

All Around
the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

Even though we try to keep errors out of the newspaper, they creep in and always look terrible when we discover them after the papers are mailed. If you haven't ever had to proof-read things, you just don't know how errors can hide until a job is finished. For instance, in our Christmas edition, Cal Mack didn't write Santa Claus for "some drugs," he asked for "some drums." Quite a difference. Sorry we made this dreadful mistake, but glad Santa didn't!

Hope you had as nice a Christmas as we did. We spent Christmas Eve and Christmas Day with my mother in Tulia. My brother's family was there Christmas Eve, too. Saturday and Sunday, we were guests in the home of Charles' sister, Betty Sue Skelton, and June Murphy in Lubbock. Sharon Gueart of Amarillo was also a guest in the Skelton-Murphy home.

Five of the seven Sarchet brothers and sisters gathered at the home of their brother-in-law and sister, M. T. and Edith Cruce, Saturday night and Sunday. The Cruces had both of their married sons home, from San Antonio and Oklahoma, as well as a daughter who has recently returned to live in Lubbock after having been employed in the northern United States. Their brother's family was there from Borger as well as the brother and his family who live in Lubbock. Saturday night the cousins and their friends brought out their guitars and banjos and played and sang and recorded their performances, and everyone had a very nice time.

Saturday they watched their nephew and cousin play in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl on television in his last football game for the University of Texas Longhorns, and cheered the Cowboys to victory on Sunday afternoon.

Plan Now For Next Year's Sunflower Crop

Sunflowers literally "blossomed" up throughout Texas in 1975 and chances are good that the crop will continue to become more important to the state's agricultural industry in the years ahead.

Good prices caused the sunflower crop to mushroom to more than 375,000 acres in 1975 compared to only 5,000 acres a year ago. However, yields ranged widely over the state due to adverse weather conditions and a lack of knowledge about the crop.

So, an agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service advises producers who intend to plant sunflowers next year to plan ahead carefully.

"Producers planning to grow sunflowers in 1976 need to take a close look at their farming operation in preparation for next year's crop," point out Dr. John Bremer.

He lists a number of items for farmers to consider.

"First of all, choose your planting area carefully. Stay away from home sites and cotton fields since problems arise when attempting to desiccate the crop.

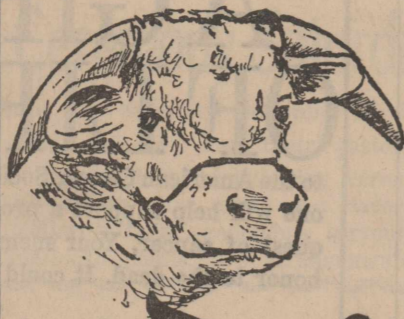

"Do not plant the crop on the same land year after year as this leads to increased disease problems.

"Plant only high quality seed. Inexperienced growers should plant only small acreages of the crop. There are a lot of questions still unanswered about proper management practices for sunflowers.

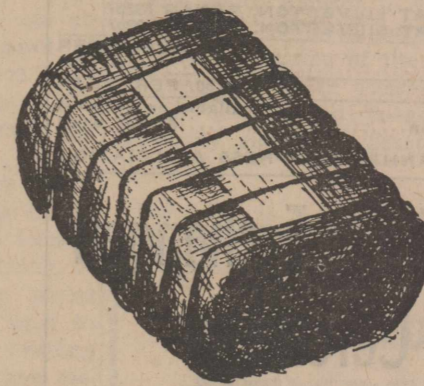

"Look closely at the market situation before planting sunflowers. Due to the expected increase in production, the market may be less attractive than this past season. It's important to get a price commitment from a buyer.

"Control volunteer sunflowers in next year's crops where sunflowers were planted in 1975. Volunteer plants can cause moisture and harvesting problems in other crops if they are not controlled."

Bremer notes that the Extension Service is attempting to gather as much information as is available to assist producers in making plans for the 1976 sunflower crop. However, knowledge about proper fertility and insect, disease and weed control practices is still fairly limited due to the newness of the crop in Texas.

"The potential for sunflowers remains great, however," believes Bremer, "as oilseed crops continue to gain in prominence throughout this country. Sunflowers also loom as an alternate crop for cotton growers."

Best wishes for a happy, healthy
1976 to all of our loyal Patrons.
We hope to continue serving you.

Cultural Practices Important In Corn Borer Control

With expected increased acreages of corn production next season, farmers can look forward to more cases of Southwestern corn borer infestations.

One of the major insect pests of corn on the High Plains, the corn borer larva girdles the stalks, causing them to lodge, or fall.

Cultural practices, such as fall plowing and discing, are the best management tools to prevent yield losses next year due to this pest, says Eddie Holland, Briscoe County Extension Agent.

Mature borer larvae spend the winter four to six inches below the soil surface in the top roots of corn. If left undisturbed, they have an excellent chance of surviving the winter. However, cultural practices which expose the top roots to freezing weather will greatly reduce the number of corn borers surviving the winter. In the High Plains, sufficiently cold weather to kill exposed larvae can be expected up through February.

Holland says if a producer is planning to graze his stalks, some type of cultivation is still necessary and the earlier this is done in the winter, the more effect it will have on hibernating borer larvae.

If no cultivation is applied until after the severe part of the winter is over, deep breaking may reduce populations some. Deep breaking often buries the borers too deep for the adult moth to emerge in the spring.

Holland encourages area-wide or community-wide stalk destruction programs to help control the pest. With the prediction that corn production will increase next year, practices which decrease borer populations should be undertaken now.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fleming and family were his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fleming, Kim, Ty and DeEtta of Byers.

Disabled Veterans Eligible for Property Tax Exemptions

Beginning in 1976, certain disabled veterans will be eligible for property tax exemptions in Texas. According to information furnished by Billye Kesler, Veterans Service Officer for Briscoe and Swisher counties, the tax exemptions are also to be made available to the widows of some veterans as well as the widows of persons who died while in military service. These special tax exemptions were made available through the provisions of House Bill 546, which was enacted by the 1975 Texas Legislature and signed into law by Governor Dolph Briscoe.

Veterans eligible for the exemption are those who have service-connected disabilities which were incurred during military service and are so rated by either the Veteran's Administration or a branch of the Armed Forces. If a disability is rated from 10% through 30% he is entitled to an exemption of the first $1,500 of assessed value of his property. For those rated more than 30% to 50%, the exemption is on the first $2,000 of the assessed value; more than 50% to 70%, it is $2,500 of the assessed value; more than 70%, it is $3,000 of assessed value. If a veteran has a disability rated 10% or more and is 65 years of age or older, he is entitled to the exemption on the first $3,000 of assessed value.

The widow of a deceased veteran is entitled to the exemption which her husband would have been entitled to at the time of his death. The widow of a person who died while on active duty is entitled to $2,500 of the assessed value of her property which is subject to taxation. Also covered by the law are the minor children of certain deceased veterans and active duty personnel.

All tax collectors in the State have been furnished with instructions showing how the law is to be administered. Anyone who believes they are entitled to a tax exemption under the law should contact their local tax offices and determine what evidence will be required to establish their eligibility.

Annette, Scotti and Cary Fleming visited in Lubbock from Sunday until Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Choate, Lisa, Charlene and Paul.

RECEIVE AWARDS—State Senator Ray Farabee was presented the Outstanding Senatorial Legislative Service Award by the Texas Farmers Union at their State Convention in Fort Worth. Agriculture Commissioner John White was presented the Outstanding Service Award. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jarrett of Briscoe County attended the State Convention.

out the Old Ring in the NEW

Another year has passed, and things gone by, we cannot change. So ring out the old year and ring in the new with high resolutions. These bells, which have long been used by churches as a call to worship, are ringing an opportunity for you to begin the new year at worship with the Lord in His house. Start now and be faithful throughout this year. Attend Church regularly.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Stodghill - Majors Vows Exchanged In Double-Ring Ceremony Saturday

First United Methodist Church in Silverton was the scene of the marriage of Miss Donna Lynn Stodghill, 2211 10th Street, Lubbock, and David Paul Majors, 1006 North Houston, Lamesa, at 3:00 p.m. Saturday, December 27, 1975. The Rev. Earl Blair, pastor, officiated the double-ring ceremony at the altar which was decorated with twin candelabra surrounded with palms, two arrangements of green spider mums with greenery and baby's breath. Lighted tapers accented with white lace and green velvet ribbon were placed in the windows, and a bouquet of green mums and baby's breath was placed on the organ. The couple's memory candle was set on a white wrought-iron stand.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Stodghill of Silverton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Majors, jr., of Turkey.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal white gown of silk-faced organza with natural waist and bodice of Chantilly lace, stand-up collar of scalloped lace and satin insertion trimmed with seed pearl clusters. Her lace Juliet sleeves were gathered onto a band trimmed with satin insertion and her full skirt was fashioned with three flounces, each bordered by wide Chantilly lace, that formed the sanctuary train. Her veil of bridal illusion was made in three tiers edged with wide Chantilly lace and was attached to a Juliet cap accented with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of gladiolus, carnations and gardenias accented with baby's breath and white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Mary Garner of Bakersfield, California, served her sister as matron of honor. Miss Carol Stodghill of Silverton, another sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of emerald green crepe designed on princess lines with fitted sleeves, Victorian necklines and lace yokes bordered with lace ruffles. They carried large green spider mums surrounded by smaller white mums and baby's breath accented with green velvet ribbon. They wore short veils of green tulle accented by white carnations and lace.

Candles were lighted by Jeff and Chuck Majors of El Paso, cousins of the bridegroom.

Best man was Mike Majors of Lorenzo, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Johnny King, a friend of the groom from Turkey, served as groomsmen. Guests were seated by Bobby Boyles of Quitaque, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Bryan Garner of Bakersfield, California, brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Marvin Montague, organist, played traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Tim Wilson, soloist, when he sang "Because" and "Walk Hand in Hand."

Mrs. Stodghill chose an empire-style gown in floor-length of dusty rose knit with fitted jacket of rose print knit and added a white carnation corsage accented with baby's breath and green velvet ribbon for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a floor-length gown of beige, turquoise and salmon print crepe, and added a corsage of salmon carnations, baby's breath and beige velvet ribbon.

Green mums set in baby's breath decorated the bride's table at the reception which was held immediately following the ceremony. A crystal punch bowl, cups, plates and silver flatware were used to serve the four-tier white wedding cake decorated with bells and roses. The cake was topped with satin bells and roses, tulle and seed pearls. The table was covered with a white lace cloth with green crepe underlay. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bill Strange of Silverton and Mrs. Bobby Boyles of Quitaque, the bridegroom's sister.

Guests signatures were secured for the wedding book by Chuck and Jeff Majors, El Paso.

Dear Charlotte,

'Tis the morning after Christmas
And all through this house
Not a creature is stirring
Except my dear spouse.

I fervently wish that this abode
Would disappear
And oh, how I wish that I didn't live here.

Surely Dancer, and Prancer, and Cupid
Didn't go on the roof—
Because there's many a mark
From each tiny hoof—

There are marks from
The front to the back door,
And from East to West
They left tracks galore.

Christmas has lost its joy and its tinkle

There's not one eye with a twinkle
We've got turkey and ham and mince in our belly,
And everyone prefers peanut butter and jelly.

Every toy's batteries are dead
Heaven knows, I'd like to stay
In my bed!

There's lunch to do with leftovers
And cheese
And they'd prefer cornbread and blackeyed peas.

The records are blaring
And the tapes, too.
Today I'd trade
This house for an igloo.

But by New Year's surely everything
Will be in place
And the smiles will return to Everyone's face.

The day after Christmas
I'm not very bright,
But I wish you a New Year
That's just right!
