EXPECT EARLY END OF RECEIVERSHIP OF WHITE CO.

The recent receivership entered into by the White Produce Company of Denison, which maintained a branch here, is expected to be lifted in the near future, and the company reorganized on a substantial basis, according to a dispatch from Denison published in the current issue of the Produce Packer at Chicago.

The company has liabilities of about $225,000 and assets of $300,000, the latter consisting of bills receivable, stock, fixtures and real estate. The company does a business of about four million dollars annually.

"It would be betraying no secret," says the article in the Chicago paper, "to say that the White Produce company has run along for the past year practically on its nerve. It is known to have lost $225,000 in the spring egg crop deal of 1921. When the famous drop of 9 cents a dozen fell on one day, the White Produce company had 21 cars rolling to market. Later it stored eggs in the east heavily, but the lack of finances prevented holding for a more favorable market and many of these were disposed of at a loss."

For several months the company had been hard pressed by banks, owing a total of $62,750 to those in Denison at the time of the receivership after making substantial reductions. It was the constant strain on its resources that apparently brought on the receivership. Several branch houses, including those at Texarkana, Paris and Fort Worth, were sold and the money applied on an indebtedness. When the Paris house was sold to G. P. Foster of Hugo, Okla., the White company received Mr. Foster's check for $10,000, in payment it then issued its own check in payment of the indebtedness of the Paris branch, and this check, reaching the bank before the Foster check was received, was turned down, precipitating the receivership.

The four Denison banks, which brought on the receivership, are understood to be ready to assist in rehabilitating the company.

In the meantime Mr. F. L. Caldwell, the local manager, has been given permission to re-open the house, by the receiver appointed, and will conduct the business for himself until the final settlement.

McConnell School Closes With Program

The McConnell school closed their term Thursday evening with a very interesting program by the children, which included a number of songs, drills, short plays, and readings. The children all did their part with credit to themselves and to their teacher Miss Hinds, who has taught a very successful term. The program showed much skill and training and was enjoyed by all present. Mr. Hinds, a brother of the teacher, gave a few minstrel numbers that was very much enjoyed. Mrs. J. C. Berney of Wichita Falls, made a very interesting talk during the evening.

Mochell Moore was in the Free Press office this week with a Fort Worth paper which stated that his brother, Jerome, had been elected editor of "The Skiff," the weekly newspaper published at Texas Christian University, Fort Worth. Jerome is comparatively well known in Haskell among the younger set with whom he became acquainted while visiting his aunt, Mrs. W. F. Rupo, during recent Christmas and summer holidays, and also to the old timers as a son of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Moore, several years ago prominent in medical and social circles of Haskell.

Funeral Services of Wm. Wells Wednesday

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning for Wm. Wells, well-known business man of Haskell, who died Sunday, May 23rd, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Wells was one of Haskell's best known business men, having been engaged in the furniture business in Haskell for a number of years. As a mark of respect for the deceased, the business houses of the city were closed during the funeral services.

Deceased was born August 8, 1872, and was 50 years of age at the time of his death. For the past three or four years he had been suffering with a great malady, and although physicians held no hope for his recovery, he remained cheerful and kindly to the end. Always ready to help those in need, and always at the front in every progressive movement for the betterment of his town, he had many friends, and the wealth of beautiful floral offerings bespoke the highest love and esteem in which he was held.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Christian Church Wednesday morning at 10 a. m., with Rev. P. W. Walthall in charge, assisted by Rev. McHenry Seal. The remains were laid to rest in Willow Cemetery, amid scores of beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. Wells is survived by his wife and one daughter, Willie Mae, and a brother and sister. The Free Press joins the many friends of the bereaved in extending their sympathy in this sad hour.

More Than Six Inches Rain Falls This Week

More than six inches of rain has fallen over Haskell county during the past week according to the Government gauge in charge of Judge P. D. Sanders of this city, bringing the total precipitation for the month of April to more than eight and one-half inches.

There has been but very little damage reported from any section of the county caused from the heavy rains, though the counties east of here report heavy damage with a number of lives lost.

A washout on the Wichita Valley track near Howley has prevented any trains reaching Abilene from here—though the local agent for the Valley reports the damage repaired and that the 7:45 train tonight, (Friday) will be run into Abilene; for the first time since Monday.

Reports from Hamlin states that the city lake—the source of the town's water supply, has gone out with an estimated loss of about $15,000.00.

Stamford's new lake is reported to be running two feet over the spillway, but the danger of its bursting is said to be passed.

Fifty-seven people are reported dead, or missing in Fort Worth from the flood. Three are reported dead at Breckenridge, and property damage that will probably run into the thousands of dollars in many sections of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. C. Stephens visited Mr. Stephen's parents at Abilene Saturday and Sunday.

The news has been received here of the death of Mrs. Mary Jones, who formerly lived here. She was about sixty-five years of age. She was an aunt of W. A. Carlisle of this city.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brooks on Wednesday April 26th, a fine 11-lb. boy. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Grand Jury Returns 20 Indictments

The Grand Jury which convened Monday morning at the opening of the April term of District Court, reported 20 true bills Thursday evening, 17 on felony charges and 3 misdemeanors. Most of the parties indicted are already under bond and in the custody of the sheriff. The Grand Jury is still in session and will make another report later.

There has been but very few cases disposed of in District Court this week, and those that have been settled are small civil cases of minor importance.

The entire criminal docket has been set for Monday, May 1st, with the exception of the Whitaker case which has been set for Wednesday, May 3rd.

The cases of the Haskell Independent School District against J. E. Wilfong, E. F. Lamm, and W. P. Whitman and others have been set for Friday, May 5th, with the exception of the Whitman case which will be tried later. This is a suit wherein the Haskell Independent School District is endeavoring to collect last year's school taxes. These cases are being watched with considerable interest by the tax payers of the district.

The case styled G. W. Thomason et al vs. the City of Haskell et al, has been set for May 24th. This case also has created considerable interest, especially in the city of Haskell, as it questions the right of the City to construct sidewalks in front of the property and charge same to the property or property owner.

The following is a list of the Jurors who attended court here this week:

A. A. Gaunt, F. C. Quade, E. L. Riddling, T. E. Alvis, J. W. Culpepper, W. M. Mosley, R. E. Weaver, W. G. Seago, Jno. W. Pace, W. E. Huddleston, C. C. Hudson, Jno. F. Cox, W. M. Porter, J. C. Holt, A. A. Burdett, G. O. Fuller, F. L. Howze, J. R. Edwards, D. W. Hamilton, W. F. Wells, R. W. Land, J. W. Adecock, R. P. Chamberlain, G. C. Brooks, G. S. Medford, W. D. Edge, Jno. F. Fulbright, R. L. Dean, M. H. Guinn, Vance Waddington, W. N. Huckabee, W. H. Cornett, R. R. Overton, J. G. New, W. T. Ford.

4,922 Scholastics in Haskell County

The scholastic census of Haskell county has just been completed and gives the county an enrollment of 4,722 pupils.

The Independent Districts of the county shows a small increase over the report of a year ago. The 1921 census giving the Independent Districts an enrollment of 1982, while this year's report gives them 2,003.

The combined rural districts shows a small decrease or 2,791, against an enrollment this year of 2,719.

This will cause a small loss in the state apportionment for the county next year.

CLIFF PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION WILL GIVE SOCIAL

The Cliff Parent-Teachers' Association will give a social at the Cliff Saturday night of this week. This is one of the liveliest Associations in the county and is doing a great work for their community.

Germany is said to be placing a heavy tax on American tourists. Somehow we always suspected America would have to help foot that indemnity bill.

INTEREST IN SCHOOLS SHOWN BY INCREASE IN TAX RATE

That Haskell county is becoming one of the leading counties of the state in educational matters can no longer be denied and this is very forcibly demonstrated by the increase in the tax rate of the different districts of the county for maintenance purposes that have been voted during the past two years. In this connection, we might also say that every Independent School District in the County has already voted a rate of $1.00 with the exception of O'Brien and they will hold their election next month.

The following comparison has been secured from the records in the County Superintendent's office. The comparison is made between the year 1921 and 1922.

HELEN CHASTAIN WINS MEDAL IN CONTEST

In order to encourage public speaking in the rural schools of the county, the Haskell National Bank has offered a medal in a number of the schools for prizes.

The Midway school held their contest last Friday and first place was won by Helen Chastain. The second place was won by J. W. Foster, Jr., the prize being a fountain pen given by the school. Mrs. P. D. Sanders, Mrs. Clyde F. Elkins and Miss Minnie Ellis of Haskell acting as the judges. The prizes were presented by Mr. Ed Robertson, County Superintendent of Public Instruction.

WINS IN SPELLING CONTEST THREE YEARS IN SUCCESSION

A distinction which is rarely won by a school pupil, goes to Miss Lillian Wheeler of the Gilliam community, as she has won first place for the past three years in the Interscholastic League of Haskell County Spelling Contest. She is a bright pupil and the Gilliam school is proud of her work.

Howard School Closes With School Fair

One of the most successful terms in the history of the Howard school was closed last Friday evening with a school fair. The Payne Drug Company of this city having offered a gold medal for the best declaimer. This contest had been looked forward to with much interest by the pupils, patrons and teachers for some time. Eight pupils entered the contest for the prize as follows: Murrel Howard, John R. Watson, Morris Fowler, Estelle Gilliland, Opal Watson, Lewis Nanny, Buster Cox, and Tinnie Bishop.

Prof. Mintra, O. E. Patterson, and Mrs. Fred Sanders of this city acted as the judges in the contest and they complimented the program very highly. Morris Fowler won first place and the gold medal and Tinnie Bishop second place, which was a silver pencil given by the teacher.

Jno. R. Watson won first, Morris Fowler second on the best United States product map. Morris Fowler won first, Olin Willis second on the best Texas map. Estelle Howard won first, Lolia Nanny second on the best water color painting.

Following the contests a very interesting program was rendered, by the pupils, closing the evening's entertainment with a Tom Thumb wedding. Misses Grace and Ruth Riddle who had charge of the school during the past term are to be congratulated and deserve much credit for the successful school year. They left the first of the week for their home at Sherman, Texas. Howard expects to have a nice new building ready for the opening of school the fall term.

If April showers bring May flowers there ought to be a lot of posies next month.

Many Rural Schools In County Closed

A number of the rural schools closed their 1921-1922 term last Friday. Most of them giving some kind of entertainment—some included a program at the school building, while others gave the pupils a picnic.

The Jud school closed with a picnic last Friday. Misses Chitwood and Amoneit, teachers in this school have done excellent work during the past term and deserve much credit for the success of the school.

The Roberts school which has been in charge of Miss Beck and Miss Green, closed last Friday with a good program and a picnic. The Roberts school under the efficient management of these young ladies have gained the reputation of being one of the best schools in the county and the patrons are highly pleased with their efficient work.

The Gilliam school closed their term last Friday with a "Weiner Roast." This school has been in charge of Misses Terry and Harmon.

The Rose school also closed with a picnic. Miss Cowart and Mrs. Gordon have had charge of this school during the past term which has been a very successful one.

The Pleasant Valley school which has been conducted by Mr. Linville and Mrs. Zells closed also.

The Cottonwood school with Mr. Foreman and Miss Littleton as teachers, also closed.

The Cook Spring school also closed last week with a picnic and a good program. This school has been conducted the past term by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lewis and Miss Cordelia Varnell.

A number of other schools of the county will close this week. Some however will continue a few weeks longer on account of starting the term late last fall.

The woman pays, according to a saying, but nine times out of ten it is with hubby's money.

When the wireless telephone comes into general use we can expect to hear that snappy retort, "air's busy."

OF PERCALE AND DIMITY

Polka dotted percale and white checked dimity make this pretty dress for little missy. It is in two pieces. The blouse of the dimity has a Peter Pan collar and turn-back cuffs adorned with feather stitching of silk floss. A white silk cord ending in small tassels is laced across the front of the bodice and a patch pocket at one side maintains that practical things can be pretty.

WITHOUT STREET ADDRESS
YOUR MAIL IS DELAYED
AT OFFICE OF DELIVERY

The Dead Letter Office has been in existence ever since Ben Franklin started our postal service. Even then people addressed mail to Mr. Ezekiel Smithers, "Atlantic Coast," and expected Ben to know just where Zeke lived.

Perhaps they had Zeke's address in letters up in the garret, maybe a chest full of 'em, but then it was easier to let Ben hunt Zeke. Today people are addressing letters to John Smith, New York, N. Y., or Chicago, Ill., thinking Uncle Sam can locate him, which is just as incomplete as was Zeke's address of yore. The Postoffice Department asks you to put the number and street in the address. It helps you.

Trinidad Col.

How do you expect the Postal Clerk to know whether you mean Trinidad, California, or Trinidad, Colorado?
ALWAYS SPELL OUT THE NAME OF THE STATE IN FULL IN THE ADDRESS.

"MORE BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT"

This apt phrase was used in President Harding's first message to Congress and applies particularly in postal management where postmasters are being impressed with the fact that they are managers of local branches of the biggest business in the world.

HERE COMES A STRANGER!

Let's make our post office look neat, Mr. Postmaster. Straighten up the rural letter box, Mr. Farmer. Tidy up some, Mr. Rural Carrier. First impressions are lasting. Maybe Mr. Stranger, taking notice of these improvements, will come back, bringing you benefits. Start these with "POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK" May 1-6.

HUMANIZING THE POSTAL SERVICE

"There is no unimportant person or part of our service. It is a total of human units and their co-operation is the key to its success. In its last analysis, postal duties are accommodations performed for our neighbors and friends and should be so regarded, rather than as a hired service performed for an absentee employer."—Postmaster General Hubert Work.

COURTESY

It sticks in human relations like postage stamps on letters. The POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT expects it to be used by its postmasters and employees in dealing with the public. Help them in its use beginning with POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK, May 1-6, 1922.

THANK YOU

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILD TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 50c per bottle.

No. 512 Citation on Application for Letters of Guardianship

The State of Texas.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Haskell County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Haskell County, a copy of the following notice:

The State of Texas.
To all Persons Interested in the Welfare of Opal Haralson and Bernice Haralson, Minors.

Mrs. A. J. Lewis, joined by her husband, A. J. Lewis, has filed in the County Court of Haskell County, an application for Letters of Guardianship upon the Person and Estate of said Minors, which said application will be heard at the next term of said Court, commencing on the first Monday in May A. D. 1922, the same being the 1st day of May A. D. 1922 at the Court House thereof, in Haskell, Texas, at which time all persons interested in the welfare of said Minors, may appear and contest said application, if they see proper to do so.

Herein Fail Not, but have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Haskell, Texas, his the 14th day of April A. D. 1922. (Seal) Emory Menefee, Clerk County Court, Haskell County, Texas.

Open Meeting of the Hi-Y Club

The "Hi-Y" Club will hold their weekly meeting Monday morning, May 1st, at 8:30 o'clock in the High School Auditorium. At this meeting, the delegates that are going to Wichita Falls to represent the Haskell "Hi-Y" in the Older Boys Convention of Northwest Texas will report on the Convention and other phases of the "Hi-Y" work.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting for we believe that the work that is being done in the different Clubs will be of interest to you.

The local club is sending two representatives from this club. Several of the boys are going besides the elected delegates.

JIGGS AND MAGGIE AT THE GOLDEN GATE

The following poem, chronicling the advent of "Maggie and Jiggs" at the Golden Gate, was handed to us with a request for publication several weeks ago. Here it is:

St. Peter stood guard at the golden gate,
 With a solemn mien and an air sedate;
 When up to the top of the garden stair
 Maggie and Jiggs, both ascending there Applied for admission; they came and stood.

Before St. Peter, so great and good;
 In hope the city of peace to win,
 And asking St. Peter to let them in,
 Maggie was tall and dark and thin,
 With a scraggly beardlet on her chin,
 Jiggs was short and thick and very stout.

And his stomach was built so it rounded out.

His face was pleasant and all the while
 He wore a very kindly, genial smile.
 The choir in the distance the echoes woke,

And Jigs kept still while Maggie spoke,
 "O thou, who guardest the gate," said
 she,

"We two came here beseeching thee
 To let us enter the heavenly land,
 And play our harps with the angel band.

Of me, St. Peter, there is no doubt There's nothing from heaven to bar me out.

I've been to meeting three times a week,
 And almost always I'd rise and speak.
 I've told the sinners about the day,
 When they'd repent of their evil way;
 I've told my neighbours—I've told them all.

Bout Adam and Eve and the Primal
 Fall;
 I've shown them what they'd have to do if they'd pass in with the chosen few;
 I've marked their path of duty clear,
 Laid out the plan of their whole career;
 I've talked and talked to 'em loud and long.

For my lungs are good and my voice is strong.
 So, good St. Peter, you'll clearly see
 The gate of heaven is open for me.
 But Jiggs here, I surely regret to say,
 Hasn't walked in exactly the narrow way;

He smokes and swears and grave
 faults he's got,
 So I don't know whether he'll pass or not.

He never would play with an earnest
 vim,
 Or go to revivals, or join in a hymn,
 While I the sins of my neighbours bore,
 He gabbled about with that Dirty
 Moore.

He made a practice of staying out late,
 Which is a sin that all women hate;
 But at last when he did come home,
 The roofing pin went straight for his dome.

I know him, St. Peter, know him well,
 To escape from me he would go to hell;
 But, St. Peter, I do so much need him here.

And I hope you can see your way clear,
 On earth I bore a heavy cross,
 Give me in heaven still Jiggs to boss, I've brought my roll-in-pin, plates and jars.

To keep him dodging among the stars,
 But say—St. Peter—it seems to me,
 This gate isn't hept as it ought to be,
 You ought to stand right by the opening there.

And never set down in that easy chair,
 And say—St. Peter—my sight is dimmed,
 They're cut too wide with an outward toss.

They'd look better narrow and straight across,"
 St. Peter sat quite and stroked his staff
 But in spite of his office he had to laugh;

Then said, with fiery gleam in his eye:
 "Who's tending this gate, Maggie, you or I?"

Then he arose in his stature tall,
 And pressed a button upon the wall,
 And said to the imp who answered the bell:

"Escort this female around to hell,"
 Slowly Jiggs turned, by habit bent,
 To follow wherever Maggie went.

St. Peter standing on duty there,
 Saw that the top of his head was bare
 He called the old boy back and said:
 "Jiggs, how long hast thou been wed?"

"Thirty years" (with a sad and weary sigh)—
 And then he thoughtfully added
 "Why?"

St. Peter was silent with head bent down;

He raised his hand and scratched his crown;

Then, seeming a different thought to take,

Slowly, half to himself, he spake:
 "Thirty years with that woman there,
 No wonder the man hasn't any hair,
 Swearing is wicked, smoking's no good;
 He smoked and swore—I should think he would,

Thirty years with that tongue so sharp—

Ho, Angel Gabriel! Give him a harp,
 A jeweled harp with a golden string,
 Good sir, pass in where the angels sing,
 And Gabriel, give him a seat alone,
 One with a cushion up near the throne,
 Call up some angels to play their best;
 For Jiggs has surely earned a rest;
 He's had about all the hell he needs;
 It isn't just hardly the thing to do,
 To roast him on earth and in the future too."

They gave him a harp with golden strings,

A glittering robe and a pair of wings;
 And Jiggs looked down from his high level,

Thought of Maggie and felt sorrow for
 —the devil.

Postal Contest

May 1st, to May 6th, has been designated as Postal Improvement week.

With a view of bettering the future service and further enlightening the public specially in the proper handling of mail, this office is endeavoring to have a contest between the employees and the patrons.

In order that this may be a success
 I am asking that the public report all wrong deliveries, delay, and mishandling of mails, in order that the correct number of errors made by employees might be ascertained.

The public will be checked on mis-directed mail, postage shortage, etc.

Next weeks issue of The Free Press will have the result of the contest together with comments to show how errors occurred, and appropriate comments showing the patrons how they could have prevented the errors.

Little Ruby Pearl

Ruby Pearl, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewellen, age 6 months and 2 days, passed from our midst to heaven April 17, 1922. A bright, loving flower, too pure for earth, our Heavenly Father transplanted to the "Beautiful City Above", where the skies never grow dark, and where flowers never fade. God only trusted her to our care for a short time to rivet more firmly our hold on heaven, and when the time for her departure came. He called for her to come at once to the home not made with hands eternal, in the heavens where there is "no sickness, neither pain or sorrow, for former things have passed away." Her little life spread a ray of sunshine in the hearts of all who knew her, therefore her brief mission among us was not in vain. Her sweet memory will ever be an incentive to lead us to forsake sin that separates us eternally, and draw nearer Christ day by day until we too can hear Him call, "Come home."

The golden gates were opened
 And heavenly Angels smiled
 And with their tuneful harps
 Welcomed the little child.

And shouted "High and Holy,
 A child hath entered in,
 And safe from all temptation,
 A soul is sealed from sin."

They led her through the golden streets
 On to the King of Kings,
 And a glory fell upon her
 From the rustling of their wings.

The Savior smiled upon her,
 As none on earth had smiled,
 And heaven's great glory shone around
 The little earthborn child.

On earth they missed the little one,
 They sighed and wept and sighed
 And wondered if another such
 As theirs had ever died.

Oh! Had they seen through those high gates,
 The welcome to her given,
 They never would have wished their child
 Back from her home in Heaven.

Magazine Club

The members of the Magazine Club met in a business meeting at the regular time on Friday afternoon, April 21st. After roll call a full report of the year's work was heard from the chairman of the various standing committees. Each report was splendid, especially that of the finance committee, showing that more than $2,200.00 had been paid in during the year.

Mrs. J. U. Fields, General Chairman of Arrangements for the Federation, called for reports of the chairmen who had worked so faithfully in making the District meeting a success. In responding, many were the complimentary things which each woman said of her helpers, including, especially, the High School boys and girls, who aided so materially throughout the three days.

A rising vote of thanks was given the Stamford Chamber of Commerce for courtesies shown, also one to the home merchants. An open discussion of the Federation followed, in which the members joined enthusiastically, each declaring that she had entertained the most pleasant and attractive visitors who had attended.

Mrs. Scott W. Key, of Eastland, a former president of the club, made a most inspiring talk, saying how very much she appreciated the club and its members as a whole. In speaking of the Federation with its many good things, Mrs. Key said, "The one outstanding thing to me, was the wonderful spirit behind it all."

Mrs. Murchison, president of the club, gave a hearty invitation to the members to meet in the home in a social meeting on next Friday afternoon.

The question in discussion is: "Why is death like a dog's tail?"

A WORD OF THANKS

Haskell has every right to feel justly proud of the entertainment of the First District Federation of Women's Clubs. For during the meeting the guests offered much praise, and since many letters of appreciation have been received, the success was due to the spirit of loyalty and co-operation manifested by the entire citizenship. The local club women are indeed grateful to every man, woman, girl and boy who contributed to the success. We desire to sincerely thank all those who entertained guests in their homes; the Christian church for the use of the building and their pastor for the many kindnesses extended and the pastor of the other churches for their assistance; the Elks Lodge for the use of their hall for the meeting; and most especially do we thank the Elks for giving the unusual feature of the Wednesday noon luncheon; R. B. Spencer Lumber Co. for the two hundred and fifty pencils donated; Mr. Marvin Post and Mr. Virgil Meadors for the note books; the Free Press for the envelopes, also for the generous amount of space given in the Free Press for the many courtesies extended in preparation of the programs, and to Mr. Sam Roberts for offering prizes for the best decorated show windows; all the merchants who so willingly entered this contest—many nice things were said by the visitors about the show windows, the appearance of the stores, and especially did they compliment the square, courthouse yard, and the alleys in the business district; the Ford Garage for the use of the Ladies Rest Room; Mr. Earnest Grissom for arranging the trip to Rule, and all of the men who so gladly drove the visitors to Rule; most especially do we thank the Rule women for the beautiful reception given in the attractive home of Mrs. J. D. Westbrook; Mr. Courtney Hunt for being chairman of the evening reception—never before had we felt so proud of the men of Haskell as on that evening; the Luncheon Club for helping with the executive board luncheon; the Maids and Matrons Club for the unique Japanese tea; the Parent-Teachers Association for the programs on president's evening; all of the young women and young men who contributed the music at the reception; this was far better than a paid orchestra; the men for the enjoyable sextette; the girls for the "dance of the butterflies"; Supt. C. C. Mintra for so generously allowing the school girls and boys to take part in the entertainment—the girls and boys "just put the meeting over"; Mrs. A. M. Hughes and her D. E. girls for serving two attractive and appetizing noon lunches—every girl's name should be mentioned, but lack of space forbids—all the boys who gave not only their time, but also their gasoline—and we might add—their "good looks," the girls and boys who acted as pages and helped with the evening reception. Haskell does not have to look far into the future to see the kind of citizenship the town will have. We should feel that it is NOW our duty to make conditions in Haskell so promising that these girls and boys will not desire to leave "the oldhome nest."

For so kindly lending articles (or better said—the entire stock of goods) McNeill & Smith, Sherrill, Jones & Cox, Mrs. Wells, Gates Drug Store, Brooks Cafe, Midget Cafe. The citizenship of Haskell is indebted to the Stamford Chamber of Commerce for so neighborly lending the 170 knives, forks, and spoons, and to Mr. Homer D. Wade for so kindly bringing them over. This is a favor long to be remembered. Never could we be profuse enough in our thanks for every courtesy extended by everyone. The visitors spoke most often of the cleanliness of the town. The City Council, all of the boys, women, and most especially the business men who planned the clean-up, then closed their stores and worked, then showed to appreciate this compliment. Do you not think with a few pans and a little effort Haskell could always be clean?

From this convention we trust Haskell caught a vision which will be lasting.

Mrs. J. U. Fields, Local Chairman.

To Our Mrs. Fields

It can be truly said of Haskell, now that the District meeting of Federated Clubs has been held here, that she has, under the glaring spotlight of public notice, proved to be all that loyal citizens could wish of their town.

The faith of some of our hard-working citizens and officials has indeed been well placed and rewarded. Certainly those pessimistic inhabitants who would chill and discourage every advanced or progressive movement should feel rebuked.

It is well to bear in mind or to feel a measure of gratitude towards those who made the district meeting a success. That would include almost every citizen of our town.

But there is one in particular to whom we are indebted for this recent success. I refer to Mrs. J. U. Fields, but for whom there probably would not have been the meeting in Haskell. For twelve years Mrs. Fields has attended District, State and National meetings on all parts of our state and nation. On every occasion she has talked Haskell, or Texas, if she was out of the state, never failing once to boost, to speak a good word for her home town, whether she spoke in the city or in a town of like size.

Mrs. Fields' boosting carries weight, for she measures up in every way to state and national officers and speakers of the club movement.

Mrs. Fields caught a vision of the great work that could be done by club women several years ago, while numbers of us but faintly see even yet in the white harvest, the opportunity for serving humanity and society at large. Haskell should be proud of Mrs. Fields.

STRONG IN BODY

Men of Genius by No Means an Unhealthy Lot.

Lives of Many of the World's Greatest Men Show That Mental Power and Strength Go Together.

The popular idea that geniuses are usually physical weaklings or men of poor health is vigorously combated by Prof. Rudolph M. Binder of New York University. As a matter of fact, says Professor Binder, according to the New York Sun, it is only because there has been so much comment about the comparatively few physical weaklings who were geniuses that the tradition has grown that exceptional mental power and bodily weakness are related conditions.

Declaring his belief that there is no weakling genius who would not have been a greater one had he been of sound body, Professor Binder points out that most of the world's greatest geniuses were not only healthy, but often of more than ordinary physical strength.

"Illustrations of this could be extended indefinitely," said Professor Binder, "but it is necessary to mention only a few shining examples down the ages. Let's begin with Socrates. The great philosopher served as a hoplite, which means that he was a member of what we in modern terms would designate as shock troops. He was seventy years old when he was condemned to drink the hemlock."

"Coming down many centuries, Sir Isaac Newton lived to be eighty-five, and was strong and healthy and a hard worker till within a short time of his death. Darwin was born with a rugged constitution, which he ruined by his failure to care for it, but it enabled him to accomplish a remarkable amount of work before he died at the age of seventy-three."

"If proof were needed that Herbert Spencer was born with an iron constitution it would be provided by that incident of his boyhood when at the age of thirteen he walked 48 miles one day, 47 the second and 20 the third, and with very little food during the three days. Spencer is another man who injured his health by the lack of care of himself, but if he had not been naturally strong he would not have lived to be eighty-three."

"Even Shakespeare who died at fifty-two, might be said to have lived a good life considering the amount of work he did as playwright, actor and manager. Goethe, an exceedingly busy man, was in good health almost to the time of his death at eighty-three. "Of the four probably most famous Italians Dante lived to be only fifty-eight, but his life was one of arduous labor; Leonardo da Vinci, an athlete who outstripped far younger men in feats of strength, was nearly sixty-seven; Michelangelo worked furiously most of his ninety years, and Galileo enjoyed good health till his death at seventy-eight."

"It was because the population as a whole was strong in body that Athens produced such a remarkable number of geniuses in the days of its glory, and if we want to increase the number of geniuses in the world today the way to accomplish it is to improve the health of all the people."

Flowers Unfold in Four Series.

A flower is usually made up of four different kinds of parts, arranged in circles, or whorls, one within the other. Outermost are the sepals, making up the calyx; they are usually firm and green. They protect the bud and steady the opened flower. Next come the petals, making up the corolla; they are usually delicate and colored, often fragrant and often making nectar; they thus attract insect visitors, and they are also useful in protecting the even more important parts further in.

The third whorl consists of the red-like stamens, whose heads or anthers make the golden yellow fertilizing dust or pollen. The innermost parts of the fourth tier are the carpels, which bear microscopic egg cells, each of which, if fertilized, will develop into an embryo plant; or, to put it in another way, the carpels bear possible seeds or ovules, which become real seeds when the fertilizing golden dust penetrates into them.

How Rodents Spent Nights.

Spying on the night habits of mice and other small rodents is now occupying the attention of Vernon Bailey of the biological survey of the Department of Agriculture.

He lets some of them sleep on a sleeping porch and flashes a light on them at various times. Others spend the evening with him in the library. Another lot he has placed in a room at outdoor temperature so that he can find out how they hibernate for the winter.

Mr. Bailey is observing a bat in addition to 15 different kinds of rodents that he captured alive in Arizona last spring, and he also is spying his heavers that live at the National Zoological park.

FEATURING OUR MEN

By Phoebe K. Whinner, in Fort Worth Star-Telegram
For months the club women of Haskell had been working and planning for the entertainment of the First District Convention.

At their very first meeting to plan ways and means for this wonderful event, the question was asked, "What shall we feature in our entertainment of the First District, T. F. W. C.?"

Without a moment's hesitating or jangling a chorus of voices rang out, "OUR MEN." Of all the towns in Texas we have ever known, we believe Haskell is proudest of "our men."

Now the Haskell women may not be any prouder of their men than any other town. We do not know how proud you are of the men in your town. But the beauty of the Haskell women is they OWN IT.

They act it. The reason why is just as pure and simple as the story of Mary's Little Lamb. "What makes the lamb love Mary so? Oh, Mary loves the lamb, you know."

The confidence and faith of Haskell women for Haskell men is mutual and beautiful. In every civic movement they are equal and happy coworkers and partners.

What relief for those busy women who were busy day and night planning programs and luncheons and all the lovely entertainments that go with a District meeting.

On president's evening the beautiful new Christian church was filled with happy women and men from Haskell, but again the men featured. The boys of the senior class, Haskell Hi, acted as ushers.

Again the men of Texas were featured by the presence and a wonderful address by Dr. Waits of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth.

But the most unusual feature of all the men of Haskell was the round dozen perfectly delicious Angel's Food cakes stired up baked and even led by the minister of the Christian Church and served at the library luncheon to the executive board, the state visitors and guests of the convention.

Again at the close of Tuesday's session, Mrs. J. E. Fields, chairman of arrangements, appeared on the scene with the announcement, "Harry up, women, every man in Haskell is out here waiting to take you in his car to Rule."

These are only a few of the masculine features the Haskell women taught us all. Haven't you more except to say Haskell has undoubtedly the best trained bunch of club husbands in the whole State Federation.

Oh yes, and the club husbands were hosts for the reception at the Elks Club, the social function of the entire convention.

Haskell Proved a Fine Host

Not always, but most generally when a city or town visits a neighboring city it gets some impressions that he perfect to express to the public. This is true of the Haskell men this week.

Because events and circumstances carried us to the delightful little city of Haskell, the hub of the county of the big convention of the First District of the Texas Woman's Clubs to their city, and for about one year those good people had been settling things in tip-top shape for the suitable entertainment of the delegates and visitors from all that part of Texas west of Fort Worth to the foot of the Plains.

Big city is expecting such a big crowd of public spirited women to visit their own Haskell town is much ado. Our at this District meeting on all three to be asked to come over to Haskell Wednesday to return with his better-half and a number of our neighboring ladies to Haskell.

time to see Haskell since when a bunch ago to get Jim Ferguson and his A. & failed to see the city and only got Jim with us and make a speech—"don't you the editor and two daughters and chaplain us into the convention auditorium church where one impression was like meeting whose audience was composed of noble women. We found that work in strict parliamentary usages, but it is not our purpose to tell of the women's meeting, but to tell about Haskell.

We were impressed with the cleanliness of the city. Their excellent church buildings all showed their civic pride. Their court house square was recently paved, which further showed progress. The club women have erected a very beautiful library building, which was before inspection by all visitors hours striving to become not the biggest city, but the best little city possible.

Their hospitality was so warm that everyone visiting them was made to feel quite at home from the first. It proved to us that it pays to throw open a city's doors to a wide circle of visitors. No one should envy their neighboring city for their accomplishments, but admire their progress and civic pride, and that is the feeling that we have for Haskell. From the two or three hundred visitors in their city this week will go a kind word of appreciation for the many courtesies shown them.—Hamilton Herald.

Resolutions of Courtesy

We, the women of the First District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, assembled at Haskell, wish to express our very hearty appreciation to the Club Women of Haskell for giving us the pleasure of holding our session in their splendid city and for their planning and executing one of the most enjoyable meetings of our District, and to the program committee, who so carefully planned for us such helpful and inspiring numbers; to The Magazine Club and the Harmony Club for rendering luncheons to the Executive Board and to all delegates and visitors; to Mrs. J. E. Fields, who so generously furnished her beautiful home for the lovely reception; to The First Christian church for sharing with us their handsome auditorium and other rooms of their elegant building for our use in our general meetings; to the ministers of Haskell for their presence and for their spiritual invocations; to all who were so liberal in furnishing their automobiles for our convenience, and especially for the delightful ride to the city of Rule. We extend especial thanks to the Women's Club, of Rule for their courteous reception at the hospitable home of Mrs. J. D. Westbrook; to Haskell "Club Husbands" and to the Elks Club, our especial appreciation for their generosity in aiding in our entertainment by showing their courtesy in giving the very enjoyable reception and the delightful luncheon; to the editor of the Haskell Free Press for the generous publicity given our District and its meetings and to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Wichita Times, also we would extend our appreciation for the generous publicity they have given this District meet. To the Maids and Matrons Club, we express our thanks for their kind invitation to the five o'clock tea at the Library and

To the entire citizenship of Haskell, we want to say that we have indeed felt that we held, not only the key to our city, but surely to your homes and to your hearts—your whole hearted welcome, your generosity and courtesies, all, will serve to cause us to remember the short time we have been permitted to spend with you and to look forward to the time of our coming again.

Respectfully Submitted, Signed: Mrs. J. W. Ross of Dundee, Mrs. Bowen Pope of Hamlin, Chairmen of Resolutions.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM THE POST COMMUNITY

country has been visited by another big rain which fell slow and was being needed. Still cloudy and rainy at this writing.

People were getting along fine with their planting and most all the feed is planted and some nearly done planting cotton.

The feed is up and some cotton is ready to come out. The Post school closed on the 21st, which was a very successful term with entire satisfaction.

We had some real nice exhibits from the community consisting of some field products and some ladies fancy work also some real nice displays by the Haskell merchants which was appreciated.

Some good roping and riding tournament and some very fine stock, also Miss Berny of Wichita Falls made a fine short talk and Hon. Clarence Onley of Ft. Worth spoke in the afternoon. In the interest of his campaign, also several other good short talks in the afternoon. At night one of the best school programs was rendered by the school and faculty that has ever been rendered at Post with some fine music on the piano and some real Hawaiian music on the ukulele.

There was a very large crowd present both day and night, but if there had not been so much sickness in the community and people so busy there would have been many more displays, etc.

Mr. O. E. Patterson of Haskell gave two nice prizes, consisting of one gold medal and one silver fountain pen to the two best declaimers of the Senior and Junior class of Post school. Cecil Breigh won in the Seniors and Martha Simmons won in the Junior class.

We thank all that took part in the fair and otherwise contributed their part for the success of the fair. We have a fine prospect now for all kinds of row crops, gardens, etc., and also the chicken crop is coming on nicely.

The sick folks seem to be getting over the "flu" now, so far as we can learn. Reporter.

COUNTY PAYS FOR MORE THAN 30,000 RABBIT SCALPS

Mr. Jack Rabbit has had a hard time in Haskell County during the past three months if the number of scalps paid for by the Commissioners' Court is to be considered in evidence. The county has paid out approximately $1,500 for bounties on rabbit scalps at five cents each, which would make a total of 30,000 rabbits slain during the past two or three months. The above amount is the number actually paid for and it is estimated by Wayne Perry, one of the County Commissioners, that this does not cover all that were killed in the recent drives by ten or fifteen thousand, as many hunters would not take the time or trouble to bring in the scalps.

SMALL BOY PROBABLY RIGHT

At Least, It's a Good Guess That Uncle George Broke All Records for Sprinting.

Uncle George had been abroad for three months, and the amount of adventure he had crowded into the time was surprising.

"Yes," he was saying, "there's nothing like travel for developing coolness and presence of mind. One day I was walking along a road on the outskirts of Cairo when, a little way ahead, I heard a cry of agony. It was a very narrow street, and suddenly a camel came tearing round the corner, pursuing a native. Its open jaws were terrifying. Had I never been out of my own back garden, I might have lost my head and done something silly. As it was—"

"I can guess what you did, uncle!" said a small nephew.

"Well, what do you think I did, my boy?"

"A hundred yards in nine seconds!"

PAY TRIBUTE TO SEAGULLS

Mormons Honor Birds That Saved Their Crops From the Devastations of Crickets.

A notable monument stands in the Mormon temple grounds in Salt Lake City in honor of the birds that saved the early settlers from threatened starvation in 1848. It is a pillar over 100 feet high surmounted by a bronze seagull. At its base are inscriptions detailing the reason for its erection with illustrations by Mahouri Young the Utah sculptor.

The first pioneer trekked across the plains into Salt Lake valley in 1847. Brigham Young stipulated that there should be intensive cultivation of the land. Crops were sown and the farmers looked for a bountiful harvest the next year. Then crickets in huge armies swooped down upon the crops. The farmers tried to eliminate the pest without success. Transportation at the time was difficult and means to obtain food from distant points were limited. The situation looked critical.

When practically every one had given up hope of saving any part of the crops, the seagulls, termed by old Mormons as the "messengers from heaven," appeared. They did not touch the grain but warred on the crickets, and in a short time had rid the fields of the pest. There are no records to show from whence the birds came.

The seagull is Utah's sacred bird. It is unlawful to kill it. Many of the people of this state hold it in affectionate memory and during the summer thousands give their bread to the birds that may be seen in large numbers at Saltair, a resort a few miles from Salt Lake City on the Great Salt Lake.

Matched in Peculiar Fashion

A Nova Scotia reader of a Canadian newspaper, living in Pictou county, writes that they have four chicks which were hatched without a hen or incubator. The eggs were laid in a haymow and the hay dumped on top of them which, with its natural heating and the hot weather, hatched the chicks. They are very sturdy and contented and do not miss a mother. The same reader has a turkey hen that has just hatched its second brood of 12 chicks. The first brood was hatched in June.

"What's in a Name?"

By MELDRED MARSHALL
Facts about your name, its history, meaning, whence it was derived, significance, your lucky day and lucky jewel.

DORIS.

TOUGH etymologists do not directly connect Doris with Dorothy, and some believe that she is merely a modern version of a feminine fancy for a name a trifle out of the ordinary. It is impossible to believe that her source was not identical with Dorothea and that strange but correct reversal Theodora.

Such being the case, Doris comes from one of the early Christian Greek names, notably Thekla. St. Thekla was said to have been a disciple of St. Paul and to have been exposed to lions at Antioch. Instead of tearing her to pieces, they crunched at her feet, but nevertheless she was considered the first virgin martyr, and no higher praise is possible for a woman than to compare her to St. Thekla. From Thekla came the French Tecla and then through the Eastern church, Theodora, signifying "divine gift," and, much later, the incorrect Dorothea.

There have been two St. Theodoras one a virgin martyr and the other a Greek empress.

Massinger composed a drama dealing with the story of St. Dorothea, the Cappadoelian maiden who sent the roses of paradise by angelic hands as testimony of the joys of heaven. It is needless to go into the growth of Dorothea, followed by Dorothy, Dolly, Dora, and Dorinda. Her contractions, elaborations and diminutives are legion, but unfortunately history does not record what first enterprising mother named her baby Doris, though the name is almost as popular as Dorothy in England and America. Even Germany uses it. France alone finds it too harsh for her tongue and prefers the softer Dorette and Dorallce.

The talismanic stone assigned to Doris is the agate, which gives her courage, guards her from danger and is also said to be a cure for insanity if worn as a pendant around the throat. Friday is Doris' lucky day and 5 her lucky number.

Average Intelligence Low.

On a basis of tests made on 1,500,000 soldiers, 500 school children, 500 delinquent boys and 250 feeble-minded individuals, a writer in the Journal of Applied Psychology states that the average mental age of adults is only thirteen years. This means that the average thirteen-year-old boy, though of course he does not know nearly so much as the average grown man, is his equal in intelligence.

POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK IS OBSERVED

May 1 Seen Inaugurated First General Campaign of Kind in Service.

Without the Postal Service, business would languish in a day, and be at a standstill in a week. Public opinion would die of dry rot. Sectional hatred or prejudice only would flourish, and narrow-mindedness thrive.

It is the biggest distinctive business in the world and it comes nearer to the innermost interests of a greater number of men and women than any other institution on earth. No private business, however widespread, touches so many lives so often or sharply; no church reaches into so many souls, flutters so many pulses, has so many human beings dependent on its ministrations.

"Postal Improvement Week" has been set for May 1, by the Postmaster General. This is the first general campaign of its kind in the Postal Service for several decades. Business men and their organizations, large users of the mail, newspapers, motion pictures, advertisers, and the entire organization of 326,000 postal workers are to be enlisted in this country-wide campaign of interest in postal improvements. Your help is vital. Address your letters plainly with pen or typewriter. Give street address. Spell out name of State, don't abbreviate. Put your return address in the upper left hand corner of envelope (not on the back) and always look at your letter before dropping in the mail to see if it is properly addressed. This care in the use of the mails is for your benefit and speeds up the dispatch and delivery of mail matter. If you have any complaints of poor service make them to your postmaster. He has instructions to investigate them and report to the department.

Parent-Teachers Association
The Parent-Teachers Association will meet Thursday, May 4th at 3:30 o'clock at the North Ward School building. All school patrons should be present.

Tandae is the result of years of study, experimentation and research by some of the world's greatest chemists. Hence its merit. Sold in Haskell at Reid's Drug Store and everywhere by all leading druggists.

THE FRIENDLY PATH

By WALTER I. ROBINSON
"A MAN'LL work pretty hard t' loaf a little."

A strange psychology shapes the destinies of many lives. Endowed with great minds, thoroughly educated in their chosen professions or business, yet some fail to grasp the good things which are within their reach.

For some unaccountable reason they abhor work. But like the lad who has to hoe a big field of corn before he can visit the old fishin' hole, they'll wear out their minds and their bodies for the privilege of a few hours "off."

Yet when they do have nothing to do but watch time go fleeting by, they go around like lost sheep looking for something to happen.

Loading does great harm. Everyone should not work constantly when not asleep. Health and happiness demand that each person should have sufficient spare time to read, rest and enjoy himself. But one would be far better off if he worked and slept and did nothing else if he spends his time loading.

With so many profitable ways to occupy days and evenings "off," it is difficult to understand why men—many of them young and active—waste their spare moments, but always hang their heads and growl when the whistle blows for work.

Those who don't find reputable means of enjoying themselves and of improving their mental and physical lives during spare times seldom do the world much good. To find happiness and to advance one's position there must be constant constructive thought and endeavor.

The happiness of every individual in large measure depends on the part he plays in the progress and joy of the world. (Copyright.)

THE BEAR CUB

"I'VE tried 'em both, the truth, the lie—

The lie was often best; There's lots of times I have got by And no one ever guessed. It hasn't been a habit, no, But just necessity;

And, when I had to, I have sprung Some fancy yarns—when I was young," Says Charlie Cherokee.

"But when I got a little bit Along and straightened out A queer experience I hit That sort of made me doubt. I caught a cub and took him home And raised him tenderly— I had a lot of fun, I swear, A-playing with that baby bear," Says Charlie Cherokee.

"But that there baby grew like sin, He wouldn't stay a cub. At last I had to chain him in And beat him with a club. In fact in just a little while He got as big as me— And, if you want to have a care, Just go and raise a baby bear," Says Charlie Cherokee.

"And then one night when home I blew He got me in the dark And nearly chewed my arm in two And snuffed my vital spark. And that's the way it is with lies, Or so it seems to me— A lie awhile may be your friend, But it will bite you in the end," Says Charlie Cherokee. (Copyright.)

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervousness and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stewart of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in all, suffering a great deal of pain, weakness, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor, had had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I had every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any better. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I think there is a better health anywhere and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully in the treatment of many women's ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists.

First to establish the $10.90 price—"Usco"

THE makers of U. S. Tires made this announcement last November—

"Hereafter the price of the 30x3 1/2 'Usco' is $10.90."

The lowest price ever quoted on a tire of quality reputation and standard performance.

And now, with the opening of Spring, there seem to be quite a number of "New and Special tires" coming into the market in the $10.90 price range.

Perhaps you are wondering just what there can be either "new" or "special" about these tires.

It can't be the $10.90 price—"Usco" established that five months ago.

Nor quality reputation and standard performance—for it takes more than one full season for any new tire to demonstrate where it stands in quality and value.

With so many tires rushing into this $10.90 price field (now that the season promises business from the American car-owner), it is worth remembering that "Usco" showed its good faith by announcing this price last fall.

The same intent to serve that has made "Usco" a standard value for years.

The "Usco" Tire was never better than it is today—with its established quality, its time-tested performance, and its price closely figured in tune with the times.

$10.90 and even better than the price

Post School Fair Was Big Success

The fair was a success from beginning to end. There was something interesting going on all the time. Almost a thousand people enjoyed the day with the Post folks and everyone reports a most delightful time.

In the forenoon, we witnessed some excellent races in which several schools were represented. Clyde Bland from the Sages school won the 50 yard dash. George Hanson of Plainview school won the 75 yard and Bailey Taylor of Haskell the 40 yard.

Other Nanny of the Post school won the sack race and two boys from the Cook Creek school won the three-legged race. Norman Nanny of Post school, won first prize on the acting bar.

Following these junior races, Crawford Allen of Haskell took first place in one of the most interesting and amusing foot races of the day in which several other men participated.

Another very interesting and amusing event was the nail driving contest in which seven ladies from various parts of the county took part. Miss Estelle Terryson, winning 1st place, after which an old-time picnic dinner was enjoyed by all.

Some of the neatest and most attractive commercial displays ever put on anywhere in Haskell county, were shown in the school building representing the city of Haskell.

PANELED CLOTH SKIRT

Spring presents its separate skirts of wool or silk or cotton and those for general wear are called "walking skirts" to distinguish them from sport skirts. Here is a pretty new model made of crepe. It is cut on straight lines and has a separate belt of the material. Around the bottom there are panelled silk bands in a contrasting color.

A blue ribbon was given McNeill & Smith Hardware Co. for the best display of hardware, which consisted of a full display of "Edisons," sewing machines, kitchen ranges, and living room furniture. All included by a very attractive booth on the floor of which was found a most beautiful Brussels rug.

A. F. Woods was awarded the blue ribbon on the display of the latest and most complete optical instruments, together with a player piano. He letting the Post school use the latter during their evening program.

Payne Drug Company was awarded two blue ribbons, one for the best and most artistic booth, walls of which were of cream white and posts of the combination of white and velvet. The other ribbon was for the best display of Victrolas, a quantity of records, attractively displayed on white draped tables, the crowning touch was two large bouquets of Easter Lillies, symbolizing the purifying influence of music.

Haskell Mill and Grain Company took the blue ribbon for their products, which consisted of a very appetizing display of wheat flour cakes, date layers, dough nuts and biscuits and coffee buns. Also displayed barley, maize, corn chops and bran.

Sherrill Bros. exhibited the Colman Quik Light Lamps and Lanterns in a very pleasing manner. They also let the Post school use these lights in its evening program.

Fouts & Mitchell was awarded a blue ribbon for the best variety display of useful articles, including their dancing picnery.

The following were awarded first prizes:
 Mrs. R. E. Lee, Belles of War.
 W. M. Luper, Red Duroc Hogs.
 Miss Cecile Breigh, Begonia, (pot plant).

J. W. Adcock, Farm Products.
 Mrs. R. E. Lee, Branna Chickens.
 Mrs. Bankley, White Leghorns.
 Mrs. Overton, 1st prize on single piece of needle work.

Mrs. Lee Humphreys, 1st prize on combination of needle work.
 Demit Hughes, Herford cattle.
 Earl Bankley, toy aeroplane.

Harry Lee, Miniature bale of cotton.
 E. Tredwell took first prize money for spear and ring tournament and John Mayfield was awarded 1st prize for goat roping.

The Post school was awarded first prize for the best display of school work.

Mrs. J. C. Berney of Wichita Falls, delivered an excellent address on the conditions of rural schools and prospects of the country boys and girls. Hon. Clarence Ounsley of Fort Worth, also addressed the large crowd, discussing national conditions and other items concerning his campaign.

The evening program was one of the best, if not the best program ever staged by any rural school.

SUITS EMPLOY CHECKS

Along with other causes for rejoicing that spring is here, comes this example of its offering in suits. The design is engagingly youthful and particularly neat looking, employing shepherd's check for the skirt and for embellishing the straight coat of plain cloth. It is shown in black and white, but is also made in colors and in either case it appeals to good taste.

THE NEW FAMILY

By JULIA A. ROBINSON

The little village of Dunbar was filled with excitement. A new family was to move into the place, a rare event for that remote country town.

"The county folks, as it was called, had long been vacant, and run down. Now a new owner was coming, and interest ran high.

"His name's Jenkins," Mrs. Jones informed her neighbors. She had been making inquiries about the expected newcomers. "They've been living down in the city. His got a wife but she's got 'em, and five children."

All were eager to see the new family arrive. Some of the women went out down to the small flag station. The whistle sounded, the train came to a stop, and the new family alighted from it. A trunk, well strapped, was set down on the platform, a horse and a buggy.

"He's got a buggy," whispered Mrs. Jones. "Ain't it fine? The rest of the folks must be coming later."

Mr. Jenkins looked about on his new neighbors, a broad smile on his face that won their hearts. He seemed a jolly sort of man, good-natured.

"Any of you got a horse I can borrow?" he asked. "My wife here ain't able to walk. My buggy came, but I need a horse."

"You're welcome to take one o' ours," quickly responded Mrs. Choombs.

Mrs. Choombs soon returned. Mr. Jenkins, with thanks, harnessed the horse to his buggy, piled his family in and drove off.

Mrs. Bates, who lived nearest to the county farm, was preparing her supper when there came a knock at the door. There stood one of the Jenkins children.

"Dad says, 'could you lend him a bit of wood?'" she asked, "an' ma, she wants a saucepan and a little flour."

"To be sure, dear!" responded Mrs. Bates.

In the morning another child came with the request: "Could you lend me a loaf of bread and a few potatoes, and Dad, he wants a shovel."

After a few days the neighbors began to talk among themselves.

"It's about time them things of theirs came, I say," observed Mrs. Jones. "The things they've borrowed o' me and hain't never returned, I couldn't tell you."

"Why, I thought I was the only one who lent 'em things!" cried Mrs. Brown.

"The only one? Not much!" cried several voices. "I'm lendin' 'em things every day."

"Me, too," echoed Mrs. Gibbs. "They have borrowed my washboard and soap, baking tins, plates, even, and they never return a thing 'till I go after it. Not always then, especially if it's something to eat. I'm 'bout tired of it."

"He's borrowed my husband's shovel, his oxen and plough. Dan said he really couldn't refuse a newcomer, but he needed them himself," said another.

"It's too exasperating, but what can we do?" asked Mrs. Brown.

They talked the matter over for days. At last they decided on a plan they thought must be effectual to work a cure in the new family. Mrs. Jones was the first one to put it into effect. Mary Jenkins came over, as usual and asked: "Can you lend Ma six eggs and a cup of sugar and a little butter? She's making a cake."

"Certainly," beamed Mrs. Jones, bringing the desired articles.

In half an hour the child came back. "These eggs are all rotten; Ma can't use 'em," she complained, "and the butter's got sand in it, and the butter don't taste good."

"Sorry!" exclaimed Mrs. Jones. "Those eggs were all I had. I remember the sugar got spilled an' the boys scraped it up. 'Spose they scooped up a bit o' sand with it. Can't be helped now. Ask your ma to please excuse it this time."

The scheme was working well with Mrs. Jenkins, but how were the men to manage Mr. Jenkins? That was a more difficult matter and far more serious.

"Good morning, Neighbor Jones," Mr. Jenkins accosted with his usual smile. "Just lend me your harrow. I've gotter go over my land."

It hurt Mr. Jones to take the screws from his new harrow, for he knew it would fall to pieces, and it would take a good day to repair it, but for the sake of the cause he did it.

In short measure Mr. Jenkins came back, not smiling this time.

"What's the matter with the old thing?" he blurted.
 "Why—why—it's broken!" cried Mr. Jones. "An' 'twas a new one, too. May be I can fix it, but 'twill take a lot o' time."

It was the same with everything Jenkins tried to do. Everything he borrowed fell to pieces.

It went on for a few days. Nothing that the Jenkins family tried to borrow was in working order. At last they began to understand.

"Mebby we'd better go an' buy a few things for ourselves," said Mr. Jenkins to his wife. "Folks seem to be tired o' lendin'."

"Ain't that what I told you?" rejoined his wife. "You just go to town an' buy in a stock o' things, an' we'll give 'em back everything they've ever lent us. Now go!"

"Guess we've cured 'em of the borrowin' habit, all right!" chuckled Mrs. Jones, and the rest laughed.
