Murray, Betty Neve and Diana Phillips.

The Chamber set January 5 for the next chamber meeting.

The Abernathy Legionnaire chapter notified the Chamber that they will be willing to donate the American Legion Hall building, located on the northeast side of town, to the senior citizens. The Chamber members wanted more information about all aspects of this donation before making any decisions.

ABERNATHY VOLUNTEER FIREMEN RESPONDED to a fire call at City Gin Monday morning at approximately 10:30 a.m. Cotton burrs on and near the cotton burr box were on fire, and it took firemen two hours to put out the fires, wash down the burrs and clean up the area in order to prevent fires from starting again. Pictured are local firemen in action. (Review Photo)

ON THE COUNTY LINE

BY KEITH TOOLEY

SHOP AT HOME FIRST... this Christmas and give the local businesses a chance. They may have what you are looking for this Christmas.

Abernathy business men and women are the same folks who pay local taxes, support school activities through donations, contribute with their time and money to City service organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Volunteer Fire Department, EMS and other service organizations, and these are the folks who live down the street, your neighbors, and they really care about this town.

We need to circulate our dollars within the city limits of Abernathy and support the businesses who have always supported our town and school. Shop at home and show these merchants that you appreciate them. They need and want your business.

EXPERTS ARE SAYING that the 1984 cotton program could cause over-production problems.

Without a payment-in-kind program next year, cotton experts are concerned that producers will plant too much cotton. Just when a dent was being made in the huge supply of cotton from previous years, the Department of Agriculture comes up with a plan which will put farmers back in the same situation as 1982...a huge supply, little demand and lower prices.

Diversity is not the answer to the problem. What else can you grow in this harsh climate other than cotton. It is the only plant strong enough to take the droughts, floods, hail, high winds, insects and everything else mother nature can muster.

The only way to increase cotton prices is to increase demand. This can be achieved through another PIK plan or by a huge increase in foreign trade.

The 1984 cotton program seems like a step in the wrong direction. We hope the experts are wrong and farmers will choose to at least plant some alternative crops along with their cotton.

THE OPENING DAY OF pheasant season was nice until about 11 a.m., then the wind got up to hurricane status.

We got our birds early and headed for home by 10 a.m. It seems like there are not many birds this year. We saw many more last year. There just weren't many grain sorghum, corn and millet fields for the pheasants to hide in this year. And most of the lake bottoms, usually homes for pheasants, had water in them and reduced populations in these areas.

Abernathy farmers ought to look into planting grain and leasing their fields to hunters each year. We heard that some pheasant leases were going as high as $75 per person per day. Might mean the difference between not losing as much money or breaking even for some farmers.

IT MIGHT HAVE happened close to home, but George Dolan in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram tells about a fellow who stopped at one of those undistinguished roadside cafes in West Texas.

The waitress, a sour sort, banged a glass of water in front of him and asked curly what he would have.

"Bring me two eggs," he said, "and some kind words."

After a bit, she delivered the eggs. "How about the kind words?" he asked.

After a moment's hesitation, she decided to comply.

"Don't eat the eggs," she said.

Abernathy Locals Say "Growth Through Promotion"

by Linda Salitros

Many Abernathians and area residents would like to see the town of Abernathy grow and think it can be achieved by promoting the town.

For the past two weeks, the Review has been asking people around town whether or not they would like to see growth in Abernathy. They were interviewed and asked the reason for their views, what would help with growth and how long they have lived here. Some of the responses are as follows:

Mayo Loper, a resident of 37 years, replied, "Of course. Who wouldn't!" He thinks the growth of the city would be good for our economy. However, he said he just didn't have any answers as to how our growth could be helped along.

Sixty-five year resident, Herb Hardin, replied, "Why sure. We can stand more people. There are too many empty buildings here." He thinks that we can attract people by promoting our good school system and churches, as well as our close proximity to Lubbock.

"Of course, why not," was Sue Pumroy's reply. "Growth is good for any town -- up to a point." She didn't think we would want to grow past 5,000. Attracting industry is her solution to the growth issue. She has lived in the area eight years.

Tommy Overstreet would like to see Abernathy grow so the school could be reclassified back to 3-A. He also said that if we reach 5,000, we could get annexation privileges and be eligible for other programs which would improve this community. He thinks we should get a write-up on the front page of the New York Times stating that Abernathy has no water problems. "The bad news articles and propaganda in the past exaggerating our water problems have contributed to no industry or large companies locating in this area," he added. He has lived here 29 years.

Mrs. Louis Schaap from Petersburg, and former resident of Abernathy, said she would like to see the town grow because it is good for the schools. She thought Abernathy was growing and feels that the clean-up projects around town help. "When we came to Abernathy 14 years ago, I thought Abernathy was awful looking. Tearing down old buildings has really helped," she feels. She would also like to see the old cars visible from I-27 removed.

Sharon Kester, who has lived here about 5 years, definitely would like to see Abernathy grow. She said, "growth usually means progress. We are a totally self-sustaining, self-sufficient town and can get whatever goods we need right here." She feels that we could use this as a selling point to attract industry.

A resident of 23 years, Larry Griffin was all for growth. "It increases consumption of goods, local activities and people get more involved." He thinks we should promote this city, especially since the coal-fired plant is coming to our area. "By letting them know about Abernathy, some new people may just stay here for good," he added.

Obviously, many residents of Abernathy would like to see growth in their town, for various reasons. However, the common denominator seems to be that growth will only come if the people of Abernathy openly make it known to those outside our town just what a great place it is to live.

"Kindness"

Paul said, "love is kind" (1 Cor. 13:4). When I am unkind to others, it destroys me; and when others are unkind, it also destroys me. Unkindness wrecks lives. An unkind husband or wife can destroy their mate. Constant nagging or criticism will eventually destroy the relationship and often ends up in a divorce court. A teenager is deeply distressed and cries bitterly in her room because of unkind treatment from schoolmates.

on qualities like: Compassion, sympathy, patience, consideration and thoughtfulness.

How do we show kindness? A sincere compliment, note of appreciation, patience and understanding when others goof-up or make a mistake, kindness is a fragment of the divine life within us. Kindness is the nature of God in dealing with us. "Or despiseth thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and long suffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thou to repentance?" (Rom. 2:4) It was because of God's love and kindness He offers salvation to everyone. (Titus 3:4-5)

A follower of Jesus is kind toward all, not because they are kind to him, but because God is that way and we are to be like Him. "He maketh His sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust." (Matt.

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK, Friday, December 9, 1983

A great mishmash of ever-changing systems, formulas and combinations of multi-year planting and production histories have been used over the years to assign farm program crop acreage and yields on American cotton, wheat, feed grains and rice farms.

Now comes an effort to devise and enact into law a single "consensus system" of acreage bases and production yields for all crops and all farms, not subject to change with the passage of each successive two or four-year farm bill as in the past.

After more than a year of study, Congressman Charles Stenholm of Stamford has introduced H. R. 4565, the "Agricultural Efficiency and Equity Act of 1983." The bill, Stenholm says, would provide a "skeletal structure" around which a wide variety of future price support and production adjustment programs can be built.

An early draft of the proposal was discussed briefly in an October Plains Cotton Growers Board meeting and continues under study by PCG. An analysis of the bill as introduced November 18 will be available for the Board's further consideration at its meeting in January.

The "system" would first establish for each farm a farm acreage base (FAB) equal to the rolling average of total acreage planted to all four program crops in each of the five preceding years.

Within the FAB would be a crop acreage base (CAB) for each commodity, the sum of which could not exceed the FAB.

For 1986, each producer would be allowed to choose his own set of crop acreage bases, so long as the total acreage involved did not exceed the FAB. This is a new approach, completely different from past procedures under which each year's crop acreage base was determined in some way from planting history.

For the crop year 1987-1990, each CAB would be the average of plantings to that crop during all crop years from 1986 forward. After 1990 each CAB, like the FAB, would be a rolling five-year average of acreage planted to the crop in question.

Another innovative feature: All of the above notwithstanding, producers would have freedom to adjust any crop acreage base for a given year simply by giving notice of the desired adjustment at least 60 days before the required program announcement date for the crop. However the CAB could not be increased by more than 25 percent of the FAB. And of course the increase in one CAB would have to be offset by a corresponding decrease in another CAB.

Yields for all crops would be determined in the same way, by taking a rolling five-year average of actual yields, with the high and low yields from those years omitted. The program yields for any year however could not rise or fall from the previous year by more than 10 percent.

According to an aide, Stenholm has no delusions about the bill in its present form being perfect. Rather, he says, it is seen as a catalyst which will initiate, through hearings, a forum for discussing problems with the present system and achieving a consensus on a permanent system for determining acreage bases and yields in the future.

COTTON PLANTING SURVEY PLANNED: The National Cotton Council will mail questionnaires in early January to a sample of cotton growers across the Cotton Belt to assess their 1984 planting intentions.

The Council initiated its own survey two years ago when the U.S. Department of Agriculture consolidated its January and March surveys into one carried out in February.

Results will be made available to all growers through the media, according to the Council.

SANFORD WILL CHAIR CONFERENCE: Alabama

cotton grower and ginner James H. Sanford will serve as general chairman of the 1984 Beltwide Cotton Production-Mechanization Conference January 11-12 in Atlanta.

Sanford is president of McQueen-Smith Farms, Prattville, and treasurer of the National Cotton Council.

Rep. George E. Brown, Jr. (D-Calif.) and Dr. John Moore, Environmental Protection Agency assistant administrator, will address the opening session. Brown is a member of the Committee on Agriculture. Dr. Moore, a veterinarian, will discuss "Risk Assessments and Risk Management of Pesticides and Toxic Substances."

Farm Program Guidelines Discussed At Annual Farm Bureau Convention

Voting delegates at the Texas Farm Bureau's 50th annual convention three weeks ago approved national farm program guidelines which feature supply management.

S. M. True Jr. of Plainview was re-elected to a second one-year term as president of TFB, which saw its membership reach an all-time high of 313,568 member families in 1983.

True's opponent was Carol G. Chaloupka of Dalhart, whom True succeeded in 1982. Chaloupka was president of the Texas Farm Bureau for eight years prior to True's winning the election in 1982.

Following adjournment of the convention, the Board re-elected A. Wayne Cranfill, a Hooks dairy farmer, vice president. Roy Johnson, a Desdemona peanut farmer, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Seven state directors were re-elected to a two-year term. They are Paul Macina, Shamrock; Leonard Schaffner, Henrietta; Cranfill; Johnson; Henry Burton, Lufkin; David Fochner, Boling; and James R. Adams, Odem.

The delegates said a successful farm program should include the following:

--Carryover levels for each commodity should include a "necessary cushion" in times of disaster, but not at a level that is "burdensome" to farmers.

--The Secretary of Agriculture would be mandated to implement control programs when carryover levels exceed "workable levels".

--All producers, regardless of size, should be treated equally.

--Acreage controls are preferred instead of pound quotas or allotments.

--Loan rates and target prices should be included as features of any farm program.

The delegates approved a resolution, endorsing the compromise dairy bill which President Reagan signed November 29.

The delegates said that in times of disaster, the federal government should not keep at taxpayers' expense grain and food which is "immediately needed for human or animal consumption."

Delegates recommended that any farm program or change in farm program be announced early enough to permit proper planning by producers.

Some of the state policies adopted included the following:

--A proposal calling for a one cent sales tax increase to finance public education.

--A resolution favoring the brucellosis control law approved by the 1983 Texas Legislature. The delegates called for calfhood vaccination in an effort to control the costly livestock disease.

--A proposal in favor of a voluntary commodity check-off program (in contrast to a mandatory checkoff program approved Nov. 8 by Texas voters).

A new queen, talent and speech contest winners were chosen prior to the delegates' consideration of resolutions and election of officers.

Tawn Dulin, 19, of New Home (Lynn County), won the queen contest over 12 other entries. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dulin, she receives a $1,500 scholarship for winning.

Brenda Bludau, 17, of Hallettsville, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bludau Sr., was runnerup

Cotton Shortcourse At Edmonson

The Hale County Extension Cotton Committee will be hosting a cotton shortcourse Thursday, December 15 at the Edmonson Community Center, starting at 9 a.m., according to Billy E. Warrick, Hale County Extension Agronomist.

All producers considering cotton as a crop in 1984 should find this informational meeting of assistance in answering questions concerning next year's production. Dr. James Supak, cotton specialist for this area, headquartered at the Lubbock Research and Extension Center will be discussing:

1. Preparation of acreage and management practices that will assist producer's in getting cotton up to a good vigorous stand.

2. Selection of varieties for earliness, storm proofness, grade, staple, mic, strength and uniformity.

3. Cotton seed availability, results of seed caught and held back for delinting from the 1983 crop for planting seed in 1984.

4. Different irrigation practices between cotton varieties.

5. Question and answer session for producers.

The 1984 government cotton program will also be discussed and attempts will be made to answer all producer's questions concerning the program.

All producers and businessmen are encouraged to attend this highly informative meeting.

This program is open to people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or origin.

The Bible Club meets every Monday after school at the New Deal Clubhouse. Their present teaching is on the life of David. Shortly after Christmas, they will learn about Peter.

The teaching is done using the flannelgraph board with pictures and visual bible verses and songs. All children are invited to attend. The children are taught what God says, what He means, and what He is saying to them—and how they can use the teaching in their daily lives.

Three Postal Employees Presented Safe Driving Pins

Last Friday, December 9, the post office honored three of their postal employees with pins for safe driving.

J. D. Webb, rural carrier, received a 20-year pin for driving more than 20 years without an accident; Gerald (Pee Wee) Grimsley, city carrier, received a 16-year pin for driving more than 16 years without an accident; and Arnulfo Ramos, city carrier, received a one-year pin for driving more than a year without an accident.

It is employees like these, dedicated to their jobs and consideration for their fellow man, that makes Abernathy such a good place to work and a better place to live.

Christmas of last year, customers helped the Abernathy Post Office tremendously. They mailed early in the season and early in the day. Because of this, the post office was clear of holiday mail by Christmas Eve.

"Thanks for your cooperation. We need your help again this year and remember to write legible ZIP coded addresses for both the address and the return address. Since mail sorting depends on the ZIP Code, as well as the name of the particular city and state, the use of ZIP codes will aid us in processing the mail." Postmaster Ken Moreland said.

"If you haven't mailed your holiday cards and packages yet, mail them now so they will arrive on time. Don't forget we offer Priority and Express mail service for your convenience." Moreland added.

This & That

by Helen Wade

Last week I had a pleasant surprise. My sister, from Lamesa, called me and wanted to know if I wanted to meet them in Lubbock and have lunch shop and visit. I met two of my sisters, and we enjoyed getting together. We had a Coke together before they left and, to our surprise, we saw the wife of one of our nephews and another lady, so we visited with them for awhile.

Here is a thought I want to share with you. Explanation given by a pupil for not joining in discussions. "I think I'll learn more by listening. Anything I would say, I already know."

Stillwell Places Second In Speaking Contest

Saturday, December 10, Randal Stillwell placed second in the District Texas Farmers Union Prepared Public Speaking Contest. Randal won second place out of thirteen competitors speaking on the topic, "Saving the Family Farm." Randal spoke for six minutes and there was only a one point difference between him and the person that placed first.

AHS Graduate Successful Basketball Coach

Boyce Paxton and his Calhoun High School Basketball team had a big game three weeks ago. Tuesday, November 29, was the date and the Summit in Houston was the site. Playing a preliminary game before the Houston Rockets vs. Chicago Bulls professional game, his team played a more talented and much taller Spring High School team. Spring, a Houston suburb school (AAAAA), didn't make things easy. Calhoun won the contest in double overtime 66-61 before a good crowd in the Summit. Calhoun is a small AAAAA county school that serves the towns and cities in Calhoun County, Texas. Those towns are Port Lavaca, Seadrift, Port O'Connor, Olivia, and Point Comfort. Coach Paxton plans to take his team to the Summit again next year.

Paxton is a 1965 graduate of Abernathy High School and he graduated from Texas Tech University in 1970.

He coached at Ralls High School from 1970-73, Pleasanton from 1973-76, Belton from 1976-78 and has coached at Calhoun for the past 6 years. He has been

"Pick a Phone, Any Phone?"

Just because a phone will plug into your wall jack, it doesn't mean that it will work.

Why?

Well, for instance, let's look at a phone that will be used on a party-line. Since customers share a common line to the telephone company switching office, each

Even if you have a 'Private Line', you still may have problems.

Single-line customers may also have special dialing or ringing requirements that are not apparent. So, they purchase a new phone and sadly discover that it won't work. This is especially true for customers who may be Trading in your dial phone could be asking for trouble.

The joy of owning your very own 'Touch Tone' phone could turn into tragedy if your phone line is designated for a dial or pulse phone. A pushbutton 'pulse' phone will work on most lines, since it also duplicates the signal of a regular dial phone. However, a

So, if you decide to buy a new telephone, take the time to stop by your neighborhood GTE Phone Mart and see if your particular line has any special limitations. It could possibly save you a lot of frustration and money.
